"CALLUS CORNS" LIFT RIGHT OFF

Apply a few drops of "Freezone"—No pain!

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: — Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

BILIOUSNESS Caused by Acid-Stomach

If people who are bilious are treated according to local symptoms they seldom get very much better. Whatever relief is obtained is usually temporary. Trace biliousness to its source and remove the cause and the chances are that the patient will remain strong and healthy.

Doctors say that more than 70 non-organic diseases can be traced to an Acid-Stomach. Biliousness is one of them. Indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour stomach, bloat and gas are other signs of acid-stomach. EATONIC, the marvelous modern stomach remedy, brings quick relief from these stomach miseries which lead to a long train of ailments that make life miserable if not corrected.

EATONIC literally absorbs and carries away the excess acid. Makes the stomach strong, cool and comfortable. Helps digestion; improves the appetite and you then get full strength from your food. Thousands say that EATONIC is the most effective stomach remedy in the world. It is the help YOU need. Try it on our money-back-if-not-satisfied guarantee. At all druggists. Only 50 cents for a big box.

ENEMY ANSWER IS MADE PUBLIC

Says German People Stand Aghast at Demands Made by Victorious Nations.

REGARD TERMS HARSH

Although Realizing Germany Must Make Sacrifices to Obtain Peace, Foe Delegates Declare Conditions Are Terrible Burden.

Washington, June 2.—Although realizing that she must make sacrifices to obtain peace, Germany is convinced that the execution of the peace treaty as drawn is "more than the German people can bear."

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, thus sums up the attitude of the German nation towards the proposed treaty of peace in a note to the Allied and associated powers, outlining various German counter proposals. The German note, delivered to Premier Clemenceau, president of the Peace conference, last Thursday, was made public by the State department.

Justice Held Sacred, Foe Claims.

The German delegation nowhere in its note asserts that it will refuse to sign the present treaty, but declares on behalf of the German nation that "even in her need, justice for her is too sacred a thing to allow her to stoop to achieve conditions which she cannot undertake to carry out."

Exclusion of Germany from the league of nations, the note asserts, means that in signing the peace treaty Germany would be executing a "decree for its own proscription, nay its own death sentence."

The German people, the note says, have been disappointed in their "hope for a peace of justice which had been promised" and stand aghast at the demands made upon them by the "victorious violence of our enemies."

Outline of Counter Proposals.

Outlining its counter proposals, the German delegation agrees to reduction of Germany's army and navy on condition that Germany be admitted immediately to the league of nations; to renounce Germany's sovereign rights in Alsace-Lorraine and Posen but as to all other territories which Germany is called upon to give up the principle of self-determination, applicable at once, is asked; to subject all German colonies to administration by the league of nations but under Germany mandatary, and to make the indemnity payments as required, but in amounts that will burden the German taxpayer no more heavily than the taxpayer of the most heavily burdened among those represented on the reparation commission.

The note declares Germany is willing to pool her entire merchant marine with that of the associated powers. Neutral participation in the inquiry as to responsibility for the war is asked.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Mrs. Gibbert Was in Misery, But Doan's Brought Her Splendid Health.

"About 15 years ago my kidneys were in bad condition," says Mrs. Lucy Gibbert, 15310 Columbia Ave., Harvey, Ill. "There was a constant, dull, bearing-down pain in the small of my back. I couldn't turn over in bed without such pain I could hardly breathe. Mornings I was stiff, sore and lame all over; my back was like a rusty hinge.

"Inflammation of the bladder nearly drove me wild. The kidney secretions passed every little while, day and night, a little at a time, and burned like fire. Great sacs of water formed under my eyes.

"I was in such misery I would become weak and so nervous I would scream. I had nerve-racking headaches and the back of my neck pained me. I was so dizzy I didn't dare bend over for fear of falling on my face. My sight became blurred. I was sick all over.

"Five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble. Since then I have enjoyed splendid health and I owe it all to Doan's.

Western Canada
Farm Lands at Low Prices
the Wheat Belt of America

Western Canada's "Horn of Plenty" Offers You Health & Wealth

Western Canada for years has helped to feed the world—the same responsibility of production still rests upon her. While high prices for Grain, Cattle and Sheep are sure to remain, price of land is much below its value.

Land capable of yielding 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre can be had on easy terms at from $15 to $30 per acre—good grazing land at much less.

Many farms paid for from a single year's crop. Raising cattle, sheep and hogs brings equal success. The Government encourages farming and stock raising. Railway and Land Companies offer unusual inducements to Home Seekers. Farms may be stocked by loans at moderate interest. Western Canada offers low taxation, good markets and shipping; free schools, churches and healthful climate.

For particulars as to reduced railway rates, location of land, illustrated literature, etc., apply to Supt. of Immig., Ottawa, Can., or

FELT SOLDIER SPOKE TRUTH

No Doubt Colonel Blank, in His Heart, Realized Just How Tough He Did Look.

Colonel Blank, who had been such a tartar at all inspections that his name was a byword in his regiment, was in the thick of the Argonne fighting and for six days was unable to shave. For six days he was unable to pry the mud from his clothes or rake it from his hair. And in this unfamiliar state he was hailed at the end of the sixth day by a doughboy who seized a moment of leisure to shave by a mirror hung on a knife stuck in a tree.

"Hey, there, Buddie!" the doughboy shouted. "Do you know you look like h——? Better come up and get a shave or Colonel Blank will land on you like a ton of bricks!"

Colonel Blank accepted the invitation.—Stars and Stripes.

A Bit Slow.

"Do you know that my daughter is an extravagant young woman, sir?"

"I have—er—surmised that she is," replied the suitor, hesitatingly.

"By George, sir! If you've been running around with my daughter for a twelvemonth and haven't got any further than a mere surmise, you lack the perspicacity I would like for my son-in-law to possess."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Many agree as to the goal truth, but never as to the road, the method and the criterion.—Amiel.

At Least He Was There.

When he was minister of the interior in the Sarrien cabinet, M. Clemenceau prescribed for the functionaries of his department precise office hours which were to be rigorously observed. One day, early in the afternoon, he called his bureau chief, Mr. Winter, and said:

"Let us take a turn in the bureaus."

Obviously his command had had little effect. Office after office was found empty. At last, in a nook under the roof, they came upon a poor devil of a clerk who, overcome by the heat, had fallen asleep at his desk. Mr. Winter sprang forward to shake and rouse him, but Mr. Clemenceau checked him:

"Sapristi! But, no! Don't waken him, or he, too, may run away!"

Both Got There.

"What was he doing?"

"Stealing a base."

AUSTRIANS GET PEACE TREATY

Skeleton of Pact Handed Envoys With Boundary and Finance Clauses Omitted.

MUST REPLY IN 15 DAYS

No Oral Discussions to Be Allowed, Clemenceau Informs Delegates—Chancellor Says Country Recognizes Its Responsibilities.

St. Germain, June 3.—The peace treaty was handed to the Austrian delegation at 12:39 p. m., with the problem of the Adriatic claims of Italy unsolved.

The meeting did not convene until 12:25 p. m. owing to the late arrival of President Wilson. He was the last of the delegates to reach the chateau, entering the hall at 12:14; a punctured tire on his automobile had held him upon the way.

Fifteen-Day Leeway Allowed.

Premier Clemenceau, in his instructions to the Austrian delegates, informed them that no oral discussions would be allowed and that all written observations must be submitted within a maximum period of 15 days.

The document was reported to be a mere skeleton of the treaty, with financial economic reparations, military and boundary clauses, either wholly or partially lacking. The complete sections consist principally of political and territorial clauses, together with the league of nations covenant, which is identical with that in the German treaty, according to advance information.

Boundaries to Be Fixed Later.

While the treaty indicates generally the territory which Austria loses, the precise boundaries will be fixed later either by the Allies or a mixed commission. It provides that Austria shall retain the northern boundary she had in 1914, with the Czecho-Slovak boundaries in the northwest, while on the south she will be assigned the boundaries fixed under the treaties of 1916, except the regions of Marburg and Klagenfurt, the allegiance of which will be determined by plebiscites. The treaty holds that the recent plebiscite in Voralberg, where the population voted to join Switzerland, is invalid and provides that Voralberg shall remain with Austria and pay her portion of the Austrian war debts and indemnity.

Clemenceau finished speaking at 12:29. (His speech was then translated into English, Italian and German and the treaty was presented to the Austrains at 12:39.)

Chancellor Renner arose and replied in French. While he was speaking a glass case containing relics of the Stone Age (the chateau is used as a national museum) burst and interrupted him momentarily.

Recognize Own Responsibilities.

"We trust in your sense of justice and practical spirit not to demand that we be crushed," said Renner. "We are disposed to recognize our own responsibilities and accept our share in proportion with the other great powers

"Our revolution was pacific and without military action. It was simply a social revolution, as peaceable and reasonable as possible, and we will not depart from that line of conduct and policy if you give us the peace of justice and democracy necessary for our economic existence."

The Austrian delegates appeared in morning dress, while most of the Allied representatives wore business suits. Mrs. Diaz, wife of the Italian general, was the only woman present.

The meeting adjourned at 1:14 p. m.

GERMANS MUST ACCEPT OR REFUSE BY JUNE 25

Paris, June 3. — The reply to the German counterproposals, the Echo de Paris declares, will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau Friday. It will constitute a refusal of the German proposals. The Germans, the newspaper adds, will be told they must either accept or refuse the Allied conditions before June 25.

7 Divisions Now Abroad

Washington, June 3.—Twenty-one combatant and seven skeletonized divisions will have been returned home when the movement of the Eighty first and Ninetieth divisions, now in progress, has been completed, General March, chief of staff, said the expeditionary forces now are practically reduced to the seven regular divisions, four of which have been released for early return. Demobilization, General March said, has returned 2,276,299 officers and men to civil life

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

Rewards War Work

All Liberty loan workers have been awarded medals from captured German cannons. They were sent out by the government the past week and are of a very neat design.

A German helmet and a victory flag were received here Friday by B. Docken, chairman of the Liberty loan committee. These were awarded Holt village for going over the top in the Victory loan and all the other loans made by our government since the war commenced.

A Growing Institution

That the Holt creamery is giving general satisfaction is evidenced by the fact that very few farmers are shipping their cream away.

The cream from the Golden Valley station was brot here Saturday for the first time, as they were unable to get any service by shipping it away, and prompt service will be given them here.

The larger the make of the creamery the smaller the cost per lb to manufacture butter, therefore if the farmers will patronize their home creamery all concerned will be more prosperous.

Narrow Escapes

E. A. Johnson fell from a ladder Tuesday afternoon and twisted his wrist out of joint and perhaps also fractured the bone, but on account of the swelling it could not be told at the time. Mr. Johnson was doing some work on the porch of Dr. R. L. Olson's house when the ladder which was standing on the wet cement walk slipped causing him to fall eight feet with the above result. John Melquist took Mr. Johnson to Dr. Mellby, who did all that medical skill and surgery could do, and now he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Guy Anderson had a narrow escape from what might have been a terrible accident, Friday afternoon, when a pinon bolt broke and the front wheel of his car came off.

On account of the rains the road was very muddy where the accident occurred, but Mr. Anderson was running his auto at a very low speed, probably less then 10 miles an hour and he thinks that is the only thing which saved his auto from turning turtle. It, instead came to a very sudden stop but he received no injuries. After securing help the wheel was replaced and made secure by another bolt, enabling him to reach town again no worse for the interruption.

Boost the Chautauqua, talk the chautauqua and when writing your friends tell them all about the big 3 day chautauqua that is comming to Holt this summer.

Under the terms of the treaty Austria is reduced from a nation of some 50,000,000 population to a country of between 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 nationals, occupying a territory something less than 40,000 square miles in area. From the old Austro-Hungarian empire are carved out the states of Hungary, Czecho-Slovakia, and the new Serb-Croat-Slovene nation, the independence of all of which Vienna is required to recognize. KEYMEN'S STRIKE WILL COVER U. S.

Called for Wednesday, June 11, to Affect All Big Telegraph and Telephone Lines.

100,000 MEN MAY QUIT

Non-Union Men Expected to Join—Wire and Postoffice Officials Think Situation Is Not Serious.

Chicago, June 9.—A nation-wide strike of telegraph and telephone operators who are members of the C. T. U. A. was ordered Saturday to take effect Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, standard time. The order was issued at general headquarters of the union here on telegraphic instructions from S. J. Konenkamp, international president, who was in Pittsburgh on his way to Chicago.

The strike order is declared to apply to employes of the Western Union Telegraph company, the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, with its associated institutions.

It was estimated at headquarters here that the strike would affect between 60,000 and 100,000 individuals, of whom nearly 25,000 were said to be members of the union. Outside of the union ranks, it was said, many wire workers had pledged themselves to support a strike.

The strike is called in support of a telephone walkout in Atlanta, where workers allege some of their numbers had been dismissed for union affiliations.

Newton Carlton, head of the Western Union Telegraph company in New York is quoted as predicting that the strike "will amount to nothing," and as assuring the public that there will be no delay in handling their messages. Postoffice officials in Washington have expressed the same belief.

ARRESTS FOLLOW PLAN TO DEFRAUD THE GOVERNMENT

Army Officers and Others Held in Detroit on Serious Charge.

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—With the arrest here of four men, one of them an army officer, department of justice agents disclosed an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in the sale of $30,000,000 worth of army supplies to be salvaged here.

The United States grand jury has returned indictments, it was announced, against Captain Sotarios Nicholson, of Washington, chief finance officer of the ordnance department for this district; an unnamed army officer recently sent to France in connection with the disposal of excess supplies; Grant Hugh Browne, a millionaire sportsman and racetrack owner of Detroit; and Fred C. Collins, vice consul for Greece and president of a local realty company.

All but the officer in France, together with Bert Harris, a New York junk dealer, are held at Fort Wayne for trial. Harris, who, it is alleged, was to dispose of the material, will be arraigned before the grand jury Tuesday. The arrests came, department of justice officials said, after the first deal in the alleged plot was put through at Rochester, N. Y., Thursday.

Cables Note to President.

Washington, June 9.—Acting Secretary of State Polk has cabled President Wilson the senate resolution calling on the state department for delivery of the peace treaty.

Officials believe here President Wilson cannot release the treaty without the consent of the French and British leaders. Both the French chamber of deputies and the British house of commons, it is stated, are as anxious to get the treaty as the American senate is. That Lloyd George or Clemenceau will consent to publication of the treaty is doubted.

Texas Wants Border Guard

Washington, June 9.—Declaring the Mexican situation is so critical that a large force of troops on the border is necessary to protect lives and property of citizens, Governor Hobby of Texas has requested Secretary Baker to call into the federal service the first and second brigades of Texas cavalry and to mobilize them at a convenient point. The war department has telegraphed the commanding general of the southern department, asking his views.

No Reserve Camps

Washington, June 9.—There will be no training camps for civilians and reserve officers this summer, the war department today advised C. B. Pike, chairman of Military Training Camps association.

Bandits Get $4,000 From Iowa Bank.

Sioux City, Ia., June 9.—Four robbers held up the Leeds bank at Leeds, a suburb of Sioux City, locked the bank's cashier and clerk in a vault, took nearly $4,000 in cash and $22,000 in Liberty bonds and escaped. A customer who entered the bank while the robbers were at work mistook one of the men for a bank employe and asked him to cash a check. "Certainly we can cash a check," the robber said as he knocked the customer unconscious with a blow on the head.

ORDERS GO INTO EFFECT AT ONCE

Postmaster General Gives Up Control of Telegraph and Telephone Lines.

SEVERAL RULES STAND

Companies Are Prohibited From Discriminating Against Union Employes and Existing Rates Remain in Effect.

Washington, June 7.—Postmaster General Burleson has ordered telegraph and telephone companies whose lines have been controlled and operated by the government since Aug. 1 to resume immediately operations for their own account.

The Postoffice department, however, under terms of Mr. Burleson's order, retains a measure of control of the services, pending final action by congress.

Regulations prohibiting discrimination against wire employes because of union affiliations, maintaining existing rates and charges and instructing companies to keep special accounts to facilitate settlement between themselves and the government are retained in effect under the order issued by the postmaster general.

Says Duty Prompted Him.

Mr. Burleson accompanied the order with a statement giving the reasons which impelled him to take the action. He asserted that the President having recommended the return of the properties, the senate interstate commerce committee having indicated that immediate return was advisable and the house committee having, through hearing, manifested a desire for action toward that end, he felt it his duty to return operative control to the various private owners.

Strikes threatened by telephone and telegraph employes' unions had no bearing on the department's action, officials said.

One Control Board Retained.

The order abolishes the wire operating board of which Union N. Bethel of New York is chairman, but the wire control board, consisting of John A. Koons, first assistant postmaster general, W. H. Lamar and the statistical and legal staff, will continue to exercise the control retained by the order until the government's connection with the wire systems is ended.

Contracts for compensation and awards by state commissions remain in effect under the order as well as the increased toll rates, service connection charges and special exchange rates recently authorized by the postmaster general. Special arrangements are provided for compensating mutual and co-operative companies.

DEMONSTRATION ON JULY 4

Planned by Reds as Part of Plot Against Government.

Washington, June 7.—The word is being passed through "Red" circles for a demonstration on July 4, government officials here have been informed.

As a result every precautionary measure is being taken by officials to thwart the "reds" insofar as the existing laws permit

A large increase in the income tax will be authorized as one of the measures to meet the Dominion's obligations

BADGER LAWMAKERS READY

Will Vote on Suffrage Amendment When It Arrives.

Madison, Wis., June 7.—The Wisconsin legislature will pass the federal suffrage amendment as soon as it is received here. Secretary of State Merlin Hull telegraphed to Senator L. L. Lenroot asking when it might be expected. Two other suffrage bills have been adopted by this legislature with large majorities.

She asked that $15,000 of this amount be paid her at once as her support pending determination of her suit.

GERMANY IN NEW WAR

Esthonians Start Military Operations Against Huns.

Superior Teuton Detachment Forces Retirement of Defenders, Says Dispatch From Helsingfors.

London, June 10.—The Esthonian general staff considers itself forced to start military operations against the Germans, says a Helsingfors dispatch to the Mail. This action is in consequence of the action of the Germans in the Riga district in advancing behind the bolshevik lines for the purpose of occupying the eastern frontier of Livonia, which, with a treacherous attack upon the Esthonians by the German cavalry under orders from General von der Goltz, commander of the German forces in the Baltic region, it is said, unmasked the Germans as accomplices of the bolsheviki.

Clash With Germans.

Stockholm, June 10. — Esthonian forces have clashed with German landwehr troops in the region east of Riga, where Lettish detachments also have been in serious fighting with the Germans, according to an official statement issued at Esthonian headquarters. The statement says:

Fighting with German landwehr forces is proceeding in the Ramosck sector. Esthonian troops sent to reinforce Lettish forces, which had been in combat with the Germans, have been forced to retire after violent fighting with superior landwehr detachments. Several detachments raised by the Baltic barons have been repulsed by our armored trains. The fighting continues.

IDEAL FARM LANDS

Minnesota Man at Last Found What He Sought.

After Long Search, the Wondrous Productiveness of Western Canada Was Pointed Out, and He Is Going There.

He farmed for a number of years near Windom, Minnesota, and as Mr. O. S. Marcy told it, he had done well. He had made sufficient money to see him and his wife through their remaining days.

"But there were the boys," said Mrs. Marcy, "and six of them, too—some of the six not yet back from 'overseas.' Yes, we are proud of them," the fond mother said, "but, oh! my, we had no girl," and she bemoaned that. These boys had to be looked after. "Why not settle them about you in your own neighborhood? You have good land there, splendid neighbors, and everything that might be desired."

"Yes, that is all true," replied this estimable lady, "but the land is so high-priced we couldn't afford to buy there, although worth every cent asked for it. You see we have six boys, and they are good one, too."

So, one day, three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Marcy rigged up the automobile for a touring trip. They wanted to investigate for the boys' benefit. The journey lasted for a year. It took them through Arizona with its varied scenery, its climatic and agricultural attractions; into the canyons of Colorado they went, and the agricultural possibilities there aroused a large amount of interest. Still undecided, down into the valleys of California the automobile went. Fruit orchards were plentiful, grain fields were attractive, but the psychological time had not arrived. Reversing their way, they passed through Washington, Oregon and Montana and home. A year's journey and no results. "Oh, yes," Mr. Marcy said, "we had a delightful time, enjoyed it all but the day and night up in Colorado, when we were held up by a wonderful snowstorm; we and six others. Planking the snow embankment, we came through safely, if a trifle inconvenienced."

It was interesting to hear these people talk. Their practical minds showed that they had not lacked opportunities for observation. They could not find what they wanted for the boys. When he was between twenty and twenty-five years of age, Mr. Marcy pictured to himself the kind of a home he wanted. He reared a family of boys and had yet to find such a place. His year's journey had been fruitless in that respect.

One day he decided he would try what Western Canada could do. He had read of it, and he had friends there who had done well. He toured the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. He saw the vast prairies, yielding their twenty and twenty-five, and as high as forty bushels of wheat, with enormous yields of other grains. The north central country, which afforded the grass and the shelter that made stock-raising a valuable adjunct to the growing of grain, was visited, interviews were had with the settlers, many from his own home district, and all were satisfied.

Only the other day he arranged for a car in which he will load his effects to be taken to the Alberta farm he had purchased when on his visit. Mrs. Marcy goes with him, and the six boys will follow He found the place he had pictured in his mind when he was twenty or twenty-five years old. "I was unable to find it until I made my Western Canada visit. I bought the farm, and I am satisfied When I saw a carload of four-year-old steers brought into the Edmonton market, weighing 1,700 pounds, that had never been inside a building nor fed a bit of grain, I was glad I had made up my mind."—Advertisement.

Even in Siam.

Examining commercial possibilities in Siam, a commercial report makes it clear that the country offers a larger unexploited field for piano manufacturers than for the makers of phonographs. With the exception of the phonograph Siam still prefers the musical instrument of its ancestors The Siamese orchestra contents itself with gongs, native harmoniums, and so forth. Indeed, the only western instruments known to the Siamese are the piano, a small portable organ, and the phonograph. The piano and the organ, however, are rare, and are kept more for ornament than for anything else. But the phonograph is popular and is already to be found in nearly every Siamese family that is able to afford it

Dead Statute.

"This is an enlightened community."

"How's that?"

"If a landlord refuses to rent an apartment to a couple with children he can be haled to court and fined."

"That's the right idea. How does it work?"

"Not worth a cent. There's no law to prevent a landlord from boosting the rent to a prohibitive figure."—Birmingham Age Herald.

TREATY OF GHENT, 1814.

Treaty Ending the War of 1812 Signed a Month Before War's Biggest Battle.

There are many curious facts about our second war with England, among which may be mentioned that the greatest battle of the war was fought after the treaty of peace had been signed and that negotiations for peace began at about the same time as the declaration of war. The United States declared war on Great Britain on June 19, 1812, and Napoleon declared war on Russia four days later. As England was an ally of Russia, whatever harmed England at such a crisis had more or less effect on Russia. Czar Alexander, much disturbed at this new complication, directed his minister of foreign affairs to sound John Quincy Adams, the American minister, at the court of St. Petersburg, as to the mediation of Russia, making a similar proposal to the British ambassador. Both Mr. Adams and the British ambassador reported to their respective governments.

It is rather remarkable that the czar should have interested himself so much, for in the great struggle of the Napoleonic wars the United States had been treated by Europe as a negligible quantity, and her neutral rights coolly disregarded by every nation. She had been protesting for twelve years and her protests were disregarded as petty annoyance which nations engaged in more serious matters had not time to consider. There was hardly a nation in Europe that we could not have found a cause for going to war with.

Why England Was Chosen.

However, England had acted perhaps a trifle more "nasty" than the others and we chose England. The war was exceedingly unpopular in some parts of the country, especially New England, which talked secession. When President Madison received Mr. Adams' communication he appointed James A. Bayard of Delaware and Albert Gallatin, then secretary of the treasury, to proceed to St. Petersburg and join the American minister there in negotiating a peace. Mr. Adams called upon Count Roumanzoff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, and informed him that the two new commissioners were on their way. Count Roumanzoff was very sorry, really, but the British government had replied that the question at issue between England and the United States was not one which could be settled by mediation. Meantime, Gallatin and Bayard had got as far as Gottenburg on their way to Russia. Anxious to keep Russia from mixing up in the matter, Lord Castlereagh, when he heard the commission were at Gottenburg, sent word to the czar that he wished he would not push his point about mediation and he would deal with the United States direct, either at London or Gottenburg. But the commissioners went on to St. Petersburg and there waited, from July, 1813, to January, 1814, and nothing happened. Communication between London and Washington was rather slow in those days at the best, and especially slow in war times, so it was not until January 3 of 1814 that a note from Lord Castlereagh, dated November 4 of the previous year, and proposing direct negotiations, was received by Mr. Monroe, secretary of state. Two days later the whole correspondence was laid before congress and the peace commission was enlarged by the addition of Henry Clay and Jonathan Russell, an able merchant of Rhode Island who had before served in minor diplomatic positions. Ghent was appointed as the place of conference, but England was in no hurry to begin negotiations.

Battle Month After Treaty Signed.

But England stood committed to the negotiations and in August, after keeping the American delegates waiting six weeks, the British delegates appeared. The British delegates were men of little experience and no ability, and did nothing but voice the opinions of the English government. The British demanded a discussion of the right of search and the question of allegiance, a revision of the Canadian boundary, a discussion of the right of fishing on the Grand Banks, and the erection of an Indian buffer state out of the territory of the United States.

The Americans replied that they had no instructions regarding the Indians or the fisheries; these matters were not in dispute. But with regard to the search of American vessels and the impressment of her seamen they had very full instructions; also with regard to the Canadian boundary, the right of blockade and the payment of indemnity to American citizens.

But Castlereagh sent word asking them to wait. Wellington was asked to go to America and take command. He said he would go, of course, if ordered, but saw little use of a land campaign there unless control of the Great Lakes could be gained, and that seemed improbable. He also thought England was asking too much. Fresh instructions were given to the British delegates at Ghent and the conference reassembled. At length, after bickering with the British commissioners and fiery quarrels among themselves by the American delegates, a treaty was signed on December 24, 1814, which left all the vital questions of the war unsettled and was "peace in its simplest form," a cessation of hostilities, the release of prisoners and a commission to settle the boundary. The news of the signing of the treaty reached New York on Februrary 11, 1815. The battle of New Orleans occurred on January 8 over a month after the treaty had been signed which so carefully avoided even alluding to the causes of the war which it ended.

CONGRESS OF VIENNA, 1815—SECOND SESSION.

After Napoleon's Defeat at Waterloo, the Interrupted Peace Delegates Took Up Their Work Again and Divided Europe, Regardless of the Desires of the People, in a Way Destined to Bring Warfare to Later Generations.

After the "Reign of the Hundred Days" and the crushing defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo, the congress of Vienna reassembled, meeting in June, when the smoke of Waterloo had scarcely cleared away. The delegates came again to the council table with an appetite for plunder, whetted by the exciting events of the recess. They looked upon their former work and found it good, but capable of being improved. The idea that the Italians, who were handed over to a German rule; Poles, who were handed over to Prussian and Russian rule, or the Norwegians, who were transferred to the rule of Sweden, should have any voice in the matter, seems not to have weighed with the map-makers.

Large armies were still kept under arms in France and Italy. Murat, the sergeant of marines whom Napoleon had made a marshal of France and king of Naples, had deserted the emperor when things went against him in 1814, hoping thus to keep his throne of Naples and the two Sicilies. But Murat knew that the congress of Vienna was seeking some excuse to oust him and dispose of his kingdom; that they would, by hook or crook, find such an excuse, and so, when Napoleon broke out from Elba, he declared for the emperor. Whereupon an allied army promptly drove him out of Naples. Now the congress gave Murat's kingdom to that line of the Bourbons which had formerly reigned there, whose misrule had been a scandal to Europe.

The congress spent a very agreeable summer and fall in completing their work. When it was concluded Austria had not only northern Italy but Dalmatia on the eastern shore of the Adriatic confirmed to her. Prussia, which had proved the most greedy land-grabber of all the nations, had not only half of Saxony and a slice of Poland, but the extensive Rhine provinces and Swedish Pomerania. Sardinia was restored to the status of a kingdom and Genoa on the mainland was added to it. The territory of Switzerland was enlarged and the Roman church states restored to the pope. Spain was declared the rightful property of the Bourbons. A Germanic confederation, with Austria at its head, which embraced all Germany except West and East Prussia and the duchy of Posen, was formed. England had Ceylon, part of Guiana, Heligoland, Cape Colony, Malta, Mauritius, etc., confirmed to her and was given a protectorate over the Ionian islands off Greece.

The Congress Is Dissolved

Having thus settled the affairs of Europe, the congress dissolved, well pleased with its work. The peace of Europe had been settled as every other peace had been, on the basis of what the continental powers were able to seize for their own aggrandizement and left, as Whitbread had predicted, the seeds of "bloody and revengeful wars."

Napoleon said afterwards at St Helena of the British part in it: 'So silly a treaty was never signed before; they gave up everything and got nothing."

It was the exhaustion of Europe by nearly twenty years of war and the intense longing of people for peace that enabled the arrangements of the congress of Vienna to be carried out without violent uprising on the part of the bartered nationalities.

Home of Pump Inventor

Magdeburg was the home of Otto von Guericke inventor of the air pump, one of the few original inventions that can be credited to Germany despite the German fostered impression to the contrary. Students of physics will recall a principle of physics proved by what is often called the "Magdeburg experiment." Von Guericke is said to have demonstrated his discovery of the possibilities of the vacuum to Ferdinand III by clamping together two parts of a copper sphere, from which the air was then exhausted and hitching 15 horses to each hemisphere The story that the horses could not pull the hemispheres apart may be an exaggeration, but the principle is sound.

HIGH ON SCROLL OF FAME

Is Written the Name of Frank Luke, One of the Best of American Air Fighters.

What Lieutenant Luke, famous American aviator, would, and often did, attempt was illustrated by his last fight. Starting out alone to attack three "drachens," or observation balloons, he had seen behind the German lines in front of Verdun, he was intercepted by ten enemy machines. He engaged them all, got two of them, and escaped the others by seeming himself to be disabled. His "fall" was from directly over the balloons, and before they could be lowered or protected he shot all three of them in flames. But then Luke disappeared, and what became of him was not known until after the armistice.

When the allies entered the village of Murvaux the rest of the story was learned from the peasants. The American had been forced by wounds or the disablement of his machine to descend, but he did not land until he had used his machine gun to the extent of killing eleven of the many German soldiers stationed there. Then he alighted safely in a nearby field and was seen to quit his machine and start for a little stream as if to get water. German soldiers ran up, and either by them or by a shot from further away he was killed. The German officer in command kicked the body and ordered that no one touch it. There it lay till the next morning, when the villagers were allowed to take it, uncovered, in a cart, to their cemetery and bury it.

So ended Frank Luke at the age of 20. He had lived much, if not long, and down in Phoenix, Ariz., where he was born, they are justly proud of him. He does not lack appreciation elsewhere, for Captain Rickenbacker says: "Had he lived he would have put me out of business long ago as America's leading ace. I wouldn't have had a show against him."

Bruges of Today.

Mrs. B. O. Tufnell, writing in reference to Bruges, says: "I think it may be of interest to you to know that Bruges is extraordinarily little changed since the war. We were most agreeably surprised to find our things left behind intact and only one case had been opened. The hotel was still well run and comfortable, and the food was good, only the pre-war prices had changed for the worse! The beautiful old city looked much the same as before. The carillon is still pealing in the belfry, and few of the public buildings have suffered. The port has been greatly altered, and there the signs of war are very evident, not only in the huge works started by the enemy, but in the effectual destruction of them by our airmen. The shops are open, and the life of Bruges goes on as it did. Only the welcome appearance of khaki-clad men or businesslike W. A. A. C.'s strikes a strange note in the cobbled spaces of the Grande Place."

Memorial to Great Naval Deed.

Were it possible for the British people to forget that greatly daring naval deed of the war known by the uninspiring title of the Zeebrugge raid, the present movement on foot to commemorate it will assure for it perpetual fame. Happily the initiative has been taken by the city of Bruges, so there is not the slightest element of vain glory in the idea of a memorial to be erected on a suitable site within a few yards of the spot where the blockships Intrepid and Iphigenia were successfully sunk. The actual sinking of these vessels for the purpose of preventing the German submarines using the canal to Bruges was rendered possible only by the gallantry of the attack made by the old cruiser Vindictive, which was afterward sunk across the fairway at Ostend. Standing on an elevation, the monument will be visible far out to sea.—Christian Science Monitor.

Suspense Worse Than Attack.

There are sailors who will tell that the actual torpedoing of a vessel was not very much worse than the suspense and the many false alarms—any of which might have proved to be an enemy submarine. A merchant captain was looking out to sea one day when in the distance he thought he saw something dark and round. He watched to see whether it would move It did move, and then suddenly it dived There was no time to do anything since he did not know from what direction the torpedo might come. He waited. To his horror the dark, round object rose from the waves only 30 yards away from the boat. He said it was the worst moment in his life until he realized on further inspection that the "periscope" was in actual fact a large seal with a dirty yellow neck and a full crop of whiskers

PLAN TO MAKE A ROAD DRAG

Illustration Shows an Implement Which Is Simple and Inexpensive—Tough Wood Best.

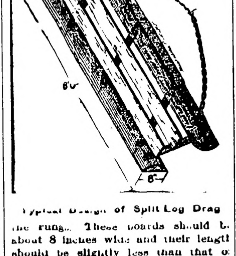
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The accompanying illustration shows a typical design for a road drag, which is very simple and inexpensive. The design contemplates the use of an ordinary log of timber, such as may be readily obtained in almost every locality. The log should be about 7 or 8 inches in diameter and from 6 to 8 feet long, and should preferably be of hard, tough wood which will not decay very rapidly when exposed to the weather. White oak, burr oak, chestnut, cedar, hickory, walnut, or any similar wood may be satisfactorily used, provided that it is well seasoned before the drag is put into use. Railroad ties have been frequently used for this purpose and possess the advantage that they are already cut to about the right length. In selecting the tie, however, care should be exercised to see that it is of sound wood and of the proper size.

The drag is made by splitting or sawing the log into two equal semi-cylinders, which are then framed together in the manner shown in the illustration. The better of the two pieces should form the front runner of the drag, because it is the one subjected to the greater wear. Moreover, while the front runner should always be placed with the face forward, it is claimed by many that better results may be obtained by having the round part of the back runner go forward in order to increase the smearing action of the drag. The two runners are usually spaced from about 30 inches to 36 inches apart, and are connected in ladder fashion by means of cross stakes or rungs.

The ends of the rungs are ordinarily fitted into 2-inch auger holes, bored in the runners, and are securely held in place by means of end wedges. The auger holes are so arranged that the runners, when framed together, will be displaced in a longitudinal direction with respect to each other. The object of this displacement, or offset as it is usually termed, is to make the ends of the front and back runners follow approximately the same line on the road while the drag is in operation. The amount of displacement, therefore, should depend on the amount of skew necessary to make the drag empty itself. But since this skew varies with the condition of the road surface, the proper offset to be given to runners cannot be definitely fixed Under ordinary conditions an offset of from about 12 inches to about 16 inches will prove satisfactory.

In order to make it easy for a man to stand upon the drag and to shift his weight properly when dragging over a hard surface, the drag should be provided with two 1-inch boards parallel to the runners and nailed down to the rungs. These boards should be about 8 inches wide and their length should be slightly less than that of the runners of the drag



Typical Design of Split Log Drag

The chain by means of which the drag is drawn should be about 8 feet long and its links should be made of three-eighths-inch steel. On light drags two trace chains may be used for this purpose

Many road drags constructed as above described, without metal-cutting edges or other modifications, have been very satisfactorily used where the conditions were favorable. It is evident, however, that such drags are effective only on comparatively soft road surfaces, and to diminish this limitation and also to increase the life of the drag it is very desirable to provide a metal cutting edge for the front runner. An excellent edge of this kind may be made from a strip of iron or steel about one-fourth inch thick and about four inches wide, and even old wagon tires or wornout grader blades have been very satisfactory.

JUST PALS

By BESSIE SLAVIT.

"What shall I do? He is coming home!"

For weeks past these thoughts filled the mind of Fay Foster, who had drifted into a kind of informal engagement with Bob Baxter before he left for France.

It had been a boy and girl friendship. Both popular, Bob and Fay were constantly together during their senior year in high school. Everywhere, at baseball, at dances, at school entertainments, Bob was her faithful escort. As he possessed admirable qualities, he was a very congenial companion; most particularly, because he always strove to please Fay.

But that was four years ago, when Fay was only eighteen. She had changed considerably since then, and the chief factor in her change was her acquaintance with Hugh Wrentham.

How well she remembered meeting him at a dance two years ago.

Hugh was older than Bob and had traveled a great deal. It was interesting to hear a recital of his travels; she could listen forever for the sheer enjoyment of hearing his voice. What a delightful spring and summer they spent together!

Then the parting! Alas! it was the only sad experience in her young life—that parting from Hugh.

Fay had never written to Bob about Hugh—Bob, who admired her so much and was so proud of his "little pal," as he called her.

Now, Bob was coming home—he might call at the house this very afternoon! How could she tell him! How could she hurt him, he who was so easily wounded in his deep regard for her.

She perceived two men in uniform coming at a quick pace towards the house. She arose from the big armchair in which she had been nervously knitting, walked to the window and peered out. Yes; it was Bob, grown broader, perhaps, but with the same peculiar gait. But the other? Could it be he, that other who looked so much like Hugh? He hadn't written that he expected to arrive. Did he mean to surprise her? She watched intently until they came nearer, when she saw that it was indeed Hugh—and she uttered a sharp cry. Her heart bounded with joy, her whole body quivered as she recognized him.

Good heavens! Why was he coming with Bob? Wild fancies flitted through her mind and she felt as if a cyclone was carrying her off her feet and whirling her round and round.

Bob was the first to greet her, crying cheerily:

"Well, Fay, old girl, won't you welcome a fellow back from the jaws of death?"

"Bob!—Hugh!—what—how—" but unable to say more, she collapsed at their feet.

"Fay, why don't you say something?" Bob asked soothingly. "Is anything wrong?"

Fay could only glance at Hugh appealingly, for she could not speak. Although her face betrayed her secret, Bob had already divined the cause of her agitation. He motioned to Hugh to leave the room then, drawing a chair to Fay's side:

"Fay, dear little chum please don't feel distressed I already know the truth." Fay cast a furtive glance at his face half surprised, half frightened "You see," he continued "I met Hugh on board ship coming home We became inseparables and pledged an everlasting friendship Hugh, knowing nothing of our old friendship spoke of your mutual love I then told him that we were school friends and he was delighted to talk to someone who knew you When we arrived he insisted upon my coming with him, despite my remonstrances Everything is just as it should be Fay, and I shall be delighted to see you both happy together."

Fay seemed to gain new strength The color mounted to her cheeks and her eyes glistened Rising from the chair she held out her hands to him

"Bob, I thought you you—"

Bob laughed a joyful relieved laugh it was and replied:

"Fay dear four years ago when we were both too young to judge wisely, we made a premature decision As for me I shall always esteem you immensely and shall never forget the delightful times spent with you, little pal but" here he blushed and paused awkwardly, then while a happy expression spread over his countenance he boyishly cried: 'Fay here is a picture of the sweetest little girl in the world to me a girl whom I met in Paris;' and he opened his watch case which disclosed to Fay the lovely face of a girl about twenty years of age "Now that everything is happily adjusted between you and me I shall sail to France within a month and claim the most wonderful American girl who braved the dangers of war and brought me back to life"

"Oh, Bob I'm so glad!" was all she said as tears of joy trickled down her cheeks

"Hugh [illegible] impatient I'll send him in" and Bob rushed from the room

A [illegible] later Hugh entered and embracing Fay on the sofa [illegible]

"Fay my own darling I [illegible] come back to build a paradise for you and me my little queen"

Three weeks later Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wrentham bid good-by to a few friends on board the boat which was to carry him to his happiness in France

MAN IS WARNED BY SPIRIT VOICE

Strange Experiences Make Him Firm Believer in Psychic Phenomena.

SAVES LIFE IN THE WAR

Mysterious Voice Urges Him to Move and as He Obeys Minnie Ball Crashes Into the Spot Where He Lay.

London, Ark.—W. D. Studer, seventy-four years old of this place, present at a gathering of "old-timers" here, said he had come to be a firm believer in telepathy, or psychic phenomena. Many things had happened in his long life, he said, that served to strengthen his belief in the supernatural, or mysterious forces that have puzzled all mankind since the days of Adam.

For example, Mr. Studer's brother was wounded in the battle of Gettysburg, on the second day of July, 1863. With help, Mr. Studer, who was also in the battle, placed his brother behind a huge bowlder, and then observed that the federals were advancing. Their advance was met by fire from Longstreet's men.

Mysterious Voice Warns.

"This exposed a number of us to our own fire," Mr. Studer explained. Studer and several of his companions laid down flat behind the bowlder, as it was almost certain death to remain standing, owing to the hail of bullets that were flying over them.

Something whispered to Studer to get up. "Move!" said a mysterious voice close to his ear. He did move, and was no sooner upon his feet than a minnie ball crashed into the bowlder exactly where he had lain.

If he had remained there three seconds longer the ball would have entered his breast. Many other soldiers, of course, had similar experiences, but Studer is positive that he was warned by a voice.

In 1888 in a dream vision, Studer, then living at Wheelan Springs, Ark., saw a near relative shot in a fracas in Oklahoma, where the relative then lived. The vision was very realistic, and during the following day Studer was enabled to recite all of its details.

The Vision Was Very Realistic.

In a few days information reached him that the relative had actually been shot in a quarrel and the facts coincided faithfully with Studer's dream.

In Similar Distress.

In November, 1890, Studer says he was in considerable distress following an ordinary supper. He told his family that it was very likely that some other Studer was in similar distress. At precisely eight o'clock he experienced strange sensations and was very weak.

Three days later a letter was received from his brother living at Social Circle, Ga., 720 miles distant, which informed him that his brother's daughter had died at eight o'clock on the very night that Studer was so strangely affected.

"If telepathy or psychic force is not proved by these strange happenings," said Mr. Studer "then from whence come these mysterious whisperings and silent warnings that seem to hover about us from time to time, especially in the hour of danger and calamity?"

OUT-OF-ORDINARY PEOPLE

JOHNSON AND THE PEACE TREATY

© HARRIS & EWING

As everybody knows, one of the storm centers of the Sixty-sixth congress will revolve about the peace treaty and the league of nations. It will not be a question of strict party politics, either. A good many of the senators on either side of the political fence think they know considerable themselves about international and constitutional law and purpose to be heard, and party politics be hanged. Also, there is a general realization that the question is one bigger than politics.

The first clash in the senate over the peace treaty occurred when Senator Johnson of California introduced a resolution calling upon the administration to transmit immediately to congress the complete text of the 80,000-word instrument. Senator Johnson tried to get action on the resolution at once. He asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. Senator Robinson of Arkansas promptly objected and the resolution was laid on the table temporarily.

It is the view of those senators opposed to the treaty—and of some of its friends—that it was impossible to enter upon a detailed analysis because although it may be supposed that the draft of the league sent over in the press dispatches is fairly accurate, there is no real knowledge of the treaty with Germany or of its relations to the league.

The summary which was sent out was not only incomplete, but vague and inaccurate, it is said.

MARSHAL HAIG ON THE GREAT WAR

© Western Newspaper Union

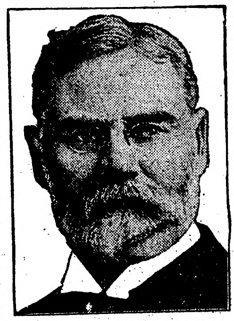
When the history of the great war comes to be written Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig is likely to find himself a stormcenter. Anyway, nothing that has occurred since the signing of the armistice has so tended to excite American officers as the full and complete report of Marshal Haig, copies of which have just been received in Washington.

The only mention which Marshal Haig makes of the Americans throughout the report is his statement that they occupied Coblenz after the signing of the armistice.

He ignores the American divisions which fought under him, and which took the lead in the final British drive on Cambrai. Moreover, in accounting for the collapse of German military power, he completely ignores the effect of American participation in the war, and the work of Pershing's army.

This report of Field Marshal Haig, with its failure to say any single word of credit for the Americans, or make any acknowledgment of the value of America's aid toward ending the war, probably will result in demands in congress upon the war department for the complete record of the achievements of American arms in France.

MANN AND THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT



James R. Mann, representative from the Second Illinois district, whose portrait is here given, introduced the first resolution in the house on the opening day of congress (H. J. Res. 1.), proposing an amendment to the Constitution extending the right of suffrage to women. Times change. Representative Mann provoked the resentment of woman suffragists years ago by remarking, in connection with a suffrage parade of women, "They ought to be at home."

Mann's position in the house, without being officially defined, is influential. He was defeated for speaker in the Republican caucus. He was offered the position of majority floor leader, but declined.

President Wilson's message contained a paragraph indorsing woman's suffrage. Mann, as the new chairman of the woman's suffrage committee, stole a march on the president by parliamentary maneuvering and got the resolution well on its way in advance of the reading of the message.

Two days later the resolution was adopted by a vote of 304 to 88, the necessary two-thirds total being 262. Mann got it out on the floor in record time and [illegible] the suffrage forces in the two hours' debate. The measure evidently was not a matter of strict party politics.

Friends of the measure professed to know that the senate would also pass the resolution.

ALL THE WORLD LOVES A LOVER

© HARRIS & EWING

Francis Burton Harrison, governor general of the Philippine islands, has been in the limelight more or less for some time in connection with the movement for Philippine independence. And, as all the world loves a lover, his romantic marriage the other day in Chicago gives him added claims to public attention. Governor Harrison, who is forty-five years old and has been married twice before, married Miss Elizabeth Wrentmore, eighteen years old, a student of the University of California, daughter of Professor Wrentmore, dean of the College of Manila, P. I.

The course of true love certainly did not run smoothly in this case. The romance began a year ago in Manila. Mrs. Mabel Judson Harrison, the governor general's second wife, in San Diego, Cal., obtained her final decree of divorce the very day of the Chicago marriage. Mr. Harrison's first wife was Mary Crocker of San Francisco, who died in 1905. Mrs. Wrentmore objected to the match because of the governor's age. Then the Wrentmore home in Berkeley, Cal., was quarantined for diphtheria. Miss Wrentmore went to Chicago, just the same. The health authorities met her at the depot and insisted on throat cultures. Mr. Harrison went to Chicago from Washington.

At last all was arranged and the lovers were married.

SELF-FEEDER IS ECONOMICAL

One of Best Labor Savers and Efficient Means of Feeding Hogs—More Fencing Urged.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the best labor savers and one of the most economical and efficient means of feeding hogs is the self-feeder. Experiments comparing the self-feeder with feeding by hand have been made at a number of experiment stations, and most of them have shown not only that the self-feeder is a time-saver, but that more pounds of pork will be produced with a given number of pounds of grain by using the self-feeder. This applies not only to the use of corn, but to ground and mill feeds such as tankage, shorts, middlings, peanut meal, soy-bean meal, etc. By using the self-feeder in feeding the ground and mill feeds one does away with the laborious work of feeding slop to hogs. No definite experiments have been made along the line of comparing feeds of this kind fed dry as against slop, yet some work of this kind has been done and results were very satisfactory with the self-feeder plan. Many farmers and hog growers have tried feeding these feeds in a self-feeder, and the results were fully as good or better than those obtained by the system of slop feeding.

Self-Feeders Save Labor for the Hog Raiser.

It is highly desirable that feeds used in feeding hogs, especially corn, be fed as near as possible to the crib or granary. Feeding floors should be built adjoining corncrib or granaries holding shelled corn.

Another means of saving labor in hog growing is the more extended use of woven-wire fence. If the hog grower has all his fields and lots fenced with hog-tight fencing, he can save the waste in these fields after harvest, and can also follow the method of hogging down corn, which is highly desirable and economical.

Probably the best use to which woven-wire fencing can be put is in making possible the use of forage crops. Our best hog growers have become convinced that feeding hogs in dry lots is no longer the best method. In nearly every part of the country where hogs are grown some kind of forage crops can be successfully used, and they offer three distinct advantages: First, the saving of grain by allowing hogs to get all the green feed they want; second, the building up of the soil through the use of manure obtained from hogs continuously on these pastures, and, third, the much more sanitary conditions under which the hogs live, plus the exercise which the hogs get in pastures, both of which are necessities in successful hog growing. In some parts of the hog-growing country farmers are able to pasture their hogs 10 or 11 months in the year. In almost all parts of the country hogs can be pastured at least six or seven months.

All these practices save labor in feeding, and in addition save a considerable amount of labor in hauling out and scattering manure that accumulates when feeding under the dry-lot plan.

Many hog feeders dip or spray their hogs to keep down the lice. Many commercial hog oilers on the market are practical and effective in keeping hogs from becoming infested with lice.

The general practice of growing hogs and feeding them the grains raised on the farms has a tendency to distribute the labor throughout the year.

FAVORITE FOOD.

Sherbets, parfaits, mousses, and frappes are not always in the market and no matter how we may like the different flavors of ice cream, an occasional frozen dish prepared at home is a treat. Here is one:

Lemon Sherbet.—Take a quart of milk, good rich milk of course; two cupfuls of sugar and the juice of three lemons. Stir all together, regardless of the curdled appearance, and freeze. The freezing will result in a velvety smooth sherbet called Velvet, but most of us pronounce it "so good."

Beaten Biscuit.—Into a pint of flour stir a teaspoonful of salt, and a cupful of cold water. Work to a stiff dough, transfer to a floured board and with a rolling pin beat the dough for 15 minutes, turning and folding so that the dough may receive the treatment in all parts. Cut into biscuit, prick with a fork and bake a light brown.

Cherry Pudding.—Mix together the following ingredients: one and one-third cupfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of milk, two cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, the yolk of an egg and the white beaten stiff and folded in. Pour this batter over a quart of berries from which the juice has been drained, and steam one hour. To make the sauce add a tablespoonful of flour with the same amount of sugar well mixed to the juice, cook stirring until well blended, add butter and nutmeg for seasoning. Cook until smooth.

Vanities.—Beat three eggs until light, add a tablespoonful of sugar, one of cold water, and a pinch of salt. Stir in flour to make a stiff dough. Knead well and roll out after dividing it into four portions. Roll very thin—as thin as paper, tear off a piece the size of the hand and drop into hot fat to brown. The more irregular they are the prettier. When brown sift powdered sugar over them and serve. Kept in a closely covered can they will keep crisp some time.

A pretty dessert is bananas cut in halves lengthwise and raspberry jam used; spread sandwich fashion. Put two halves together, lay on a plate and cover with whipped cream.

There is a shady side of life,
And a sunny side as well,
And 'tis for every one to say
On which side he'd choose to dwell;
For every one unto himself
Commits a grievous sin,
Who bars the blessed sunshine out
And shuts the shadows in.

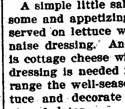
THE SUNDAY EVENING MEAL.



The family meal for Sunday night is one which admits of much variety, depending upon the appetites and tastes of those served. In some homes bread and milk is the usual Sunday night lunch with a bit of cake for a finish. There are other families who enjoy mush and milk even during the warm weather. Whatever is served one must bear in mind that it must not be anything very hearty.

A simple little salad which is wholesome and appetizing is stewed prunes served on lettuce with a little mayonnaise dressing. Another even simpler is cottage cheese with dates; no salad dressing is needed for this salad. Arrange the well-seasoned cheese on lettuce and decorate with washed and stoned dates.

If the night is chilly a bowl of hot soup of any kind will be relished. Hot cocoa or tea or hot milk are good drinks for a night lunch.

Milk toast, made of nicely toasted bread, well buttered and covered with hot milk, thickened or not as one likes, is an especially good dish for the little people. Grated cheese added to the dish for those a little older adds zest to the dish.

Sandwiches of different kinds are in great favor. Figs and nuts ground together, mixed with cream to moisten, a bit of salt, makes a good filling.

Chopped green onions, seasoned with oil and vinegar, salt and pepper, is another good sandwich filling.

A spring sandwich very refreshing is made by using sliced cucumber, seasoned with onion juice, with a bit of salad dressing as a filling.

For a simple dessert a dish of sauce or berries, fresh fruit or preserved, with a plain sponge cake, dropped or baked in gem pans will be found satisfying.

For a special occasion, sponge cakes baked in gem pans, the top cut off and some of the crumb scooped out, then filled with sweetened whipped cream or some other favorite filling.

Cheese Fingers.—These are nice to serve with a salad or hot soup. Beat the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth, add a cupful of grated cheese, added very lightly, season with salt and paprika and spread on long salted crackers. Bake until brown. Serve hot or cold.

Cape Holds Its Own All Year

Season in and season out the cape flourishes in undiminished popularity. It is not often, declares a fashion authority, that a conspicuous fashion such as this, which quickly attained universal favor, survives for a single season, much less for the four well-rounded ones which the cape already has to its credit, as it enters on the summer solstice with a following as enthusiastic as ever.

There are capes long and short, capes slim and straight or draped in voluminous folds, three tiered capes, reversible capes, capes in striking combinations of two materials in one color or of two colors in the same material, curious and interesting capes and cobwebby sketches of capes in georgette or tulle boldly accented with fur.

One sees much less of the waistcoat in the summer cape models. It is hard to tell whether the almost total elimination of this feature in all except the strictly sport models is due to the fact that its added warmth is no longer desirable or whether it has been simply done to death.

Collar Arrangements.

The collar arrangement which wraps around the neck in many folds is still much in evidence, but there are capes with Medici collars, capes with a fitted yoke and high close-fitting collar and capes with no more collar than a band about the shoulders.

One of the most useful cape models has a very wide band of the fabric folded softly back across the front from hem to hem. This can be gathered snugly about the throat or allowed to fall in gracefully negligent folds around the shoulders as occasion demands.

This cape is displayed at its best in two-toned combinations of one material or in different fabrics of identical color. It is handsomely developed in navy blue serge and satin or in castor tricolette and duveteen.

There is a peculiar smartness about the circular three-tiered capes, and there are capes on straight lines also with three tiers, the extremely wide cape collar which falls well below the shoulder line forming the upper tier.

These capes are at their best in Poiret twill or gabardine, but it is only fair to say that the useful navy blue serge cape has been relegated to the background which useful old friends are so frequently required to grace.

In dealing with the summer cape there is not much to be said of woolen fabrics except as they are used in combination with silken stuffs or in their unchallenged field, the sport outfit.

For Sport Wear.

For summer sports the strictly serviceable tailored capes of English worsteds and tweeds may be passed over as year round standbys, but capes of homespun, dyed in soft fruity colors, have by reason of their light open weave a distinctly summery place in the sport outfit.

Wool jersey still has a claim on the summer sportswoman and capes of this fabric are frequently seen, the most popular development of this garment being the detachable cape to be buttoned beneath the collar of a sleeveless sport suit. A white wool jersey sleeveless sport suit has a cape of navy blue wool jersey, with white facings buttoned back with pearl buttons. This forms a very useful as well as an undeniably attractive costume.

A sport cape which is comparatively new and which will interest many women is fashioned of channellette. This wool fabric, apparently knit by hand, but in reality a product of the knitting machine, can be purchased by the yard in a variety of gay and lovely colors. It is 36 inches wide and sufficiently expensive, but as capes of this type are cut very scant and straight a large quantity of the fabric is not required.

Narrow bands of Angora knitted wool may also be bought with which capes and sport coats of channellette are bordered, collared and cuffed. A cape has been designed for country wear of heavy, soft linen crash, lined with bright gingham, which has a certain bizarre charm of its own but comes dangerously near being an eccentricity.

Silk, Satin and Wool.

Capes of silken weaves for daytime wear spell summer in every lustrous length of tricolette or satin and in the crisp and sprightly folds of moire or taffeta. Satin is often used in combinations with wool, either duveteen, gabardine or wool jersey. The upper part of the cape is usually of satin with a broad band of the woolen fabric at the lower edge. Often the collar is of wool, but frequently of fur.

A delectable cape of this type has the lower half of beige wool jersey, the upper half of brown satin and the collar of summer ermine.

Satin as well as taffeta is sometimes reduced to the severe cut of the three-tiered cape, but it is at its best in the more suave and gracious lines of the draped models. One very lovely cape of double-faced satin has a long scarf front and is gathered at the shoulders with a small upstanding frill. The soft, dull blue of the under side is turned back in a wide fold at the neck and down the front over the navy blue of the exterior.

Attractive satin capes in henna, black or blue show the plainness of their surface broken by roundabout gathered inserts of georgette.

Capes of tricolette, often gathered into wide bands of duveteen or gabardine of the same shade, have a great deal of distinction. Both the plain and fancy weaves are employed, and in the latter case the trimming of wool fabric is frequently omitted, while a fur collar gives the accent of weight and substance which most summer capes seem to require as a need of their being.

A changeable taffeta cape in shades of red, brown and blue is a noticeable exception to this rule. Its quaintly gathered and frilled body is topped by a yoke in which delicate dull gold embroidery plays an important part.

Capes Extraordinarily Smart.

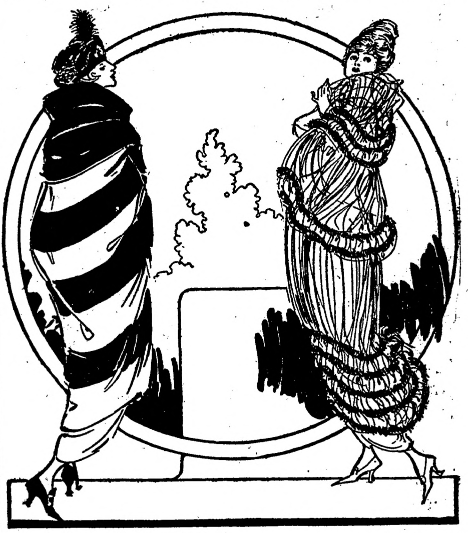
Extraordinarily smart capes are developed in moire silk in navy, black, brown or castor and nearly always with the all but inevitable fur collar. One in black has superimposed upon its moire surface brocaded satin figures, the glint of which, added to its squirrel collar, completes a cape distinguished enough for any occasion.

What might be called the apotheosis of the summer cape is now coming very much to the fore in all the more exclusive shops. These exquisite and fragile garments have little to recommend them except sheer charm. Extravagant they are to a degree, both in the initial cost and in perishability; and as to warmth, two thicknesses of georgette provide but scant protection even to the most imaginative. They are like Lucy Lockett's pocket, which had nothing in it but the binding round it, and depend altogether for substance on the bandings and mountings of fur which do their utmost to hold these thistledown garments near the earth.

Short-hip length georgette capes with armholes banded by fur to match the deep collars are provided for those who have a weakness for these intriguing little affairs.

Fringe Is Popular.

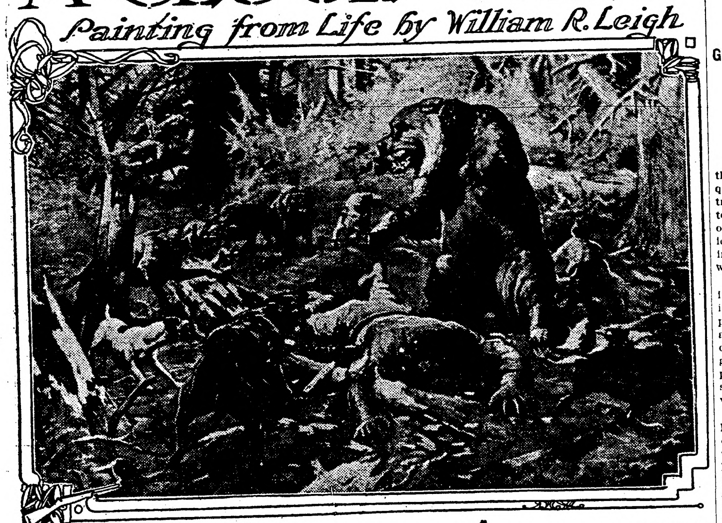
According to the procedure of Agnes, fringe is not passe, for it is well in evidence on many of her newest dress models.



Cape of navy blue and biscuit silk poplin, and one of brown tulle over brown chiffon fur trimmed.

"A CLOSE CALL"

Painting from Life by William R. Leigh



By JOHN D. SHERMAN.

"A CLOSE CALL," by William R. Leigh, a New York artist, is possibly the best picture of a grizzly ever painted. Outdoor men and big-game hunters say it is the "real thing." Well, it ought to be the real thing, because it was painted from life, so to speak.

There's a little of what might be called poetic license in the picture, which improves it from the dramatic viewpoint. When you read the plain, straightforward story of the picture, as told by Director J. D. Figgins of the Colorado Museum of Natural History at Denver, you will see how the artist used this license. As to the details of the painting, they are the real thing and no mistake. The grizzly was a real grizzly; his mounted skin is now in the museum. The dogs were real dogs. The man in front of the bear is one of two noted Wyoming guides—either Ned Frost or Fred Richards. The trees are real trees and they and the little open space are there yet. The hunter in the left-hand upper corner coming to the rescue is Figgins himself. As for Artist Leigh, he was rushing around the ring, taking photographs and making pencil sketches and absorbing "local color."

The grizzly is worthy of the best effort of the best artist. He is the "King of the Wilds" on the American continent. Enos Mills, whose exhaustive work on the grizzly is to be published this spring, says this royal animal excels all others in brains; he does not except either the dog or the elephant. Mr. Mills belongs to the "reason" school of American naturalists, as contrasted with the "instinct" school; the former credits animals with what may be called a mental process akin to reasoning, while the latter believes that all their actions are due to inherited instinct. Mr. Mills should know something about grizzlies; he captured as cubs and brought up Johnny and Jennie, the two enormous grizzlies in the Denver zoo. And he studied the grizzly in his native wilds. The grizzly will soon be extinct in continental United States—except in the national parks, which are sanctuaries for wild animal life.

"King of the Wilds."

The grizzly is a queer animal. Notwithstanding his size, he seldom kills big game or cattle or sheep for food. He eats nearly everything edible that he finds. He will root up a field of flowers for their roots. He will overturn great bowlders to get at a nest of ants. He will go to the foot of a sloping snowbank in the summer and feast on the grasshoppers that have become chilled. He loves berries. And he dotes on field mice and chipmunks. But occasionally a grizzly gets the cattle-killing habit and then he becomes a terror to stockmen.

The experts insist that the grizzly is not ferocious by nature. Originally he was absolute monarch of the wilds. He took the path and kept it—except for the skunk—and everything got out of his way. So he did not have to fight. After he had been trapped and hunted and shot by the white man he gave man a wide berth. His senses are exceedingly keen; it is believed that he will hear a hunter at a distance of a quarter of a mile and will scent him at nearly a mile. Eternally vigilant, wary, intelligent, he keeps out of the way. When hunted with dogs, his intelligence, endurance and speed over rough country usually enable him to get away.

But when the grizzly is cornered he is a tremendous antagonist. Wounded, he is a terror. A grizzly mother with a cub is as dangerous an animal as walks the earth.

The grizzly can be killed with a single bullet—if that bullet is placed right. Otherwise the contents of a modern high-power magazine rifle will not check a charging grizzly. The brain, the spine and the upper part of the heart are the vital spots. A western man—his name is purposely omitted—once killed three full-grown grizzlies in about 30 seconds with three shots; he doesn't dare print the story.

One most interesting feature about the grizzly is his individuality. Grizzlies seem to be even more individual than men. For example, there is the career of "Old Mose," which is a Colorado classic.

Old Mose first appeared in the limelight about 1869. His territory was the region around Black Mountain; it lay on top of the Continental Divide and was about 60 miles in diameter. Two toes missing on his left hind paw made it easy to keep track of him. Old Mose quickly became an expert killer of cattle, sheep, horses and hogs. Once he had learned the taste of beef, mutton and pork, he lost all desire for ants, grasshoppers and flower roots. Toward the close of his career he was followed at a respectful distance by a large cinnamon bear which fed on the remnants of his carcasses.

A heavy price was put on the head of Old Mose. Trappers and hunters of known skill made a business of trying to win the reward. All attempts to trap him failed. Poison was tried in vain. Three hunters got close enough to him to meet death.

Old Mose seemed to have a keen sense of humor. After he had been hunted for many years he developed a habit of sneaking up on the camp of campers and prospectors. Then he would rush the camp, roaring and seeming bent on killing everybody in sight. There is no record that he ever attacked anyone at such times. But the stampedes he caused were many and ludicrous. Undoubtedly he enjoyed them.

This sort of thing went on for 35 years. Old Mose during that time killed more than 800 cattle, to say nothing of colts and other live stock. He killed at least five men. Though forty or more years of age, his fur was glossy, his teeth were sound, his bodily powers were undiminished and he was more cunning than ever.

Finally, in April, 1904, a hunter with a pack of first-class bear dogs managed to get him cornered. Old Mose turned at bay for the last time. It took eight shots to kill this tremendous old grizzly.

"A Close Call"

And now for "A Close Call" with the foregoing to give you a hint why this portrait is so remarkable.

"The fight from which the painting was made took place in the spring of 1912, near Cody, Wyo.," said Director Figgins." I met Mr. Leigh at Cody, and he was keen to paint a bear in action. I invited him to go with me on my trip for a bear group for the museum. He accepted and took along his equipment and guide. I had secured the services of the famous Wyoming guides, Ned Frost and Fred Richards. We set out in May for the bear country.

"We had two camps established and we roamed the mountains and timber land day after day, spending the night at whichever cabin happened to be closest. We had found a great many tracks and had followed them without result over hundreds of miles of rocky and wooded territory, when one morning one of the guides found a new track in the dust near our camp. Our dogs got the scent and took up the trail. For two hours we trekked after the bawling hounds as they made straight for higher ground up the side of a mountain.

"Leigh's manner was all eagerness now and his eyes glistened as he rode along with his kodaks and boxes. His object was entirely different from ours, but he entered into the pursuit with quite as much zeal.

"Finally the dogs came within sight of the bear. Up the mountain side they bounded with the bear giving them a fast race. On a north slope of the mountain the animal made a fatal mistake—he plunged into a stretch of snow, soft and mushy from the spring sunshine, a certain trap for his heavy body. He lumbered along for a time in the snow, with the lighter dogs gaining every second. Then he turned and made for an open space. But it was too late.

The Grizzly at Bay.

"The dogs were upon him as he reached firm ground and a terrific fight began. One of the guides and I came up with our guns—I have forgotten whether it was Frost or Richards—and Leigh was right at our heels.

"Leigh got to work with his camera and pencils and we waited near by, changing our position occasionally in order to maintain a vantage point in case the bear should make a break for liberty. It was in one of these maneuvers, I think, that the guide came too close to the fighting dogs and was knocked down. This gave Mr Leigh the idea which he has incorporated in his picture as it was finished—the spectacle of one of the hunters lying prone under the bear.

"After about twenty minutes, during which time our dogs were keeping up a hot fight and having their hands full, so to speak a pup which had been trailing slightly in the rear came up with us. I had asked the guides to let this young dog come along as a special favor, because I thought I saw in him the making of a fine bear-hound and I wanted him to get some early experience. The pup and I had become close friends during the trip due to the special attention I had paid him, and I had learned to love him as much as though he were my own. I had noted his gameness many times on the march. Although he was less than a year old he kept up with the old dogs easily and no mountain stream was too swift for him.

"I was not surprised, then, to see Champ—that was the dog's name—come bounding through the timber toward the bear fight. He saw the prey when about 40 yards away and stopped still on his haunches, his hair bristling and his body trembling. I could see that he was scared, but my faith in him told me it would not be for long. My faith was justified. When he saw the other dogs sprawling and bawling and struggling around the bear, he made a bound and landed in the arena.

"With a long leap he sprang at the bear, but his clumsy legs tricked him and he rolled on the ground beyond. I knew that he was not wily enough for the fight and that one heavy blow from the bear would break him in two. So I shot the bear in the neck, breaking his spinal cord."

EVAPORATION TEST

A floating meteorological station at Gatun lake consists of a raft carrying an apparatus for measuring evaporation, an anemometer recording wind variations, and a rain gauge. The evaporation record is of especial interest. The apparatus is simply a copper vessel four feet in diameter, which is kept filled with water, and shows by the amount of water added at intervals how much of the liquid passes into the air. This amount reaches four inches per month during the eight months of the wet season, and seven inches per month in the four dry months. The air is very humid from the frequent rains, which come nearly every day even in the so-called "dry" season, but the surprisingly high evaporation is explained by the strong winds continually blowing. It is noted that even the Salton sea, with arid desert surroundings has only about the same evaporation.

An Innocent Abroad.

"And what thoughts came over you when you viewed the lion of St. Mark's for the first time?"

"I was as mad as a wet hen," replied the thrifty tourist. "I paid a piratical guide a dollar to show the blamed thing to me and I wan't 40 feet away from it."

THRIFTY DUTCHMEN TURNED INTO DESPERADOES BY WAR

Genuine Shock Has Come to These Who in Old Days Admired Industrious Hollander Whose Only Occupation Now Is in Deeds of Daring and Robbery—Country Is Now Paradise for Thieves.

The Hague.—To those who knew the Hollander before the war as a quiet, well-behaved, thrifty and industrious soul, content to pursue the even tenor of his way and sticking religiously to orderliness and good behavior, his transformation since the signing of the armistice last November will come as a genuine shock.

Crime, in the pre-war days, was at its minimum in Holland. Her standing army of some 50,000 was composed of young men who served their allotted time in the military service of their country with the minimum of grumbling, returning cheerfully to the plow, or the dairy, or the fisheries, as soon as their term of army service was over.

Except for an ever watchful eye on her frontier, Holland lived a calm, contented existence, turning out her world-famous cheeses and her perhaps, more infamous gins, her citizens secure in the feeling that theirs was a land where the law was observed, where their chattels were safe even though their front doors remained unlocked and where the infrequent offender against the penal code could not hope to get his full name in the papers, much less his photograph with a pretty border around it.

Today all this is changed. From a land of safety Holland has been transformed into a land of danger and the Hollander—that is, he who is represented in the ranks of the plow boy, the driver of the horse or donkey along the tow path, the churner of the butter and the cream, the farm hand or the miller's assistant—has been transformed into a shiftless, lazy, disorderly ne'er-do-well, whose principal occupation is burglary!

It Is a New Crime.

Burglary in Holland was not a usual crime in the pre-war days. That fact makes the present wave of lawlessness all the more striking. The great truth that has dawned upon the country is that the 800,000 Hollanders who have been doing military service as non-combatants since the beginning of the war have come to hate work and to hate having to provide for their own living, after enjoying food, clothing and shelter at government expense for nearly five years.

When Holland mobilized her young manhood, middle-aged manhood and full-grown manhood during the first six months of the war, when there was momentary danger of Germany suddenly getting it into her disordered brain to invade and despoil the Netherlands as well as Belgium, the Dutch government provided for the support of the families of the soldiers whom she mobilized as well as for the support of the soldiers themselves.

In her well-ordered house, Holland could not see 800,000 families in want because 800,000 male supporters were taken for the defense of the fatherland. She provided this support as punctiliously and as carefully as she provided for the thousands of Belgian and French refugees, who have lived on the country's bounty from the day of the siege of Antwerp to the day that Marshal Foch handed his fountain pen to the German armistice commissioners and said: "Sign!"

With the demobilization that began during the latter days of last November the discharged soldiers found it irksome to resume their duties as family providers instead of "letting Wilhelmina do it." The plow did not appeal nearly so much as the light field equipment along the frontier. The long hikes along the towpaths were not nearly so attractive as the short stretches between sentry posts on the border between Holland's eastern provinces and the Westphalian or Prussian country. It was found a hard matter to get the Hollander back into a civilian job, not because the job was not there but because the erstwhile thrifty Dutchman no longer cared for the job.

Food Shortage a Cause.

For many months now life for the law-abiding Dutchman and his family has been anything but a paradise and the shortage of food has been but a small matter in the grand total of this general unhappiness.

The principal thing that has been worrying Holland has been the burglar, who has since before the Christmas holidays become a sort of national institution, like the cheese and the gin. Acts of violence are of daily, in fact, of hourly, occurrence in the country districts as well as in the cities. Not alone must doors be securely locked and bolted at night, but if during the daytime the householder turns his back to look over his chickens in the barnyard without first closing his front door he will most likely return to the "pronk kamer" (parlor) only to find every article of intrinsic value has disappeared.

The theft of silverware, jewelry, clothes and even pots and pans from the kitchen is reported to the police in every town and hamlet on an average of once every hour during the 24 hours of the day. The flow of complaints is so steady that in most places one man is assigned to do nothing but record these reports of burglaries.

While, of course, it would be unfair to say that every one of the demobilized soldiers has turned burglar after receiving his discharge from the army, it is safe to say that one-half of the 800,000 troops has turned its attention to either burglary, petty or grand larceny or highway robbery as a means to keep the wolf from the door without an undue amount of physical exertion.

The visitor in Holland, although he is still much in the minority because of the passport restrictions, has learned to keep his hand on his wallet pocket and his fingers firmly around the end of a stout cane whenever he ventures out into the street or along a country path, once Holland's delight and the safest promenade in the wide world.

Daring Highway Robberies.

The "kwajongems," who used to stand in proper awe of the well-dressed man or woman in the public thoroughfares of the city, now openly and brazenly snatch at watch chains, ladies' bags or pocket books that are carried in the hands by the ladies. Nine times in ten the culprit manages to make a clean getaway in the crowd of sympathetic ruffians, who gather quickly at the first sign of disorder in the street.

Children sent to the stores by their mothers are often the victims of the thieves, who take away their pennies, and market baskets on the way to the expectant housewives very often go astray and ultimately reach the dens of the underworld, now a real menace in the economic and civic life of the Netherlands.

The same spirit of disregard of the conventions that obtains throughout the country, as far as the rights of others is concerned, obtains in the nation's parliament—the Staaten General. Ultra-bolshevistic members occupy seats in the lower chamber and openly advocate doctrines which, a year before the war began in 1914, would not have been listened to by any self-respecting Dutchman. The self-respecting Dutchman must listen to these doctrines now, for they are preached on every street corner, from the forums and from the platform of the governing body, whenever the radical wing gets a chance to give voice to its sentiments.

Blocked at the Frontier.

The government does everything humanly possible to prevent the influx of the radical element from Germany and every day dozens of would-be intruders, be they bolshevist or Sparticus, are turned back at the frontier with the admonition to go East. But many slip through, with the result that this formerly quiet, orderly land is fast being poisoned by the seed of violence that has been planted in its fertile soil from the very day that the one-time kaiser entered the country as a refugee and the one-time crown prince took up his involuntary abode on the Island of Wieringen.

There is enough of the regular army left to prevent any serious concerted movement by the forces of the malcontents, especially as they are not organized and no leader has yet put in an appearance. The police in the various districts, too, still observe the street discipline of the pre-war days, although they have not been very successful in stamping out the lawlessness that is everywhere evident, they are, at least, holding the unruly element in check and, to a certain degree, holding it in awe of municipal authority.

The principal hope of the better educated class of Hollanders lies in an early restoration of the regular channels of food importation.

Now Land of Unrest.

Just now the Hollander is anything but tractable. He will drop his hammer, his shovel, his hoe or his churning handle at the drop of a hat or the whisper of a labor agitator. He imagines that he is the under dog of every man who possesses a nickel more than he does.

From a land of calm peaceful, seething quiet, Holland has changed into a land of unrest. It oozes out of the very ground at every step one takes. Lack of grains keeps the grist mills idle, which consequently fail to provide work for those who might be induced to take up the broken strands of their tasks and don the snow white of the miller for the blue of the soldier.

Stagnation in shipping, owing to the restrictions placed upon the country by the allies, has had its natural effect upon Holland's inland waterways commerce, with the result that thousands of men who were employed along the numerous canals, both as boatmen and tow drivers, before the war, now find their vocations gone. This is another important industry which if it could resume its normal proportions, would greatly reduce the number of the unemployed.

Over everything, however, looms the one large fact that the formerly correct Hollander could so readily be changed into a man with criminal instincts and to such an extent as to make the entire country, practically, a burglar's paradise.

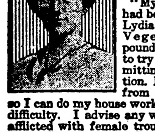
HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.



"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Friendly and Alert.

Small boy with two large bundles, each about three feet long, one under each arm, crossing Broadway in a gale of wind. Midway his hat blows off and goes rolling away with the boy in swift pursuit; handicapped, however, by those two bundles, for with his arms and hands thus handicapped you wondered how he could pick the hat up when he came to it. But he didn't even have to try for it. As it struck the curb a friendly and alert passerby on the sidewalk stopped the hat, picked it up, and as the boy came up jammed it securely on his head, all without the boy's touching it at all.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: — Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

LET WHISTLERS BE WARNED

New York Newspaper Is Emphatic in Its Declaration of Uncompromising Hostility.

Reader, have you ever been made frantic and exasperated beyond measure by some man whistling in your neighborhood? Did you ever sit in a tram car and hear one of these nuisances blow noises out through puckered lips? If you have, you can well sympathize with the unidentified person who listened to Moses Cohen whistle in a local motion-picture theater and arose and slew him on the spot. We regret the killing; it was uncalled for; unlawful; dreadful; not to be tolerated. Law sleuths are on the track of the killer, and, of course, as upholders of law, with almost puritanical vehemence we hope he will be caught. And yet . . . persons should not whistle in cinema theaters, or in tram cars, or in the streets, or in shops, or in newspaper offices, or any other place on the face of the green earth where they can be heard. We have spoken.—New York Evening Telegraph.

Peeled Chicken.

Three-year-old Kitty was visiting her grandmother, who lived on a farm. Everything about the farm was a novelty to the child. Another pleasant thing about the visit was grandmother's constant questioning of:

"Now, what shall we eat today?"

One morning she asked the usual questions as to the menu. Little Kitty thought a minute and then answered:

"Oh, grandma, won't you please catch a chicken and peel it for dinner?"

A Lemon.

Two couples were strolling slowly around Monument Circle. A boy approached one with a bouquet of roses pleading that the man buy. The woman stopped, looked down at the boy, and said:

"You needn't mind, boy. He won't buy. He's my husband."

There was no more "sales talk" then. —Indianapolis News.

Geo. M. Herr, prop. harness shop, First Ave., E. Roundup, Mont., says: "Up until two years ago I suffered quite a bit with kidney trouble. In fact, when I came to this town nine years ago, I couldn't carry a pail of water. My back ached nearly all the time and the kidney secretions passed too freely. I kept hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills so often, I got a box and started using them. I used more than one box, but it wasn't long before I was cured."

MOTORS INSTEAD OF DOGS

Trip Over the Cascades in a Gasoline Sleigh Was a Distinct Success.

A spectacular trial trip was recently made across the Cascades in a motor sleigh, and a number of photographs, taken at various stages of the journey, are reproduced in Popular Mechanics. The achievement of the motor sleigh was almost as amazing as that of the first army tank, conquering, as it did, all kinds of obstacles. Skimming the surface of snowfalls, old or new, the strange little vehicle broke its way through primeval passes with never a stumble. The rescue of an automobile, hopelessly stalled in the drifts of Snoqualmie pass, was a mere incident in its progress. Crossing a deep gully on a pair of hemlock poles was but one of the day's adventures. The intended substitution of the motor sleigh for the dog drawn sledges of Alaska's snowbound post trails means more to the people of that great territory than may be generally realized. Jack London and others have limned the malemute as a romantic figure; but the followers of the trail know well he is never that. It is the elimination of much human hardship, as well as canine inefficiency, that recommends the gasoline method.

Time's Changes.

"Times shore change," philosophically said Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Just tuther day, as it were, nobody thought anything in pertickler if a feller took a demijohn to church under the back seat of his wagon, and after the sermon had growh sorter tiresome winked a few of his friends outside to help him lap it up and fool around and swap horses and mebbey fight a little in a general way.

"But now, by grit, if he even smells of patent medicine on a week day he's got to produce the omenick and p'int out the place whur it says he's got the deadly disease that he claims to have taken the medicine for."—Kansas City Star.

Proud of His "Profession."

"Burglars who served in the army are going back to their old trade," said a London police official the other day. "These men deliberately elect to live by stealing because they find it adventurous. It was with the same spirit that they joined the army. At least one convicted burglar won the Victoria cross." Confirmation of this characteristic is provided by a captain in a famous fighting regiment, who declares that one of the bravest men in his company, a corporal with a D.C.M. and other honors, declared himself a professional thief. "His one regret," remarked the officer, "was that the recruiting authorities would not let him describe his occupation on his attestation papers as 'burglar.'"

PEACE EXPECTED IN NEXT 10 DAYS

Allies Speed Up Reply to Counterproposals and Will Demand Quick Action.

TO REJECT PROPOSALS

Different Commissions Report to Big Four in Favor of Rejection of Many Clauses Proposed by Germans.

Paris, June 10.—The peace conference commissions on colonies, prisoners of war, responsibilities and the labor, military and naval clauses of the treaty in their reports to the Council of Four, the Echo de Paris says it learns, urged the rejection of the German counterproposals as far as the several commissions are concerned.

Paris, June 10.—A speeding up process, similar to that adopted for completing the German treaty, is now being applied to the counterproposals. The more optimistic members of the American commission predict that the treaty will be signed by June 20, allowing five days to a week between the time the reply is placed in the Germans' hands and the date to be fixed for their final answer.

The latest indications are that the Allied answer will be ready for presentation Friday.

Allied experts were reported to have reached an agreement whereby the specific amount of reparations will not be put in the treaty but France and Belgium will accelerate establishment of the definite sum of their claims so Germany will learn the total indemnities she is to pay within two or three months after the treaty is signed instead of having to wait two years, as first planned.

Agreement Over League.

The league of nations commission was understood to have reached an agreement on the reply to the Germans' demand for immediate admission to the league. While the agreement is yet to be ratified by the Big Four it was said to provide that Germany shall be admitted after a brief period of probation, although she will be excluded from executive council.

The territorial committee, it was reported, has recommended rejection of Germany's demand for mandataries over certain of her former colonies.

This decision was said to have been reached despite the suggestion of American experts that she be given administration of her former territories in East Africa.

Rantzau Back in Versailles.

Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau has returned to Versailles from a conference with German government officials in Cologne.

Colonel House plans to go to London the latter part of this week, possibly in connection with preparations for the first meeting of the league of nations council in that city.

Provisions have been made for extending American occupation of the Hotel Crillon to autumn, so that Secretary Lansing, Henry White, General Bliss and various experts may remain to clean up unfinished business of the Peace conference.

Austrian Terms Impossible

Vienna, June 10.—The peace terms presented to Austria are impossible and mean the death of the country by starvation, President Seitz declared in opening the extraordinary session of the national assembly. The galleries were filled and the floor contained a large proportion of the members of the assembly including two women.

Foreign Minister Bauer made a report on his conference at Feldkirch with Dr. Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation. Bauer is not popular in Vienna or in the country and is generally referred to as a "Bolshevik."

WORLD LEAGUE IS INDORSED

A. F. L. Committee Report to Convention Favors Treaty.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 10.—Unqualified indorsement is given the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in its report, submitted to the officers and delegates at the opening session of the 39th annual convention.

The basic principles of a lasting peace are in the treaty and covenant, the report says, and adds that with a peace so built, "the world has in truth been made safe for democracy."

The covenant of the League of Nations, the report continues, "must meet the unqualified approval and support of the American working people."

Red Holocaust Revealed

Zurich, June 10.—Sensational statements were made during the trial of alleged secret agents and anarchists. It was testified that an anarchist band blew up a train in the Mont Genis tunnel in November, 1917, in which hundreds of French soldiers were returning from Italy on leave. Large sums of money which the Hindu leaders spent freely, it was declared under oath, were supplied not only by Berlin, but by Hindus in America, especially in California.

COCA-COLA WILL BE USED TO CHRISTEN ENGINE

Program Will Feature Exercises at Fire Hall on Wednesday.

[From Nashville Tennessean.]

Ann Dallas Dudley, the new fire engine at the Waverly-Belmont fire hall, will be christened on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with appropriate exercises. Mrs. Guilford Dudley, for whom the engine gets its name, is one of the state's pioneer suffrage workers and it is due to her untiring work that partial suffrage was given the women of Tennessee. Mrs. Miles Williams, a resident of the twenty-first ward, is chairman of arrangements, and also a pioneer suffragist, and little Judith Winston Folk, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reau Folk, also a pioneer suffragist and the youngest member of the Nashville organization, has been chosen sponsor. Miss Folk has selected as her maids the following young girls, daughters of prominent suffrage leaders: Travania Dudley, Lenore Kenny, Kate Barksdale, Harriet Ingram, Mary Sue Cantrell, Jane Davis and Elizabeth Smith.

At the christening not champagne but a bottle of coca-cola will be broken and the maids will shower the engine with yellow flowers. Speeches will be made by Mayor William Gupton, Commissioner Tompkins and Chief A. A. Rosetta. Mrs. Dudley, a member of the national suffrage organization, and Mrs. Reau Folk, chairman of the city organization, will be honor guests of the occasion.—Adv.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel somewhat improved continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

Their Faithfulness.

"Force of habit is almost as hard a master to some people as rum is said to be," commented the landlord of the tavern at Grudge. "Although the post office moved to its new location more than a month ago, and, too, though they never were compelled by law to do so, 'most any time o' day a bunch of prominent and influential lunkheads can be seen standing in the doorway of the old post office room, patiently waiting for busy people to come, as they used to, and scrouge past them, trying to get in."—Kansas City Star.

Hard facts do not always make an impression on a soft-headed man.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

"Where was he wounded?" asked Gerard.

"We are not quite sure. The surgeon mentioned the place, but we don't know whether it's an anatomical phrase or a French village."

As will be seen in another column the March statement of the local creamery shows that in the month of March there was made from the cream brot in by the farmers living in this vicinity 10,858 lbs of butter which sold for $6,475.56. When it is remembered that March is one of the poorest months in the year for milk production, it should look prosperous for a community situated as Grygla is without a railroad.—The Grygla Eagle.

However the people had a good scare and the fire company had a little extra practice.

The Gospel Meetings

The meetings at the Mission church came to a close Sunday night. The first session was held on Wednesday evening and the attendance and interest increased all the time. On the closing day the church proved to be far too small to hold the people who came from the surrounding country. People were present from Thief River Falls and all the villages near by and many from a distance. Among those from a distance were: Rev. N. C. Carlson of Beresford, S. D., Prof. Peterson, Mrs. Angove, Miss Volstad, Messrs Olson and Vold, the Misses Holty and Lykkedrag, all of Minneapolis and Anton Hill of Alvarado, also many others whose names we were unable to get.

The Woodman hall was opened for a rest room for the ladies, where good music was furnished to them by Miss Amanda Mickelson, and we are sure the ladies appreciated the opportunity to rest and listen to good music.

The address was given by Mr. Winden as advertised, but the races were not pulled off until after the auction as the crowds were slow in coming to town on account of the stormy looking weather.

The people seemed to come from al the surrounding country and all the business places did a rushing business.

The responsibility for the "leak" of the peace treaty from Paris to Wall street has been definitely traced to Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the commission on reparations of the peace conference by appointment by President Wilson and a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. It was Mr. Lamont who gave a copy of the treaty to Henry P. Davison of the same firm in Paris May 9. The copy was brought to New York by Mr. Davison and given to former Senator Elihu Root, who showed it to Senator Lodge.

VILLA DEFEATED BY U. S. TROOPS

American Soldiers Sent Into Mexico Fight Engagement With Rebels and Win.

YANKS OCCUPY JUAREZ

U. S. Cavalry and Negro Infantrymen Take Rebel Trenches and Prisoners After Battling in Open—Action Declared Not an Invasion.

Juarez, Mexico, June 17.—United States infantry began withdrawing from Juarez to El Paso in obedience to orders by Major General Dercey C. Cabell, commander of the southern department, who arrived from San Antonio.

At 10:45 a. m., the 34th infantry started marching across the international bridge from Juarez and by 11 a. m. the entire command was back on American soil, after having spent exactly 11 hours on Mexican soil.

El Paso, Texas, June 17.—Artillery fire against the Villa rebel forces southeast of Juarez was opened at 10:35 with the Second battalion of the 82d Field Artillery firing shrapnel bursts which could be seen plainly from the river.

Washington, June 17. — "There can be no misunderstanding between the governments of the United States and Mexico regarding the movement of troops across the border at El Paso," Secretary N. D. Baker said. The sole purpose, he said, was protection of the American side of the border and there is a distinct understanding between the governments for such action.

El Paso, June 17.—American troops sent into Mexico to stop the indiscriminate firing across the border fought their first general engagement with the Mexican rebel forces of Francisco Villa at the Juarez race track shortly after 2 a. m. and the Americans were victorious.

Villa's troops were driven from the race track by rifle and machinegun fire and many prisoners were reported taken by the United States cavalry, which surrounded the track on the east and southeast according to an official report at military headquarters.

Americans Occupy Juarez.

United States troops were in full possession of Juarez and American cavalry scoured the Mexican territory south and east of Juarez, capturing or killing every Villista soldier they found.

The American advance into Mexico was led by three armored motor cars carrying machinegun crews and one-pound field pieces.

U. S. Artillery Opens Fire.

The motor vanguard was followed closely by two battalions of Negro troops of the 24th infantry. The men wore helmets and carried campaign packs.

Beside them walked the 19th Infantry.

Soon after midnight American artillery opened fire on Villistas. It was believed here that they were endeavoring to lay down a box barrage to isolate the Villistas in the vicinity of the Juarez race track.

Killed in El Paso.

The Mexican rebels and federal troops had fought in the streets of Juarez, many on both sides being killed. Many bullets from the rebel guns came across the Rio Grande and two persons were killed, and seven wounded on the American side.

When the Mexican bullets came too thick for the safety of the citizens of El Paso, Brigadier General J. B. Erwin ordered American troops to cross the border and in 10 minutes after the order was issued 3,600 United States soldiers were in Mexico. The first troops to cross the border were the Fourth Battalion of the 24th Infantry (Negro), a battalion of the 82d Artillery and the Fifth and Seventh Cavalry.

After the federals were allowed to retire into the town, Colonel Hadsel's Negro infantry opened up with a terrific rifle fire on the trenches flanking the race track. They advanced in open order and succeeded in dislodging the Villa forces.

In announcing his action in ordering Americans into Juarez, Brigadier General J. B. Erwin said he had done so to prevent the indiscriminate firing into El Paso by rebel soldiers, endangering the lives of Americans. He said it was not an invasion into Mexico.

BRITISH AIRMEN CROSS ATLANTIC

Captain Alcock and Lieutenant Brown Make First Non-Stop Trip Over Ocean.

TIME SIXTEEN HOURS

Voyage Is Without Accident, but Vickers-Vimy Biplane Is Forced to Climb and Dive in Effort to Escape Fogs.

London, June 17.—The final goal of all the ambitions which dying men have ventured to dream since the Wright brothers first rose from the earth was realized when the British officers, Capt. John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown, landed on the Irish coast after the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic ocean.

Their voyage was without accident and without unforseen incident, so far as can be learned. It was a straightaway clean-cut flight, achieved in 16 hours and 12 minutes—from New Foundland to Clifden, Ireland, a distance of more than 1,900 miles.

Plane Battles With Fogs.

But the brief description which comes from the air men at Clifden tells of an adventurous and amazingly hazardous enterprise. Fog and mists hung over the North Atlantic, and the Vickers-Vimy biplame climbed and dove, struggling to extricate herself from the folds of the airplane's worst enemy.

She rose to 11,000 feet, swooped down almost to the surface of the sea and at times the two navigators found themselves flying upside down only ten feet above the water.

Before booming down to earth near the Clifden wireless station Alcock circled the wireless aerials, seeking the best spot to reach the earth but no suitable ground was found, so he chanced it in a bog.

The wireless staff rushed to the aid of the aviators. They found Brown dazed and Alcock temporarily deafened by the force of the impact. As soon as they were able to be escorted to the wireless station they telegraphed the news to their friends, then had breakfast.

"That is the best way to cross the Atlantic," said Lieutenant Brown after he had eaten.

The landing was made at 9:40 a. m. British summer time. In taking the ground the machine struck heavily and the fuselage ploughed into the sand. Neither of the occupants were injured.

Radio Out of Commission.

Captain Alcock explained the silence of his radio instrument by saying that the wireless propellor blew off soon after leaving New Foundland.

The Daily Mail's correspondent found Alcock and Brown at Clifden packing their gear into a huge sack. Alcock's face lit up with a smile when he was congratulated by the correspondent. Brown, who was bending over packing, said quietly:

"We didn't do so badly, did we?"

Alcock said with a laugh: I am not at all tired. Brown, however, confessed, "I am a bit fagged out." The correspondent says Brown's eyes were slightly bloodshot, but that otherwise the men looked as if they had not travelled across the ocean.

Everything Lovely.

"Howdy, Gap!" saluted an acquaintance, upon meeting the well known Rumpus Ridge citizen on a shopping expedition in Tumlinville. "How's everything going with you?"

"Finer'n frog hair, Jurd!" triumphantly replied Gap Johnson. "Of course, my wife has been sorter pung, yur of late, and several of the children have got the measles and mumps and one thing and another, and the lightning struck the corner of the house tuther night and like to have tore the whole place to pieces, and one of the kids fell out of a tree and broke his arm, and a feller took a shot at me day before yesterday and ventilated my ear, and such as that, but I swapped for a running horse last week, and a couple of my hounds have got six pups apiece. Aw, I tell you, they can't keep a good man down!"—Kansas City Star.

He looked at me in round-eyed wonder and his pink cheeks fairly stuck out.

"You don't know my pa?" he said incredulously. "Why, I knew pa just as easy!"—Exchange.

KNEW THAT WOULD STOP HIM

Lawyer Evidently Was Well Acquainted With the Weakness of His Long-Winded Friend.

C. H. Murphy relates the story of a Philadelphia lawyer, retired, who, in the days of his active practice, was notorious for his long-windedness.

On one occasion he had been spouting forth his concluding argument for six hours, and the end was nowhere in sight, when the opposing attorney beckoned his associate and whispered:

"Can't you stop him, Jack?"

"I'll stop him in two minutes," Jack replied confidently. And he wrote and passed to the orator the following note:

"My Dear Colonel—As soon as you finish your magnificent argument I would like you to join me at the hotel in a bumper of rare old Bourbon."

The lawyer halted in the midst of an impassioned period, put on his glasses, and read the note that had been handed him, then he removed his glasses again and, taking up his hat and bag, he said:

"And now, may it please the court and gentlemen of the jury, I leave the case with you."

A minute later he was proceeding in stately fashion in the direction of the hotel bar.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

General Pershing's War Map.

In installing General Pershing's war map in the old National Museum building in Washington, the commander's room at the front just as it looked when the map was in actual use, is being reproduced as a setting. Here will be the chairs used by the general and his aids while they studied the map, which changed hourly, night and day, as reports came in and were recorded. The table at which the officers looked over documents will stand as it used to at one side, and the walls will be covered with the identical lineoleum that was a background for the map. The map was brought over in pieces now joined together, and the conventional design of the lineoleum is said to give an odd kitchenlike domesticity to the room in which General Pershing watched history writing itself in a very literal sense on the wall.

Authors' Handwriting.

If readers and admirers of the polished sentences of popular authors could see the original manuscripts from which their works are printed they would be given interesting sidelights on the character and personality of the writers. The handwriting of G. K. Chesterton has been described by an English editor as "shocking." W. W. Jacobs, comedy writer of the sea, has all his literary work typed and makes but few corrections on the finished manuscript. Other English writers whose copy is reputed to be neat and quite acceptable to a printer are H. G. Wells, Rudyard Kipling, Arnold Bennett and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Editors say they never know what to expect from that imaginative genius, H. de Vere Stacpoole. Sometimes his work is neatly typed on good paper, but often it is scribbled to sheets torn from a copybook.

Heretofore the average has been 5,000 annually.

Mankato.—Mankato has sent out a call for the "Pied Piper of Hamlin." At a meeting of the city council the mayor brought up the question of the large number of rats in the city. She told hospital physicians that her husband had shot her "in a fit of insanity."

Waseca.—The manufacture of more than over a ton of butter for every working day of the month was the record of the Waseca Co-operative creamery during May. The total amount of butter made in May was 58,373 pounds. This was nearly 10,000 pounds more than the output during May last year. The banner day was May 24, when the creamery turned out 5,791 pounds. The market price that day would make the day's churning worth more than $3,000. The price paid for butterfat last month was 67 cents a pound.

Brainerd.—Senator Hilding Swanson of Brainerd and Miss Alice Marie Elmgren of North Branch, Minn., are to be married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elmgren at North Branch. Senator and Mrs. Swanson will be at home after July 20 at Brainerd.

Minneapolis.—The Minnesota State Horticultural society will have its summer meeting June 20 in the gymnasium at University farm. This choice of date will bring the horticulturists of the state to University farm on farmers' visiting day, and will give an added attraction for that day.

Thief River Falls.—Over 750 gallons of cream were received at the Holt creamery one day. That was the largest business the concern had ever done.

Fergus Falls.—The Gudbrandsdalslaget's annual meeting will be held in this city July 1 and 2, and not in Little Falls, as first announced by the press.

Moorhead.—Eighty head of Holstein cattle were sold at auction by the Minnesota Holstein Breeders' association at the E. C. Schroeder farm, near here last week.

St. Cloud.—The election on the proposition of issuing bonds, totaling $75,000, for the extension of water mains and sewers carried by a ratio of 3⅗ to 1, every precinct except the Seventh ward voting favorably.

St. Paul.—Fifty Hereford cows were sold at Canby last week by N. J. Holmberg, state commissioner of agriculture, at an average price of $2,000 each. One heifer brought $4,100. Five thousand stockmen attended the sale.

Virginia.—Authorities are inclined to believe that William Sepponen, whose body was found in Pike river, fourteen miles from here, was a victim of suicide. He disappeared from his haunts here last fall and had since been sought.

Mankato.—Mayor E. V. Waters welcomed the delegates of the Minnesota State Aeries of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, who held their annual convention here. President E. B Lott responded to the welcome on behalf of the delegates.

Red Wing.—More than 1,000 delegates and visitors attended the annual three-day convention of the State Firemen's association here last week, N. B. Remley of Moorhead was elected president and Moorhead was selected for next year's convention.

Hastings.—A jury returned a verdict of $200 in favor of Mrs. Anna Gallagher of South St. Paul, who sued John Rocco for $1,000 as a result of having been bitten by a dog owned by Rocco when she was soliciting for the Red Cross last December.

St. Paul.—Summer home sites on the shores of Vermilion lake in the state forest may be leased from the state at an average rental of $10 a year. Twelve cottages are built, as many more are being built, some costing $2,500 each and 200 sites remain to be leased.

Mankato.—F. J. Allen was arrested at Bismarck, N. D., on the charge of stealing a four-passenger touring car in this city on Memorial day. The car belonged to A. Hund of Mapleton. It is said that Allen has confessed to the theft. Deputy Sheriff Nerdahl went to Bismarck after Allen.

Stillwater.—Otto W. Steele, a mulatto in the employ of the Great Northern dining car service as a waiter, who stabbed George Walsh, a white cook in a buffet car near Hinckley, with a butcher knife, was brought to the Washington county jail by Sheriff R. J. Hawley of Pine county, pending the outcome of Walsh's condition.

St. Paul.—Hearings will begin soon after June 15 on the proposal to increase lawful wage minimums for women and minors employed in Minnesota, members of the state minimum wage commission decided at an executive meeting at the capitol. Much preliminary data on the cost of room and board and other items in the cost of living already have been gathered.

Moorhead.—S. H. McCrary, chief of the drainage division of the United States department of agriculture, left for Washington after spending three days with P. T. Simons, engineer in charge of the Red River drainage survey project. Mr. McCrary spent part of the time in the field and the balance of his stay in checking over the maps and data in the office in the Moorhead postoffice building.

St. Paul.—Annual examinations for embalmers will be conducted by the state board of health, July 31, at the institute of anatomy on the University of Minnesota campus. Applicants passing the examinations will be granted state licenses after they are 21 years old and have had one year of experience, regardless of the schooling they have had, according to O. C. Pierson of the health board staff.

New Ulm.—Many hundreds of farmers from Iowa and Illinois have come to southern Minnesota to buy farms and deals are being made every day. The Poehler farm near Courtland has been sold to an Iowa farmer for more than $200 an acre. This is an example of the prices that are being realized all along the line. Buyers are thronging over Brown, Martin, Blue Earth, Redwood and various other counties. The movement approaches the phenomenal.

St. Paul.—Aliens fishing in this state without licenses are liable to prosecution, Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, was advised by Clifford L. Hilton, attorney general. A provision of the 1919 game laws, Rollin L. Smith, assistant attorney general, explained, places resident aliens of Minnesota in the same class with non-residents who are required to pay the state commissioner $1 for a license to take fish by angling. Aliens may take wild animals in this state only in defense of person or property, or by complying with regulations governing non-residents. Wild animals are defined as including fish.

Nashwauk.—Homemade wine drunk too freely by several Austrians at Mose Napolin's place on the outskirts of town resulted in knives being used and several arrests made. One Austrian complained he had been beaten out of $365 in a poker game. The accused were haled before a justice of the peace and fined.

East Grand Forks.—The ruins of the burned high school are now in the process of being demolished, all the debris is being carried away, and it looks as though the work of wrecking will be completed even before the allotted time.

THEN SHE GOT A MOVE ON

Took Warning of Dire Danger Impending to Get Angelina to Leave That Car.

With sundry rattles, clankings and strange noises, the motorcar of obsolete make seemed to have taken into its head to behave in a most uncomplimentary manner. After running along in a quick succession of impatient jerks, it came to a dead stop.

Out jumped a young and handsome driver and endeavored to coax the car into a better temper by pulling various levers. Alas! the car remained immovable.

"Angelina," said the young man, in tones of trembling emotion, "I'm afraid you will have to get out."

"Oh, George, why?" queried the dainty one.

"Get out," he repeated more anxiously.

"But, George, dear, I want to stay in!" replied the girl, almost tearfully.

"Get out at once!" cried George. "The boiler is going to bust."

Then Angelina obeyed.—London Tid-Bits.

The Adjutant's Warning.

With the demobilization of the army some new stories are being demobilized here. One is the story of the bright thought of an adjutant. The commanding officer of a force behind the lines had acquired or "won" (as they say in the army) a cow, and he was much envied by all the messes. The adjutant had a cottage with a garden, in which he had some good strawberries. One day the C. O. without a word went into this garden and helped himself to the adjutant's strawberries. The adjutant could not, of course, rebuke his chief, but he put up this notice:

"Trespassers in this strawberry garden will have their cow shot."—London Morning Post.

Neat Compromise.

"Sisters of our returning heroes will please line up on the left," said the chairman of the reception committee.

"I'm not exactly a sister," said one pretty damsel, hesitatingly. "But I promised to be a sister to at least a dozen of these boys. Am I eligible?

"I suppose so, miss. Here's your badge. Let conscience be your guide."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

His Firm Belief.

"How was the show at the town hall last night? No admission asked, I believe?"

"It was wuth it," answered the sage of Plunkville.—Louisville Courier Journal.

A young man who was fired with love says he thinks it was the girl's father who acted as fireman.

Men are born robbers. Every time a man marries he robs a woman of her name.

Mrs. Benham—Do you remember the day you asked me to be your wife?

Benham—I remember the day you said you would.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: — Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

His Escape.

"My least boy, Bearcat, was playing in the dust of the big road tuther day when a motorcar knocked him gally-winding," related Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "For a minute I shore thought he was a goner. But he riz up, gave a few hitches like a chicken with a burr in its neck, a cloud of dust poured out of his mouth and he began to cuss everything and everybody he had ever heered of. 'Thank the Lord!' says I. 'The little feller is all right yet!'"—Kansas City Star.

COULDN'T SLEEP

Was Miserable and Loosing Weight Suffering From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Removed the Trouble.

"I was about down and out from kidney trouble," says Harry Griffith, of 228 N. Darlington St., Westchester, Pa. "The kidney secretions burned like scalding water. Sometimes there would be a complete stoppage and, oh! what pain I suffered! My feet became swollen and I had a time of it getting on my shoes.

"My back hurt right over my kidneys. Nights I did nothing but toss about. It was just as though a knife were thrust into my back. I couldn't bend over without terrible pain and I would fall to my knees and crawl along to get hold of something to help myself up. Blinding dizzy spells came on and terrible headaches added to my misery.

"I was rapidly losing weight and knew something would have to be done. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and was more than surprised. The troubles were soon leaving me and six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me entirely. To this day I have been free from kidney complaint."

Number of Enlistments, Army and Navy, 875

Having completed the Liberty Loan Drives, I feel that it is due the people of Marshall county that they should know the results obtained throughout the different townships and villages, and I therefore take pleasure in submitting as complete a report as it is possible to give.

There are no records of subscriptions in the different precincts for the First Loan as it was purely a free will offering, so to speak, and an accurate account was not kept, except as to the totals obtained.

In the Second Loan there were no specific allotments made but with these exceptions the record is as accurate as it has been possible to keep it.

In connection with the Liberty Loan Drives I am giving a report of funds received from all other drives, which gives a grand total of the funds raised by the citizens of Marshall county in response to the demands made by our Government. This shows a grand total of over Three Million Dollars or about $112 to every man, woman and child in our county.

This is a record, that as a citizen, I am willing to have compared with any county in the United States, when everything is considered, as I believe it is one that none of us need feel ashamed of.

The work has been strenuous for those who have had an active part as committeemen, but we all have the satisfaction of knowing that we have given service that has counted a full hundred per cent. There has not been a demand made upon our county that we have not met in full, and the loyal, energetic, faithful men and women who have assisted in this splendid work are deserving of every credit.

Winners of German Helmets.

In the Helmet Contest in the Fifth Loan the agreement was that the village or township of each district first reporting over the top would receive a German Helmet, and the following are the winners, the time of reporting to the County Chairman being given in each instance. The drive opened April 21st at 8:00 A. M.

Middle River Village was the first to report, at 8:40 A. M., April 21st; Second, Grygla, at 12:20 P. M., April 21st; Third, Lincoln, at 1:40 P. M., April 21st; Fourth, Whiteford, at 2:25 P. M., April 21st; Fifth, Boxville, at 2:30 P. M., April 21st; Sixth, Village of Argyle, at 3:40 P. M., April 21st; Seventh, New Maine, at 4:05 P. M., April 21st; Eighth, Village of Oslo, at 6:10 P. M., April 21st; Ninth, Agdar, at 9:00 P. M., April 21st; Tenth, Marsh Grove, at 9:50 P. M., April 21st; Eleventh, Village of Holt, at 8:20 A. M., April 22nd; Twelfth, Eagle Point, at 4:00 P. M., April 23rd; Thirteenth, Parker, at 4:05 P. M., April 23rd; Fourteenth, Comstock, at 11:30 P. M., April 24th; Fifteenth, Alvarado, at 9:20 A. M., April 26th.

Winners of Honor Flags.

Honor Flags were won by forty townships and villages, as follows, this prize being given to each precinct who raised their quota:

Alma, Agdar, Augsburg, Big Woods, Boxville, Cedar, Comstock, Donnelly, Eagle Point, East Park, Foldahl, Grand Plain, Huntly, Lincoln, McCrea, Marsh Grove, Middle River, Mud Lake, Nelson Park, New Folden, New Maine, Parker, Rollis, Sinnott, Spruce Valley, Tamarac, Thief Lake, Wanger, Warrenton, West Valley, Whiteford, Village of Alvarado, Village of Argyle, Village of Middle River, Village of Newfolden, Village of Oslo, Village of Stephen, City of Warren, Village of Grygla, Village of Holt.

As County Chairman, I wish to take this means of thanking all of the committeemen who so loyally stood by me in every drive. It has been a pleasure to work with men who are one hundred per cent American and who have not hesitated to deprive themselves and sacrifice time and money in order to raise the amount asked of them.

During the Fifth Loan there were some townships and some committeemen who did not respond as fully as they might have done but the records show for themselves and no criticisms on my part are necessary.

As a people we have had to sacrifice time and money but this is nothing in comparison with the benefits derived as a whole. Everyone of us has a better knowledge of our country and its ideals than we had before and today measure up far nearer the true standards of real citizenship and consequently are better Americans.

Let us be thankful for the benefits received and the great victory for humanity that has been won and hope that never again will the ravages of war invade the lands set free by democracy.

Respectfully yours,
H. L. WOOD,
Chairman Marshall County.

DOMESTIC SERVICE COURSES PLANNED

Trained Home-Maker Is to Have an Eight Hour Day and Standard Minimum Wage.

Courses for training home assistants, who will go into the home by the day, hour or week and work on a schedule of hours and fixed wages, have been inaugurated by the Young Women's Christian Association as a means for meeting the problem of domestic service.

The object of this course, now being tried out in New York City, is to place domestic service on the same dignified basis as clerical work, trained nursing or other professions open to women.

The home assistant will work eight hours a day for a salary of $15 a week. She will not live in the home of her employer or take her meals there. She will have an hour for luncheon, when she can go to a restaurant or eat a lunch which she has brought with her just as she would were she employed in a factory. The employer will not address the home worker by her first name. She will be Miss Smith or Mrs. Brown, as the case may be.

Applicants for the course are carefully selected, and registrants are appearing in large numbers. With the same independence as to recreation hours, places of eating and living as the factory girl, house-work has a greater appeal, as being a less monotonous and more interesting work to the average woman.

The course is a thorough one in plain cooking, waiting on table and door, chamber work, plain sewing, care of children, making of menus and the washing and ironing of light things. Heavy work is to be done by outside workers. On graduation the student receives a certificate which proves her qualification as a dependable home worker capable of attending to all ordinary duties in a home.

The Young Women's Christian Association has been interested in the problem of domestic service both from the standpoint of the employee and from that of the employer for some years. The first commission on Household Employment made its report at the fifth national convention of the Young Women's Christian Association held in Los Angeles, Cal., in May, 1915.

The difficulties of attracting capable women to this field of work were laid to the long hours, lack of independence in arranging recreation hours, lack of opportunities for growth and progress and lack of social standing.

Girls have acquired a distaste for the conditions which govern household work since the freedom they have experienced in working in munition factories. By standardizing domestic service it is believed by the Young Women's Christian Association that a higher type of worker may be attracted to the necessary work in homes.

The American Y. W. C. A. has opened a Hostess House in Germany, which will serve as a residence house and social center for American women war workers who have advanced to do canteen, Red Cross and Signal Corps work with the Army of Occupation.

WOMEN BEGIN Y. W. C. A. FOREIGN TRADE COURSES

Courses in New York City Prepare Girls for South American Jobs.

Sensing a sudden call to jobs for American women in South America, the New York City Y. W. C. A. has opened Foreign Trade courses, including classes in shipping, filing orders, trade acceptances, tariff, consular invoices, documents, insurance, mail order trade and other lines of international work hitherto left mostly to men. These classes are designed to meet after-war needs.

South America is receiving particular attention as the Y. W. C. A. is informed of new jobs that are opening in the southern countries. Many girls in New York who combine a desire to see the world with a craving for financial independence are registering with the expectation of going there to get positions when their courses in training are completed.

625 GRADUATED BY UNIVERSITY

The University of Minnesota graduated 625 Thursday, June 19. Sixty of these were graduates of the college of agriculture, forestry and home economics. This is the smallest class graduated since 1910. The difference largely due to the drain upon the student body by the war.

INVENTING ZERO-PROOF WHEAT FOR MINNESOTA

By crossing Turkey and Odessa wheats the Minesota experiment station at University farm has obtained results which give much promise of a winter wheat which will withstand Minnesota's sub-zero temperatures. This wheat—Minnesota No. 1505—at University farm from 1916 to 1918, and at the Waseca experiment station in 1918, gave an average yield of 30.1 bushels to the acre, with an average winter injury of only 29 per cent.

Compared with some of the other wheats which have showed winter injury amounting to as high as 73 per cent the result with this Turkey-Odessa cross have been highly satisfactory. This wheat is an awnless wheat with a short head and white chaff. The seeds are similar in shape to the common fife spring wheat, altho somewhat softer.

These results are announced in Minnesota experiment station bulletin 182, Breeding Small Grain in Minnesota, by H. K. Hayes and R. J. Garber, of the division of agronomy and farm management. The bulletin announces that the experiment station have decided to increase and to distribute two crosses between Turkey and Odessa. These wheats have been named Minhardi, Minn. 1505, and Minturki, Minn., 1507, but no seed will be available before the fall of 1920 and possibly not then if the conditions should not be favorable.

The Red Cross had some flags left over from Memorial day, which they desire to sell. Enquire at this office for prices.

"Rutabagas are the best vegetables to give succulence to winter rations for poultry" says "Uncle Norton" Chapman, extension specialist in poultry, and "uncle" of every boy and girl who raises poultry in Minnesota. "While mangels, beets and pumpkins are also used, rutabagas are to be preferred because of their market value and easy culture. They may be sown as late as the last week in June or early in July. Any soil that will grow potatoes will give a good crop of rutabagas.

FERGUS FALLS IS DEVASTATED BY FIERCE CYCLONE

Between Fifty and Sixty Lives Believed Lost When Tornado Hits Town.

DAMAGE IS $3,000,000

Wind Hurls Houses Into Lake and Ravages Business Center When Storms Meet—Many Bodies Recovered—98 Injured.

Minneapolis, June 24.—Between 50 and 60 lives are believed to have been lost in Fergus Falls when the northwestern section of the town was laid waste by a terrific storm. Wire communication into the town was impossible for nearly 24 hours, and rumors told of 200 to 1,000 lives lost. News received from authentic sources gave the casualties as follows:

Identified dead, 38.
Unidentified dead, 3.
Missing, 62.
Injured seriously, 98.

Another storm which swept a path near Dumont, more than 40 miles south of Fergus Falls, is known to have cost one life.

Property loss in Fergus Falls is estimated at $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. Most of the loss of life was in the Grand hotel, which had 50 guests, and was laid completely in ruins, which are still being searched for the missing.

50 Homes Demolished.

More than 50 private homes were demolished entirely, and 75 or 80 others badly wrecked. Some bodies may yet be found in ruins of the homes.

Relief parties from nearby cities reached the town quickly, and a special train from the twin cities a few hours later. The injured are cared for in three local hospitals.

The storm struck the city with little warning at 5:45 p. m. Accounts are conflicting, but show that the wind was cyclonic, blowing in different directions in different parts of the city.

The main storm apparently came from the northwest, and some observers say that it met another coming from the south or southwest. The main business section was damaged but not razed by the wind, and the worst destruction was in six blocks, including the Grand hotel, the court house, three of the leading churches, the woolen mills, the sash and door factory and one grade school building, besides many private homes.

Houses Blown Into Lake.

Passengers and crew of the Oriental Limited train on the Great Northern road miraculously escaped death when the force of the wind blew the train off the track. It happened to plunge into a deep ditch, which prevented the cars from overturning, and few received anything more than a shaking up. Traffic on the road was not impeded by the wreck.

The power dam in the Red river at Fergus Falls was blown out and wrecked by the storm. The Northern Pacific depot was demolished, but was closed at the time and there was no loss of life there.

Two small houses on the shore of Lake Alice, on the north side of town, were blown into the lake with their occupants, three in one and four in the other. The occupants of the houses are missing, and are believed to have been drowned in the lake.

Debris Hurled Through Windows.

Debris from the wrecked buildings was hurled for blocks and some of it went thru windows in the business district, partially wrecking many buildings.

The path of the main storm was about five miles wide and fifteen miles long, but the total destruction was in a small area.

The state insane hospital, near the town, was not seriously damaged; some of the injured were taken to its hospital ward for care.

Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow, who is in command of the troops doing relief work, sent word to his office that he does not expect the death list to exceed 50.

Residences Suffer Most.

"Except for the destruction of the Grand hotel, in which many lives were lost, the business section was not damaged as heavily as the residence districts," said General Rhinow. "Many homes were leveled to the ground and others partially wrecked."

General Rhinow said good order is being maintained without establishing military law or quarantine regulations. Organization of relief work is progressing satisfactorily, and immediate needs are being supplied without great difficulty.

Calls for two St. Paul companies of the Sixth Infantry, Minnesota National guard, were issued by General Rhinow and forwarded to Lieutenant Colonel F. G. Stutz. The general added that 10 electric linemen and 10 bricklayers were needed and the crews, obtained in St. Paul, left on the first train.

Lake Alice is filled with debris and was searched for dead and injured. One unidentified girl was found in the lake.

Several bridges over the Red river, of steel construction, were destroyed.

Dumont, a village in Traverse county on the Milwaukee line to Fargo, was hit about 7 p. m. by a heavy storm coming from the southwest.

Farmer Killed at Dumont.

The only loss of life reported is that of Nichol Didlot, a farmer, in the outskirts of the town, killed when the wind demolished his home. The public school building, the Lutheran church and several residences were blown down. Edward Burke was seriously injured, when caught under falling timbers of his house. Several others were slightly injured.

A congregation had left the Lutheran church only a few minutes before the storm broke, which saved considerable loss of life at Dumont.

Heavy crop damage is reported from the Dumont district, and much damage is feared to crops in Otter Tail county. Many bridges were washed out by the heavy rain which came with the wind, and roads were made almost impassable. The rain extended over a wide area, and washouts are reported from the region of Brainerd and Walker.

Hospitals Can Accommodate Injured.

Late reports from Fergus Falls say that all of the injured there can be cared for in local hospitals, with the aid of the relief doctors and nurses who have gone from St. Cloud, Alexandria, Elbow Lake, Wahpeton, Fargo, and from the Twin Cities. Six physicians and 11 nurses went from Alexandria.

Several citizens of Fergus Falls today corroborated statements that three funnel shaped clouds were seen, and the assertion is made that 3 separate storms struck the city in quick succession. The first storm, they say, struck the town from the northwest and tore through the Lake Alice district. This was the one that wrecked the Grand hotel. The second storm, which brought driving rain, approached from the southwest. A third storm, it is claimed, swept over the eastern portion of the town from the southeast, but did less damage.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, Adjutant W. F. Rhinow and a National Guard detachment left St. Paul on a special train for the tornado district. The train carried doctors, nurses and supplies.

Appeal for Help.

An urgent appeal for help from Mayor George W. Frankberg of Fergus Falls, in a telegram sent from Detroit to Governor Burnquist, was the first official message to come out of the stricken district.

Mayor Frankberg said the loss of life will be large and hundreds of homes and business blocks are destroyed. The city was in darkness and the situation is extremely urgent, the telegram added.

Carpenters and electricians are needed at once. Help from the adjutant general's office also was asked. The military company is at work and a company in St. Cloud went to Fergus Falls.

13 Buildings Reported Destroyed.

The Dumont storm path first appears a mile and a half southwest of the town. It swept through the east end of the village and for half a mile beyond, when it apparently lifted. Several barns outside the city were razed. Thirteen buildings in the village, according to the latest reports, were destroyed, including a livery stable, in which a number of horses were killed or maimed.

Known Dead.

W. A Fraser, Florence Austin, Viola Nelson, William Forsen, Mrs. J. Nelson, Emma Johnson, Edward Thompson, W. A. Daugherty, S. Shetted, August Palm, Mrs. August Palm and daughter, Imer Hoaberg, Mrs. William Forsen, L. E. Larson.

The missing: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson and son, George Woodhouse, proprietor of the Grand Hotel, Alonzo Brandenburg, president of the First State Bank, Nichol Didlot, at Dumont.

List of injured; S. C. Strand, both legs broken, Edward Burke and four others, at Dumont.

Editor Makes Statement.

Harold Barker, editor of the Grant County Herald, reached Fergus Falls from Elbow Lake at 3 a. m.

"The tornado hit the town at the northwest corner," he said, "and crashed down Union avenue. It swept everything before it. Most of the buildings destroyed were homes. They were crushed to kindling wood in the flash of a moment.

"The tornado seemed to break when it struck the Grand hotel. The building was crushed like paper. Bodies were buried in a great pile of brick, heavy stones and plaster. When we arrived people were tearing frantically at the wreckage to get at the bodies pinned beneath.

New Cabinet Hard to Get.

Weimar, June 24. — Germany acquired a new cabinet only after a week of literal sweating in Weimar. The signing of the peace terms was the only question around which the cabinet construction hinged, and the government, which went on record as considering the terms unacceptable, found a surprising following behind them. The first party ballots, however, seemed to make signing inevitable, for the powerful Majority Socialist party voted two-thirds for signing.

1,200 Take Training.

Camp Funston, Kan., June 24.—Revised estimates of the attendance at the reserve officers' training camp scheduled to open here at once indicated that twelve hundred candidates for reserve commissions are expected to arrive within the next two days to take the six weeks' course. Men who complete the advanced training will be assigned for six months' service with the army, after which they will be commissioned in the officers' reserve corps.

FOE ASSEMBLY ACCEPTS TERMS

German National Body Agrees to Peace Conditions by Vote of 237 to 138.

ALLIED ENVOYS FIRM

All Requests of Germans for Further Alterations Have Been Rejected and Enemy Must Take Treaty Just As It Is Drawn.

Berlin, June 24.—Germany will sign the peace treaty of the Allied and associated powers. The National Assembly by vote of 237 to 138 decided to sign. The assembly also voted confidence in the new government of Herr Gustav Sauer, 236 to 89. Sixty-eight members abstained from voting.

On the question of signing five members of the assembly abstained from voting.

Before the vote of confidence was taken, Premier Bauer declared the government would sign the treaty, but without acknowledging the responsibility of the German people for the war and without accepting the obligations contained in Articles 227 to 230 in the treaty relating to the trial of the former emperor and the extradition of other German personages.

Offer Sent to Conference.

Paris, June 24.—The offer of the National Assembly at Weimar has been communicated to the peace conference in Paris, which has discussed its provisions, including reservations made by the Germans against affixing their signatures to the document while it contains clauses acknowledging the responsibility of the German people for the war and demanding the trial of former emperor William.

All the requests of the Germans for further alterations have been rejected by the Allies, and Germany now must give her acquiescence to the treaty as it stands before the expiration of the time limit this afternoon.

Troops Are Ready to March.

All is in readiness on the part of the Allied troops in the occupied areas. More than 500,000 soldiers are concentrated here and are only awaiting the word to march eastward into Germany if the Germans prove obdurate. About 190,000 Americans are included in this force.

On the other hand prepartions are being made at Versailles to hold a session of the Peace conference during the present week at which the Germans may affix their signatures to the treaty in the famous Hall of Mirrors in the Trianon Palace.

Four Notes Received From Foe.

Paris, June 24.—The council received four notes from the Germans, which are supposed to have been prepared in advance and were held to await advices from Weimar on the result of the meeting of the assembly. President Wilson went at once to the residence of Premier Lloyd George, where the council took up consideration of the notes.

LIQUOR MEN FILE LAW SUIT

Would Bar Prosecutions of Wartime Dry Act Violations.

San Francisco, June 24.—A suit to restrain the United States attorney here from prosecuting infractions of the wartime prohibition act was filed by representatives of the local liquor interests, it was announced by the California wet federation.

The action covers all points not covered by the suit brought by a vineyardist to restrain the government from enforcing the same law in regard to wines, it was announced.

GRAIN TRADES FIGHT OPENS

House Resolution Calls for Congressional Investigation.

Washington, June 24.—The wheat belt opened its long threatened attack on the grain grades promulgated by the Department of Agriculture when Representative Tincher of Kansas introduced a resolution calling for a congressional investigation. While the measure is directed chiefly at Charles J. Brand, the retiring chief of the bureau of markets, it is intended to go into the whole subject of Federal supervision of grain marketing.

ALASKAN NATIVES REVOLT

Governor Orders Submarine Chaser to Quell Yakutat Uprising.

Juneau, Alaska, June 24.—Submarine chaser No. 310 was ordered by Governor Thomas Riggs, Jr., to the vicinity of Yakutat village to quell a reported native uprising there. The governor also ordered the gunboat Vicksburg to Kodiak and Port Althrop, where cannery men are striking and from where reports of alleged Bolshevik activities had been received.

Army Will Save Clothing.

Washington, June 24.—There will be no bargain sales of surplus clothing and tent equipage in France, the war department announced. Instructions have been issued for the return of all new articles of this kind which cannot be sold abroad for cost.

Morris Comes Home From Sweden.

New York, June 24.—Ira Nelson Morris, American minister to Sweden, arrived unannounced on the steamship Rochambeau from France.

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. London Doctors Eager to Examine Brain of Man Known as Human Encyclopedia.

Of course you have heard of Datas, the human encyclopedia—the man who can memorize and reel off dates quicker than the fire of a machine gun; the man on whose head the doctors have placed a price of £2,000?

"But I am not anxious to sell it yet for dissection," Datas told a writer for London Tit-Bits the other day. "It is worth more to me than £2,000."

Datas has lately been devouring war facts and had just added a couple of thousand in two and a half hours to his repertoire when we met.

"For an outlay of twopence," he said, "I bought a little book on a bookstall, called 'Two Thousand Facts About the War.' I bought it and read the list through in two and a half hours and then knew it by heart."

There is no doubt about it. I tested Datas with the book in my hand, and no matter what question I asked him—dates of battles, air raids, names of ships sunk, famous generals' careers—he answered them without hesitation, says the writer.

Datas has had many amusing and curious experiences, but the most extraordinary was the friendly dinner he shared with John Lee, the Babbacombe murderer, and the late James Barry, the executioner who tried to Hang Lee three times but failed. "Berry, after ceasing to be an executioner, set up at Bradford as a phrenologist and character reader," said Datas. His card bore the words: "Heads examined." He examined a good many heads in his time."

Dressed to Kill in "Shell-Cloth."

Shell-cloth is the name of a new fabric being manufactured in England. The stuff is a fine serge and an essential part of projectiles.

And now that the war is over the stuff is going into the making of clothes instead of shells, says the Philadelphia North American. It ought to make "staggeringly" good-looking clothes, don't you think? One woman might say quite truly to another: "Oh, my dear, she was dressed to kill, all in shellcloth."

Or, on the other hand, what clever opportunity for the feminine cat to say that her dear enemy has "shocking taste in the matter of clothes!"

Boy's Bill of Fare.

George Bailey, answering the inquiry, "What is good for a boy to eat?" says:

"At this time of the year, according to the theories extant in North Carolina in 1870, a boy should have daily plenty of green fruit, pine rosin, young cucumbers, raw new potatoes, green blackberries, doughnuts, branch water and two hours in the swimming hole." —Atlanta Constitution.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloat after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: — Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

NOT HIS UNLUCKY NUMBER

Although Unpopular, "Thirteen" Has Been Decidedly Mixed With This Englishman's Life.

Superstitious readers will be interested in the following extraordinary story, of which the hero is Mr. F. G. Cordwell, the well-known and popular Fleet street journalist.

Mr. Cordwell has been literally dogged by the number thirteen. It was on the 13th day of the month that he went to France, that he went into action, got his first leave and returned to take up his commission. It was in the thirteenth tent, in line 13, camp 13 that he had his first lodgment in France. The tent contained 13 men. He had 13 days in hospital. He was given No. 13 pills. And, returning to civil work on January 13, he found that his old room had been renumbered 113.

Now count up the coincidences. You will find 13 of them!—Answers, London.

The First Kipling Book.

Few who are reading Mr. Kipling's new volume of poems have seen a copy of that precious item of Kiplingiana, the first edition of "Departmental Ditties." It was, as its author says, "only a sort of book"—a lean, oblong docket, wire stitched, bound in brown paper and secured with red tape, in imitation of an Indian government report. A hundred copies or so were put together by the poet hmself and posted, in imitation official envelopes, "up and down the empire from Aden to Singapore, from Quetta to Colombo." The first issue contained only twenty-six poems, but others were added to the new edition rapidly called for, until presently the book changed its format and grew into a conventional stiff-back, gilt-topped volume. "But," says Mr. Kipling, "I loved it best when it was a little brown baby."—Manchester Guardian.

The Way Around.

Mrs. Wakeup—Where did Mrs. de Style get her new hat?

Mrs. Blase—That's a problem. She bought it with the money which her husband borrowed from her uncle, who had won it in a poker game from her brother, to whom she had loaned it shortly after her mother had taken it from her father's pockets and given it to her for a birthday present.—New York Globe.

Power Pays.

It is said that a sewing machine with an individual motor averages 1,000 stitches a minute, while the old foot-driven machine accomplishes only 300 or 400 stitches a minute at most.

Fur Fashions.

"When did the custom of wearing summer furs originate?" asked the woman.

"I dunno," replied the man; "probably among the Eskimos."

The man who thinks he knows it all is an easy mark for a designing woman.

Virginia.—John Aho, 38, committed suicide here by shooting himself. It is believed he has suffered reverses in gambling.

Two Harbors.—Twenty-two crews are daily hauling ore to the docks here over the Iron Range and the shipping season is in full swing.

Winona.—Fred C. Ford, 50 years old, was struck and killed by a passenger train at Trempealeau while delivering a rural mail route in a small automobile.

Crookston.—The Polk County Farm bureau members will hold their first annual picnic on the grounds of the Northwest School of Agriculture in this city.

Crookston.—In district court a verdict for $1,425 was returned in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Chris Brendemuehl vs. Chris Poehs, an action to recover for labor.

Brainerd.—Rev. Renius Johnson severed two tendons of his left wrist while chopping poles on his farm in Bay Lake township and was laid up two weeks. He preaches Sundays only in the country.

Bemidji.—A blaze starting in the rear of the city meat market here spread to adjoining business blocks and caused a loss of $30,000. Buildings destroyed were the Rex theater, the P. J. O'Leary building and the city market.

St. Paul.—Forty forest fires reported last month did $5,000 damage to the state and private property in the vicinity of Tower, according to the state forest service office. Half of the fires were caused by sparks from railroad engines.

Bemidji.—Hope that the new pump installed in well No. 2 would bring the city water supply to 1,000,000 gallons daily was abandoned by the water committee of the city council when a trial showed that it would produce far less than had been expected.

Duluth.—The annual election for members of the local school board will be held on July 19. Four members are to be chosen and the electoral horizon already is presenting the faces of several candidates. Mrs. Julius H. Barnes, wife of the national grain director, has announced herself as a candidate and is assured a strong support.

St. Paul.—John Everall, St. Paul, resumes today his duties as assistant on the staff of Clifford L. Hilton, attorney general. Mr. Everall terminated a previous term in the state legal department in January, when he became ill with influenza, and was reappointed after the legislature authorized an additional assistant to the attorney general.

Moorhead.—Grasshoppers are causing damage to crops in several parts of Clay county. They are the local varieties, not the Rocky mountain locust, but they are numerous enough to destroy the grain and other crops. County Agent A. C. O'Banion and A. G. Ruggles, state entomologist, went to the Thorpe farm, northeast of Felton, to investigate.

Crosby.—The bodies of O. A. Yoeman and his son, O. C. Yoeman, who were drowned in Blackhoof lake, near here, have been recovered. The young man was swimming when he was taken with cramps. His cries for help were heard by his father, who was unable to swim, but who nevertheless went to the rescue. He reached the side of the boy and the latter dragged him into the depths with him.

Minneapolis.—In the week ending June 14, the United States Employment service offices in Minnesota placed 1,570 men and 701 women. Minneapolis headed the list of placements of both men and women during the week, positions being found here for 307 women and 561 men. Placements by other Minnesota offices were: St. Paul, 255 women and 436 men; Duluth, 138 women and 511 men; Mankato, 1 woman and 44 men; St. Cloud, no women and 19 men.

St. Paul.—Armistice day, Nov. 11, may be made a Minnesota holiday on which every locality in the state will celebrate the return of its world war veterans. The Legion of Honor is promoting the proposal. Governor Burnquist indorsed the movement when it was outlined by a Legion of Honor representative. The governor previously had announced that a state-wide celebration would be in order soon after the arrivals of all Minnesota men returning from overseas and has agreed that Armistice day would fit in with the general plan.

St. Paul.—Mrs. Claude Dolan, matron of the Minnesota Soldiers' home, has sent in her resignation, to become effective July 1. The board of directors has not yet appointed her successor. Complaints have been received by the board from old soldiers to the effect that the matron was arbitrary in her treatment of the inmates, and at the last Minnesota G. A. R. encampment in St. Paul resolutions were passed asking for the resignation of the surgeon, quartermaster and matron. No action will be taken by the board until its next meeting in the fall.

Crookston.—Esther Nichols, 16, drowned while wading in Union lake. Twenty minutes after she was missed the body was found in five feet of water. It is believed that heart failure caused her to fall into the water. She was the only daughter of Roy Nichols, residing six miles west of Fertile.

St. Paul.—Reorganization of the One Hundred and Fifty first artillery, Minnesota's regiment in the famous Rainbow division will begin at once under the direction of Col George E. Leach, who commanded the regiment throughout its brilliant campaign in France.

No Trust.

"Rufus, aren't you feeling well?"

"No, sah. I's not feelin' very well, sah."

"Have you consulted your doctor, Rufus?"

"No, sah; I ain't done dat; sah."

"Why? Aren't you willing to trust your doctor, Rufus?"

"Oh, yes, sah; but de trouble is he's not so alt'gether willin' to trus' me, sah."—Yonkers Statesman.

Couldn't Read German Sign.

"No, I don't want any insurance? Didn't you see 'No Admittance' on the door?"

Agent—Sure I did! The Germans had "No Admittance" written in barbed wire and bullets outside their trenches, but we got in, just the same.—Life.

One on the Judge.

A certain judge could not control his temper, and consequently could not control other people. One day there was unusual disorder in court, and at last the judge could endure it no longer.

"It is impossible to allow this persistent contempt of court to go on," he exclaimed, "and I shall be forced to go to the extreme length of taking the one step that will stop it."

There was a long silence, then one of the leading counsel rose, and with just a trace of a smile, inquired: "If it please your honor, from what date will your resignation take effect?"

Eventually.

"I say, Fritz, I've found a diamond stickpin."

"Where is it?"

"For the time being over there in the scarf of the old gent with the monocle."—Ulk, Berlin.

Women dress for the benefit of men, but their clothes are seldom noticed except by other women.

It is impossible to buy a friend that is worth the price.

WHY SO MOODY?

To feel "blue," cross and nervous all the time is not natural for anyone. Often it is due merely to faulty kidney action. Housework and the many family cares wear the nerves and so weaken the kidneys. Then comes that tired, fretful, half-sick state. If you have backache, headache, dizziness and kidney irregularities, and sharp, shooting pains, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They have brought health and happiness to thousands of women.

Every Picture Tells a Story

Mrs. C. M. Barnes, 612 N. First St., Hamilton, Mont., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I know they are just as represented. I have also used them for my children when they have had any kidney weakness and they have always helped them too. I had considerable trouble with my kidneys acting irregularly and suffered with backache. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me fine relief."

Care and Responsibility.

The responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's

CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Crawfish Decide to Migrate.

Passengers arriving in New Orleans on a recent Sunday evening by the Louisville & Nashville railroad said the tracks were swarming with crawfish practically the whole distance between Micheud and Chef Menteur. Hundreds were walking along gathering the seafood. Baskets, heavy with squirming, wiggling, pinching crawfish were brought in by scores of persons. Expert fishermen said the fish were crawling back to calm waters to escape the squalls outside.

Hard Task.

Tom—Hallon, Dick, old boy! Writing home for money?

Dick—No.

Tom—What are you taking so much trouble for? You've been fussing about two blessed hours over that one letter.

Dick—I'm trying to write home without asking for money.

Superfluous.

Resuscitation Record.

What is said to be the record for resuscitation from drowning was accomplished by United States life-savers after the victim had been submerged for six minutes. Among a great many persons the erroneous belief exists that persons can be resuscitated after having been in the water a great length of time. Cases have been known where resuscitation methods were used for hours after the drowned persons had been under water for a half-hour, or even longer. Thus it will be seen that drowning is a quick death and the hazard of the water correspondingly great.

So Sudden, Dear.

After a brief two weeks' acquaintance he invited her to go with him to a football match. As the players appeared on the field he began to enlarge on their several merits.

"There's Smith," he said; "he's a really fine forward; absolutely first-rate! Then there's Jackson, over there; he's really fine—going to be our best man in a few weeks!"

"Oh, Walter, will he—he do all right?" she lisped shyly. "This is so sudden, dear."

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloat and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour bloat, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

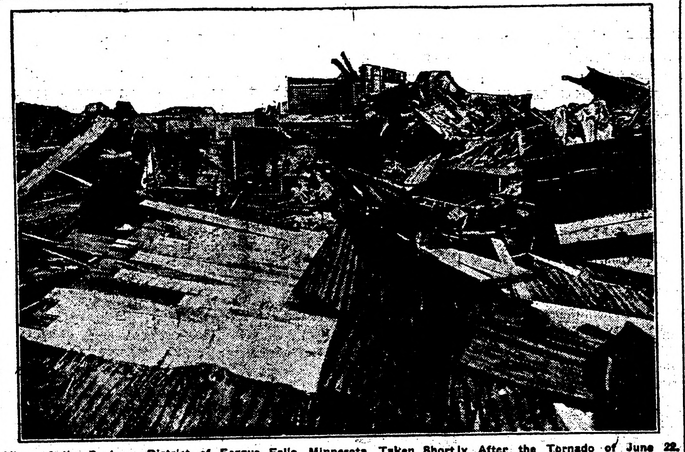
WHERE HURRICANE'S HAVOC IS SEEN AT ITS WORST



View of the Business District of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, Taken Shortly After the Tornado of June 22.

STORY OF STORM THAT WRECKED FERGUS FALLS

Unparalleled Tornado of Sunday, June 22, a Juncture of Three Cyclonic Storms.

DAMAGE FOUR MILLIONS

Graphic Story of Havoc Wrought and Debris Left in Hurricane's Wake —Immediate Help Needed— Freaks of the Storm.

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 26.—Fergus Falls today, four days after the almost unparalleled hurricane of Sunday afternoon, is still a mass of broken and scattered debris. While the first story of the tragedy has now been told throughout the country, the real stories of the loss, the personal suffering, the fortitude of citizens and the opening of efforts at reconstruction of the devastated area are still to be told. How many actually are dead, even, is not yet accurately known and may never be. Already the list of bodies recovered aggregates 53, four of which are unidentified. Several others known to be missing will almost certainly be added to the list of victims. Work at clearing away the debris, which had begun almost within an hour after the storm, has continued uninterruptedly and will occupy many days. The city, 40 per cent of which was leveled or wrecked by the wind, is almost totally strewn with broken and tangled material. Much of the area may be described as resembling the vicinity of a sawmill—with finely splintered lumber slashings everywhere. Lake Alice, which is within the city limits, is covered with a floating mass of rubbish, and how many bodies it will give up cannot be guessed. One Mile lake, at the city outskirts, presents a similar scene, and the gruesome secrets of its depths are not yet fully told. Both are being dragged for bodies. The presence of strangers in the city renders a complete list of the dead impossible until both lakes have been searched and the last vestiges of debris cleared away from the town.

Further Losses in the Storm.

The human suffering entailed by the storm is but lightly suggested by the long list of the dead. Two hundred persons, at least, have been injured, beyond the number who have already succumbed. Some of these may die; others—many of them—will be permanently maimed.

Add to this the fact that the other material losses aggregate, according to latest figures, between three and four million dollars, instead of the $1,500,000 of earlier estimates; and that these losses fall, almost without exception, upon persons whose entire business resources are destroyed by the storm, and a graphic idea of the city's suffering begins to be possible. Besides losses of upward of a million dollars in the business area, 400 homes have been wrecked or utterly wiped away. A conservative estimate of their average value would be $3,000. Many of them were worth two or three times as much, for Fergus Falls was a city of beautiful homes. Union avenue, a residential district skirting the thoroughfare to the state hospital, was a section of unusual beauty. The northern half of it is wholly destroyed. Vernon avenue, another handsome street, met a similar fate. How complete and irreparable is the total loss to citizens can be guessed from the fact that not over 5 per cent of the property wrecked was protected by insurance against casualties of this kind.

Public and Private Buildings Gone.

If Byron's description of carnage in which all were in "one red burial blent" might be quoted to express the destruction of inanimate things, the use of it in description of Fergus Falls' structural and business losses would be almost apropos. Property of every kind is inextricably mixed in a hopelessly tangled confusion in which each becomes burial material for that which remains. All church edifices in the city, except two, are a part of the tangled and twisted debris. The court house and all the school houses of the city are destroyed or seriously damaged. Theatres, schools, laundries, the Grand hotel—scene of the largest number of fatalities—the Northern Pacific passenger and freight depots, municipal bridges, manufacturing plants, stores, the big Red River mill —all, sustained heavy damage, and most of them are now but jumbled heaps. The wrecking of approximately 100 automobiles at various places about the city is mentioned as merely one of the minor items of the damage effected by the storm.

What Is Being Done.

Familiar as the story of the tragedy, is, in part, the story of what is being done to succor the injured town. Relief trains quickly brought physicians, nurses, medicines and surgical dressings. Helpers streamed into the city. Governor Burnquist dispatched three companies of Home Guards, who have policed the stricken district day and night. For the protection of people and property, the city is temporarily under martial law. By designation of the governor, after conference with local business men and officials, a relief committee was promptly given authority to solicit and distribute necessary supplies and funds. Cities throughout the northwest have sent words of encouragement, with advance tenders of needed money and food.

Committee Appeals for Help.

A fund of $500,000 for relief work in Fergus Falls was decided upon at the meeting of the Fergus Falls citizens with state officials and others, held last night. As a result a new appeal went to the people of the northwest for aid.

The relief fund goal was increased as the result of information gathered by the Red Cross and other relief workers in the city, and presented at the meeting. A thousand are homeless, and those whose homes have been wrecked are virtually without clothing or supplies of any nature. Everything in the ruined homes was destroyed. It is a pitiful sight to see people searching the ruins of their homes for things that might have escaped the elements. Their search in most instances is an unsuccessful one.

A revised estimate by the committee now places the loss at between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000.

Anderson Heads Relief.

Funds and provisions designed for relief of the stricken city are to be sent to A. G. Anderson, who has been designated to take charge of this part of the work. The committee, designated by Governor Burnquist, includes Elmer E. Adams, A. G. Anderson, E. J. Evans, C. R. Wright and F. E. Hodgson. The committee is a responsible one and its appeals for help and statements of the city's needs may be taken at face value. The requested assistance should come freely and at once.

Personal Instances of Loss.

Most intensely interesting, could they be known, would be many of the stories of personal suffering and loss. Like all casualties from the elements, the work of the storm showed wondrous freaks of ruthlessness or forbearance. The story of a small house sheltering a family of four is typical of what may happen. There is not a vestige of the house, yet every member of the family was left within a few yards of where the building stood before it collapsed and started upon its wild ascent.

Buys Hotel—Results in Death.

Most personal experiences within the storm area were not so fortunate for those concerned. The death of George Woodhouse, owner of the Grand hotel, is a case in point. He had just repurchased the building and business after a temporary sale, and had returned to Fergus Falls and resumed the management not thirty minutes before the storm broke. With him in the building, besides many others seeking shelter, was A. F. Brandenburg, president of a local bank, who had stopped to call. The body of Mr. Woodhouse has been recovered, and there can be no doubt of the banker's death. Most distressful in its revelations of fatalities has been the mass of debris which forms all that is left of this $40,000 hotel. Its welcoming portals had proved an alluring place of refuge from the gale but the veneered brick walls of the building rendered it only a dangerous trap.

Wrecks Great Northern Train.

An interesting sidelight of the storm news is the group of stories told by eyewitnesses of the tornado as it approached. It is said that among the hundreds of hurricanes which have dotted history and devastated towns, that of Sunday afternoon at Fergus Falls is perhaps unique in that it was not one tornado merely, but the culmination of three which sucked together into one mighty blast at the very instant that they struck the city. Perhaps no more powerful vortex of the elements has ever been known. Distinctly seen by many people just outside its path, the nature of its course is clearly agreed. The three cyclonic storms approached from different angles, bearing in a southerly direction from the north and west. One of these struck and wrecked Great Northern train No. 1 several miles out of town, and the freakishness of its action is most remarkable in that it tore one car completely loose from the train, derailed the rest, lifted them from their trucks and deposited them upon the ground without serious injury to any of the scores of persons on board.

Roar of Storms Drowns Other Sounds.

The ominous roar of the storm as it merged together in tripled fury is a memory never to be forgotten. Beside its heavy tones the noise of wrack and wreckage of buildings passed unheard. For an hour prior to the coming of the funnel-shaped clouds there had been a continuous crash of thunder, and when the wind storm finally unleashed its forces, a spectator is said to have described it as "like a hundred automobiles, driving at intense speed with open mufflers." The sound and sight is one that no onlooker will ever erase from mind.

VOTERS APPROVE REFERRED LAWS

Returns Received Up to Sunday Morning Show Safe Margins for All Measures.

NEARLY ALL RETURNS IN

Cities Show League Gains—Some Reduction in Country Strength, According to I. V. A. Claims—Total Majority in Doubt.

Fargo, N. D., June 29.—Referendum election returns received at Nonpartisan league headquarters and by the Fargo Courier-News up to an early hour this morning are said to show a majority of 6,788 votes for the printing bill, which it is believed will carry the smallest majority of any of the seven referred laws. The vote reported on this bill stood 55,763 for and 48,975 against.

Bank and Commission Bills Lead.

Reports at hand included returns from every county in the state except Oliver, which is regarded as a Nonpartisan stronghold. A total of 110 precincts were still to send in their returns. In 39 of the 53 counties of the state the state bank law ran 1,079 votes ahead of the printing bill. In 40 counties the industrial commission bill ran 1,219 ahead of the printing bill. The league measures carried in 35 counties, the opposition carried in 15 counties, two counties—Morton and Dickey—split their vote, giving a majority for some and against certain others of the measures. The bank and industrial commission laws carry the highest majorities. Estimated majorities on these, when the full vote is returned, vary from 8,500 to 12,000.

Cities Show League Gains.

An analysis of the vote shows that many cities gave increased support to league measures as compared with their general election vote last year. Various country precincts show comparative reduction in league strength, although the total vote will be increased.

Richardton Has Big Fire Loss.

Richardton, N. D., June 28.—Fire of undetermined origin, starting at about 11:30 o'clock Friday night in the Pathman elevator building, and fanned by a high wind from the west, swept through Richardton and destroyed three-fourths of the business district of the city, a number of residences and several buildings along the Northern Pacific railroad tracks.

The Dickinson fire department, responding to a call, got onto the ground quickly and helped fight the blaze until 3 o'clock a. m.

The loss is estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000. No one was injured. The Pathman elevator has not been in use for over three years, and the cause of the fire is unexplained.

Paid $3,000 for Bull Calf.

Fargo, N. D., June 28.—A new high record price for Shorthorn cattle in North Dakota was established at the sale held at Edgewood farm, near Fargo, yesterday, when 51 Shorthorns sold for $40,500. The average price paid for the livestock was $800 a head. The top price of the day was brought by a bull calf, sired by Imported Royal Cup, sold for $3,000 to H. J. Cross of Tenney, Minn. The top price for females was $2,000, paid for a cow

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

GEORGIA HAMILTON.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

There had been a quarrel. Everybody could see that, the minute they came into the car. The woman sat with rigid jaw, her hands folded forbiddingly. The man scrooched down on his spine, and glowered at the signs across the aisle. The car wondered. Then there came a dead silence as the car halted to let off a passenger. Into the silence came the woman's voice.

"If it wasn't for me you'd be the biggest fool in San Francisco!"

Then for the first time the man grinned, and the others grinned with him.—San Francisco Chronicle.

WORSE THAN DEADLY POISON GAS

Kidney disease is no respector of persons. It attacks young and old alike. In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Headache, indigestion, insomnia, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, difficulty in urinating, all are indication of trouble brewing in your kidneys.

When such symptoms appear you will almost certainly find quick relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This famous old remedy has stood the test for two hundred years in helping mankind to fight off disease.

It is imported direct from the home laboratories in Holland, where it has helped to develop the Dutch into one of the sturdiest and healthiest races in the world, and it may be had at almost every drug store. NEVER KNEW HE WAS BEATEN

That Quality, Among Many Others, Accounts for Andrew Jackson's Rise to Greatness.

The boyhood friends of Andrew Jackson, so the story goes, could never quite understand how Jackson became so great a general—not to say president—while the rest of them remained simple pioneer citizens at home.

"Why, Jim Brown, right down the pike here," they said, "could throw Andy three times out of four; and look where he is now!"

"How did there happen to be a fourth time?" asked some one. "Usually it's three times and out, isn't it?"

"Sure it is. But Andy, you see, never had the sense to know when he was beat. He would never stay throwed. So, by and by Jim would get tired out throwing him and stay throwed himself. And then Andy would think he'd beat him."

There is a whole sermon in a nutshell in that simple little anecdote. The thing that counts is not how many times you are "throwed," but whether you are willing to "stay throwed."

Your adversary, whether he be a person or a misfortune or a difficulty, or just a hard job, can be tired out in the end by throwing you just as surely, if not as swiftly, as by your throwing him. It is merely a question of which of you gives in—in his mind—first, and "stays throwed." Remember that!—Youth's Companion.

Annoyed Blister.

"The lightning played a good joke on my boy, Blister, tuther day," related Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "He was feeling around under a tree when it began to rain, and the next thing a bolt of lightning tore a big limb off'm the tree and slammed it down on Blister. You ort to have heered him r'ar and cuss as he dug his way out from under it. Made him madder than a scalded cat, to be fit by something he couldn't fight back at."—Kansas City Sar.

MAKING STUDY OF VOLCANOES

Department of Agriculture Has Taken Up New Line, Which Is Bound to Be of Interest.

The department of agriculture has begun the extensive observation of the volcanoes within its borders and insular possessions, and has recently taken formal charge of the observatory on Kilauea, Hawaiian islands. Prof. T. A. Jaggar, Jr., formerly of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has been director of the observatory since its foundation, will remain in charge. The investigations at Kilauea were begun in 1912, under the auspices of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and since 1918 have been maintained at the expense of the Hawaiian Volcano Research association, consisting chiefly of residents of Honolulu. It is expected that the weather bureau's work in volcanology will be developed in many details and eventually be extended to Alaska and other regions under the control of the United States in which active volcanoes exist.

Hammer and Tongs.

Bishop Elliston Caruthers of Savannah, Ga., was talking about Russia.

"Poor Russia is in a bad way," he said. "Bolsheviks and cadets, maximalists and Cossacks are going for one another hammer and tongs. Instead of uniting to defeat the common enemy, they squabble like—like the parson and the choir.

"The parson, you know, thought to get the better of the hostile choir one Sunday morning by announcing at the end of the first anthem:

"'Our text, brethren, will be "And after the uproar was ceased."

"But the choir got back at the parson by singing for the closing anthem at the sermon's end:

"'Now it is high time to awake out of sleep.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Dry Cleaned.

A little four-year-old, who is most emphatically opposed to having her face washed, said to her grandmother the other day:

"I am not going to wash my face any more."

When asked for an explanation, she said: "I've decided to have it dry-cleaned."

NATIONS SIGN PEACE TREATY AT VERSAILLES

German Delegates Affix Signatures First Followed by Americans, Then Allies.

CEREMONY LASTS LONG

Historic Hall of Mirrors in Palace at Versailles Scene of Most Impressive Ceremonial in World's History.

Versailles, June 29.—The German delegates have signed the peace treaty.

The ceremony took place in the Trianon palace at Versailles at a session of the entire peace congress, in which 23 Allied nations participated.

Premier Clemenceau called the meeting to order and said that they had assembled for the purpose of signing the treaty and the protocol and the Rhine arrangement. The German plenipotentiaries, Mueller and Bell, were then invited to sign all three documents and when they had done so the Allies commenced signing, doing so by delegations. Thus all the Americans signed and were followed by the other delegations.

The treaty was carried to Premier Clemenceau, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George by William Martin, official master of ceremonies and attache of the French foreign office. It was then replaced on the table to be signed by the other plenipotentiaries in the alphabetical order of their countries, America signing first.

The peace treaty was deposited on the table in the Hall of Mirrors at 2:10 o'clock by William Martin of the French foreign office. It was enclosed in a stamped leather case.

Stage of All French Glories.

The signature of the "Second Peace of Versailles" in the long Hall of Mirrors in the chateau of France's great monarch, Louis XIV., restored to Versailles its old place as the stage of "all the glories of France," dimmed in more recent days by the memories of mob excesses during the French revolution, the military downfall of France in 1870 and the proclamation of the German empire in the same hall. Representatives of the nations of the world gathered there to sign and seal the instrument undoing the work of conquest of Bismarck and Von Moltke and inaugurating the sway of the league of nations in place of the ill-adjusted European balance of power.

The ceremony was set for 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but hours before that time an uninterrupted stream of automobiles began moving up the cannon-lined hill of Champs Elysees, past the Arch of Triumph and out through shady Bois de Boulogne and Park St. Cloud carrying plenipotentiaries, officials and guests to the ceremony. They reached Versailles over a thoroughfare kept clear by pickets, dragoons and mounted gendarmes, and were cheered en route by throngs gathered in the flag-decked suburban towns of Boulogne, St. Cloud and Sevres-Ville d'Avray for a passing glimpse of the world's celebrities of the conference.

Hope for Only Glimpse.

In the meantime thousands upon thousands of Parisians were packing regular and special trains and interurban lines to Versailles and contending with the residents of Versailles for places in the great Place d'Armes before the chateau or in Chateau park where the playing of famed fountains of Versailles would mark the end of the ceremony. They could hope for only a brief glimpse of the delegates but they wished to be able to say later that they had participated in the event.

The Avenue de Paris, the broad boulevard leading direct to the chateau's court of honor, was reserved for the automobiles of delegates and secretaries. For half a mile before they entered the chateau grounds the motors rolled along between ranks of French soldiers of today, succeeded within the grille of the court of honor by rows of statues of old time military heroes of France from Admiral Du Quesclin and Chevalier Bayard "without fear and without reproach," to Prince de Conde and Viscount de Turenne.

Guard in Full Dress.

A company of republican guards in brilliant full dress uniforms drawn up at the end of the court as a guard of honor presented arms as the leading plenipotentiaries passed. On entering the building by the portal through which the Paris mob burst in the early days of the French revolution, the delegates mounted by the marble, or Queen's stairway, to the suite of "Queen's apartments" and the Hall of peace through which they gained access to the Hall of Mirrors. The walls of these apartments were hung with antique gobelin tapestries, representing scenes of the triumphant reign of Louis XIV. and were carpeted with rugs of the same epoch.

To reach the peace table the plenipotentiaries passed through a space reserved for some 400 privileged guests who were instructed to be in their seats well in advance of the entry of the delegates. It had been arranged that the delegates instead of straggling in without order as they did when the orignal terms of peace were communicated to the Germans should make their entrance by groups, each one being formally announced by ushers from the French foreign office.

No Formality for Germans.

This formality was not prescribed for the Germans, who were given a separate route of entry, coming into the chateau through the park and gaining the marble stairway through the ground floor. Thus there was no occasion for the guard of honor to render them military honors, which were reserved for the Allied representatives. Dismounted guardsmen with drawn saber, who lined the marble staircase and the Queen's apartments when the Allied delegates passed, remained in their places, however, for the entry of the Germans.

The setting of the Hall of Mirrors, a long, narrow gallery, 240 feet from end to end, with high arched ceiling, adorned with allegorical and historical paintings by Lebrun and Bright, with the light reflected from the mirrors, which match the almost uninterrupted array of windows forming the opposite side of the apartment, gave a tone of impressive state which would otherwise have been rather lacking in the assemblage of delegates, who were clad as for ordinary gatherings in frocked coats and cutaways.

The German delegation which signed the peace treaty arrived here at 9 a. m. It consisted of Foreign Minister Herman Mueller and Colonial Minister Johanes Bell. They were accompanied by a small staff of secretaries.

Ceremony Lasts Long.

Big crowds were in the streets at an early hour.

Every preparation was complete for the ceremony in the palace at 3 p. m. It was expected to last at least three hours. In addition to the treaty proper, the convention governing administration of the left bank of the Rhine and the protocol of June 21, interpreting the provisions, were signed.

The Germans expressed fear the treaty to be signed might contain variations from the original, it was learned. Secretary Dutasta of the peace conference thereupon delivered to Secretary von Haniel of the German delegation a letter signed by Premier Georges Clemenceau, guaranteeing the copy signed would not vary from the text handed to Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, former head of the German commission.

German Threats Met.

German threats not to live up to the treaty stipulations regarding the eastern boundary have been met by the Big Three with instructions to the supreme war council to take up consideration of the problem of getting munitions and war materials to the Polish army.

Colonel House, Lord Milner, Sir John Simon, Signor Terespi and Viscount Chinda have been appointed a special committee to draw up model mandatories. The question of Austrian reparations has been completed and the remainder of the Austrian treaty is expected to be presented at St. Germain on Monday.

Germans Leave by Separate Door.

The soldiers stood in the embrasures of the windows overlooking the Chateau park a few feet from their commander-in-chief, Marshal Foch, who was seated with the French delegation at the peace table.

A second change in the program was introduced as a result of the attitude taken by the German government, press and public toward the execution and binding validity of the treaty. The German plenipotentiaries, instead of being regarded from the moment of the signature as representatives of a formerly friendly power with which diplomatic relations had been renewed, left the hall after the signature separately, by the door through which they entered, not joining the general procession of delegates to the terrace of the chateau to watch the playing of the great fountain of Versailles. For them peace was regarded as concluded from the moment of German ratification, since the German government had announced it would sign the treaty only under protest and German political leaders had declared their intention to work to undermine the provisions of the treaty.

Place Resembles Picture.

All the day before workmen and officials were busy in the chateau putting the finishing touches. The peace table, a huge, hollow rectangle, had its open side facing the windows and its tawney yellow coverings blending with the rich browns, blues and yellows of the antique hangings of the room and the rugs covering the dais. The mellow tints of the historical paintings on the arched roof of the long hall completed the picture.

Pulpit 300 Feet in Air.

Columbus, Ohio, June 29.—From a height of 300 feet above an immense crowd at the Methodist centenary celebration here, Dr. Edward Soper delivered a sermon through a megaphone from the decks of the big army dirigible A4, which came here from Akron under command of Major Clarence Maranville. Dr Soper's voice could be distinctly heard. The sermon was about 800 words in length. Former President Taft was principal Sunday School day speaker.

Couldn't Move
In Bed Twelve Weeks From Rheumatic Trouble. Now Praises Doan's.

"For twelve weeks I lay abed, unable to move a muscle," says Mrs. Gust Johnson, 654 E. Seventh St., Red Wing, Minn.

"The pains that shot through my entire body seemed more than any human being could stand. My hands and arms and lower limbs were put in splints to stop them from twisting into knots. Every ligament seemed ready to snap. I can't understand how I endured such agony.

"Several physicians agreed that I had inflammatory rheumatism, but their medicine didn't give me any relief. My folks wanted to take me to a hospital, but I would not let them. The doctors said that nothing could be done for me.

"I had been an invalid now for two years, before I finally decided to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills. I used twelve boxes and they surely did prove their wonderful merit. It is a year since, and I have enjoyed the best health of all my life. I weigh nearly 170 pounds and am like a different person in every respect. I shall always praise Doan's Kidney Pills."

INVENTING ZERO-PROOF WHEAT FOR MINNESOTA

By crossing Turkey and Odessa wheats the Minnesota experiment station at University farm has obtained results which give most promise of a winter wheat which will withstand Minnesota's sub-zero temperatures. This wheat—Minnesota No. 1505—at University farm from 1916 to 1918, and at the Waseca experiment station in 1918, gave an average yield of 39.1 bushels to the acre, with an average winter injury of only 29 per cent.

Compared with some of the other wheats which have showed winter injury amounting to as high as 73 per cent the result with this Turkey-Odessa cross have been highly satisfactory. This wheat is an awnless wheat with a short head and white chaff. The seeds are similar in shape to the common fife spring wheat, altho somewhat softer.

These results are announced in Minnesota experiment station bulletin 182, Breeding Small Grain in Minnesota, by H. K. Hayes and R. J. Garber, of the division of agronomy and farm management. The bulletin announces that the experiment station have decided to increase and to distribute two crosses between Turkey and Odessa. These wheats have been named Minhardi, Minn. 1505, and Minturki, Minn., 1507, but no seed will be available before the fall of 1920 and possibly not then if the conditions should not be favorable.

The Flood Waters

The flood waters in all the country east of the Thief River is the worst it has been for many years. In many places the bridges, culverts and grades are being washed out, the fields and pastures are flooded and how the stock is being kept alive is a mystery. It is reported some stock has been drowned, but it is impossible to get all the particulars at this time. Some of the farmers have sold a part or all of their stock, as they have no place to keep them. Many of them either have moved out or will be compelled to do so, if the waters keep on raising.

The mail service to Golden Valley has been somewhat irregular and the wonder is that the carrier has been able to get thru at all as the only guide to the road is the willows on each side of it. The bridges and culverts are unsafe and if still in place no one knows how long they will be there. But the Mud Lake country don't seem to be any worse off than the country surrounding it as it is all one great big lake now.

The water is backing up on the west side of the river, many farmers will loose a part of all of their crops there also.

All the farmers in the flooded country are heavy loosers and some will loose all their worldly goods. Added to this, will be the shortage of all kind of feed and pasture for livestock. Under the circumstances, it would seem that the state should give some financial aid to these people.

Rev. Ordahl assisted by several young men have been making some boats and getting lumber out to others for boats and doing what they could to help the flood sufferers.

Perhaps this is not the time to criticise, but never the less the ditch system is at fault and should be corrected as soon as possible to relieve the danger of another flood.

Prof. Alway says there will not be any visiting day at the Golden Valley experimental peat farm this year on account of their crop being flooded by the high waters.

Carl Johnson and Olaf Halvorson attended church Sunday and when they started to go back to their dredge camp several miles east from Steiner they were oblieged to turn back on account of the high waters which were not there in the morning.

Miss Hanson was a Thief River Falls visitor Monday.

Wonderful Cuba Caves.

The wonderful caves of Bellamar, Cuba, to the east of Havana, attract the attention of the ambitious tourist. They are on a plateau as level as a table top, which presents no signs of the existance of such caves. After descending into the earth, however, a picture unfolds itself. Then come many passages, and at last the great "Gothic temple," 250 feet long and 84 feet wide.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST WILSON

House Committee Alleged That "Secret Regime" Rules United States.

TOOK BROAD POWERS

Congressional Investigators Censure Formation of Council of Defense, Even Charging That Law Was Violated.

Washington, July 8.—Charges that President Wilson organized the Council of National Defense before war was declared, in absolute violation of law, and thereby created a "secret government of the United States," which formulated war legislation, dictated policies the country was to pursue and befriended "big business," were made by Chairman W. J. Graham of the special house committee investigating war department expenditures.

Minutes of the council were read to the committee by Mr. Graham, together with a report in which he asserted the council assumed such broad powers that Major General G. W. Goethals, former chief of the purchase, storage and traffic division of the war department, defied it; cabinet members protested against its activities and Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, accused it of operating in "flagrant violation of the law."

Intent of Law Declared Ignored.

Mr. Graham declared the president created the "secret government" by ignoring and reversing the intent of congress in authorizing the establishment of a Council of National Defense in August, 1916. As authorized by congress, he said, the council was to be composed of six members of the cabinet, who were to be the real executives, and seven civilians to be selected by the president, who were to act in a purely advisory capacity. Instead of doing this, Mr. Graham said, the president made the advisory commission the real executives, "clothing them with unprecedented and almost illimitable powers."

"Behind closed doors weeks and even months before war was declared," he said, "these seven men designed practically every war measure which congress subsequently enacted. They devised the entire system of purchasing war supplies, planned a press censorship, designed a system of food control and selected Herbert Hoover as director, even determining on the daylight saving scheme."

TO TELL SENATE THURSDAY

Will Present Treaty and Covenant at That Time.

Washington, July 8.—President Wilson will present the League of Nations covenant and the peace treaty to an open session of the senate alone at 12:15 p. m., Thursday, it was announced at the White House. There has been some talk of his addressing a joint session of the house and senate, but this will not be done. The senate and not the house has power to ratify the treaty.

BILL WOULD AFFECT ALIENS

Proposed Measure to Deport Certain Undesirables.

Washington, July 8.—The house committee on immigration has completed a bill providing for the deportation of aliens who evaded the draft, who preach or practise bomb throwing, destruction of private property, overthrow of the government or terrorism, who are now interned or who have been convicted of violation of war statutes.

BRITAIN WOULD TAKE THIBET

Would Attach It to India Says Japanese Paper.

Washington, July 8.—A Japanese paper reports Great Britain is getting ready to annex Thibet to India. Japanese interests with investments in China have demanded the exclusion of Mongolia and Manchuria from the new concertium for financing China, in which Chicago bankers are interested.

WOMEN'S GOOD WORK IN WAR

Volunteers Produced Millions of Articles for Army.

Washington, July 8.—The Red Cross reports that American womanhood's part in winning the war is graphically shown by the fact that 8,000,000 volunteer women war workers produced 354,868,855 articles for the armies valued at $81,449,997.

Postmen Want More Pay.

Demands to this effect will be submitted to the Federal government. The convention also declared for a court of appeals to which employes in the postal service can appeal dismissal cases.

WILLARD BEATEN IN THREE ROUNDS

Dempsey Sails Into Champion Like Wildcat From First Sound of the Gong.

BADLY BATTERS JESS

Jack Floors His Big Antagonist Five Times in First Round and the Bell Probably Saved Him From Knockout.

Toledo, July 7.—Jack Dempsey is the new ring champion of the world.

In the Bayview arena here before 40,000 people, Dempsey won the heavyweight pugilistic title from Jess Willard in just three rounds of murderous fighting. Willard, spouting blood, with one eye entirely closed, sat helpless in his corner as his seconds tossed the sponge into the center of the ring. He was utterly unable to respond.

ROUND ONE.

Willard Downed Five Times.

Willard loomed up like a Goliath against his five-inch shorter David, and opened the engagement by pumping his long left twice into Dempsey's face with force enough to make the latter blink. The challenger missed a swing, and slipping into a clinch landed three body blows with his free left hand carrying but little force. Willard held him easily in a clinch and partly turning him around, used his rapier-like left again, once to the head and once to the body after the break.

Then Dempsey, as if he had got the range, opened his heavy artillery and swung a jarring left to the jaw, followed by a right and left to the body. The almost superhuman power of the punches immediately was apparent. A partly silly, partly stupid expression overspread the champion's face, and as he rocked on his heels his whole body quivered. He pulled himself together and, as Dempsey crowded in again, shot a left to the mouth and repeated to the eye.

The blows did not even cause his youthful nemesis to hesitate, and dodging past the outstretched left as it snapped for the third time, he whipped over a right and left almost simultaneously, the blows landing flush on Willard's jaw, and for the first time in his championship career Willard was dropped to the floor. He was up again at the count of six, only to be sent to the canvas with another right as he rose slowly to his feet. The blood began to pour from his mouth. He turned away from his opponent, who struck again twice with his right, Willard falling on his hands and knees. When he arose Dempsey crowded him into a corner, and with a right and left to the face sent him to the floor again. As he arose a fusillade of body blows dropped him in a corner where he sat when the bell terminated the round, and led Dempsey to believe that Willard has been counted out.

ROUND TWO.

Ex-Champion's Face Battered.

Dempsey started where he left off, and Willard, with a big cut under his eye appeared to be in a bad way. He managed to snap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right uppercut to the chin. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell partly through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch, but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to batter him almost at will, the champion retaliating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee.

THIRD ROUND.

Willard Quits.

The final session was simply a series of rapid fire swings which fell on Willard's face and body with pile driving power which left Willard completely helpless. He staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes utterly unable to defend himself. Blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp for breath, while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Pecord to stop it. Just as the bell rang and Willard collapsed in his chair he spat out a tooth and it was seen that he was in bad condition. As he sat lolling from side to side, his chief second, Walter Monahan, talked earnestly to him and when Willard nodded his head Monahan walked over and spoke to Referee Pecord. The referee threw up his hands and hurried to Dempsey's corner. He gesticulated in the uproar, and finally pulled Dempsey toward the center of the ring before the new champion realized that Willard's second had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he grasped the situation he started for Willard's corner and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands and Willard muttered something in reply to Dempsey's remarks, and the fight had passed into history.

SAFELY CROSSES ATLANTIC OCEAN

Giant British Dirigible Lands at Mineola, N. Y., After an Exciting Air Trip.

NEARLY OUT OF FUEL

Lighter Than Air Machine Makes Trip From Scotland to United States Without a Halt in 108 Hours and 12 Minutes.

Mineola, N. Y., July 8.—The R34 was torn from its mooring rope by a violent gust of wind. The cross girder to which the rope was attached broke under the strain, ripping a hole six feet by three feet in the gas bag. The giant dirigible was saved from being blown away by 300 men who seized ropes hanging from its sides and held it down with great difficulty.

Mineola, N. Y., July 8.—Lieutenant Colonel Frederick W. Lucas of the Royal Air Force, in charge of the landing arrangements of the R34, denied there had been any change of plans for the departure of the big British dirigible. He said the overseas start postively would not be made before Tuesday.

Mineola, N. Y., July 8.—Great Britain's super-dirigible, the R-34, the first lighter-than-air machine to cross the Atlantic ocean, anchored here at Roosevelt flying field after an aerial voyage of 108 hours and 12 minutes, which covered 3,130 knots or approximately 3,600 land miles.

Passing through dense banks of clouds, with the sun and sea visible only at rare intervals, the R-34 was forced to cruise 2,050 knots to reach Trinity Bay, N. F., from East Fortune, Scotland, and 1,080 knots from there to Mineola.

When the super-airship arrived here she had left only enough petrol to keep her moving 90 minutes longer. Her crew, almost sleepless for four and a half days, was weary almost to the point of exhaustion, but happy at the successful completion of an epoch-making trip. The return voyage will be started Tuesday at 8 a. m.

Crew Haggard From Vigil.

Haggard, unshaven, their eyes bloodshot from the long vigil and lines of care bitten deep into their faces, Maj. G. H. Scott, the commander, and his officers showed plainly the effects of the anxious hours through which they lived, while they were cruising over the far reaches of Canada and the Bay of Fundy, beset by fog, heavy winds and terrific electrical storms.

"It seemed as though the atmosphere was haunted by 5,000 devils," said Lieut. Guy Harris, the meteorological officer.

With the R-34 long over-due at its destination, petrol supply running low, and buffeted by strong head winds Major Scott decided, while over the Bay of Fundy, to send a wireless call to the American Navy department to prepare to give assistance if it were needed. This was merely a measure of precaution and did not indicate discouragement.

Hoodoo Lifts.

While destroyers and submarine chasers were racing to her assistance, the R-34 was plugging steadily ahead on the way to Mineola. Once clear of the Bay of Fundy the atmospheric hoodoo, which had beset the craft from the time it took the air, was gradually left in its wake.

The R-34 headed southwest out across the Atlantic along the coast of Maine, her nose pointed for Cape Cod, with the United States destroyer Bancroft hanging on her tail and in constant wireless communication with her. The destroyer stuck in the wake of the air monster, running under forced draft until Cape Cod was reached, and then the dirigible cut across "lots."

It had been decided on the voyage along the coast that unless a favoring wind came up the R-34 would be forced to land at Montauk Point, and a wireless message was sent out making that announcement. Fortune finally favored the dirigible and the wind veered in her favor.

DRY TEST CASE IS PLANNED

Kansas City, July 8.—A test case in this district under the wartime prohibition act has been ordered instituted by Attorney General Palmer in a letter received by United States District Attorney Francis M. Wilson.

"The test case," said Mr. Wilson, "will be brought on the point that beer containing more than ½ of 1 per cent alcohol is in violation of the wartime measure regardless of whether it is intoxicating."

Swiss Would Limit Citizenship.

Berne, July 8.—The Swiss federal council has submitted to parliament a bill to make the naturalization laws more rigid. It requires that before citizenship is granted the applicant must reside in Switzerland six years.

Discharging 15,000 Daily.

Washington, July 8.—Army men are now being discharged at an average rate of 15,000 a day, a War department statement said. The grand total of discharges to date was given as ,611,416.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

"Meats in Storage"

Every working day of the year 75,000,000 pounds of meat are required to supply home and export needs—and only 10 per cent of this is exported.

These facts must be kept in mind when considering the U. S. Bureau of Markets report that on June 1, 1919, there were 1,348,000,000 pounds of meats in cold storage. If the meat in storage was placed on the market it would only be 20 days' supply.

This meat is not artificially withheld from trade channels to maintain or advance prices.

Meats in storage consist of—

65	per cent (approximate) hams, bacon, etc., in process of curing. It takes 30 to 90 days in pickle or salt to complete the process.
10	per cent is frozen pork that is to be cured later in the year.
6	per cent is lard. This is only four-fifths of a pound per capita, and much of it will have to go to supply European needs.
19	per cent is frozen beef and lamb, part of which is owned by the Government and was intended chiefly for over-seas shipment. If this were all diverted to domestic trade channels, it would be only 1½ lbs. per capita—a 3 days' supply.
100%

From this it will be seen that "meats in storage" represent merely unfinished goods in process of curing and the working supply necessary to assure the consumer a steady flow of finished product.

Litchfield.—One of the largest crowds ever in this city helped to make the Fourth here a success. A big parade and aeroplane stunts were the morning events. D. W. Lawler of St. Paul delivered an address.

Brainerd.—A feature of the Fourth celebration here was the big dinner served all returned soldiers who were present, for which no charge was made. It was an elaborate spread and in personal charge of Mrs. Tom Smart.

Hibbing.—The village council decided to accept the amended and revised Mesaba Electric railway franchise. In the new franchise the street railway company agrees not to tear up any of the old tracks and to extend the line to Alexandria street and Alice.

St. Paul.—Seven-year-old Helen Smith, daughter of Herbert Smith, was severely burned about her face and body the Fourth, when her dress caught fire while playing with firecrackers near her home. She was taken to the City hospital. Her condition may prove fatal.

Crookston.—On the Fisher road, north of the Northwest School of Agriculture, an Overland, driven by Grand Forks people, went off the road into the ditch. The car was wrecked and the passengers were injured, it is believed, for considerable blood was found around the car. The occupants, however, were picked up by cars westbound and taken to Grand Forks.

Bemidji.—Governor R. G. Pleasant and 100 Louisiana road enthusiasts and Jefferson highway supporters left New Orleans on a sociability run to Winnipeg. They will reach Bemidji July 18, and Frank S. Lycan, chairman of the Bemidji committee in charge of arrangements, is planning a reception at Birchmont in their honor. It is also planned that a delegation of Bemidji men will motor to Wadena to meet the tourists and pilot them to this city.

Minneapolis.—Fergus Falls needs $300,000 for immediate relief work and 100 workmen to help provide immediate housing for the homeless, according to Elmer E. Adams, chairman of the Fergus Falls relief committee, who conferred with Twin City men here at the office of Mayor Meyers. As a result of the conference it was decided to have a meeting to apportion the relief fund to the three large cities and to raise the money immediately.

Minneapolis.—More than 12,000 residents of Minneapolis attended the community dance on the pavement before the Minneapolis Art Institute the Fourth, bringing to a close the cooperated Fourth of July celebration. There were fifteen community celebrations in Minneapolis parks, playgrounds and other recreation centers. Sixty thousand persons, it was estimated, visited Lake Minnetonka. Thirty thousand flocked to Lake Harriet to enjoy the band concert and other attractions.

Thief River Falls.—M. R. Allen was placed on the stand by the state in the prosecution of Maurice Giller, charged with arson on Jan. 7, and recounted conversations with the accused, telling of the payment of $600 for setting the fire, part of the sum being given, he said, to one John Johnson, who is claimed to have set the fire. Allen also identified checks and drafts in payment of various shipments of clothing from the accused's store during several weeks preceding the date of the fire, the goods sold being valued at about $3,000.

Bemidji.—Instructions from the war department have been received at the army recruiting station that on account of changes in the situation in Europe, no more men will be accepted for special assignment to the American expeditionary forces. Otherwise, voluntary enlistments will continue as usual.

Detroit.—Thomas Rae, 18 years, son of Mrs. E. M. Rae, Fargo, and Robert Haggart, son of G. W. Haggart of Fargo, were rescued from drowning by Grant Hughes, son of T. D. Hughes, also of Fargo, while swimming in Detroit lake.

St. Paul.—Although a serious shortage of help exists at the Anoka state insane asylum, conditions there are wholly satisfactory, the state board of visitors announced.

Bemidji.—Bemidji had a big celebration for the Fourth. At an open-air mass meeting the principal speaker was R. E. Denfield, former superintendent of schools of Duluth. A baseball game between Bemidji and Pine River was won by the Bemidji team, 3 to 2.

St. Paul.—Tom Brown, said to live in Minneapolis, came over into the Minnesota Transfer district of St. Paul with a stock of fireworks. He fired off a few loud ones to attract customers and Motorcycle Policeman C. Haeckert arrested him for violating the ordinance. He forfeited $10 bail.

St. Paul.—Federal funds and federal crews will be used in the rescue of fish in the Mississippi river between Prescott, Wis., and the Iowa line, it is announced. The state funds will be used entirely in Minnesota waters, according to Carlos Avery. The government last year rescued 32,000,000 fish.

Crookston.—The Red Lake river, which passes through this city, raised at the rate of four inches an hour, due to the heavy rainfall in this vicinity. The rise of the river made necessary removing the animals from the park zoo, which is inundated. Considerable damage is reported from farming districts.

Winona.—Wabasha was declared the winner of the canoe race from Minneapolis to Winona. The winning team arrived in the city at 8 a. m., about four hours earlier than was predicted by followers of the event. The canoeists encountered considerable difficulty because of the rough condition of the river.

Hastings.—Hastings celebrated the Fourth with parades, a barbecue, concerts, athletic events and a big mass meeting. In the forenoon an industrial parade was followed by a public meeting in the city park, at which Mayor L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul, and L. C. Chapin, also of St. Paul, were the principal speakers.

Bemidji.—While the Fourth of July festivities were at their height, Carl Gentile, otherwise known as Carl Smith, and Peter Ausland, both about 30 years of age, became involved in a quarrel. Gentile drew a knife and slashed Ausland's neck and abdomen. Ausland is in the City hospital in a serious condition, while Gentile is being held by the police.

Moorhead.—The inquest to determine the responsibility for the crossing tragedy at Hawley, in which Peter Ness and Even O. Peterson, farmers, living near Rollag, Clay county, lost their lives when the motor truck on which they were riding was struck by the North Coast limited, was postponed, pending the return to Moorhead of Attorney Garfield Rustad.

Watertown.—Watertown's population was largely increased by crowds from Carver county and surrounding cities to celebrate the Fourth. Concerts were given by an orchestra and bands; several dancing pavilions were going and there was a program of sporting events. A feature was the baseball game between Watertown and Montrose, which was won by the former, 5 to 1.

Virginia.—The city council's ordinance committee and City Attorney George F. Shea are receiving and redrafting the city ordinance regulating traffic. Virginia is claimed to be the only municipality in the state which gives the autoist driving on avenues the preference over the men driving on the street, and is in conflict with the state law and the measure is expected to be changed.

St. Paul.—With cash totaling $6,984,522 in the treasury, Minnesota began July business and a new fiscal year in better financial condition than ever before. A 1919 law advanced the closing date of the state business year from July 31 to June 30, but totals of the volume of business for the 11-month period are greater than those for the full year preceding, according to Henry Rines, state treasurer.

St. Paul.—The state treasurer's figures for the 11 months ending June 30 showed receipts of $32,644,530, and disbursements of $33,937,823, while those for the full year preceding were $28,383,296 of receipts and $27,689,557 of disbursements. The cash on hand was greater in fact than a year ago and also at the end of the last fiscal year, the total being exclusive of more than $1,000,000 loaned to the state prison revolving fund and an advance of $250,000 to the University of Minnesota.

Winnebago.—Mrs. William Bursaw is dead and her husband badly burned as the result of the woman's attempt to light a fire in the kitchen range with a gallon can of kerosene. Mr. Bursaw sprained his ankle and was confined to his bed. During the afternoon his wife went berry picking and when she returned about 8 p. m., went about preparing the evening meal. Mr. Bursaw heard an explosion in the kitchen and a moment later his wife, with her clothing in flames, plunged into the bedroom and threw herself on the bed where her husband lay. Bursaw attempted to smother the flames and received severe burns. His wife died an hour later.

Minneapolis.—George Hidde, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Hilda Hidde, Minneapolis, was drowned in Crystal Lake, where in company with a half dozen children from the Children's Protective Society, Minneapolis, he had gone in bathing. The boy's mother is visiting in North Dakota and the boy has been staying at the institution for several weeks.

Moorhead.—A directed verdict was returned in favor of the plaintiff for $1,000, in the case of Dr. Joseph F. Carter of Fargo, vs. P. J. Kall and Sigfred Monson, in Clay county district court.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

GEORGIA HAMILTON.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs.

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

CENTRAL HOTEL SOLD

Sam Michelson closed a deal Monday with Hjalmer Johnson, whereby the latter becomes the owner of the Central Hotel in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson took possession of the above hotel early in May and have been so well pleased with the business that they decided to buy and save rent. We understand the price paid was $3600, including some furniture which is in the hotel at this time.

Railroad Washouts

The hard rains last week washed out all the railroad culverts between Warroad and Roseau, also a couple of them between Badger and Greenbush and 15 to 20 rods of the track between the first two towns named.

There was so much damage done that it took a couple of days to get the track in shape to use.

July 3rd the north train could not get thru and the Crookston train went as far north as possible and then came back, arriving here a little past 8 o'clock in the evening. The next day the Warroad train came south, but did not arrive here until almost nine that evening.

PRESCRIBE EXERCISE FOR THE WOUNDED

"PLAY-THERAPY" IDEA IS BEING TRIED OUT IN CAMPS OF CENTRAL MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Chicago.—"I prescribe an hour of volley ball for your stiff wrist this morning," is being heard now in a dozen of Uncle Sam's camps wherein wounded soldiers are convalescing. Or, it may be that the prescription is something like this: "Boy, your knee joints are pretty stiff and the hinges of your hips don't work right. Suppose you play arch ball for an hour today and tomorrow and then prolong the period of play a bit. This will do more for you than anything else."

Dr. H. F. Kallenberg, chief of Y. M. C. A. physical directors in the central military department, with headquarters in Chicago, is receiving word almost daily that the latest method of treating wounded men in government hospitals in such cases as demand exercise of joints, fingers, wrists, legs or arms, is doing wonders for the soldiers. They not only are throwing off their ailments but are taking on cheerfulness and a new interest in life, he declares. The treatment is "new" in that medical men examine each case and prescribe certain games to fit the needs of that case. No playing at games requiring exercise of muscles or joints is done save under the direct supervision of a medical officer, Doctor Kallenberg asserts.

Helping Government.

"Physical directors of the Y. M. C. A. are helping the government in these matters at this time," explained Doctor Kallenberg. "I understand the application of our theory that the playing of certain games mend certain ailments is being demonstrated with success at various camps in the plain reconstruction of the physical man. We do not under-rate massage, hydrotherapy, electrotherapy or manual therapy, but we are finding that specified exercise in play works wonders in loosening joints and brings the man to a normal state."

At the following camps the new treatment of "play-therapy" is being used successfully upon hundreds of wounded soldiers, sailors and marines: Taylor, Dodge, Great Lakes, Fort Sheridan, Fort Des Moines, Fort Benjamin Harrison, U. S. General hospital No. 21, Denver, and plans are being made now to establish the treatment at Camps Funston, Sherman, Custer and the big Ford hospital, Detroit. It is reported that Major Kelley at Camp Grant has set aside two large two-story barracks for a gymnasium and will ask the Y. M. C. A. for two men to assist in directing wounded soldiers in their games.

HONOR FIGHTING PARSON

Dr. John H. Clifford, Baptist minister in time of peace, but real fighter in time of war, has been awarded the croix de guerre for extraordinary heroism in action.

Doctor Clifford, as a Y. M. C. A. worker, braved the red wrath of war. He has been in the firing zone as much as the hardiest infantryman and was decorated for a most unusual exploit. He was one of three men who braved incessant enemy shell fire while rescuing Col. Albertus W. Catlin, commanding officer of the Sixth regiment of marines. The trio carried the colonel to safety on a stretcher.

DOCTOR CLIFFORD.

Doctor Clifford went over the top many times and came near being killed on several occasions. He is fifty-one years old.

Praises "Y" Work.

Unqualified praise by Consul General Harris in Siberia for the service rendered not only to the American expeditionary troops, but also to the Czechs and to Russian prisoners, by the American Y. M. C. A. secretaries, is contained in an official communication transmitted to the state department at Washington by Paul S. Reinsch, American minister to China.

Great Athletic Program.

Through the Y. M. C. A. the United States plans to introduce a project for the development of American athletics in the allied countries. America's greatest athletic leaders are being fitted to direct the movement from the headquarters to be established in Paris.

VOICES CONTEMPT FOR FOE FIGHTERS

REPORTS OF FRATERNIZING BY AMERICAN AND FOE TROOPS DENIED BY RED TRIANGLE WORKER.

Chicago.—Reports of fraternizing of allied and foe troops following the signing of the armistice on the western front are denied in a letter from H. B. Stecher, Racine, Wis., received at the offices of the national war work council, Y. M. C. A., here.

Stecher was a Y. M. C. A. worker attached to the Ninety-first division. He served for more than six months on three fighting fronts—at St. Mihiel, in Flanders and the Argonne. Twice he was cited for bravery and awarded the D. S. C.

Before going to France to serve as a "Y" worker Stecher was associated with the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing company at Racine. Formerly he was a member of the California National Guard when he was living in Los Angeles, Cal. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stecher, live in Chicago.

Referring to reports of fraternizing of the troops Stecher says: "Certainly there was no attempt or desire on the part of the men of our division to fraternize with our much-despised opponents, and had there been, the officers would not have permitted it. As a matter of fact the guns were going right up to the time the armistice went into effect. You see, our boys have had a mighty good chance to size up the caliber of the other side, and had the Germans shown any indications of good sportsmanship in the fighting no doubt we would feel some little respect for them. Having been a doughboy myself in the past, and now having gone through all the fighting with my division, I believe my viewpoint is the same as that of the majority of our division, and, personally, I have the utmost contempt for the German soldier, his methods and his ideals."

MAJOR GENERAL PRAISES SERVICE OFFERED BY "Y"

Spread upon the records of the Third division, A. E. F., and just brought to the attention of the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A., is a general order issued by command of Major General Dickman which "Y" officials have hailed as an emphatic answer to charges that Red Triangle workers had avoided the danger zones in France and had wrung exorbitant prices from the soldiers for the comforts which the association had sent overseas. General Dickman directed that a copy of the order be sent to every one of the thirty-four men and six women who went with the division through the fighting of Chateau-Thierry and along the Marne, to St. Mihiel, and later into action north of Verdun and along the Meuse.

The Y. M. C. A. has made public General Dickman's order along with a communication from Col. J. C. Rhea of another division which was in the St. Mihiel fighting. Colonel Rhea gave figures showing the large amount of supplies which were distributed in his division by "Y" secretaries without charge.

GREAT EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM PLANNED

Paris.—General Pershing has signed an order establishing an American Army university in France to accommodate 10,000 to 20,000 soldier students. The school will be opened at Beaune. At the same time the main office of the Y. M. C. A. army educational commission will be moved from Paris to Beaune.

Courses in engineering, liberal and fine arts, science, music and the like will be offered. It is expected that one of the four agricultural exhibits which have been prepared by the department of agriculture in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A. will be a permanent feature at Beaune.

The Y. M. C. A. war work council announced that the cost of the educational program in the A. E. F. had now reached $700,000 a month. Books and supplies costing $1,800,000 have been sent overseas. The army pays for the books and distributes them to the soldier students.

To Improve Idle Time.

Wherever there are as many as 500 reasonably stationary soldiers, sailors and marines at the base camps or the ports of shipment or with the army of occupation, there will be educational courses supervised by the Y. M. C. A. For those who are to be moved in a few weeks there will be short courses, but there will be something to interest every one.

"Y" Operates Hotels.

London.—Half a dozen London hotels, including the Palace, Cosmo and Grafton, have been taken over by the American Y. M. C. A. and are now in full operation. This addition to the war plant of the "Y" is required by the even more comprehensive period of occupation program which has been set up in the United Kingdom by the Y. M. C. A.

Want American Tables.

An American pool table is a grateful oasis to the American soldiers impatiently awaiting orders to leave for home, for somehow or other they do not take kindly to the model of pool or billiard table which is extant in Merrie England. Hence there never is any rest to the billiard tables in the Y. M. C. A. hut in the British Isles.

Will Build New School House

No bids were submitted on July 5th, 1919, for building the addition to the Holt school building and the matter was postponed another week with the same results, so on Tuesday eve the board passed a resolution to hire the work done and entered into an agreement with L. D. McAdams, of Thief River Falls who will have charge of the work. Mr. McAdams is to superintend the whole job of building, buying the material under the directions of the board, and furnish all tools and necessary equipment for the job, hire all the labor and receive 10 per cent of the cost of the building for his services.

A seperate contract for furnishing all the equipment and installing the heating, ventilating and plumbing systems was let to Holt & George of Thief River Falls for $5,204.00

Another bid was received from Mr. Lee of the same city, which was about $300 higher than the Holt & George bid.

Thief River Falls attorneys have given advice to the board in the above matter and there did not seem to be any other way to get the school house built this year, so we hope everyone will be satisfied.

PROGRESS ON NEW BUILDINGS

Hans J. Olson came down from Middle River Friday and with Racine Olson did the wiring for the electric current for D. B. Bakke's house. They also did some wiring for H. J. Olen. The workmen are now doing the stucco work on the Bakke house and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

A twelve foot full width addition to the Synod church is almost finished as well as the carpenter work in the new basement.

Fine progress has been made on the new elevator of the Red Lake Falls Milling Co. They have the roofs on both the elevator and warehouse but still have the drive way to build. On Tuesday the company sent word they had decided to tear down the old office and build a larger one and that work is now being done.

The new elevator is 24X32 feet and is 42 feet high to the eaves. It has several more bins than the old elevator and will hold more than twice the amount of grain. The new ware house is 22X32.

Excavating the basement for the new school house in Holt commenced yesterday morning.

Better Drainage System Needed

J. J. Waller and Michael Leiran of Whiteford and C. J. Dale and Chris Norbeck of Mud Lake came to town Monday to get things started to get some relief for the people in the flooded districts. The two former gentlemen went to Thief River Falls to present their claims to the people there. The others had telegrams sent to Gov. Burnquist on Tuesday and Wednesday an answer was received saying he was out of the city, but a representative would be sent here Thursday and the Governor would be communicated with.

In the meantime the people were coming to town and making anxious enquires for help. A meeting was held at the Woodman hall which was well attended by at least fifty people, the most of them from the flooded districts. Committees were appointed from East Valley, Agdar, Excel, Grand Plain, Mud Lake and Whiteford with B. Docken as chairman. The work of this committee will be to get a better system of ditches, so that the whole country will not be flooded out again. But immediate relief is needed for the people who have lost all they had and all they expected to get from their crops, hay lands and pastures this year.

C. J. Dale had a gas engine with a propellor attachment already to put on a boat sent here Wednesday and the Thief River Falls Commercial club sent up a gasoline launch and a row boat and some supplies for those who could not get out from their homes. A party of men started out Wednesday afternoon with these boats to make a thorough investigation of the flooded area.

It is reported considerable live stock have been drowned by the high water and every thing that was loose has been washed away.

The water in Mud Lake commenced going down very slowly several days ago, but the river did not go down any until about Tuesday of this week.

This is the fourth time in six years that these districts have been flooded and it is the worst flood in over thirty years.

Immediate relief is needed for some of the people, others can get along until winter, but something must be done to prevent another flood or the whole flooded district will be deserted, as the people can not stand these floods, as there is sure to be sickness after this.

It is up to the authorities, they can have the present ditch systems and the floods if that is what they want, but they can't have the people too. Therefore they must make their choice soon, otherwise the people will leave, never to return.

On account of the flood there will be no school house built in Dist. No 158 this summer to replace the one burned last spring.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thorval Kolden Sunday.

C. Saastad visited relatives and friends in the flood district Sunday. Mr. Saastad says there is more water there then he ever saw since coming to this country.

P. A. Riesberg received the sad news last week Thursday that his aunt, Mrs. Roner of Argyle, was in the hospital in Warren, where she had been operated upon the previous Monday for the removal of a tumor.

WILSON SPEAKS BEFORE SENATE

Says League of Free Nations Is Practical Necessity to Assure Future of World.

AMERICA FRIEND OF ALL

Moral Leadership of World Offered to United States and Question Shall We Accept or Reject It—America Made Victory Certain.

Washington, July 11.—Following is President Wilson's address before the United States senate:

Gentlemen of the Senate: The treaty of peace with Germany was signed at Versailles on the 28th of June. I avail myself of the earliest opportunity to lay the treaty before you for ratification and to inform you with regard to the work of the conference by which the treaty was formulated.

The treaty constitutes nothing less than a world settlement. It would not be possible for me either to summarize or to construe its manifold provisions in an address which must of necessity be something less than a treatise.

My services and all the information I possess will be at your disposal and at the disposal of your committee on foreign relations at any time, either informally or in session, as you may prefer, and I hope that you will not hesitate to make use of them. I shall at this time, prior to your own study of the document, attempt only a general characterization of its scope and purpose.

"Historical Circumstances" Control.

In one sense, no doubt, there is no need that I should report to you what was attempted and done at Paris. You have been daily cognizant of what was going on there—of the problems with which the peace conference had to deal and of the difficulty of laying down straight lines of settlement anywhere on a field on which the old lines of international relationship, and the new, alike, followed so intricate a pattern and were for the most part cut so deep by historical circumstances, which dominated action where it would have been best to ignore or reverse them. The cross-currents of politics and of interest must have been evident to you. It would be presuming in me to attempt to explain the questions which arose or the many diverse elements which entered into them. I shall attempt something less ambitious than that and more clearly suggested by my duty to report to the congress the part it seemed necessary for my colleagues and me to play, as the representatives of the government of the United States.

American Role Determined.

That part was dictated by the role America had played in the war and by the expectations that had been created in the minds of the peoples with whom we had associated ourselves in that great struggle.

The United States entered the war upon a different footing from every other nation except our associates on this side the sea. We entered it, not because our material interests were directly threatened or because any special treaty obligations to which we were parties had been violated, but only because we saw the supremacy, and even the validity, of right everywhere put in jeopardy and free government likely to be everywhere imperiled by the intolerable aggression of a power which respected neither right nor obligation and whose very system of government flouted the rights of the citizens as against the autocratic authority of his governors. And in the settlements of the peace we have sought no special reparation for ourselves, but only the restoration of right and the assurance of liberty everywhere that the effects of the settlement were to be felt.

U. S. Champion of Right.

We entered the war as the disinterested champions of right and we interested ourselves in the terms of the peace in no other capacity.

The hopes of the nations allied against the Central Powers were at a very low ebb when our soldiers began to pour across the sea. There was everywhere amongst them, except in their stoutest spirits, a somber foreboding of disaster. The war ended in November, eight months ago, but you have only to recall what was feared in midsummer last, four short months before the armistice, to realize what it was that our timely aid accomplished alike for their morale and their physical safety.

That first, never to be forgotten action at Chateau Thierry, had already taken place. Our redoubtable soldiers and marines had already closed the gap the enemy had succeeded in opening for their advance upon Paris—had already turned the tide of battle back towards the frontiers of France and begun the rout that was to save Europe and the world.

This is not the occasion upon which to utter a eulogy of the armies America sent to France, but, perhaps, since I am speaking of their mission I may speak also of the pride I shared with every American who saw or dealt with them there. They were the sort of men America would wish to be represented by, the sort of men every American would wish to claim as fellow countrymen and comrades in a great cause.

Makes Triumph Permanent.

The conviction of what they stood for was upon us who represented America at the peace table. It was our duty to see to it that every decision we took part in contributed so far as we were able to influence it, to quiet the fears and realize the hopes of the peoples who had been living in that shadow, the nations that had come by our assistance to their freedom. It was our duty to do everything that was within our power to do to make the triumph of freedom and of right a lasting triumph in the assurance of which men might everywhere live without fear.

Treaties to Be Enforced.

Future international conventions with regard to the control of waterways with regard to the illicit traffic of many kinds, in arms or in deadly drugs, or with regard to the adjustment of many varying international administrative arrangements could not be assured if the treaty were to provide no permanent common international agency, if its execution in such matters was to be left to the slow and uncertain processes of co-operation by ordinary methods of negotiation, if the peace conference itself was to be the end of co-operative authority and common counsel among the governments to which the world was looking to enforce justice and give pledges of an enduring settlement.

Regions like the Saar basin could not be put under a temporary administrative regime which did not involve a transfer of political sovereignty, and which contemplated a final determination of its political connections by popular vote to be taken at a distant date. No free city like Danzig could be created which was under elaborate international guarantees, to accept exceptional obligations with regard to the use of its port and exceptional relations with a state of which it was not to form a part.

Properly safeguarded plebiscites could not be provided for where populations were at some future date to make choice what sovereignty they would live under, no certain and uniform method of arbitration could be secured for the settlement of anticipated difficulties of final decision with regard to many matters dealt with in the treaty itself.

Nations League Essential.

The long continued supervision of the task of reparation which Germany was to undertake to complete within the next generation might entirely break down. The reconsideration and revision of administrative arrangements and restrictions which the treaty prescribed but which it was recognized might not prove of lasting advantage or entirely fair if too long enforced would be impracticable. The promises governments were making to one another about the way in which labor was to be dealt with, by law not only, but in fact as well, would remain a mere thesis if there was to be no common tribunal of opinion and judgment to which liberal statesmen could resort for the influences which alone might secure their redemption.

A league of free nations had become a practical necessity. Examine the treaty of peace and you will find that everywhere throughout its manifold provisions its framers have felt obliged to turn to the League of Nations as an indispensable instrumentality for the maintenance of the new order it has been their purpose to set up in the world—the world of civilized men.

That there should be a League of Nations to steady the counsels and maintain the peaceful understandings of the world, to make, not treaties alone, but the accepted principles of international law as well, the actual rule of conduct among the governments of the world, had been one of the agreements accepted from the first as the basis of peace with the Central Powers.

The statesmen of all the belligerent countries were agreed that such a league must be created to sustain the settlements that were to be effected, but at first I think there was a feeling among some of them that, while it must be attemptetd, the formation of such a league was perhaps a counsel of perfection which practical men, long experienced in the world of affairs, must agree to very cautiously and with many misgivings.

It was only as the difficult work of arranging an all but universal adjustment of the world's affairs advanced from day to day from one stage of conference to another that it became evident to them that what they were seeking would be little more than something written upon paper, to be interpreted and applied by such methods as the changes of politics might make available if they did not provide a means of common counsel which all were obliged to accept. A common authority whose decisions would be recognized as decisions which all must respect.

And so the most practical, the most skeptical among them turned more and more to the league as the authority through which international action was to be secured, the authority without which, as they had come to see it, it would be difficult to give an assured effect either to this treaty or to any other international understanding upon which they were to depend for the maintenance of peace.

The fact that the covenant of the league was the first substantive part of the treaty to be worked out and agreed upon, while all else was in solution, helped to make the formulation of the rest easier. The conference was, after all, not to be ephemeral. The concert of nations was to continue, under a definite covenant which had been agreed upon and which all were convinced was workable. They could go forward with confidence to make arrangements intended to be permanent.

The most practical of the conferees were at last the most ready to refer to the League of Nations the superintendence of all interests which did not admit of immediate determination, of all administrative problems which were to require a continuing oversight. What had seemed a counsel of perfection had come to seem a plain counsel of necessity. The League of Nations was the practical statesman's hope of success in many of the most difficult things he was attempting.

Wars Forever Impossible.

And it had validated itself in the thoughts of every member of the conference as something much bigger, much greater every way than a mere instrument for carrying out the provisions of a particular treaty. It was universally recognized that all the peoples of the world demanded of the conference that it should create such a continuing concert of free nations as would make wars of aggression and spoliation such as this that has just ended forever impossible.

Rule of Force Rejected.

A cry has gone out from every home in every stricken land from which sons and brothers and fathers had gone forth to the great sacrifice that such a sacrifice should never again be enacted. It was manifest why it had been exacted. It had been exacted because one nation desired dominion and other nations had known no means of defense except armaments and alliances. War had lain at the heart of every arrangement of Europe—every arrangement of the world—that preceded the war. Restive peoples had been told that fleets and armies which they toiled to sustain, meant peace, and now that they had been lied to; that fleets and armies had been maintained to promote national ambitions and meant war. They knew that no old policy meant anything else but force, force, force—always force. And they knew that it was intolerable.

New Purpose Proclaimed.

Every true heart in the world and every enlightened judgment demanded that, at whatever cost of independent action, every government that took thought for its people or for justice or for ordered freedom should lend itself to a new purpose and utterly destroy the old order of international politics.

Statesmen might see difficulties, but the people could see none and could brook no denial. A war in which they had been bled white to beat the terror that lay concealed in every balance of power must not end in a mere victory of arms and a new balance. The monster that had resorted to arms must be put in chains that could not be broken. The united power of free nations must put a stop to aggression, and the world must be given peace. If there was not the will or the intelligence to accomplish that now, there must be another and a final war and the world must be swept clean of every power that could renew the terror.

The League of Nations was not merely an instrument to adjust and remedy old world wrongs under a new treaty of peace. It was the only hope for mankind. Again and again had the demon of war been cast out of the house of the peoples and the house swept clean by a treaty of peace, only to prepare a time when he would enter in again with spirits worse than himself. The house must now be given a tenant who could hold it against all such.

Convenient, indeed indispensable, as statesmen found the newly planned League of Nations, they saw it in a new aspect before their work was finished. They saw it as the main object of the peace, as the only thing that could complete it or make it worth while. They saw it as the hope of the world and that hope they did not dare to disappoint. Shall we or any other free people hesitate to accept this great duty? Dare we reject it and break the heart of the world?

And so the result of the conference of peace, so far as Germany is concerned, stands complete. The difficulties encountered were very many. Sometimes they seemed insuperable. It was impossible to accommodate the interests of so great a body of nations—interests which directly or indirectly affected almost every nation in the world—without many minor compromises. The treaty, as a result, is not exactly what we would have written. It is probably not what any one of the national delegates would have written. But results were worked out which on the whole bear test. I think that it will be found that the compromises which were accepted as inevitable nowhere cut to the heart of any principle. The work of the conferences squares, as a whole, with the principles agreed upon as the basis of the peace as well as with the practical possibilities of the international situations which had to be faced and dealt with as facts.

America Disinterested.

We were welcomed as disinterested friends. We were resorted to as arbiters in many a difficult matter. It was recognized that our material aid would be indispensable in the days to come, when industry and credit would have to be brought back to their normal operation again and communities beaten to the ground assisted to their feet once more, and it was taken for granted, I am proud to say, that we would play the helpful friend in these things as well as in all others without prejudice or favors. We were generously accepted as the unaffected champions of what was right. It was a very responsible role to play, but I am happy to report that the fine group of Americans who helped with their expert advice in each part of the varied settlements sought in every transaction to justify the high confidence reposed in them.

And that confidence, it seems to me, is the measure of our opportunity and of our duty in the days to come, in which the new hope of the peoples of the world is to be fulfilled or disappointed. The fact that America is the friend of the nations, whether they be rivals or associates, is no new fact. It is only the discovery of it by the rest of the world that is new.

TOWNLEY FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Verdict Against League President and Advisor Found on Second Ballot.

COURT GRANTS STAY

League Head Says Organization Virtually "On Trial"—Request for Privilege to Make Personal Plea Denied by Judge.

Jackson, Minn., July 14.—The jury in the trial of President A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert of the Nonpartisan league late Saturday evening found the defendants guilty of the charge of conspiracy to teach disloyalty, in violation of the Minnesota law.

The defense asserted that speeches by Townley and Gilbert, at mass meetings in Minnesota, early in 1918, were not disloyal in their references to the government and prosecution of the war. These speeches were made the basis of the indictment together with circulation of the Nonpartisan league's so-called war program, over Townley's signature.

Conspiracy Charged.

During the three weeks of the trial the defense has made repeated charges that the case is an outgrowth of efforts to injure the Nonpartisan league. Testimony along this line, and also testimony by Representative John M. Baer, and North Dakota state officials concerning the loyalty of Townley and the league, was excluded by Judge E. C. Dean.

The jurors announced that they took two ballots. The first was nine to three for conviction. The second was unanimous for conviction.

Denied Personal Plea.

At the conclusion of a four-hour address to the jury by Prosecutor E. H. Nicholas, Mr. Townley arose and stated to the court that he had dismissed his counsel, and asked the privilege of pleading the case in his own behalf, and that of the Nonpartisan league, which he felt to be on trial. After hearing arguments, the court denied the request upon technical grounds.

Judge E. C. Dean granted a stay of sentence until September 15 to permit the preparation of the court record and the making of motions for a new trial.

R-34 COMPLETES HOME TRIP

Shows Up Over Ireland on Sunday Morning.

London, July 14.—Over the northeast coast of Ireland the R-34, returning from America, was making 60 knots, according to the report received here. She had kept on the course for East Fortune, but turned southeast and headed for Pulham.

The dirigible reported her position today at 3 p. m. Greenwich mean time (11 a. m., New York time), as 50 degrees north latitude and 15 degrees 20 minutes west longitude.

This position showed that the R-34 had traveled approximately 2,675 miles in her trans-Atlantic flight from New York and was within about 170 miles off the Irish coast.

The air ministry calculated at midnight that the R-34's landing time would be about 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

A later message from the dirigible by wireless indicated she would attempt a landing at Pulham airdrome about 6 a. m., Greenwich time, Sunday.

Fatal Fire in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, July 14.—Five firemen were killed, 31 others injured in a blaze that destroyed a three-story brick warehouse of the Burlap Bag Manufacturing plant of Jacob Potash & Bros., here Saturday. The victims were plunged into the flames and debris when the roof and three walls collapsed. Three saved themselves from serious injury by a spectacular slide down a tottering ladder. Rescuers worked more than two hours to extricate the dead from the ruins which rose in chaotic piles as high as the second story. No cause has been assigned for the fire, which was the third in the building in 15 years. The damage is estimated at over $100,000.

WHITLOCK ASSIGNED TO ITALY

Former U. S. Representative to Brussels Gets Ambassadorship.

Paris, July 14.—Brand Whitlock has been named as American ambassador to Italy. Brand Whitlock at present holds the post of minister to Belgium, to which he was appointed in 1913. Mr. Whitlock's appointment as ambassador to Italy has been under consideration for some weeks past. He succeeds Thomas Nelson Page, who recently resigned.

President's Ship to Carry Babies.

New York, July 14.—The presidential ship, George Washington, which sails back to France this week, has been fitted up with a nursery to take care of the "war babies" returning on that vessel. Two hundred "war babies" are scheduled to sail on the transport on her next trip from France to this country and at the request of Dr. C. A. Lockett, the ship's surgeon, the American Red Cross has provided the ship with baby food, milk, clothing and other prerequisites of infantile comfort.

WILSON'S VETO IS SUSTAINED

House Fails to Override Action of President for Saving of Daylight.

NEW TIME TO CONTINUE

Members to Number of 247 Favor Repassing Bill Over Executive's Veto, 23 Short of Required Two-thirds.

Washington, July 15. — The house failed to pass the agricultural appropriation bill with its rider repealing the daylight saving law, over the veto of President Wilson.

The vote was 247 to 135, or 23 affirmative votes less than the required two-thirds. One member voted present.

After the vote the bill was referred to the agricultural committee. It probably will be reported to the house later minus the rider.

Party Lines Broken.

Champ Clark and Claude Kitchin, as well as many other democrats, voted against the president.

Chairman G. N. Haugen of the agricultural committee said before the vote was taken, if the veto was not overruled, the president would have to accept the political responsibility for saving the plan, which brought bitter opposition from the farming districts.

Other Veto Before Committee.

The appropriations committee was to consider the veto of the sundry civil bill, because it did not carry enough, in the president's view, for vocational work among soldiers.

Chairman J. W. Good stated he is willing to grant the increase of from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 the president desires, but insists on limiting the salaries of the board in charge of this work. It was believed the bill would be again returned to the house with such a provision.

A rider on the agricultural appropriation bill, which was vetoed, would have repealed the daylight saving law late in October. If the law stands unchanged, daylight saving will go into effect in March, 1920, as heretofore.

COMMITTEE HAS TREATY

Resolutions Bearing on Versailles Negotiations Offered.

Washington, July 15.—The Senate foreign relations committee, beginning consideration of the peace treaty, reported three minor resolutions bearing on the Versailles negotiations.

The resolutions reported would call on the president and the state department for information regarding an alleged secret treaty between Japan and Germany; regarding a protest said to have been made by General T. H. Bliss, Secretary Robert Lansing and Henry White against the Shantung settlement, and why Costa Rica "was not permitted to sign the peace treaty."

All the resolutions were amended. That regarding the alleged Japanese-German treaty and that relating to Costa Rica were reported without record votes. The Shantung resolution was reported by a vote of 9 to 3, all the democratic members present opposing it and the republicans, including Senator P. J. McCumber, of North Dakota, voting for it. Senator Hiram Johnson (rep.) of California, offered a resolution in the committee, proposing that copies of all documents connected with negotiations of the treaty be submitted to the committee.

TORNADO DAMAGES CROPS

Minnesota Storm Does Harm Amounting to 50 Per Cent.

Crookston, Minn., July 15.—A number of buildings and crops valued at thousands of dollars were destroyed in Lockhart and vicinity as a result of a tornado and hail storm which hit that place. According to reports here the storm covered an area of about four miles in width at that place.

Neillsville and Climax, two neighboring towns, were in the path of the storm and reports are that more than 50 per cent of the crop in this vicinity was destroyed. A few frame buildings were wrecked in Neillsville, but no persons injured.

QUIET RESUMED AT FIUME

Italian Provost Marshal Maintaining Order.

Vienna, July 15. — Fiume is quiet, with the Italian provost marshal maintaining order. Few Italian soldiers are on the streets. The French remain in their barracks. Two French and two Italian warships are in the harbor. The city, it is said, is plastered with handbills reading: "Italy or death." The Italians, the reports say, accuse the French of meddling.

Socialists Protest Treaty; Strike.

Rome, July 15.—The Intransigeant Socialists have published a manifesto proclaiming a general strike on July 20 and 21 as a protest against the Peace treaty, denounced as "an attempt by the Allies to suffocate Bolshevism in Russia and Hungary." "Workmen of France will do likewise," the manifesto says. "Workmen of England will also bring to bear the powerful action of their trade unions. Workmen in Switzerland, Holland, Denmark and Sweden will join in the movement."

BIG POTATO YIELD

Western Canada Man Raised 600 Bushels on Two Acres.

He Thinks He Did Pretty Well, but There Were Even Larger Crops in the Neighborhood—Live Stock Men Prosper.

As a by-product the yield of potatoes on the farm of Ben Pawson of Coaldale, Alberta, was somewhat of a paying proposition. Coaldale is in the Medicine Hat district of Alberta. Medicine Hat is a place, pictured in the mind of many Americans, where the weather man holds high carnival, and when he wants to put a little life or spirit into the people just moves the mercury down a few notches. The rascal has thus given Medicine Hat a rather unenviable place on the map. But it isn't half as bad as it is pictured. Anyway, Ben Pawson likes it. Last year he grew six hundred bushels of potatoes on two acres of land that had no special preparation, and only the usual precipitation, or rain, as the less cultured would call it. When he couldn't work at his hay or grain, because of the damp mornings, he gave them some attention. And then evenings between supper and chores and bedtime he gave them some work. Anyway his yield was six hundred bushels, and he sold the whole lot for $285. Ben is satisfied. Still there were larger yields than this in the neighborhood.

If one might speak of hogs in the same breath in which you speak of potatoes, there is nothing in the ethics of literature that would create a debarment. Taking advantage of this license it will not be out of place to state that large potato yields are not the only feature of interest in this new and interesting country. Amongst others hogs are having a good deal of attention. Not long ago, hogs reached the $23.00 mark on the Calgary market. It doesn't cost much to raise a hog and very little to bring him to a weight of 200 pounds. Don't cost much! Certainly not. But what about the man who recently paid $350 for a Duroc Jersey Boar? That was all right. That man knew what he was doing. He was doing what a great many other farmers in Western Canada are doing today. He is acting on the old "saw," that "it costs no more to raise a good critter than a poor one." That is the reason that Western Canada is looming large in the live stock world. The best is none too good. The same may be said of horses, cattle, yes, and sheep, too. The very best sires and dams of the best breeds are purchased. And while big prices are paid, it is felt that the demand for pure-bred stock at home and abroad will bring returns which will warrant any reasonable price that may be asked.—Advertisement.

The young man had asked him for the hand of his daughter, and a pang wrung the fatherly heart of Mr. Jones as he looked at the youth, and thought of the bitterness of parting with his well-beloved child.

"I suppose, Oliver," he said at last, "it is only natural and right that when the young birds have become old enough to fly, they should leave their parental nest and go with their chosen mates to build nests of their own, and yet it pains me when I think of one of my fledglings getting ready to fly away."

"This seems to be a good-sized nest," suggested the young man, anxious to soften the blow; "perhaps you'd rather have me and Gertie stay here."

Priscilla had been left alone with the twins and had taken it upon herself to correct them. Hearing them cry, her mother hurried upstairs to see what the matter was.

"They were naughty," explained Priscilla, "and I slapped them."

A little later her mother found Priscilla sitting on the steps, looking thoughtful. "Well," she remarked, as her mother passed her, "if you want to bring up your children to be naughty you can."

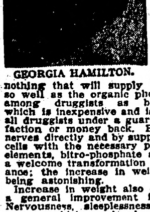
THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.



GEORGIA HAMILTON.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

MILLIONS Suffer from Acid-Stomach

Millions of people suffer year after year from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their ill health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor nourishment of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished—becomes weak, thin, sluggish. Ailments of many kinds spring from such conditions. Billiousness, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of power and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—even more serious ailments such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

Keep a sharp lookout for the first symptoms of acid-stomach—indigestion, heartburn, belching, food repeating, that awful painful bloat after eating, and sour, gassy stomach. EATONIC, the wonderful modern remedy for acid-stomach, is guaranteed to bring quick relief from these stomach miseries. Thousands say they never dreamed that anything could bring such speedy relief—and make them feel so much better in every way. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Make your life worth living—no aches or pains—no blues or melancholy—no more of that tired, listless feeling. Be well and strong. Get back your physical and mental punch; your vim, vigor and vitality. You will always be weak and ailing as long as you have acid-stomach. So get rid of it now. Take EATONIC Tablets—they taste good—you eat them like a bit of candy. Your druggist has EATONIC—50 cents for a big box. Farm Lands at Low Prices
The Wheat Belt of America

Western Canada for years has helped to feed the world—the same responsibility of production still rests upon her. While high prices for Grain, Cattle and Sheep are sure to remain, price of land is much below its value.

Land capable of yielding 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre can be had on easy terms at from $15 to $30 per acre—good grazing land at much less.

Many farms paid for from a single year's crop. Raising cattle, sheep and hogs brings equal success. The Government encourages farming and stock raising. Railway and Land Companies offer unusual inducements to Home Seekers. Farms may be stocked by loans at moderate interest. Western Canada offers low taxation, good markets and shipping; free schools, churches and healthful climate.

Non-Partisian Meeting

The Non-Partisan league held a meeting Friday afternoon at the beautiful farm home of Mr. and Mrs. August Nass. A good sized crowd of farmers were present and undoubtedly there would have been many more there had it not been that the weather man was threatening to send more rain.

The principal speaker was Mr. A. E. Bowen and he presented his arguments in a forceful and convincing manner. At the close of Mr. Bowen's speech which every one liked, Mr. Emil Pladson of Thief River Falls made a short speech in explanation of the business methods of the league.

WHO AM I

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone over $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak. Widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage earners each year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

I am everywhere—in the house, on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation, death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush, or maim; I give nothing, but take all.

I am your worst enemy.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

FATS

Do American eat too much fat?

As a nation we have the reputation of being the greatest fat eaters and wasters in the world.

Why is it necessary to save fats?

Because fats have high value as energy-producing food of a sort specially needed by soldiers; and because they are needed in the manufacture of high explosives, for the lubrication of machinery, and for ointments.

Why are fats so important to Germany?

They are the essential food that Germany most lacks. Eating-fat in Germany not under government control costs from $8 a pound up.

Is it better to make soap at home or sell waste fat to the soap maker?

If possible sell to the soap maker. He can get glycerine as a by-product, and he will not waste lye.

What are the animal fats?

Cream, butter, lard, and fats of all animals.

What are the vegetable fats?

Olive oil, cottonseed oil, corn oil, and oil from nuts.

Why may vegetable fats be used more freely than animal fats?

Because the animal fats are needed for the Allies, and we have larger stocks of vegetable fats.

Is there any difference in the value of animal and vegetable fats in cooking?

No; vegetable fats are just as good as animal fats.

Is there any essential difference between fats and oils?

No, fats are solid at room temperature and oils are liquid.

Is our lard supply decreased?

Yes; the total production of lard in 1916-17 was 22,500,000 pounds less than in the previous year. It began to show decided increase in the spring of 1918.

How can we save fats, especially animal fats?

By frying less; by saving meat drippings; by using butter only on the table; by using substitutes for lard; by wasting no soap.

How much fat should an adult consume daily?

Not below 40 grams (about 1½ ounces) and many will prefer 50 grams (about 1¾ ounces) or 60 grams (a little over 2 ounces).

WANTED WAR FOR FINANCIAL GAIN

TRIBUNE EDITORIAL WRITER TESTIFIED PAPER THOUGHT INTERVENTION WOULD BE PROFITABLE.

NINTH WEEK OF FORD CASE

Famous Million Dollar Libel Case Continues in Mt. Clemens—Edsel Ford Is Called to Stand by Newspaper.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Editors who directed the policy of The Chicago Tribune, and editorial writers who put that policy into printed words, were the witnesses produced by the defense during the ninth week of the Ford-Tribune $1,000,000 libel case.

Tiffany Blake, chief editorial writer of The Tribune, was one of the most interesting witnesses. Mr. Blake testified that he had deliberately permitted the characterization of Mr. Ford as an anarchist because it seemed to him to sum up Mr Ford's activities. He testified at length, under cross-examination, concerning the attitude which his paper took in favor of war with Mexico but against war with Germany, and admitted that The Tribune had in mind the material benefits which would accrue to the United States in the event of intervention, and the fact that no such gains could be reaped from war with Germany.

Ford Was in the Way.

During the course of his testimony Mr. Blake characterized the utterances and the attitude of Mr. Ford as "notorious." Ford counsel took the stand that Mr. Ford's position could not have been notorious to readers of The Tribune because The Tribune never referred to the alleged statements which it is now using as a means of justifying its attack. Its attitude towards Mr. Ford, counsel attempted to show by questioning the witness, was based upon the fact that just when it seemed that the paper's long campaign for war with Mexico was about to bear fruit, and troops were being hurried to the border, it suddenly found Henry Ford in its way.

Submarine warfare, in the estimation of The Tribune, the witness said, was never sufficient cause for war. Mr. Blake admitted that the newspaper did not demand armed redress after the sinking of the Lusitania, and that when the President used the Sussex case as a test, The Tribune continued to declare that the submarine issue was no cause for war.

An editorial from The Tribune was introduced and Ford counsel proceeded to read from it, "If we win in Germany, what do we win."—

"Yes, what do we win," interjected the witness.

"Blessed if we know"—continued the editorial.

"Yes, blessed if we know," broke in the witness again, "we don't know today."

"You stated," said Ford counsel, "that when the government finally decided on its position that you supported it and stopped argument against war with Germany. Do you consider that when the President had presented an ultimatum and broken off diplomatic relations that you were supporting him and the nation by continuing to tell the people that the President had no ground for war with Germany?"

"Yes, because the submarine issue was not a good ground for war."

"Well, when the President broadened the issue by telling the country that we must enter the war to make the world safe for democracy, did you argue for war on these broader grounds?"

"No, we did not."

Overlooked Ford's Offer.

"Did you know, Mr. Blake, that Mr. Ford was the first person in the United States to offer himself, his ability, his factories and all he had, to assist the government in the event of war—did you know that?"

"No, I did not know that."

"Your perusal of The Tribune did not give you that information about Mr. Ford?"

"No."

R. R. McCormick, president of The Tribune company, and one of the editors of the paper, was another witness. Mr. McCormick testified that The Standard Oil and International Harvester interests, in which Tribune stockholders have holdings, never in any way directed the policy of the paper towards Mexico. His testimony also touched the matter of salaries, which The Tribune cut off as soon as men entered the service of the nation in the great war, although it had continued salaries when its employes were called to the border. The fact that the army pay had been doubled, that married men were discharged from the guard and that conscription had been put in force, caused the paper to change its policies, Mr. McCormick stated.

E. G. Liebold, general secretary to Mr. Ford, and Edsel Ford, the president of the Ford Motor Company, were called to the witness stand by The Tribune late in the week. Mr. Liebold testified concerning a letter which he had written in response to a communication which sought to interest Mr. Ford in a device which would deal out death.

Holt, Minn.,

Dear Sir:- In reply to your [illegible] 17, 19, I wish to state that [illegible] I know at present it will be at least four months before the work will be let on State Road No. 11. The survey will take thirty days then another thirty days to complete the plans. Then the plans have to be accepted by the Federal Government, as this is a Federal Aid Project. Then the job will be advertised thirty days and sold to the lowest bidder.

There is no way [illegible] hire teams except for regular [illegible] maintenance. I think, however, that it might be well for [illegible] to write to the Chairman of [illegible] County Board, Mr. O. [illegible] and Mr. A. S. Bokke, Newfolden, Minn. Mr. Bokke has considerable [illegible] in his District that [illegible] Day labor if he can [illegible].

Chairman Holt Red Cross Auxiliary.

Your letter [illegible]

I have directed the Secretary to [illegible] the Chairman of the Civilian Relief Committee to go out to your section and investigate the needs there and you can feel assured that if there is anything that should be done by the Chapter to relieve distress, there it will be done [illegible] and [illegible] by the Chapter.

Yours Truly,
Bernard B. Brett,
Chairman Executive Committee
Marshall County Chapter, A. R. C.

In response to telegrams from this place and Thief River Falls, Prof. J. H. Hay, who is now located in St. Paul was sent here by the Governor's office to make an investigation of conditions in the flooded districts. Mr. Hay arrived here last week Thursday and accompanied with B. Docken and County Agent Husby went out and looked over the district or rather the water. As a result of Mr. Hay's visit he reported to St. Paul that fourteen townships were partially flooded, that ten were completely flooded and about three hundred families had lost their crops, hay and pasture, and many would have to move away at least temporarily. Mr. Hay asked the state to send [illegible] 25 tents for these people and $500 for supplies. The tents came Saturday, some more came Monday and Tuesday. Sergeant Sochum of St. Paul came to look after them and ship back the Federal tents sent here by mistake.

[illegible] held a meeting in Holt Friday to talk over matters for providing [illegible] for the flooded districts. He put the county agent in charge of the work and recommended that a large delegation attend the convention held in Thief River Falls Tuesday, and they took his advice and a large number attended.

Several committees were appointed at Friday's meeting and any one needing help or wanting work or pasture land should notify this office, the bank or almost any business man in Holt. Also the matter of providing better drainage is to be looked after and everybody's help is needed and solicited in these matters.

The people of Mud Lake will meet in Golden Valley Saturday, July 26, from 9 until 2 o'clock to make out claims for damage done by the flood.

Mrs. Grant Flakne and baby went to Pipestone county Monday to stay with her parents until the effects of the food is over with.

Co. Agent John Husby has sent us some blanks for distributing to those who wish to make out claims against the state for losses caused by the floods.

In all matters relative to the flood relief work, the commercial club and people of Thief River Falls have shown themselves always ready to do all they possibly could and we are sure that this is appreciated by everybody.

Ludvig Peterson went to Madison, Friday where he will work this summer, as their crops are drowned out by the floods.

There were more than twice the number of cars of cattle usually shipped, on the stock train thru here Tuesday, which is a pretty good proof that the people in the flooded districts must sell their stock on account of the pastures being ruined by the high water.

There is a good chance for the men of the flooded districts who can leave home to get work on the farms in the western part of the county at good wages and the work will be steady, as the farmers are ready to hire by the month. County Agent Jno. Husby will find [illegible] place free of charge for all who apply to him.

dging from the countless preparations treatments which are continually be- advertised for the purpose of making people fleshy, developing arms, neck bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness. Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is hing that will supply this deficiency well as the organic phosphate known ong druggists as bitro-phosphate, ch is inexpensive and is sold by most druggists under a guarantee of satis- tion or money back. By feeding the ves directly and by supplying the body s with the necessary phosphoric food ents, bitro-phosphate should produce welcome transformation in the appear- e; the increase in weight frequently ng astonishing.

ncrease in weight also carries with it general improvement in the health. rvousness, sleeplessness and lack of rgy, which nearly always accompany essive thinness, should soon disappear, eyes ought to brighten, and pale eks glow with the bloom of perfect lth. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was e thin and frail, reporting her own erience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has ught about a magic transformation h me. I gained 15 pounds and never ore felt so well."

AUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is urpassed for relieving nervousness, eplessness and general weakness, it uld not, owing to its tendency to in- ase weight, be used by anyone who s not desire to put on flesh.

Nerves All Unstrung?

Nervousness often comes from weak kidneys. Many a person who worries over trifles and is troubled with neuralgia, rheumatic pains and backache, would find relief through a good kidney remedy. If you have nervous attacks with headaches, backaches, dizzy spells and sharp, shooting pains, or if you are annoyed by bladder troubles, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They have brought quick benefit in thousands of such cases.

Mrs. W. E. Crawford, 124 W. Sixth St., Devils Lake, N. Dak., says: "I suffered a great deal from heavy bearing down pains in the lower part of my back, especially during the day. A tired feeling clung to me. I felt all worn out and had no ambition. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended and soon after using them, I got relief. They took away the distress in my back and made me feel a hundred per cent better."

AUSTRIA GETS TEXT OF TERMS

Final Clauses of the Proposed Treaty Are Now in That Country's Hands.

EVENT UNCEREMONIAL

Terms Comprise Full Text of Treaty Austria Will Be Asked to Sign—They Are Similar to Germans' Terms.

Paris, July 22.—The full peace conditions of the allied and associated powers are now in the hands of the Austrians. The first sections of the terms were presented to the Austrian delegates at St. Germain on June 2, the final sections were delivered to them at the same place yesterday, without ceremony, by M. Dutasta, secretary general of the peace conference.

The terms comprise the whole treaty which Austria is asked to sign, including the reparation, financial, military and certain minor clauses, which were not ready for presentation when the official ceremony took place.

In an accompanying memorandum the Austrians are granted 10 days in which to make their final observations, although they have already submitted a large number of notes on the terms previously submitted to them.

In addition to the published summary of the terms of June 2, the new clauses provide for reparation arrangements very similar to those in the treaty with Germany, including the establishment of an Austrian sub-section of the reparation commission, the payment of a reasonable sum in cash, the issuing of bonds, and the delivery of livestock and certain historical and art documents.

The financial terms provide the Austrian pre-war debt shall be apportioned among various former parts of Austria and that the Austrian coinage and war bonds circulating in the separated territory shall be taken up by the new governments and redeemed as they see fit.

TO ALLOW BOOZE IN HOMES

Amendment Attached to Provisions of Prohibition Bill.

Washington, July 22.—The prohibition enforcement bill was adopted yesterday, section by section, by the house, but a man's right to store liquor in his home stood up against all attacks. On the final count, only three votes were recorded in favor of an amendment to make home posession of intoxicants unlawful.

The first fight of the day was over the section giving courts the right to put under bond a person convicted of violating the liquor law. This was stricken out after Representative Gard, democrat, Ohio, had pointed out that it provided double punishment for the poor man, who might be sent to jail. The vote was 88 to 66, many prohibitionists opposing its retention.

When the house reached section 35 of the bill, dealing with enforcement of constitutional prohibition, and which contained the provision that it was not unlawful to store liquor at the home for personal use, the scene was not unlike that on a stock market on a high sales day. Everybody wanted to speak or offer an amendment, fully a score clamoring for recognition.

The bill was amended to provide that liquors stored in private homes must be for personal consumption by the owner of the dwelling or his family or bona fide guests.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS ILL

Dysentery Causes Executive to Take to His Bed.

Washington, July 22.—President Wilson returned to Washington early yesterday from a week-end cruise to Hampton Roads and was immediately ordered to bed by his personal physician, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, who announced that the president was suffering from dysentery.

Admiral Grayson said the president's condition was not serious but that he probably would be unable to receive callers before the end of the week. The president was in a weakened but no wise serious condition last night after having spent the day in bed.

Attendance Records Are Broken.

Fargo, N. D., July 22.—All attendance records in the city of Fargo were broken yesterday on the opening date of the Inter-State fair 28,121 admissions being recorded at the three gates for the day. This is more than seven times the number of people who attended the opening day of the state fair in this city a year ago. The day's record was due to the soldiers' and sailors' homecoming celebration, which brought thousands to town besides those who attended the fair.

Ten Killed by Falling Blimp.

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—Ten persons were killed and 25 injured, when a large dirigible on its test flight caught fire, and fell about 500 feet, crashing through the glass roof of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Most of the dead were employes of the bank, trapped and burned to death in a fire caused by the explosion of the balloon's gasoline tanks as they hit the floor of the bank rotunda, where more than 200 bookkeepers and clerks, nearly all girls, were working.

OLD NAMES RETURN TO FAVOR

Nomenclature in England Shows Effect of War's End on Minds of Parents.

Parents are giving their "Peace Year" babies much prettier names than those who were born during the war period.

Investigation of the registers at Somerset house shows some of the most popular names for boys and girls now are Ronald, Edward, George, Gordon, Jean, Kathleen, Irene, Marguerite.

Lilian is another popular name for girls today, and among Welsh people "Megan" is a great favorite.

Names of flowers are more in vogue now, and politics and loyalty are not without their influence upon the register's books. Oddly enough the early Victorian names are cropping up again—Susannah and Letitia are occurring much more frequently than they have for many years, but except in remote rural districts Biblical names have not held sway for some decades.—London Chronicle.

These Modern Dances.

"You say you don't dance, Mr. Black."

"No. I gave it up a year ago."

"What's the trouble, too awkward?"

"Not at all, just too modest."

Mad at Her.

"Was the host agreeable?"

"With everybody except his own wife."

FIND GOLD IN EAST INDIES

Precious Metal Is Sought in Many Places, Though No Great Amounts Are Recorded.

Gold is found in Sumatra, the Celebes and in Dutch Borneo in beach deposits, alluvial deposits, tertiary gravel beds and also in vein deposits. According to a government report, the working of the gravel beds has so far been of little importance, and the dredging companies have met with little success. The natives are employed to some extent in the washing of river sediment, and in certain parts of Sumatra they also work the tertiary beds in a primitive way by tunnels. The larger companies confine themselves to working vein deposits.

It is understood that the greatest quantity of gold is produced in the residency of Benkulen, Sumatra. The gold mining area extends sometimes to a length of two and one-half miles. Water power can be employed nearly everywhere. Some mines in central Sumatra are being worked. The mines in the Celebes are not as rich as those in Sumatra.

A Ghastly Loan.

Representative Bascom Slemp said in Richmond the other day:

"There's something ghastly about German resourcefulness, something that reminds me of Bill's silk hat.

"Bill was on his way to Joe's funeral in a resplendent silk hat. A friend also on the way to the funeral, met him and eyed the tile enviously.

"'Where did you get it, Bill?' he said. 'You don't own a tile—I know that.'

"'Sh!' said Bill. 'It's poor Joe's. I borrowed it off the widow.'"

Not Too Reformed.

"I heard Second-Story Bill killed Burglar Jim." "Yes; Jim called him a reformer."—Cartoons Magazine.

Maybe the "war lord" wore a steel helmet to protect his head from the shafts of common intelligence.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

Worst Part of It.

"Why do you waste your days and nights on these pictures?" asked the wife of a struggling painter. "You don't get enough for them to pay for the paint you use."

"I know, my dear," he answered, "but think! Rembrandt and others painted pictures and sold them for trifles, and now they are the masterpieces of this world and sell for a million dollars! I am not painting for us, I am painting for our descendants."

"Humph!" was the wife's discouraging reply. "You don't make enough for us to raise any descendants."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Father Dodged.

"I couldn't decide among my beaux so I sent 'em all to get father's consent."

"Well!"

"Now I'm worse off than ever. He gave his consent to every one of them."

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my housework."—Mrs. B. B. Zielinska, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. Josephine Kimble, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.

7 ARE KILLED IN CHICAGO RIOTING

Race Animosity Breaks Out in Windy City With Alarming Results.

5 BLACK, 2 WHITE DEAD

Troops Are Mobilized for Eventualities But Not Taken to Black Belt. —Fighting Spreads Over Large Area.

Chicago, July 29.—Seven persons were killed and more than two score injured, many of them seriously, in a renewal of race riots in the Chicago "black belt" last night.

For more than five hours the five-mile area on the south side was a battleground of scattered fights between whites and blacks, and between policemen and negroes, who fired from housetops, from dark alleys and other points of vantage.

The call for troops to quell the outbreaks resulted in four regiments of national guardsmen being mobilized, but at a late hour they had not been dispatched to the district, and Chief of Police Garrity expressed the belief that the worst of the disorder had passed.

Five of the dead are negroes and two are whites.

Riots Started on Lake Beaches.

The riots, which started on the south side beaches, were renewed when negro laborers began leaving the plants and by dusk more than a score of separate outbreaks had occurred. Whites began dragging negroes from street cars, the negroes retaliated with stones and knives.

A flying squadron of blacks mounted a touring car, and riding at full speed through the section known as "No Man's Land," sent a volley of shots at a group of whites. One white woman was injured, but not fatally. The negroes were overtaken after a long chase and placed under arrest.

Shortly afterward a mob of several hundred blacks formed at Thirty-fifth street and began stoning a policeman. In a twinkling gunfire was opened and four of the negroes fell, all mortally wounded.

A negro chauffeur was killed by whites a few minutes later in the same block. Scores of arrests were made but where the rioters were found to be unarmed they were released.

Negroes began looting stores of whites in one district shortly after the firing of revolvers by a squad of policemen in an effort to break up a fight over a small purchase of groceries. The police soon emptied their guns. The looting continued until a special squad of police, armed with rifles, arrived. They fired low, felling half a dozen blacks.

WILSON TO SUBMIT TREATY

Senate May Have Proposed Defense for Approval Soon.

Washington, July 29.—The special defense treaty with France, which Republican senators have declared President Wilson is withholding from the senate in violation of its own terms, probably will be submitted for ratification within a few days.

To a group of Democratic senators with whom he talked at the capitol the president indicated that the treaty which promises American aid to France in case of an unprovoked attack from Germany, would be laid before the senate before Mr. Wilson begins his country-wide speaking tour. It was said he probably would not present it in person, but would send with it a written message urging its ratification.

CHILD SLAYER IS INDICTED

Quick Trial Asked for Self-Confessed Chicago Murderer.

Chicago, July 28.—Within an hour after a coroner's jury had held Thomas Fitzgerald, confessed murder of six-year-old Janet Wilkinson, to the grand jury, the latter returned an indictment charging Fitzgerald with the murder and asking for a speedy trial.

Assistant States Attorney J. O'Brien said that as soon as counsel could be obtained for Fitzgerald, "we will be ready to try him." As yet no lawyer has offered his services to the slayer.

Fitzgerald has signed a written confession that he strangled Janet, a neighbor's child, to death last Tuesday.

Marine Strike Settled.

New York, July 29.—The strike which for about three weeks has tied up shipping along the Atlantic and Gulf seaboard was finally settled last night, when an agreement on wages was reached with the marine engineers. William S. Brown, national president of the engineers' union, immediately sent out orders to move ships without delay.

Chicago, July 29.—Street car employes last night voted to strike at 4 a. m. today, after refusing to ratify an agreement reached between representatives of the employes and employers. The agreement, representatives of both parties had thought, would avert a walkout of the men.

Rio de Janeiro, July 29.—Dr. Epitacio Pessoa was inaugurated tenth president of Brazil in the senate chamber at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Vice President Moreira administered the oath.

RUSSIA NEEDS U. S. SOLDIERS

So Says President Wilson in Response to Johnson Resolution.

GUARD SIBERIAN ROAD

"Vital Element in Sustaining Traffic," Says the President—Required by Agreement With Japan.

Washington, July 26.—President Wilson has informed the senate, in response to a resolution by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, that the presence of American troops in Siberia is a "vital element" in the restoration and maintenance of traffic on the Siberian railroad and under the agreement with Japan they can be withdrawn only when the American railway experts operating the road are withdrawn.

The president said Siberia could be protected from a further period of chaos and anarchy only by keeping the railroad open and, lacking the essentials of life, the people there were looking to the United States and the allies for economic assistance. This is being extended and additional supplies are to be sent forward.

Purpose Twofold.

The original purposes of the American military expedition, Mr. Wilson wrote, were twofold; the saving of the Czecho Slovak forces, and the steadying of the efforts of the Russians at self-defense or the establishment of law and order, in which they might be willing to accept assistance.

Major General Graves, commanding the expedition of 8,000 men, was specifically directed not to interfere in Russian affairs, the president said, but to support whenever necessary, John H. Stevens, American railway engineer, who is carrying out the work of rehabilitating the Siberian railroad under the direction of the inter-allied committee.

AIR MAIL MEN MAY STRIKE

U. S. Aeronauts Protest That Planes Are Unfit.

New York, July 26.—The strike of aerial mail pilots which went into effect yesterday has been called off pending conferences in Washington between Second Assistant Postmaster General Praeger and representatives of the strikers, it was announced by Superintendent Stanton of the eastern postal division prior to his departure for Washington in an airplane.

The proposed strike, the first of its kind in the country, followed the refusal of the postoffice department to reinstate two pilots discharged for refusing to take out planes Tuesday on account of the fog. Postoffices at Belmont Park, Long Island, the landing field for mail planes, stated that they had received instructions to give out no information concerning the aviators' action.

The pilots say that they complained on several occasions that the planes were poorly equipped for flying because of their high speed. They said they desired lighter and slower machines as in misty or foggy weather the visibility was so poor as to make high speed dangerous. The men declared that since July 15 no less than 15 accidents have occurred in which ten planes were demolished and two aviators killed.

JAP SITUATION MAY CLEAR

President Hopeful of Favorable Information Soon, Is Report.

Washington, July 26.—Diplomatic discussions with Japan over the Shantung provision in the peace treaty have reached a stage where President Wilson is reported as very hopeful of developments within a few days that will clear the air and remove much of the senate opposition.

This interpretation of the president's expectations was expressed by Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, after a long talk with Mr. Wilson. The senator declined to go into details and both the White House and the state department were silent on the subject. There were indications that the conversations with Japan, though quite informal in character, had as their object such a declaration from Tokio as would satisfy China and result in her acceptance of the treaty.

Patrick Cudahy Is Dead.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 26.—Patrick Cudahy of the Cudahy Packing company, Cudahy, Wis., died suddenly yesterday from an apoplectic stroke. His death removes the third of the Cudahy brothers, whose rise to wealth makes one of the most remarkable chapters in the history of western business.

To Probe Cause of Horgan's Death.

Fargo, July 26.—The manner in which Joseph E. Horgan came under the wheel of the traction engine which caused his death by crushing his skull Thursday night will be determined, it is expected, at the coroner's inquest. Several eye witnesses to the tragedy have been summoned to testify, and it is understood they will substantiate the statement of Frank Wheeler, a motorman, that an automobile struck Horgan and threw him under the wheel of the tractor.

FORGERY PLOT IN FEDERAL PRISON

Gigantic Swindle Operated From Within Walls of Fort Leavenworth.

SCORE UNDER ARREST

Subtreasury Checks and Checks on Private Concerns Printed in Prison Printing Office — Confession Reveals Amazing Plot.

Chicago.—An amazing story of forgery and counterfeiting carried on by a band of 25 men in the federal prison in Fort Leavenworth, was revealed in this city through the arrest of several of the participants.

The arrests, which were made after six weeks' work by Peter Drantzberg and W. G. Harper, assistants to Capt. Thomas I. Porter, chief of the Chicago district of the United States secret service, turned up the entire conspiracy.

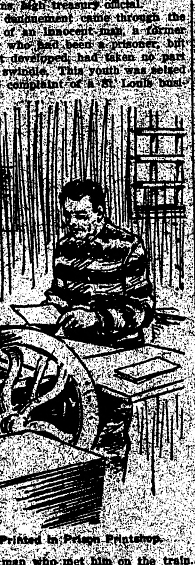
The forgery, from which perhaps $100,000 has been realized through the use of many names of prominence, involved the printing of 1,000 subtreasury checks, calling for $100 each, as well as checks on private concerns, such as the United Fruit company of New Orleans. The printing of these was done in the prison printing office at Fort Leavenworth.

Also Forged Letterheads.

In order to get paper on which to print the private checks the prisoners had to obtain supplies of the best bank paper. So they wrote for samples to the leading supply houses of the country.

On a large number of the phony checks the name "C. Skelton Williams" was written. These checks passed more readily than any, it being hastily assumed by the recipient that it was drawn at the instance of John Skelton Williams, high treasury official.

The denouement came through the arrest of an innocent man, a former soldier who had been a prisoner, but who, it developed, had taken no part in the swindle. This youth was seized on the complaint of a St. Louis business man who met him on the train. He was chummy and told all about himself to his chance acquaintance, and it was no trouble to find him in Chicago after the St. Louisan learned the check he had cashed was bogus.



Printed in Prison Printshop.

On being questioned by Drautzberg he convinced the operative he was innocent of actual complicity. While walking along the street with the youth after he had been freed Drautzberg opened a letter he had just received from Kansas City. A photograph dropped out.

"Why, that's Bob Jones," the youth said.

Grab the Star Trusty.

Drautzberg read the letter and it called for the arrest of Robert Jones as one of the ringleaders. The youth knew where Jones was and steered Drautzberg to him.

Jones had been a star trusty—he wore a star that passed him through all departments of the prison. After his arrest at 168 Hill street he confessed and implicated 15 to 20 men. Among these were Arthur Matheson, 1867 North Marshfield avenue; Alfonso Jones, a colored man, and Joe Wilson. They were all held in $10,000 bonds each.

The checks have been passed promiscuously in all parts of the country.

A dispatch from New York told of the arrest there of Ralph Vaszberg, a lieutenant, who, it was said, escaped in a major's uniform from Leavenworth and cashed forged checks in many cities.

Stole a Headstone.

Eugene, Ore.—For many years E. C. Lake, a Eugene marble worker, has had no door to his salesrooms, as he thought no one would steal tombstones. Recently he reported to the police that a headstone had been stolen. It was a stone without marking, and Lake said he believed the person who took it was preparing for a future decoration of his own grave.

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. If the irritation of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterling remedy which will prevent a return of the disease.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs.

They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health.

Processes Are Taught.

The decision of one of New York's retail stores to install a merchandise laboratory in which materials and workmanship were to be tested has shown such good results that, according to a representative of the store, the idea will probably be followed by other stores. Not only are the buyers present when tests are made, but the sales persons in the department handling the goods examined are also witnesses of the tests and the audience at the lecture accompanying the experiments. In this way the salespeople are acquainted with the processes used in manufacturing and are given an intelligent idea of the merchandise they are selling. This has increased their interest in the merchandise they are selling. This has been found, had very good results in placing their salesmanship on a higher plane.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloat, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

Couldn't Work

S. W. Bishop Was Laid Up By Kidney Trouble. Now Owes Good Health to Doan's.

"I owe my present good health, largely, to Doan's Kidney Pills," says S. W. Bishop, 5162 Kensington Ave., St. Louis, Mo. "I wasn't able to work. Sharp pains would catch me when I stooped or tried to lift anything, and at night the kidney secretions passed frequently and were scanty and painful. Specks seemed to be before my eyes and I would get dizzy. There was a puffiness under my eyes. I could see myself failing from day to day and I finally was laid up from June until September. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. I received relief with the first box and became stronger every day. I could sleep well at night and the kidney secretions were now of natural color. The dizziness and other troubles disappeared and I picked up in weight. After I had used four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I looked and felt like my old self. The cure seemed a miracle and I firmly believe that my life was saved by this remedy."

Minneapolis.—Sixty thousand dollars, the quota of Hennepin county and Minneapolis in the $300,000 Relief Fund agreed on by Governor Burnquist's committee for Fergus Falls' tornado sufferers, has been paid over in total by the War Chest of Hennepin county and Minneapolis. Hennepin county was enabled to make its payment promptly and without a campaign as a result of its Three Million Dollar War Chest raised last fall. There was included in the chest a fund sufficient to cover unexpected calls on the community for catastrophes such as the Tyler tornado and the forest fires in northern Minnesota.

When he landed, the aged passenger declared he never again would be satisfied with the more common forms of transportation.

Spanish Silk.

Four hundred years ago the silks of Seville, then the most famous in the world, were exported to all countries, for Spain was the first nation of western Europe to take up silk culture. The climate of Spain is excellent for this industry, and fine silk worms such as were employed when silk cultivation was at its height are available in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada, near Granada. This worm has a life of fifty days, during the first thirty of which it grows to many thousands of times its original size.

TAFT SUGGESTS PLAN TO RATIFY

Proposes Interpretations to Be Placed on League of Nations Covenant.

MIDDLE OF ROAD POLICY

Hopes It May Result in Adjustment of Differences Between President and Senate So Treaty May Be Adopted.

Washington, July 24.—A plan for interpretations in senate acceptance of the league of nations has been suggested by former President Taft in the hope of uniting on a middle ground enough Democratic and Republican senators to defeat any radical amendment of the covenant and in the end obtain its ratification.

The suggestion has been received with earnest consideration by the group of Republicans who favor the league idea, and who already are at work on a definite program of interpretative representations which they declare they have reason to believe will be accepted by the administration. The administration leaders, however, unwilling to concede that any reservations will be necessary, still insist they will have the votes when the time comes to ratify the covenant as it is.

Believes Wilson Will Accept.

So confident are the league Republicans of the success of their plan that some of them believe President Wilson will publicly accept it to smooth the way to acceptance of the league. Some Republican senators, who have seen the President in the last few days have come away from the White House with the impression that Mr. Wilson might not be adverse to such interpretations as would leave the league fabric unimpaired. They say, however, that this impression is not based on any direct statement by the president.

Letter Creates Sensation.

Mr. Taft's suggestion, which created a sensation in the senate because of his well known advocacy of unreserved ratification, was embodied in two letters to Will H. Hays, the Republican National chairman, copies of which reached some Republican senators. They touched upon many features of the treaty controversy and emphasized the former President's belief that only by acceptance of some reservations could the treaty be ratified.

SAYS MOONEY WAS 'FRAMED'

U. S. Agent Reports to House on Investigation of Case.

Washington, July 24.—Charges of labor leaders that Thomas J. Mooney was unjustly convicted for participation in the bomb outrage in San Francisco three years ago were supported in a report of John B. Densmore, special agent of the Department of Labor, submitted to the house in response to a resolution demanding more information on the case.

The prosecution was conducted without a real investigation of the crime, Mr. Densmore declared, and with deliberate intent to "frame" the labor leader.

WASHINGTON IS QUIET AGAIN

Hope Prevails That Race Riots Are at an End.

Washington, July 24.—Streets of the national capitol were patrolled again by a force of cavalry, infantry and marines numbering more than 2,000 men, no precaution being overlooked by the authorities against a renewed outbreak of the race riots which have occurred on four successive nights. Officials were hopeful that the comparative quiet which prevailed, marred by only one clash resulting in the killing of one white man and the fatal wounding of another by a negro, meant that the sudden blaze of race hatred had been extinguished.

VISIT FROM PRINCE OF WALES

To Be Guest of President and Will Also Go to Gotham.

London, July 24.—The Prince of Wales will visit the United States next month, as a guest of the American government. King George, on behalf of the prince, has accepted an invitation sent the prince by President Wilson to visit the President in Washington.

Locusts Harmful to Chickens.

The department of agriculture has recently issued a warning stating that serious losses may result from chickens eating too many locusts. The wings and legs of the locusts are quite indigestible, and are likely to obstruct the outlet of the crop in such a way as to cause the chickens to become crop-bound.

London Cabby's Gallantry.

A cabman was driving a very stout old lady one day, and had some difficulty in getting her in and out of the vehicle.

"I'm afraid I'm a bother to you," said she, as he was helping her out.

"Not a bit," answered cabby, meaning to be gallant. "I likes a fare what steadies the cab."—London Tit-Bits.

Unfortunate, Wasn't It?

It was the same old story. He had got the wrong number on the telephone.

Only this time he received a shock.

"I'm sorry I gave you the wrong line," said a sweet voice over the wire.

"It doesn't matter a bit," he replied not to be outdone in courtesy. "I'm sure the number you gave me was much better than the one I asked for; but it just happened that I wasn't able to use it."

There is nothing that contains so much food value is so digestible a form as a fresh egg.

Consoling Thought.

"I don't see how these motion picture actors can put up with the treatment they receive from that director."

"Why not?"

"When they spoil a scene he talks to them as if they were no better than the dirt beneath his feet."

"Oh, that might hurt the feelings of an ordinary person, but when a movie director raves, the actors can always maintain their composure by thinking of the salaries they get."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

TRAINMEN MAKE LARGE DEMANDS

Tripartite Management of Railroads Asked by Representatives of Engineers.

TO OVERHAUL PROFITS

American Labor Demands Take New Form With Development of New Plan Now Put Forward in Nation's Capital.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Organized labor came out yesterday with the unequivocal formal demand that private capital be retired from the railroads. A tripartite control composed of the public, the operating management and the employes is demanded instead.

Addressed to the American public, and signed by the engineers, firemen and conductors, a formal statement announcing this proposal will be carried before congress Wednesday.

To Overhaul System of Profits.

"It marks," says the statement, "the step by which organized labor passes from demands for wage increases to demands that the system of profits in industry be overhauled."

This sentence sums up in a few words the proposal of which there have been hints and indications, but which is now laid before the country for the first time. Everywhere in official Washington it is recognized as the most serious and far-reaching proposition the country will be called upon to face.

To Remedy Cost of Living.

Characterizing the proposal as "labor's bill" it is put forth as a remedy for the high cost of living, because the railroads are the key industry of the nation. It demands the "genuine co-operation and partnership based on a real community of interest and participation in control" of which President Wilson spoke to congress, and which the statement says has been ignored by labor and the private owners of the railroads.

Wall Street Eliminated.

"We ask," it says, "that the railroads of the United States be vested in the public, that those actually engaged in conducting that industry, not from Wall street, but from the railroad offices and yards and out on the railroad lines, shall take charge of the service for the public."

The trainmen are not represented in the statement because W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood, was out of the city, but it was said they join in it.

SHOPMEN ARE RARIN' TO GO

At Mass Meeting in St. Paul 3,000 Vote to Go Out on Strike.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 5.—Railroad shopmen of St. Paul voted last night to strike at 10 o'clock this morning with but few dissenting votes among 3,000 workers at a mass meeting held here.

Between 7,000 and 8,000 workers will join the walkout, union officials said, and the decision is expected to have an influence in other railroad centers in the northwest. Representatives from Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior and Hudson, Wis., attended the mass meeting. Several hundred men struck in the Great Northern shops but most of the men obeyed orders asking the men to stay at work until orders had been received from national headquarters.

The roads which have their shops in St. Paul are the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Omaha and Great Western.

Shopmen on the Milwaukee road at Sioux Falls, S. D., have struck, and the road is refusing perishable freight.

BAKER HAS DEFENSE PLAN

Bill Embodying War Department's Program Now Before Congress.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Maintenance of one field army with a war strength of 1,250,000 men is proposed in a bill establishing a permanent military policy which was sent to congress by Secretary Baker Monday.

The active force of this army would be 510,000 regulars while the remainder would be young men who had taken a three months' military training course which would be compulsory for all 19-year-old young men. This reserve strength would be used to fill out the twenty infantry divisions and one cavalry division into which it is proposed to divide the regular army.

The plans were embodied in a bill which represents the policy of the war department with respect to the peace time military establishment. Under the measure all special services built up during the war would be maintained as separate branches except the chemical warfare service which would be merged with the engineers corps.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLS TWO

Negro Party Near Hannah Proves a Fatal Affair.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 5.—Two transients are dead and three others, one of whom is not expected to live, are in a serious condition as the result of drinking wood alcohol at an informal party given at Hannah by a negro. The dead are John Parker, colored, who gave the party, and Tom Burns, a returned soldier, both of whom have been working the harvest fields.

HOUSE DEFERS AUGUST RECESS

Readily Grants President's Request to Battle Economic Problems.

TO PROBE H. C. OF L.

Demands of Railway Engineers for Increased Pay Will Also Have Attention of Solons—Daylight Law Is Up.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Developments yesterday in the efforts of the government to reduce the high cost of living were:

The house, at the request of President Wilson, agreed to defer its planned five weeks' recess and consider demands of railroad employes for increased wages.

The senate again discussed increased living costs, but postponed action on the Myers resolution proposing reduction in currency circulation.

The committee of three appointed to consider means of reducing living expenditures and report to the president and cabinet Monday, began work.

The national officers of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors conferred with President Wilson regarding increased wages and the cost of living.

Resolutions and bills designed to alleviate conditions of living were introduced in both houses of congress.

Of the half dozen important developments, however, the request of President Wilson that the house forego its recess at least temporarily, to consider wage requests of the railroad workers and to study economic conditions was by far the most unexpected.

The alacrity with which the house complied with the request of the president was taken as an indication of the deep impression made on members of congress by pleas for relief from all parts of the country.

Senate Renews "Daylight" Repeal.

The senate yesterday decided to have the proposal for repeal of the daylight saving law again run the gauntlet of President Wilson's veto. By a vote of 41 to 12 the senate passed and sent to the president the separate house bill repealing the daylight saving measure. The separate house bill was passed June 18, but action in the senate was suspended until yesterday, and in the interim the president vetoed the rider and the house was unable to enact it over the veto.

Bill Does Not Affect Time Zones.

The senate's action now places virtually similar repeal legislation again before the president. The only difference in the vetoed rider and the separate bill is that the latter would not interfere with standard zones of time.

KOLCHAK FORCES WAR WORN

Extreme Fatigue Reduces Morale of All-Russian Fighters.

Paris, Aug. 2.—The All-Russian government of Admiral Kolchak is preparing to move from Omsk to Irkutsk, Siberia, and the morale of the Kolchak army is becoming so bad that there is little hope of it regaining the territory recently lost to the Bolsheviki, according to dispatches received in Paris.

The dispatches indicate that general weariness, rather than Bolshevism, is weakening the Kolchak forces. The Czecho-Slovak troops, which were the backbone of Kolchak's army, have shared the general demobilization and most of them insist on returning to their newly established country, refusing to fight longer in Russia. Recently a "green army" of considerable dimensions was organized in Siberia as well as in European Russia. This army was recruited from both red and white armies and pledged itself not to fight any more, saying the world war was over.

N. D. TO GET SHORT CROP

Government Inspector Estimates State Wheat Crop One-Half Last Year's.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 2.—North Dakota's 1919 wheat crop will not total more than 50,000,000 bushels, an average yield of six to seven bushels per acre on the area of between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 acres of wheat planted last spring, according to an estimate made last night by P. F. Trowbridge, director of the North Dakota Experiment station.

The estimated yield of 50,000,000 bushels of wheat for North Dakota in 1919 is one-half of the yield for 1918 in this state, which was 99,190,000. The yield in 1917 was 56,000,000 and in 1916 39,325,000.

"The crop prospect was very good on July 1," said Dr. Trowbridge, "but black rust and the hot winds in the next few weeks greatly damaged the crops, especially wheat."

Worst conditions, he says, are found in the southwest part of the state.

Almost a Million in N. D. Bank.

Bismarck, Aug. 2.—Nearly a million dollars has been deposited in the Bank of North Dakota. This money is in part public funds and the remainder reserve deposits sent in by state depositories. Director General Cathro has received a number of letters from substantial banks of the twin cities and Chicago soliciting the eastern business of the bank. "We have opened connections with three Minneapolis and St. Paul institutions of the highest standing," he said.

ROOT RESISTS BAN ON BEER

Former Cabinet Member Writes Opinion as Attorney for Brewers.

O. K. AFTER JAN. 16

Until Constitutional Prohibition Is in Force, Brewers' Representative Claims Pending Law Are Invalid.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The war-time prohibition enforcement bill recently passed by the house and now pending before a senate committee, is unconstitutional, according to an opinion by Elihu Root, William D. Guthrie and Wm. L. Marbury, counsel for the United States Brewers' association, made public Saturday.

Not Good Before January 16.

This opinion holds that until the eighteenth amendment becomes effective on January 16, 1920, congress, under well settled rules of constitutional law, "has no express power to prohibit the manufacture and sale of beer, whether or not intoxicating." There is now no valid reason for the war-time prohibition act, the lawyers declare, and there is no evidence, they add, to support the claim that the proposed enforcement measure is necessary or proper to conserve the nation's food supply.

The opinion holds that the decision would not apply to pending legislation.

TWO SHOT IN POLICE RAID

Alleged Counterfeiter Dead and Detective Badly Wounded.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—James Hogan, leader of an alleged gang of counterfeiters, is dead and Paul Gottfried, St. Paul police detective, is in a hospital with four bullet wounds in his body as the result of a raid made on the Hogan home in the outskirts of Minneapolis. For several weeks a large number of counterfeit silver dollars have been placed in circulation in St. Paul and Minneapolis. Government officials working on the case obtained information which led to the belief that Hogan was connected with the gang and Walter Rowan, federal secret service man, accompanied by two St. Paul police detectives, went to Hogan's home to question him.

According to police, the detectives and secret service men rang the door bell and were met with a shower of bullets. Leaving one man at the front door, Gottfried and another man went to the rear of the house and gained entrance. In attempting to disarm James Hogan, Gottfried was shot by Harry Hogan, a son. In the fight which followed, the elder Hogan was killed, and the son escaped.

BELA KUN REGIME IS ENDED

Hungarian Soviets Deposed, According to Vienna Report.

Vienna, Aug. 4.—Hungary's soviet government experiment has ended, according to reports from Budapest. Bela Kun and the entire red cabinet have resigned. The move followed a conference of several hours, during which the commissaries decided that capitulation of the Bolshevik government was the only means of saving Hungary, due to the recent military defeats.

A socialist democrat coalition government is being founded under the leadership of Julius Peidl, who will be premier. The Hungarians have decided to give up the soviet system for good, according to the reports.

The new cabinet has issued a proclamation stating its main objects were negotiating with the allies and the maintenance of order.

DELICATE HINT FOR AUNTIES

Little Marian Cleverly Conveyed Reproof to Her Altogether Too Fastidious Relatives.

The two spinster aunties really did have a very beautiful house, but they were too particular about it to suit their small niece and nephew, who had become tired of being told to "be careful" in this room, and "don't touch anything" in that one.

And Marian decided very tactfully to let them know about it, too. So one day when she and her brother Billy were in the presence of their aunties she began a conversation on the subject of their future careers. After John had named his as that of a lawyer, Marian announced that she was going to be a school teacher like her aunties. "And Billy, since I'm going to be an old maid, I don't 'spect you'd better get married, either," she told him. "It would be awful hard on your children when they came to my house to be told to be careful so much."

TOO MUCH FOR THE OCULIST

That Kind of Shortsightedness Was Something for Which He Had No Cure.

A woman consulted an oculist about her husband's eyesight, saying she wanted a very strong pair of glasses for him.

"I fear I cannot recommend glasses without first seeing your husband," the oculist said.

"He won't come at any price," was the reply.

"Then tell me something about him. Can he see objects at a distance, or does he experience difficulty when reading? For instance, could he see that pigeon flying above us?"

"Rather," the woman said. "He'd spot a pigeon on the wing quicker than he'd see an airplane, especially if he'd got a bet on it. What I want yer to cure is his short sightedness when he's looking for a job. He's been lookin' for work for the last ten years and never got any to suit his fastidious eyesight yet."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Hibbing.—Mrs. Dan Bublich is in a serious condition at her home at Carson Lake with a bullet wound through her left lung. The police arrested her husband, charging him with firing the shot. The shooting is supposed to be the climax of a family quarrel.

East Grand Forks.—Considerable alarm has been caused among potato raisers here and in the immediate vicinity during the last few days because of the sudden appearance of the leaf-hopper, which did considerable damage in local potato fields last year.

Milaca.—A double wedding was celebrated here, the principals being Ward J. Strubie, postmaster of Mora, to Miss Amanda Hoaglund, who for some time past has been assisting at the postoffice, and Otto Hoaglund, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Milaca, and Miss Blanche Hay of this village.

St. Cloud.—Twenty-five quarts of whisky, Mrs. Mary Heeck reported, were stolen from her place of business, the New West hotel. Chief Brick has in custody a Joe Gallagher, who, according to his own statement, is from Pittsburgh, Pa., who tried to sell some liquor.

Wadena.—Rev. E. S. Murphy of St. Helen's Episcopal church received a call from the congregation at Detroit this week with an offer of a substantial increase in salary, Crookston to be served by him from Detroit. Rev. Murphy feels in duty bound to remain by this charge and therefore decided not to accept the call.

Crookston.—Residents in Crookston and in other towns in northwestern Minnesota are fearful of a milk shortage due to mosquito pest, which is worse this year than at any other time in recent years. The large number of heavy rains and the inundated lands are responsible for the heavy crop of mosquitos and farmers declare the pests are affecting their cows.

Owatonna.—Clark Chambers, former member of the Minnesota State Fair Board and owner of the site where the early Minnesota state fairs were held in Steele county, died at his home here. Mr. Chambers served as an aide to General Alex Chambers, his brother, during the Civil war, and was at one time member of the state prison board. He was 80 years old and had lived in Owatonna since 1859.

Nashwauk. — Another murder, the motive for which was robbery, has occurred on the Western Mesaba following closely on the heels of the Taconite tragedy. Zuerie Switich, 65, Serbian, employed at the Hawkins mine, was found shot dead with a bullet wound in his head in the La Rue location by miners going to work. It has been reported that he carried a large amount of money on his person, reports putting the amount as high as $2,500, and this, the authorities believe, prompted the crime.

St. Paul.—F. J. Bayle, district forest ranger on the north shore of Lake Superior, has advised State Forester Cox that the forest fire that raged some distance from Lutsen was controlled by the combined efforts of fifteen Alger-Smith railroad employes and a state force of fourteen men after a long, hard fight. "The fire ran over a good part of the section and burned out one-half mile of railroad track," the ranger wrote. It was along the line of the Alger-Smith Lumber company between Cramer and Knife River. Ranger Bayle said the railroad company will be asked to reimburse the state for the expense of fighting the fire.

Bemidji. — Congressman Knutson has written to Auditor A. D. Johnson of Beltrami county that the preliminary examination and survey of the Red Lake and Red Lake river from the outlet to the junction of the Red River of the North at Grand Forks has been submitted by the chief engineer to the secretary of war.

Mora.—The state railroad commission has ordered that within three months after June 20 the Great Northern Railway company provide stockyard facilities, consisting of a one-pen stockyard with loading chute, at the village of Quamba.

Not for Man's Wear.

He Was Learning.

An Indianapolis physician has a new office boy, who himself has ambitions to become a doctor. The other day a little girl came into the office and asked to see the doctor. "He isn't in just now," informed the boy, and in the conversation that followed asked her who was sick.

"My papa," answered the little girl. "And I just wanted some medicine for him. He isn't sick enough for the doctor to come to see him."

The office boy thought a minute. Then, "Is he insured?" he asked.

The little girl nodded that he was. The look of hesitation left the office boy's face. "All right!" he said. "I'll fix him some medicine."

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Horses under one year of age on farms in Canada averaged $56 a head in price in 1918 against $57 in 1917; horses one to less than three years old, $112, against $116 in 1917; and horses three years old and over, $162, against $167 in 1917.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

The Millionaire's Little Joke.

The millionaire was discussing with his gardeners the plans for his new grounds.

"On these terraces," he said, brushing aside his tie, because it hid a diamond stud, "we'll have five thousand weeping willows."

"Have you any preference as to how they shall be arranged?" asked the head gardener.

"The is only one way in which to plant weeping willows," said the merry plutocrat, "and that is in tiers."

Three gardeners fainted away, a chestnut tree burst into tears, and a little dog hid its head in a drain.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorous becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "* * * that the amount of phosphorous required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

NO ANARCHY IN FORD'S VIEWS

[illegible]

Prof. [illegible] then asked to run through the articles and interviews sponsored by Henry Ford and indicate the portions which would convince a critical examiner that Mr. Ford was not an anarchist.

The witness promptly pointed out numerous references to the government and to the use of the ballot which showed, he said, that Mr. Ford believed in the orderly processes of government and therefore could not be an anarchist. In no writing or interview, he said, could he find a single indication that Mr. Ford was an anarchist, either in the common or philosophical conception of that

MINNESOTA STATE [illegible]

Division of [illegible]

[illegible]

The Secretary of the Interior,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. Secretary:

I enclose herewith a copy of House Document No. [illegible], 66th Congress, 1st session, relative to the improvement of Red Lake and Red Lake river in Minnesota with the view of not only improving the same for navigation, but the reclamation by drainage of [illegible] acres of valuable land, [illegible] in the Red Lake Indian reservation, and 248,500 outside. The [illegible] cost to be apportioned against the land to be drained is only [illegible] and substantially all the lands within the Red Lake reservation which would be benefited by the improvement are today wild and unimproved.

Before this project can be undertaken the money must either be raised or secured. I understand public-spirited individuals in that vicinity are about to undertake the task of getting the water power companies and municipalities to contribute their share and to have drainage districts organized embracing the lands outside the reservation, in order that estimates may be made and the money secured to pay the shares apportioned. Of course in order to enable the reservation lands to contribute their share congressional action is necessary and this again would depend upon the [illegible] of the Interior department. I therefore, have the honor to urge upon your office to take this matter under consideration and to give it most careful attention, with the view to submitting to congress a recommendation on the subject.

In these times, when the subject of reclamation of unused lands is uppermost in the public mind, I hope the department will not overlook this opportunity to co-operate in the reclamation of about 500,000 acres of the richest land in the United States. The War Department Engineers, no doubt, have apportioned this cost in accordance with the benefits justly and fairly. I have already spoken to the Bureau of Indian Affairs officials, but they have so far given no indication of a disposition to take action. Presumably the reason for this is that the initiative should come from the office of the Secretary of the Interior. May I not, therefore, ask that this matter be given early attention.

Very respectively,
(Signed) Halvor Steenerson.

If the money expended on dredging Roseau river east of Duxby had been used to open the channel thru Kittson county and to Red river the drainage problem would have been largely solved.—Badger Herald.

Geo. P. Sanders, assistant county agent, and P. O. Anderson, forest ranger, were in town a couple of days this week. These gentlemen have their offices at Grygla and were here to see County Agent John Husby on official business.

The car of oats for the Red Cross finally arrived Wednesday and was distributed by Mr. Husby. Many were in town Friday and again on Monday and were greatly disappointed and inconvenienced by having to make the extra trips, also Mr. Husby was detained here several days and kept from his other work.

DEATH CLAIMS "IRONMASTER"

Andrew Carnegie, American Millionaire and Philanthropist, Dies at His Home.

HAD FAMOUS CAREER

Bronchial Pneumonia Cause of Death—Many Benevolences Mark Later Years of Eccentric Millionaire's Life.

Lenox, Mass., Aug. 12.—Andrew Carnegie died at his summer home, "Shadow Brook," here at 7 o'clock this morning. The cause of death was bronchial pneumonia.

Andrew Carnegie was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, Nov. 25, 1835.

Next to his fame as the "Steel King," Carnegie is undoubtedly most widely known through his remarkable list of public benefactions in the shape of libraries, museums and other worthy public objects, the total amount of which was estimated in 1910 at $150,000,000. His most noteworthy gifts were $80,000,000 for public libraries in the United States; $[illegible]000,000 for the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, Pa.; $15,000,000 for college professors' pensions; $10,000,000 for the Carnegie Institute in Washington, D. C.; $10,000,000 for libraries in foreign countries; $10,000,000 for Scotch universities; $5,000,000 for a Hero Fund in the United States, $1,250,000 for one in Scotland and $1,000,000 for one in France; $5,000,000 for Carnegie Steel company employes; $5,000,000 for Dunfermline (Scotland) endowment; $7,000,000 for Carnegie Technical Institute at Pittsburgh; $1,750,000 for Temple of Peace at The Hague; $1,500,000 for the Allied Engineering Societies in New York; $750,000 for a building for the Bureau of American Republics in Washington, D. C.; $20,000,000 to colleges in the United States; $20,000,000 in miscellaneous gifts in the United States, and $6,500,000 for the same in Europe. He has published several books on business and public affairs.

TO MAKE 'FAIR PRICE' LISTS

Attorney General Palmer to Educate Public on Living Costs.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Attorney General Palmer has started out to ascertain how much of the high cost of living is due to excessive profits by retailers.

In a telegram to all state food administrators who worked with Administrator Hoover during the war, the attorney general requested the appointment of a fair price committee in each county to investigate what is being charged for retail necessities and if in excess of what the committee considers just, to publish a list of fair prices for the guidance of the public.

"This is the 'extra legal' means of reaching profiteering which Mr. Palmer recently indicated was under consideration. He has frankly admitted from the start that there was no means to prosecute directly a man guilty of extortion in prices. Retailers who are gouging the ultimate consumer will have to be disciplined by public sentiment, which officials have no doubt is sufficiently alert to the situation now to act vigorously. Hoarders can be reached through the war time food laws or the Sherman act, and Mr. Palmer requested the state food administrators to transmit to him any evidence of hoarding or other violations of the law which they might encounter in their work, with the promise that the government would act promptly.

PEACE LEADERS ALTER VIEWS

Attitude Toward Rumanian Occupation of Budapest Now Changed.

Paris, Aug. 12.—The peace conference, it became known today, is changing entirely its attitude toward the Rumanian army in Budapest. The conference, it is learned, is not disposed to ask the Rumanians to leave the Hungarian capital immediately, despite the fact that the supreme interallied council asked the Rumanians not to enter Budapest.

"We are at a loss to understand why the allies and the Americans above all should criticise Rumania for its action in defeating the Bolshevik in Hungary," said Nicholas Misu of the Rumanian peace delegation.

"We feel that we have done the peace conference and the entire world a service by giving the Hungarians an opportunity to set up a republican government. Furthermore, we were forced to march against Budapest in self defense. Hungary attacked us and the Bolsheviki threatened to overwhelm us from two sides. For tactical reasons we had to advance beyond the armistice limits fixed between us and the Hungarians.

Fifth Negro Dies From Drinking Bout.

Hannah, N. D., Aug. 12.—Joe Morrow, one of the participants in the wood alcohol drinking bout staged here last Sunday night, died Thursday as the fifth victim of the tragedy. Late Saturday a coroner's jury decided that Morrow's death was caused by wood alcohol poisoning. The jury sternly censured drug dispensers for being negligent in the handling of denaturalized spirits, and made an urgent recommendation that existing laws be enforced to the letter.

WILSON TACKLES HIGH LIVING COST

In Frank Talk to Congress Many Causes and Suggested Remedies Are Named.

OPPOSED TO STRIKES

Extensive Remedial Legislation Urged by President Includes Licensing System for Dealers—Continuance of Food Control.

Washington, Aug. 9.—President Wilson has laid several specific proposals before congress for checking the high cost of living but at the same time has declared permanent results cannot be expected until peace is fully restored.

Present prices are not justified, but were created in many instances artificially and deliberately by "vicious practices," he said. Retailers were responsible in large part for extortionate prices.

Strikes Make Matters Worse.

Strikes, the president warned the labor world, would only make matters worse, and those who sought to employ threats or coercion were only "preparing their own destruction."

Leaders of organized labor, he said, he was sure would presently yield to second sober thought.

Present Practices "Criminal."

"Illegal" and "criminal" were the words the president used in characterizing the methods by which some present-day prices have been brought about.

License System Urged.

Present laws, he said, would be energetically employed to the limit to force food hoarders and meet the situation as far as possible, but in the supplement of the existing statutes he specifically urged the following:

Licensing of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce with specific regulations designed to secure competitive selling and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing.

Extension of food control act to peace times and the application of its provisions against hoarding fuel, clothing and other necessities of life as well as food.

A penalty in the food control act for profiteering.

Regulate Cold Storage.

A law regulating cold storage, limiting the time during which goods may be held. Prescribing a method of disposing of them if held beyond the permitted period and requiring that when released goods bear the date of storage.

Laws requiring the goods released from storage for interstate commerce bear the selling prices at which they went into storage and requiring that all goods destined for interstate commerce bear the price at which they left the hands of the producer.

Enactment of the pending bill for the control of security issues.

Additional appropriations for government agencies which can supply the public information of prices charged by retailers.

Early Ratification.

Early ratification of the peace treaty so that the free processes of supply and demand can operate.

The limiting and controlling of wheat shipments and credits to facilitate the purchase of which in such a way as not to raise but rather to lower the price of bread at home.

Sale of surplus stocks of foods and clothing in the hands of the government. The [illegible] withdrawal from storage and sales of surplus stocks in private hands.

General recommendations included:

Increase of production.

Careful buying by housewives.

Fair dealing with the people on the part of the producers, middlemen and merchants.

That there be no threats and undue insistence upon the interest of a single class.

Correction of many things in the relations between capital and labor in respect to wages and conditions of labor.

In concluding, the president made a plea for deliberate, intelligent action, reminding congress that an unbalanced world was looking to the United States.

"We, and we almost alone," he said, "now hold the world steady. Upon our steadfastness and self possession depend the affairs of nations everywhere. It is in this supreme crisis—this crisis for all mankind—that America must prove her mettle."

No Wide Curtailment Likely.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Officials of the railroad administration declared that no nation-wide curtailment of passenger traffic, as a result of the shopmen's strike, is in contemplation. Discontinuance of 128 trains has been authorized by the different railroads.

Hines Awaits Return of Shopmen.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Director General Hines awaits the return of all striking shopmen to work before undertaking to carry out instructions to settle the wage controversy on its merits. Until the men have returned the line of procedure will not be discussed. Two main points to be considered in the investigation, however, are whether living costs have advanced beyond previous wage increase and whether wages now paid are proportionate to those paid in other industries for the same class of work.

NO THREATS IN PLUMB'S PLAN

Congress Not to Be Coerced By Strikes or Violence, Say Brotherhood Men.

FIGHT ON 'PRIVILEGE'

Without Forcing Other Industries, Except and "Public and Employes Desire It," Scheme Requires That Private Grants Cease.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Organized labor will not attempt to impose the Plumb plan for control on other industries unless the public and the employes desire it, and its fight for public ownership of utilities will not stop until it has reached that point where "grant and privilege cease."

This was the message delivered by Glenn E. Plumb, speaking as labor's representative to the house interstate commerce commission which for three days has been holding hearings on tripartite control of the transportation systems.

Denies Threats of Violence.

Plumb denied charges that the railroad brotherhoods had attempted by threats of violence or strikes to force congress to adopt his plan for control of the railroads by the public, operating officials and employes.

The denial was made in a statement signed by the heads of the fifteen brotherhoods.

"We unite in a definite assertion that we have no design and have had none," said the statement, and Plumb, who paraphrased it, "to impress upon the public by violence, or by threat, our proposal that the railroads be nationalized under tripartite control."

Labor would be blind to its own interests, Plumb added with emphasis, if it attempted such methods.

Cites Postal Management.

Plumb cited the case of the post office department, the only great industry politically managed, and said its efficiency would be greatly increased if the employes had a voice in its management, or if it were operated under the democratic principles of this bill.

It would be absurd, he declared, to suggest farmers might come forward with a demand for tripartite control, but if they wanted it and the public said so, they should have it.

SHOPMEN VOTE TO STAY OUT

Twin City Workers, as Well as Men in Chicago, Want Strike to Go On.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 11.—Striking railroad shopmen of Minneapolis, who quit work last Monday to enforce wage increase demands, voted to remain on strike at a mass meeting at the Parade, Saturday. Their action was a negative answer to requests from President Wilson and national officers of their union that they return to work pending the wage conference.

The St. Paul shopmen at a meeting in the St. Paul Auditorium voted to continue the strike.

In Chicago, representatives of the district council of shopmen's unions which called a strike in defiance of international officers, dominated conferences at which some of the international officers sought to have the men return to work in obedience to the wishes of President Wilson.

The council sent a telegram to the president stating that unless some concession has been made the attitude of the men would be unchanged and they would remain on strike.

A SUMMER COLD

A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of a cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of Boschee's Syrup handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boschee's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. Keep it handy.—Adv.

Friends Gave Her Up

Mrs. Hoffman's Recovery From Dropsy a Surprise. She Used Doan's.

"I was in dreadful shape," says Mrs. W. B. Hoffman, [illegible] Oakley Ave., Hammond, Ill. "There was a sickening pain across the small of my back and when I stooped over, knife-like twinges nearly drove me wild. I had large puffs under my eyes and my body bloated badly all over. My feet were swollen to twice their natural size and the skin looked shiny. When I pressed it down, it left a dent there and I knew I was bad off with dropsy. "My friends didn't think I would live very long. I doctored with three different physicians and they didn't help me and I was discouraged. Nobody knows the torture I went through.

"I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and I was cured. I felt fine. As the swelling went down, my appetite picked up and I was soon perfectly healthy. My color came back and people said I looked as well as ever. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

STATE BREVITIES

St. Paul.—The annual meeting of the Great Northern railroad will take place here Oct. 9, and it is said, will be one of the most important meetings ever held by the stockholders and directors of that railroad.

Hibbing.—Farm exhibits at the St. Louis county fair here Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1 (Labor Day), this year will surpass any ever made as the favorable weather has brought out some of the finest crops ever seen in these parts.

St. Cloud.—Twelve hours after he had escaped from the state reformatory here, John Johnson, an inmate serving a ten-year sentence on a charge of forgery, was apprehended at Rice. He had served only six months of his time.

Red Wing.—Nels Neseth, 65, section foreman of Zumbrota, while riding on a railroad motorcar on the Great Western road, near Zumbrota, was killed when the vehicle left the tracks, tipping over on him. He is survived by a widow and six children.

Virginia.—With a taxable valuation of $17,037,000 and no bonded indebtedness, Virginia is believed in the record class of cities of the country, as evidenced by the report laid before the city council by W. T. Townes, who audited the city books and incidentally complimented the Queen City.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist has indicated that his announcement of the date of the proposed special session of the legislature may not be issued until the state legal department has given an opinion on the question of the power of the state calamity board to deal with an impending forest fire menace.

St. Paul.—Another call for the maximum allowance of $1,700 for entertainment of Minnesota soldiers and sailors reaching New York city during August and for maintenance of the Minnesota desk in the Hall of States in that city was made on the state public safety commission by Secretary Charles P. Berkey and honored by Governor Burnquist as chairman and H. W. Libby, secretary of the commission.

New Ulm.—Over 200 farmers from Brown, Nicollet, Renville, Redwood, Blue Earth, Le Sueur, Scott and other counties bordering along the Minnesota river, went on record in meeting here favoring an assessment of at least 25 cents per acre on overflowed lands to secure funds to finance a movement to in some manner secure abatement of the damage caused by the occasional overflow of the Minnesota river.

Minneapolis.—Marines in the northwest who belonged to the famous Fifth and Sixth regiments, which stopped the Germans at the gateway to Paris and began the drive which resulted in the ending of the war six months later, will take part in a big review and parade at the Minnesota state fair on Thursday, Sept. 4, which is Soldiers', Sailors' and Marines' day. It is expected that at least 3,000 marines will march.

Pine City.—Ben Soule, his wife and two children residing near Princeton, were caught under an automobile in which they were riding near here, when the machine turned turtle. The accident was caused by the car running into a deep rut. Occupants of another car which came along shortly after the accident, released the victims. Soule and his wife were considerably bruised, but the children escaped with a shaking up.

Minneapolis.—Practically all the wounded soldiers who have been under treatment at Base Hospital 29, Fort Snelling, have been discharged or moved to other military hospitals. The work of the Bureau of Camp Service and the Red Cross field Director will continue in such measure as may be required by the units of infantry which are to be placed in barracks at the Fort. The fate of the Red Cross Convalescent House is a matter of considerable discussion among both Red Cross and military authorities.

St. Paul.—Reduction of the Minnesota National Guard as recently ordered by the war department will be considered by the state military board. Disbanding of the negro battalion of the Minnesota Home Guard, Gen. Rhinow said, is probable when the State Public Safety commission passes out of existence. The announcement followed the positive refusal of the militia bureau to authorize the continuance of the organization, composed of St. Paul and Minneapolis companies, as a unit of the new National Guard.

St. Paul.—The severe drouth in the west, particularly in Montana, Wyoming and Idaho, has created a demand from all agricultural sections for the surplus hay. The U. S. department of agriculture has requested the Minnesota state department of agriculture to ascertain as thoroughly as possible the hay surplus of Minnesota. The plan adopted is to take listings of the hay on hand and for sale either in the stack or in the field, together with a statement of the tonnage, kind, quality and price. These listings are then turned over by the department to the regular hay dealers and also to such relief committees or buying associations or individuals as may have been in the market for Minnesota hay.

Moose Lake.—Army worms are operating extensively west of this village. A black worm of from one to three inches in length infests a field and over night destroys a big tract, cutting the stalk next to the head. The Commercial club has wired for help and County Agent Johnson is on the job doing his best to check the pest.

Crookston.—The board of directors of the Polk County Improvement association, organized at Crookston June 9, has about completed plans for launching a definite program for the promotion of good roads in Polk county that it is expected will bear fruit.

Bemidji.—It is expected that by Oct. 1, a community market will be in operation.

Bemidji.—The town of Northern has let a contract for the erection of a new $30,000 consolidated school building.

Hibbing.—About 100 shopmen in the Great Northern branch shops at Kelly Lake and the Missabe shops at Mitchell have gone out.

Crookston.—William Benham, negro, 55, janitor in the United States post-office here, and his wife are the only two negroes in the city.

Moorhead.—O. C. Beck, after conducting a furniture store in Moorhead for thirty-five years, retired from business, when he sold out to Leo Johnson.

Virginia.—Mrs. Margaret Osonich, convicted of blindpigging, must spend ninety days in the county jail, being unable to pay her fine. She is the mother of eight children.

Glyndon.—The county commissioners of Clay county will meet at Downer soon as a road committee to consider the petition for a direct road from Barnesville to Glyndon.

East Grand Forks.—Prospects for an abundant corn yield this year are the very best, according to business men in the city who have just returned from a tour throughout the adjacent country.

Stillwater.—The Civic club has decided to co-operate with the Washington county Agricultural association toward holding a county fair here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25, 26 and 27.

Moorhead.—A movement for the erection of a steel and concrete bridge across the Red river connecting Front street, Moorhead, and N. P. avenue, Fargo, has been inaugurated by the Moorhead city council.

Dilworth.—A watermelon feast here cost Amie Zappa and John Barone $18.50. They were two of five men arrested on a charge of stealing three watermelons from a car in the Northern Pacific yards here.

Mora.—The Kanabec County Fair association will give $5,000 in premiums for exhibits at the fair to open here Aug. 25. An airplane has been engaged for three days and Walter Bullock will make flights.

Grand Marais.—A. J. McGuire, dairy specialist of the state agricultural extension division, will visit Cook county the week of Aug. 18-23. He will speak at meetings of the county farm bureau at Tofte, Rosebush and Hovland.

Red Wing.—Most of Margaret Olmsted's scalp was torn from her head when she was drying her hair before the flywheel of a gasoline engine near Bennion. Hospital physicians here sewed the scalp back into place.

Moorhead.—Mrs. Minnie Wright, known also as Minnie Foss, a prominent witness in the Sheffield murder trial, obtained a divorce in the Clay county district court from Lyle Wright, whom she married on Sept. 12, 1917.

Moorhead.—Concordia college of Moorhead will have a football team this fall, it has been announced by Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, president of the college, who added that A. M. Sattre would again be in charge of athletics at the college.

New Ulm.—Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, will be the principal speaker at a soldiers' homecoming celebration here Aug. 20. The celebration also will mark the turn of warfare in favor of the white people in the Indian massacres of August, 1862, at Fort Ridgley.

Center City.—At the annual meeting of the Pine-Chisago-Kanabec Counties Bar association held here the old officers were re-elected as follows: J. D. Markham of Rush City, president; S. G. L. Roberts, Pine City, vice president; J. C. Pope, Mora, treasurer, and W. H. Lamson of Hinckley, secretary.

St. Paul.—Regulations against excessive charges for hay and corn, unaccountable stock losses and other possible abuses at the stockyards in Minnesota were promised shippers by the state railroad and warehouse commission at an initial conference at the capitol, establishing a commission control of stockyards.

Grand Rapids.—Itasca county authorities arrested Mrs. Nick Stupar and brought her to the county jail here on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Bude Cevetich, miner, but are not disposed to say much about the charge against her. It is said that Cevetich was last seen talking to Mrs. Stupar and that it was in her pigpen that the revolver and other things were found and that a trail of blood led from a shed belonging to the Stupars to where the body was found.

Crookston.—The exciting career of Clarence Stout, 24, a farmer formerly living near here, came to a prosaic ending with his application for a license to marry Johanna Hulst, 15, with whom he eloped to Des Moines to be brought back to Crookston after living in Iowa and posing as the girl's husband. After being convicted on a charge of abduction, Stout drank a vial of carbolic acid in an attempt to commit suicide when the parents of Johanna Hulst forbade his seeing her. He was then judged insane and taken to the asylum at Fergus Falls. He was discharged from that institution as cured and applied for a license to marry with the sanction of R. B. Stout, his father, and Rudolph Hulst, the father of the girl.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist has returned to St. Paul after more than two weeks' stay on his farm near Clinton. He exhibited tan and blisters on his hands as evidence that he was not merely directing the harvest. The crop on his farm, he said, will not be as big as that last year. Wheat is affected by black rust, he said, but the corn and other crops give good promise.

Thief River Falls.—The Livestock Breeders' association and Pennington County Fair association offer $30 in premium money for a Boys' and Girls' dairy judging contest.

BOY WINS LIFE BY POKER GAME

Stephen Scanlan Relates Hair-Raising Experience While in Mexico.

USE CORN FOR MONEY

Falls Into Hands of Martin Lopez, Most Bloodthirsty of Villa's Followers—Happy to Be Back in United States.

El Paso, Texas.—Stephen Scanlan, 16 years old, is the youngest soldier of fortune.

Steve has just tasted all the hair-breadth escape and "bite-the-dust" adventure you hoped to experience when you were his age and were thrilling to the dare-devil feats of Diamond Dick, Handsome Harry and Wild Bill.

Steve lives to tell how he played poker with Martin Lopez, most bloodthirsty of Villa's followers:

How he narrowly escaped execution against a 'dobe wall—

How he scouted for the Mexican federal troops, and—

How he was held by bandits.

All this below the Rio Grande whither he had wandered in search of adventure when he ran away from his home town, the tame city of Providence, R. I.

Mexico Appeals to Adventurer.

Young Scanlan had read much about Mexico, and decided that was the country for him. Making his way to El Paso, he evaded the soldier and immigration authorities on both sides of the line, riding across the Rio Grande in a box car.

From Juarez he went south on a Carranzista troop train, and at Meoqui he got his first thrill.

Villistas threatened to attack the train. When the bandits retreated Scanlan volunteered to sneak after them and do a bit of scouting for the federals. By way of appreciation, the federals boarded the train, leaving him to the mercies of the military police of the little town. He was being taken to jail as a Villista suspect when an interpreter happened along and secured the boy's release.

Rejoining the troops, Scanlan eventually arrived at Parral.

With an American boy's proper pride, Steve refused to act as a servant to a captain, and the officer in a rage threw the youngster against a 'dobe wall and had drawn his gun to shoot him when soldier friends interceded.

Then came the battle of May 4, in which the Villistas drove the Carranza garrison from Parral.

Steve was captured by Martin Lopez, the Villista tiger man.

Was he afraid? He was not. When the battle was over, the boy calmly proposed a game of poker with the bandit chief. It struck Lopez as amusing. He admired the lad's cool courage.

"Sit down," he laughed uproariously, slapping his thigh and commanding his soldiers to gather round. "Here's a gringo boy who would play the great game with Lopez."

Used Corn for Money.

Kernels of corn were used instead of money. Lopez lost several pecks of corn—and his admiration for the American boy grew.

In this way Steve won his release from the bandits.

He concluded he had enough thrills to last him for a time, and started hiking the long trail back to the border. An American mining man gave him some money. He worked a little, here and there. A few days ago he reached El Paso—sunburned, in rags, penniless but happy.

Just a plain American kid who had the nerve to go out and get the adventure which you, gentlemen, got second hand from the thumb-marked pages of "Wild Bill."

Now he's on his way back to that tame, respectable Providence to tell the other kids about it.

Grow Wheat in Western Canada
One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre—land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Governments of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising.

Though Western Canada offers land at such low figures, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain.

Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of markets; free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements).

For particulars as to location of lands for sale, maps, illustrated literature, reduced railway rates, etc., apply to Supt. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or

After The Flood

Happenings In and About The Flooded Districts

Mr. Durgin of Minneapolis, a special Red Cross agent from the Division Headquarters, was in town Monday with Mr. Johnson who has been here looking after the Red Cross work in the flooded districts.

As a result of their visit the Red Cross will establish an office here in the old Farmers State Bank building and a stenographer will be employed, who will have charge of the office when Mr. Johnson is working in the country.

Mr. Johnson went to Grygla from here, where he will visit the flooded district with the assistant county agent, Mr. Sanders, whose office is in that village.

J. A. Lindsay, state highway engineer, was here Wednesday and in company with Jno. Sorum went over the state road to Golden Valley to see what repairs were needed.

As a result of their visit the repair work has already commenced on the bridge in Mud Lake which was in a dangerous condition.

Mr. Lindsay reports they will not be able to get any road work done this year, as it takes a long time to get all the plans passed upon and approved.

The State Highway Engineer wants 25 good men and teams to haul gravel on the state road between Warren and Stephen. The pay will be $8.00 a day, but the board for man and team is to be deducted from this amount.

The work may continue all winter. Anyone wanting a job like this should notify the State Highway Engineer or County Agent at once, or call at this office.

Homesteaders in the flooded districts can get leave of absence for a year or less by applying to the land office at Crookston. One or more witnesses will be required and an affadavit made of all the facts in the case which makes it necessary for the homesteaders to move in order to make a living.

Any further particulars desired will be furnished as far as possible by this office.

County Agent Jno. Husby and the Red Cross Agent, Mr. Johnson worked hard for three days last week in distributing the car of oats shipped here by the Red Cross. Many farmers who lost all their feed by the floods were given temporary help to enable them to put up hay and do some plowing.

Mrs. Ole Larson and baby went to T. R. Falls last week Thursday to visit her sister, Mesdames Arthur and Leonard Johnson, until the country dries up enough so they can move onto their own place.

If the matter is handled rightly, it seems as tho the legislature would make an appropriation to help the flood sufferers thru the winter and until another crop can be raised.

The county commissioners have made an appropriation of $500.00 for the repairing of roads and bridges in Mud Lake township.

People in the flooded districts should have their cattle vaccinated as there is a sickness already appearing there.

Miss Hilda Brekke returned Tuesday from Dakota to see after her homestead in Mud Lake.

After The Flood

Happenings In and About The Flooded Districts

Mr. Dargis of Minneapolis, a special Red Cross agent from the Division Headquarters, was in town Monday with Mr. Johnson who has been here looking after the Red Cross work in the flooded districts.

As a result of their visit the Red Cross will establish an office here in the old Farmers State Bank building and a stenographer will be employed, who will have charge of the office when Mr. Johnson is working in the country.

Mr. Johnson went to Grygla from here, where he will visit the flooded district with the assistant county agent, Mr. Sanders, whose office is in that village.

J. A. Lindsay, state highway engineer, was here Wednesday and in company with Jno. Sorum went over the state road to Golden Valley to see what repairs were needed.

The county commissioners have made an appropriation of $500.00 for the repairing of roads and bridges in Mud Lake township.

People in the flooded districts should have their cattle vaccinated as there is a sickness already appearing there.

U. S. ENDEAVORS TO SAVE AIRMEN

Payment of Ransom Authorized to Mexican Bandits Who Detained Airmen.

SITUATION IS ACUTE

Severe Strain Placed on Diplomatic Relations by Outrage Following Close on Promise of Protection.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 19.—Assurances were anxiously awaited along the border tonight of the safety of Lieutenants Paul H. Davis and Harold G. Peterson, held by Mexican bandits for $15,000 ransom.

The payment of the money, authorized by the United States government is understood to have been made to an agent of the bandits at or near Candelaria, Tex. The two army fliers are being held prisoner south of the Mexican border opposite Candelaria, it was stated, but what arrangements had been made to follow the payment of the ransom fund at Candelaria, or how soon the two officers might be expected at the border, was not announced.

Money Advanced by Cowboys.

The money was taken to Candelaria today by H. M. Fennell of Marfa under a United States army military guard. The fund was raised last night at a cowboy camp meeting in the Big Bend district, but the subscriptions will be returned to the donors, it was announced, following receipt of authorization from Major General Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the Southern department, to foot the ransom bill.

Aviators on Lookout.

Aviators on detached service at Big Bend also left Marfa for Candelaria, presumably to keep a lookout for their returning comrades.

The commander at Juarez has been served by American Consul A. E. Dow with the request of the state department for the immediate release of the aviators.

Diplomatic Situation Is Delicate.

The results of the outrage to American airmen intensifies the delicacy of the international situation existing between the United States and Mexico following a previous American protest and the receipt of President Carranza's promise of full protection. Officials at Washington, it is said, have declined to make statements for the present.

NEW LABOR PARTY PLANNED

Initial Steps Taken for Organization to Represent Six Million Men.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Initial steps in the organization of a national labor party were taken here yesterday at a conference of representatives of labor organizations of several states. A temporary executive committee was named to issue a call for a convention to be held in Chicago in November and to set a definite date. Officials of the conference said that the party expected 2,500 and 3,000 delegates at the convention. A constitution and platform will be formulated at that meeting, and a decision as to what candidates will be entered in the 1920 campaign also will be made.

Represents Many Workers.

The basis of representation to the convention as decided yesterday was one delegate to each central labor body, of which there are 760 in the United States, and one delegate for 500 members of all labor party groups and all local unions.

The new party will represent the six million members of organized labor in the United States.

SUBWAY STRIKE CALLED OFF

Agreement Reached Gives Men Twenty Per Cent Increase.

New York, Aug. 19.—The strike which for two days has paralyzed subway and elevated systems in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens, was formally called off last night by a vote of the strikers to accept a compromise offered them at a conference of city and state officials this afternoon.

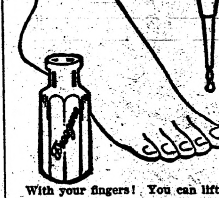
Under the terms of settlement the men will receive a wage increase of 20 per cent, and it is provided that the question of whether they shall receive the additional 25 per cent demanded by them shall be submitted to arbitration.

Pershing Starts Home Soon.

Paris, Aug. 19.—General Pershing is expected to return from Italy next Friday and will start for home September 1, leaving less than four thousand American soldiers in Europe. Pershing left for Italy Friday night. German prisoners captured by American forces will be held until the peace treaty is ratified by congress.

War Cost Britain $200,000,000,000.

London, Aug. 19.—Prime Minister Lloyd George in the house of commons said that the war cost Great Britain $200,000,000,000 and increased its war debt from $3,205,000,000 to $39,000,000,000. The war expenditure, he said, was devoted largely to purposes of destruction. The only way to meet the increased burden is to increase production. Mr. George declared the most outstanding fact of Britain's present situation to be an alarming adverse trade balance.



Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Belgium Recuperating.

The rapid growth of the railway services in Belgium is helping restore normal conditions in that country, which was regarded as having among the best means of communication before the war. At the beginning of December, 1918, Belgium had available only 305 cars with a tonnage of 3,700. At the beginning of June, 1919, Belgium had in service 9,104 cars with a tonnage of 123,361. Now 1,056 freight trains run daily in Belgium.

Agitation for a plebiscite in Dutch Limburg under the direction of the League of Nations is going on in Belgium, where expressions in favor of this movement are being made by every commune under the leadership of the committee on national politics. They set forth that the Belgians in Dutch Limburg are in the majority and never were Dutch.

Giving a Guess.

"What's this?" asked one, as they gazed at the zebra.

"Must be a war horse with service stripes."

Deduction.

"What's a polyclinic, Jim?"

"I don't know exactly, but I guess it's a hospital for parrots."

ALLIGATOR HAS GOOD POINTS

South Carolina Newspaper Gives Some Reasons Why Indiscriminate Killing Should Be Stopped.

The alligator is another good citizen whose usefulness is overlooked, for killing alligators has been from time immemorial a popular pastime. In Louisiana it was found that when the alligators were killed off the muskrats multiplied and destroyed the levees; also the cotton-mouth moccasin, the garfish and the carp increased wonderfully. Whereupon protection was given to the alligators. This lacertilian, to give him his correct family name, has probably kept the muskrat away from the South Carolina coast, for the muskrat is unknown on the coast. If allowed to multiply the alligator will make inroads on the carp, the garfish and the cotton-mouth, all undesirable members of our fauna. The sum total of the alligator's evil doing amounts to this: He catches a dog now and then; once in a long while pulls a hog or bites the tail off a cow, for sundry stump-tailed cows along the Atlantic Coast Line right of way have met misfortune in this way. The cow, the dog and the hog are out of place when the alligator can get at them; but at best very little of this happens.—Charleston News and Courier.

The Reminiscent Fraction.

"I suppose I'm getting to be a back number," remarked Uncle Bill Bottletop sadly.

"What number?" inquired the village wag.

"I haven't thought about that. I guess it's about two and seventy-five hundredths."

Rather Neat.

"I object to admitting the plaintiff's ankles as evidence."

"On what grounds?"

"Ahem! Your honor, this is a breach of promise suit and I don't want my client's judgment to appear at fault in passing up a pair like that."

Warned Her.

"Where are you going?" asked the butcher's wife.

"I'm going out to get some butter."

"Well, say—don't buy it at that store across from my place. The man over there borrowed my scales this morning."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Watch-Cigar Cutter.

A combination watch and cigar cutter is a new novelty just brought out for the man's pocket.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Imitations Are Dangerous.

AN OHIO druggist writes to "The Practical Druggist," a prominent New York Drug Journal, as follows: "Please furnish formula for Castoria. All the formulas I have worked with are either ineffective or disagreeable to administer."

To this "The Practical Druggist" replies: "We do not supply formulas for proprietary articles. We couldn't if we wanted to. Your experience with imitative formulas is not surprising, but just what is to be expected. When Castoria is wanted, why not supply the genuine? If you make a substitute, it is not fair or right to label it Castoria. We can give you all sorts of laxative preparations for children, but not Castoria, and we think a mother who asks for Castoria would not feel kindly toward you if you gave her your own product under such a name."

No mother with a spark of affection for her child will overlook the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when buying Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel somewhat improved continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

Nothing but Trouble.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorous becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1916, says: "* * * that the amount of phosphorous required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

Women Dry Fish Nets.

It would appear that every line of labor is open to women. They are now seen on the wharves in Portland, Maine, as gill-net spoolers. Each day, after a trip to the fishing grounds, the gill-nets have to be dried, and these reels are so arranged that the nets lie across them and are wound up similar to a piece of thread on a spool; in fact, they are gigantic spools. One reel will hold a great many nets, which are ready for use again in twenty-four hours. Women are now doing this sort of work. Many of them are wives of local fishermen. They receive fifty cents for each box of gill-nets they spread on the reel. The women average from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Getting Madder All the Time.

Bobby noticed that his friend Johnny was sitting on little Willie's neck, while the latter was faced to the ground in a helpless position.

"What are you sitting on Willie for?" demanded Bobby.

"Oh, I'm just going to sit on him till I count a hundred, 'cause my mamma told me to always count a hundred when you are angry before striking anyone, and I don't want him to get away."

Contentment.

Perfect contentment kills all ambition. No small boy licking an ice cream cone would change places with the president of the United States during that glad few minutes.

WIFE GAVE HIM INSPIRATION

Author, at His Wit's End for Plot, Got Excellent Idea From His Better Half.

How the idea of a new book was suggested in an unexpected manner to the author is told by William J. Locke in "The Rough Road."

"One evening a couple of months after I had finished 'The Red Planet,' I was tearing my hair and saying that this time I really had come to the end of things and would never again have the ghost of an idea for another book, when my wife, who was sitting on the divan in the drawing room playing unconcernedly with our little Pekinese—she had heard this cry of wolf so many times before—addressed this little beast—I love him dearly, by the way—in the maudlin tone of which we both are guilty: 'Why doesn't he write a nice book about you, darling?' Whereupon I clapped my hand to my forehead and cried: 'I will! I'll write a story about a man brought up like that dog and pitched into the war!' And I went straight into my study and set to work on the scheme."

Belgium After the War.

Statistical students of the cost of living in Brussels show that for necessities the price of which may be designated as 100 in April, 1914, Brussels paid 699 in January, 1919, or nearly a sevenfold increase. There has been a constant drop since January, reaching 564 in February, 403 in March, 344 in April and 333 in May, 1919. Articles not necessities have come down from 615 in January to 406 in May, and clothing, shoes, coal and light represented by 516 in January, have dropped to 351 in May.

Stung.

Harry and Grace each received a nickel with which to buy candy. They hurried down the street to a little shop, where the tempting array of chocolates in the window and the inviting sign, "The Busy Bee," above the door, lured them within. They made their purchases and left. Once out on the sidewalk, Harry held up his sack, in which rattled wee particles of candy.

"Busy Bee," he snorted. "No wonder they call it that if everybody who goes in there gets stung like we did."—Indianapolis News.

Lonely Job.

"You want to get away from people," said the doctor wisely. "Your nerves are in a badly shattered condition. You must get somewhere you will be entirely alone."

"Alone!" exclaimed the patient. "You have me wrong doctor. I'm a night watchman."

Dry.

"He has a fund of dry humor."

"Better book him for some of our future banquets."

"There's a Reason"

STATE BREVITIES

Mankato.—Mankato Lodge of Elks voted $300 to the home service campaign fund of the Salvation Army.

Wadena.—The blueberry crop alone in Wadena county this year is conservatively estimated to be worth over $100,000.

Detroit.—The skeleton of a man was unearthed in a sandpit near Detroit, owned by Joseph Ames of Fargo. The Becker county coroner was notified.

Minneapolis.—Ira Montgomery, a returned soldier, of St. Paul, was elected agricultural agent for Hennepin county by the executive committee of the county farm bureau.

East Grand Forks.—Two men entered the home of John Dokken, 219 International avenue, having previously called Mrs. Dokken from the house on a fake errand, but took nothing.

Stillwater.—Dr. William A. Caine, landed a trout of the German brown variety that weighed just exactly seven pounds. The big trout was caught at Sand Creek, a common, ordinary fly being used.

Brainerd.—Reports are current here that young ducks are being shot out of season at Rice Bed 33, near Ironton. Sportsmen are exasperated and will seek the deputy game warden's aid to put a stop to it.

Thief River Falls.—Eleven-year-old Allen Sorenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sorenson, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg just below the knee while attending the fair, when run over by an automobile.

Moorhead.—Thirty-four owners who operated their cars without tail lights were arrested. There were also four arrests for drunkenness, and three for disorderly conduct in the same time. Judge L. D. Evans imposed fines amounting to $181.80.

Moorhead.—Walter Peterson, alleged I. W. W. organizer, who was carrying a 32-caliber revolver, and George Grier, who was armed with a 45-caliber Colt, were held to the Clay county grand jury by Judge L. D. Evans.

St. Cloud.—St. Cloud's population has grown to approximately 20,000 during the past few years, according to an estimate made by the publisher of the biennial directory. This is an increase of about 25 per cent in the last three years.

Hibbing.—Edward Hirschbach, traveling salesman, was killed and William Thomas, his companion, had his leg broken in an auto accident south of town, when the car made a sharp turn, throwing both men out, Hirschbach sweeping along the ground for about twenty feet, his scalp being torn off and skull fractured. He was dead when picked up.

Bemidji.—The Bemidji Townsite & Improvement company, said to be delinquent on payment of taxes since 1912 on 650 lots, got out a restraining order for the city to show cause before Judge Stanton, why its property should be sold for delinquent taxes after being illegally assessed, as the company claimed, in 1912, by the board of equalization, which raised the assessment 10 per cent.

St. Paul.—The first lease of state land at one cent an acre under the offer by State Auditor J. A. O. Preus to attract stockmen from drouth stricken Western states to good pastures on Northern Minnesota cut-over land has been made. George H. Crosby, of Crosby, paid $6 rental on a 600 acre tract of state land near that town for a Western stockman who will pasture sheep there. The rental was asked by the auditor to comply with the law and was paid by Mr. Crosby that the Western stockman might use the land without cost.

University Farm.—Minnesota owes its prestige as a corn state largely to the advance made in the selection of seed corn. "Fifty years ago," says Andrew Boss, vice director of the Minnesota experiment station, "only a little corn was grown in Minnesota. Flint corns and a few early dents were brought from the New Egnland states and gradually became adapted to the soil and climate. Continued selection of the earliest kinds of dent has developed varieties that are pretty sure to ripen even in a short season. In this way the corn belt has been extended from the southeastern corner of the state to the northwestern corner."

University Farm.—"More corn is now grown in the farthest northwest county of the state, Kittson, than was grown 50 years ago in the southeasternmost county of the state, Houston," says Andrew Ross, vice director of the Minnesota Experiment Station. "Corn with deeper kernels, more rows and better yielding habits has been developed. A steady increase in livestock raising has made farming more profitable. The fertility of worn out soils has been restored and employment given to the farmer's labor. Besides, cultivation of corn has meant cleaner farms through the subjugation of weeds. The result is a much more remunerative farm. Time devoted to the adaptation of a variety of corn to local environments is almost sure to result in larger yields of better corn and greater profits from farming."

Red Lake Falls.—A new Catholic church and a priest's residence will be erected at Dorothy station on the Northern Pacific, according to the board of trustees, James Hance, Leon Huot, and Rev. Fr. Lemay, who have asked for bids for the construction of the buildings, the material to be furnished by the parish.

Crookston.—Carl, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fiedler, Lincoln avenue, who was struck by an automobile driven by William Arnold, owner of the Standard garage, a week ago, and seriously injured, is improving rapidly, having regained consciousness.

Bemidji.—Bemidji local, No. 2192, Carpenters' union, established a union minimum scale of wages commencing this week, the scale to be 65 cents per hour.

Bemidji.—Rev. A. M. Whitby and family have gone to Madelia, Minn., on a month's vacation before going to Duluth, where Rev. Whitby has accepted a call.

Sauk Rapids.—The continued absence of Donald Campbell, 14-year-old Sauk Rapids boy, who mysteriously disappeared fourteen days ago, has caused increasing anxiety at his home.

Moorhead.—Bids for the basement of the new high school building will be opened by the Moorhead board of education on Sept. 9. The call for bids was issued at a meeting of the board.

Minneapolis.—Where necessary Red Cross chapters have extended money relief to the families of soldiers, drawing upon the funds collected locally. In May $9,874.94 was thus expended in Minnesota.

Hastings.—Dr. R. H. Wald, who went overseas twenty months ago as a regimental surgeon attached to the Thirty-fifth division with the rank of captain, has returned home a major, having been promoted while in the service.

Marshall.—Wabasso and Redwood Falls will fight out the county seat matter at the polls. The county board of Redwood county has set the date for the election, which has been petitioned for by more than half the voters of the county.

Crookston.—The town of Higdem has raised its full quota in the Salvation Army drive. The towns of Garden and Onstad came in early with very good reports and their subscriptions, while not quite coming up to the quota allotted, were very liberal.

St. Cloud.—Edward Schrelarecki, 15, of Sauk Rapids appeared before Judge Roeser on a charge of stealing a $50 Liberty bond from his employer, William Demo, and was put on probation for six months on the condition that during that time he could pay back the amount of the bond to the owner.

Moose Lake.—Army worms have played havoc among some crops in Carlton county, especially those west of town. On the farm of John E. Johnson's the worms had completely eradicated one oat field and tackled a potato patch. The ground and shocks of grain was literally covered with the worms.

Mora.—Army worms got into a field of millet on the Elliott stock farm and within a few days entirely cleaned out the forty-acre field and threatened to do serious damage in adjoining corn fields. State division of entomology was notified and immediate steps were taken to confine the pest to that field by plowing around it.

St. Cloud.—Onie E. Edgcomb, arrested early in June on a charge of forgery and held in the county jail since that time, pleaded guilty and got an indeterminate sentence. Edgcomb forged a check of $25, passing the check on Milton Guthmann of the Blommer-Guthmann firm. The crime was committed on July 3.

Minneapolis.—Harry W. Jones of Minneapolis, district vocational officer of the rehabilitation division, Federal Board for Vocational Education, for the district comprising Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, has severed his connection with the federal board. While his resignation becomes effective at once, Mr. Jones has informed the Washington office of the board that he will assist his successor in getting the rehabilitation work at district headquarters organized.

Minneapolis.—Red Cross Home Service has been organized to assist families of soldiers and sailors when it was found there was need to combat anxiety, to safeguard health, to give legal protection, to promote education, to assist in employment, to give encouragement to disabled soldiers on their return, and to assist them and their families during the period of their retraining for civilian life. The continuation of Home Service and the extension of its responsibilities are included in the peace-time program of the Red Cross.

Minneapolis.—In one month prohibition trebled the consumption of soft drinks in Minnesota, it was revealed in the tax receipt figures collected in the state, made public by E. J. Lynch, collector of internal revenue for this district. The receipts on soft drinks last month were $181,867.25, compared with $60,617.73 in June. The July receipts on soft drinks came near being as large as the receipts from the tax of $3 a barrel on beer in July, 1918, which netted $222,111 in Minnesota. There was no tax on soft drinks and the so-called "near beer" a year ago.

St. Paul.—Children's clinics are now afforded by the Minnesota Public Health association in every county in Minnesota, it was announced by Dr. H. W. Hill, executive secretary. These clinics were previously the Baby and Infant Welfare clinics conducted by the State Board of Health but discontinued due to the failure of the last session of the Legislature to appropriate funds. The association has made arrangements with the Northwestern Pediatric society by which that body and the public health association will have joint supervision of all children's clinics in the state.

St. Cloud.—This city paid tribute to one of its most illustrious citizens, when Rev. Leo Gans celebrated high mass of requiem at the cathedral for the late Colin Francis Macdonald, nestor of Minnesota editors and for sixty-three years a resident of the state, who died in his 76th year. Business was suspended during the funeral. The funeral procession was led by the McKelvy post of the G. A. R., comrades of Mr. Macdonald. There were escorts from the St. Cloud court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, the Knights of Columbus and the St. Cloud Business Men's association.

What Father Missed.

I had been married almost a year and knew all of my husbands's peeple except his father, who lived in another town and who is fond of a joke.

One day we received word that he would arrive on a certain train, so several of my husband's relatives went with us to meet him. While waiting one of them suggested that they point him out to me and that I should meet him alone.

When the train arrived they saw him and told me he was wearing a gray overcoat and soft hat. I, thinking I had the right one, in fun rushed out, threw both arms around him, and gave him a big kiss, only to find my father-in-law with the rest when I returned.—Exchange.

I often had dizzy spells when everything would turn black before me. My father, a doctor, who was visiting me from Utah, said he would get something for me. When he brought it it was Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and four boxes completely cured me."

Display of Ribbon.

When the war started and Gen. Peyton March, chief of staff, first appeared before the senate military committee in connection with military legislation, he wore a single ribbon on his coat, denoting his campaigns in the army. Now, together with ribbons denoting foreign decorations as well as some given him in this country, together with service bars, he has three rows of them over the left-hand pocket, and if placed in a row would measure nearly two feet.

His Idea of Bigness.

During the examinations at the close of school, the fourth-grade teacher asked her history class to name the five most important men of the recent war. Is it Possible to Legislate Life and Brains?

Swift & Company is primarily an organization of men, not a collection of brick, mortar, and machinery.

Packing Plants, their equipment and usefulness are only outward symbols of the intelligence, life-long experience, and right purpose of the men who compose the organization and of those who direct it.

Will not Government direction of the packing industry, now contemplated by Congress, take over the empty husk of physical property and equipment and sacrifice the initiative, experience and devotion of these men, which is the life itself of the industry?

What legislation, what political adroitness could replace such life and brains, once driven out?

Death From Cat's Bite.

A cat bit him and Levi Kurtz, a Pennsylvania farmer, died. He found a cat chasing his chickens and tried to seize the animal, which buried its teeth in his hand. The cat would not let go and a neighbor chopped its head off. Hydrophobia developed some weeks later and treatment at the Pasteur institute, Pittsburgh, was unavailing.

Useful Portable Saw.

The portable circular saw, attachable to any lamp socket and capable of doing much of the hand saw's work, is not the least of recent labor-saving devices. Such a tool, self-contained, weighs only 12 pounds, has three and one-quarter inch-blades, and consists of a sliding cylindrical base carrying the blade and a one-quarter horsepower motor having a speed of 12,000 revolutions per minute. Special gauges insure accurate cross-cut or rip-saw work. The tool is guided by an ordinary saw handle, a push button controls the operation, and a suitable guard gives it safety.

Thus Typist Prays.

While in a certain government office recently Sir Evan Jones, the British transport chairman, overheard the following dialogue between two fair typewriter tappers:

"Rather! Why, I typed so many letters yesterday that last night I finished my prayers with 'Yours truly.'"—Vancouver (B. C.) Province.

"I have four sisters already," he replied bitterly, "four grown sisters and life is a hideous burden. But, oh, Clare," he went on passionately, "if you cannot be my wife, will you not give me a home and a mother's protective love? I am an orphan."—Pearson's Weekly.

STATE BREVITIES

Two Harbors.—C. E. Campton has again been appointed superintendent of the city schools by the board of education.

Windom. — The school board at Mountain Lake has let the contract for a $38,000 school building and work on the structure will be commenced within the next few weeks.

St. Cloud.—Several additional miles of paving in St. Cloud will be considered soon by the city commission. Plans for laying the sewer and water mains already have been made.

Marshall.—A post of the American legion has been formed here and officers will be elected as soon as the charter is received. The name chosen for the post is "Luther I. Snapp post."

Brainerd.—A sale of 160 acres of land in Long Lake township, south of Brainerd, was sold by C. E. Peabody for $160 an acre. The land is broken, but is unfenced and has no buildings.

Brainerd.—When an automobile, belonging to Earl Clemencer here, broke out in flames in Lum Park, the occupants ran the machine in to a lake and saved the car from total destruction.

Grand Rapids.—Itasca county is in favor of good roads. This was demonstrated when the proposal to issue $2,000,000 in bonds for county roads was carried at a recent election by a large majority.

Tyler.—At a mass meeting of citizens here it was decided to erect a modern hospital building, replacing the one which was destroyed by the tornado a year ago. A structure costing more than $30,000 is planned.

Red Wing.—Following the death of Vincent Kelly from injuries sustained in an automobile wreck at Cannon Falls, George Tiedeman, Mobridge, S. D., driver of the car in which Kelly was riding, was arrested by Sheriff Anderson on a warrant charging him with manslaughter in the second degree.

St. Paul.—More than 500 delegates from Minnesota towns will attend the state Fire Prevention congress, September 25, in St. Paul, it was estimated at a committee meeting. Delegates will include fire department members attending a school of instruction during the week with city officials.

Bemidji.—Thomas W. Swenson of Bemidji has been appointed as census supervisor of the sixth district, which includes these counties: Aitkin, Beltrami, Benton, Cass, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Morrison, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd and Wadena. The population for the eleven counties in 1910 was 191,616.

Duluth.—William Kumpulu, alleged I. W. W. agitator and draft evader, has confessed he murdered and robbed Jacob Carlson, in his store at Markham, June 15, according to a telegram received by Sheriff Magie of St. Louis county, from Deputy Sheriff Troyer, who went to Oakes, N. D., to bring Kumpulu back here.

Tracy.—Rev. Walter Johnsboy has received notices of appointment to a fellowship in the board of education of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America. The fellowship carries the largest stipend which the board can award and may be used at any university. Rev. Mr. Johnsboy received a scholarship from Harvard last spring in Semetic languages.

Wahkon.—Mille Lacs county now boasts of six consolidated schools. Wahkon, Milaca and Cove availed themselves of the law several years ago. Onamia came in four years ago. Isle is entitled to the privileges of a consolidated school as soon as proper buildings are provided, and the Princeton school was recently approved by the state department as a consolidated school.

Chisholm.—Myrtle Bartol, 5-year-old daughter of Anton Bartol, a business man of this village, was struck and instantly killed by an automobile owned and driven by William Rowe, master mechanic of the Oliver Iron Mining company at Hibbing. Witnesses state that Rowe was driving at a speed not in excess of eight or ten miles per hour and that the child ran from the sidewalk directly in front of the car.

St. Peter.—A. Bornemann, former mayor of this city, and Merritt Hill, son of a Traverse farmer, were seriously injured when the car in which they were driving, crashed into the front of a locomotive of a passenger train on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, a mile west from here. Ira Smith, a Traverse farmer, driver of the car, was not seriously hurt. This is the third accident of this nature at the same point within three months.

New Ulm.—Open-air dancing, concerts and community singing brought to a close New Ulm's three-days' homecoming celebration in honor of returned service men. A parade, in which soldiers, sailors and marines participated, with floats depicting historical scenes since the settlement of the community, preceded a banquet given by residents of the county. Sports and musical events were held in the afternoon. Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, spoke.

Wadena.—The local potato market opened strong, with quotations at $1.20 per bushel, field run.

Brainerd.—The number of tourists traveling through the city is large. They are coming by train and automobiles.

Baudette. — A meeting has been called by several farmers of this section for the purpose of organizing a farmers' insurance company.

International Falls.—At the state land sale held here, approximately 1,000 acres were sold. The sale was conducted by the county auditor.

Marshall.—Miss Marry McMann was electrocuted when she grasped an uncovered electric wire, while connecting the current with an electric toaster.

Stillwater.—The Washington county Poultry association decided to hold the next annual exhibit on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 20, 21, 22 and 23.

Crookston.—The high cost of living will be investigated in Polk county as a result of orders received by O. K. Berget, county food administrator from Attorney General Palmer.

Grand Rapids.—John Pierson, who is employed at the Itasca hospital was made happy by the arrival from Sweden of his wife and five children, whom he has not seen for over eight years.

International Falls.—Rev. Knutson and family have departed for Portland, Ore., where they will make their home. Mr. Knutson was pastor of the local Norwegian church for several years.

Brainerd.—Tony Bohlke of Hubert accidentally collided with a cow near the Peasely farm corner on the Merrifield road, coming upon a herd in the dark. His car had radiator and lamps badly damaged.

Brainerd.—A committee of labor men are arranging the Labor day program. This year the farmers are to be taken into the celebration and they have a committee of farmers arranging for their part in it.

Stillwater.—Miss Pity Wyman, a young girl living here, was drowned in Lake St. Croix near here, on the Wisconsin side of the lake. Attempts of Miss Lila Hill, also a Stillwater resident, to save Miss Wyman failed. The body was recovered.

Bemidji.—The lowest bid on the general contract exceeding the $100,000 fund available, proposals opened on contracts for the proposed women's dormitory at the Bemidji state normal school probably will be rejected by the state board of control. These bids rejected, the plans and specifications probably will be revised and new proposals invited.

Mora.—Eight children were left parentless when Andy Backlund, a resident of Kanabec county for the past thirty-nine years, died at his home in Comfort township, after a lingering illness, at the age of 45. He was born June 27, 1874, at Arvdahl, Sweden, and when but 6 years of age, came with his parents to this county. Mrs. Backlund died last February.

St. Paul.—Homing pigeons were enlisted by the state forestry service in the fight to safeguard Northern Minnesota against the forest fire menace. While other states have adopted airplanes and other new devices to combat forest fire dangers, Minnesota is the first to plan to use carrier pigeons in the protection campaign, W. T. Cox, state forester, said, after buying three pairs of the birds.

St. Paul.—Newly perfected gas may be used by government experts to smother peat fires now burning stubbornly in Northern Minnesota bogs. Following reports of the successful use of gas to smother fires in Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal mines, W. T. Cox, state forester, has asked the Federal bureau of mines to consider experiments with similar gases on fires in Minnesota peat beds.

Keewatin.—Some Nashwauk young men whose names did not develop were arrested charged with running down a child in the Patrick location. It is said they speeded away towards Pengilly leaving the child crying in the street, but their machine went "dead," and police easily arrested them. The child is in serious condition, and the men are held pending the outcome of the injuries.

Thief River Falls.—The breaking of the scaffold on which they were working on a silo caused Clarence Roese and William Gilbertson, carpenters to fall thirty feet at a farm one mile south of Hazel. Both of the young men were employed in building a silo and were shingling the roof when the board snapped. The two men went down, Gilbertson suffering two cracked ribs. Roese escaped with bruises.

Ely.—The fires in the Snowbank and Clear Water lakes district are now out and the rangers in charge of the fire fighting crews have returned. The carelessness of some camper or berry picker has cost the government over $5,000 for fighting fire left by them and which bid fair to destroy a large amount of territory in addition to that already destroyed. A crew of six men is being kept on watch for incipient blazes that might develop.

Sensitiveness of Plants.

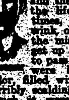
When rain is about to fall the clover shuts its leaves, bringing two of its three leaves face to face and folding the third over the top. The young blossoms are also carefully sheltered by inclosing leaves which move forward in the evening and wrap them round.

Cruelty in Training Birds.

Performing birds are often taught by starvation. How many are aware that the pretty doves that fly when released to the bespangled artists, and form themselves into geometrical patterns on her head and outstretched arms, are often the sole survivors of hundreds which have been starved and then only fed when they perched upon an exact spot on the owner's arms.

Honoring the Great Dead.

We honor our heroic and patriotic dead as being true men, by faithfully fighting the battles of our day as they fought the battles of their day.—David Gregg.



COULD NOT SLEEP

Mr. Schleusner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schleusner, 6408 Suburban Ave., Wellston, Mo. "One morning when shoeing a horse I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions that were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediment and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were afire. The pain brought stupor and a reeling sensation in my head; the torture of it cannot be described. If I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head ached so it seemed as though my eyes were being drawn out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all the trouble."

Giant Apricot Tree.

On the Muir fruit ranch, between Van Nuys and Lankershim, is the largest apricot tree in the world, in the opinion of J. W. Grimes, a well known figure in the fruit industry, who inspected the arboreal giant last week, the Los Angeles Times said recently. It is thirty-five years old.

The tree, measured by Mr. Grimes and G. A. Hubaker, was found to be fifty-four and a half inches in circumference at a point two and a half feet from the ground. It is twenty-five feet high. Mr. Grimes is said to have visited almost every fruit-growing region in California and has made a special study of apricots.

Already Occupied.

Harold and his mother had been on a journey and on coming home stopped at a hotel. When they had retired they found the bed full of bedbugs. They summoned the landlady and asked her for another room, whereupon she said: "Why, I didn't know there was a single bedbug here." "No," replied Harold, "they's all married and has got families."—Chicago American.

He is a very facetious young man who has paid court to a Hoosier schoolteacher for several years. Now he has formed the habit of often coming after her in his machine, and while he waits for her he amuses himself by teasing the boys. "Oh, of course—some day," laughed the man. "Didn't you fellows know that I was a regular shark at putting off things?"

The boy was provoked. "Yes, we know it, and so does Miss W——." He gave the other boys a significant look. "If you weren't that, we'd have a new teacher some day."—Indianapolis News.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Came to this Woman after Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Restore Her Health

Ellensburg, Wash.—"After I was married I was not well for a long time and a good deal of the time was not able to go about. Our greatest desire was to have a child in our home and one day my husband came back from town with a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wanted me to try it. It brought relief from my troubles. I improved in health so I could do my housework; we now have a little one, all of which I owe to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. O. S. Johnson, R. No. 3, Ellensburg, Wash.

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in most cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of 40 years experience is at your service.

Wonderful Persian Shawl.

Mrs. Bernard E. Grace, a collector of St. Louis, submitted a rare Persian shawl at the New York Metropolitan museum. The owner had traced its history back 163 years. The shawl is eleven feet by four feet, worked in long flowing designs of the palm leaf and the River of Life with the stories of the mosques. The predominating colors are mellowed garnets and brown, with alternating sheens of steel gray and rusty brown. A Washington expert to whom the shawl was shown said its make-up probably represented the lifetime of the weavers.

PEACE BEFORE WAGE DECISION

This Is Policy of the Administration, President Tells Railway Shopmen.

ALLOWS 4-CENT BOOST

Cooperation of All Classes Will Be Necessary Condition of Wise Adjustments, Says Executive in Talk to the Men.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Postponement of the settlement of wage demands until normal economic conditions are restored is announced by President Wilson as the policy which the administration will pursue in dealing with such questions, particularly those affecting railroad workers.

The president announced also that it was neither a wise nor feasible thing at this time, when the most important question before the country is a return to a normal price level, to increase freight rates to provide funds for higher wages.

"It is the duty of every citizen to insist on a truce in such contests until intelligent settlements can be made and made by peace and effective and common counsel. I appeal to my fellow citizens of every employment to cooperate in insisting upon and maintaining such a truce."

Four Cent Boost Granted.

The decision of the president was announced to a committee of one hundred, representing the railroad shopmen, were asked to accept an adjustment to the basis of ten hours' pay for eight hours' work, which they contended was given other employes and denied them, when the Adamson law became effective. This means an advance of the basic pay from 68 cents to 72 cents an hour.

In view of the delay of the railroad administration board on wages and working conditions in reporting on demands of the shopmen, Director General Hines recommended that the new rate of pay be made retroactive from May, although the board's report was made July 16, the date of report generally being taken as the retroactive date.

TROOPS BACK; BANDIT SLAIN

All Punitive Expedition Troops Now Again on American Soil.

Marfa, Tex., Aug. 26.—The American cavalry border patrol last night rested in home stations along the border between Presidio and Hester's ranch after six days spent in Mexico in pursuit of the bandits who kidnapped and held for ransom two American aviators.

With the reported killing of Jesus Renteria, leader of the bandits and four other bandits, capture of nine more by Mexicans, and arrest of six suspects by the Americans, Major J. P. Yancey said the fourth punitive expedition into Mexico had accomplished its object of clearing away the bandits from the section of Mexico just below the border from the Big Bend district.

Tomorrow the troops will resume their patrol duty along the Rio Grande.

Major Yancey told the Associated Press that he considered authentic the report that Jesus Renteria, bandit leader, had been shot and killed from an American airplane last Tuesday.

The bandit was slain at a point 15 miles south of Candelaria in Navarette canyon.

N. D. YOUTH KILLED IN FALL

Brian Karr of Jamestown Victim of Accident to Airplane.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 26.—Brian Karr, 19, of Jamestown, son of Alex Karr, who as editor of Community Life has offices in this city, was killed and Lieutenant Edward Axberg of Enderlin was injured at Sutton Sunday afternoon, when an airplane, in which they were flying dropped 1200 feet to the ground.

Karr died an hour and a half after the accident. His legs broken and his body all twisted from the terrific crash, the young man never regained consciousness.

The accident is said to have been due to failure of the machine to readjust itself rightly after a "tail spin" attempted among a series of stunts which the boys had performed.

Frazier upon his return from the governor's conference at Salt Lake City. The appointees are M. J. Foreign Relations Committee Is Now Considering Amendments to Pact.

MAY REPORT MONDAY

Early Conclusions Predicted by Senator Hitchcock—Some Republicans Concur—Senator Lodge Declines to Express Opinion.

Washington, Aug. 23.—In a determined effort to report the peace treaty before the end of next week the senate foreign relations committee suddenly interrupted its public hearings yesterday and arranged to go to work today on proposed amendments and reservations. Members thought Monday might be the last hearing before the bill was reported. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the Democratic leader, declared his belief that the report would be laid before the senate before the end of the coming week and asserted that he had been assured the Republicans would cooperate to that end. Some Republican members agreed with his prediction but Chairman Lodge declined to say when he thought the committee would act.

To Go Over Plans.

Late yesterday plans to expedite the consideration of amendments were discussed at a conference of Republican members of the committee and they will go over the subject again tomorrow morning, before the committee session begins. It is likely that among the first amendments to be voted will be one to strike out the articles giving Japan control in Shantung province. The story of the negotiations resulting in the Shantung provision was told the committee by Prof. F. T. Williams, who was technical adviser to the American peace delegation. He said he had strongly objected to the settlement reached and thought the American delegates should not have assented to it.

BANDIT CHASE SLOWED UP

General Dickman May Pay Balance of Ransom to Rebel Chief.

Marfa, Tex., Aug. 23.—Little progress was made yesterday by the American expedition below the border in Mexico. It was reported by airplane that no more bandits had been located, but the troops are expected to move to a new base south of the one used since they left the border Tuesday morning and to resume intensive operations today.

That an effort would be made later to pay the remain $6,500 ransom to Renteria or his family was indicated by General Joseph T. Dickman, southern department commander. General Dickman took the position at the time Captain Matlack rescued Lieutenant Paul H. Davis, without payment of the total ransom, that the United States is too great to go back on its word, even to bandits.

JOSEPH'S REIGN NEAR END

Vienna Reports Show This Belief—Paris Hears End Has Come.

Vienna, Aug. 23.—Advices from Budapest indicate the approaching end of the administration of Archduke Joseph. The belief is expressed that the resignation of the administration is imminent after the past few days' developments.

Archduke Joseph and Premier Friedrich were called before the inter-allied mission to explain their declarations of a state of siege in certain parts of Hungary and, according to well informed sources, were told they had exceeded their authority.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Advices received from Paris report that Archduke Joseph has resigned as head of the Hungarian government and has left Budapest, according to a Vienna dispatch received there today.

CARRANZA ASKED TO RESIGN

Document Circulating in Mexico Requests Withdrawal of President.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 23.—A copy of a manifesto calling upon President Carranza to resign, issued in Mexico City by Alfredo Robles Dominguez, prominent engineer and former adviser of President Madero, has been received here.

Dominguez, who heads his manifesto "Before the Danger" and who asserts that he is not a rebel nor an advocate of sedition, urges a provisional government to succeed Carranza. He charges Carranza is responsible for all the interior and exterior difficulties of Mexico. The manifesto is being circulated, it is said, along the border in Mexico and the Mexican quarters of this city.

No Profiteering—Shoes $12 a Pair.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 23.—Shoe retailers at the convention of the National Shoe Retailers' association in session here, denied profiteering charges. Five thousand shoe retailers were represented. Officers of the association denied that shoes would cost $25 a pair this winter. They announced that winter styles in footwear would be devoid of the fancy features which add cost to production and said that "just plain kicks" would be offered to the public as prices ranging from $8 to $12 per pair.

Calling the Turn.

"In our army," said War Correspondent George Patullo, "it doesn't pay to pull the long bow.

"I once heard a captain scold a doughboy for pottering too long over his meals.

"'Why, when I was on the west coast,' said the captain, 'I had to hunt my breakfast in the jungle. Out I'd start every morning, and I'd penetrate several miles into the wilderness, shoot my food, skin it, cook it, eat it, and be back in camp again inside of half an hour.'

"He paused impressively, then he added:

"'Of course you've heard of the west coast?'

"'Oh, yes, sir,' said the doughboy. 'Baron Munchausen came from there, didn't he?'"

HAD THE SPIRIT OF GERMANY

Old Man Green Might Have Been a Model for Some of the Hun Statesmen.

A senator was discussing one of the German counter-propositions.

"The spirit of the thing," he said, "reminds me of old man Green.

"Old man Green's house was overrun with rats, and he hired a rat-catcher for $2 to clean the rodents out.

"The rat-catcher worked like a Trojan. He killed a whole packing case of rats. Then he said to the old man:

"'There you are, Mr. Green. My job is done. You'll have no more trouble with rats, and you needn't bother about these here dead ones, neither. I'll cart 'em away myself.'

"'How much do I owe you, friend?' said old man Green.

"'Two simoleons, like what was agreed on, boss.'

"Then the old man pointed at the huge packing case and said in a protesting voice:

"'Don't I get nothing for all them rats?'"

It's surprising what a number of practical things are impracticable when you try them.

QUEER OLD "MAGIC MIRROR"

One in British Museum Known to Have Been Used by Aztecs and Ancient Mexicans.

Crystal gazing and the use of magic mirrors played an important part in religion and wizardry in the past, and though almost every nation had its own method these did not vary as much as it would be supposed.

Thus while Japan had in her inner temples mirrors which only the priest saw, and which were always to reflect the good and the beautiful for the gods, the ancient Mexicans taught that their god Texcatlipuco had a magic mirror in which he saw everything that happened each day in the world.

A real obsidian mirror with its strange textile string still attached is in the British museum now and was used by the Aztecs and ancient Mexicans for various purposes and very probably for crystal gazing. It is much the same as the other crystals used by so-called "wizards," so far as its shape is concerned. Even in recent years crystal gazing has been practiced, and it is said by those who have tried it that the mirror or crystal seems to disappear into a mist after it has been stared at in complete silence for a great length of time, and then—if ever—the visions appear.

Cure for Shell Shock.

Cases of shell shock and army nerves are being treated by an officer of the British medical corps through study of the patient's dreams. The afflicted man is persuaded to relate the features of any nightmares or other dreams, concentrating particularly upon the emotional recollections. The observant physician is able to identify, by the expression of the subject and sometimes by symptoms of terror, the exact nature of the disturbing vision, and thereby to adopt means to combat its influence.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

About the only way to convince a girl that her favorite young man is not an angel is to let her marry him.

If it were not for the easy marks in this world there wouldn't be so much "doing."

BELCHING Caused by Acid-Stomach

Let EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy, give you quick relief from disgusting belching, food-repeating, indigestion, bloated, gassy stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and other stomach miseries. They are all caused by Acid-Stomach from which about nine people out of ten suffer in one way or another. One writes as follows: "Before I used EATONIC, I could not eat a bite without belching it right up, sour and bitter. I have not had a bit of trouble since the first tablet."

Millions are victims of Acid-Stomach without knowing it. They are weak and ailing, have poor digestion, bodies improperly nourished although they may eat heartily. Grave disorders are likely to follow if an acid-stomach is neglected. Cirrhosis of the liver, intestinal congestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach—these are only a few of the many ailments often caused by Acid-Stomach.

A sufferer from Catarrh of the Stomach of 11 years' standing writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach for 11 long years and I never found anything to do me any good—just temporary relief—until I used EATONIC. It is a wonderful remedy and I do not want to be without it."

If you are not feeling quite right—lack energy and enthusiasm and don't know just where to locate the trouble—try EATONIC and see how much better you will feel in every way.

At all drug stores—a big box for 50c and your money back if you are not satisfied.

BEST THING KNOWN FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

Revenge of a Reporter.

Doctor Gore, the retired bishop of Oxford, has been one of the numerous British victims of the American reporter. During a visit to the American Episcopal church some years ago, he was besieged in a "city" of the wild West by a horde of copy-hunting pressmen, who demanded his views of various topical subjects, but he declined to be drawn.

The next morning a purely fictitious interview appeared in a local paper giving at great length startling opinions he was alleged to hold on various topics, including some highly spiced personal criticisms on local politicians opposed to the paper.

This work of imagination was illustrated by an enormous pair of boots fabled to belong to the bishop. Beneath the boots was a libelous query: "Are these feet or yards?"—London Chronicle.

County Helps Flood Sufferers

The county commissioners at a special session last week Thursday made an appropriation of $20,000 for relief work in the flooded part of the county. It seems the legislature will have to pass on the validity of the boards action, which no doubt they will approve of.

There is now no doubt that the farmers in the flooded districts of this county will be taken care of until another crop is raised.

The farmers will appreciate this help and will work harder than ever to get their land in good condition for a bumper crop next year.

Much credit should be given to Senator Hegnes, County Agent Husby and B. Docken, all of whom have worked hard for the above mentioned appropriation.

W. B. Torgerson and family of Oakley, Minn. stopped on their way home from Greenbush and visited at the Alfred Anderson home Saturday.

We understand Frank Horn has resigned his position as station agent here and that probably a new man will arrive here next week to take his place.

There is ample proof that corn can be raised in this country, as the crop here is good this year. More corn and other cultivated crops will help to solve the sow thistle problem.

Chris Saastad has a sample of crab apples at the bank that are just as good as any shipped in and shows that hardy varieties of crabs can be raised in this northern climate.

There were only a small attendance at the cemetery meeting Saturday morning. Alfred Anderson was re-elected treasurer, E. A. Johnson sexton and Guy Anderson was elected secretary. It was decided to build a tool house, provided there were sufficient funds in the treasury.

Guy Anderson tells us the rural carriers have been made an extra allowance of $150.00 for this years work and that they expect a bill to be passed that will give them a permanent increase in wages.

Uncle Sam has never paid his rural carriers and fourth class postmasters what he should, and it is about time he should wake up to that fact.

TROOPS PATROL SCENE OF RIOT

Have Check on Remarkable Disorders Following Mob's Attempt to Lynch Negro.

MANY WOUNDED; 7 DEAD

Escape of Prisoners and Loss of Confiscated Liquor Result from Rioting—Negroes Break Into Stores for Arms.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—One white man and two negroes were wounded Sunday in rioting between whites and blacks growing out of Saturday night's disorders which resulted in the killing of seven persons, including two national guardsmen, and the wounding of more than a score.

Saturday night's riots, which followed attacks on the county jail by more than 1,000 persons bent on obtaining Maurice Mayes, a negro accused of killing a white woman, were quelled early yesterday, but as the day wore on incipient rioting broke out afresh despite the presence in the city of 1,200 national guardsmen.

Negroes Steal Many Weapons.

Many negroes during the night broke into hardware stores and pawn shops to obtain guns and ammunition. To prevent the bringing in of more firearms, police and soldiers today searched all negroes arriving in Knoxville by train.

The attack on the jail was made by a mob of more than 1,000 whites who believed Mayes was held there. The negro, however, had been taken to Chattanooga.

Prisoners Released From Jail.

In gaining entrance to the jail, the mob permitted 16 prisoners, several of them convicted murderers, to escape.

Machine Guns Used by Troops.

Troops meeting a band of armed negroes who refused to give way, turned machine guns on the blacks. In the resulting exchange of shots, Lieut. James W. Payne of Providence, Ky., a regular army instructor, and a private by the name of Henderson, were killed.

In its attack on the jail, the mob came upon a large quantity of confiscated whisky, the liquor vanishing quickly.

PERISHING EN ROUTE HOME

Marshal Foch Makes Feeling Address as American Leaves France.

Brest, Sept. 2.—General Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces, sailed for the United States Monday. The steamer left port at 3 o'clock p. m.

Marshal Foch came aboard the transport shortly before she sailed and made a feeling address to the departing commander.

"In leaving France," said the marshal, "you leave your dead in our hands, on our soil we will care for them religiously and zealously, as bearing witness of the powerful aid you brought us. These dead will bring from America many thoughts of remembrance and pious visits, and will bind still more strongly our already close union."

General Pershing replied by bidding farewell to France in the person of the marshal, "to her gallant poilus, to her patriotic men and to her noble women."

PRESIDENT DENIES REQUEST

Demand of Senate Committee for Proposed Treaties Is Refused.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The request of the foreign relations committee for latest drafts of the proposed treaties with Germany's allies would set a precedent encouraging senatorial encroachment on the presidential power of treaty negotiation.

In an exchange of letters made public yesterday, Mr. Wilson wrote that it "was out of the question" to accede to the committee's suggestion, and Chairman Lodge replied that although the treaties were closely connected with the treaty with Germany, the president undoubtedly had authority to keep information about them from the senate if he chose.

Must Increase Production.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Strict economy and increased production are suggested as remedies for the high cost of living by H. A. N. Daily, president of the National Canned Foods and Dried Fruits Brokers' association, in a letter to the public today.

In speaking of the extravagant habits of all classes, he says:

"I question whether there was ever a time when there was less distress and suffering. The known distress is the inability to satisfy the extravagant tastes and desires of the time."

Cooper Killing Still a Mystery.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Police today admitted they have made little headway toward solving the mystery of the murder of Robin J. Cooper, whose body was found in Richland creek Saturday. The theory that Cooper may have been the victim of a blackmail plot was weakened when police denied their earlier story that Cooper had drawn $10,000 from his bank and that the money was missing. The dead man had drawn but $200 from his deposit.

GOMPERS ACTIVE IN STEEL CRISIS

In Three-Day Conference Labor Head Seeks to Avert Impending Walkout.

TWO STRIKES APPROVED

Position of Actors and Cigarmakers Meet With Approval of Chief—Sanction of Plumb Plan Deferred.

Washington, Sept. 1.—"Efforts to organize the workers in the steel industry still are being made with the hope that an amicable adjustment of their demands may be reached before any outbreak or cessation of work shall be inaugurated," Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement summarizing the work of the Federation's executive council Saturday.

The council has been in session three days, considering the general labor situation over the country, but Mr. Gompers did not deal with the situation as a whole, nor did he indicate upon what was based the hope that the controversy between the steel men and the United States Steel corporation would be adjusted without resort to a strike.

President May Not Intervene.

President Wilson was asked Saturday to intervene, but as he has made no move, some officials believed he had declined to take a hand. Meantime, the time limit set for Chairman Gary of the steel corporation to answer the men's request for a conference has expired without an answer being received.

Indorsement of two strikes—those of the cigarmakers and actors—by the federation's executive council was announced.

Decision on Plumb Plan Postponed.

As to the railroad brotherhoods' plan for tripartite control of the railroads, generally known as the Plumb plan, Mr. Gompers said the council had considered this of such importance to labor, the people and the country that no action would be taken until a special committee had gathered and presented all the facts.

NATHVILLE LAWYER IS DEAD

Dead Man Once Charged With Murder of U. S. Senator Carmack.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Robin J. Cooper, a Nashville attorney, whose trial for the killing of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack during the celebrated pistol duel between his father, Colonel D. B. Cooper and Carmack in 1908, attracted country-wide attention, has been murdered here under mysterious circumstances.

Cooper's body was taken from Richland creek soon after his bloodstained automobile had been found on a bridge near his home in the fashionable Belle Mead park section. The skull had been crushed, but there were evidences that a violent struggle had taken place before the fatal blow was struck.

Police are proceeding on the theory that Cooper was lured from his home by whisky sellers.

Governor Roberts has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of the lawyer. This later was supplemented by an offer of a similar amount by the family.

IRISH WOULD REJECT PACT

Impassioned Pleas Made Before Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Impassioned protests against the league of nations were presented on behalf of American Irishmen Saturday at a hearing before the senate foreign relations committee.

In a series of dramatic appeals which repeatedly drew cheers from the crowd jamming the committee room, the spokesman declared the covenant sought to pronounce a death sentence on the aspirations of the Irish people and to fasten forever upon Ireland what they characterized as a yoke of British oppression.

Representatives of various Greek societies also appeared before the committee and made a statement of the claims of the Greek people regarding the peace settlement.

Packers and "Profiteers" Indicted.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 1.—Five cold storage houses, three leading packers and five commission houses of Indianapolis were indicted Saturday by the Marion county grand jury in its first report on the high cost of living. Approximately one hundred indictments were returned alleging violation of the Indiana cold storage law and the state health law which provides that foodstuffs shall not be kept in cold storage for more than nine months.

Anamoose Light Plant Burns.

Anamoose, N. D., Sept. 1.—The Anamoose electric light plant, owned by N. J. Walper, was destroyed by a fire which broke out at 2 o'clock a. m. and it is believed to have been started by sparks from the smokestack of the plant. The fire, starting near the compressed air tank which is used to start the big dynamo, caused the tank to explode, knocking the plateglass front of the building across the street. The damage, estimated at $25,000, is mostly covered by insurance.

Rebuking Daddy.

Alice's father was an engineer with a decided conscience. His work came before pleasure, absolutely.

"Oh, daddy!" pleaded the child one day, "please go with us to the ball game this afternoon!"

"Simply can't, child; too much to do," was the hurried answer.

"Oh, daddy! You'll never go anywhere! You are so dutified."

Didn't Want It by Heart.

Five-year-old Dorothy was watching her aunt drink a glass of milk. Upon being offered some she said: "Oh, no, I never drink milk by heart; I only like it with tea or coffee."

Toad in a Coal Seam.

A toad has been found buried in Netherseal colliery, near Burton-on-Trent, England. A collier was mining 600 feet below the surface and a mile from the pit shaft when his pick struck into a pocket of clay, and out rolled a toad three inches long. It is being kept in the manager's office, and is recovering sight and moving about.

PERSONS OF ROYAL DESCENT

In Natural Course, Millions Might Lay Claim to Blood of William the Conqueror.

There are more claims of descent from William the Conqueror than from any monarch in the world, and in most cases a descendant of this king comes down a line of 15 or 20 other royal personages, although sometimes the descent from monarch to plain, untitled yeoman seems to have been accomplished in two or three generations. There is practically no limit to his descendants today and one genealogist says this fact is accounted for by the statement that, according to the regular proportion of increase in each generation since his time, the descendants of William the Conqueror would now number more than twice the present population of the British isles. So, of course, it is very easy to see how many of them came over to the United States.

Riviera Motoring.

Descending at Nice from their open car, General Pershing and a party of officers were received by a French government official who, noting the white coating of dust under which their uniforms almost disappeared, said:

"You are very brave, mon general, to undertake to motor on our Riviera roads in their present state. Poor France! Her roads, once the best in the world, are now the worst. With their holes and dust they are really impossible. Yes, indeed, I repeat that you are brave."

General Pershing politely disclaimed that it was a matter for bravery, but a staff officer, shaking from his cap a big dust cloud, remarked:

"Well, if it is not a question of bravery it is at least one of grit."

Father Got It.

"Dad, do we have to pay war tax so the government can buy our Thrift stamps back from us?" said Dick, who was just eight years old.

"Yes, you have the right idea about it," replied the father.

"Well, why can't we turn in the stamps and just call it square? If we could do that I could buy a soda. I've got a dime," said Dick.

Dick was waiting for an answer, and after much thinking, father reached for his pocket, "Here's another penny."

Eat Less and Take Bitro-Phosphate To Put on Flesh

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloat after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, billousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

The Commercial museum of Philadelphia has been holding a large exhibition to illustrate the possibilities in the utilization of peat. There are about 11,188 square miles of peat bog in the United States, capable of producing more than 12,000,000,000 tons of fuel. The exhibit shows how, apart from its use as fuel, peat may be spun into yarn, made into paper, used for packing, etc. It is valuable as a preservative, as it contains large amounts of humic acid. Ground up peat may also be used as a filler for fertilizer, making possible the use of slaughter-house waste for this purpose; also as a filler for stock feed, such as molasses. Its manufactured products include insulations, soundproof boards, paving stones, and alcohol.—Scientific American.

Could Do It Another Way.

Have you ever noticed how a lamb, the most timorous of animals, will become suddenly brave when badly frightened?

Well, that is what young Bingle is like. Bingle is so nervous that it almost amounts to a disease.

He was at a party the other night, and sat against a wall between two charming girls, twiddling his thumbs round each other in a fever of fright. But it was very annoying.

"Do you always do that at a dance?" asked one of the girls at last, unable to stand it any longer.

"Er—no," stuttered Bingle. "Sometimes"—twiddling his thumbs in the reverse direction—"I do it this way!"

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

SCHOOL NOTICE

School will commence on Monday, September 8. Until the school house is ready classes will be held in rooms downtown. The teachers for the year are: First grade, Miss Venice Lawrence, Grades 2, 3, and 4 and Home Economics, Miss Edith Erickson; Grades 5, 6 and 7, Mrs. M. V. Silver; High school, Emil Prushek.

As this is practically our first year of high school work only one year will be given. For the benefit of those who already have some high school credits the following subjects have been chosen for this year: English I, Botany, General Science and Commercial arithmetic(½ credit). We expect to have about 20 in the high school. Next year regular second year subjects can be offered. If there are pupils ready and we have enough teachers and building space, one year can be added ... the high school course each year until all four are offered at Holt.

The primary teacher will have only one grade this year as the enrollment will be large in this grade and we want to give the children a good start. Primary children can enter only at the beginning of the school year.

All children should be ready to enter school on the first day. The three grade teachers are all normal graduates and are good teachers. We can have as good a school as you help us make it. The least we can expect of the parents is that they send their children regularly and support the teacher by getting acquainted with the work of the teacher and the children. Get acquainted early. Visit the school often. It is your school and you will like it better if you really get acquainted with it. May we have your cooperation in the interest of a good school and a good community?

Principal

War Saving Stamps sold at Bank and Postoffice

U. S. SECURITIES ARE UNEXCELLED

World Offers No More Safe Investment Than Treasury Savings Certificates.

BACKED BY UNCLE SAM

Have Many Attractive Features That Appeal to Investor—to Be Issued Continuously Hereafter—Protected Against Loss.

The entire machinery of the Ninth District War Savings Organization is being set in motion in a united effort to increase sales of the new $100 and $1,000 treasury savings certificates. That every county has scores of residents who would buy these government securities regularly if they knew of them and that no effort will be spared to bring that knowledge to every possible buyer is the statement of M. E. Harrison, district director of the organization.

"We are confident a lasting demand for Government securities has been created in this district and we intend doing everything possible to foster and supply that," Mr. Harrison said. "We want investors to have government bonds, notes and certificates on the lists of securities which they habitually buy. The Treasury Savings Certificates are to be issued continuously hereafter. It is vital that the public be thoroughly acquainted with their terms and advantages."

Nature of Certificates.

The treasury savings certificates, issued on the same basis as war savings stamps, whereby the purchaser receives his interest in advance thru an equivalent reduction in price, are a short term security, maturing five years from the first of January of the year in which they are purchased. They bear four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, giving a yield of 4% per cent to the man who holds them during the entire period of their life.

Perfectly secured by the entire resources and the full taxing power of the United States government the certificates are 100 per cent safe. In addition to this, the terms of issue are such that the price increases monthly and with it the value of certificates previously sold. On January 1st of the maturity year, the government will redeem them at full face values.

"It is to the investor's benefit to recognize some of the unique and attractive features of the new treasury savings certificates," said Mr. Harrison. "Nowhere else in the world is there a perfectly safe investment, from which one may withdraw one's money on 10 days' notice, that pays interest as high as 4% per cent. No other security in the world is so easily available as treasury savings certificates. They are on sale in practically every settled part of the United States. Banks and trust companies everywhere may carry the $1,000 issue, while banks, trust companies and postoffices of the first and second class are carrying the $100 certificates.

"These certificates may be redeemed one month after the month in which they were bought. Ten days written notice is all that is required for getting one's money back and repayment is made at the certificate's value in the month of redemption, a higher value than that at which it was bought.

Protected Against Loss.

"An additional security attaching to these certificates is the requirement that they be registered. The name of the purchaser is written on the certificate when it is sold and at the same time is recorded by the treasury department. The loss of them does not mean loss of the investment.

"Owners of War Savings Stamps who wish to have their investment in a more convenient form than the books of stamps have the privilege of exchanging War Savings Stamps of the 1919 issue for treasury savings certificates. Cards filled with 20 war savings stamps, total maturity value $100, can be exchanged for $100 treasury savings certificates. Owners of ten such cards, with a total maturity value of $1,000, can exchange them for a $1,000 certificate."

The treasury department, in issuing the savings certificates, was convinced that their unusual attractiveness as an investment would assure large sales, quite apart from appeals for support of the government by loans or arguments as to the personal advantages of saving and investment. But these arguments apply and add overwhelming weight to the reasons why treasury savings certificates should be purchased now.

Purchasing of war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates in any one year is limited to $1,000 by any individual or corporation. This total is reached by purchase of one $1,000 certificate, ten $100 certificates or 200 War Savings Stamps of $5 maturity value. The $1,000 limit may be bought each year, however, purchases in 1918, for instance having nothing to do with the 1919 purchase privilege.

In August $100 certificates sell for $83.30 and $1,000 certificates for $833. The former increase 20 cents a month in value and the latter $2 monthly.

KEEP LIBERTY BONDS

More Should Be Purchased at Present Market Quotations.

Financial Experts Believe Every Issue Will Be Above Par Within Few Years.

Paralleling the treasury department's effort to bring about wider realization of the value of investment in war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates, a call has been sounded urging the public to make the most of the market's investment opportunities by purchasing Liberty bonds at their present quotations. It is pointed out that it is just as patriotic today to buy Liberty bonds at 94, 95 or 96 as it was to buy them at 100, while on the other hand it makes the investment just that much better for the man who buys. For instance, a 4¼ per cent Liberty Bond, if bought at 94 for example, yields 4.53 per cent.

It is pointed out also that the fall in value which has taken place in some Liberty bond issues is an excellent reason why those who own the bonds should hold them now, rather than surrender them at a loss. In purchasing the bond, the buyer tacitly agreed to let the government have the money for 10 or 20 years, or whatever the term was. He gets less for the bond, if sold now, because he does not abide by the implied terms of the agreement. He wants his money back now instead of waiting the period of years stated on the bond he bought.

Every bond will be worth par at maturity and long before that time in the opinion of leading bankers. Financial experts are of the belief that every issue of Liberty bonds will go above par within a few years. As capital piles up again and interest rates drop, the rates borne by the Liberty issues will seem correspondingly large and the value of the principal as invested, the bond itself, will be correspondingly greater.

In spite of repeated warnings, Liberty Bond owners still continue to listen to the smooth-tongued sharpers who have fanciful stocks that they will trade for perfectly good Liberty Bonds. "Look before you leap" is the advice of the Treasury Department. "Investigate very carefully before you make purchases of stock and consider prayerfully before you trade Government securities for anything on earth."

SETTING AN EXAMPLE FOR DISTRICT SAVERS.

The thorough conviction that government securities are the best in the world which enabled the heads of the ninth district war loan organization to keep the northwest among the national leaders in Liberty loan compaigns was not a thing that could be forgotten or lost in a moment. Theodore Wold, governor of the ninth district federal reserve bank, and Arthur R. Rogers, who headed the district loan campaigns, feel exactly the same way about war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates as they did about the bonds. Witness Governor Wold selling Mr. Rogers the first $1,000 treasury savings certificate to be sold in the ninth district. "An A-1 investment," the chiefs chimed in chorus; and when it comes to business they both know exactly what they are talking about.

More Protection for Depositors

The Holt State Bank is getting more up to date every day. They now carry a $5000 bond which protects the bank and depositors against any alternation, raising, forging of signature or endorsement of payee, on any checks or Certificates of Deposit drawn on the bank. The check or draft, however, must be written in ink, either by hand or a typewriting machine or a check writing machine, and signed in ink the usual and customary manner.

We would like to advise all our depositors to use ink as much as possible in the drawing of their checks from now on in order to get the benefit of this protection.

PERSHING BUSY FOR FOUR DAYS

Commander-in-chief Has No Time Left, Except a Few Hours for Sleep.

WELCOMED BY MILLIONS

Hundreds of Thousands of School Children Join in Welcoming General Home from Battlefields of France and Belgium.

New York, Sept. 8.—Official plans for the reception and entertainment of General Pershing from his arrival here this morning until his departure for Washington on Thursday, leaves the commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces scarcely a minute to himself, except for the few hours allotted for sleep.

Impressive Naval Parade.

Hundreds of peace and war craft, including submarines, and scores of seaplanes, will go down the harbor to greet the general upon his arrival on the transport Leviathan, and will escort the vessel to her berth at Hoboken.

Vice President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Secretary of War and Mrs. Newton D. Baker and a score of high military officers, headed by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, will be on board the welcoming ship.

Welcome by Governor and Mayor.

From Hoboken General Pershing will be brought to the Battery on a police boat and escorted to the city hall, where he will be welcomed officially by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

From that moment the mayor's welcome committee will pilot General Pershing from reception to luncheon, to dinner, to theater, to supper, waiting only for morning to begin operations again, until he leaves on Thursday for Washington.

Millions of people, including hundreds of thousands of school children, will join in the welcome to the general.

Wednesday Is Pershing Day.

On Wednesday, "Pershing Day," the general will ride down Fifth avenue at the head of a spectacular military pageant. Plans have been made to have members of the general's family accompany him to Manhattan. Federal, state and military officials joined in the welcome.

MEXICO ADOPTS NOVEL PLAN

Americans Must Sign Release of Responsibility to Visit Oil Region.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Apparently convinced that the United States is in earnest in demanding proper treatment of Americans in Mexico, the Carranza government has adopted a novel expedient in an attempt to relieve itself of responsibility.

Americans going to the Tampico region, hereafter, will be compelled to sign a formal release of the Mexican government's responsibility for what may happen to them. If they refuse, Mexican officials will refuse to vise their passports.

The condition raises a peculiar situation, for under international law a government may refuse travel permission to foreigners into a region where it may not be prepared to guarantee their safety.

This release is not only required of workmen who are American citizens, but also of American citizens in the United States holding passports from the state department authorizing them to visit the Tampico region.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO 7,500

Airplanes Meet and Escort Executive's Special to Des Moines.

Des Moines, Sept. 8.—Making his second address of the day, the president spoke in the Des Moines Coliseum, said to seat 7,500. Every chair was taken and many were standing. Earlier in the day he had spoken at Kansas City, Mo., more than 300 miles away.

An escort of airplanes dropped flowers on the president's special train as it approached the city and he was cheered during an automobile ride through crowds that packed the downtown streets. When he entered the Coliseum he was cheered again.

The meeting was opened with an invocation and Mr. Wilson was introduced by W. H. Weaver, president of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on the outstanding figure in the life of the world today. Mrs. Wilson sat on the platform.

Austrians' Acceptance Assured.

Berne, Sept. 8.—The Austrian cabinet, after discussing the treaty, has decided to recommend its acceptance. This information is conveyed in a dispatch received from Prague today.

U. S. Launches Big Submarine.

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 8.—The fleet submarine AA-2, latest word in undersea boat construction, was launched Saturday at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Steel corporation from designs of the Electric Boat company. She is 300 feet long and said to be the fastest Diesel engine boat afloat, with surface speed of 18 knots an hour and 18 knots submerged, according to the designers. She is intended to operate with the battle fleets and has a cruising radius estimated at 7,000 miles.

GENERAL STILL ON DUTY

Pershing on Strenuous But Pleasant Duty of Being Entertained, With Very Little Time to Himself for Rest.

New York, Sept. 9.—The American doughboy is the finest soldier in the world, and it didn't take the Germans long to find it out, declared General Pershing in an interview granted newspaper men today at the Waldorf Astoria.

"We boasted a little probably of the peculiar qualities of the American fighting man, but his aggressiveness, initiative and devotion as a member of the American expeditionary forces gives us every right to boast and to be proud of him," the commander said.

"I suppose it is because of the way the American boy is raised, due to the fact that he is encouraged to develop his initiative and that he feels at any crisis of his life, that he is master of his own destiny."

Unwilling to Discuss Plans.

The interview brought about in the hope that the general might be willing to express his own views on such subjects as the league of nations, the situation in Europe and in Mexico, what he intended doing when he entered civil life, when he expected to retire from the army and similar questions, was preceded by a general handshaking all around.

"I am still on duty," he said. "It is a pleasant duty, but very strenuous." The general had just finished luncheon after a little rest to refresh himself after the arduous hours of the morning, and he said that while he was glad to meet all the newspaper men he could answer only such questions as properly came within his profession.

His Biggest Achievement.

The questions asked were:

"General, what do you consider the crowning achievement of your service abroad?"

To which he replied:

"Cutting the German lines at Sedan on November 6."

"Was that a more difficult operation than cutting the Hindenburg line?" he was asked.

"Cutting the Hindenburg line was a start toward cutting the line at Sedan. It was hard to tell what might have become of it under difficult circumstances. It followed the effort of the Germans to force their way through, but their armies were beaten before they started."

MEXICAN QUESTION IS UP

Washington, Sept. 9.—Existence of an organized propaganda movement in the United States calculated to counteract any step toward armed intervention in Mexico was established at the first hearing today of the senate foreign relations sub-committee investigating the situation.

Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, an officer in the League of Free Nations association and a former neighbor in Mexico of President Carranza, admitted under sharp cross-examination that his association had sent out literature aimed to quiet any demand for intervention by the United States. Dr. Inman told the committee that American oil companies were expending large sums of money in an attempt to obtain intervention.

Dr. Inman in opening his testimony, told the committee that in his opinion President Carranza was a man of honor and integrity and that he had a strong faith in the ability of Mexico to work out its own problems. He deprecated intervention, adding that it would stunt the growth of the Pan American idea.

OLD STORY CONTRADICTED

Paris, Sept. 8.—Colonel Blanton Winship, judge advocate general and also head of the requisitions and claims department of the American expeditionary forces, finally disposed of the old story that the French people claimed rentals for the ground occupied by the trenches at the front, in his testimony today before the committee of the American congress which is investigating war expenditures.

He testified that no such claim had ever been made against the American expeditionary forces and that the only claims of this nature were for the use of ground in the training area which was cut up and damaged in order to familiarize the men with conditions at the front.

Police Chiefs to Help Soldiers.

As a result of a letter to all the police chiefs in the United States, Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, has added many thousand men to his field forces who are finding positions for returned fighting men. The assistance and co-operation of policemen generally is now promised. In order to help place the few soldiers yet to be demobilized as well as the scattering number who have not yet satisfactorily readjusted themselves to civil life.

WILSON CHEERED BY ST. LOUISANS

President Discusses Peace Treaty at Length in Two Addresses.

COLISEUM IS PACKED

Speaker Is Introduced as "The Father of World Democracy"—Cheered Lustily at Both Addresses.

Coliseum, St. Louis, Sept. 6.—In two addresses here today President Wilson discussed at length disputed points of the peace treaty.

The president's first address was at a chamber of commerce luncheon, after he had been cheered along the route of a seven-mile automobile ride and stopped at Washington university to visit several members of the faculty who were school chums of the executive.

Returning, the executive was driven through the residential section of the city. He and Mrs. Wilson had supper privately.

At 8 o'clock sharp the presidential party started for the coliseum and arrived there at 8:12.

Great Convention Hall Packed.

The coliseum, where many national conventions have been held, was packed and when the president arrived the crowd arose and cheered more than four minutes.

The president was introduced by Governor Frederick D. Gardner, who said the people of Missouri never had been more sincere in a welcome to any visitor. At that the crowd cheered again.

When the governor introduced Mr. Wilson as "the father of world democracy," there was more cheering.

SENATE PASSES DRY BILL

One Vote Only Is Cast Against Proposed Measure.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The prohibition enforcement bill was passed by the senate today without a record vote and virtually in the form it came from the committee. The measure now goes to conference for discussion of amendments inserted in the house bill by the senate.

The only material change made in the bill by the senate was the adoption by amendment of the liquor and drug prohibition act for the Panama canal zone. This measure has not been acted up by the house.

An eleventh hour attempt by Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, to render ineffective the whole section of the measure relating to enforcement of war time prohibition, failed, his own vote being the only one cast in favor of it. His amendment would have limited the operation of the war time law to the six states in which demobilization camps are located.

As it passed the senate and goes to conference the bill defines as an intoxicant any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. The senate modified, however, some of the most rigid provisions of the house bill, including that affecting private stocks of alcoholic beverages held for personal use.

SEES END OF RISING PRICES

Federal Reserve Board Thinks Reaction Has Now Set In.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Reaction from the high price level established during the war has set in, says the federal reserve board's review of business conditions in August.

Not only are some foodstuffs declining in cost to the consumer but the price of wearing apparel, such as textiles and shoes, also has been affected, the review says. Business continues at an "extremely high level" and confidence of a satisfactory solution of the wage and price problems was reported from all sections of the country.

"During August factors which had not hitherto arrested much attention exercised great influence on the business situation," the board's statement said. "Reference is made, of course, to the problem of commodity prices, in particular those going to make up the cost of living, and to the consequent condition of labor unrest. Whereas previously, emphasis had been placed on the great activity displayed by business, the problem of price readjustment and the difficulties connected with it now bulk largest. Discussion in connection with this readjustment is particularly centered on the problem of the relation of wages and prices."

Alleged Counterfeiters Arrested.

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Four men are under arrest in Fargo suspected of being counterfeiters, after two molds for coining silver dollars were unearthed by Fargo police.

SECREARY-REDFIELD RESIGNS.

Resignation of Secretary of Commerce Has Been Accepted.

Washington, Sept. 6.—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce in the cabinet since the beginning of the Democratic administration in 1913, resigned today, announcing that he was returning to private business.

President Wilson has accepted the resignation, to be effective November 1. There was no official hint given with the announcement as to who would be

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings on decay prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unnatural symptoms appear. The weakest spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work.

SMALL CHANCE TO GET AWAY

As It Happened, the Old Gentleman Was Placing the Blame Where It Didn't Belong.

"I don't know what the young men of today are coming to," said Mr. Smith. "In my young days there wasn't any need for all this courting. The girls then—"

But he was cut short by the coal-scuttle which Mrs. Smith accidentally dropped on his toes.

"I was only going to say, my dear," he remarked, when he had recovered his composure, "that I wish the young fellow who is calling on Christabel would go away and let us get the house shut up. It's past midnight!"

At that moment there entered the small boy of the household. He had been, for the last hour or so, behind the draught-screen in the drawing-room, and vowed that he had enjoyed himself better than if he had been at a movie show.

"It isn't his fault, pa," said the heir of the Smiths. "He can't go; Christabel's sitting on him!"

BRIGHT SCHEME DIDN'T WORK

Overly Frank Criticism Caused Bride to Drop Her Deaf-and-Dumb Pose Suddenly.

A newly-married couple hit upon the idea of pretending to be deaf and dumb whilst on their honeymoon.

At the station they started talking on their fingers and overheard the following remarks:

"It's a newly married couple," said a lady. "The poor things are deaf and dumb. Isn't it awful?"

"What do you suppose he saw in her?" asked the other. "She is positively ugly."

"And I believe her hair is dyed," said the first woman.

"And her hat is out of date," was the next startler.

"Looks like an old one," was the reply.

"Her dress wrinkles in the back," said the first.

"She's thirty-five if she's a day; and she looks as if she had a frightful temper."

At this point the bride found her tongue, and her remarks to those two women left no doubt about her having that important article that women are supposed to exercise so freely.

St. Paul.—Armistice day, November 11, will be proclaimed a legal holiday in Minnesota by Governor Burnquist. The American Legion, during its convention in this city, received the governor's intentions to that effect in a message, in which he urged the greatest demonstration in the history of the state on that date.

Roseau.—Hans Trandem has a half acre on his lots on North Riverside Avenue from which he has without doubt harvested the biggest money return for an equal tract of land in the county, if not in the state. The half acre is in raspberries and when the picking is finally completed the gross returns will be close to $300.

Hawkins had recently returned from service in the United States army.

Red Lake Falls.—Rev. Charles E. Bronson, D.D., pastor of Westhope Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia for the past nineteen years, returned here last week after an absence of thirty-six years and preached in the Presbyterian church which he founded here in 1883. St. Paul.—The 1920 convention of the Minnesota American Legion will be held in Duluth, that city having been selected by the state convention here. The convention selected delegates to the national convention to be held in Minneapolis November 11 and 12, and elected officers. A feature of one session was the address of Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who outlined in part the program which will be discussed at the national convention in Minneapolis in November.

Minneapolis.—Delegates from all over the state were here when H. J. Merdienk of Ely, president of the Minnesota division, Woodrow Wilson Way Association, opened the annual meeting which was devoted largely to committee reports and recommendations looking toward state development through betterment of its highways. The "Way" extends from Ely, in the northeast corner of Minnesota, thence over the Shakopee bridge, southwest to Albert Lea and Des Moines. Its southern terminum is El Paso, Tex.

St. Paul.—Extra precautions against fire in a pine forest along the Northern Pacific Railroad south of Moose Lake, which is rated an extraordinary fire hazard as the result of a severe hail storm, have been ordered by W. T. Cox, state forester. The hail stripped the needles and the bark from the pines, leaving them to dry and make an unusual fire danger, the forester said. Special crews were sent into the district and will be kept there for a few weeks until the menace is over. Reports are asked as to the area of timber damage.

Little Falls.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richter, a farmer living near here, was accidentally hanged when he tried to get into an iron bed. The little tot climbed from a chair to the bed at the foot and in trying to get through the framework, slipped and was accidentally caught.

Spooner.—The Collins flour mill caught fire and was burned to the ground. The origin is unknown. The Cloverleaf creamery was saved after a hard fight, several streams of water being thrown on this plant which adjoined the mill site. The oil house and storehouse of the mill were also saved. The loss is estimated at about $20,000, with insurance of $16,000. J. W. Collins, the owner, plans to rebuild as soon as matters can be arranged.

How Pat Won Out.

Anxious to travel for a big English firm in the ham line, an Irishman obtained an interview with the proprietor.

"What experience have you had?" the Irishman was asked.

"Eighteen months," was the answer.

"Eighteen months!" scornfully repeated the proprietor. "What could you learn about bacon in that time? Why, I've been studying for forty years, and don't know half enough about it yet."

"Bedad," exclaimed Pat, with a confident smile, "if I had been studying it for forty years, I'd know how to make a pig!"

He got the job.

A SUMMER COLD

A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of a cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of "Boschee's Syrup" handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boschee's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. Keep it handy.—Adv.

HAD TO GIVE UP

Was Almost Frantic With the Pain and Suffering of Kidney Complaint. Doan's Made Her Well.

Mrs. Lydia Shuster, 1838 Margaret St., Frankford, Pa., says: "A cold started my kidney trouble. My back began to ache and got sore and lame. My joints and ankles became swollen and painful and it felt as if needles were sticking into them. I finally had to give up and went from bad to worse.

"My kidneys didn't act right and the secretions were scanty and distressing. I had awful dizzy spells when everything before me turned black; one time I couldn't see for twenty minutes. Awful pains in my head set me almost frantic and I was so nervous, I couldn't stand the least noise. How I suffered! Often I didn't care whether I lived or died.

"I couldn't sleep on account of the terrible pains in my back and head. Nothing seemed to do me a bit of good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I could soon see they were helping me; the backache stopped, my kidneys were regulated and I no longer had any dizzy spells or rheumatic pains. I still take Doan's occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good health."

Two Cynical Pollus.

"The French," said Dr. Sidney E. Mezes of New York, the brilliant director of the American peace delegation's experts—"the French are terrible cynics about love. They don't believe in its durability. They claim it never lasts.

"Two French pollus were discussing love in an estaminet.

"'I hold,' said the first pollu, 'that if you fall in love with some ravishing beauty, the only way to cure yourself is to run off.'

"The second pollu took a sip of wine.

"'Yes, that'll cure you, all right,' he agreed, 'provided you run off with the ravishing beauty.'"

They Should Have.

A Terre Haute (Ind.) librarian had a new book which two boys were very anxious to take out for the next week. They argued and argued, and then came to the point where blows were imminent. A little girl, who had been listening to the discussion, turned to the librarian and saw the anxiety on her face. Then she became angry. She spoke to the boys: "Ain't you two got any suspect for Miss H—— to keep you all from fightin' in her libery?" she demanded.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

PRINCESS THEATRE TO SHOW BIG FAIRBANKS FILM

It is doubtful if any motion picture was ever awaited with as much interest and anticipation in Thief River Falls as Douglas Fairbanks' new picture "His Majesty, the American" which will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre Sunday, Sept. 21.

Something more than mere interest in a motion picture lies back of this anticipation, for "His Majesty, the American" is Douglas Fairbanks' first independent production and marks the first release of the United Artists Corporation, the so-called "Big Four."

In January of 1919 the entire amusement world was startled by the formation of the United Artists Association. This association was formed by Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith. These artists, conceded throughout the world to be the screen's foremost producers, after having released their pictures for a number of years through various distributing companies decided that to assure their best work and in order to have full independence for the highest expression of their art, they would, upon the completion of their then-existing contracts, release their own pictures, direct to the theatres of the country.

This move for independence by the foremost artists of the screen is the most important and beneficial step that has been taken in the motion picture business since it assumed its leadership in the amusement field.

It means for the motion picture patrons that Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith will hereafter be enabled to produce pictures in their own way.

They will make fewer pictures than they have made before, and this in itself will be an advantage. Heretofore they have been obliged to turn out a certain number of productions within a given period and consequently have not always had the time to perfect their work.

Thus under the leadership of the screen's foremost artists is the perfection of motion picture entertainment in sight.

The first picture made under these ideal conditions is "His Majesty, the American." The management of the Princess theatre feels great pride in having secured this production for its city.

FIGHTER BONUS PASSES HOUSE

No Dissenting Voice When Measure Comes to Vote in Lower Body.

$50 MINIMUM BONUS

Tennage Tax Bill Goes Through House By Vote of 101 to 22—Provisions of New Primary Bill Before Solons.

St. Paul.—With the passage of the soldiers' $15 per month bonus bill in the House of Representatives by a unanimous vote and its certain passage in the Senate predicted, members of the Minnesota Legislature are turning their attention to primary election reform and forest fire prevention measures.

The soldiers' bonus bill went through the lower branch by a vote of 124 to 0. An attempt was made to amend it so that widowed mothers and orphans might share in the bonus due a soldier. It was decided not to delay the bill, however. It is probable that such an amendment can be made in the upper body.

$50 Minimum Bonus.

As passed in the House the bonus bill gives every man or woman in the service $15 for each month in the service, with a minimum of $50. Conscientious objectors are barred from participation. A fund of $20,000,000 is to be provided to meet the expense by the issuance of certificates of indebtedness.

With ratification of the woman suffrage amendment and passage of the soldiers' bonus bill out of the way the two big topics of primary election reform and forest fire prevention naturally come to the fore. Those measures were mentioned along with the other two in the Governor's call. Besides those four, the Governor asked for consideration of the high cost of living question. That matter, being so broad in scope, is one in which it is believed little progress will be made.

The Legislature has been flooded with an avalanche of small, petty bills in some instances, and bills of statewide but not pressing importance in other cases. The machinery has been clogged.

Passes Tonnage Tax Bill.

By a vote of 101 to 22 the House passed the tonnage tax bill introduced by Representative C. M. Bendixen of Morgan. The measure provides for a tax of five per cent on the value of the ore at the mouth of the mine. An amendment was adopted dividing the proceeds between the school and the general funds. Representative Thomas H. Girling of Robbinsdale tried to have the bill amended so as to provide for a 12 per cent tonnage tax in lieu of all other taxes, with the further provision that half the amount go into the State Treasury and one-half into the local communities.

The elections committees of House and Senate met to consider the primary reform. Senators Brooks and Putnam introduced in the upper branch an indorsement convention bill which would be supplemental to the present primary.

Provisions of Primary Bill.

The bill provides for party conventions that may either recommend or nominate candidates for the state and congressional primaries, but care is taken not to exclude independent candidates who may care to file on the primary ticket. The candidates nominated or recommended by the state or congressional convention are to have their names placed on the ballot with the statement that they have been nominated or recommended by the party convention. The clause in the bill relating to this feature reads:

"This act is supplementary to, and not in lieu of any law relating to primary elections, and it shall not be construed to modify any such law save as the addition of this act shall compel such modification."

Representation in the state convention is to be based upon the average vote for state officers cast by the party holding the convention at the last preceding general election. The average vote is to be certified to the respective state committees by the secretary of state and the committees will apportion the representation.

Rules for New Parties.

New parties may hold conventions by filing with the secretary of state not later than February 1, preceding the date of the primaries, a petition or certificate showing that they have a membership equal to 5 per cent of the total vote cast in the state at the last general election.

The conventions are to be called for the nomination or recommendation of candidates and the adoption of party platforms.

The state convention is to be held on the sixth Tuesday prior to the state primaries.

Congressional conventions are to be held on the seventh Tuesday prior to the congressional conventions.

County conventions will be held on the seventh Tuesday prior to the county conventions.

Delegates to county conventions will be elected at the town elections in March.

In the state convention each county is entitled to two delegates-at-large in addition to the number of delegates based upon the party vote.

All candidates, convention nominees and independents alike will be voted upon at the primaries, and those receiving the highest primary votes will be declared the party nominees.

The bill, it is understood, has the approval of Governor Burnquist. It was referred to the Committee on Elections.

Military Bill Passed.

The House passed the military bill prohibiting the purchase of War Savings Stamps at less than their par value, and three bills by the committee on reconstruction and relief. The latter prohibiting the starting of open fires in the forest region except under regulations prescribed by permit and under regulation prescribed by the forestry department; requiring railroads to screen smokestacks on locomotives and providing a fine of $500 a day for failure to do so; a joint resolution requesting Congress to increase appropriations under the Weeks law for forest protection and the joint memorial asking Congress to establish a hydroplane station at Duluth, from which aviators may aid in detecting incipient fires.

Cold Storage Control Proposed.

A high cost of living bill by Senator H. A. Swanson puts food warehousemen under the control of the railroad and warehouse commission as public utilities, prohibits discrimination and monopolizing practises by food warehousemen and those dealing with them except as allowed by the commission, requires warehousemen to file schedules of rates, and empowered the commission to fix rates and regulations. It went to the committee on markets and marketing.

Cities would be authorized to provide by ordinance for purchase and sale of food products by the city, under another cost of living bill introduced by Senators C. E. Adams, E. M. Erickson, E. R. Ribenack and J. G. Callahan. It went to the markets committee with another bill by the same authors planned for city owned wood, coal and fuel yards to sell fuel at cost. Senator F. L. Cliff's bill, sent to the committee on civil administration, would transfer regulation of wholesale dealers in farm products, with commission merchants, from the railroad and warehouse commission to the department of agriculture.

Attorney General's Opinion Asked.

The rules committee decided that the Erickson resolution, providing $10 a day for expenses of senators during the special session, should go to the attorney general for an opinion on legality.

Poultry Premium Aid Proposed.

In the senate bill sponsored by seven members to extend state aid to certain poultry associations in payment of premiums and cost of exhibitions, failed to get a second reading and went to the finance committee.

Senator H. N. Benson's bill authorizing the state auditor to transfer $5,000 this year and again next year from the teachers' training and institute fund of the department of education to the contingent fund, was passed under suspension of rules.

Housing Legislation.

Senator L. H. Nord's bill for appointment of a commission to investigate housing legislation and recommend plans for this state, came up before the rules committee. Upon its recommendation Mr. Nord will rewrite his bill, giving the commission power not only to investigate housing commission plans in other states and Canada and recommend a Minnesota plan, but also to investigate causes of the high cost of building and owning homes. In this form, it is expected, the bill will be recommended to the senate.

Senator Fred Bessette's forest fire bill providing for removal of fire hazards and appropriating expenses, went to the finance committee. Under this measure the state foresters on investigation may order clearing of any property judged a fire menace.

H. C. L. Hearing.

Farmers, workingmen, manufacturers, wholesale dealers and housewives, producers and consumers of all kinds gathered at the Capitol for the public hearing on the high cost of living conducted by the Senate and House committee on marketing, in the House chambers.

The hearing showed a tendency to wander from the cold storage bills, which were the specific subjects for discussion.

A dozen or more Minneapolis jobbers appeared to argue against the bill to tag all goods with the prices charged by manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer. The discussion ranged from the price of eggs in 1890 and 1900 to the price of beef and milk and broiler chickens in 1919.

Mine Nationalization Indorsed.

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—Nationalization of mines as a general principle was approved by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America with only one dissenting voice. The convention voted with the same unanimity for the six hour day and five day week in all coal mines, to be incorporated in the demands presented to the mine operators at joint wage conference at Buffalo September 25 but referred discussion of specific wage demands until later.

Schwab Has Big Holding.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel company, has closed a deal with J. J. Flannery of this city whereby he obtains control of the Bridgeville, Pa., and Murvian mines of the American Vanadium company. According to Flannery, $4,000,000 was involved in the transaction. This gives Schwab control of 90 per cent of the world's vanadium supply. Schwab was accompanied by J. Leonard Reptogle, president of the concern.

Preus, state auditor, will urge special measures to conserve mineral rights that may be found on approximately 5,000 acres of state-owned land in Cook county, he announced, on his return from an inspection trip in that section of the state. While no important mineral discoveries have yet been announced, he said, there are indications of such deposits on the state land, although they may not be as valuable as those on the mesaba and Cuyuna ranges.

Brook Park.—A Great Northern passenger train, St. Paul to Duluth, was derailed here. Only seven persons were hurt, receiving only scratches and bruises. All of the coaches overturned when the accident occurred. The train was not traveling at high rate of speed, approaching this place, preparatory to a stop. In some manner the rear truck of the engine split a switch, tearing up the track at that point. The baggage car stayed on its wheels but the cars behind it rolled over.

St. Paul.—Continued increases in prices of certain kinds of building materials threaten delay to projects for new buildings at state institutions, Charles E. Vasaly, chairman of the state board of control, has recently announced. "While the board of control has awarded contracts for nearly $700,000 of new structures at state institutions since May 20," said Mr. Vasaly, "it also has been forced to reject numerous bids because the totals were in excess of the funds available. Unexpected advances in prices of many kinds of building materials have occurred since estimates were presented to the legislature with requests for appropriations and the continued increases threaten to delay several building projects at least until more funds can be obtained."

Willmar.—J. R. Franks, suspected slayer of Carl Anderson, who was found dead with throat cut, near the Willmar roundhouse in July, was arrested here by order of Detective M F. Hallowell of St. Paul, who has been working on the case for a long time. Hallowell was employed by relatives of the deceased.

Moorhead.—Louis W. Hinger, who says he is 19 years old and that his home is at Pettibone, N. D., was held to the Clay county district court by Judge E. U. Wade, charged with taking an automobile from the garage of the Smith Motor Co.

MANY DEAD FROM SOUTHERN STORM

Known Dead Near 25, According to Early Report---Many More Are Missing.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Corpus Christi and Nusons Bay Scene of Tropic Storm of Unwonted Violence—Property Damage Near Four Million, Is Estimate.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 16.—From fifteen to twenty-five are dead; four thousand people are homeless, property damage amounting to $4,000,000 has been caused as a result of the tropical storm which struck Corpus Christi Sunday, a long distance message to the Express, from Corpus Christi said. The city is without light and water, and food is running short. An appeal has been issued by the mayor for financial assistance.

General Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the southern department, ordered a relief train sent to Corpus Christi tonight. The train will carry tents, cots, blankets, medical supplies and several thousand cases of foodstuffs.

Death List Said to Be Heavy.

Reports coming from Corpus Christi last night, which are unconfirmed, stated that the bodies of more than 125 persons had been recovered in the city and from Nusons bay. The account is not fully credited.

A message from Austin states that former Mayor Roy Miller of Corpus Christi wired army headquarters at San Antonio that twenty-five or more persons were dead. The finding of numerous additional bodies may be expected.

WILSON CONCURS WITH LODGE

So States President in Portland, Ore., Speech This Week.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 16.—Quoting from an address made in 1915 by Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, suggesting that nations must unite as men unite to preserve peace, President Wilson said here that the league of nations covenant carried out what Mr. Lodge suggested. This was the first time during his speaking tour that Mr. Wilson had mentioned by name any of the senators opposing the league.

The president's words were greeted with laughter and cheers by an audience which packed the municipal auditorium, said to accommodate more than 7,000.

Concurs With Lodge.

"I entirely concur in Senator Lodge's declaration," said the president, "and I hope I shall have his cooperation in carrying out the desired ends."

Asserting he had found few men opposed to a league of nations, the president said the great objection seeemed to be to this particular league. He recalled his conference with the foreign relations committee on his return from Paris, and said that every suggestion for improvement by the committee members had been written into the covenant.

TOWNLEY "GETS" 90 DAYS

Sentence of Jackson County Court Is Subject to Sixty Days' Stay.

Jackson, Minn., Sept. 16.—Ninety days in the Jackson county jail—the limit under the statute—was the sentence imposed by District Judge E. C. Dean here Monday afternoon on President A. C. Townley of the National Nonpartisan league, and Joseph Gilbert, who were convicted here on July 12 of having "conspired to teach sedition."

Townley and Gilbert were tried on charges of having made speeches and distributed literature in Jackson county and other counties of the state shortly before and after the United States entered the war, for the alleged purpose of discouraging enlistments and co-operation in other war measures.

A stay of 60 days was granted by the court for the perfection of a motion for a new trial upon errors in the record of the court. If a retrial is denied an appeal will be taken to the state supreme court.

Neither of the defendants was heard during the session at which sentence was pronounced.

Rim Flyers Reach North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 16.—Nine aeroplanes and six balloons, attended by a train of motor trucks, will arrive in Fargo at 5 p. m. today from St. Paul, according to a telegram received yesterday. This party comprises the "round the rim" flyers who are making an air tour around the United States.

Senator Johnson Flays Treaty.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 16.—Vigorous objection to the approval of the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant by the senate without amendments which protect every interest of the United States were voiced by Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California last night in two addresses delivered before large audiences. Senator William E. Borah was to have spoken also, but he sent a telegram stating that he had been called back to Washington to participate in the senate debate on the treaty.

Colonel Breckinridge of the Navy League was talking in New York about a stern father.

"He's stern, entirely too stern," he said. "In fact, the old boy's raving now—raving mad against his son.

"He sent his son off to New York last week, you know, and told him to find an opening. Well—"

Colonel Breckinridge chuckled.

"The boy telephoned yesterday to wire $200, as he was in a hole."

Back Given Out?

Housework is too hard for a woman who is half sick, nervous and always tired. But it keeps piling up, and gives weak kidneys no time to recover. If your back is lame and achy and your kidneys irregular; if you have "blue spells," sick headaches, nervousness, dizziness and rheumatic pains, use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have done wonders for thousands of worn out women.

A North Dakota Case

Mrs. Patrick Keating, N. Second St. W., Langdon, N. D., says: "My back was so lame and sore I could hardly get around. A tired, worn-out feeling clung to me and I felt out of sorts. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and got some and used them. I used two boxes and they relieved me entirely. I haven't needed a kidney remedy for some time. I give Doan's credit for my cure."

An Irish Opinion.

During March, 1918, we were camped in northern France. It was the rainy season, and our clothes were always damp. One morning a big Irishman, as he thumped the water from his hobnails, said in a husky voice: "If a guy don't get pneumonia here there is something the matter with his lungs!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Eat Less and Take Bitro-Phosphate To Put on Flesh

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

Disappearing Service.

"No," said the commuter. "I'm not making any complaints about the road."

"Then you are satisfied?"

"I won't say that. But the last time I complained about my trip they took that train off the next day."

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs.

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. At the first sign that your kidneys are not working properly, go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

RECOGNIZED THAT ART WORK

Profiteer Picked Out Wrong Man to Boast About Picture He Had "Picked Up."

A Kansas City profiteer moved into his gaudy new home last week, and last night was piloting a salaried friend around through the new rugs and furniture. As they entered the "library," the profiteer pointed with great pride to a lurid picture 6 by 9, on the wall, and said:

"How d'ye like that for art? I'm ashamed to tell you how cheap I got that down at the art shop the other day. See that torn place in the corner? That was made, the dealer said, by one o' them German looters in the Thirty-Year war."

"The dealer was mistaken," observed the salaried friend. "It was another war. It was made by a beer bottle I threw myself. I never could stand that picture, especially when I was lit up. Grogan's bartender kicked me clear across the sidewalk the night I heaved that bottle. So Grogan's selling off his pictures, is he?"—Kansas City Star.

Father's Little Joke.

I was absent from high school one day. The next day I asked my father, who loves a joke, to write an excuse for me. He did so, and in my hurry I forgot to look at it before handing it to my teacher. She took the note, read it, looked at me, and read it again. I began to feel that something was wrong. Finally she handed me the note. It read: "Please turn Betty over your checkered apron. She needs it."—Exchange.

INSISTED ON QUICK ACTION

This Father About as Sensible as Many Who Expect Wonders From Correspondence School.

Henry P. Davison was talking about the numerous correspondence courses in five lessons—each lesson to be mastered in one evening over the after-dinner cigar—which teach a man how to become a Napoleon of finance.

"You can't learn to be a Napoleon of finance or anything else so easily," he said. "These courses remind me of the man who brought his son to the school of mines and growled:

"'I want you to learn this here boy to be an expert minin' engineer, but look a-here—I don't want him to waste his time over a lot of book nonsense about strata and denudations, and don't bother him with minerology and crystals, neither. What I want him to learn is how to find gold and silver and copper in payin' quantities—payin' quantities, mind you—and I'll call for him and put him in to work Monday a week.'"

An Apology.

Whether the following excerpt from the Williamsville (N. D.) Item is a bona fide apology, or only the work of the office humorist, it has originality:

"We wish to apologize to Mrs. Orville Overholt. In our paper last week we had as a headline 'Mrs. Overholt's Big Feet.' The word we ought to have used is a French word, pronounced the same way, but spelled 'fete.' It means a celebration, and is considered a very tony word."

UNCLE SAM HAS VETO IN LEAGUE

Decisions of Assembly Must Be Unanimous, Says President Wilson.

U. S. VOTE REQUIRED

Will Extend Our Sovereignty to Saying Whether Other Nations Shall Be Permitted to Go to War or Not.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 12.—Replying here today to objections that Great Britain would have a preponderance of voting power in the league of nations assembly, President Wilson said any possible danger on that score was removed by the fact that decisions must be unanimous.

Largely a "debating body," said the president, the assembly would act on important questions and when it did the United States, with its one vote, would have "an absolute veto" under the rule requiring a unanimous vote.

There was only one case in which the assembly could decide an important question, he said, and that was when such a question was unanimously referred to it by the council. The assembly also must act unanimously, he added, so that in either council or assembly the one vote of the United States would constitute a veto power.

The unanimous rule, added the president, seemed to him the only weakness of the league, but it was a weakness in the direction of throwing a safeguard around national sovereignty.

Mr. Wilson also discussed at length proposed reservations to the treaty and asked for its unqualified acceptance.

He asked for Republicans present "not to think of 1920 when thinking of the redemption of the world," adding that he himself did not for a moment do so.

Not one of the qualifications suggested to the league of nations covenant was warranted, declared the president. Under the withdrawal clause, he asserted, the nation itself would judge whether it had performed its international obligations. That was a matter, he added, which never could or would be left to the judgment of any other nation.

In effect, Mr. Wilson declared, the language of the covenant made the right of withdrawal unconditional.

Taking up the proposed reservations to Article X, the president said the vote of the United States would be required to insure any decision of the league covenant.

"Yet I hear gentlemen say," he said, "that this is a violation of our sovereignty. If anything, it is an exaggeration of our sovereignty. This extends our sovereignty to saying whether other nations shall go to war or not."

PERSHING VISITS CAPITAL

Receives Warm Welcome of Vice President Marshall.

Washington, Sept. 12.—General John J. Pershing arrived in Washington today and received a foretaste of the more formal greeting he will receive next week when he leads the First division up historic Pennsylvania avenue in the nation's victory parade.

As the American commander stepped from his special train at the station, a shrill cry of greeting arose from hundreds of women and girls. As he stood later before Vice President Marshall in the president's waiting room to receive the welcome of the president and of the nation, again it was women and girls, armed with flags and flowers, who surrounded him. There was little of the pomp of war about this conqueror's return.

The reception, with the exception of these lines of school girls and women of the government departments, and the meeting extended in President Wilson's name by Vice President Marshall, was informal. Secretary Baker and General March, chief of staff, greeted General Pershing at the train.

HANKINSON MAN HAS ORDER FOR $35,000

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Richard Biggs, wealthy Hankinson, N. D., farmer is in Minneapolis with a telegraphed order from his home bank, drawn on the First and Security National bank for $35,000. Fearing crooks were planning to rob Biggs, officers of the bank persuaded him not to cash the order. Meanwhile the police picked up a Minneapolis man who had been under suspicion in investigations of swindles in the past. This man, they said, had gone to the Minneapolis bank and inquired whether Biggs would have any trouble obtaining money, according to the police.

Says Packers Need Common Sense.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Excoriation of the "Big Five" packers was the burden of a three hour argument before the senate agriculture committee today by Edward L. Burke of Omaha, Neb., vice-president of the American National Live Stock association, who asked the immediate passage of the Kendrick and Kenyon bills. "What the big packers need," Mr. Burke declared, "is common sense enough to accept fair federal regulation. The trouble is that they think themselves bigger than the government."

"Yes."

Thrive, Too

Joseph Hergesheimer was talking at the Authors' club in New York about the copyright law, which deprives a writer and his heirs of any remuneration from his work 58 years after its copyright.

"We authors," said Mr. Hergesheimer, "have little to fear from the bolsheviks. Our work has always been treated as under bolshevik regime.

"But, then, literary artists," added the talented writer whimsically, "have the consolation that their work lives after them. Look at Rubens! He painted a thousand pictures, yet there are something like four thousand in existence today!"

Knew Her Letters.

Aunt Grace came into the room where her three-year-old niece was cutting up her grandmother's new magazine. Grandmother was making feeble remonstrances but the small youngster continued placidly with her cutting. Aunt Grace turned to her mother. "It seems to me," she said, "Ruth Marie is getting to be b-a-d (spelling the word)."

But Ruth Marie had not been playing with the school children in the neighborhood for nothing. She knew the word from the sound of its letters and promptly retorted to Aunt Grace, "Well, you aren't so better yourself."

Personal Question.

"Person" in the dictionaries is described as "an individual human being." But it is not so in England from a legal standpoint, as women do not come within the class. This was revealed recently when the Royal Astronomical society of London decided to admit women as fellows of the council. The plan was found to be impossible until the society had its charter altered.

Eligibles for election in the society's by-laws were described as "persons" and when legal opinion was obtained it was decided that a "person" was strictly of the masculine sex. The change was made in the charter and the clever women who had distinguished themselves in star gazing were admitted to the society.

Red Cross Work Explained

The aim of the relief work of the Red Cross during the past six weeks has been two fold. First, to give immediate relief; Second, to make a survey of the flooded territory and to compile records which can be used by the permanent secretary.

We have tried to use business methods in both of these tasks, and to get at the truth in all cases. Our principle is to help according to the needs of the people, and not according to what they may have lost. This is the principle used in all disaster relief. The writer appreciates the attitude and fairness of those who lost their crops by the flood as in nearly every case they were willing to leave their case to the decision reached by the Red Cross knowing that the latter wishes to do the square thing, by everybody.

The Red Cross has been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Pricilla Warner of Rollis to carry on the field work for the next few months, and we ask the hearty cooperation of all the people in helping to make her work as pleasant as possible.

The people are urged to do all that they can to help themselves and to show their appreciation of what the Red Cross has tried to do to help them.

Sincerely your friend.
Oscar J. Johnson
Field Representative, Northern Division, A. R. C.

Good Work of Health Clinic

The public health clinic which was held at Gatzke last Thursday when twenty-two people were examined by Dr. M. G. Milan, a chest and throat specialist, was as well attended proportionately as any of the four previous clinics, and the findings were relatively the same. The people of the eastern part of the county are to be commended for the readiness with which they have responded to this health movement, for it is the first work of its kind to be introduced into this locality.

The next public health clinic will be held in Middle River on October 3. While these are occasional clinics they cannot be repeated except at intervals of considerable length due to the size of the county. People are therefore advised to take advantage of the opportunity when it presents itself.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Mr. Reuter

DISCOURAGED

Mr. Reuter Was Almost Helpless From Kidney Trouble, But Doan's Made Him Well.

"I was in terrible shape from kidney trouble," says D. Reuter, North St., West Chicago, Ill. "I couldn't stoop because of the awful pains in my back and the steady, dull misery almost drove me frantic. I had to be helped out of bed mornings, the pains across my kidneys were so bad and nobody knows the agony I went through. I couldn't do anything and was almost helpless; it seemed I would never get well. At times everything in front of me grew dark and I couldn't see for several minutes. I perspired profusely and I was thirsty all the time. The urine passed far too often and burned like scalding water. The passages were scanty and I had no control over them.

"For two years I suffered, trying medicine after medicine without relief. I was just about discouraged and didn't think I would ever be able to work again. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills I used them and four boxes cured me. My kidneys became normal, my back got well and strong and all the other troubles disappeared."

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

MAMMOTH CAVE, KENTUCKY.

MAMMOTH CAVE, the largest of a number of caves in Edmondson county, Kentucky, is said to be the largest cave known. It extends for almost a mile below the surface of the earth and contains about 100 miles of passage ways. Here are displayed perhaps the greatest and grandest examples in the world of the wonderful work of water in underground sculpturing.

Its discovery was another case of the hunter and the bear—date about 1800. The bear, wounded, crawled into the cave and escaped. The hunter followed and discovered the cave.

A visit to this cave is certainly a unique and wonderful experience. Nowhere else can it be duplicated. The interior is a maze of domes, pits, halls, chambers, pillars, temples, cascades, caverns, crevasses, stalactites and stalagmites, carved stone and other characteristic and peculiar phenomena and fairylike forms fashionable in cave architecture. There are lakes and rivers in it—one can boatride on the Echo river for half a mile. The lofty limestone roof, 60 feet high in places, and the battlemented shores reflect and magnify every sound.

The Giant's Coffin is the largest rock in the cave. It is 18 feet thick, 43 feet long and weighs 2,000 tons. Mammoth Dome, the largest and most impressive of many, is 280 feet high. Many varieties of animal life are found, including eyeless fish and blind crawfish. The air is good and the temperature even—about 54 degrees. There are several routes through the cave, the longest requiring a full day.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

YELLOWSTONE, our oldest and largest national park, is considerably larger than the state of Delaware. Its altitude ranges from 6,000 to 11,000 feet above sea level. It contains such a large collection of weird and freak natural phenomena that the visitor gains the impression the Great Creator of all things must have roamed over the world, collecting all the odd things he saw, dumping them here in one great disordered heap.

There are more geysers than in all the rest of the world put together. They range from tiny openings, spouting water but a few feet, at intervals of a few minutes, to the great giant, larger than a well, projecting a column of water 250 to 300 feet high, for a period of several minutes at intervals of several days. There are numerous waterfalls, the great fall of the Yellowstone river in the gorgeously colored, 20-mile-long Grand canyon, being 308 feet high. There are many hot springs and small lakes, also the largest lake—Yellowstone—at its height in North America. There are several paint pots—great cauldrons of blubbering, hissing mud; many steam vents and boiling pools, a natural bridge, a roaring mountain, a mountain of volcanic glass, petrified trees and wedded trees.

At Norris basin is said to be the thinnest known portion of the earth's crust. Standing there, the visitor needs no assurance that his satanic majesty resides near by.

Yellowstone, known far and wide for its wild flowers, is also the largest wild game preserve in the world.

THE CROOKEDEST RAILROAD IN THE WORLD.

THE Mount Tamalpais and Muir Woods railway runs from Mill Valley California, to the top of Mount Tamalpais—the guardian of our famous Golden Gate, the entrance to San Francisco bay. This miniature railway is but 20 miles long. The longest piece of straight track is 413 feet. It contains 281 curves. In one place the track parallels itself five times in a little more than 300 feet—forming an almost perfect double bow-knot. So crooked is this line that if all the curves were continuous, they would make 42 complete circles. It is one of the most wonderful pieces of engineering on the American continent.

The curious looking, oil-burning locomotive squirms its way tail first, pushing the train up the tortuous track, on a grade averaging six feet to the hundred, to the summit, 2,592 feet above the valley below.

The reason for it all is, of course, the view from the top of this peak which stands on the very edge of the U. S. A. Here, the eye, in one far-reaching sweep, commands a panorama of mountains, forest, bay, island, city and sea, lying between the Sierra mountains and the Pacific ocean which, 'tis said, is not surpassed from the summit of any other mountain peak in the world.

Worth mentioning in passing, too, is the fact that the government recording station here, shows more sunshine per day than any other recording station in this country.

The return trip is made by gravity—the train coasting all the way down.

THE HIGHEST HIGHWAY IN THE WORLD.

PIKE'S PEAK is, without question, the most-talked-of, most-written-about and consequently most-famous mountain in America. Fittingly indeed has it fallen heir to the name "Monument of the Continent," for it has played an important part in the history and romance of our fascinating and wonderful West. Now its importance as a landmark, situated on the dividing line between the great plains on the east and the mountain kingdom on the west, has been further increased, because of the ability of the public to ascend it comfortably and quickly and enjoy the panoramic view of five or six states which is visible from its snow-clad summit, 14,109 feet high.

The most marvelous highway building achievement of the age is the construction of an automobile highway from Colorado Springs and Manitou to the summit of this peak. The fearless thought that conceived and the daring which executed the work of building this, the highest highway in the world, absolutely stun the average individual. It is about 16 miles long, from 20 to 50 feet wide, smooth as a boulevard, and has a maximum grade of 10½ per cent.

While this serpentine road turns and twists and winds and zigzags up, to an elevation seldom reached in this world under any circumstances, the visitor is treated to indescribable views of illimitable space and into immeasurable depths and receives a series of new thrills and sensations. Looking up, one may see cars moving in opposite directions on different levels of this road, yet both are going the same way—up.

THE GALVESTON SEA WALL.

GALVESTON has the finest harbor on the gulf coast and ranks high as a city of delightful homes. Although not a resort, the semitropical climate attracts thousands of tourists annually to her long, gradually sloping beach.

To prevent a recurrence of the terrible flood of 1900, the sea wall—one of the sights of the country—was constructed along the gulf side of the city. This great wall is 22,403 feet long, 17 feet high, 16 feet wide at the bottom and five feet wide on top. It is built of concrete and granite and rests on a foundation of piling. These piles are 40 feet long, not less than 12 inches in diameter at the small end, four rows wide, set four feet apart. The top of the wall is used for a walk.

To prevent water from the gulf flowing behind the wall and flooding the city during severe storms, the grade of a large portion of the city was raised from 2 to 17 feet. This necessitated the raising of about 2,500 buildings and the readjustment of streets, sidewalks, street car tracks, electric lights, water and gas pipes to the new level.

The filling-in material was taken from the bay. The dredges, after pumping their holds full, steamed up a canal behind the wall and discharged their load through pipe lines leading down the various streets. When the work was completed the canal was filled. The magnitude of this undertaking is unparalleled in America.

ESTES-ROCKY MOUNTAIN NATIONAL PARK.

MANY years ago three Englishmen hunted big game in the Rocky mountains. They had hunted in Asia, Africa and South America, but as they stood on the continental divide in north-central Colorado and looked down into Estes park it seemed to them a very paradise on earth. One of Colorado's most satisfying outing places ever since that time Uncle Sam, in 1915, proclaimed part of Estes and the territory immediately to the west a national park.

Only 70 miles from Denver, it is the most accessible to the largest number of people of any of our great national playspots. Here, at an average elevation of 7,500 feet above sea level, is a pine-scented, snow-capped pleasureland—a perfectly delightful refuge of peaceful grandeur, where one may be out every day from May to October in clear, bracing air, beneath a bright but scorchless sun and enjoy every night the cool, refreshing sleep that only the mountains can induce.

Long's Peak stands sentinel over the park, in which are lakes on which float ice cakes in August; masses of snow (glaciers) a mile long and hundreds of feet thick, supposed to be older than the pyramids of Egypt, always exposed to the sun, far away from their starting point, yet slower than a snail; moraines—great ridges formed by glaciers which moved through the park centuries ago; rock-walled canyons; magnificent forests of pine and aspen; numerous mountain-trout streams; broad valleys, carpeted with luxuriant wild flowers of many varieties, including the delicate columbine—the state flower of Colorado.

Japanese Gala Day.

Of all floral festivities, Japan's Feast of the Cherry Blossom is the most generally observed. Practically every town and village throughout the land has its own particular cherry tree for honoring at this great occasion, but the most famous of them all is that at Kioto. Here early in April is to be seen such a sight as can be witnessed nowhere else in all the world There are seldom fewer than 1,000,000 persons present, who gather from all parts of the empire. Everywhere is feasting, dancing and merrymaking.—"Flaneur," in Indianapolis Star.

Best Fruits of Romance.

A speaker was taken aback during a Sunday school session. He had been commenting on the blessings of matrimony, and just to see whether or not the class was really paying attention, asked one girl what she considered to be the best fruits of romance. The girl pondered a moment and then answered: "I should say the wedding date and the bridal pair."

SPECIAL SESSION BROUGHT TO END

Equal Suffrage, Soldiers' Bonus and Ore Tonnage Tax Are Approved by Solons.

OTHER MEASURES FAIL

Proposed Changes in Primary Election Law Fall by Wayside—Forest Fire Bill Passed—Senator Senator Johnson Speaks.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist vetoed the Bendixen tonnage tax bill. His veto message, read to the Minnesota legislature shortly before adournment, precipitated an exciting scene as tonnage tax advocates in the house made a last ditch fight to hold the legislature in session until an attempt could be made to pass the bill over the veto. The house voted to extend the session but the senate by one vote refused to concur.

St. Paul.—Soldiers' bonus and ratification of the woman suffrage amendment, both urged in the Governor's call, and tonnage tax, not mentioned in the call, are the outstanding measures passed during the special session of the Minnesota legislature, which adjourned sine die last Friday, after listening to an address on the peace treaty by U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson of California. The actual business of the session was wound up the night before.

Minnesota's war veterans will receive the state bonus of $15 for every month in the service in the war with Germany.

Final approval of the bill came when the senate surrendered to the demands of the lower house and repassed the measure unanimously without the amendments to which the representatives objected.

Payments expected Jan. 1.

The bill went to Governor J. A. A. Burnquist for signature, which was immediately forthcoming. Legislators predicted that payments of the bonus would begin by Jan. 1, 1920.

Tonnage Tax Passes.

State senators listened to four hours of debate on the tonnage tax bill, and then passed the bill by a vote of 38 to 28. It carried two amendments to the house measure, placed in the bill by its friends. One struck out the provision for sending one-third of the tax to the permanent school fund, on the ground that this might invalidate the bill. The other related to computation of the tax.

By a vote of 86 to 15 the house repassed the bill with the senate amendments attached. The bill was sent to the governor as soon as it was enrolled.

The tonnage measure passed by both houses was originally introduced by Representative C. M. Bendixen of Morgan. It levies a tax of five per cent of the value of ore at the mouth of the mine after the cost of mining has been deducted. In others words, it is a tax upon the profits of mining. It is a super-tax in that it is in addition to the regular ad valorem tax now paid.

Cold Storage Control.

The senate passed the bill for the regulation of cold storge plants agreed upon by the marketing committee of the senate and house. The bill had previously passed the house and went to the governor for his signature.

No Election Law Changes.

The legislature failed to produce any changes in the primary election laws. The house killed, overwhelmingly, a bill for a dual-primary, said to have been favored by Governor Burnquist. The senate did not even take a vote on a measure affecting the primary election laws. The senate elections committee made no report on the one bill along that line introduced.

Forest Fire Bill Passed.

Power to issue certificates of indebtedness up to $1,000,000 to prevent forest fires and give relief to disasters is conferred on a state relief board, under the provisions of a bill passed by both houses. The measure, introduced by George Wicker of Kasson, would change the so-called state calamity board into a relief board to take steps both to avert calamities and to give aid.

Authorizes Price Study.

The bill empowers the commissioner of agriculture to investigate prices and costs of necessities of life, all the way from the raw material to the consumer, and to give the prices and profits found in such commodities all possible publicity through newspapers. The commissioner is given power to subpoena witnesses and records, take testimony under oath, and in general to do anything needed to get at the facts.

Closer Relations With Chile.

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 19.—Relations between the United States and Chile are certain to become closer in the future, said Joseph H. Shea, American Ambassador. Mr. Shea, who recently returned from a trip to the United States, expressed himself with enthusiasm in discussing the possibilities of trade between the two countries. "All the intellectual, commercial, industrial and financial efforts of the United States are bing co-ordinated in the development of export trade," he said

JUST WHAT DID SHE MEAN?

Young Teacher's Reply Might Have Been Merely a Statement of Plain Fact, or—

The young primary teacher had been continually annoyed by Bobby's mother ever since he had entered school. Nothing suited her. At first it was the hours, then the arrangement of Bobby's seat, and finally, after a score of complaints about everything imaginable, she began to come to school to criticize the teacher's methods and books used. "Now, these readers are not nearly so interesting as the ones we used to use," she said. "Couldn't you get some of those old books and use them to supplement these?" she asked.

"I don't know whether I could find any," hesitated the little teacher.

"But you will find the stories so much more interesting that you will be paid for your effort in hunting them," insisted the woman. "How I did love those stories! There was one about a little red hen. It—"

"I don't believe that would interest my children now," interrupted the young teacher. "You see, the hen grew up."—Indianapolis News.

MERELY RED CLOTH TO HIM

Fact That It Was Cut From Country's Flag Meant Nothing to German Merchant.

It is a known fact that the average German will forget religion, civil laws, and even his patriotism, if they interfere with his chances to drive home a good bargain. The latest display of this tendency came during the preparations for the victory ball, which was given the Fourth of July in the Enlisted Men's club at Andernach. As no Fourth of July ball would be complete without "Uncle Sam," several "Y" girls set out to prepare a costume for the revered character. When it came to purchasing the red cloth for the stripes in the trousers, however, it seemed that their plans had gone amiss. Nowhere in Andernach could a sufficient quantity of the right colored material be purchased. Finally one German merchant announced that he had just what they wanted. Out of a closet at the rear of his shop he dug a large German flag. Quickly he cut all the red cloth from it, and sold the material to the girls with the air of one who had just accomplished a noble deed.—From the Watch on the Rhine.

Jasper's Clay Man.

Little Jasper Senter learned from the minister's sermon one Sunday that man was made of clay; so, after returning from church, he resolved to make him a man after his own fashion. The work proceeded in the clay bank back of the garden until his mother called Jasper to luncheon. He had completed all of the man save one leg.

That afternoon Jasper and his mother, while walking along the street, met a man with one leg, walking with crutches. Jasper accosted him and grabbed his coat.

"See here!" he said. "I thought I told you to stay there in the yard till I put that other leg on you."—Judge.

Finding Haedt at the Decoria church, the men interrupted the services and demanded that Haedt apologize publicly. He denied having made such remarks. Haedt is a prominent farmer in Decoria township. All the men are said to have been volunteer soldiers.

Albert Lea.—City officials are investigating the responsibility of the collapse of the walls of the Ramsey schoolhouse here, when fifty children narrowly escaped death. The building is having an addition of four rooms built upon it, and the heavy rains are said to have softened the subsoil about the foundation where the new basement had been excavated adjoining the old. School sessions were continued when teachers were told that the building was safe. The collapse of the wall occurred at 3:30 p. m. shortly before dismissal of the classes.

Moorhead.—Ten acres of sweet clover on Mr. Sand's farm, northeast of Moorhead, yielded eighty-one bushels. At present market prices the seed is worth $12 a bushel, or $972. The seed will be worth $16 to $18 a bushel later on.

St. Cloud.—A corporation to build homes to solve the serious housing problems of the city of St. Cloud was launched at a meeting here of about 300 business men of the city. The corporation is to be capitalized at $100,000 and more than one-quarter of the capital stock was subscribed at the initial meeting.

SEVEN ARE SHOT IN STRIKE RIOT

Outbreaks at Steel Mills Result in a Number of Deaths on Opening Day.

LONG FIGHT STARTED

Mill Guards About the Pennsylvania Works Open Fire When Crowd Assaults Men Preparing to Take Places of Strikers.

New Castle, Pa., Sept. 23.—Seven persons were shot, one probably fatally, in rioting which broke out at the Carnegie Steel company's plant late Monday afternoon.

The trouble started when a crowd of about 400 persons attempted to prevent mill workers from entering the plant. About 20 workmen were being assaulted when the mill guards came to their rescue.

Crowd Refuses to Disperse.

The mill guards were met with a volley of bricks, stones and clubs. They drew their revolvers and attempted to hold the mob at bay, but the shower of missiles continued and the crowd refused to disperse.

When the situation appeared to be getting beyond control the guards are alleged to have opened fire on the crowd. Two women were shot. A man shot through the stomach is reported to be in a critical condition. A boy also was wounded. Three other persons were struck by bullets, but not seriously hurt.

Following the shooting, the mill guards had little difficulty in clearing the streets.

Another outbreak occurred at the plant of the Shenango Tin Plate company, in which two local policemen weer slightly wounded while attempting to protect mill workers. One officer was stabbed and another was shot.

Outbreak at Farrell.

A Pittsburgh dispatch says one man was killed, two state troopers were shot and many other persons less seriously injured last night in a second outbreak at Farrell.

The fight occurred near the American Steel and Wire plant when, it is said, members of a crowd threw bricks and other missiles at the state police and local officers.

At the end of the opening day both sides express themselves as satisfied with preparations made, and it is considered evident that a long fight has been started.

SENATE WARNS THE GALLERY

Noisy Demonstration Marks Reed's Attack on Treaty Provisions.

Washington, Sept. 23.—At the end of a four-four attack on the league of nations by Senator Reed of Missouri, a Democrat, the senate galleries yesterday started a demonstration that had to wear itself out and then followed with hisses of violent disapproval when the cheering was condemned from the floor.

There has been no outburst like it since the treaty fight was put before the senate. But there were indications soon after Senator Reed began his speech that the crowds, swarming for admittance at all doors, were in sympathy with his argument. Mindful of the evidences of feeling in the galleries, Senator Cummins, president pro tem., gave warning that while applause might be tolerated at the end of the addresses, it would not be permitted at other times

Pershing and Staff Aid R. C.

Washington, Sept. 23.—General Pershing's last days in France contained an incident which is disclosed in a report just reaching national headquarters of the American Red Cross from Paris. It was a gift of 94,262.40 francs, more than $10,000, from General Pershing and the officers of his staff to the Red Cross to be devoted to some deserving work among mothers and children of France who suffered in the war.

New Counterfeit Bill Out

Washington, Sept. 23.—Notice of a new counterfeit $20 note on the Federal Reserve bank of New York was given today by the treasury. The border of the note and the background of Cleveland's portrait are solid black, instead of having fine cross lines, and the treasury numbers are black instead of blue.

Extradition Is Granted

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 23.—Extradition papers were granted by Gov. Lynn J. Frazier for the arrest of Herbert Buis, of Minot, by William T. Judkins, state game warden of Wyoming, on a charge of having shot elk in the Big Stone game reserve contrary to law

President Speaks at Reno

Reno, Nev., Sept. 23.—Contrasting the peace conference at Versailles with the congress of Vienna, President Wilson declared in an address here tonight that the Vienna peace effort had failed because all the governments represented there were in the hands of a small coterie of autocrats. At Versailles, said the president, the league of nations covenant was drawn up by great democracies so that autocracies never again could enslave the peoples of the world.

BACK LIKE A BOARD? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

There's no use suffering from the awful agony of lame back. Don't wait till it "passes off." It only comes back. Find the cause and stop it. Diseased conditions of kidneys are usually indicated by stiff lame backs and other wrenching pains, which are nature's signals for help!

Here's the remedy. When you feel the first twinges of pain or experience any of these symptoms, get busy at once. Go to your druggist and get a box of the pure, original GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules, imported fresh every month from the laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. Pleasant and easy to take, they instantly attack the poisonous germs clogging your system and bring quick relief.

For over two hundred years they have been helping the sick. Why not try them? Sold everywhere by reliable druggists in sealed packages. Three sizes. Money back if they do not help you. Ask for "GOLD MEDAL" and be sure the name "GOLD MEDAL" is on the box.-Adv.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

She Calls This Funny!

My funniest experience was last year, about this time. We were traveling by auto through the Topango pass in California. We had an experienced driver, and the roads were like boulevards all through the mountains.

We were going about eighteen miles per, when suddenly, for no apparent reason, we swerved from the road about four feet, and almost went into a canyon.

We all wondered why it happened, and the driver could not account for it himself.

When we got to town in about fifteen minutes we learned there had been an earthquake. People were thrown off their chairs, windows broken, and other damage done. Then we knew what hit us.—Chicago Tribune.

James and his mother went to the show one night and James' mother read the print in the picture aloud. In one place the writing was about a bum. James asked his mother what a bum was. "A bum is a man that just lays around and doesn't do any work."

"Oh," said James, "den drampa is a bum, huh!"

His Experience.

"Goodness gracious, Ysobelle! What sort of a butler is this new one you have? He admitted me with the most condescending unction, strutted half-way across the reception room with all the dignified pomposity of a strolling behemoth, and then suddenly sogged down in a chair, produced and lighted his pipe, flung his feet up on another chair and began scratching himself."

"Oh, you'll have to bear with Biggins. All the experience he has had as a butler was in the movies, where he buttled for the width of the scene, and then was at ease until he got his cue again. But doesn't he do it beautifully while he lasts?"—Kansas City Star.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

"Highgate."

The word "Highgate" is derived from a gate erected over 400 years ago to receive tolls for the bishop of London. At one time all travelers who tarried at Highgate taverns were required to take an oath never to eat brown bread while they could get white.

Lost Opportunity.

"It is a pity those people who used to fast for weeks couldn't get the public interested in their theory."

"Why so?"

"Because if the idea had been taken up and practiced, the ultimate consumer could be striking now."

Miserable Anyway.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN.

IN 184[illegible] Henry Shaw, a citizen of St. Louis, a lover of nature and of flowers in particular, built a large country residence near the city limits. He surrounded it with flowers and plants of every known variety. When he died in 1899, his will provided for a board of trustees to manage the garden and left sufficient funds to support it. This wonderful floral park, said to be the largest in the world, was thus preserved for the education, admiration and enjoyment of all.

It contains a collection embracing 150 species of palms; a varied collection of tropical and sub-tropical plants; a collection of the 35 known species of cycads; a wonderful assortment of plants which grow best under desert conditions; numerous species of ferns and allied plants; a great array of plants of great economic value and displays of plants that feed on insects; species of the pineapple and its relatives; numerous showy, flowering plants, while in the private orchid house a representative of each of the 800 species of this beautiful flower is to be found.

The out-door collection includes a water garden, several hundred varieties of roses, numerous species of herblike plants, a rare pansy display, a variety of economic plants and trees and shrubs, native to North America and grouped in families. All told, about eleven thousand species of plants are growing in this garden. The body of Mr. Shaw reposes in a handsome mausoleum within the grounds.

THE MOST POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVES.

AT the time of their completion, the locomotives used for hauling the long, heavy coal and other trains over the steep railroad grades in the mountains of Virginia were the most powerful in the world.

The enormous size, weight and power of these leviathans of the rail are positively astounding. Each engine (and tender) weighs almost 900,000 pounds, is considerably more than 100 feet in length, has 20 driving wheels, is fired by machinery, exerts a straightaway pull of 176,000 pounds and, 'tis said, will haul any load that the coupling pin will hold.

The boilers of these giants on wheels are about 9½ feet in diameter. Each boiler contains 381 two and a quarter-inch tubes, which, placed end to end, would reach almost two miles; also seventy 5½-inch flues, having a total length of more than a quarter of a mile. The fire boxes are 15 feet long and 9 feet wide.

The shipment of these large locomotives from the point of construction to the point of service presented an unusually peculiar and difficult problem requiring great care and attention, for the reason that the tracks and bridges of the various railroads over which they had to move were not, in all cases, built to withstand such tremendous weights. They were shipped in a partially knocked-down condition and approximately two weeks were required to move them from Schenectady, N. Y., to Princeton, W. Va. Three cars were necessary to carry the loose and detached parts belonging to each locomotive.

NIAGARA FALLS.

IF you can imagine a river three-fourths of a mile wide, 20 feet deep in the middle, and containing thousands and thousands of tons of water, suddenly tumbling over a cliff 160 feet high and dashing on the rocks below with a deafening roar and throwing up huge clouds of mist and spray, you have some impression of what Niagara Falls, the world's best-known and most popular waterfall, is like.

This majestic cataract is situated in the Niagara river, between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario and near the city of Buffalo, N. Y. Ny-ah-ga-rah is an Indian word, meaning Thundering Waters. Members of the Seneca tribe, 'tis said, considered the roar of the falls as the voice of the Great Spirit. Thinking he inhabited the spray, they made many and various offerings to this deity.

The waterfall divides itself into two parts, American Falls and the Horseshoe or Canadian Falls. Nine-tenths of the flow, which is estimated to be 500,000 tons per minute, passes over the Horseshoe Falls, which is by far the more impressive of the two.

Below the falls the river is considerably narrower than it is above the falls, and the water rushes, at a frightful speed, through a seven-mile-long gorge, in which is located the famous Whirlpool Rapids.

The edge of the cliff over which the water plunges into the canyon below, wears away at the rate of about five feet a year. Geologists declare that this mighty fall has been in operation for about 20,000 years.

HELL GATE BRIDGE.

THE completion of the New York Connecting railroad gave us our first all-rail through route from New England, via New York, to the rest of America and a continuous rail line up and down the Atlantic coast from Key West to Halifax. It also calls to mind the fact that the insurmountable obstacle which had heretofore blocked the way had been overcome and the supposedly impossible accomplished.

Before this route could be opened, it was necessary to get trains across that terror to navigators, the rocky-bottomed tidal channel, known as "Hell Gate," between Long Island shore and Ward's Island in the East river, opposite Manhattan Island on which New York city proper stands.

It was not possible to sink piers into the channel, and the stretch was considered too great to be covered by one arched span. An engineer with vision came to the rescue and trains now cross on a wonderful four-tracked steel bridge. A peerless, steel arch, 1,017 feet long, said to be the longest as well as the heaviest ever flung across any waterway of equal width, now bridges the gap. The entire weight is carried by gigantic 250-foot high towers on either shore. The bridge is 93 feet wide, designed to carry 76,000 pounds per linear foot. The extreme height of the arch is more than 300 feet above the water.

About 19,000 tons of steel were used. The towers are bedded in solid rock, and it is estimated that they contain 3,000,000 cubic feet of masonry. The bridge cost $12,000,000.

THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN, THE DIVINE.

THE corner stone of this great Episcopal house of worship, which crowns Morningside Heights in New York city, was laid on December 27, 1892. This church was designed to be the largest and most costly church edifice in America and the fourth largest in the world, St. Peters at Rome and the cathedrals at Seville, Spain and Milan, Italy, only being larger. It will be over 600 feet long and its greatest width 300 feet. The total cost will exceed $10,000,000, and although it has been under construction for more than twenty-six years, no one can now say when it will be completed.

The architecture is of the French gothic style. The plans for the great organ call for 7,000 pipes and a chime. The crypt will seat 500 and the altar is to contain 150,000 pieces of mosaic glass. It will contain seven chapels of tongues: St. Martin of Tours or Huguenot chapel, representing the French rite; St. James or Spanish chapel, representing the Mozarabic rite; St. Ambroze, representing the Italian rite; St. Saviour, representing the Oriental rite; St. Columba or Scots chapel, representing the British rite; St. Boniface or Holland chapel, representing the German rite, and St. Ausgarius or Swedish chapel, representing the Scandinavian rite. There is to be also an open-air pulpit with a 40-foot-high spire and ornamentations in gothic structures.

Donations, large and small, have come from every conceivable source and direction, to assist in the erection of that which is to be America's greatest cathedral—a cathedral for the people in America's greatest city.

THE OLDEST SCHOOL.

THE Boston Latin school is the oldest educational institution in the United States, having enjoyed a continuous existence since April, 1635. From the start, it was a school for higher education, especially Latin and Greek. It appears to have been the determination of the founders "To beat Satan in each and all of his lairs;" therefore, "For the common defense and for the general welfare should the classical languages be taught at the common charge."

One day during the early days of the revolution, the master (as the teachers were called in those days), a loyalist, announced, as he dismissed school, "War's begun and school's done; deponite libros," but the school was soon re-opened, and when the British evacuated Boston in March, 1776, the master went with them as a prisoner. 'Tis said that in his day, all that was required for admission was to read a few verses in the Bible. School began at seven o'clock in the morning in summer (eight o'clock in winter) and ended at five in the afternoon, with a recess from eleven to one.

The present building, completed in 1880, was, at that time, "the largest structure in America devoted to educational purposes, and the largest in the world used as a free public school." It contains 56 school rooms, each accommodating 85 students.

It is doubtful, indeed, if any other school boasts of a more honorable career, can show as long a list of prominent men as graduates or more persistently conformed to the aspirations of its originators.

Where He Got the Name.

The first bulldog appears to have been bred from the English mastiff, and by process of systematic selection in breeding a smaller and more active dog than the mastiff was evolved. The smaller dog was found to be better suited for sport than the heavier and slower mastiff. The bull-baiting dog, without a doubt, required an inordinate amount of gameness.

Lisbon's Gambling Clubs.

The Portuguese are born gamblers and the most brilliant side of their night life is found in the exclusive clubs of the city of Lisbon. Wonderfully appointed, with added attractions of excellent dining rooms, music, dancing, reading rooms and libraries, they are kept alive by one thing—the Portuguese love of play.

OMAHA SUFFERS COSTLY RIOTING

Negro Lynched, Court House Destroyed and Lynching of Mayor Is Attempted.

TROOPS NOW ON GUARD

Over Forty People Believed to Have Been Injured in Most Remarkable Demonstration of Mob Madness City Has Ever Known.

Omaha, Sept. 30.—After a night of mob rule during which a negro was lynched, an attempt was made to hang the mayor of Omaha, Edward P. Smith, the county court house burned, one man, said to be an ex-soldier, shot and killed, and perhaps 40 others injured, the city was quiet yesterday under the control of federal troops ordered from Fort Omaha and Fort Crook.

With returning dawn Omaha's downtown section looked well nigh a wreck as the result of the night's rioting, which resulted in more than 40 casualties. Practically all the casualties that were not fatal resulted from shooting. Thousands of shots were fired from various kinds of weapons, all discharged in the open with thousands of people on the streets.

Courthouse Burned.

The fire that was started in the courthouse left that magnificent structure a mass of ruins. The property was valued at a million and a half dollars. The damage to the records could not be estimated.

The mob assaulted the jail and sheriff's office in search of a negro, said to have assaulted a white woman. Hundreds of people gathered and when the mob gained entrance to the jail and a fire in the building became menacing to 100 prisoners in the jail on the top floor, Sheriff Clark sent all the prisoners, including the negro Brown, to the roof. He was there in the custody of the other prisoners. The sheriff and his deputies were guarding the entrance to the jail and were able to keep back the mob for several hours. However, as the heat became intense, the prisoners themselves took action and delivered the negro to the mob.

Attempt to Lynch Mayor Smith.

Mayor Smith was seized by the mob on Seventeenth street, near the courthouse, at 10 o'clock and was hustled to Harney street and stopped at the foot of a trolley pole. A rope was then placed around his neck and lynching was attempted. Appalled at the possibility of murdering the city's chief executive, the crowd protested. Two officers cut the rope, carried the mayor to an automobile and rushed him to a hospital.

Eleven officers and 250 men from Camp Funston, Kan., and 20 officers and 550 troops from Camp Grant, Ill., are now in the city helping to preserve quiet. In addition to these, many men of the American Legion are acting as special officers.

Mayor Smith, who was severely injured and who remained unconscious for some time after the attempt had been made on his life, is now in a hospital and is said to be improving.

PRINCTON GREETS MERCIER

Belgian Cardinal Given Ovation by Enthusiastic Students.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 30.—A mightier yell than ever greeted any victorious hero of the gridiron echoed over Princeton when Cardinal Mercier of Belgium was welcomed with the famous "Biss Boom 'Ah Tiger, Tiger, Tiger'" from hundreds of student throats as he arose in Alexander hall to receive the degree of doctor.

The special train which brought the cardinal and his suite from Philadelphia was met at the station by President Hibben and members of the faculty. At Alexander hall President Hibben delivered an address of welcome, in which he compared the distinguished visitor to Saint Augustie "pleading not for mercy, but for justice."

N. Y. Drink Dispensers Hear Rumor.

New York, Sept. 30.—Acting, it is said, on one of Broadway's famous "rumors" that within a week President Wilson would cast wartime prohibition into the discard by proclaiming demobilization completed, New York liquor men began stocking up today for a brief period of trade.

Saloons began enrolling bartenders and waiters previously laid off.

Pershing Is Honored.

New York, Sept. 29.—General John Pershing was elected commander-in-chief of veterans of the foreign wars. This is the first time in the history of the organization that such an honor has been conferred.

London Watches Strike Situation.

London, Sept. 30.—Great Britain, a nation without transportation, expected last night that the next 48 hours would prove the most critical period of the railway strike. Today, it was believed, would show whether the walkout would be broken soon or whether the nation would have to face a long siege. While all the strikers readily accepted a week end holiday, it was believed that many of them were becoming disheartened over the public's hostility and were likely to resume work.

At the Right Time.

The other night at a local picture show an egotistical young man was giving a very shy, diffident person some advice, which interested the people around them. He told elaborately of his own success and then ended: "What you have to do now is to talk a little bit more about yourself and the things you do. If a fellow doesn't advertise himself who will, I want to know?"

Just then a subtitle was flashed on the screen and every one around the two young men laughed heartily. It read: "A whale never gets into trouble till he begins to blow."

Suspicious Circumstance.

"Did you find your house in great disorder when you returned from the seashore?" asked Mrs. Gripping.

"Why, no," replied Mrs. Whymple. "There was a great deal of dust, to be sure, but everything was just as I left it and I congratulated Mr. Whymple on being so orderly."

"Umph! You should have put a detective on that man's trail. He evidently didn't stay at home while you were away."

If people were given all they pray for the world would have to be enlarged.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

OLD SAYING SLIGHTLY MIXED

Familiar "Before You Could Say Jack Robinson" Does Not Convey the Right Idea.

Opinion differs as to the proper duration of a social call. "Anywhere from ten minutes to a half hour," says the woman who has a social secretary and whose daily job is "calling," to the tune of tea and wafers. "All afternoon," says the bourgeoise, who takes along her knitting and sits down to coffee and cake. "And then," say some, "it depends upon the call. On some occasions and with different people we stay longer than others."

But Jack Robinson's calls never varied. He never stayed long enough to wear out his welcome. In fact hardly had he been announced, hardly had the servant who admitted him spoken aloud his name than he was gone.

So, as you see, "before you can say Jack Robinson" has no reference to the time it takes to say it. "As long as you can see Jack Robinson" would be more in order with its origin and significance.

Mahogany Trees.

Mahogany trees do not grow in clusters, but are found scattered throughout forests and hidden in dense undergrowths.

A man may be poor and proud, but who ever heard of a man's being rich and humble?

OH, YES, THEY LOVED MOTHER

But One Can't Help Feeling the Jones Family Might Have Shown It in a Different Way.

Mr. Smith hearing music and singing at his neighbor's house, decided he would drop in and see how they were.

Mr. Jones welcomed him and ushered him into the parlor where his daughter was playing the piano and his son singing. Mr. Smith begged them to continue. They consented.

The first song they selected was "Mother" They sang this very feelingly and then father joined in on "Mother Machree" and others of like sentiment or songs about mother—how true they were, how dear and how they loved to sing them.

Then, as Mrs. Jones hadn't appeared yet, Mr. Smith inquired about her state of health.

"Oh," said Jones, "she's well enough. She's in the kitchen doing the dishes, but after she has finished and has taken in the wood she'll join us."—Judge.

Oh! Yes, Indeedy.

People Suffer

Doctors declare that more than 70 non-organic diseases can be traced to Acid-Stomach. Starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloat, sour, gassy stomach, the entire system eventually becomes affected, every vital organ suffering in some degree or other. You see these victims of Acid-Stomach everywhere—people who are subject to nervousness, headache, insomnia, biliousness—people who suffer from rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and aches and pains all over the body. It is safe to say that about 9 people out of 10 suffer to some extent from Acid-Stomach.

If you suffer from stomach trouble or, even if you do not feel any stomach distress, yet are weak and ailing, feel tired and dragged out, lack "pep" and enthusiasm and know that something is wrong although you cannot locate the exact cause of your trouble—you naturally want to get back your grip on health as quickly as possible. Then take EATONIC, the wonderful modern remedy that brings quick relief from pains of indigestion, belching, gassy bloat, etc. Keep your stomach strong, clean and sweet. BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy and vigor.

Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy living tissue.

This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigor and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time.

Dr. Frederick Kolle, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test this substance should be sure to get the genuine Bitro-Phosphate.

Check ugly dandruff! Stop hair coming out and double its beauty

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.—Adv.

As they were coming down the street Don stopped to give a lamp post the once over. An automobile had hit it and broken it off even with the ground.

She tried and tried to get him to "come on" but it was no use, for this time he was going to have his own way. At last, pleading with him like a mother, she said: "Don! Do come on before they blame you."

Bookseller's Enterprise.

A Parisian bookseller has found an ingenious way of providing the people of his "quartier" with poetry, in spite of the fact that the price of books has risen to an extent which places them beyond the reach of many purses. Outside his shop he has set up a large blackboard on which he chalks up, every morning, a fresh poem by one of the younger poets of whose works he is publisher. The idea has proved very popular. Every morning students of the Quartier Latin pause before the blackboard to enjoy this literary feast so generously offered without money and without price.

BRITAIN'S RAIL STRIKE ENDED

Compromise Averts Peril From Most Menacing Labor Contest of Years.

WAGES SAME TILL 1920

At End of One Year It Is Agreed That Rail Wages Will Be Reviewed in Light of Conditions Then Current.

London, Oct. 7.—British railway workers were returning to their posts after both the strikers and the government had made concessions which ended this country's greatest labor walkout.

On many of the railway lines trains were in operation early yesterday. In some quarters fear was expressed that agitators might cause further trouble, but there was no evidence of it in London, where the night shifts have generally reported for work.

With both sides claiming victory, the average Briton was concerned chiefly with the simple fact that a settlement had been reached.

Regardless of the partisan claims of victory, Britain recognizes generally that both sides conceded some points and granted some compromises. Both retained enough "to save their faces," and both were plainly conscious of the terrible possibilities involved in a failure to settle the issue.

Under the terms of settlement wages will remain at their present level until September 30, 1920, when they will be reviewed in the light of existing circumstances. The government will pay the arrears in wages which were withheld owing to the strikers' breach of contract. The government also made the concession of reopening negotiations with the strikers after the premier had refused to engage in further discussion until the men returned to work.

LABOR CONFERENCE OPENED

Delegates at Washington Arrive With General Demand for Action.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Representatives of the public evidenced a spirited desire for action, rather than oratory, at the opening session yesterday of the industrial conference called by President Wilson.

Apparently with the determination of differentiating this conference from many similar gatherings held in Washington, the public delegates demanded that the sessions be held night and day, if necessary, to establish basis for harmonious relations between capital and labor during the present abnormal economic conditions. Bernard M. Baruch of New York, one of the deelgates, was active in directing the affairs of the conference, which was considered significant in view of his close friendship with President Wilson and his frequent visits to the White House.

After the appointment of committees, on nominations and rules, the conference adjourned to meet tomorrow morning. Gavin McNab of San Francisco, a representative of the public, was mentioned prominently for permanent chairman of the conference, but members of both committees declined to indicate what their recommendations would be.

Virtually every delegate was in his seat when Secretary Wilson called the meeting to order.

WAR RULES ON CAR LOADING

Reinstatement of Heavier Loading Required to Move Potato Shipments.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Freight car loading rules effective during the war have been ordered reinstated by the federal railroad administration, according to a statement issued at the northwestern regional office here, which says:

"The potato crop this year is considerably larger than a year ago, and movement so far made shows satisfactory progress compared with a year ago. The demand for cars is very heavy, and while it is always important to supply the current demand, it is particularly desirable to get as much of this business loaded now in box cars as possible, in order to avoid the necessity of refrigerator service when the weather becomes colder. Reports indicate that the loading is not in all cases as heavy as these conditions warrant."

Ukranians Declare War.

Basle, Switzerland, Oct. 7.—Advices from Vienna confirm the report that General Simon Petlura, leader of the Ukranian forces, has declared war against General Deniken, anti-Bolshevik leader in the south of Russia. Relations between the southern Russian army and the Ukranian forces have long been strained.

Devils Lake Man Sentenced.

Devils Lake, N. D., Oct. 7.—William Pfehlhaber, 30 years old, pleaded guilty before Judge Buttz in district court here to attempting to kill Francis Johnson and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Pfehlhaber came from Germany about seven years ago and took out his first naturalization papers in Devils Lake. He has twice been sentenced on charges of larceny. In pleading guilty of attempted murder he said his purpose was to secure the automobile.

PRESIDENT IS A VERY SICK MAN

No Material Change for 36 Hours Up to Friday Night--Patient Being Carefully Attended.

NO WORK PERMITTED

Dr. Grayson and Other Physicians in Consultation—Crisis of Ailment Probably Not Yet Reached, Is Said—Family at Bedside.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Reports from the bedside of President Wilson, whose condition during the last 36 hours had been less favorable, indicated no change yesterday. The president was kept in bed with physicians in constant attendance upon him.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his personal physician, made the announcement that the "president is a very sick man," stand throughout the day, only issuing a bulletin saying his condition was unchanged.

Consultation Held.

There was another consultation of physicians and immediate members of the family came to the White House to be near him. Although reticent about the condition of the patient, those who attended him indicated that his ailment had not yet clearly revealed the inroads upon his system and several days might be required to ascertain its effects.

Nervous exhaustion, from which he is suffering, complicated with his long standing weakness of the digestive organs and a lingering touch of last spring's attack of influenza, the doctors say, have considerably weakened the president's power of resistance. For a man of his years, however, Mr. Wilson's general physical system is said to be in good condition to stand the combined attack against which he is now fighting.

Hard to Keep Mind Free.

There have been no indications of depleted heart action and the president's mind is declared by his physicians to be so clear that they have had considerable difficulty in keeping his attention diverted from the affairs of his office.

The prohibition against official acts of any kind, modified several days ago long enough to permit him to sign a few bills and nominations, has been rigidly imposed by Dr. Grayson.

PREPARE FOR LONG FIGHT

Leaders of Striking Steel Employes Plan to Finance Campaign.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—While the virtual deadlock continued yesterday in the steel strike in the Pittsburgh district, leaders of the organized workers were making plans to finance a prolonged struggle.

The 24 international presidents of unions involved in the strike will meet with the executive council of the American Federation of Labor at Washington Monday to discuss the paying of strike benefits, it was announced at headquarters here. The federation is expected to levy assessments on its members to aid the benefit fund, it was stated.

The average benefit paid by some unions is $7 a week for single men, and $9 for married men.

While union leaders continued to claim they have the steel mills in the district crippled, the company officials said that many men were returning to work and that production was nearing normal.

From different places came word that steel companies were preparing to open all mills shut down by the strike next Monday.

MINE PROMOTERS ARRESTED

Pocketed Four-Fifths of Stock Sale Proceeds, It Is Alleged.

New York, Oct. 4.—Federal indictments against George W. Snyder of the Tjosevig Kennicott Copper company, with mines at McCarthy, Alaska, and five other Seattle, Wash., promoters, were returned today charging them with "engaging in a mail fraud" involving $400,000.

After organizing their company, the indictments stated defendants negotiated with a brokerage firm in New York for sale of the stock and "in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy," disposed of 550,000 shares of a par value of $1 each under representation that the money would be used for development purposes. Only one-fifth of the money acquired was used for development and the remaining four-fifths never reached the company's treasury, the indictments declared.

Guatemala Ratifies.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The state department today was informed that the executive assembly of Guatemala ratified the treaty with Germany October 1.

British Strike Increases in Gravity.

London, Oct. 4.—After seven days, the railroad strike situation has become the gravest in the history of any labor crisis of the British empire in the present generation. All efforts of the transport workers' federation to find a bridge to enable a renewal of negotiations between the government and the national union of railway men failed. The government's proposal for a seven days' truce for the railmen to return to work and permit resumption of negotiations has been rejected.

THOUSANDS IN RIOT AT GARY

Sight of Non-Strikers on Car Set Mob Hurling Missiles --Police Interfere.

HOSPITALS ARE FILLED

Worst Riot Since Strike Began, Is Comment on Outbreak—Probably 3,000 Participated—Officers Are Outnumbered.

Gary, Ind., Oct. 6.—Serious rioting broke out late Saturday when thousands of steel strikers and others hurled bricks and stones, fought the police, deputy sheriffs and city firemen, injuring probably scores. The local company of militia was notified by city officials to be in readiness for duty.

The fighting spread virtually all over the south part of the city, extending from Tenth to Eighteenth avenues.

The local hospitals soon were filled with the injured, and the city jail was filled with men arrested.

The fighting was of such a fierce nature, between squads, as well as between individuals, and spread so rapidly that it was feared it would be prolonged.

The immediate cause of the rioting, the first serious disorder here since the strike was called September 22, was the presence of a number of nonstrikers on a street car on their way to the steel mills to work.

The car was halted by a passing train. The strikers began to hoot and jeer the men on the car, according to police, and soon sticks and stones began to fly.

The first policemen on the scene were overwhelmed.

Officers Greatly Outnumbered.

A second riot call brought the remainder of the police force, about 100 men. These were followed by nearly 500 special policemen, the firemen and between 200 and 300 special deputy sheriffs.

The fighting continued. Men with broken heads, cuts and other injuries were hurried away to the three city hospitals.

The strikers and their sympathizers numbered several thousand, it was estimated, and against such forces the police and special officers were unable to make much headway.

A rain aided the authorities in quelling the disturbances and the rioters finally were dispersed.

64,000,000 ACRES TO WHEAT

Government Advises Acreage to Equal Average of Past Five Years.

Washington, Oct. 6.—More wheat should be sown this fall than was the average in pre-war years, but not so much as was sown last year. This is the outstanding fall farming recommendation of the United States department of agriculture, which is watching the changes of world supply and demand while European countries are getting back to normal in food production and thus affecting the market for American products. The department's suggestions are based on the observations of specialists sent abroad to report on foreign conditions and probable needs, and on reports obtained from other sources in this country and elsewhere.

As to winter wheat, the department suggests that 42,000,000 acres be sown this fall to this crop, and that 20,000,000 acres be sown in 1920 to spring wheat, making a probable aggregate production in 1920 of 830,000,000 bushels, of which 200,000,000 would be available for export after home needs are met. This production would approximately equal the average yield of wheat in the United States for the five years, 1915 to 1919, inclusive. The five-year average is thought to be a safe guide for American farmers.

Senate to Push Work on Treaty.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The trend of developments in the peace treaty situation still is toward rapid progress on amendments and reservations. The senate was not in session Saturday but leaders held numerous conferences. The Shantung amendments are to be taken up today, and Republican leaders think it possible that all amendments will be disposed of and considerations be given in a week.

President Shows Improvement.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Continued improvement was recorded in Rear Admiral Grayson's night bulletin which declared President Wilson passed a more encouraging day. The bulletin issued at 10:20 was as follows:

"The president has passed a more encouraging day. The improvement is slight but not decisive."

Dr. Grayson indicated that he felt much encouraged by the day's progress.

Conference Ready to Start.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Arrangements for the opening today of the industrial and labor conference called by President Wilson virtually was complete, with only the question of whether the railroad unions would send delegates, unsettled. With the transportation workers unrepresented, many officials thing the value of the conference may be reduced because of the tremendous part played by the rail men in the economic life of the country. Railroad men have not yet announced if they will participate.

It is just as needless as it is dangerous to take violent or nasty cathartics. Nature provides no shock absorbers for your liver and bowels against calomel, harsh pills, sickening oil and salts. Cascarets work while you sleep, removing the toxins, poisons and sour, indigestible waste without griping or inconvenience. Cascarets regulate by strengthening the bowel muscles. GOODBY, WOMEN'S TROUBLES

The tortures and discomforts of weak, lame and aching back, swollen feet and limbs, weakness, dizziness, nausea, as a rule have their origin in kidney trouble, not "female complaints." These general symptoms of kidney and bladder disease are well known—so is the remedy.

COULD "Johnny Appleseed" find his way to thousands of our schools this fall he would see something that would well repay him for all the weary miles he walked planting apple seeds years ago. In many states Arbor day comes this fall, but the school children of the country promise to make almost every day Arbor day this year and during the spring of 1920. Hundreds of towns and cities have been entered on the national honor roll being compiled by the American Forestry association at Washington. The association hopes to see every young American citizen become a "Johnny Appleseed, Jr."

You remember the story of Johnny Appleseed, as they called him, who, many years ago, went up and down the land planting apple-tree seeds? That was not his real name, but that is what he came to be called. Of course a lot of people laughed at him, for there were so many trees then. Many thought him crazed. But now his idea is taken to be a good one. For many things have happened since the day of Johnny Appleseed. The world war has set our people thinking about many things. One of these things has been the way lumber is being consumed. Then, too, there is the high cost of living that agitates everyone. In many places the planting of nut and fruit trees is advocated, and a campaign is on to have every victory gardener plant a nut or fruit tree in his garden or back yard. Another fine opportunity for planting is memorial trees along the motor highways and good roads that are in the process of building. To these calls of the American Forestry association the people of the country are responding in hearty fashion. So to the school children of the country comes a great chance to enter actively into the study of outdoor life through the planting of trees. The American Forestry association will send any one a free planting day program and instructions how to plant a tree.

Coming Arbor days are: Georgia, first Friday in December; Hawaii, first Friday in November; Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin, Washington and Wyoming all have days set aside by proclamation of the governor; North Carolina, Friday after November 1; Porto Rico, last Friday in November; South Carolina, third Friday in November; Tennessee, November date set by county school superintendents. With this day before us, Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association, sends this message to the school children of the United States:

"No finer memorial can be erected by any school or class than by the planting of a tree. Every pupil will have a close and intimate interest in that tree and therefore the school after he leaves. I need not attempt to picture what that tree or avenue of trees will mean to the class of 1920 when it comes back to the old school for the class reunion in 1940. A space on the campus or a walk near the town can be lined with trees, one for each member of the class. The American Forestry association is registering all memorial trees in a national honor roll and urges that all tree planting be reported that it may keep its rolls complete."

What Is Best to Plant.

Last spring and fall hundreds of trees were planted, but much bigger plans have been made for tree planting this year and next. If you are not planting fruit or nut trees you will want to study what best to plant and here is a list of such trees divided for you by states:

New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa: Hardwood—Sugar maple, Norway maple, scarlet maple, green ash, white ash, American white elm, red oak, white oak, pin oak, American linden, scarlet oak. Evergreen—White spruce, Colorado blue spruce, white pine, Scotch pine, balsam pine, hemlock, arbor vitae.

Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas: Hardwood—Tulip, sycamore, pin oak, white oak, scarlet oak, black oak, red oak, white ash, bald cypress, Norway maple, scarlet maple, red elm, American white elm, Kentucky coffee tree, American linden, red gum, black gum, hackberry, willow. Evergreen—White pine, longleaf pine, magnolia, live oak, cedar of Lebanon, American holly.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho: Hardwood—Bur oak, linden, Norway maple, green ash, wild cherry, larch, American elm, black walnut, hackberry, honey locust, black locust (less desirable, cottonwood, box elder). Evergreen—Scotch pine, Austrian pine, white pine, Norway spruce, Colorado blue spruce, white spruce, red cedar, arbor vitae.

New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada: Hardwood—Hackberry, honey locust, green ash, American elm, black locust, bur oak, valley cottonwood, mountain cottonwood, mountain ash, box elder. Evergreen—Arbor vitae, deodar cedar, box, euonymus.

California, Oregon and Washington (coast region): Hardwood—Large-leaved maple, European linden, sycamore, weeping willow. Evergreen—Deodar cedar, Monterey cypress, Monterey pine.

California, Oregon and Washington (Columbia basin): Hardwood—Norway maple, European linden, sycamore, green ash, silver poplar, Russian poplar, white willow. Evergreen—Lawson cypress, bigtree.

On the planting of a tree you will want to proceed with the greatest care. For the best results, organize a tree-planting program in your town. If there is no shade-tree commission or city forester, interest yourself in the proposition. In selecting trees for street planting the following qualities should be considered in about the order named: Form, hardiness or adaptability, rapidity of growth, shade protection, neatness and beauty. If there is any doubt on the question it is advisable to consult the state forest commission, the local forester or some other authority who can tell what varieties are best for a given locality.

No general rules, of course, can be given, but in a larger part of the eastern United States it will be found that for narrow streets the red maple, red gum or ginkgo can be recommended; for wider streets, Norway maple, basswood, horse chestnut or pin oak; and for wide avenues, white elm, white oak, red oak and tulip poplar.

Qualities Needed in Street Trees.

Street trees should have hardiness and adaptability. They should be vigorous, be able to recover from mechanical injuries and be as resistant as possible against insect attack and disease. It is not desirable to have trees which cast too much shade, particularly on narrow streets. Houses and sidewalks need sun, even in summer. Deciduous, broadleaved trees are most satisfactory. Again, the question of neatness should be be considered; and the trees which will break up the pavement, such as silver maples, or those which cover the pavement with their bloom in the spring, such as cottonwoods and poplars, should be avoided. Black locust should not be planted because it is likely to be destroyed by the borer worm. Beech is a slow grower and casts too dense a shade for any street.

Trees planted along a street should be of the same kind, the same size and uniformly spaced. On narrow streets trees planted every 40 feet apart, and alternated on opposite sides of the street, will be found sufficiently close. On wider streets they should be from 40 to 60 feet, or even farther apart, the distance being determined partly by the size which the tree is likely to attain and by other habits.

Every tree should have at least six square feet of earth above its roots. It is more important that there be plenty of space where the pavement and roadway are paved with concrete than if brick or other loose-jointed materials are used.

Keep the Roots Moist.

In planting a tree, move as many of the roots as possible. A cloudy day is better for transplanting a tree than a bright, sunny one, because a bright sun quickly exhausts the stored-up moisture. An important point is in regard to packing the earth around the roots. They should have close contact with the ground. To do this, fill in around the roots with finely pulverized earth, working it under and around the roots by hand and compacting it. If the earth is wetted down as it is put in, it will make a much better contact.

Many trees which are unsuited for one reason or another for a sidewalk are most attractive and ornamental in a park or on a lawn. The beech, for instance, which has no value for street planting, makes a beautiful lawn tree; either the native or the European species may be planted. The sour or black gum grows under most adverse circumstances, but apparently is not well suited for street planting, although as an ornamental tree it deserves a place.

Purchase trees from a reliable nursery; beware of tree peddlers. Choose healthy, well-formed trees. Trees two or three inches in diameter and ten or twelve feet high are large enough for any purpose. Where smaller trees can be used, they generally give better results, because the root system is less disturbed by transplanting. Do not expose the roots to the sun, wind or frost. Keep wet blankets or canvas wrapped tightly about the roots until the tree is ready to be set out; then plant with the least possible delay.

Trim off any broken, torn or injured roots. Use a sharp pruning knife and make a clean, smooth cut. Remove all broken branches and cut back one-half to four-fifths of the previous year's branch growth. The size of the top must be proportioned to the size of the root system or the roots will be unable to supply sufficient water and food for satisfactory growth. Forest-grown trees have poor root systems and must be severely pruned by removing the greater part of the side branches. Never cut back the main stem or leader.

Dig Wide, Deep Holes.

Dig wide, deep holes. Trees become root-bound and make poor growth or die if the roots are cramped or twisted. The holes should be a foot or two wider and deeper than is needed to accommodate the roots. For street trees, the hole should be about twice as large as the root system actually requires. Partly fill the hole with rich loam and pack it down well. If poor soil must be used, mix with well-rotted manure. Green or partly decomposed manure will burn the roots and must not be used.

Do not plant the tree too deep. The upper roots should lie only an inch or two deeper in the soil than they grew originally. Spread out the roots in their natural position and work soil around them, a little at a time, compacting it firmly with the fingers or a pointed stick. Occasionally tamp it with the foot so that no air spaces remain. Also see that the stem of the tree is kept perfectly vertical. Now water the soil generously. The final inch or two of soil should be left fine and loose over the top of the hole to act as a mulch.

After planting, the tree should be staked to prevent it from swaying in the wind and growing crooked. The stake should be long enough to support the trunk for two-thirds the height of the tree. Trees exposed to traffic, horses and children should be protected by suitable wooden or metal guards. In case any injury to the young tree results, apply tree surgery methods at once.

Shallow cultivation of the soil for three feet around the tree is beneficial during the first few years of growth. Loosen the top soil with a spade or hoe several times during the season to keep down weeds and grass. During the hot, dry summer months watering should be done not oftener than twice a week.

Tree planting should form a permanent part of the improvement program in every city and town in the United States. It should not be undertaken in a temporary or haphazard manner; but it should receive the constant thought and attention of those who are interested in making the community attractive and at the same time in adding to the future timber resources of the United States. It must be remembered that what is done in one city or two serves as an inspiration to others.

Let us keep in mind a thought of future so well expressed in the poem by Lucy Larcom, who said:

> "He who plants a tree,
> He plants love.
> Tents of coolness spreading out above,
> Wayfarers he may not live to see."

So in honoring loved ones let us of the present look to the future and by memorial tree planting make this a better country in which to live, which after all, is all the memorial those loved ones ask Yet what a memorial, if it be accomplished!

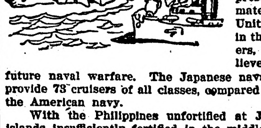
Importance of America's Future Naval Program

WASHINGTON.—Uncle Sam's future naval program is beginning to assume greater importance than ever because of the trend of events in the Pacific. Japan has gained a dominating position in the Orient and by virtue of her exploitation of China is destined to become a power of such proportions and resources that she will be able at any time to challenge the control of the Pacific.



Japan is building a great navy as rapidly as her resources permit. At present her naval strength is estimated at less than half that of the United States, but she is specializing in the construction of fast battle cruisers, which many naval authorities believe will be the determining factors in future naval warfare. The Japanese naval program now under way will provide 73 cruisers of all classes, compared with 47 cruisers of all classes in the American navy.

With the Philippines unfortified at Japan's door, with the Hawaiian islands insufficiently fortified in the middle of the Pacific and containing a preponderant Japanese population, and with Japan acquiring the German archipelagoes in between, many statesmen are of the opinion that the United States should not neglect to maintain a greater naval strength than Japan's in all types of craft as insurance against trouble in the Pacific.

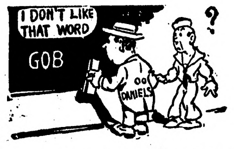
Of course such views are not entertained by those who believe that the League of Nations is going to banish war forever.

It is noteworthy, however, that President Wilson deemed it important to send Admiral Rodman to the Pacific with an American fleet stronger in many respects than Japan's present available fleet.

Naval officials estimate that most of the ships authorized in the 1916 program will have been completed by next year and all of them by the summer of 1921. This will give the United States 41 first-class dreadnaughts, 21 battleships of the second class, six battle cruisers, ten scout cruisers, 400 destroyers, and 131 submarines.

Will "Gob" Also Be Put in Davy Jones' Locker?

OFFICIAL Washington is smiling over the episode of "Josephus and the Gob." Which is to say that out in San Francisco Secretary of the Navy Daniels fell afoul o' the word "gob." "It is a short, ugly word, and I don't like it," said the secretary. "It's not worthy of the men of our splendid fleet," and thereupon the honorable secretary consigned gob to the same fate which has already befallen starboard, port, rum, whisky, grog and dress uniforms.



I DON'T LIKE THAT WORD
GOB
DANIELS

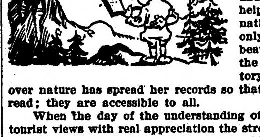
But out at the Great Lakes naval training station near Chicago the gobs apparently don't agree with Josephus. From the commandant to the newest gob they agree that the navy, far from disliking "gob" regards it with affection, respect, love, worship, veneration, delight and some other minor emotions, none of which are in the least like those felt by Mr. Daniels. Anyway, here is the reply that comes from Chicago—which is the cause of Washington's smiles:

> "This 'gob' is not a pretty word," the secretary said.
> "It is not only too absurd, but doesn't sound well-bred—
> And so, to me, it has occurred to knock it in the head."
>
> "Aho-ee there," arose a cry from out a thousand throats.
> "Avast, belay, likewise stand by, and man the second boats;
> At last this here Josephus guy has got the navy goats."
>
> "He changed our rum to liquids light"—they checked some bitter sobs—
> "He turned the 'starboard' into 'right' and still we held our jobs;
> But now, by gosh, we quit—we fight—stand fast, there—WE ARE GOBS."

To Understand Scenery Now Enjoyed Emotionally

THIS is the day of emotional enjoyment of national park scenery. Tomorrow is to be the day of appreciative enjoyment of national park scenery. In other words, various factors in the national movement have united in a campaign of education of the people so that they may double their enjoyment by having an understanding of the scenery they now enjoy only emotionally.

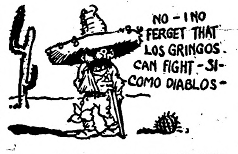


A work of this scope is a large undertaking. Nevertheless, this fact helps to lessen the undertaking. The national parks of America are not only the sublimest areas of natural beauty easily accessible, but are also the completest expression of the history of the earth in its making. Moreover nature has spread her records so that anybody with understanding may read; they are accessible to all.

When the day of the understanding of scenery comes and the American tourist views with real appreciation the stream-made Grand Canyon abyss, the giant crater of a vanished volcano that holds Crater lake, the Yosemite valley, glacier-dug; the naked granite core of the Rockies in Rocky mountain, and the old, old ice-carved shales of many-colored Glacier, his enjoyment will be greater in proportion to his knowledge. For no man can take out from nature's beauty more than he puts in—which is to say that we enjoy according to our experience and capacity.

Why Mexicans Know Americans Can and Will Fight

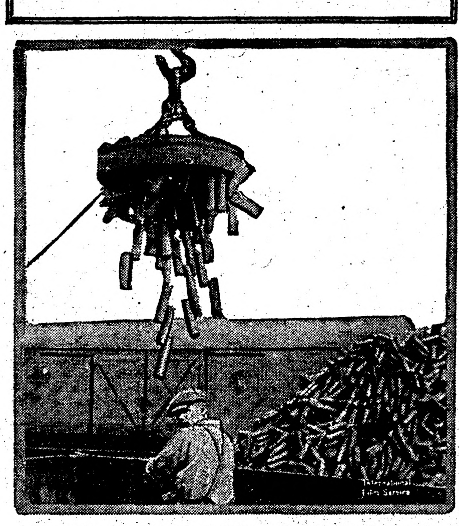
SOME of the members of congress from the border states are all "het up" over the Mexican situation and say some forcible things in debate. Representative Hudspeth of Texas, a Democrat, made a speech the other day and said among other things, in connection with the Emerson resolution, which directs intervention:



NO - I NO FERGET THAT LOS GRINGOS CAN FIGHT - SI - COMO DIABLOS -

"You may say it means war. I say it does not mean war. They have not forgotten, gentlemen, when Zachary Taylor went almost to the City of Mexico with 6,000 troops and whipped Santa Anna at Buena Vista. They have not forgotten when Gen. Winfield Scott visited Mexico and whipped Santa Anna at Chapultepec. Santa Anna had 25,000 troops and Scott had only 5,000. They have not forgotten that the 'gringoes' can and will fight. They have not forgotten that Sam Houston and his 680 coonskin cap and flintlock frontiersmen vanquished Santa Anna with 1,800 of picked troops at San Jacinto, where a nation was born in the short space of 18 minutes. They have not forgotten the time when old Sam Houston rode his white horse, leading those unconquerable frontiersmen against Santa Anna at San Jacinto singing that love song, 'Come to the bower I have shaded for thee.' When he put the fear of God into them with the minie balls from the muzzle of the flintlocks and the craven cowards, when they saw death approaching, fell upon their knees in front of Houston and his gallant frontiersmen and pleaded, 'me no Alamo; me no Goliad,' when their hands at that time were red with the blood of the dead heroes of both places. No! They have not forgotten the Alamo, where Crockett died, where Fannin died, where Bowie died, where Travis drew his line and said, 'Every man who wants to die for the liberty of Texas come across this line,' and every man crossed. No; they know Americans will fight."

Millions of Unused Shells Go to Scrap Heap



Thousands upon thousands of shells made useless by the cessation of hostilities abroad are being unloaded of their charges and sent to various metal foundries. The photograph shows shells being unloaded from a box car by means of a monster magnet at the yards in Philadelphia, Pa. They will be melted and remade into implements of peace.

Overcoming Our Failures

Discouragement is a Menace to Happiness

There are times when notwithstanding our efforts we do not seem to make any headway with our ambitions, says a writer. We set high goals for ourselves and we make the attempt to gain them, but even though we plod perseveringly toward them we seem to meet only with obstacles and disappointments. Then it is that we begin to feel that discouragement which is bound to react to our undoing unless we pull ourselves up sharply. Life is not a bed of roses for anyone, for all that we envy the apparent ease and happiness of some of those with whom we come in contact. They, too, have their trials and their disappointments of which we know nothing, and who knows but that they bravely hide their real feeligns under a show of prosperity and happiness? No one likes to wear his heart upon his sleeve, and from the proudest to the humblest, from the richest to the poorest, there is ever uppermost the determination to hide the disappointment of ambitions unattained and hopes unfulfilled. It is only through earnest effort that we overcome our failures, whether they affect our spiritual or our worldly desires, and it is for this reason that discouragement is such a menace to happiness.

Man With Right Attitude Will Keep Morale Right

High courage often runs wild. It's a common thing for daring to run into the foolhardy. And when it does the victim often suffers such severe punishment that it is impossible for him to regain his proper balance with life problems. He loses self-confidence and becomes the lackey of those who choose to use him. So the proper morale keeps a man within his limits and helps him fill them to their capacity. The greater the natural endowments the worse the ruin when morale fails. On the other hand the man with the right attitude in life is almost sure to keep his morale right and win in spite of circumstances.

Data Show Production of Mexican Beans and Cotton

Statistics have just been given out covering the production of Mexican beans and cotton. According to the data at hand the states producing the former in greatest quantity were Jalisco and Sonora, with 37,500,000 and 18,878,775 kilos respectively, the total production of Mexico, according to official figures, being 101,979,319 kilos.

Honey Dishes.

Honey is the nectar of flowers gathered by bees and ripened by them in the hive. Honey being a natural sweet is more easily digested and foods prepared from it will keep better than those prepared from sugar and molasses.

It Is Important to Have First-Hand Information

It's a great thing to be your own scout.

Other men may know more about the technicalities of a thing. They may even be able to tell you just how to make the money they can't seem to get possession of. But after all a little first hand observation added to ordinary horse sense will go a long way toward putting you on the writing side of the desk. At Waterloo Napoleon had to depend on guides. He did not know the ground. Lacoste was trusted and hitherto had never failed him. Now he is responsible for the loss of life that brought defeat to the French arms and exile to the greatest general the world has ever seen. It's a great thing to have first-hand information.

Army Officer Describes Animals, Birds, Reptiles of Panama Canal Jungle.

The blank spaces on the world's map have been dwindling so rapidly that it is a bit surprising to read of a great wilderness—unmapped, uninhabited and practically unknown—alongside one of the great American thoroughfares. In his account in Natural History, Lieut.-Col. Townsend Whelen states that a passage cut from the Panama canal some five miles through a tangled second growth of small trees and other vegetation leads to a gigantic wall of verdure, and this is the beginning of the primeval jungle comprising most of the eastern portion of the Republic of Panama, and extending about 300 miles in length by 50 to 100 miles in width. In this strange new world one can wander unimpeded by thorns and creepers, in a climate oddly cool and balmy. The vegetation is most impressive, even terrifying—giant moras, borigen, cavanillesia, ceibas, rubber and fig rising limbless 100 to 200 feet, with tops spreading to shut out the sky, and a lower growth of many kinds of slender tree ferns and palms, developed in semi-darkness, that shorten one's view without hindering progress. Hardly anywhere can one see more than 50 yards. The jungle is alive with a wonderful bird life, which is distributed in zones of altitude on the mountain slopes and locally from the ground to the tree tops—quail, tinamou and pheasants being common near the earth's surface, wrens, humming birds, thrushes and other species, in the low-bush level; doves, guans, owls and trogons, half way up, and parrots, parrakeets, macaws, toucans and cotingas, under the leafy roof. Tapir, deer, peccaries and other mammals, are abundant, though shy. The many serpents do little harm, the chief dangers being malaria, getting lost and falling branches and fruits.

Difference Between Dawn and Twilight; Ending and Beginning of Phenomenon

Twilight is the diffused illumination of the sky which immediately precedes sunrise and follows sunset. When the sun sets below our horizon, we are not at once plunged into the darkness of night. There is an intermediate period of partial and slowly increasing darkness which we call twilight. It is caused by the reflection of the sunlight by dust and particles of water vapor in the upper atmosphere. The same phenomenon occurs just before sunrise and, to distinguish it from the evening twilight, is called dawn. Dawn begins and twilight ends when the sun is about 18 degrees below the horizon, and consequently their duration varies with the latitude and with the season of the year. The higher the latitude the smaller the angle at which the sun's path meets the horizon, and hence the longer it takes the sun to sink to a distance of 18 degrees below the horizon. In the tropics twilight rarely lasts longer than 30 minutes, while in the latitude of north Scotland it lasts so long that about midsummer there are several nights on which it fills the entire interval between sunset and sunrise.

SHE HAS NO OCCUPATION

(Elsie Duncan Yale in Woman's Home Companion.)

She rises up at break of day,
And through her tasks she races;
She cooks the meal as best she may,
And scrubs the children's faces.
While schoolbooks, lunches, ribbons, too,
All need consideration,
And yet the census man insists
She has "no occupation."

When breakfast dishes all are done,
She bakes a pudding, maybe;
She cleans the rooms up one by one,
With one eye watching baby;
The mending pile she then attacks,
By way of variation,
And yet the census man insists
She has "no occupation."

She irons for a little while,
Then presses pants for daddy;
She welcomes with a cheery smile
Returning lass and laddie.
A hearty dinner next she cooks
(No time for relaxation),
And yet the census man insists
She has "no occupation."

For lessons that the children learn
The evening scarce is ample.
To "mother dear" they always turn
For help with each example.
In grammar and geography
She finds her relaxation,
And yet the census man insists
She has "no occupation."

Paints Retard Fire, but Give Little Protection

From tests made at the bureau of standards it appears that while practically all paint coatings have some fire-retarding action, none of those so far tested affords great protection. All the samples in question were materially damaged by application of flame for a few seconds. Both sodium salicylate and whitewash rank comparatively high. These have the advantage of cheapness and can both be used on the same surface. However, according to a recent bulletin of the bureau, no treatment of wood after erection can be expected to serve as an effective fire protection, and the use of such materials should not be made an excuse for omitting any of the usual precautions against fire.

Yea, Verily.

If we could really see ourselves as others see us we would save money at the photographer's. What most of us would like, however, is that others should see us as we see ourselves.

Making Money and Thrift

Sheer lack of thrift has caused more financial failures than anything else. How many men there are today who might have become wealthy had they only known how to save money! During the course of their careers they have earned large sums, but these have slipped from their fingers from day to day. They had the natural gift of making money, just as their successful rivals, but they lacked the quality of permanent success—which is thrift.

Although the ability to make money is, to a considerable extent, a matter of natural aptitude, the still more important accomplishments of thrift can be acquired by anyone. There is no excuse for not saving money.

Thriftlessness is an indication of weakness. It is indecision of character.

Thrift requires steadfastness, and the marshaling of the last ounce of moral strength that we possess. But it does not require any special genius or brilliant gift of mind.

It is within the power of every man and woman to thrive through the cultivation of prudent habits. Practices of thrift do not bring a guarantee of great wealth. But they are an absolute assurance of modest success and a never-failing protection against complete failure and poverty.

The primary value of thrift lies in the fact that through it we secure full advantage of the little things.

Those who are thriftless in money matters do not, as a rule, dissipate their resources in large amounts. The processes of waste are going on constantly, however, in the way of unnecessary or ill-advised spending.

On the other hand thrift consists of saving by small degrees.

A point often overlooked is that a few years of thrifty habits will place one in a financial position where he can enjoy many of life's wholesome pleasures, whereas continual thriftlessness yields only inadequate and superficial pleasure.—S. W. Straus in Thrift Magazine.

About Poultry Feeding

The high prices of grain this past year have caused many poultry people to try different feeds and feeding from what might be called standard feeding.

From reports reaching the Pennsylvania department of agriculture and the observations of the poultry experts in its employ, these experiments in new or abbreviated feeding have mostly been a failure and have resulted in much poultry having made an unprofitable growth and being puny and stunted.

A notable exception is the feeding of boiled oats, which feed, previously used by only a few poultry keepers, has become very popular, particularly among the larger poultry keepers having much feeding to do.

Boiled oats are greedily eaten by chickens of all ages; make a good growing and a good laying feed and in results obtained or obtainable are proving to be the cheapest food that has been available the last six months.

Boiled oats have largely, too, superseded the sprouted oats so much exploited a few years ago, as they are safer, a better and a less fussy feed.

To prepare, soak good, heavy oats 12 hours or more (in hot weather or a warm room a fresh lot should be soaked daily), dissolve one tablespoonful of salt in each bucket of water used for this; boil two or three hours and so gauge the amount of water used for soaking that at the finish the water is boiled away. Feed warm, but not hot. White Leghorn pullets can have these boiled oats twice daily, say, at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., and all they will eat up clean. For old hens or heavyweight pullets, one feed a day is enough, and not too much at that, lest they become too fat on this much-liked feed.

Tartar on Teeth May be Cause of Many Diseases

Where tartar is allowed to grow undisturbed it eventually covers the teeth and forces the gum from around them. The gums become spongy and bleed freely when brushed. Central Longitudinal Line of the United States Runs Through State of Kansas

Discussing the frequently used term "middle West," an American writer remarks that the territory so designated might more reasonably be called the "middle East." The central longitudinal line of the United States passes through Kansas not far from Topeka. On one side of the line, geographically speaking, lies the true West; on the other the true East, and the eastern side includes what is ordinarily called the "middle West," whereas the geographical "middle West" would cover the region of the Rocky mountains. The expression originated on the eastern seaboard, just when or how it would perhaps be difficult to discover, and seems in the beginning to have been a patronizing phrase indicating that, compared with the older cultural condition of the states bordering the Atlantic, the nearer states toward the west were well-meaning but somewhat backward, although nothing like so lacking in the amenities as those younger states which were growing up still nearer the sunset. The idea has vanished with the development of the nation, and the term remains as a convenient but rather indefinite way of referring to what many people think is really a geographical division of the country.

Why the Tree Leaves Turn Red When Chilly Autumn Days Return

An examination of the withered leaves of the autumn foliage at the time of their turning red shows that they contain more sugar and less starch than in midsummer. Leaves of evergreens, however, lose their red tints with the return of the warm season, and reassume their green color. In these plants—i. e., the holly and ivy—the sugar of the leaf is transformed into starch in springtime. From these observations two inferences can be drawn—first, that the red coloring substances are probably of the nature of the glucoses, being in most cases compounds of tannic substances with sugar; second, the chief physical conditions for the formation of the red color are sunshine, which, on the one hand, enhances the assimilation and production of sugar, and, on the other hand, quickens the chemical process that leads to the formation of the coloring matter, and, furthermore, a low temperature, which prevents the transformation of the sugar into starch. In other words, the red tints of autumn are the direct product of the meteorological conditions prevailing during that season—i. e., sunshine and low temperature.

Fate of American Indian, Now Slowly Disappearing

There is, in the fate of the Indian, much to awaken our sympathy, and much to disturb the sobriety of our judgment; much which may be urged to excuse their own atrocities; much in their characters which betrays us into an involuntary admiration. What can be more melancholy than their history? By a law of their nature, they seem destined to a slow, but sure extinction. Everywhere, at the approach of the white man, they fade away. We hear the rustling of their footsteps, like that of the withered leaves of autumn, and they are gone forever.—Joseph Story.

Recreation, as Well as Relaxation, Is Necessary to the Happiness of All

We need breathing spells in life's bigger issues just as we need them in out routine work. No one may work continuously without some period of relaxation, and in the same way no one may bear up under heavy responsibilities unless he is able at times to forget them, observes the Charleston News and Courier. That is why recreation as well as relaxation is necessary to the happiness of us all. There is something within us, something that calls to us, as it were, in no uncertain tones to lay down our problems occasionally and try to divert our minds from them. If we are forced to live with those big crushing responsibilities, that weigh us down at every turn, that are never far away from us, that keep step with us in our daily walk, we shall miss much of the better, brighter part of life. Every one has the right to live his own life in the way which he thinks will be best for him, and it is a hard blow of fate which robs him of that right. Yet this is done more often in life than we realize, and one of the worst of our disappointments is to be forced to surrender the privilege of controlling our own lives as far as it is in our human power to do so. Because certain responsibilities are forced upon us we are often compelled to abandon the road which stretches so invitingly ahead and to seek another path, rough and hard to walk upon, full of obstacles and barren of those things that perhaps have meant the very wine of life to us.

Britain's Prime Minister Is Nominated by Sovereign and Organizes Government

The premier, or prime minister of Great Britain, is nominated by the reigning sovereign. The king sends in the name of the leader of the party just successful at the polls and to that extent the appointment is dictated by the vote of the people. The sovereign appoints the prime minister to form a cabinet and organize the government. The appointment of premier does not have to be confirmed by parliament, but no prime minister could carry on the government of the country for any length of time who did not possess the confidence of the house of commons. He selects his colleagues or other members of the cabinet, and his resignation dissolves the ministry.

Judge Sentences Automobile Speeders to Morgue

CHICAGO.—Instead of letting off the five fast drivers who were arraigned before him with customary fine, Judge Stelk ordered them all to report to Warden Michael Zimmer of the county morgue, and afterward to visit the county hospital to look upon the victims of reckless autoists who are stretched on beds of pain in that place. The cases were continued for a week.

"I want you all to have a chance to digest your impressions of the morgue," said the judge.

"You won't need to send me," pleaded A. W. Cornell of Western Springs. "I was only going 38 miles an hour on a clear road, straight ahead of me."

"I'm going to show you two widows, one with five children and one with 12, whose husbands were killed by men who were going 33 miles on a clear road," said the judge grimly. "If some one crossed the street ahead of you, you couldn't stop your car in 104 feet. You go out and look at those two men in the county morgue, and interview their families, and then come back a week from today and tell me what you think of it."

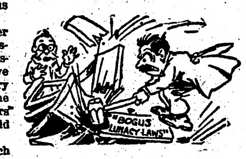
Joseph Bitel, 2100 South Halsted street, who was arrested for driving by the side of a street car while passengers were alighting didn't think he ought to go out, either.

"I fined you $25 a week or so ago for speeding, didn't I?" said the judge. "It didn't do much good. I'm going to send you out to see two little children in the morgue and then you can come back and tell me your thoughts on the speed problem."

Louis Koalvas, 5754 West Chicago avenue; A. H. Mangold and James John O'Donnell, 1924 Springfield avenue, were the other three sent to the morgue.

Chaloner's Mission Now to Fight "Lunacy Trust"

NEW YORK.—Branding alienists as "head hunters who, for a price, will send any man to the madhouse," John Armstrong Chaloner, sage of Virginia and author of "Who's Loony Now?" has announced his intention of devoting his life to fighting "bogus lunacy laws."



Summoning a group of newspaper men, whom he insisted upon addressing as "Gentlemen of the Fourth Estate," Mr. Chaloner said that five years of warfare would be necessary to defeat the "lunacy trust" in the United States and then only two years in Europe before there, too, he would be victorious.

The "lunacy trust" here "is rich and intrenched," he said, but asserted he was willing to devote to his campaign both his time and his income, which amounts to $112,000 a year.

On Sunday morning, November 9, at 7:45 o'clock, Mr. Chaloner will begin a series of lectures to which the public will be invited. He will continue the series for five months, under the title, "The Philosophic Aspects of Christianity."

"The lunacy laws of this state, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and New England are rotten. In the South there are fewer rich men and it hasn't paid to organize a 'lunacy trust' there."

Mr. Chaloner (originally Chanler) is a grandson of John Jacob Astor and the owner of an estate valued at more than $1,500,000. He was adjudged insane in this state in 1897 on the petition of several of his relatives, and was confined in Bloomingdale asylum. Two years later he escaped and took refuge in Virginia.

The courts have now declared him sane and restored his fortune.

"The Quick and the Dead" Combined in One Soldier

SAN FRANCISCO.—A good many men have seen their death notices in a newspaper and read their own obituaries. It is a standing joke of the grimmest kind that many men are dead who don't know it. But here's a man who seems to be unable to convince the government he's alive. Anyway, to try to re-enlist in Uncle Sam's army and then be repeatedly told that he is dead is the experience of James Q. O'Malley of Plymouth, Cal.

YOU'RE DEAD—
I AM?

Although Col. T. E. Page, in charge of army recruiting here, insists that O'Malley is alive and produces the man to support his contention, official Washington insists that he is dead.

And O'Malley's mother, despite her repeated letters informing the war department that her son is alive, is receiving death compensation every month from the government.

O'Malley has been trying to re-enlist for weeks. He learned for the fourteenth time that he was dead when he applied to the recruiting officer recently for re-enlistment.

In making application for reinstatement O'Malley requested assignment to San Francisco in the motor transportation corps. In order to secure special assignment Colonel Page wired the adjutant general at Washington for this special dispensation and he received this telegraphic reply:

"Request in regard to James Q. O'Malley not understood. This soldier deceased October 16, 1918."

O'Malley has an honorable discharge given to him at the Presidio here in April of this year. He served overseas with the One Hundred and Eleventh engineers.

All his letters to the war risk insurance department asking them to discontinue his death compensation to his mother have been of no avail.

Patriotic Woman Buys League of Nations Stock

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—If you want the League of Nations to be a success you have got to support it by subscribing for stock. That was the argument used by "Miss Sarah Benson of Chicago" in Birmingham. "Miss Benson" called at the home of Mrs. Blank the other morning. Mrs. Blank, who refused to give her real name, laid the case before the police in the afternoon. Here is Mrs. Blank's story:

I'LL TAKE TWO SHARES WITHOUT CESERVATIONS
YES—TH' PRESIDENT AN' MISTER TAFT ARE BACKIN' THIS—

"I am just an ordinary woman. I read the papers occasionally, but generally just glance at the headlines; so when this woman came to my house and said that great men like President Wilson and William Howard Taft were backing the league and offered me stock at $4.50 a share I considered it a good business venture. She pointed out to me that the purpose of the League of Nations was to buy up all the material used by the different nations and make farming implements of it. I am a religious woman and she quoted me a verse from the Bible about men beating their swords into plowshares, and it impressed me as an admirable plan.

"When I informed her that I would take two shares she explained that 'stock with reservations was $6 a share and without them was $4.50.'

"'Which way is President Wilson taking his?' I inquired.

"She informed me that the president was taking his without the reservations, so I invested what money I had with the woman.

"When my husband came home I told him what I had done. He took about two hours explaining the League of Nations to me. I feel like a silly old hen, and people will tease me to death about it if my name is used."

Mrs. Blank thought that this woman should be caught. That is the reason she came to police headquarters and reported the matter.

TREAT OATS AND WHEAT FOR SMUT

Reports Show That It Pays to Use Formaldehyde at Time of Planting Crops.

WORK OF DIFFERENT AGENTS

Practically None of Fields Given Treatment Showed Any Signs of Disease—Farmers of Porter County Lost $140,000.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Evidence that it pays to treat wheat and oats at the time of planting with formaldehyde to prevent smut is given in reports of a number of demonstrations conducted by Indiana county agents. Fields of oats in DuBois county, sown with seed treated with formaldehyde for smut as recommended by the United States department of agriculture and the State Agricultural college, showed practically none of the disease, while fields planted from seed not treated contained about 15 per cent smut, according to the local county agent's report.

Work in Warren County.

As a result of the demonstration conducted by the county agent in Warren county it was found that a plot of oats planted with untreated seed showed 33 per cent smut, while another plot in the same field planted with treated seed was free from the disease. Other oat fields throughout the county that were not treated were infested with the disease in amounts varying from 7 to 35 per cent.

As the result of the damage done by wheat smut in Porter county, farmers will lose about $140,000 on the crop, according to statistics compiled by the county agent. In checking up the damage done by smut the agent found that the disease had caused 7 per cent decrease in the county's yield. About two-thirds of the farmers of the county treated their seed and effected a saving of nearly $100,000.

Smut in Steuben County.

The county agent of Steuben county, in company with a representative of the United States department of agriculture, found one field of wheat with as much as 84 per cent of smutted heads, and considerably more than 50 per cent of the crop was lost. Other fields showed as high as 40 to 50 per cent of scab. Where wheat had been sown in corn stubble ground the scab was much worse than where it followed other crops. The agent took advantage of the gatherings of farmers while they were thrashing to show how smut and other cereal diseases were causing losses and to demonstrate methods of seed treatment.

PASTURE FOR STOCK IN FALL

Highly Important to Keep Animals in Good Condition Through Fall and Winter.

One of the essential factors in keeping live stock in good condition through the fall and early winter, which is highly important, is good fall pasture, says Andrew Boss, vice director of the Minnesota experiment station. Nothing excels the grasses for pasture, though mixtures of the grasses and clover are better than either grasses or clover alone, and furnish the best kind of feed for all kinds of stock.

Where an abundance of cultivated grasses can be obtained for pasturage, no further attention need be given the subject. Meadow aftermath containing clover, or timothy and clover, makes good fall feed. Clover growing in the stubble field is also an excellent fall pasture. Pasturing stock on clover often enables the farmer to pick up some of the wasted grain, and the droppings of the live stock are beneficial to the land.

WOOD ASHES ARE VALUABLE

As They Have Peculiar Fertilizing Value They Should Be Carefully Stored Away.

The farmer who burns wood for heating or cooking should carefully store the ashes and not permit them to leach, as they have a peculiar fertilizing value. They not only contain potash and phosphoric acid in appreciable amounts, but also contain magnesia and lime, and when applied to the land they also act indirectly to increase the available nitrogen content of the organic matter in the soil.

GOOD STALLIONS TO IMPROVE COLT CROP

Harvest Aid, Animal of Highest Type, Is Purchased.

Work at New Breeding Station at Buffalo, Wyo., Carried on by Government in Co-operation With State Officials.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A standard-bred stallion, Harvest Aid, 63908, an animal of the very highest breeding type, has recently been purchased by the United States department of agriculture and placed at the government's new horse-breeding station at Buffalo, Wyo. Work at this station is being carried on in co-operation with the state of Wyoming, the object being to develop utility horses especially adapted to western range and farm conditions. Harvest Aid is by the champion trotting stallion The Harvester, and his dam is Santos Maid, a mare which holds the trotting record of 2:08¾, and a daughter of Peter the Great, the leading sire of speed in America. Harvest Aid is an animal of great stamina, good size and conformation, and while he was selected on his merits as an individual, the horsemen of the department say they are extremely fortunate in getting such a well-bred animal. It is not the purpose at the horse-breeding station to develop speed animals, but it is well understood that a good stallion from a family noted for its speed is highly desirable for the production of active utility horses.

A Sire That Insures an Improved Colt Crop.

MAKE MONEY RAISING BARLEY

Experiments Show It Will Surpass Corn as Ration for Fattening Hogs if Properly Fed.

Experiments at the Wisconsin experiment station show that barley will surpass corn as a ration for fattening hogs if it is properly fed. Twelve lots of pigs were fed, using with some a corn ration, while the others were given barley. The return for each pig over the cost of feed was $14.38 for the barley-fed pigs, and $12.38 for the corn-fed porkers.

One of the most interesting facts brought out was the value of a barley and whey combination, which netted a handsome return, and the gains made with this ration were very rapid.

If you are in a region which is suited for the production of barley, or if you have been using it as a nurse crop for alfalfa, do not be discouraged by the prospect of a lower price, due to the curtailing of the use of barley in the brewing industry. Perhaps it will pay you more than ever as a feed for your hogs and your other live stock.

LIMESTONE INCREASES YIELD

Demonstrations Carried On for Two Years in Indiana to Show Value of Ground Material.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

For two years the county agent in Jefferson county, Ind., has been carrying on demonstrations to show the value of ground limestone on acid soils. In one demonstration this year an average of 25½ bushels of wheat were produced to the acre. Neighbors who helped thrash this wheat, and who have land that is just as good, except that they did not make applications of ground limestone, obtained only 15 bushels to the acre. This high yield is hardly an exception, reports the agent, for similar results were obtained by other farmers in the section who used limestone.

ADVANTAGES OF SAME BREED

Better Prices Secured From Uniform Product and Breeding Stock Secured Near Home.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are many advantages to be gained when the stock raisers of one community raise the same breed. Better prices may be secured from the sale of a uniform product and suitable breeding stock can be secured near home.

FARMER WHO AIDS FERTILITY

Dairyman Who Studies Feed for Land Is Not Soil Robber—Something Must Be Put Back.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The dairy farmer not only studies how to feed his cow, but how to feed his land. He is not a soil robber, as he realizes that the farmer who reduces the fertility of his land robs without reason, since he steals from himself.

MOST DANGEROUS SWINE AILMENTS

Tuberculosis Among Brood Sows Is Not Serious Menace to Their Progeny.

THUMPS CAUSED BY WORMS

Pigeons and Other Birds Wrongfully Blamed for Spread of Hog Cholera—Canning Sausage in Oil Is Being Investigated.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Tuberculosis among brood sows does not seem to be a menace to their progeny if other exposure to infection is eliminated, experiments recently completed show. Feces of tuberculous cattle have been found to be the most dangerous tuberculous material to which hogs are exposed under natural conditions.

It now appears that the disease known as thumps in young pigs may in some cases at least be the result of intestinal worms, which in the larval state migrate to the lungs, causing pneumonia. Some very thorough work leads to that conclusion, and research is now being directed to prevent infection of suckling pigs with this parasite.

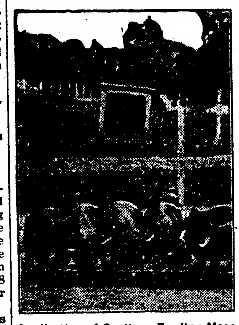
Immature and Hairless Pigs.

The disease causing the birth of immature and hairless pigs seems to be most prevalent in the far West. Its investigation is being continued.

It appears from experiments with hog-cholera virus and the ways in which cholera spreads that pigeons and similar birds are unlikely to transmit hog cholera.

In the field of meat inspection, the cause of ham souring has been worked out.

Canning sausage in oil has been investigated, and rules governing the preparation of this product have been adopted.



Application of Sanitary Feeding Measures Prevents Many Diseases.

Bacteria in the carcasses of hog-cholera hogs have been studied.

Prevent Entry of Dirty Water.

The process of dehairing and washing hog carcasses in packing establishments has been investigated and measures adopted to prevent dirty wash water from entering the wound in the neck and penetrating the blood vessels.

Studies of trichinae in pork have been continued, and the results, which obviate the necessity of microscopic inspection for trichina, have been used as a basis for revised meat-inspection regulations.

PROTECT MACHINES ON HAND

Avoid Needless Exposure to Weather and Lubricate All Bearings to Prevent Rust.

All practicable steps should be taken to preserve machinery now on hand. Needless exposure to the weather should be avoided, and in cases where it is not practicable to house machinery when idle, all bearings should receive a thorough application of heavy oil or grease to keep out moisture and prevent rust. On many farms machinery could be more adequately sheltered in the buildings available by exercising care in placing them so as to economize space.

STUDY DEMANDS OF MARKET

Uniform Color of Eggs and Flesh Is Always Most Desirable—Mixed Flock Not Wanted.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every poultry raiser should make a study of the market demands. A uniform color of eggs and flesh in poultry is desirable. A mixed flock will not produce uniform eggs or meat, and eggs from such a flock are not desirable for hatching.

SILAGE FOR STOCK CATTLE

Splendid Results Produced When Fed in Connection With Cottonseed Meal or Alfalfa.

Silage alone is not first-class for stock cattle, owing to the fact that it is poor in protein, but silage fed in connection with a little oil meal, cottonseed meal or alfalfa hay produces splendid results.

CAMPAIGN IS ON FOR BETTER LIVE STOCK

Connecticut First State to Enroll as Supporter.

Movement Is Arousing Keen Interest in Various States Throughout the Country—Federal Authorities Keep Records.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Connecticut is the first state in the Union to enroll officially as a supporter of the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. Connecticut authorities have decided to deputize their county agents with authority to examine and approve the animals of each farmer who desires admittance to the 100 per cent purebred sire club. Delaware and Virginia were the second and third states, respectively, to enroll. The "Better Sire—Better Stock" campaign, begun October 1, is arousing keen interest throughout the country.

Better Sires Mean Improved Stock.

The federal authorities in charge of the campaign will keep accurate records of the animals by kind, breed, sex and blood lines of each farmer who enrolls. The lists will be kept by states and counties so that there will be readily available a record of the breeding stock belonging to farmers who have been granted the official emblem of the better-sires movement.

An emergency county agent at Conyers, Ga., was the first to request enrollment blanks for distribution among the farmers of his section.

EFFICIENT WAY OF HAULING

Farmer Should Not Drive Home With Empty Wagon After Taking Crops to Market.

The farmer hauls his potatoes and other crops to town during the fall and winter, and drives home with the empty wagon. In the spring, when farm work starts, he drives in with an empty wagon and hauls out lime, machinery, seeds or fertilizers. He might far better order these goods early and haul them home when he brings in his crops. In other words, haul a load both ways, and save one trip. All farm supplies, such as machinery, lime, seeds and fertilizers, should be ordered early and hauled home. If not ordered until spring, the railroad will be unable to ship them. A "load both ways" means efficiency.

BEST SILAGE IS FROM CORN

Greatest Gains Made With Beef Feeders When Kernels Were Dented or Glazed.

Silage made from corn when the kernels were glazed or dented produced the greatest gains in beef feeding experiments conducted by the animal husbandry department of the South Dakota state college. The poorest gains from silage were made by steers receiving silage made from corn when the kernels were in the blister or milk stages. Silage from corn in the dough stage produced nearly as great gains as the more mature corn. The better the silage the less was required for a pound of gain.

FEED TROUGH FOR PORKERS

Device Should Be Constructed in Manner to Prevent Crowding and Each Pig Get His Share.

Construct a feed trough for pigs in such a fashion that the porkers cannot get their feet into it. This will lessen the possibility of crowding. Young pigs should be given their feed in such a way that each individual pig will get its share.

ADVANTAGES OF SILO

If corn is cut at the proper stage and put into a good silo, the whole corn plant is eaten.

Silage is more convenient to feed than any other rough feed commonly used on the farm.

Silage is both palatable and succulent.

The addition of a succulent feed to a ration increases the digestibility of the dry feed eaten.

With a silo it is possible to save corn that might otherwise, owing to immaturity, be largely wasted.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil.)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

HOT BATH TREATMENT FOR SEED WHEAT EFFECTIVE IN KEEPING DISEASE AWAY

Giving Seed Wheat a Bath to Rid It of Smut Infection.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A firebrand applied to inflammable tinder is no more destructive than are the smuts which annually ravage and pillage the grain crops of the United States. Last year 25,500,000 bushels of wheat, 110,000,000 bushels of oats, and 6,000,000 bushels of barley were the tribute paid to smut.

There are two smuts which attack wheat, the loose and covered smut. Loose smut is most serious in the southern winter wheat section, which includes southern Illinois, southern Indiana, southern Ohio, southern Pennsylvania, southern Missouri, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, where it causes yearly losses ranging from 5 to 20 per cent of the entire crop. Loose smut shows conspicuously when the wheat comes into head. At this time it reduces the grain to dusty black refuse, consisting largely of spores of the fungus which are spread broadcast by the wind and rain. The dissemination of the disease is furthered by the fact that the blooming period of the healthy plants and the shedding of the spores in the diseased plants are simultaneous. Some of these spores reach the flowers and infect the developing seed. The seed shows no external evidence of the presence of the smut fungus, but when planted gives rise to the black heads in the next crop.

Loose Smut Difficult to Control.

Loose smut is hard to control because the fungus exists inside the seed, and hence cannot be reached by ordinary chemicals without killing the wheat embryo. Fortunately, the disease can be controlled by the hot-water treatment, which consists of soaking the seed in cold water from 8 to 6 hours and then dipping it in hot water at a temperature of 132 degrees Fahrenheit for ten minutes. Subsequently the seed should be spread out to dry. Great care must be exercised not to have the water too hot nor to allow the seed to remain in the water too long. An advisable system is to treat four or five bushels of seed and to sow it in a special plot, isolated from the wheat fields proper, in order that the seed from the plot may be used for seeding operations the following year. Farmers who treat their seed in this manner fortify their fields against invasion by loose smut.

Bunt or stinking smut ranges at large over the entire wheat-growing section and generally causes a crop damage of from 1 to 5 per cent, although frequent individual fields show losses which range from 20 to 40 and even as high as 50 and 75 per cent. Bunt is sporadic in distribution, occurring here and there and everywhere in irregular sequence. One field may be seriously infested while the neighboring field on the right may be free from the disease. The disease shows up a few days before the wheat is ripe. If one carefully examines the diseased head at this time he will note that the glumes are pushed slightly apart, while the developing kernel is of dark color. If he crushes open the kernel, really a smut ball, a mass of ill-smelling, brownish black spores is released. In thrashing, these smut balls are knocked out and more or less broken apart so that the spores are scattered over the sound seed. On account of its bad smell, millers discount and penalize wheat covered with bunt dust.

Formaldehyde Bath Kills Bunt.

Stinking smut or bunt is easily controlled by use of formaldehyde, one pint or one pound of commercial formalin being dissolved in 40 gallons of water. The seed to be treated should be freed as much as possible from smut balls and other foreign matter and then should be placed in a loose gunny sack, filling the sack about two-thirds full, and then the sack should be dipped in the formalin solution and kept there about ten minutes. By raising and lowering the sack the grain will be mixed thoroughly and brought into complete contact with the solution. After treatment the grain must be dried and carefully protected from further contamination either in the sack or in the planting machinery. One pint of commercial formaldehyde solution dissolved in 40 gallons of water is usually sufficient for the treatment of 40 bushels of seed grain.

In the far West and on the Pacific coast, because of the occurrence of soil infestation by smut in that region, the copper-sulphate treatment is preferable to the formaldehyle method on controlling bunt. The former treatment consists in dipping the seed in a solution of one pound of copper sulphate dissolved in five gallons of water When the seed is removed from the copper-sulphate solution it should be dipped in a mixture of one pound of quicklime to ten gallons of water, this latter measure being necessary to prevent the continued injurious action of the copper sulphate on the grain after the smut spores have been killed. At thrashing time the smut spores are spread broadcast over the fallowed land by the wind, as fallowing for wheat is a common practice in the Pacific Northwest. Subsequently, when the fall rains occur, these spores germinate and infect the young wheat plants as they develop. Hence seed treatment is not entirely effective, but generally the copper-sulphate control gives the better results because some of the chemical adheres to the seed and prevents infection from the soil.

BEAUTY BATH HELPS APPEARANCE OF HEN

White Fowls Must Be Washed Before Put on Exhibition.

Birds of Various Colors Can Be Improved by Fluffing and Grooming—Soft or Rain Water at Right Temperature Is Best.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

All white fowls must be washed, and most fowls of other colors can be improved in appearance by washing, fluffing and grooming before the show.

For white birds have three tubs, one filled with warm, soft or rain water, another with warm, soft or rain water, and the third with warm, soft or rain water colored the proper shade to rinse and blue white goods. Use a bar of good white or castile soap, a large sponge and a nail brush. Have the temperature of the room 80 or 85 degrees and bring the birds in clean exhibition coops, the floors of which should be covered with fresh, dry shavings.

Wash the males first. Clean the shanks and feet with the nail brush, soap and water. Insert the bird in the first tub and push it down under the water several times until the plumage is wet through; make a heavy lather with the sponge and soap and thoroughly wash the plumage with the sponge; open the wings and sponge them in the direction of the feathers. Always wash the length of the feather, from the quill to the tip and not across it.

Keep the bird's head out of the soapy water if possible; sponge the soap off the bird and remove to the second tub. Press it under the water several times, allow it to stand and drip for a few seconds, and then dip it twice in the tub containing the bluing water. Remove the bird from the water, hold its legs firmly and raise it up and down quickly, so that it will flap and expand its wings and tail, and shake out the water.

Do not use a towel to dry a white bird. Move the exhibition coop near the fire or some heat so that the bird will dry. Lifting up the plumage of the breast and opening the feathers of the fluff while drying has a tendency to increase the apparent size of these sections. It is necessary to examine the white birds frequently if the coops are near a stove to guard against overheating them or scorching or curling their feathers.

"I had one of the worst cases of kidney complaint imaginable," says Mrs. Wm. Vogt, 6315 Audrey Ave., Wellston, Mo., "and I was laid up in bed for days at a time.

"My bladder was inflamed and the kidney secretions caused terrible pain. My back was in such bad shape that when I moved the pains were like a knife-thrust. I got so dizzy I couldn't stoop and my head just throbbed with pain. Beads of perspiration would stand on my temples, then I would become cold and numb. My heart action was affected and I felt as if I couldn't take another breath. I got so nervous and run down, I felt life wasn't worth living and often wished that I might die so my suffering would be ended. Medicine failed to help me and I was discouraged.

"Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I could tell I was being helped after the first few doses. I kept getting better every day and continued use cured me. My health improved in every way and best of all, the cure has been permanent. I feel that Doan's saved my life." Sworn to before me,

"HANG ON" FOR MANY YEARS

Scientists Know That Jellyfish Live Long, but "What Do They Get Out of It?"

In a recent lecture to children at the Royal Institution, London, Prof. D'Arcy W. Thompson told of a jellyfish known as Granny that was rescued by Sir John Graham Dalyell and kept alive in sea water. Granny, according to Prof. Thompson, was carefully tended by Sir John and fed regularly one-half mussel a fortnight. She throve exceedingly under this kind attention. Six hundred of her offspring were known. On the death of Sir John she passed to the care of an arctic explorer and was bequeathed by him to another scientific man. Granny outlived four protectors and died at last, Oct. 11, 1887, at the authentic age of 67 years, because of the neglect or ill-treatment of a botanist.

Prof. Thompson did not say so, but he left it to be assumed that had the neglectful botanist been as careful and attentive as was Sir John Dalyell Granny might yet be alive, says the New York Tribune, in which case she would be no less than 98 years old, and assuming that she was at least two when Sir John found her, which seems probable, she would be well past the century mark.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloat, etc., will if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

His Invulnerability.

"No, I do not think you are deceiving me," replied old Festus Pester; to the somewhat disgruntled inquiry of the purveyor of oil stock. "In fact, I know you are not. No one can deceive me about oil stock. I am perfectly aware that not more than one person in every thousand who invests in that sort of truck ever even gets his money back. If it were of any account, my young friend, you would not be peddling it around."—Kansas City Star.

Too Ill to Work

Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY,
426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

WILSON SHOWS SLOW PROGRESS

President's Condition, While Improving, Physicians Say, Changes Very Slowly.

HIS MIND IS ACTIVE

Unconfirmed Rumors Afloat About Washington Not So Hopeful—One News Organization Hears Unfavorable Reports.

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Wilson's condition was described as "about the same" in a bulletin issued last night by Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician. It was added by Dr. Grayson in an informal conference with newspaper men that a gradual, although slight improvement was being noted in the president's condition daily.

The daily changes in the president's condition, Dr. Grayson said, while encouraging were slight and could not always be clearly indicated in a formal brief bulletin. For this reason he departed from his usual custom and supplemented the formal bulletin with an oral statement of the patient's condition.

He said the president's mind was active and that while rest was desired, yet any important matters demanding the president's attention might be attended to should the occasion demand it.

Referring to rumors that the president's condition is perhaps more serious than is generally understood, the United Press last night dispatched rumors at Vice President Marshall might, in such event, be called upon to act for the president temporarily. There appears nothing to indicate that such action has been officially discussed.

MISSING DRUGGIST RETURNS

D. J. McNeil of Crystal Appears in Weakened Condition.

Bathgate, N. D., Oct. 14.—Dan J. McNeil, of Crystal, who disappeared September 17, came to life Sunday morning when he appeared at the home of Fred Steinke, four miles west of here.

He was seen trying to get through a barbed wire fence at the Steinke home, walking as if in a stupor. He was bent over and held his hands between his legs. Tears were streaming from his eyes.

When Mr. Steinke rushed up to him he made a passionate plea for help and a drink of water. He was carried to the house and given a drink of warm milk, then a drink of hot coffee.

The man's face was covered with a shaggy beard. His voice is weak, and he seems unable to give any coherent accounts of himself or of his whereabouts during the weeks he has been missing. His shoes show little wear.

McNeil was a druggist at Crystal, and well known throughout the section. His family has been notified, and it is hoped that he may show early recovery.

TWELVE FINISH FIRST LAP

Nine More Fliers Complete Transcontinental Trip in Great Air Race.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Nine of the forty aviators remaining in the transcontinental reliability race finished the first lap of the aerial derby yesterday, three landing at Mineola, N. Y., and six at San Francisco. The remaining contestants are at various control stations along the route but sundown today will see the majority of them near the end of the first lap. Twelve have finished the first lap, while a score have dropped out on account of accidents and five men were killed.

Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the first aviator to reach San Francisco and complete the trip from ocean to ocean, is preparing for his return flight. He plans to leave at 1:12 p. m. today at the expiration of the minimum allowed at the terminus.

Hopes to Avert Coal Strike.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Demands of coal miners in central competitive fields for more wages and changed working conditions were discussed today with Secretary Wilson by the senate interstate commerce subcommittee.

"Secretary Wilson assured us that as a government official he had interested himself in the threatened strike," Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, said in a statement following the session, "and that he hopes to make an adjustment. The committee will cooperate with him to that end."

Death Toll 357.

Corpus Christi, Texas, Oct. 14.—The total number of dead and missing as a result of the recent tropical hurricane here was officially announced as 357 by the bureau of information today, as a result of revision of figures.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Three Steel Strike Centers Controlled by Military.

General Wood Commands Troops at Indiana Harbor, East Chicago and Gary.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Quiet reigned in the Chicago steel strike area after a day of raids on the homes of agitators in Gary where regular army troops are in control. Indiana state troops enforced martial law in East Chicago and Indiana Harbor.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Declaring of martial law at Indiana Harbor and at East Chicago, and the dispatching of Federal troops to Gary, Ind., although no violence had occurred since Saturday, marked developments in the steel strike situation in the Chicago district.

Acting under authority conferred upon him by Governor Goodrich of Indiana, Adjutant General Smith, in command of 12 companies of Indiana state troops on duty in the Indiana strike zone, declared martial law in a territory embracing the towns of Indiana Harbor and East Chicago and extending for five miles in either direction from each of them.

The step was taken, General Smith said, "following indications of trouble" and after consultation with the mayors of the two towns. A detachment of approximately 1,000 Federal troops from Fort Sheridan, Ill., under the personal command of Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Central department of the army, took over control of the situation at Gary following an appeal for aid to General Wood from Governor Goodrich. Upon arrival of the Federal troops the state units which have been distributed over the Indiana strike district were withdrawn from Gary and concentrated in Indiana Harbor and East Chicago.

State troops had been sent into the district after rioting at Gary and Indiana Harbor.

Solicitor General King asked the court to advance the case of the government against the Standard Brewery, Inc., of Maryland. Lower courts held that 2.75 beer is not intoxicating under the wartime prohibition act. The government will insist that the beer of ½ of 1 per cent of alcohol or more should be declared intoxicating.

'FLYING PARSON' WINS AIR RACE

First Leg of Transcontinental Flight Finished—Return May Be Abandoned.

TIME NOT YET GIVEN

Lieutenant Kiel First to Arrive at Roosevelt Field, But Major Carl Spatz Credited as Probably Made the Quicker Flight.

New York, Oct. 13.—Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, the "flying parson," won the first coast-to-coast leg of the army air race, it was announced by officials of the American Flying club, which assisted the army in the conduct of the race.

His actual flying time for the 2,701 miles from Roosevelt field, Mineola, N. Y., to San Francisco, had not been officially checked late Saturday night, reports of the time he spent at the Reno, Nev., control station having failed to reach headquarters here, but it was stated by flying officials that they felt safe in announcing Lieutenant Maynard first in the flight across the continent.

Kiel First at Roosevelt Field.

While Lieutenant Emil Kiel touched the ground at Roosevelt field 20 seconds before Major Carl Spatz in the dash from west to east, Major Spatz was credited with second honors, having left San Francisco three minutes behind Lieutenant Kiel.

Lieutenant Maynard's total elapsed time was given unofficially as 75 hours, 47 minutes; Major Spatz's as 83 hours and 41 minutes; and Lieutenant Kiel's as 83 hours and 44 minutes.

Only the unofficial elapsed time could be given, and the results of the two divisions of the race, actual flying time and handicap time, must await the receipt of official reports.

Race May Be Over.

Despite announcement from the army air service at Washington that the return trips of the planes would be started October 20, it was intimated at the American Flying club that the race might not be continued and that should it be, the route might be laid out in easy stages through the south in an effort to avoid the severe weather encountered in the west.

EXTENDS FOOD CONTROL ACT

Bill Asked for by President Agreed Upon by Senate and House.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Senate and house on Saturday adopted the conference report on amendments extending the food control act to include clothing and food containers and providing punishment for profiteering and hoarding. The bill now goes to the president, who asked for this legislation as a weapon against the high cost of living.

Dispute over a senate resolution aimed at extortionate rents in the District of Columbia resulted in considerable degree in the passage of the measure and the section finally was carried through the house under a special rule, the conference report including it, being adopted 208 to 8. Hoarding and profiteering in the act are punishable by two years' imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

SLOW RECOVERY PREDICTED

President Wilson's Physicians Do Not Expect Early Return to Duties.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Hope that President Wilson soon might regain his normal health and resume fully the duties of his office has been swept away by his physicians, who have announced it will be impossible for him to leave his bed "for an extended period."

The announcement, made after a consultation between Rear Admiral Grayson and three other physicians aiding in the case, said there had been no interruption of the president's slow improvement but emphasized that he still had a long road to travel before he reached complete recovery.

Strikers Claim Free Speech Denied.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13.—Strike leaders from the industrial districts where the steel controversy is being waged, were given almost the entire day Saturday by the senate investigating committee in an attempt to prove the assertion of J. G. Brown, one of the union organizers, that "the long arm of the steel trust has reached into the government of western Pennsylvania to strangle the workingman's right of free speech and free assemblage." Chairman Kenyon only interrupted the long procession of striker witnesses twice, once to call Mayor E. V. Bascock, and later to hear E. M. Scott, president of the Wheeling (W. Va.) Iron and Steel company.

New York Teamsters Threaten Strike.

New York, Oct. 13.—Michael Cashael, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, on Saturday notified the conference labor board that a strike of 10,000 teamsters would go into effect at once unless demands made by the men last May were immediately granted. The demands have been before the wage adjustment board of the railroad administration as an important section of the union is represented by the American Railway Express company.

HAIR IN FLAMES; DIES FROM BURNS

Girl Uses Gas Heater Instead of Electric Drier After Swim.

FIRE ENVELOPS HEAD

Friends Attempt to Rescue Victim in Vain—Death Due Chiefly to Shock, Physicians Say—Inhaled Gas Fumes.

Pittsburgh.—A few minutes after little Miss Eleanor Asher scrambled merrily out of a swimming pool, she lay dying from shock caused by terrible burns.

Her hair caught fire while she was drying it over a gas heater at the Abington Y. M. C. A. and her death occurred in the Abington hospital.

Miss Asher, who was fifteen years of age, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney S. Asher, 1858 North Sixtieth street. At present they are occupying their summer home at Noble.

The Y. M. C. A. which is in York road near Susquehanna road, is given over to girls and women three nights of the week. Friday night was girls' night, and Miss Asher went over for a swim.

Laughing gayly after her plunge, Miss Asher went down to the locker room to dry her hair. There are two electric hair driers in the room, but the young women have found that the four gas heaters installed by Y. M. C. A. during the season of coal shortage, for the purpose of taking the chill off of the room, dry hair more quickly than do the electric driers. Their use, however, has been against the house rules.

Flames Envelop Head.

Miss Asher used the gas heater Friday night. She chatted pleasantly with the girls about her, as she lowered her head to the heater.

Suddenly her head was enveloped in flames. The strands of her long brown hair had touched the blue fire of the gas.

Miss Asher screamed and rushed wildly about the room. Her friends bravely made an effort to put out the flames, but they tried in vain.

Only Miss Ruddech, physical director for the women, seemed to have kept her mind free from hysteria. She heard the screams of the young women and the agonizing cry of little Miss Asher and rushed to the locker room.

Her Head Was Enveloped in Flames.

Without hesitation she seized a heavy coat lying on the bench and threw it over the girl's head.

"Turn on the showers!" she cried to the weeping girls.

The shower was turned on and Miss Ruddach shoved the suffering child under the spray. By the time the flames were extinguished, Miss Asher had fainted.

Inhaled Gas Fumes.

Her face had been scarcely touched by the licking tongues of flame. Her shoulders and arms were burned and she had inhaled gas fumes.

She was hurried to the hospital, where she died late in the night, as a result of the shock, chiefly, the physicians say.

Coroner Neville, of Montgomery county, investigated the case and pronounced the death due to accident. He exonerated the institution of any blame.

LOST BOY FOUND BY DOG

Child Hides in a Ditch, Afraid to Report the Loss of 10 Cents.

Youngstown.—Taken from a sewer ditch in Mill Creek park by a dog, Henry Martin, seven, told of having run away from his home in Salt Springs road Monday because he had lost 10 cents change which he had been given at a store.

J. Holt, a railroad policeman, went through the park early today. His dog stopped at the end of the ditch.

Unable to coax the animal to leave, Holt sent the dog into the ditch and the boy was dragged out.

WASHINGTON CITY SIDELIGHTS

Congress Likely to Act on Police Unionization

WASHINGTON.—Congress is likely to take a hand in the question of the unionization of the police force and its affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. If it does, it will come about in this way: In Washington instead of the issue going to a strike it has been taken to the courts by the police union. The union has asked for an injunction preventing the commissioners of the District of Columbia from carrying out their orders that any member of the force found to belong to a union affiliated with a labor organization would be discharged, on the ground that their right to organize is illegally interfered with.

The pressure of the American Federation, with its four million members, is being used in Washington to win recognition of the police union. The District commissioners, on the other hand, have taken a position from which, they assert, they will not retire—that no member of the force may belong to a police union affiliated with a labor organization. The commissioners have full jurisdiction, but already the contest has extended to congress and it is likely that before the struggle is ended a vote on some phase of the question will be forced.

For example, Senator Myers of Montana proposed in the senate that congress interpose by refusing to vote the pay of any member of the Washington police force who belonged to a union. In pointing out the national importance of the question the Montana senator said:

"If the police department of the District of Columbia is permitted to unionize and affiliate with a superior body of organized labor, you may be sure that the police forces all over the country will follow suit and do the same thing."

Senator Thomas of Colorado said he thought congress should inform the District commissioners that it was squarely behind them.

Wanted by Uncle Sam: A Deputy Game Warden

THE United States department of agriculture is in need of a well-qualified man, not less than twenty-five nor more than forty-five years old, to fill a vacancy in the position of deputy chief United States game warden, and the United States civil service commission will give a most practical open competitive test to secure the right man. The entrance salary will be between $2,500 and $3,000 a year. Headquarters will be in Washington, D. C.

WANTED DEPUTY CHIEF GAME WARDEN

The duties of the position are to assist in administering the law which gives effect to the treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the protection of migratory birds and the sections of the United States penal code known as the Lacey act; in the supervision of the United States game wardens and deputies in the gathering of evidence and the preparation of cases for prosecution of alleged violations of the federal game laws, and in office administration; and to participate in conferences, in and out of Washington, with individuals and organizations interested in wild life conservation.

In accordance with its practice in connection with positions of this class, the examination given by the civil service commission will not require the applicants to appear in an examination room for a mental test. Those who apply will receive a rating on their education and practical experience, weighted at 80 per cent, and on a thesis on a selected game conservation subject, weighted at 20 per cent. Those who attain a passing grade will later be given an oral test to determine their personal qualifications for the position. Failure in this oral test will render the applicant ineligible for appointment.

Applications will be received by the civil service commission up to and including October 28. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office or customhouse in any of 3,000 cities, or by writing to the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C.

Army Gas Masks Are Proving Extremely Versatile

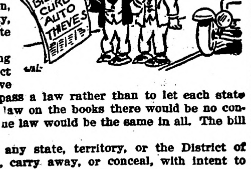
ARMY gas masks are proving extremely versatile. A vaudeville comedian facetiously uses a gas mask to protect himself against the hot air of his fellow comedian; while in a more serious way, the worker in a match factory renders himself invulnerable to deadly chlorine fumes by wearing an army mask.

NOW — GO AHEAD WITH TH' STORY —
!!?

An engineer wrote to the chemical warfare service of the war department asking for a gas mask, because he was growing old and could not stand the smoke which flooded the engine cab whenever the train passed through a tunnel. The mask was sent, and the engineer wrote that it saved him his position. Other engineers have since bought masks for the same purpose. A New York society woman stepped from her limousine into the office and demanded a gas mask. She explained that she had just opened her New York house, and that moths were positively eating up her clothes and house furnishings. Her butler, ordered to fumigate, had purchased a large quantity of formaldehyde and three dozen sulphur candles. He sprayed formaldehyde all over the house, and lighted the three dozen candles. The fumes soon became so strong that it was impossible to stay in the house, and she had hurried after a gas mask in order to have some one open the windows. Her footman, who had been in the army, fitted on the mask and entered the house without being at all affected by the fumes. The woman's pets, a monkey, cat and parrot, were all found dead in the house.

Bill in Congress May Scare Automobile Thieves

AUTOMOBILE thieves will find their activities dangerous if the senate passes a bill recommended to it by the house. The bill was introduced in congress by Representatives L. C. Dyer and C. A. Newton of Missouri. It is a compromise between one designed by the St. Louis men and one by the National Automobile Dealers' association.



WHAT DO YOU THINKA THAT?
BILL TO CURB AUTO THIEVES

Under the provisions of the bill a penitentiary sentence awaits any one who steals an automobile, buys a stolen car, or has one in his possession, knowing the car to be stolen property, or drives a stolen car from one state to another.

Automobile dealers have long waited for a federal law to protect them. Their organizations have urged the members of congress to pass a law rather than to let each state handle this matter. With a federal law on the books there would be no conflict between the various states, as the law would be the same in all. The bill includes the following:

"Section 2. Whoever shall in any state, territory, or the District of Columbia, steal or unlawfully take, carry away, or conceal, with intent to convert to his own use, any automobile, automobile truck, or any other motor vehicle, or shall buy or receive or have in his possession any such automobile, automobile truck or any other motor vehicle, knowing the same to have been stolen, or shall thereafter, in any other manner or means transport such automobile, automobile truck, or other motor vehicle in interstate commerce, to any other state, territory, or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years."

Jungle Fever

By R. RAY BAKER

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

An "M. D." was the cause of the rupture in relations. No, it was not a doctor; it was just those two initials.

Carrie Crothers wanted to put the letters to her name, and Austin Fredericks strongly opposed. Of course, the right to the initials would involve a course at college; but Carrie was prepared for that. Austin was not prepared. He wanted Carrie to settle down with him, and cook and sweep and do sundry other household duties.

But Carrie was willing—after she wrested a career from the world. When she had proved to herself and everybody else that she was capable of making her own way she would be content to give it all up and be plain Mrs. Fredericks, subtracting and discarding the "M. D."

"But that isn't reasonable, Carrie," he protested. "If you're so determined to do something, why don't you be a teacher? That won't take so long, and besides—well, anything but a woman doctor for me. It isn't their place—not by a long shot. Now, women make fine teachers, and I rather admire them, and think what a fine thing they are doing in educating the rising generation. Of course, you know I want you to get married right away, but I know your disposition enough to realize that you won't until you learn some kind of profession. But make a little concession to me and be a teacher. Give up this doctor idea. Women doctors are no good."

Carrie took umbrage at his attitude. Women doctors were just as good as the men variety, and a lot better in many cases, she contended, stamping her foot and growing red with anger. Did he mean to intimate that she could not be a good physician or anything else she chose to be? Very well, if that was all the faith he had in her, he might as well take his hat and coat and go, and he needn't come back unless it was on her terms. She'd show him whether a woman could be a successful doctor. Maybe some time he'd get down on his knees and beg for the services of a feminine physician.

Austin was desperate. He realized Carrie would not yield a point, and somehow he was bound to admire her for her ambition.

"By George!" he pondered. "I believe she will do it at that. But who wants a doctor for a wife? People would pass me on the street and remark: 'There goes Doctor Fredericks' husband.' That's all I would count for, because she'd change her mind about giving up practice, once she got her degree. I can't do it, that's all. I'll wait a few days and see if she won't change her mind, although I'm almost certain she'll stick to it."

He was hardly prepared for the swiftness with which things developed. His morning paper two days later made public the fact that "Miss Carrie Crothers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Crothers, 853 Jefferson avenue, left last night for Ann Arbor, where she will take a six years' course in the study of medicine at the University of Michigan."

Austin was so dejected that he ate only one of the two doughnuts furnished him for breakfast at the armchair lunch and drank only half the coffee. He went around in a daze for three days, and was constantly afraid that, in his capacity as assistant teller at the bank, he might cash a cigar coupon for a hundred-dollar check or commit some equally tragic error.

In desperation he wrote her a special delivery letter, which came as near being of a pleading nature as his rather proud spirit would permit.

The answer came the next day on a postcard:

"After six years. No sooner. Wait or not, as you see fit."

The reply and the manner of replying aroused Austin's wrath.

"She's going to show me, is she? Very well, I'll show her, too," he whispered vengefully to himself, and he went to the bank and resigned, after drawing out his savings account.

He was determined to go away. He had no idea what his destination would be, but it would be somewhere out of the civilized world, where he would try to forget and at the same time give Miss Carrie Crothers a good opportunity to think things over and come to her senses. At the end of a year, he decided, he would come back and see if things were different. It was going to be hard for him, but it would be harder to stay and "take her insults," as he put it in conversation with his aggrieved self.

By chance he picked up a newspaper which announced that Thomas Stevenson, the explorer, was preparing to sail in a week for Africa on a new expedition.

Austin's eyes brightened. Here was his chance. He had accompanied Stevenson on the latter's first exploring journey into the African wilds, and he would arrange to go with him this time. Invoking the aid of the telegraph, using as the address the name of Stevenson's favorite hotel in New York, Austin ascertained that he would be a welcome addition to the party.

The young man found the explorer packing up in his room. There was a hearty handshake and a brief exchange of words, and a week later Austin sailed with Stevenson and five others for Durban, on the southeastern coast of the dark continent.

Arriving there they employed three Zulus and two Hottentots to make up the remainder of the expedition and do the work. Many weeks later found the party north of the Transvaal, through which they had passed, and shortly afterward they began exploring in earnest.

Austin understood well before going that it was a hazardous undertaking on which he had embarked, for the dangers from both disease and uncivilized natives, especially the Bushmen, were many and serious. However, he wanted excitement to occupy his mind.

The expedition continued for months, always heading northward, climbing over mountains and passing through jungle regions. In many places wild beasts were to be reckoned with, and Austin's experience with the elephant rifle and other weapons stood him in good stead.

Stevenson wrote constantly concerning his observations. He said he was in quest of an undiscovered river, hoping to rival Roosevelt's feat in finding the River of Doubt, and he pushed on with few rests.

In the vicinity of the Zambezi river Austin was taken down with jungle fever, and Stevenson reluctantly detailed two of his Zulus to carry him back to the coast. The journey was long and laborious, but it finally was completed and Austin was taken into the home of a hospitable English settler in a small colony. Austin was out of his head most of the time, but at rare intervals he came out of the fever world and heard snatches of conversation, to which he sometimes replied, usually with an erratic remark.

During one of these near-lucid moments he heard a man's voice.

"He's got to have a doctor, and we'd better summon that woman who arrived here last month. They say she's a regular physician, although I've always been skeptical about the ability of a woman M. D. She's the only medic around here, though, so we'll have to have her."

"No woman doctor for mine!" shouted Austin, but, of course, his words bore no weight with the others.

After weeks of struggling with the fever, one morning Austin awoke to find himself back in the world. He felt weak, but otherwise no traces of the disease remained with him. He stared round in wonder at the strange walls that surrounded him. Slowly his memory came back; that is, the part which dealt with events up to the time the fever had got a strong hold on him.

Strange jabbering noises outside the window at his side attracted his attention and his eyes encountered a number of half-naked black children engaged in various grotesque forms of play.

"Well, how do you like it?" said a gentle voice at the other side of the bed.

"The woman doctor," he thought, recalling the words he had heard while in the throes of the fever. Turning his head slowly he looked into the pale blue eyes of Carrie Crothers.

"You!" he ejaculated. He was too astonished to articulate any further words for a moment, but mechanically he reached out his hand and took the small one extended toward him.

"Then—then you brought me out of this," he finally said. "You're the lady doctor!"

She smiled, captured a vagrant strand of brown hair and replied, with eyes sparkling in a strange way:

"No; the lady doctor is Elsie Shaw, an elderly woman, and she brought you out of this. But of course I helped nurse you when I could find the time. You see, I'm pretty busy."

She pointed out the window.

"Those black youngsters keep me pretty well occupied," she went on. "You see, I'm a teacher in the mission school, and they are the rising generation."

Round Towers in the West.

Those who venture into the West of the United States in these days are often puzzled by the number of round towers that at times throw very lengthy shadows across the landscape. There is always more or less guessing at the windows of passenger coaches as to the name and purpose of these structures. Most of them have greater circumference, and some seem to have greater height than the famous round towers of Ireland. They are silos, so called because they are employed for the preservation of ensilage or fodder crops at their green stage. There are possibilities in barn and silo combinations which will some day, we believe, be developed by the skillful architect. Even now departures from the crude and conventional are visible in many parts of the Indian corn belt.

London's Ugliest Church.

Charing Cross is by common consent London's ugliest bridge; do you know which is her ugliest church? It dominates Smith's square, Westminster, and Canon Wilberforce was vicar for many years. The story of its origin is that Queen Anne wanted a church built hereabout and ordered an architect to prepare the design. When the plans were brought for her approval she disliked them so much that she tore them into shreds, threw them at the artist's head, and kicked over a footstool in her rage. "There," she said, pointing to the overturned footstool, "build me a church like that." The terrified man took her at her word, and the result we see.—London Chronicle.

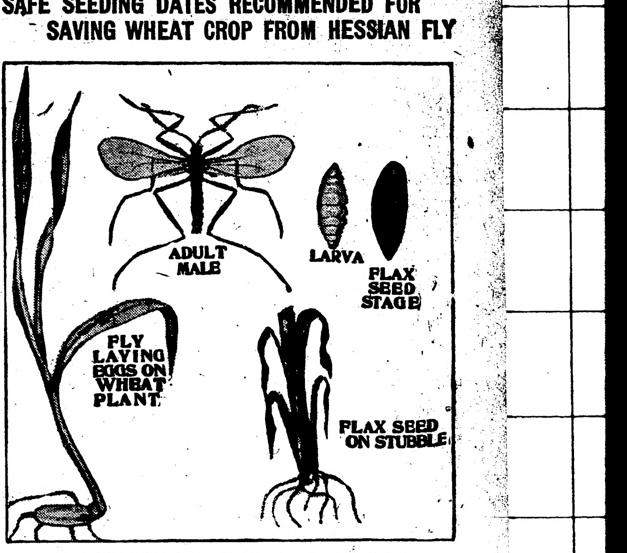
SAFE SEEDING DATES RECOMMENDED FOR SAVING WHEAT CROP FROM HESSIAN FLY



Important Stages in the Life Cycle of the Hessian Fly.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The Hessian fly, a minute wheat parasite, less than knee-high to a grasshopper, but gigantic as a fierce lion in its destructiveness, collects $50,000,000 a year from American wheat growers. This mosquito-like fly lays its eggs upon the leaves of wheat, and after the eggs hatch the little maggots live upon the plants' sap which they obtain by gnawing into the soft portion of the stem. Ordinarily two, or sometimes three or more, generations of the insect occur during a year. The main army of flies arrives in the fall and conducts a carnival of despoliation among the newly seeded grain. After the Hessian fly has once thoroughly infested a crop of wheat there is no known means of saving the grain, and the only known method of preventing damage from the fly is to keep such invaders out of the wheat.

Safe Dates for Seeding.

One of the most effective means of escaping fly damage is to defer fall seeding until danger of molestation from the fly is over. Safety dates for seeding wheat in different sections of the country are as follows:

Northern Michigan, soon after September 1; in southern Michigan, and northern Ohio, about September 20; in southern Ohio, after the first week in October; in Kentucky and Tennessee, October 10 to 20; in Georgia and South Carolina, October 25 to November 16; in extreme southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma, as well as in Virginia, after the first week in October. October-sown wheat always enjoys the greatest freedom from the fly in Missouri. Practically the same corresponding delay in wheat sowing in the fall should be followed to the southward.

These safety dates are only approximate and serve to show in a general way about the time when the fall brood of the fly will have largely disappeared from the wheat belt east of the Mississippi river. As the larger part of the fall brood appears and is gone within a week, it is possible for a farmer to time his seeding operations so as to avoid the fly.

Rotating Crops Is Effective.

Crop rotation is an efficient control as during the season of migration, unless new unaffected fields are near by, most of the insects succumb. Rotating the crops decreases the available supply of new host plants.

Destruction of volunteer grain plants by plowing, disking, or other tillage operations must begin before the larvae have matured in order to be effective, as volunteer wheat ordinarily is a prolific distributer of fly infection. Enriching the soil by plowing under the green cover crops and by applying stable manure also aid indirectly in combating the fly because a fertile soil will produce plants that soon attain vigorous, healthy growth and are better able to resist diseases than those grown on thin soils where it is hard to develop sufficient growth to withstand the winter if the wheat is sown late.

Good seed is a perequisite in securing healthy vigorous growth. Ordinarily the fly is avoided where good seed is sown in a thoroughly prepared fertile soil after the majority of the fall brood has disappeared. It is preferable to sow on ground not devoted to wheat the preceding year. In the case of spring wheat, the earlier the grain is sown the less it will suffer from the Hessian fly, but good seed and a well prepared, fertile soil are as essential in this case as elsewhere.

EFFICIENT MEANS OF PREPARING SEED BED

Use Disk to Prevent Growth of Grass and Weeds.

Plow Land to Depth of 6 or 7 Inches Where Wheat Follows Other Than Cultivated Crop—Keep Topsoil Well Broken Up.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When wheat follows a cultivated crop that is removed sufficiently early, such as corn or tobacco, the soil can usually be prepared for seeding by the use of a disk and ordinary harrows. As soon as the crop is harvested the land should be gone over with the disk to prevent the growth of grass and weeds. A second disking, followed by harrowing, is given just before the grain is sown. A better seed bed can be prepared in this way than by plowing, and it takes much less time and work. If weeds are plentiful, plowing three or four inches deep may be necessary. Harrowing with an ordinary harrow should follow the plowing.

When wheat follows cotton the stalks should be plowed under as soon as the bolls are all open and picked. Plowing in this case should be deep enough to bury the stalks completely in order to destroy the boll weevil. The land should then be firmed with a roller and the wheat sown with a disk drill. Disking or harrowing is not advisable, as it unearths the buried stalks.

When wheat follows other than a cultivated crop, the seed bed should be prepared by plowing the land to a depth of six or seven inches several weeks before seeding. It should then be harrowed at once and afterwards worked down with a harrow, disk, drag, or roller in such a manner as to kill all weeds that start to grow after the topsoil is well broken up. When it is necessary to plow just before seeding, as when a catch crop of cowpeas is plowed under, the soil should be compacted by rolling and harrowing several times before seeding.

BETTER SWINE AND PROFITS

Farmers Learning to Be More Careful in Selection of Their Breeding Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farmers throughout the country are using improved hog-breeding stock more generally than ever before, report specialists of the United States department of agriculture, as they are learning that the best stock yields the most profits, and hence are more careful in their selection of breeding animals. Farmers, as a rule, seem to be pleased with the outlook for the hog raiser, and the indications point to a large increase in the number of litters to be farrowed this fall. Much trouble was experienced with the early spring litters because of cold weather at farrowing time and on account of feed shortage and the high price of protein feeds, causing many stockmen to allow their brood sows to get into poor condition, with the result that small and weak litters were farrowed. In the main, these farmers have learned a costly lesson, and henceforward it is presumed that they will provide better housing and farrowing conditions as well as ample food of the right mixture for their porkers.

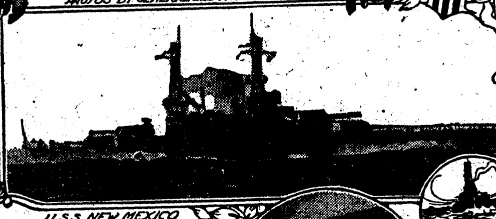
There are two ways to can corn. One is in cans and the other is in the silo. Can all you can both ways.

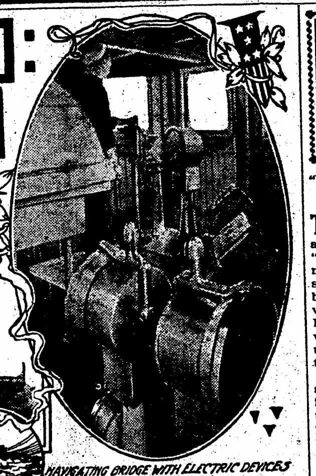
U.S.S. NEW MEXICO: First Electrified Battleship

PHOTOS BY GENERAL ELECTRIC CO.

CAPT. A.L. WILLARD

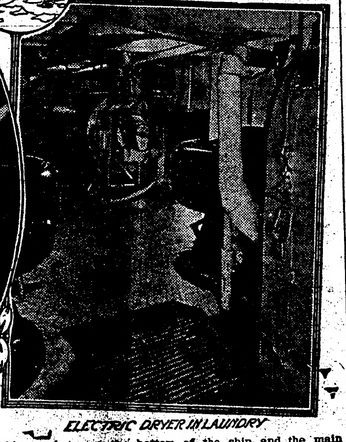


U.S.S. NEW MEXICO



NAVIGATING BRIDGE WITH ELECTRIC DEVICES

ELECTRIC DOUGH MIXER



ELECTRIC DRYER IN LAUNDRY

UNCLE Sam's superdreadnaught New Mexico is very much in the eyes of the world these days for the special reason that this battleship is the first of any nation to be propelled by electricty. Moreover, electric drive has been so successful and its fighting advantages have become so generally recognized that the navy department has decided to equip all of its new capital ships with electric propulsion apparatus.

The New Mexico is a most impressive fighting machine. She was built at the Brooklyn navy yard and launched in the summer of 1917. She is 624 feet over all. She weighs (displaces) 32,000 tons. She draws 30 feet of water. She has 97 feet 4½ inches beam at the waterline. At full speed she can make slightly in excess of 21 knots an hour. She generates 28,000 horsepower for propulsion. Her crew numbers nearly 1,200 men. She burns oil instead of coal as fuel and has a total fuel capacity of about 1,000,000 gallons.

It's not an easy thing nowadays to get permission to examine a battleship from stem to stern and to take photographs of her interior. But representatives of one of the big concerns which had a hand in making the New Mexico what she is was recently allowed the privilege—which has been exceedingly rare since the beginning of the great war. The following account of an inspection of the superdreadnaught at drydock in the Brooklyn navy yard is the result.

Lieut. Com. P. L. Carroll, chief engineer, turns us over to one of the junior engineers. We start with the navigating bridge and examine the various pieces of apparatus for transmitting signals to the engine room for the control of the vessel, and to half a dozen other parts of the ship, each of which has a particular and important function to perform. Next we begin a systematic survey of the ship, and to begin as far down into the vitals of the vessel as possible we are led through circuitous routes, down steep hatchways, through narrow alleys, and down more ladders, through deck after deck until we have lost all knowledge of time and space.

We find ourselves at last on the very bottom of the ship, directly behind the rudder. A complicated mass of machinery, pistons, rods, valves, dials and electric motors, combine to make up the steering gear engine. This machinery is operated and controlled directly from the navigating bridge by a control device. This is only one of five different methods of steering the ship. In a water-tight compartment directly aft is what is known as the auxiliary steering gear. And here we see four large wheels connected to a shaft, which when occasion demands, can be used to move the rudder by hand—which takes eight men. But this shaft is also connected to an electric motor and by the simple turn of a switch can be operated electrically. Two other electrical units are situated in this compartment for rudder control and if all steering methods fail, a "jury" rudder may be rigged off the stern.

Going forward along the bottom of the ship we come presently to the propeller shafts—four in number—each operating an immense propeller. These shafts extend from the motors which operate them back through the ship and out at the stern, through what are known respectively as the starboard outboard shaft alley, starboard inboard, port inboard and port outboard alleys. Following forward along the inboard shaft we go through several more water-tight compartments, drop down a hatchway and find ourselves in the propelling motor room. This is the section of the ship which actually drives the propellers.

The tremendous motor which meets our gaze gives an inkling of the power necessary to make the big shafts revolve.

This motor stands 12 feet high from the floor and is 12 feet wide. It generates 7,000 horsepower. Like the rest, it is inclosed in a water-tight compartment, protected by bulkheads, and if anything should happen to it, the current may be cut off at once and directed to the operation of the other three propellers.

To see how the motor is controlled, reversed, started, stopped, etc., we follow the wire cables further forward, still almost on the bottom of the ship until we come to what the engineers call the center engine room. Here spread out before us lies a switchboard containing levers, dials, telephones, indicators, and instruments for measuring electrical currents. It is the main control station of the ship containing the arteries through which courses the life blood of the vessel, the electrical current. In fact, it is often called the heart of the vessel.

Here in this compartment the electrical current is received, measured and passed on to the motors which we have just left. From this station the propellers may be made to reverse, or to go at full speed ahead; two propellers may be reversed while the other two are driven ahead. Here also any combination of control may be made up. The flexibility of control made possible by this central control station constitutes one of the advantages of the system of electric drive. The captain of the ship communicates directly to this station and gives instructions concerning the control of the vessel.

Having seen how the ship is propelled, and controlled, we are naturally curious to see the source from which the tremendous energy comes. The cables from the switchboard lead us forward into another compartment where we view the machine which generates the electrical current which turns the propellers.

This is the turbo-generator section. There are two turbo-generators consisting of a steam turbine direct, connected to a powerful generator. This generator is operated by the steam turbine and produces the current we have been seeking. Each of the turbo-generators produces 14,000 horsepower. In technical language this spot within the ship is known as the power plant.

The turbine is an essential part of this plant. It illustrates another advantage of the electric drive. A steam turbine to operate at its maximum efficiency must revolve at a relatively high speed, say 2,000 revolutions per minute. On the other hand, the propeller to be most efficient, must revolve with comparative slowness, say 200 revolutions per minute. This is because if the propellers revolved at high speed they would merely churn up the water and fail to drive the vessel ahead.

Now electricity acts as a connecting link between this highspeed turbine and the low-speed motor which drives the propellers. Mechanical gears, which in the turbine driven vessel have been used to reduce the turbine speed down to a suitable propeller speed, are entirely eliminated, and the necessary reduction accomplished by simple electrical means. Moreover the operating units of vital importance are each inclosed in separate water-tight compartments. In addition the machinery is grouped very close to the center of the ship as far as possible away from the sides.

"The possibility of so grouping the machinery," says an officer, "means a greater protection of the apparatus from shell fire, grounding and collision. We might say that this feature, plus the flexibility of control and the ability to cut off defective or damaged apparatus, constitutes one of the essential superiorities of electric drive."

To follow the power route to its source, we must go still further forward to a point amidships. Here are nine huge steam boilers, arranged three in a compartment. They store up the steam under a pressure of 250 pounds to the square inch and deliver it to the turbines. The New Mexico burns oil instead of coal.

Thus the electrical propulsion equipment of the New Mexico may be briefly summarized as follows: Nine steam boilers deliver steam to two turbines. The two turbines operate two generators. The two generators produce electrical current. The electrical current is led through copper cables to a control station where it is distributed and passed on to four big motors. Each of the four motors turns a propeller and thus the ship is driven through the water.

The current which the two turbo-generators produce is used entirely in the actual propulsion of the vessel. The New Mexico must have additional electrical energy with which to operate scores of auxiliary apparatus.

For instance, electric motors operate the 12-inch and 14-inch guns, blowers which supply the ventilation of the ship, electric fans, telephones, heaters, pumps, refrigerating machinery, wireless apparatus, kitchen appliances, laundry equipment, etc., to say nothing of the lighting system. Motor-driven machinery also operates the boat cranes and the anchor windlass. There are scores of storage batteries which stand ready to keep the electric lights going should the main lighting system fail. It has been estimated that there are aboard the New Mexico no less than 50 electric motors.

"Where does the current come from to operate them?" we ask. It comes from six auxiliary turbo-generator sets and we find two of them well up toward the bow of the vessel, still on the same level as the boiler room from which we have just emerged. This turbo-generator, and the others similar to it, are responsible for the wonderful applications of electricity which we will make the acquaintance of as we go upward through the New Mexico. There are four separate decks between the bottom of the ship and the main deck.

All the baking is done electrically—electric motors operate the dough mixers, and dough kneaders, while the loaves are baked in electrically heated ovens. Next we visit the electric laundry with its many ingenious machines electrically driven. Electricity also plays its part in other places, such as the crew's library, reading room and recreation quarters; the barber shop; the sick bay, with its up-to-date operating room; Capt. A. L. Willard's quarters, the officers' wardrooms, etc.

The New Mexico has 12 14-inch guns and many of smaller caliber, including a battery of anti-aircraft guns. The larger caliber guns, three in each of four turrets, are operated by electricity. The turrets are revolved and the guns elevated by electric motors. Ammunition hoists run electrically and there are electric gun loaders, while even the big guns are fired by electrical means, but the smaller caliber guns are generally oprated by hand.

In examining into the control of these great batteries of destruction, we come to one of the most interesting spots on the ship—the conning tower. Navy regulations designed to withhold important matters of military design, forbid us from obtaining a picture of the conning tower. But it is permissible to describe it briefly. The conning tower is a well-shaped shaft extending perpendicularly through the ship from top to bottom with ladders running up and down the sides and convenient methods of transmitting instructions by means of indicators and telephones. During an action the vessel's commanding officer usually stations himself in this tower which is also known as one of several fire-control stations and transmits instructions.

Up on one of the masts we encounter one of the big "eyes" of the ship—an electrical eye which can see for miles in inky darkness. The current for the operation of the searchlight comes from one of the turbo-generators heretofore described.

Is the electrical propulsion of marine vessels opening up an entirely new era of scientific advancement and will the day come when the seven seas will be dotted with electric ships? So far as our own navy is concerned, Secretary Daniels expressed the essence of the idea when he said:

"I think this country has cause to be proud of this achievement in engineering, not alone because of the pronounced success in this particular instance (referring to the New Mexico), but because of the assurance it gives us of the superiority of our capital ships to those of foreign countries."

"The New Mexico is the first and only dreadnaught of any nation to have electrically operated propelling machinery," continued Secretary Daniels. "On this account she has been an object of surpassing interest to the officers of our own navy and to those of foreign navies as well, and to electrical engineers in general.

"The result was satisfactory from every point of view and confirmed the judgment of all who were in any way concerned in its design and adoption. There was not the slightest mishap with any part of it, everything worked to perfection, and the crew was as enthusiastic over the performance of the machinery as is the department proud in the possession of such an efficient dreadnaught.

"When we entered into contract for the machinery we stipulated that, in addition to being capable of developing the maximum power, she should also give an economy at cruising speed very much superior to that obtainable with the turbine installations previously used. This stringent requirement was also met. As a matter of fact, the New Mexico will steam at ten knots on less fuel than the best turbine-driven ship that preceded her."

Anyway, electrical engineers are now turning their attention to the adoption of similar principles to the driving of merchant ships and to large passenger vessels.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

"THE CATHEDRAL OF COMMERCE."

THE Woolworth building, New York city, the highest office building in all the world, is often referred to as "The Cathedral of Commerce." This marvelous building is 792 feet or 60 stories tall. About 8,000,000 human beings reside within the bird's-eye view visible from the observation gallery on the fifty-eighth floor. This view, so unusual, so wonderful, has attracted representatives from more than sixty different countries.

About four hundred feet of the outside of the upper portion of the tower is flood lighted at night. This causes the building to present a bold and imposing spectacle—visible, 'tis said, 40 miles at sea. The structure weighs 223,000 tons, this tremendous weight being supported by 69 caissons, the largest 19 feet in diameter, all going down to bed rock or 110 feet below the sidewalk. Engineers claim its construction is so solid and safe that it would withstand a wind having a velocity of 200 miles per hour.

About 250 people are required to operate and maintain the building, which contains almost thirty acres of floor space. The tenants and their employees number about ten thousand. To serve them and those who enter to transact business with them, 28 elevators are required. About 25,000 people, on an average, ride in them daily. Approximately 250,000 pieces of mail matter are delivered in the building daily. The two elevators which operate to the tower are the fastest elevators in the world, having a speed of 700 feet per minute.

BUNKER HILL MONUMENT.

THE elevation known as "Bunker Hill" is situated in Charlestown, Boston harbor. On this spot, on June 17, 1775, was fought the famous Battle of Bunker Hill, between the British and American forces. Here the gratitude and patriotism of the American people have caused to be erected a great granite obelisk as a memorial.

Located in the center of a four-acre square and surrounded by an iron fence, this monument is 221 feet high and 30 feet in diameter at the base. Within the shaft is a circular stairway leading to a chamber, 11 feet in diameter and 17 feet high, at the top, from which is visible a view that thrills the heart of every American, who has been fortunate enough to witness it.

It is an interesting fact that the corner stone was laid by General LaFayette, a son of glorious France, during his famous visit to America in 1825. The monument was dedicated in 1842, on which occasion Daniel Webster spoke these famous words:

"It looks, it speaks, it acts, to the full comprehension of every American mind, and the awakening of glowing enthusiasm in every American heart. Its silent but awful utterance; its deep pathos, as it brings to our contemplation the 17th of June, 1775, and the consequences which have resulted to us, to our country, and to the world, from the events of that day, and which we know must continue to rain influence to the destinies of mankind to the end of time."

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY.

THE colossal statue of Liberty enlightening the world, the gift of the people of France to the people of the United States, in commemoration of the centennial of their national independence, stands on Bedloe's or Liberty Island in New York harbor and was dedicated October 28, 1886. It has welcomed millions of people to our shores, and it bade farewell to our brave soldier boys when they sailed away to save the land from whence it came.

This statue is of bronze, 151 feet high and rests upon a stone pedestal, approximately 100 feet high, making the total height of the entire structure over 300 feet above the waters of New York bay. Its estimated weight is 225 tons and the cost, including erection, was about $600,000.

The index finger of this gigantic figure is 8 feet long and 7½ feet in circumference at the second joint; the head is ten feet thick; the nose 4½ feet long and the mouth 3½ feet wide. Forty persons can stand in the head and the torch will accommodate 12 more. There are 154 steps in the statue from the pedestal to the head, and the ladder in the raised right arm contains 54 rounds. The light in the torch is maintained by the United States lighthouse service and is visible for many miles at sea.

The view that greets the eye from the top is one of the most marvelous in all the world.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

A LIBRARY for congress was an unquestioned necessity. Consequently, the congressional library was founded about the same time the government was first established, or in 1800. It was entirely destroyed by fire in the war of 1812 and also suffered seriously from fire at a later date. So, congress authorized the construction of a building that could not be burned. Result, the present structure, completed in 1897, said to be the most perfectly adapted for the convenient use and storage of books of any large library in the world, likewise the largest, costliest and safest.

It consists of three stories, a basement and a dome, covers almost three and one-half acres and has a total floor space of about eight acres. You can better grasp the magnitude of this building, when I tell you that it contains 22,000,000 brick, to say nothing of the other materials, and has 69,200 shelves with a total length of about forty miles.

It now houses considerably more than one million books and pamphlets, which is the largest single collection on the western hemisphere. Its estimated total capacity is about 1,900,800 publications. Its more than 2,000 windows render it the best lighted library in the world.

The colorings of the reading room are soft, quiet, rich and warm, being conducive to the greatest comfort. The walls carry many helpful and inspiring inscriptions. Its conspicuous beauty or charm, however, is in the wonderful mural decorative scheme, it being, unquestionably, the most gorgeously decorated public building in America.

THE KEOKUK DAM.

THE Mississippi river has been harnessed! A genius named Cooper (Hugh L., late of General Pershing's forces in France) turned the trick.

He built a concrete dam, 42 feet wide at the bottom, 29 feet wide on top and about 53 feet high, across the river; a powerhouse in which will be housed thirty 10,000 horsepower turbines, each with its generator weighing 850 tons; a lock 400 feet long and 110 feet wide (the width being the same as the locks in the Panama canal, but the lift is higher); the largest dry dock (at the time) in fresh water and an ice fender.

It was necessary to acquire about 25,000 acres of land, build 50 miles of roads and streets and clear 5,000 acres of brush and timber. More than 1,300 property owners were dealt with. Litigation was resorted to in only about ten cases. Two hundred and eighty-nine tons of dynamite were used. Construction work required about 800,000 barrels of cement, 7,500 tons of steel, 300,000 cubic yards of sand, 3,500,000 pounds of structural steel and 20,000,000 feet of lumber.

Now, the "Father of Waters" turns the machinery that lights cities, runs street cars and operates factories. Sixty thousand horsepower of electricity is used in St. Louis, 141 miles away. Sufficient power is generated to light a boulevard from Portland, Me., to Los Angeles, Cal., using 48 candle-power lamps set 100 feet apart.

Construction started January 5, 1910. The first current reached St. Louis July 1, 1913. The total cost of the plant was $26,000,000.

THE ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY.

FITTING, indeed, it is, that the national cemetery should occupy a position atop the Virginia hills which line the placid Potomac opposite the capital of the nation.

The grounds comprise about 1,100 acres and once were the property of the grandson of Martha Washington, whose only child married the conspicuous military leader, General Robert E. Lee, through whom it passed into the possession of the United States, in 1864.

So peaceful and beautiful is this spot that one half suspects nature just lovingly shaped it for the very purpose for which it is being used. The portion now used for burial purposes is inclosed within a wall of red sandstone. It is divided into sections, with tastefully-arranged avenues, drives and walks.

In this consecrated spot sleep the silent hosts "who gave their lives that the country might live"—approximately 25,000 of them at the present writing. Any honorably-discharged soldier, sailor or marine of the United States service is entitled to burial here.

In one section rest the remains of the sailors who were killed in the wreck of the Maine in the harbor of Havana; in another the remains of 2,111 nameless soldiers gathered from various battlefields, camps and abandoned cemeteries. Here, too, are the graves of many of our brave generals and admirals, including that of Quartermaster General Meigs, who suggested to President Lincoln that this site be converted into a military cemetery. Also some time-worn stones marking the graves of several officers of the Revolutionary war.

Work Hard and Play Hard.

Regular daily relaxation and particularly relaxation through enthusiastic hobby riding has the advantage of promoting emotional control, an indispensable factor in the winning of success. To work hard, to play ardently, to live a decent, hygienic life in general, sums up pretty comprehensively the secret of business success. Following this plan, men of only average ability can, and do advance by rapid stages, while without its aid more brilliant men falter and fail.

Ascertaining Mountain Heights.

The height of mountains is ascertained by barometric observation, showing the pressure of atmosphere at the lower and higher levels. An instrument called the mountain barometer is graded especially for this purpose. It can also be done with a leveling instrument and theodolite, but either way requires technical knowledge.

INOCULATE SOIL TO AID ALFALFA

Addition of Bacteria to Promote Favorable Conditions Is Needed in Eastern States.

NOT NEEDED IN SOME PARTS

Farmer Ordinarily Secures Material From an Old Sweet or Bur Clover Field—Several Machines Useful in Applying.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Alfalfa failures, especially in the eastern parts of the country, result in many instances from the lack of or improper inoculation—the addition of enough bacteria to the soil to promote conditions favorable for the growth of the crop. Despite the popular conception that inoculation is necessary in all parts of the country, specialists report that throughout the alfalfa belt proper, which includes Montana, Wyoming, California, Colorado, Idaho, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, and nearly all of Texas, it is not necessary to inoculate for alfalfa.

In certain other sections of the country there are sufficient alfalfa or allied leguminous organisms in the soil to make a profitable growth of alfalfa possible. Where such crops as white or yellow sweet clover, California bur clover, southern bur clover, and yellow trefoil grow, it is unnecessary to inoculate for alfalfa.

Transferring Inoculated Soil From an Old Sweet Clover Field to a New Alfalfa Field.

Soil Should Be Neutral.

The soil should be neutral in order that the alfalfa bacteria may thrive, and unless the soil conditions are generally good it is impossible to grow alfalfa on a commercial scale.

Quite commonly the farmer secures his inoculation material from an old sweet clover or bur clover field, or else from an old alfalfa sod, applying the inoculated soil on a cloudy day or during the evening in order that the alfalfa bacteria may not be injured by the bright sunlight. Investigations have shown, however, that there is less danger of permanently injuring the alfalfa bacteria by sunlight than was formerly supposed, and although it is not advisable to court trouble by needlessly exposing inoculation material, this dirt, if necessary, can bear sunlight for several hours without severe injury.

Nodules Are Essential.

It is essential that the soil, if taken from old alfalfa fields, should be from those plots where the alfalfa plants show numerous nodules upon their roots. Such soil, well dried, pulverized, and sifted through a window screen, is best applied to the new field through the fertilizer attachment of a grain drill, by the use of a lime spreader followed by a smoothing harrow, or by distributing it with the aid of an end gate sower attached to a wagon box. Two hundred pounds or more of sifted field soil will be sufficient for an acre. It is necessary in obtaining the material to remove from the surface 2 or 3 inches of soil and to obtain the inoculating material from the underlying 6 or 7 inches. Broadcasting the soil by hand requires a larger quantity and is best done in the early morning, late evening, or on cloudy days in order to minimize the damage effected by the sun's rays.

The glue method of inoculation was widely practiced several years ago in Illinois. It consists of moistening the alfalfa seed with ordinary furniture glue and then sprinkling inoculated soil over it so that the soil will adhere to the seed and carry the bacteria on to the new field. Specifically, this method consists in dissolving two handfuls of glue for every gallon of boiling water and then allowing the solution to cool. Then the seed should be placed in a washtub and enough of the solution sprinkled over the seed to moisten it, but not enough to wet the seed, one quart to the bushel usually being adequate. The soil from the inoculated field should be dried in the shade, pulverized into a fine dust and scattered uniformly over the seed, from one-half to one gallon of dirt being sufficient for each bushel of seed.

HEAVY HOG LOSS CAN BE LARGELY AVOIDED

Greater Care Should Be Used in Shipping Live Animals.

Cars Ought to Be Thoroughly Cleaned Before Loading and Not Overcrowded—Spraying While in Transit Is Helpful.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

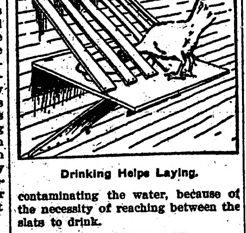
Last May 651 hogs, weighing approximately 157,000 pounds, were unloaded dead, or died in the stockyards at the South St. Paul market. Of this number, 359 hogs, weighing approximately 102,000 pounds, died in transit or in yards during the last six days of the month. This was the week of the first real warm weather, and as is usually the case during the first hot spell in the summer season, the loss of hogs in transit was extremely heavy. The difference in price between dead or live hogs during this week was approximately 18 cents a pound, which would mean a total loss of about $18,360. This loss might have been largely avoided if the shippers had taken proper care in loading, seeing that all cars were properly cleaned before loading, and that cars were not loaded as heavily as is the custom in cooler weather. If these hogs had been loaded in clean cars the losses could have been further decreased by having them sprayed often in transit, by the carrier, especially upon arrival at transfer points, and also upon delivery to the terminal. One of the largest buyers of hogs at the South St. Paul market, who reships to other markets for slaughter, states that the losses of his firm during the last week in May were no heavier than usual, but that they were extremely careful to have their cars thoroughly cleaned and sanded before loading, in addition to loading lighter than usual and taking the adequate precaution of requesting the railroad officials to issue instructions to have the hogs sprayed as often as possible in transit.

WATER HELPS LAYING FOWLS

Plentiful Supply Should Always Be Available for Hens—Stock-Feed-Rack Idea Is Good.

A plentiful supply of clean, fresh water must always be available to hens. The fowls drink freely, especially when laying heavily, and should not be stinted of such a necessary and cheap material as water. The water pan or dish should be kept clean.

The stock-feed-rack idea has been successfully applied to the watering of poultry. One successful poultry raiser uses a contrivance such as the one illustrated on this page, the chickens being forced to hop upon an elevated platform in order to reach the water, and being prevented from standing on the edge of the dish or contaminating the water, because of the necessity of reaching between the slats to drink.



Drinking Helps Laying.

REASONS FOR FALL PLOWING

Longer Period Given for Decomposition of Stubble and Other Pieces of Vegetable Matter.

Fall plowing is a bank balance booster because it returns the best crops. It does this for several reasons, says Andrew Boss, vice director of the Minnesota experiment station, University farm, St. Paul:

It gives a longer period for the decomposition of the stubble and other particles of vegetable matter turned under in plowing.

It opens the soil to the fall rains.

It helps to dispose of weeds which interfere with growth of crops.

It lessens the amount of spring work and thereby allows the prompt sowing of the crops in the spring.

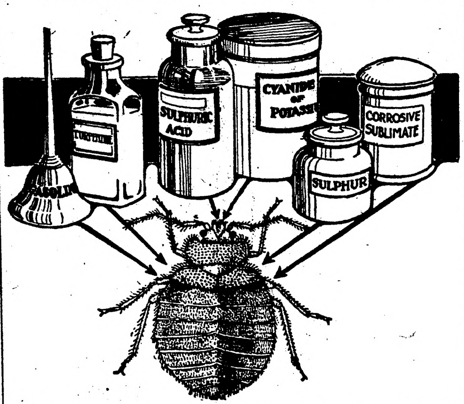
It enables one to avoid crowding at any time, and, therefore, is beneficial both to men and horses.

GIVE HARNESS PROPER CARE

First Wash With Warm Water and Soap, and While Still Moist Oil It Thoroughly.

To oil harness correctly, first wash the harness thoroughly with warm water and soap. Then hang the harness up to dry. Do not let it get dry, but when it is still moist, rub it thoroughly with some animal or vegetable oil. Pure neats-foot oil is the best oil known. This renews the softness of the leather and its flexibility. Do not use mineral oils on harness, for it has a destructive effect, say the farm engineering authorities at Iowa State college who make the foregoing recommendations.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS QUITE NECESSARY TO INSURE HOME AGAINST BEDBUG PEST



Any of These Remedies Are Warranted to Be Sure Death to Mr. Bedbug.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There's no disgrace in finding a bedbug; the disgrace lies in keeping it.

Somewhere back in the dim ages, a housekeeper—possibly Mrs. Noah—gave utterance to the above. Perhaps Noah was so literal minded, being a man, as to think the injunction to take into the ark a pair of every living creature included bedbugs, too, and his wife, when she laid down what was to be forever after a household proverb, had just found them. Whether the originator of the phrase was Mrs. Noah or the Queen of Sheba—she is said to have been a fussy housekeeper—doesn't matter. Generations of women since have comforted themselves by repeating it when they discovered the pest in their homes and when anguish filled their souls.

Bugs Gain Entrance Easily.

The presence of the bedbug in the house is not necessarily an indication of neglect or carelessness, for this insect may gain access in spite of the adoption of all reasonable precautions. Trunks, wraps, and bags of travelers, and baskets of laundry may furnish a means of transportation for the pest. Unfortunately, too, it is quite capable of migrating from one house to another, and will often continue to go from an adjoining house sometimes for a period of several months, gaining access daily. Such migration is especially likely to take place when the human inhabitants of the house leave it. When its usual source of food departs, the migratory instinct of the bedbug is developed, and, escaping through windows, it passes along walls, water pipes, or gutters, and thus gains entrance to adjoining houses. In these or other ways anyone's premises may be temporarily invaded.

The presence of the bedbug in houses, both from the standpoint of personal comfort and the possible carriage of disease, is not to be lightly considered, and the failure on the part of anyone to institute immediate efforts of eradication will warrant the odium which is properly attached to "buggy" premises.

The bedbug is normally nocturnal in habits and displays a certain degree of wariness, caution, and intelligence in its efforts at concealment during the day. Under the stress of hunger, however, it will emerge from its place of concealment in a well-lighted room at night, so that under such circumstances keeping the gas or electric light burning is not a complete protection. It usually leaves its victim as soon as it has become engorged with blood and retires to its normal place of concealment, either in cracks in the bedstead, especially if the latter be one of the wooden variety, or behind wainscoting, or under loose wall paper. It thrives particularly in filthy apartments and in old houses which are full of cracks and crevices, in which it can conceal itself beyond easy reach.

The bite of the bedbug is decidedly poisonous to some individuals, resulting in a slight swelling and disagreeable inflammation. To allay the irritation peroxide of hydrogen or dioxygen may be used with good results. In common with other insects which attack man and warm-blooded animals, it is entirely possible for a bedbug to transmit contagious human diseases.

How to Get Rid of Them.

Undoubtedly the most efficient remedy for the bedbug is to fumigate the infested house or rooms with hydrocyanic-acid gas. A bulletin giving directions for such fumigation has been issued by the department of agriculture.

The fumes of burning sulphur are also a very efficient means of control where the conditions are such that this method can be used. It readily destroys insects in all stages, including the egg. There is some risk of injury to household fabrics, furnishings, and wall papers from the strong bleaching quality of sulphur fumes. The danger will be somewhat diminished if the fumigation can be done at a time when the room or house is thoroughly dried out, as in winter by a furnace or other heating system. Further precautions should be taken by removing metallic surfaces from the room or protecting them with a coat of vaseline. Two pounds of sulphur are recommended for each 2,000 cubic feet of space and the building should be closed for the treatment for at least five or six hours or preferably for 24 hours. Thoroughgoing precautions must be taken to prevent accidental overflowing or the starting of a fire. After the fumigation the house should be given a thorough airing.

Gases, such as formalin and the vapors of benzine, napthaline, and camphor are sometimes used, but are of little value. Insect powders, because they are difficult to get into crevices, are not effective.

Methods of Control.

Among the simple methods of control, however, perhaps the most efficient is a very liberal application of benzine, kerosene, or gasoline, introduced with small brushes or feathers, or by injecting with syringes into all crevices of beds, furniture, or walls where the insects may have concealed themselves. Not only is the baseboard of the room apt to be infested with them, but the picture molding and the back of the pictures themselves may furnish lodging for the pest. Corrosive sublimate is also of value, and oil of turpentine may be used in the same way. Hot water, wherever it may be employed without danger to furniture, is also an effective means of destroying both eggs and bugs.

Various bedbug remedies and mixtures are for sale, most of them containing one or another of the ingredients mentioned, and these are frequently of value. The important point, however, in the case of an infested house is a daily inspection of beds and bedding, particularly the seams and tufting of mattresses, and of all crevices and locations about the premises where these vermin may have gone for concealment.

A vigorous campaign should, in the course of a week or so at the outside, result in the extermination of this very obnoxious and embarrassing pest, which swoops down upon its helpless sleeping prey during the midnight watches.

HOW TO COOK MUTTON STEAK

It Closely Resembles Hamburg Steak as Ordinarily Prepared—Onion May Be Added.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Mutton cooked in the following manner is appetizing and nutritious:

1 pound lean mutton free from bone.
1 egg.
½ cupful milk.
1 teaspoonful salt.
½ teaspoonful pepper.
Few drops onion juice.

Chop the meat fine, add the other ingredients, form into small cakes and either broil or fry them. While this dish is more delicate if the egg and milk are used, it can be made without them. In this case it very closely resembles Hamburg steak as ordinarily prepared from beef. It may be made with or without onion.

FEEDING VALUE OF POTATOES

Tubers Are Rich in Mineral Matter Necessary to Keep Body in Good Condition.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One medium potato gives as much body fuel as two slices of bread and more than one egg. The tissue-building material, protein, is present only in slight amount, so that milk, cheese, eggs, fish and meat, which are rich in protein, are the logical foods to eat with potatoes. However, the small quantity of protein which the potato contains is of an especially valuable kind. Potatoes are rich in the mineral matter necessary to keep the body in condition.

HIDES AND SKINS OF BEST QUALITY

Many of Profit-Absorbing Intermediary Agencies Avoided by Direct Marketing.

PREPARATION IS IMPORTANT

Essential to Fold in Head and Neck, Flesh Sides Together—Sheepskins Are Bundled Differently—Use Strong Linen Tags.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Much may be done to improve the country branch of the hide and skin industry by marketing the hides and pelts on a graded and selected basis, according to relative merits, and by avoiding many of the profit-absorbing intermediary agencies through more direct marketing by the rural producers. In this way country producers will not only derive more profits, but the profits will be commensurate with the quality of their products, a condition which will prove an incentive to produce hides and skins of the best possible quality.

The preparation of hides and skins for market is of great importance, as when they are not properly prepared and shipped they are subject to great deterioration. The farmer who has thoroughly cured a number of hides and skins by the green salting method commonly followed should place them over some elevated object, such as a barrel. They should remain there over night, to drain free of excess moisture; after which the surplus salt should be swept off or removed by thoroughly shaking the hides.

Care in Removing Hides Reduces Ultimate Cost of Leather.

Folding the Hides.

As a rule hides are folded so that the hair side is out. It is essential to fold in the head and neck on the body of the hide, flesh surfaces together, and to turn in the tail in a similar manner. Then a narrow fold on each side should be made by throwing back the body edges and legs upon the body of the hide, flesh surfaces together, keeping the lines of the folds parallel. The legs should then be folded back and these lapped with the hair surfaces together, bringing the break of each fold near the middle line of the back. The side folds should then be completed by bringing together the two breaks of the folds, with the middle line of the back as the main fold, in this way making one long rectangular bundle. The butt end of the folded hide should then be thrown forward about four-fifths of the distance to the neck fold, whereupon the forward portion of the bottom lap should be folded back on top of the first fold, bringing the break of the rear fold even with that of the fold just made.

Each hide should be bundled separately and tied securely, about seven feet of strong cord being necessary to tie one hide bundle. A soft rope or line at least one-fourth inch thick is suitable for this purpose, although regular hide rope is preferable. Wire should never be used, as it is likely to damage the hide by rusting.

Sheepskins Bundled Differently.

Sheepskins are bundled differently from either cattle hides or calfskins. The wool sides are laid down and the skins are folded along the median line of the back with the wool side out. As many as five skins folded in this manner can be placed in a single bundle for shipment. Two pieces of stout rope should then be wound around the pack from back to belly, one passing around the back portion just in front of the hind legs, and the other passing around the front portion immediately back of the forelegs. All shipments of hides should be tagged with good, strong linen tags with a paper finish and brass eyelets, and all addresses should be done plainly with moisture-resisting ink. Hides and skins should be shipped as soon as possible after bundling without needless exposure to sun, draft, water, or rusty or corroded metals.

Complete information regarding the best methods for skinning, curing, and preparing hides for market is given in Farmers' Bulletin No. 1055, which may be obtained upon request to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

SECRETARY HOUSTON WANTS SQUARE DEAL

Manufacturer Must Do His Part in Lowering Prices.

Everything Possible Will Be Done to Enable Farmer to Produce More Economically—Profiteering Must Be Stopped.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture, does not assent to the theory that the prices of farm products should fall before the prices of manufactured commodities fall. He makes this clear in replying to a recent communication in which it was stated that "There must be a drop in prices before there is a drop in wages, and it would seem that the farmer is the man who is going to be first hit."

This theory has been advanced by a number of manufacturers, said the secretary, who continued, "it is clearly an unjust contention. It manifestly would not do to ask farmers to produce, buying everything that they have to buy from manufacturers at high prices, with the assurance to them that their products will fall in price, and that then manufacturers will consider what they will do with reference to their own prices. Obviously, manufacturers must be willing to make at least a contemporaneous decrease in their prices. It might even be contended that they should make a prior decrease in their prices, since the farmer's operations involve a year and he could not recoup for twelve months, or could not recoup at all, because, on the theory put forth, his products would fall in price. It seems to me that business men must be brought to realize that if we are to get back to the normal, they must set about immediately to do their part, and unquestionably, profiteering in manufactured products must be eliminated.

"Of course, everything possible will be done to enable the farmer to produce more economically, so that if prices do fall, he will not sustain a loss, or so great a loss. All the efforts of the department of agriculture and of the land-grant colleges have this aim. They are trying to bring about better methods of cultivation, better financing, better marketing, the elimination of plant and animal diseases and insect pests, and the better utilization of labor. Much has been done in this direction, and more will be done as time passes."

GOOD PASTURE IS ESSENTIAL

Because Grass Is Able to Take Care of Itself It Is Most Neglected Farm Crop.

Of all the feeds that come nearest to meeting the needs of live stock, good grass pasture is generally admitted as being the best, and yet, because it is so able to take care of itself and requires so little attention, it is the most commonly neglected farm crop. Good pastures can always be depended upon to get results when the most carefully prepared feed mixtures fail. In fact every ration that is fed is an imitation of grass.

WELL-DIVIDED YARD SYSTEM

Farmer Should Have Strong Permanent Fences, Together With Convenient Gates.

Good fencing is an asset to any farm. There are many farms that have the very best of fencing in the fields and around the fields, but when it comes to a well arranged system of barnyards, then many farmsteads are lacking. If there is any one thing which is handy in a barnyard it is to have a good system of yards, having strong permanent fences, together with a good stable and handy gates.

IN MEMORY OF DOUGHBOYS

Memorial Centers for Social Activities Are Preferred to Monuments.

Statistics just made public by the bureau of memorial buildings of War Camp Community service show that 254 communities in the United States have decided to erect buildings in memory of their men who served in the war. Of the memorial buildings to be raised, 182 will take the form of community-houses, each to function as a free recreation and social center. Six of the structures will be municipal office buildings.

More than 700 American communities are now considering the putting up of memorial buildings instead of shafts or monuments, the bureau of memorial buildings also announces. It is crusading throughout the United States for the community building type of memorial. Such an institution, the bureau head maintains, is a living influence in every community, and serves constantly as a reminder of the men the community gave to the national fighting forces.

Additional figures concerning the 254 memorial buildings already decided upon show that fourteen of them will serve as state memorials and that forty-four of them will be of the auditorium type. These will have social and recreational facilities in addition to large meeting halls, and for the most part will be in larger cities. Other memorials will take the form of hospitals, libraries, school buildings and church work centers.

GOT SPIRIT OF THE THING

After Watching Men Give Up Their Seats in Car, He Offers His Place.

The Broad Ripple car was crowded, as usual. As women boarded the car the polite and gallant men got up and permitted them to have seats. A man, his wife and little son, about five years old, got on the car. The attractive looking mother was given a seat and she took her son on her lap.

As the car went along, the boy conversed in a loud tone. He spoke of the condition of the road bed, of the length of his trousers, of how long it would be until they got there, and so on.

Finally so many men had given up their places that several of them were standing in the car aisle. The little boy seemed to think it was wrong for him to have a comfortable on his mother's lap while so many men were standing. Finally he sung out in a voice that could be heard throughout the car:

"Somebody can have my seat," he shouted.—Indianapolis News.

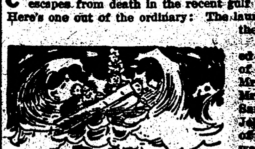
Odd Escape of Launch Party in Gulf Hurricane

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEX.—"Kismet," says the Turk—it is fated. Narrow escapes from death in the recent gulf hurricane would fill many volumes. Here's one out of the ordinary: The launch Waldo left here the day before the storm for a trip in the outer bay.



Those in the launch party included Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Anderson of Houston, T. A. Shearer of Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Roark of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Guertz and daughter of San Antonio, and Walter Agnew, John Webster and James McAllister of Corpus Christi, and L. M. Woodward of Houston. McAllister owned the launch. The party was formed in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, who were recently married. The party stopped Saturday evening at Corpus Pass to pass the night at the Newport club. At midnight they were awakened by the coming of the hurricane.

Just then a tent floor carried on the crest of the waves was swept toward them. Two of the men leaped into the water and dragged it in. Tying the women securely to the floor, the men launched out just as a deluge of water covered their late place of refuge.

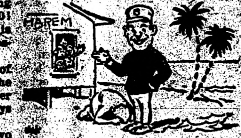
For some time the unwieldy craft was battered about, entirely at the mercy of the churning waters. Finally it was thrown ashore upon what remained of Mustang island, a plot of ground hardly more than 20 feet square.

There they remained until the coming of dawn Monday. The waters had subsided somewhat and from an old fisherman who had survived the storm they obtained their first food in 30 hours. Later aviators dropped them some provisions.

Woodward, by means of a raft, made his way to the mainland and brought in word that the party was safe, six days after their departure.

Sultan Bob McLean of the Marines and His Harem

NEW YORK.—The marine corps here is putting on new airs over Sergt. Robert McLean of the recruiting station, 24 East Twenty-third street. He's just learned he's the sultan of Liang-Liang, Philippine islands, and the proud possessor of an island three miles around, and all it contains, including a harem of 40 women—count 'em, 40! And what's more, Sergeant McLean is starting for Liang-Liang to take possession. You see, it's this way:



The sergeant spent two years of his service among the Moros. The sultan adopted him and died the other day, making the marine his heir. Says the sergeant:

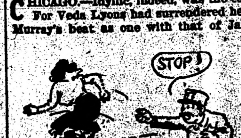
"The sultan's house was two stories high and made of nipa fiber, It was set upon stilts eight feet high and had 20 rooms. The cows and pigs and chickens were kept in the space underneath the stilts. The women of the harem were off in quarters by themselves, and I never set eyes upon them.

"The sultan was quite an educated man, and spoke English quite fluently. He was eighty years old. I told him all about America and our ways, and he would sit and listen for hours. He grew so fond of me that he said he wanted to make me his legal son, since he had no legitimate male heir. One day I received a summons to come to him at once and bring two of my friends along. I took Frank Korneum, who was killed in France, and Sergeant Walter of the marine corps along with me. When we reached the sultan's home we were ushered into the public hall. There I found the sultan looking very stately and important.

"My friends and I were taken into an adjoining room and dressed in long flowing robes. The sultan bared his chest and made a little slash in it with a Moro kris. Then he cut my chest. Taking a drop of blood from his chest he mixed it with a drop of my blood, and from then on I was his adopted son. I left that next week and I have never seen him since."

French Heel and Manhole Stop Veda the Sprinter

CHICAGO.—Idyllic, indeed, was the course of their true love until yestere'en. For Veda Lyons had surrendered her heart to Harry Holmes and Florence Murray's beat as one with that of James Morton. Ah, Cupid, ah—But the details. Veda's hero — Snagtooth Holmes, the boys called him—was a safeblower; so was Florence's king, whom she addressed as Big Jim. June 17 the West Cleveland (Ohio) bank was held up by four men. They obtained $50,000 in cash and $10,000 in Liberty bonds.

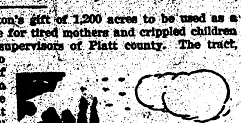


Since then Veda's Lochinvar has been apprehended. Likewise Florence's Don Juan has been pinched. They now languish in a Cleveland gaol. But the cash and the bonds have not been found. Wherefore, Detective Sergeants Thomas M. McFarland and John Carton and Capt. Michael Lee of the Fiftieth street station tiptoed up to a building at 5341 Grand boulevard. There, in the second floor flat, lived Flo and Veda.

Captain Lee tapped lightly on the door. No answer. But a window opened softly overhead. McFarland heard it. He slipped around to the side of the house. He remembered that Veda used to be a movie actress of the gymnast type. Pretty soon he descried two French heels emerging from a window. They were followed by two trim ankles. McFarland turned his head to see what time it was. In the interim the possessor of the heels emerged from the window and made her way swiftly to terra firma. Deftly making a girdle of her kirtle, so as not to impede her perambulation, she darted away. He gave chase. She hurdled the back fence. So did he. She hurdled another fence and dashed into another alley. Then one of her French heels became wedged in the interstices of a manhole cover.

Ill, Crippled and Weary Given a 1,200-Acre Farm

MONTICELLO, ILL.—Robert Allerton's gift of 1,200 acres to be used as a tuberculosis sanitarium and home for tired mothers and crippled children has been formally accepted by the supervisors of Platt county. The tract, which lies two and one-half miles to the northeast of Monticello, is one of the most fertile farms in this section of the state. It now is under intense cultivation, and it is expected that profits derived from its operation will make the institution self-supporting.



Mr. Allerton is giving the land to the county outright as a memorial to his father, the late Samuel Allerton of Chicago, and his friend, the late John Phalen.

The acceptance of the farm was made by a select committee of the board of supervisors, consisting of Roy H. Jones, William Hughes and J. M. Branch. The legal steps preparatory to putting the sanitarium into operation must be delayed until the regular meeting of the full board of supervisors.

A tax levy for the building of the sanitarium will be passed at the next meeting of the board of supervisors and funds will be available for the erection of the buildings early next spring.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Red Tape Citadel.

"Circumlocution office" is a description used by the great novelist, Charles Dickens, in his book, "Little Dorrit," to ridicule official delays and indirectness. It is described as the chief of "public departments in the art of perceiving how not to do it." The name has come into popular use as a synonym for governmental routine, "red tape," procrastination and delay in transacting public business.

"That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker"

NOTHING but sustained quality and unfailing effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn old colds and onrushing new ones, grippe, throat-tearing coughs, and croup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular and standard remedy it is today.

STATE BREVITIES

Luverne.—Lloyd, 6 year old son of Mrs. Emil Wise, died from injuries received when he fell into a tub of boiling water.

Hibbing.—The Hibbing village jail has been condemned and Chief of Police William Dwyer is taking women prisoners to the county jail.

St. Paul.—Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, made a series of patriotic addresses at homecoming celebrations for service men in various Minnesota towns.

Hibbing. — When James Monroe needed a piece of rope to tie some packages, he cut it from a flag pole at Stevenson and it cost him $10 in court before Judge Thomas Brady.

Fairmont.—Returned soldiers, sailors and marines of Martin county, with friends and relatives, gathered here to attend the homecoming celebration staged in honor of the returned service men.

Hibbing.—In order to give those wishing an opportunity to learn French or Spanish, the Hibbing board of education has made arrangements to offer night school courses in both languages.

Crookston.—The officers and directors of the Red River Valley Livestock association have unanimously decided to build a large addition to the livestock pavilion here owned by this association.

Thief River Falls.—Clarence Langer, aged 10, died, his skull having been fractured by an auto driven by Fred Fox, when the lad jumped off the railing of a bridge into the path of the machine, which, it is said, was moving slowly.

Luverne.—Unofficial returns show that the good roads bonds issue of $300,000 was carried in Rock county by nine votes, only two townships voting unfavorably. Five hundred and twenty-three voted in favor and 514 against. Only about half of the votes were cast in the county.

East Grand Forks.—Hugh Thompson, of Denver, Colo., formerly of East Grand Forks and at one time mayor, is now totally blind as the result of cataracts on his eyes, according to word received by his brother, Robert Thompson. He will undergo an operation soon in an effort to regain his sight, the message said.

Little Falls.—Delegates representing practically every county through which the Jefferson highway passes in Minnesota gathered here to discuss plans for the organization of a state Jefferson Highway association. S. M. Williams, president of the federal highway council of the United States, was one of the principal speakers.

Crosby.—Howard Nesheim and 6-year-old son killed by a Northern Pacific train near Detroit, Minn., a few days ago, formerly lived at the Northland mine location here. Nesheim quit his job as teamster at the Northland mine and shipped his household goods to a farm he had bought near Detroit. When the accident happened, he and his family were on their way to the farm by auto.

Nashwauk.—There is no evidence of a miner's strike here or on the Western Mesaba range. There is no diminution of mining activity except of course, conditions in transportation and manufacturing cast uncertainty on all operations and improvements. It is not believed that the strike will affect this section as it is thought that the question of union recognition would be first settled in the east at the steel mills.

Taylors Falls.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of "Uncle" John Daubney of this city, dean of the Minnesota pioneers, was brought to a close with a fitting celebration in honor of the aged man, who is now the only living Minnesotan who was 21 prior to May 11, 1858, when Minnesota was admitted as a state. The "party" took place at the opera house, where approximately 400 friends and relatives gathered.

East Grand Forks.—Edna Werner, aged 17, was killed on the Washington avenue bridge over the Red Lake river shortly after 9 o'clock at night. The body was carried to the bank of the river, some thirty feet below, and was discovered at 8 o'clock the next morning. The girl was apparently shot through the head. Two negroes have been arrested and charged with the crime. They have been taken to the Minneapolis jail for safe keeping. One of them is said to have confessed, laying the blame on the other one.

Winona.—Prominent educators from all parts of the northwest gathered here for the opening of the 23d annual convention of the Southeastern Minnesota Educational association. Among the speakers scheduled to address the convention were H. J. Johnson, superintendent of Rochester High schools; W. L. Clinton.—A prairie fire of unknown origin started on the south side of two vacant sections about six miles west of this place, burning nearly 700 tons of hay and causing a loss of more than $10,000. The two sections were nearly all hay land and an exceptionally good crop of hay had been harvested this season by various parties renting the land.

Stillwater.—George Noltmier pleaded guilty here to hunting in Newport township without a license and paid a fine of $13.50 and costs.

Moorhead.—Plans are under way for the big meeting and show of the Minnesota State Potato Growers' association to be held in Moorhead Nov. 5, 6 and 7.

St. Cloud.—During August there were eighty-six marriage licenses issued by Clerk of Court Dominik, exceeding the number issued a year ago by twenty-one.

Stillwater.—Major J. R. Kollinar has received inquiries from the Federal government asking for information regarding a landing field in this immediate vicinity for airplanes.

Brainerd.—Forms are being placed in position for the bowl at the water tower on the old depot site. Cement workers have been favored by wonderful weather, with no frosts.

Brainerd.—Carl Wheeler raised 3,000 bushels of Green Mountain potatoes on 15 acres of his farm near Brainerd and sold the whole lot, field run, to a Humbolt, Iowa, man at $1.30 a bushel f.o.b. Brainerd.

St. Paul.—More than 250 young women who prepared themselves to become nurses during the war have applied for state licenses, according to a report of the state board of examiners at the capitol.

Roseau.—Sealed proposals will be received by the school board of School District No. 82, Roseau county, until 2 p. m. Oct. 18, for the erection and completion of a school building on section 20. Moranville township.

St. Paul.—Arguments in the tests of the Minnesota prohibition enforcement law before the state supreme court are set for Nov. 26 in the November calendar of the court, issued by Herman Mueller, clerk. There are fifty-four cases to be heard during the month.

Virginia.—The local school enrollment has reached 3,308. Four hundred and seventy-seven students are enrolled in the senior high school, while in the junior high there are 430 students. The night school enrollment, 177, already exceeds that of 1918-1919.

Virginia.—Potatoes grown on the Mesaba range are in big demand in the Southwest, as evidenced by the amount being shipped from this section. W. H. Peterson company, Virginia, has been shipping on the average of twenty-five carloads per week. The company has sent carloads to points in Missouri and to various cities in Massachusetts, Connecticut and other Eastern states.

Mankato.—The Southern Minnesota Teachers' association, in session here, elected the following officers: President, Supt. G. W. Van Cleve, Le Sueur; vice president, Supt. N. F. Nashwauk. — Foreigners, especially those who have not taken out their first papers, are said to be leaving this part of the Mesaba range for their former homes in Europe at an alarming rate, several hundred having already gone since the war ended, 200 going one day last week. A desire to meet their kin again as well as to help rebuild Europe and make over the new countries formed after the great conflict contribute largely, it is claimed, to the desire to leave.

Virginia.—The case of Veronica Andresen, against Matt Lofbotka, hardware dealer, for $5,800 for injuries sustained on Nov. 18, 1918, on Fayal road, when she was struck by a Ford truck driven by the defendant, is being tried. She claims she was earning $117 a month as railroad clerk when injured.

Paynesville.—The fire hall here has been a fire menace, in a condemnation order issued from the state fire marshal's office. The hall is old and dilapidated, and, by adjoining the pumping station, increases the fire danger there. Inspector E. J. Heimbach declared.

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy and vigor.

Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy living tissue.

This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigor and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time.

Dr. Frederick Kolle, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test this substance should be sure to get the genuine Bitro-Phosphate.

Bad Sickness Caused by Acid-Stomach

If people only realized the health-destroying power of an acid-stomach—of the many kinds of sickness and misery it causes—of the liver it literally wrecks—they would guard against it as carefully as they do against a deadly plague. You know in an instant the first symptoms of acid-stomach—pains of indigestion; distressing, painful bloat; sour, gassy stomach; belching; food repeating; heartburn, etc. Whenever your stomach feels this way you should lose no time in putting it to rights. If you don't, serious consequences are almost sure to follow, such as intestinal fermentation, auto-intoxication, impairment of the entire nervous system, headache, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver; sometimes even catarrh of the stomach and intestinal ulcers and cancer.

If you are not feeling right, see if it isn't acid-stomach that is the cause of your ill health. Take EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy. EATONIC Tablets quickly and surely relieve the pain, bloat, belching, and heartburn that indicate acid-stomach. Make the stomach strong, clean and sweet. By keeping the stomach in healthy condition so that you can get full strength from your food, your general health steadily improves. Results are marvelously quick. Just try EATONIC and you will be as enthusiastic as the thousands who have used it and who say they never dreamed anything could bring such marvelous relief. So get a big 50-cent box of EATONIC from your druggist today. If not satisfactory return it and he will refund your money.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher Honestly advertised, Honestly placed before the public and from which he Honestly expects to receive his reward.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Fifty-five persons were examined, 3 were found to be actively tuberculous, 2 probably tuberculous, 14 were suffering from other serious illness and were sent to their family physicians for treatment, and 6 had abnormal lung conditions other than tuberculosis. Instructions in general care and prophylaxis were given to the adults examined, and a written record was sent to the parents of the children who reported alone for examination. NERVES GAVE OUT

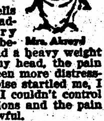
Serious Kidney Trouble Had Made Life Miserable, But Doan's Removed All the Trouble. Hasn't Suffered Since.



"I had such severe pains in my back," says Mrs. Albert Akroyd, 304 W. Indiana Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., "that they almost doubled me up. Many a day I could not do my housework and at every move it seemed as if my back would break in two. My feet and ankles swelled until I had to wear large-sized slippers and sometimes I couldn't stand up.

"I had dizzy spells and dreadful headaches and fiery flashes passed before my eyes. Had a heavy weight been resting on my head, the pain could not have been more distressing. The least noise startled me, I was so nervous. I couldn't control the kidney secretions and the pain in passage was awful.

Mrs. Akroyd

"It began to look as though my case was beyond the reach of medicine until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. The first box benefited me and four boxes cured all the troubles. I have had no further cause for complaint."

Sworn to before me,

These Balance Men.

I profess no special partiality for any critic, who, holding balance in hand, weighs eagerly whatsoever of learning comes to his counter. I question whether he is not taking less of the quality of the wares than of the fashion of his scales, never questioning their accuracy nor his own levity. Still it must be admitted that these balance men are not without their usefulness, being convenient for appraising market values.—A. Bronson Alcott.

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP.

In these days of unsettled weather look out for colds. Take every precaution against the dreaded influenza and at the first sneeze remember that Boschee's Syrup has been used for fifty-three years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis and colds, throat irritation and especially for lung troubles, giving the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning. Made in America and kept as a household panacea in the homes of thousands of families all over the civilized world. Try one bottle and accept no substitutes.—Adv.

Two negroes were carrying a heavy piece of timber. Both wanted to "boss the job."

"Lay it down here," ordered one.

"Who you-all a-talkin' to, man?" the other demanded. "Does you-all think you kin boss me around like dat?"

"Sure I kin," said the first darkey. "Mah name is Lew Tennant."

"Huh! dat's nothin'," responded the second son of the sunny South, "mah name is Sam Browne."

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

NEGLECTING THAT COLD OR COUGH?

Why, when Dr. King's New Discovery so promptly checks it

IT'S natural you don't want to be careless and let that old cold or cough drag on or that new attack develop seriously. Not when you can get such a proved successful remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery.

Cold, cough, grippe, croup does not resist this standard reliever very long. Its quality is as high today as it always has been—and it's been growing steadily in popularity for more than fifty years. 60c. and $1.20 a bottle at all druggists. Give it a trial.

Tardy Bowels, Inert Liver

They just won't let you put "pep" into your work or play. Sick headache comes from retaining waste matter and impurities in the body.

Feel right for anything—make the liver lively, the bowels function regularly, with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Smoothly yet positively they produce results that cleanse the system and make the liver and bowels respond to the demands of a strong, healthy body. Still 25c.—at all druggists. Try them tonight.

GARY IS STRONG FOR OPEN SHOP

Head of Steel Corporation, in Industrial Conference, Unwilling to Yield.

GOMPERS IN PROTEST

Position of Steel Magnate and Obduracy of Employers' Group Puts Avoidance of Final Deadlock in Doubt.

Washington, Oct. 21.—In his pronouncement before the national industrial conference, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, sitting as a representative of the public, yesterday reaffirmed his position that the steel strike "should not be arbitrated or compromised" and objected to action on that issue by the conference.

Mr. Gary restated his belief in the open shop and the right to determine terms of employment "between employe and employer." This statement brought from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and leader of the labor group in the conference, the charge that Mr. Gary was taking the attitude that "there is no other opinion in the matter."

Gompers Answers Gary.

Referring to Mr. Gary's request that the conference take no action in the steel strike, the labor leader declared that if the real industrial issues were to be brushed aside there was no purpose in continuing the conference.

While the clash of the leaders admittedly further removed the hope of an agreement on the dominant issue of collective bargaining, prospects of conciliation were considered still more remote when it was permitted to become known that the representatives of capital, after an all-day session, were steadfast in their refusal to accept the Russell-Endicott resolution for recognition of collective bargaining, which has been approved by the public and labor groups. The employers again went into session last night but the members of the group privately admitted that reconvening of the conference today probably would find them still in no mood to yield.

DONALDSON SECOND IN RACE

Other Cross-Country Contestants Nearing Their Final Goals.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—With the arrival in New York of Captain J. O. Donaldson on the second lap of his double transcontinental flight in the army air race, finishing second to Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, who completed the 5,402 mile voyage Saturday, Captain Lowell Smith last night stood the best chance of finishing third.

Captain Smith reached Reno, Nev., last evening, after flying from Cheyenne, and had only 356 miles to go to finish his flight at San Francisco.

Lieutenant Earle Manzelman, eastward bound, has reached Cleveland with 508 miles separating him from the finish at Mineola field. Captain Alexander Pearson, who had been delayed at North Platte, Neb., since Friday on account of a broken motor, reached Rock Island, Ill., 965 miles from New York.

Next among the six men still flying in the second lap was Lieutenant H. W. Sheridan, who landed at Sidney, Neb., from the west, with 1,608 miles to go. Lieutenant R. S. Worthington, westward bound, was in Chicago with a flight of 1,891 miles ahead of him, while Colonel J. L. Reynolds, leaving San Francisco during the day, had covered several hundred miles before darkness.

SEEKS MILLIONS OF ESTATE

New York Will Demand Inheritance Tax on Property of Astor, Deceased.

New York, Oct. 21.—The state of New York will attempt to collect an inheritance tax amounting to millions of dollars from the estate of William Waldorf Astor, who died Saturday in London.

The attempt will be fought by Charles A. Peabody, attorney for the Astor interests, who stated that Viscount Astor had transferred his entire property to a trust company, as trustee for his two sons, before his death.

Eugene M. Travis, state comptroller, declared that the one point on which hinged the effort to collect a tax was proof that Astor transferred his property "in anticipation of death."

New York Police Charge Service Men.

New York, Oct. 21.—Mounted police last night charged a crowd of 300 service men who had massed in front of the Lexington theatre to prevent production of German opera, upon which Mayor Hylan had placed an official ban. Dispersed by the police, the service men hastened to Times square, recruited nearly 1,000 civilians and returned to the theatre. One section of the line engaged in a flight with the police, laying down a barrage of bricks and stones.

"FIDDLE-FIT"

Keep Liver and Bowels Clean and Active with "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will have you feeling clear, rosy and as fit as a fiddle by morning. They work while you sleep.—Adv.

It is estimated by competent authorities that 80 per cent of the leather furnishing animals of Italy have been slaughtered for food purposes during the war. Some years are necessary to recoup these losses.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

BREAKS YOUR COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" instantly relieves stuffiness and distress

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all grippe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!—Adv.

TROTZKY REGIME SEEMS NEAR END

Only Anti-Red Disorganization Delays Result, Washington Believes.

FORCES NEAR CAPITAL

General Yudenitch, Though Not in Petrograd, Has Cavalry Forces Near—Week of Effort Sufficient, Official Thinks.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Official information received here summarizes the situation in Russia as follows:

"The final crash of the Trotzky-Lenine regime may be delayed some weeks, but it is inevitable."

Only the "inertia" of the anti-Bolshevik groups has permitted the Moscow government to remain alive beyond September 15, one official said. The Bolshevik organization, the reports say, has been so poor at the foundation—the confidence of the masses—that only a push was necessary to start the fall. This push has been lacking because there was no efficient co-operation between the anti-Red leaders and in the absence of initiative or ability on the part of them to start the forward movement.

General Denikine's advance toward Moscow, the campaign of attrition waged by the Northwest Russian volunteers and the stiffening of Admiral Kolchak and his Cossack allies, the reports say, have furnished more than the hoped for pressure.

"A continuation of this pressure by any one of these forces for one week will finish the matter," declares a military expert. "The British alone, through their assistance to the Northwestern group operating in the Esthonian sector, can turn the trick."

Petrograd Closely Invested.

London, Oct. 18.—Petrograd was so closely invested by the anti-Bolshevik forces, according to the latest official advices, that military experts expressed the belief that little short of a miracle could save the hard-pressed Bolsheviki. One newspaper dispatch reported General Yudenitch's cavalry in the capital. But there is no confirmation of this.

Neither had British official confirmation been received of the reported surrender of Kronstadt, although the war office states that the Esthonians Friday, operating in conjunction with Yudenitch, got within four miles of the Krasnaia Gorka, facing Kronstadt.

Coincident with these reports comes a vitriolic announcement by Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik war minister, referring to the anti-Bolshevik forces as "a pack of bourgeoise curs worrying the body of soviet Russia," and declaring that Petrograd will not fall.

In the meantime, in the south, General Denikine has been pursuing his successes. But he is meeting strenuous resistance in the Orel region, where fierce fighting is going on.

MAYNARD WINS AIR DERBY

Flying Parson Lands at Mineola at 1:50 Saturday Afternoon.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, victor in the army's air race across the continent and return, the greatest aviation endurance test of history, landed here at 1:50 p. m. Saturday.

Lieutenant Maynard flew the 142 miles of the last stage in his great flight from ocean to ocean and return at a speed of nearly two miles a minute. Several minutes before he landed his plane was visible flashing across the cloudless sky in the brilliant sunshine of a perfect autumn day.

The first persons to greet him as he stepped from his machine at the conclusion of his historic flight were his wife and two little girls, who rushed across the field amid the frantic cheering of the hundreds of spectators who were marshalled at a safe distance by special detail of soldiers.

The first words uttered by Lieutenant Maynard when he put his foot on mother earth again were a generous tribute to Sergeant N. Klein, his companion on the flight.

"Sergeant Klein deserves the greatest credit," said the lieutenant.

"It is all up to the lieutenant," promptly retorted the sergeant.

"The airplane is just as safe as the Brooklyn bridge," he said. "As long as a pilot keeps his head there is only one thing that can cause an accident and that is motor trouble. I got a lot of experience that I would not have got otherwise.

"I would rather fly after I leave the army if I could afford it. But just as soon as I get out I am going back into the ministry. I intended to get out this fall but could not get quarters in time at college, where I have two years to put in."

Held I. W. W. Had No Rights.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 18.—Declaring that a confessed I. W. W. had no standing in the courts of the United States, Civil Judge A. U. Hedding today set aside a verdict which had been returned by a jury in favor of a member of that organization. The man was U. H. Lane, a Finn, who was awarded $150 last week by a jury in Judge Hedding's court, which heard the evidence in Lane's suit against Gust Palhogios, whom he charged with assault and battery.

NO LONGER MISTRESS OF SEAS

Great Britain's Supremacy Passing Into New Hands, Says Naval Expert.

In Great Britain fear is being felt that the trident of the ocean is passing into new hands. This at least is the note sounded by Archibald Hurd, the naval expert, writing in the London Daily Telegraph.

"It is an arresting fact," he says, "that, judged by the strength of its battle squadrons in active commission, this country's supremacy has at least temporarily passed away.

"The United States has now in commission 31 battleships, and Washington plans to have 20 next year, the reduction in number being balanced by the increased power of some of the ships now approaching completion.

"We have in a similar state of readiness 22 battleships and five cruisers, and, in accordance with the order published with reference to reduction to a reserve basis, our instantly ready battle force will fall at an early date to 16 ships, 10 of them forming the Atlantic fleet and the other six cruising in the Mediterranean. It may be somewhat of an affront to our national pride that we should have reached this secondary position at sea."

Mr. Hurd consoles himself with the reflection that the British admiralty is saving money.

WANTED TO SEE THAT PIG

"Animal" Had a Strange Fascination for the Thirty Easterners of a Century Ago.

The present prohibition law is much more stringent than was the dry law of Massachusetts of 100 years ago, when the "Striped Pig" gained its fame. At that time the law read that liquor could not be secured, save in 15-gallon lots. That gave the "pig" its chance.

An enterprising resident attended the military muster on the Readville fair grounds, and established a side show. A banner before the tent flaunted the likeness of a red and black pig, which, a sign said, could be seen for four pence. Many men went in to see the strange animal, and returned many times. As the law did not prohibit the exhibitor from giving away liquor he gave each patron a generous glass of the forbidden drink from a large stock he had laid in. The "Striped Pig" became famous over night. Songs were written about the animal, a beverage was named after it, and a burlesque play in New York adopted the absurd title.

A Just Grievance.

"Why are you so prejudiced against Bertie?"

"He was a slacker during the war," said the discharged doughboy.

"It's true that he didn't go to France, but he claims he kept the home fires burning."

"So he did, the lounge lizard! He kept 'em burning under a chafing dish presided over by the girl I left behind me."

Only a Few.

"Everybody knows about it. Some people take her part and some take her husband's part."

"And I presume there are a few eccentric individuals who mind their own business."

They had just completed the fifth dance—three couples and some thirty-odd girls—and they had strolled out to the balcony to rest. He, just out of high school, and she out of high school also.

"So," he said, beginning the conversation, "you are from Indiana?"

"You're mighty right," she answered. "Hoosier girl."

He stuttered and stammered. "Why—er—really—" he said, "that is, I don't know—I mean I haven't decided yet, who."

St. Paul.—The relief board created by the last Legislature will administer its first aid to flood sufferers of Marshall, Roseau, Beltrami and Koochiching counties, it was decided at a meeting of the board. More than 300 families are said to require aid.

Middle River.—Rev. R. Drysdale was formally installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church here last week. Rev. R. L. Barackman of Thief River Falls, preached the sermon of the evening. Rev. Mr. Kelley of Red Lake Falls delivered the charge to the pastor.

Shelvin.—George Daniels, a Bagley business man, recently sold clover seed from his farm three miles east of here, amounting to $4,000, which was raised from about nineteen acres. The total amount of seed raised was 150 bushels selling at 42 cents a pound or $25.20 a bushel.

Pipestone.—A special meeting of the Pipestone county farm bureau has been called, when the subject of joining the state federation of farm bureaus will come up for consideration. H. J. Farmer of Airlie, a member of the state organization committee, and F. F. Norwood, of Balaton, are to speak on the federation subject.

Coleraine.—Clayton Elisen, who has been running a barber shop and pool room at Calumet since returning from war, where he served in the Three Hundred and Forty-eighth infantry, is in a local hospital with a shattered thigh bone sustained while duck hunting at Twin Lakes, when a gun used by his companion, Harold Childs, Calumet steam shovel man, exploded.

Minneapolis.—Only a shift of wind saved the entire summer colony at Groveland, Lake Minnetonka, from destruction, when flames, fanned by a gale, burned 21 cottages and the auditorium and drove hundreds of residents from their homes. Buildings and furniture valued at more than $100,000 were destroyed before Minneapolis firemen checked the blaze at 3.30 a. m. Six persons were injured.

Ely.—The Zenith, Pioneer, Sibley and North and South Chandler mines, closed through the activities of I. W. W. agitators, are still shut down and as some have boarded up there is no immediate prospect of resumption. The strikers hold meetings that appear to accomplish little and occasionally new members are secured but nothing is done towards bringing about a resumption of work. Local stores have gone on a cash basis, it is announced, and predictions of a hard winter, for some people are common.

Northfield.—Decision to launch a $50,000 campaign in Minnesota for the building of an institutional church to replace the present Olivet Baptist church building in Minneapolis, the amount to be raised within the next three weeks, featured the closing day of the 60th annual Minnesota state convention, which adjourned here. Election of officers for the year resulted as follows: F. K. Pratt, Minneapolis, president; Rev. Dr. Frank Peterson, Minneapolis; D. D. Smith, St. Paul, and Mrs. George E. Young, Minneapolis, vice presidents; C. J. Brown, Minneapolis, recording secretary; J. A. Ridgway, Minneapolis, treasurer; trustees for three years, Rev. M. Berglund, Cambridge; Mrs. A. F. Gale, F. Runyan, and Mrs. J. H. O. Brandenburg, St. Paul.

Fairmont.—County Attorney C. P. Cooper is mystified by the receipt of a letter from Sherburne, this county, "W. M. Marks," declaring that "Marks" forged a check at Ceylon for which offense Frank Carey of Sherburne was arrested and held to the grand jury. "Marks" stated that he had returned the money and defied the authorities to catch him.

Rochester.—Reports of committees and election of officers marked the closing day of the annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Winona district of the Methodist church.

St. Paul.—State Board of Health officials attached importance to the fining of a Winona physician, the first conviction under the state law requiring reports of all cases of veneral disease in this state.

Blue Earth.—Victor Basset, 27, was shot and killed while hunting at Rice Lake, ten miles north of Blue Earth. He was in a boat with a companion when the butt of Basset's gun striking the bottom of the boat was discharged. A hole was torn in his head and he fell into the lake. He leaves a widow and four children.

Moorhead.—At the meeting of the Minnesota Potato Growers' association here Nov. 5, 6, and 7, W. I. Nolan of Minneapolis, speaker of the lower house of the Minnesota legislature; Dean R. W. Thatcher, of Minnesota Agricultural college, and N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture of Minnesota, will be among the speakers.

Minneapolis.—Snow fell in many points in Minnesota Friday night. At Luverne, residents awoke to find snow on the ground, and at 8 o'clock flakes were falling thick in Mankato, but melting as they fell. In Pipestone a fall of two inches was reported with threats of a real storm. Duck hunters were reported leaving Pipestone in "flocks."

Clearwater. — Wilbur F. Shattuck, one of the incorporators of the Clearwater Mercantile company, died at his farm near here. He was an active promoter of the first rural mail service and of the telephone system of this community, and was vice president of the telephone concern since its organization. He was born in Franklin county, New York, in 1857, and came to Minnesota with his parents when he was 10.

St. Paul.—Protests against the pardoning of Joseph W. Bragdon, Minneapolis business man, who was convicted of offense against young girls in 1916, poured in at the capitol to the pardon board. Club women from the Twin Cities brought messages from other women's clubs in the state to the governor's office objecting to clemency for "Uncle Ned," as Bragdon was known by several of the girls who appeared as witnesses against him at his trial.

Crookston.—Little additional light has been uncovered in the murder of Edna Werner, 17-year-old East Grand Forks girl, who is alleged to have been slain by Jim Smith, and Tom Thomas, negroes of Grand Forks. Smith still maintains that Thomas did the actual killing, while Thomas maintains that he was in a dice game the night of the shooting, according to Polk county authorities. It is said that Thomas' statement is corroborated by other Grand Forks negroes.

Minneapolis — Thirty-six Holstein cattle exhibited by Minnesota breeders at the national dairy show in Chicago last week captured 28 prizes, seven of which were firsts. Minnesota Guernseys at the show were not numerous, but made up in quality what they lacked in quantity. This is the report brought back by W. A. McKerrow, livestock specialist of the extension division of the Minnesota college of agriculture, who acted as one of the judges at the big show.

Luverne.—Damages in the sum of $3,250 were awarded James York of Rock Rapids, Iowa, against his brother, Mathew J. York, of this county, in district court here in a suit for personal damages. The plaintiff in the action claims that during an altercation with his brother in the fall of 1917, the defendant struck him over the eye causing an injury which later resulted in the loss of sight of one eye. The suit was for $10,000, and the jury returned a verdict of $3,000, adding $250 for medical bills.

Pipestone.—Because of conflicting stories of Theodore Mattsick, aged 13 years, and Leslie Binnebose, 9 years of age, the only eyewitnesses of the death of Joseph Fritz, 17-year-old boy, near here, the coroner's jury has returned a verdict of "accidental." Young Frits received a charge of shot in the head and died instantly. Matsick said he had layed his gun on the ground and that the Binnebose boy had picked it up and shot Fritz. One of the shot grazed Matsick's lower lip, he said. He exhibited a wound which he declared was inflicted by the shot. The Binnebose boy declared that he was not near the scene and that he did not see either Fritz or Matsick on Saturday, the day of shooting. The jury decided that death was accidental and it is probable that no further action will be taken.

East Grand Forks.—Men who were the most active in bringing about the arrest of the two negroes charged with her murder were honorary pallbearers at the funeral here of Miss Edna Werner of East Grand Forks, who was shot. The honorary pallbearers were: O. K. Bolstad, Sheriff of Polk county; J. Montague, state's attorney, Polk county; C. Nelson, coroner, Polk county; C. C. Stewart, sheriff of Grand Forks County, N. D.; Chief of Police Odin Overby, Grand Forks; Chief of Police Tugh Quigley, East Grand Forks; B. J. Warren and Casey Gunderson. The last two furnished the information which resulted in the arrest of James Smith and Tom Thomas, the two negroes who were taken to St. Paul to prevent mob violence.

Rochester.—W. A. Bolcom, superintendent of the Bemidji public schools, has resigned to accept a similar position as head of the Rochester school system, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Superintendent H. A. Johnson, now assistant business manager of the Mayo clinic here.

Menahga.—Olof Junus, the Hillview merchant, has threshed 115 bushels of clover seed from less than 20 acres of land of his farm just south of town that will bring him the neat sum of $1,875 and will net him more than what is made on 160 acres in the Iowa corn belt.

VOTE OPPOSES TREATY CHANGE

Shantung Amendment to Peace Pact Is Rejected by U. S. Senate.

COUNT STANDS 55-35

Six Proposed Changes Are Swept Away by Action of Solons, Only Three Remaining to Be Acted Upon.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The long debated Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, presented by Senator Lodge, and approved by the foreign relations committee, finally was rejected in the senate with a majority of an even score against it.

In the vote of 35 to 55, 14 Republicans swung over to the pro-treaty forces, while three Democrats lined up with those supporting the proposal. Of the six senators absent, two Republicans were put on record as in favor of the amendment, and one Republican and three Democrats as opposing it.

The roll call, which came at the end of another six and a half hours of sharp debate, in reality swept away six amendments instead of one, each change in the treaty having been numbered separately by the committee in its decision to strike out the word "Japan" and substitute the word "China" throughout the sections relating to the province of Shantung. By unanimous consent, however, the six changes were debated and voted against as one.

Only three of the committee's 45 amendments now remain to be acted on by the senate, 36 previously having been rejected. Of those remaining, one relates to American representation on the reparations commission, and two to equalization of voting power in the league of nations assembly.

LABOR'S PLEA WINS TEST

Collective Bargaining Favorably Reported by Conference Committee.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Recognition of the right of collective bargaining came to the floor of the National Industrial conference, and was debated for three hours, but a vote was impossible as the conference had to adjourn under its rules. Virtual notice was given by members of the labor group that should the representatives of capital succeed in their attempt to send the resolution back to the committee of fifteen, the labor delegation would withdraw.

The collective bargaining resolution providing for an indorsement of the right of wage earners to negotiate with employers through "representatives of their own choosing" was reported to the conference with the approval of all of the public and labor delegates in the committee, but opposed by capital representatives.

VOTES TO EXTEND ALIEN BAR

House Favors Restrictions to Continue Another Year.

Washington, Oct. 17.—With government reports showing that alient radicals are agitating strikes and disorders in all parts of the country, the house voted overwhelmingly to continue for one year after conclusions of peace the wartime ban against the entrance into the United States of undesirable foreigners.

The house action was taken after the state department had let it be known that consular reports showed large numbers of radicals already collected at foreign ports waiting to come to the United States at the conclusion of peace expecting wartime regulations to be lifted.

PRESIDENT RESTING WELL

Col. House and Samuel Gompers Also Reported Improving.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Latest reports from the sick room of three American leaders who have succumbed to the strain of the last few months are as follows:

Woodrow Wilson—General condition unofficially said to be better. He is resting well after glandular trouble, from which he suffered for two days, was relieved.

Samuel Gompers—At Mr. Gomper's home it was stated he rested easily during the night. He was anxious to get up.

Colonel House—Physicians reported Mr. House "doing very well."

Tokio, Oct. 16.—It is announced by the War office that a brigade of infantry and a battalion of engineers from the Thirteenth division will be dispatched to Siberia and to North Manchuria.

World's Largest Check.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Secretary Glass has put his name to a check for $2,648,309,171.53, said to have been the largest ever drawn. It was made payable to the treasurer of the United States, but did not involve a transfer of that amount of money. It was made necessary to account for redemption of certificates of indebtedness and other obligations in June. The largest check ever drawn on the treasury for outgoing money was $200,000,000 which was lent to Great Britain.

An Abuse.

Cornelius Vanderbilt said at a dinner party in Newport:

"A number of Fifth avenue firms have ceased to give free samples of dress materials to their lady patrons.

"It appears," Mr. Vanderbilt added "that certain ultra-fashionable lady patrons would secure a free sample of dress material and make an evening gown of it."

Times Have Changed.

It is said that the post office in Philadelphia gets $15,000 a day less as the result of going from the three-cent back to the two-cent rate for letters.

That happens to be exactly the sum which Benjamin Franklin was able to turn over to Great Britain in annual revenues from the post offices in the colonies in 1774, after he had put in four years of hard work in creating a postal system.

Praises Japanese Music.

The song which Japanese workmen sing when raising the roof tree of a new building ranks with the purest music in the world, according to Henry Eichheim, a Boston composer, who is spending a year in Japan studying oriental music, says the New York Evening Post. He said in Tokyo: "The orientals have evolved by the process of elimination a perfect philosophy, a perfect art and a perfect music. If we could think as orientals think we would realize the absolute simplicity and perfection of their art life." As he goes about Japan he takes notes on the primitive music of laborers and on the sound of temple bells, with their beautiful overtones, with the view of making them themes for his compositions.

Business Picking Up There.

During the 15-year period, 1904 to 1918, inclusive, only four American vessels called at Sourabaya, of an aggregate net tonnage of about 6,500. Seven American ships, aggregating over 15,000 tons net, called at Sourabaya for discharge and loading of cargo during the first six months of 1919.

Not "Romantical."

Little Susan's auntie writes love stories occasionally for magazines. The other day she did a mystery one and told the family about it. Little Susan passed the news on to her little friend. "Yes, it was a story all right," her mother heard her say, "but it wasn't a romantical one — not nearly so romantical as most she writes are."

Grateful Colored Man Promised to Go If Services Should Be Needed.

"The race riots in Chicago remind me of the same sort of excitements that ran around Atlanta when I was living there as a young man," said George McDaniel of Metro, Cal., recently.

"My brother and I were both medicos—owners of smooth and virgin sheepskins. We shared the same office and lunched at the same counter. In the midst of wild confusion, one day, a wounded negro rushed into our office and begged for protection. This was freely granted, for we had no race prejudices, in spite of our Southern upbringing. We also poured salve on the negro's bruises.

"'Yo' shuah been good to me,' said the grateful darkey, turning to my brother—who, by the way, is now practicing in Los Angeles—'an' I'll 'member it, doc. Say, if ye' ever kills anybody mah friends and I'll get you out if we have to bust the jail to do it.'"—Los Angeles Times.

Third Red Cross Roll Call.

The Drive for Red Cross membership is Nov. 2 to 11, and all Marshall County people are expected to be members of the American Red Cross. $15,000,000 must be provided for war relief obligations, but here we are only asked to give one dollar each. An excellent magazine is offered at the very low rate of $1,00 also. Do you know of any one who cannot buy a Red Cross membership? Try buying one for them. It is a nice gift.

When the canvassers arrive please cheer them on. Their voluntary efforts are for you and your country. If you know of any shortage of workers in your locality, offer your services to help, that will be much appreciated.

I shall be glad to have published the names of the first districts, townships, or towns finishing their work.

The clergy will speak for us, the press is helping us, our president is backing us, our governor is with us, and the American Legion stand behind us. Won't You join?

A Proclamation

State of Minnesota
Executive Department

The American Red Cross is planning to make November second Red Cross Sunday and the week of November third to eleventh, Red Cross Week.

We should at this time show thru contributions, our appreciation of the wonderful work done by this efficient organization, both at home and abroad. Although the World War is over, there is much work yet to be done. There are starving and suffering people in the war-torn countries to be cared for. There are many problems of public health, relief of poverty, preparedness for possible calamities, and the like to be solved in this country. No organization can perform this kind of service as capably as the American Red Cross.

Permit me, therefore, to urge that on Red Cross Sunday special attention be given at all public meetings in churches and elsewhere to the [illegible] of funds for this purpose and that the people of Minnesota co-operate in every possible manner in the campaign for Red Cross Week.

J. A. A. Burnquist, Governor.

Scouting Education for Girls

Holt is now one of the 515 cities and towns in the United States to have a Girl Scout Organization. Twenty girls between the ages of ten and eighteen organized September 25 under the leadership of Miss [illegible] R. Lawrence.

The Girl Scouts is a similar organization to the Boy Scouts. Mrs. Juliette Low and Miss Agnes Baden-Powell founded the Girl Scout movement in 1912 with the inspiration of Sir Robert Baden-Powell who organised the Boy Scouts of America. The ultimate aim of scouting is good citizenship. It is based on the fundamental qualities of all girlhood and knows no dividing line of race, rank or religion. Scouting is inspiring, constructive, definite, practical and is fun. The active Girl Scout of to-day is the vigorous, clear-eyed, well-informed, civic leader of tomorrow. Every activity [illegible] members of a group, responsible to a larger group, to the home, to the community, and to the nation.

The product of their troop garden is sent to the community kitchen; the result of their canning work is given to the school lunch committee; the jams which they make from berries picked in the woods last summer are intrusted to the district nurse for distribution.

Dean Russell, of Teachers College, from his first-hand experience as chairman of the National Executive Board of Girl Scouts writes of the program as follows:

"Scouting differs from all other work for girls that I know about in that its primary aim is good citizenship. It seeks to develop physical strength, right posture, and grace of movement because these are essential to good health; to dignify the daily duties of the household because the home is made by woman, to care for the sick and protect the young children because these are woman's rights, to do good unto others whenever occasion offers, because this is the law of love; and to train its members to keep mentally awake and morally straight because this is the way to grow. Other organizations, however, may claim as much. But the glory of scouting is that it makes these aims merely means to ends. The supreme end is service to God and Country."

The Girl Scouts offer their services to the community and will gladly care for the children of parents wishing to attend Parent-Teacher Association meetings if provisions are made for their lodging or safe return home.

DRY LAW VETOED, HOUSE PUTS OVER

Law Providing Enforcement Means for Prohibition Is Disapproved by President.

REPASSED 176 TO 55

Chief Executive Vetoed Because of Wartime Provisions No Longer Needed, He, Said—Senate to Vote Again on Measure.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson unexpectedly vetoed the prohibition enforcement bill yesterday and within three hours the house had repassed it over his veto by a vote of 176 to 55. The total vote was barely more than a majority of the entire membership.

Dry leaders in the senate immediately began laying plans to repass the bill there. They expect to ask unanimous consent for its consideration today, claiming enough votes to put it through. They expect to act on it by Wednesday at the latest.

The president refused to sign the bill because it included the enforcement of war-time prohibition.

The objects of war-time prohibition, the president said in his veto, had been satisfied, and "sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity of its repeal."

It would not be difficult, the president held, for congress to deal separately with the two issues.

Veto Is Unexpected.

The veto hit congress like a crack of lightning. The house, getting on its feet again, deserted its leaders, who wanted to defer consideration until Thursday so as to round up all the dry members. But the drys swept into the chamber and showed there was an overwhelming sentiment among them to give the government ample weapons for dealing with the liquor traffic, now outlawed throughout the land.

GOVERNMENT BACKS WILSON

President's Demand for Delay of Coal Strike Will Be Fully Supported.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The government is standing pat on President Wilson's ultimatum to the soft coal miners of the country that the strike ordered for November 1 must not take place.

The whole federal machinery, already set up for the emergency, is ready to deal with conditions in the mining fields unless the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting at Indianapolis Wednesday, votes to rescind the strike order.

In the face of statements by John L. Lewis, president of the miners' organization, that it is too late now to stop the walkout, there is a strong belief in official quarters that the strike will at least be postponed. This hope of averting industrial disaster is based largely on the feeling that sentiment throughout the country is overwhelmingly for peace, regardless of how the people may view the reported grievances of the miners.

MINERS' CHIEFS TO CONFER

President Lewis Calls Meeting of Coal Miners' Leaders at Indianapolis.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—Confronted by the demand of President Wilson that the strike call, which would stop production of soft coal in the United States, be rescinded, John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, last night by telegraph invited 25 district presidents of coal producing states and members of the miners' scale committee to meet with the international executive board at 10 a. m., Wednesday, to consider the strike issue.

"The statement of President Wilson opposing the strike has thus far had no results so far as we are concerned," Lewis said. No word reached him, he stated, from government sources during the day.

Lewis expects to reach Indianapolis at 2:40 p. m., where he will make preparations for the meeting Wednesday of the international executive board. He said he expected no developments prior to this conference.

TRAINMEN VOTE TO STRIKE

Fourteen Lodges in Chicago District Would Insist on Demands.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Fourteen lodges of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, representing 12,000 men in the Chicago switching district, voted at a secret meeting Sunday to strike Thursday unless their wage demands are met in full. A vote on the proposition is in progress in the other lodges of the 180,000 trainmen throughout the country.

Senate Defeats Johnson Amendment.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The Johnson amendment to the peace treaty, designed to equalize American and British voting strength in the league of nations, was rejected in the senate by a vote of 38 to 40. Two Democrats joined the Republicans supporting the amendment and nine Republicans voted with the Democrats against it. Of eighteen senators absent or paired, four Republicans and two Democrats were recorded as favoring it and twelve Democrats as opposing it.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Membership Campaign Opens November 2d, Closes 11th.

President Wilson, in Message Prepared Before Illness, Makes Appeal for Generous Response.

Washington, D. C.—In a request to the people of the United States to generously respond to the Third Red Cross Roll Call the following message was dictated by President Wilson before his present illness:

As president of the United States and as president of the American Red Cross I recommend and urge a generous response to the Third Red Cross Roll Call, which opens on November the second with the observance of Red Cross Sunday and appropriately closes on November the eleventh, the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by a patriotic desire to render service to their country and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuance of service to our soldiers and sailors, who look to it for many things, and a transference to the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war.

Stress on Membership.

It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate public health and social service.

It is in the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely intends to exert upon community action a stimulating and co-ordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies.

The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The congress of the United States has imposed upon the Red Cross a continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the secretary of war to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary foodstuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe as a result of the war.

Program Deserves Support.

To finance these operations, to conclude work which was begun during the war, and to carry out some comparatively inexpensive constructive plans for assisting peoples in eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money small in comparison with the gifts poured into its treasury by our generous people during the war.

Both the greater enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peace-time membership will exceed rather than fall below its impressive war membership.

WOODROW WILSON.

Averse to Borrowing Trouble.

Jimmy has been rather unfortunate lately in the way of minor accidents, and his mother has grown quite cautious about his taking chances. One day he came in and wanted to ride his tricycle down to his auntie's house. His mother hesitated before consenting to his request, and Jimmy cut in with the comforting assurance, "Maybe there won't be a thing happen, mother, so don't make a worry for yourself till it does."

Success.

Life is indefinite—a bundle of contradictions. We men, with our ideas, strive to give it a particular shape by melting it into a particular mold—into the definiteness of success. All the world conquerors, from Alexander down to the American millionaires—mold themselves into a sword or mint, and thus find that distinct image of themselves which is the source of their success.—Rabindranath Tagore.

Wee Bessie on being told that she would have to eat condensed milk on her oatmeal exclaimed, "I wish that old condensed cow would die."—Boston Transcript.

Fertilizers in the Netherlands.

One source of the demand for fertilizers in the Netherlands that one is apt to overlook is the fairly extensive reclamation of waste land. The process of dyking and draining that has won large sections of the country from the sea and its culmination in the project to drain the greater part of the Zuider Zee are well known.

WILSON WARNS AGAINST STRIKE

Characterizing Miners' Walkout as Unlawful, Says Law Will Be Enforced.

CABINET HAS BUSY DAY

Failure of Secretary of Labor to Heal Breach in Coal Industry Impels President to Resort to Peremptory Demand.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Holding the impending coal strike to be not only unjustifiable, but also unlawful, President Wilson in a statement issued Saturday night with the support of his entire cabinet called on the coal miners of the nation, both union officers and members, to rescind the strike order effective November 1.

The president declined to enter into the merits of the controversy between the miners and operators, but emphatically declared that the strike, which he characterized as the most far-reaching proposal in the nation's history to restrict production and distribution of all necessaries of life, had apparently been ordered without a vote of the individual miners concerned. For this reason, the president served definite notice "that the law will be enforced and the means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business."

Situation Is Discussed.

The president's statement was issued after his cabinet had gone over the entire situation with Secretary Wilson of the labor department whose efforts to bring miners and operators together in negotiations had failed.

The president in his statement reviewed the steps leading up to the strike call, including the Cleveland convention of the United Mine Workers of America one month ago, at which the demands for a 30-hour week and a 60 per cent increase in wages were formulated. The war in itself, the president asserted, was still a fact, peace negotiations still in suspense and troops still being transported.

Because of these factors and the added consideration that victims of the strike would be among the rich and the poor of the nation, the president said the proposed walkout could only be considered as unlawful and as the nation's executive, he would use the means at his disposal to prevent any stoppage of work.

While not suggested in the president's warning, it is believed probable that United States troops would be used if necessary, to enforce the demand that the strike be not pressed.

LABOR HEADS ISSUE THREAT

Representative of Machinists' Union Says Direct Action May Be Used.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Organized labor intends to preserve the right to strike, officials of the American Federation of Labor said in warning that passage in the congress of the anti-strike legislation proposed in the pending railroad bill would result in an immediate general walkout over the country.

William H. Walker, of the International Association of Machinists, said "direct action" might be resorted to if all other means of advancing the interests of the unions failed. He announced that with the passage of the anti-strike legislation he would order immediately a vote on the strike of the 350,000 members of his association and predicted that the heads of the 112 international unions in the American Federation of Labor would take similar action. Other union officials agreed with this view.

Officials of the four railroad brotherhoods conferred with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. It has been proposed that the co-operation of the brotherhoods be enlisted in the general fight now being waged for recognition of the principles of collective bargaining and representation by the chosen spokesman of labor.

MEXICO TO HOLD ELECTION

Convention for Nomination of President Called in Mexico City.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—A call for the first political convention in the Mexican presidential campaign has been issued by Jose I. Novelo, president of the liberal constitutionalist party, which is supporting General Alvaro Obregon for president. The convention is to be held in Mexico City January 1 and will be participated in by at least seventy groups, representing different shades of political belief, according to the formal notice of convocation.

Compensation Law Upheld.

Bismarck, Oct. 25.—Two important decisions, one involving the constitutionality of the workmen's compensation act, and the other the right of the workmen's compensation bureau to disburse its own funds without the consent of the state auditor, have been handed down by the supreme court. Voting four to one in each case, the court held the law constitutional and that the bureau has the right to draw its own warrants since the money is a trust fund which is not public money.

A Big Tale.

The magazine called Our Navy is never frightened by facts when fiction is just as good. From it we take a story which sets forth the estimate the marines had of the mud "over there."

"I was walking along the road," says the marine, "and happened to see a soldier's hat lying there. I kicked the hat and discovered there was a head under it and a live man under the head. So I pulled the man out. He then informed me that he was on horseback, so both of us dug down in the mud and pulled the horse out. The horse was good and hungry by that time, so we dug down farther and hauled up a bale of hay the horse had been eating."

Committee Quizzes Radicals of Pedagogues' Union

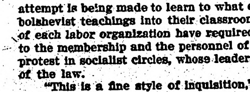
NEW YORK.—The School Teachers' union is the latest organization to receive the attention of the attorney general in connection with the Lusk legislative investigation into bolshevism, begun more than four months ago. Deputy Attorney General Berger and Archibald E. Stevenson, counsel for the Lusk committee, have for a month held hearings under the peace and safety act of 1917, passed to enable the state to deal with pro-Germans.

These hearings had as an object uncovering the extent to which bolshevism has spread in unions which were designated as "radical" at open hearings of the Lusk committee. While the teachers' union was not so designated, it became known that one of its officers was among those examined. The examination is said to have disclosed that the union contains many teachers of socialistic tendencies, and an attempt is being made to learn to what extent the members are trying to carry bolshevist teachings into their classrooms. The subpoenas calling the officers of each labor organization have required the production of all records relating to the membership and the personnel of the officers. The examinations aroused protest in socialist circles, whose leaders assert they are contrary to the spirit of the law.

"This is a fine style of inquisition," said S. John Block, attorney for the Rand School of Social Science, "and is without the slightest justification. We believe the law under which the inquiry is held is unconstitutional, but rather than take the trouble of going to court, we have told the union leaders to appear and give such harmless information as is asked. As a matter of fact, there is nothing those who have been summoned have any desire to conceal from the public."

Murder Inquiry Methods in Chicago Called Joke

CHICAGO.—"The present methods of conducting murder investigations are neither more nor less than a joke," declared Coroner's Physician Joseph Springer. The physician's remarks followed a conference with Chief of Detectives James Mooney, who has been ordered by Chief Garrity to present a plan for a homicide squad to investigate all Chicago murders. After declaring himself heartily in favor of the homicide-squad-plan, the physician, who has had 24 years' experience in the coroner's office, discussed police methods.



SURE
I GUESS ALL TH' CLUES ARE DESTROYED - SO WE CAN NOW TELEPHONE TH' CORONER-

"What happens when John Jones is murdered?" he asked. "The police are called, the wagon men arrive on the scene. 'Oh, there's been a murder!' they exclaim. Then they grab the body and hurry it to an undertaking establishment. There they strip off the clothes and phone for the coroner.

"The result? There are none in many cases, which accounts in part for Chicago's 40 unsolved murder cases. The location of the body, the location of the gun, the blood and the finger and footprints, all of which are essentials in the solution of the murder, are often made mysteries by the present methods of investigation."

Chief Mooney and Doctor Springer have practically agreed on their recommendations to Chief Garrity. The squad, if the chief approves of it, will be made up of two or three picked detectives, an assistant state's attorney, the commanding officer of the district in which the murder was committed, a finger-print expert, and a physician from the coroner's office.

Despite special motor squads and the dispatching of detectives to the scenes of murders, surroundings which would have proved good evidence have been so changed by the time experts arrive that only poor clues remain for them to direct their attention.

Chicago the past year has experienced its record for unsolved murders, of which it probably has had more than any other city. Many have been lost sight of because of apparent poor system of the police department, and the

Philadelphia Police Have Nine-Year-Old Tartar

PHILADELPHIA.—Police of this city are once more ahead in the happy little game of hide and seek they are playing with John Pope, the nine-year-old North Camac street criminal, who has been keeping them on the jump for the last two years. They grabbed John in the middle of another burglary a few days ago.

HE'S A BAD ONE, YER HONOR

This is how it goes: John breaks into the jewelry store of Kennedy & Bros., 112 South Thirteenth street. He escapes when detectives, answering the burglar alarm, find they haven't the right key.

Police find John trying to sell a gold watch for a few cents in Market street. John grins at the judge, who threatens dire things are coming to him at the house of detention. John decides he will not take any chances. So he crawls through a couple of transoms at the house over doors separating him from liberty. A police "flier" is sent to all stations, with no result.

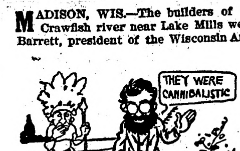
The boy was caught robbing the cigar store and poolroom of Michael Mish, 124 North Thirteenth street.

For the eighth time in two years he is in the clutches of the police. He knows how to use an alias, and says he "doesn't care a bit" for the police.

John made his entrance into the Mish store through a skylight, after climbing the fire escape of an adjoining building. He slid through a small opening, ran merrily down the stairs, and helped himself to $2.34 from the cash drawer, after filling his pockets with cigarettes. And just then in walked Mish, on a trip to his store, and saw John flop suddenly behind a counter. "I don't smoke. I took the cigarettes for some big fellows," said John.

Archaeologist Thinks Ancient Indians Cannibals

MADISON, WIS.—The builders of the famous Indian earthworks on the Crawfish river near Lake Mills were cannibalistic, according to Dr. S. A. Barrett, president of the Wisconsin Archaeological society. During the last two months the Aztalan earth-works inclosure has been subjected to investigations and excavations by the Milwaukee museum, of which Doctor Barrett is the head. Although the grounds have been plowed upward of 70 years the outline of the earthworks is still distinct.



The fabled city of Aztalan was first discovered in 1836 and surveyed in 1837 by N. E. Hyer. The city was named Aztalan by Hyer, because, according to Humbolt, the Aztecs had a tradition that their ancestors came from the North, and the possibility that the newly discovered remains might have been built by them, suggested the name. When the first survey was made the inclosure covered about 18 acres. The remains of the city were inclosed in a wall of earth and adobe bricks which was 631 feet long on the north, 1,419 feet on the west and 705 feet on the south side, making the total length of the wall 2,750 feet. It was from one to five feet high.

An Ideal Angler

By E. B. B. REESOR

(Copyright.)

When I stepped onto the John Jo Traddles' veranda that Saturday afternoon I looked around in amazement.

Mrs. John Jo was there; but—where were the merry guests who, I had been assured, would be with her to make a week in a never-before-heard-of summer place somehow endurable?

A feeling of resentment overcame me as I took Mrs. Traddles' proffered hand, and, in the unfeeling way that gay society allows spoiled favorites to speak their inmost minds, I responded to her cordial greeting:

"Has no one else come? Whatever have you asked me for?"

This was not of the manner in which I had been brought up, but practice makes perfect, and after two years of constant study I found that I could be as insolently rude in a gushing way as any of the fashionables who for some freak had taken me up and treated me as one of themselves.

"We have one charming guest, Trixie, dear," Mrs. John Jo assured me. "He is out with John Jo looking over the fishing prospects."

And then, as she led me to a lovely suite of rooms: "I hope you will not be dreadfully disappointed; but, for reasons, no one else came."

"Whom did you ask?" I questioned as I released my hatpins.

"Let me see. There was the Golightlys—they were five deep in acceptances for this week, and when lots were drawn they fell to someone else."

"Gone to the Parrots," I said—really that glass was a delight; I was pirouetting round to get a better glimpse of myself—"Glad I did not go. And who else?"

"Freddy Pun. He had some moonlight entanglements. Made more proposals than he intended—so he confided to John Jo."

"Yes," I said knowingly—I didn't believe I would have to touch my hair—"Had to go to the mountains to get his brain clear. I was the one in the canoe. He does it very nicely, though."

"And then there were the Will Wisps—Monty Bach and that little girl who plays his accompaniments; and—let me see—but I'll show you the list. There come John Jo and Mr. Godwin. I must go."

"Godwin!" I exclaimed, arresting her flight. "What Godwin?"

"Geoffrey Godwin," she answered, in a shamefaced sort of way. "Really I could not help it. He has simply fascinated John Jo, who said he needed a holiday and must come when the fish were biting. Do be nice to him, Trixie Troutout, for, to tell you the truth, he is an ideal man."

She brought out the "man" just as if it were all in capitals, and he were something very great and big.

"Of all people to ask the up-to-date Trixie to meet," I muttered to myself. "The Beatrice of early years might have had something in common, but now—"

However, it was too late; and one of the Traddles' contracted-for maids, busying herself about trunks, claimed my attention for dress consideration.

Dinner passed off pleasantly enough. John Jo Traddles can adapt himself to individuals and circumstances indiscriminately; and as for his wife, she is a past mistress in bringing diametrically opposites together.

The Rev. Geoffrey Godwin had heard of me, so he was pleased to inform me directly grace was spoken. I did not tell him that I heard of him often and often—I rather liked his voice.

Once it was that old cook of grandmother's told about jelly and things I had conveyed surreptitiously to her—one must be decent to people who have been kind to them—I don't care what anyone says to the contrary.

And then that silly, little, fussy muff of a seamstress went and told him of the night I helped her with the gown that "had to be finished for Sunday."

But it is always the way. One's sins against really good society invariably hunt you up and expose you before other people's hired help. I turned it off as best I could; told the reverend that I had understood the confessional was sacred, and made other cutting remarks in the frivolous manner which I had acquired, and resented Mrs. John Jo's "You dear old Beatrice of a real woman!"

Well, I was in for it. Not a frolic some footstep sounded upon the veranda that night; nor did a motor even hesitate near by. Truly I was entangled, but I made up my mind I would never be caught in that way again.

Sunday was desperate. Poured with rain—blew furies. I thought of a long, tiresome day in the house—not a card, no billiards; neither Freddies nor ragtimes. Well, there are three hundred and some odd days to a year, and it is not absolutely necessary to be flighty upon every one of them. At breakfast—fancy me down at a nine o'clock Sunday breakfast—Mr. Traddles said right out before the reverend: "Mr. Godwin is going to take the service at St. Saints. The auto will be waiting for us at the door at precisely ten-thirty."

It was like a sentence from childhood. In prompt obedience I went and changed my dress.

A lot of people, all together, with their minds on hymns and prayer books, does bring out something comfortable in you; and rather after the midday dinner, as a natural result, the Traddles hunted out sacred music, and we sang and sang and sang, then read and discussed improvements in time-servers and sang again.

Some way I felt really good and pleasant and loving all round—kind of in short frocks and hair ribbons. But as John Jo, with a distinct stoop of piety between his shoulders, led the reverend toward the library to look up the heathen in books my fingers strayed irresponsibly to dancing jig-notes that could not fail to get into his toes and shake the Sunday humps out before he got there.

In this mood of good will toward everybody I thought of letters I owed to people who really deserved them, and made myself comfortable in kimono and unbound hair before seating myself at the desk that my room boasted.

Then that wretched cat of the Traddles began.

I felt sure it was shut outside a window somewhere, and, going through the main hall, I floundered down a darksome, alley-like place, hunting for the thing. The sound seemed close beside me and as I opened a door out scudded the cat.

What insane notion made me step into the room I don't know, but no sooner had I passed the threshold than a wind from somewhere banged the door behind me. When I turned to find it it was gone. I ran my hand along the wall to find the light button, but that was lost too.

I shouted and banged and reshouted, but no one appeared. So I closed the window and tried to make a bee line for the door.

With an "Allah be praised!" I turned the handle and walked boldly forth. I caught hold of something—portieres, I supposed, but they were queer of shape and seemed to be hung on wires. Clothes, by all that was unpleasant, and—men's clothes at that. They seemed to stretch out and clutch at me.

Hastily I began again to hunt for the right door. I found a handle, but it belonged to a bureau. Then I knocked against something furry—some of the Traddles' bugs and caterpillars, I knew (they have a mania for horrors); and I shrieked as they fell about me, and imagined them crawling round from the upset box. More things tumbled over; more crawly things crept after me.

In agony I reached high up out of their way, and something bit my arm. I yelled and yelled, and the thing bit harder the more I tried to get away and then came bouncing down upon me. I could feel the blood trickling down my arm; but, not satisfied, it gripped and dragged at me, then fell to the floor with a thud and wriggled around my feet.

I cried again in terror and gingerly put down my hand to push it away, but it would not budge and my arm was tearing. I knocked against something—a bed, and sank convulsed beside it. My last hour had come, and with fervency I began to say my prayers; and, in their midst, I gained strength to try and rid myself of the awful something. It was hard and stringy; that reassured me. I touched my arm. Yes, it was a hook, caught deep in the flesh. I had knocked a fishing contrivance down bodily and it was having its revenge.

I could not get it out, so began with the litany, went on and on as far as "love, honor and obey;" and there I halted, could get no further, and kept muttering the words to myself that I had vowed would never pass my lips.

Then I heard a sound—someone was coming. I tried to shout, but it was of no use. "Love, honor and obey" was all I could cry out.

The door was pushed noisily open—far away from any direction I had even thought of, and a person almost danced into the room to the tune of that dancing-jig, stumbled over the fishline and said words inappropriate to the day.

The jerk hurt excruciatingly, but I began to laugh. I laughed and laughed, and could not stop. Then, without the slightest warning, it turned into a howl of a sob, and down came the deluge—great, big, uncontrollable sobs that shook me and shook the room, and made the whole earth convulse.

Light was turned on, and there was the reverend leaning over me, patting my head with "Poor little girlie" sayings while he disengaged the hook.

Somehow I was unbound and led away.

The aftermath of the sickening thumpings of a two-days' headache is the nearest to heaven that we mortals get.

I lay quietly in a hammock on the upstairs piazza—no one near me—with the loveliest, the kindest, the most glorious thoughts chasing each other in a delicious abandon through my brain, and twinkling with good will and blessings about my eyes and mouth—when along came the reverend and caught them.

I was so peacefully happy in his arms (he had appropriated me also), and I drank in the loveliness of his words and the comfort of his soothing.

I never knew just what happened; whether we were married before tea was served or whether it took place the following week.

One thing is certain—Geoffrey Godwin, my Geoffrey Godwin—the idealest man in the world, who lets me be as silly as I like with soup and sewing—says that his wedding gift to me is the pretty place he has bought down near the Traddles', where the fishing is so good that a line will go off on its own hook and catch—

But—it will not do to repeat all that the reverend says.

APPETIZING DELICACIES CAN BE MADE FROM VARIOUS PRODUCTS OF THE HOME ORCHARD

Apple Butter in Days Gone By Was Always Made in a Copper Kettle Out of Doors.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If you have more peaches, pears, or plums than you can use fresh or care to can or dry, by all means utilize some of them for fruit butters. The apples which will not keep fresh for winter use may be kept in the form of apple butter if the family can be restrained from eating all of it before cold weather arrives. With food so scarce and high this year none should be allowed to go to waste. Fruit butters not only will utilize the surplus, but will make also additional delicacies which will add variety to any meal during the winter.

On many farms apple butter time is an enjoyable season long looked forward to and not soon forgotten. The delicious odors of the spicy butter when they fill the kitchen, tend to make the one who is entrusted with keeping the butter from burning forget the long and wearisome stirring. Fruit butter requires time and labor but it is well worth the effort and the reward comes when the delicious product is served during the winter.

The familiar sight, some years ago, of apple butter being made in a copper kettle hung over an out-of-door fire is not common in these days. The modern housewife, however, has not lost the art though she makes her fruit butter on the kitchen range.

An enamel-lined, aluminum or other good preserving kettle, a colander, wire sieve, potato masher, measuring cups, knives and pans, are all the utensils that are needed in the making of fruit butter.

Apple Butter Made With Cider.

Almost any apple will make good apple butter, but that which is of good quality and will cook well is most satisfactory. There is no better way to use good apples and the sound portions of windfalls, wormy, and bruised apples, than to make them into butter. Varieties of coarse texture make a rather coarse product unless it is put through a colander or a wire sieve. Such varieties ought to be made into apple sauce and be put through a colander or wire sieve before adding them to the boiled cider. Sometimes sweet apples are used with tart apples, the usual proportion being one-third of the former to two-thirds of the latter. Overripe apples are not desirable, but if they must be used, a little vinegar should be added to give some snap to the butter. The amount of vinegar required must be determined by the taste. Only fresh, sweet cider or commercial sterilized cider should be used. This should be boiled down to about half its original quantity. If boiled cider is canned and bottled hot, in sterilized containers it will be available for future use in making apple butter.

The peeled and sliced apples may be cooked in the boiled cider to make the butter in one operation or they may be made first into apple sauce which is then cooked in the boiled cider. The cooking should be continued until the cider and the apples do not separate and the butter when cold is as thick as good apple sauce. Determine the thickness at frequent intervals by cooling small portions. It usually takes about equal quantities of sweet cider and peeled and ripe apples to make butter of the right consistency. In other words, five gallons of sweet cider should be boiled down to two and a half gallons and five gallons of peeled and sliced apples should be added to it either uncooked or as apple sauce.

Apple Butter Essentials.

Two of the essentials of making good apple butter are long, slow cooking (four to six hours) and constant stirring. If sugar is used, add it after the cooking of the cider and apples is about two-thirds done. The usual proportion is about a pound of either white or brown sugar per gallon of butter. Spice it according to taste; about one-half a teaspoonful of each of brown cinnamon, cloves, and allspice being used to each gallon. These are stirred into it when the cooking is finished.

While still boiling hot, pack in hot sterilized jars, glasses, or hermetically-sealed stone jars with tightly-fitting covers. Process in steam by placing the containers, filled and with tops on, in a vessel fitted with a false bottom and deep enough to hold them. Pour a little water into the container, put on a cover to hold in the steam, and set over the fire. Begin to count time when the steam starts to escape. After five minutes' processing for quart or small size, ten minutes for half-gallon size, and 15 minutes for gallon size, take the containers out to cool. Do not disturb the covers until the apple butter is to be used.

Apple Butter With Grape Juice.

If a grape flavor is desired in apple butter, it may be obtained by the use of grape juice. To each gallon of peeled and sliced apples, cooked into sauce, and strained, one pint of grape juice, one cupful of brown sugar, and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt should be added. These should cook slowly and be stirred often for two hours, or until of the desired thickness, then stir in one teaspoonful of cinnamon, and pack hot in hot containers and process as directed for other apple butter.

Pear Butter.

Pear butter is made like the apple butter without cider. The pears should be ripe enough to cook up well. After being peeled they are cored and sliced, put in a preserving kettle with a little water, and cooked slowly until soft. The sugar is then added, one cupful to one quart of sliced pears, and cooking is continued very slowly, with frequent stirring, for one and a half to two hours. The butter should then be smooth and of the consistency of thick apple sauce. A little lemon juice, with ginger, cinnamon, or other spices to taste, should be well stirred into the hot butter. Pack while hot in hot sterilized containers and process with steam as directed for apple butter.

Peach Butter.

Put the peaches in a wire basket, and dip them in boiling water a few seconds until the skin slips—test by raising the fruit out of the water and rubbing the skin between the fingers. Dip the peaches into cold water, peel, and pit them. Well-ripened freestone varieties are best. Mash the pulp, and cook it in its own juice without adding water. If it is rather coarse, put it through a colander or coarse wire sieve to make a butter of fine texture. To each measure of pulp add a half-measure of sugar, cook slowly, and stir frequently until the product is of the desired thickness. The meats of several pits may be cooked either whole or sliced in each gallon of butter. While still hot, pack in sterilized jars or glasses with tight-fitting tops and process like apple butter or cover with hot paraffin.

Garfield Butter.

Take two-thirds plums and one-third peaches. Pare, pit, and slice the peaches, and if the plums are freestones remove the pits. Cook the peaches and plums together slowly until soft and rub through a colander or coarse sieve. If the plums are clingstones the pits are removed by this operation. To each measure of pulp add three-fourths of a measure of sugar, cook slowly, and stir often until of the right thickness. Pack hot and process like peach butter.

Complete directions for making all kinds of fruit butters with tested recipes may be had by writing the department of agriculture for Farmers' Bulletin 900, "Home-made Fruit Butters."

Says Moon Has No Effect

Illinois Weather Prognosticator Ridicules Old Theories

H. M. Willis, official weather prognosticator at Springfield, Ill., throws a harpoon into the pet theory that the moon has a great deal to do with the vegetable, animal and human life growth. It is all bunk, he says. Harken to him:

"We have calls every day seeking the phase of the moon from people who are contemplating planting something or who believe it has some effect on human life. The moon has no effect on human life on the earth's surface. The only effect it has on conditions on the earth's surface is that it draws the tides. Under proper conditions of the sky, the only way the moon can affect human life is to furnish moonlight for young couples."

Post Offices Liken Unto Miniature Barnyards as Farmers Ship by Mail

Cat calls and barks of penned-up canines will mingle with the crowing of fowls in the country post offices in the near future. Live things of noisy age may now be sent by rural parcels post as a result of the new ruling of of the postmaster general, extending the service which heretofore has rejected live things except germs in sealed bottles, and one-day-old chicks.

The new service is "confined exclusively to rural motor vehicle routes and country motor express routes and then only when delivery can be effected on the route where mailed or on a connecting rural motor vehicle truck route or country motor express route."

Interpretation of this ruling does not permit the receiving of fowls and live animals for shipment between cities where delivery by train and numerous handlings would be necessitated. Delivery must be made within 48 hours. Fowls and animals must be carefully and securely crated.

How Men Should Dress at the Morning Wedding

The essential dress for the bridegroom at the morning wedding consists of a black or dark blue frock coat, a waistcoat that matches the frock coat or a white pique one, gray trousers, white linen, a white silk or satin tie, pearl tie pin, gray suede gloves, patent leather shoes and a top hat. The best man generally follows the groom's example. Ushers usually agree among themselves to dress as nearly alike as possible. They should be fully gloved while serving in the aisles. Tuxedo coats should never be worn in the morning. Plain dark business suits may be worn by any male guests not of the wedding party who wish to be informal.

THE OLD MELODEON

There, like some ancient visitant
  Of bygone days it stands;
Its yellow keys a welcoming
  Extending to the hands.
No fingers wander o'er the keys,
  No feet its pedals press;
'Reft of the soul of music there
  It waits some hand's caress.

It leans against the chamber wall
  Like some old broken form,
Too weak to stand alone without
  Assistance in the storm.
Its bellows gaping wide is hung
  With cobwebs to the floor;
The dust upon its yellow keys
  Is strewing thickly o'er.

As in the stillness of the night
  The ancient thing it grieves,
And plaints in echo to the soft,
  Low whispering of the leaves,
Then from the lonely chamber float
  Sweet tones of "Beulah Land;"
A spirit song from spirit throat
  Chorused by spirit band.

But when the light of morning falls
  In glory everywhere
The dust upon the yellow keys
  Is strewing thickly there.
From Beulah land the player came
  To spell away the gloom;
And, passing, left behind the same
  Sweet lavender perfume.

Weeds and Flowers Serve as Nature's Barometers

Chickweed is an excellent thing by which to get a forecast of the weather. When the flower expands fully we are not to expect rain for several hours. Should it continue in that state no rain will disturb the summer's day. When it half conceals its miniature flower the day is generally showery; but if it entirely shuts up, or veils the white flower with its green mantle, it is a sign of a very wet day. The different species of trefoil always contract their leaves at the approach of a storm. So certainly does this take place that these plants have acquired the name of the nurseryman's barometer. The tulip and several of the compound yellow flowers all close before rain. There is also a species of wood sorrel which doubles its leaves before a storm. The banksia, or mountain ebony, capia, and other sensitive plants observe the same habits.

Fertilizing Explosives Bring Excellent Results

Two experimenters have endeavored to apply the lesson they learned during the war. They were struck by the fact that vegetation grew in profusion in shell holes, and when they returned home gave much thought to the subject. As a result they have designed a fertilizing cartridge which blasts a cavity about a yard deep. After the soil has absorbed the gases produced by the explosion, a tree is planted in the hole. Working with cherry trees, the experimenters have recorded a gain of 100 per cent.

Modern Forestry Turns Against Word "Woodlot" in Professional Lingo

Forestry is a new science, comparatively speaking, and so it is not surprising that its leading exponents have just reached the point of perfecting the language in which its work is expressed. Every profession has its peculiar vocabulary; in some cases the "lingo" is the most impressive feature of the profession.

One of the first steps taken in elevating and dignifying the language of forestry is the banishment of the good old word "woodlot," says the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. It was more in use in New England than anywhere else and possessed a distinct meaning there that was well understood by the natives. One forestry expert says that "woodlot" does not mean anything in sections of the country where a tract of forest may embrace thousands of acres. "We have nothing in the West," says Professor Cheney of the University of Minnesota, "that corresponds to this eastern expression."

It is quite possible, however, that the real secret of the offensiveness of the word to professional ears is better explained by State Forester Holmes of North Carolina, who boldly declares that "to me 'woodlot forestry' sounds perfectly ridiculous." So it has been decreed that "woodlot" cannot be tolerated in learned society. Removing it from the common speech of New England is another matter.

Cream four tablespoonfuls of butter, add the juice of a small lemon very slowly, mixing well a teaspoonful of minced parsley salt and cayenne to taste. Heap in the shell of half a lemon and serve with the fish.

Supreme of Chicken.

Run through a meat chopper the breast of a large chicken, beat into it, one at a time, three eggs; season well with salt and paprika, a speck of nutmeg and one and one-third cupfuls of thick cream. Place in buttered molds and steam for thirty minutes or until firm. Serve with a white sauce made with chicken stock and cream, adding two beaten egg yolks.

Mock Duck.

An inexpensive dish (or less expensive) of lamb can be made by buying the shoulder instead of the leg. Have the bone removed and make a mock duck of the meat. Cook in a moderate oven, basting occasionally. Serve garnished with parsley.

Scalloped Meat.

Lamb, mutton or chicken make nice scalloped dishes. Chop fine, removing all gristle and bone; season to taste. Have ready as much bread crumbs as meat. Put into a buttered baking dish a layer of meat, then a layer of crumbs, bits of finely minced onion and a few spoonfuls of gravy or stock to moisten. When the dish is full, sprinkle with milk and bake half an hour in a moderate oven. Serve with a plain lettuce salad with boiled or French dressing.

Bolshevism Is Not New Excepting in the Name

There is nothing new in bolshevism excepting the name, writes Gustavus Myers, in the Review. The essentials of it, he says, were spread broadcast in the United States 90 years ago. Industrial communism, free and easy marriage and divorce, children the property of the state, abolition of religious instruction, etc., were all proposed here during the years 1826-34. The bolshevism of that time, like that of today, became an acute public question with astonishing suddenness, but the approaches were gradual and could be traced to the French revolution and the anti-religious campaign headed by Thomas Paine. Then came Robert Dale Owen, with his gospel of perfect social and industrial equity.

Silk Reeling Discovered in China Year 1700 B. C.

In the garden of Hoang-Ti, emperor of China in 1700 B. C., Si-Ling-Chi, the empress, gathered the cocoons of the silkworm and discovered a way to reel the silk. From this she learned to weave marvelous, shimmering fabrics of silk. For many years the secret of the source of silk was guarded with the death penalty by the emperors of China. However, this mysterious cloth was exported to many countries. And even to this day Si-Ling-Chi is worshiped in China as the "Goddess of the Silkworms."

Fire the Great Destroyer

Fire not only destroys about $300,000,000 worth of property annually in the United States, but 15,000 people are burned to death and 50,000 are injured by fire each year. Most of the victims are women and children.

It is an established fact that most fires are preventable and due to the careless habits of the American people. Europe, by being careful, has an annual per capita fire loss of less than 30 cents. Ours was $2.63 last year.

More than half our fires are in homes. The majority of these occur because of defective furnaces and flues, faulty electric wiring, careless smokers, open lights, thoughtless use of electric appliances, rubbish, careless use of matches, gasoline and kerosene, and other easily avoidable causes.

Therefore the following suggestions are made:

Make sure your heating plant and appurtenances are in safe condition before starting fire for winter. Paper flue-stops court disaster. Place ashes in metal cans, never in wooden receptacles.

Examine electric wiring for worn insulation and defects in installation.

Protect open lights with globes.

Clean up rubbish, especially in basements, attics and back yards, and keep clean.

Use gasoline, if you must use it, only with greatest care and never near a fire. The vapor from one gallon of gasoline has an explosive force equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

Never fill kerosene lamps while lighted. Never use kerosene to start fires.

Keep matches in metal boxes and away from children. Never discard a match until the last spark is out. Place used matches in metal receptacles. Never throw them on the floor or in waste baskets.

Oil mops and oily rags ignite from spontaneous combustion. Keep them in closed metal receptacles.

Never leave an electric iron, or other electric heating device, even for a minute, without disconnecting at the socket.

Careless smokers cause thousands of fires, costing many lives. Cigaret butts and cigar stubs should be extinguished before being discarded and care should be used in depositing pipe ashes.

Observance of these and other simple precautions will do much to reduce our fire waste. It is the duty of every person to assume a sense of personal responsibility to prevent fires and to be careful at all times and in all places under conditions likely to cause fires.

HINTS FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

Those who have green crops such as wheat, oats, rye and barley for their fowls are fortunate. There will be times during the winter when these crops will do the fowls much good.

But where for any reason no green crops are available oats may be sprouted to provide green feed for the fowls.

A good way to do this is to get a few boxes that may be easily handled. Fill the boxes with garden loam soil and put in the barn, cellar or outhouse where there is ventilation. Moisten the soil and sow oats in these boxes. The seed may be planted very thick, as it will be best to set the box out and let the chickens have access to them as soon as the plants are an inch or more above the ground. Another sowing may then be made in the box.

In this way the fowls may have enough green food to give them a good appetite and keep them in fine health and vigor. It is a very difficult matter to keep hens in good laying condition during the winter without green food. The best way is to sow green crops. If this has not been done, then oats may be sprouted as has been suggested.

Ingredients Required for Home-Made Apple Butter

Apple butter is generally made with cider, but this can be left out if desired. Four quarts of sterilized sweet cider should be boiled down to two quarts. To this add four quarts of apples peeled and cut into small pieces. If the texture of the apples is coarse they should be boiled and put through a strainer before being added to the cider. Boil this mixture until the cider does not separate from the pulp. When two-thirds done add one pound of sugar. One-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, allspice and cloves may be added. Pour into sterilized jars and steam for five minutes.

Wasps Are Wise and Vain; Know All About Aviation; Keen on Air Resistance

Who would be a wasp? The bees get all the credit! But our affection for bees is largely cupboard love, due to the honey they provide us with, and the wasp has virtues which few people trouble to recognize.

Wasps are wise, declares a writer in London Answers. It is doubtful whether any action in a beehive is more sagacious than the action of a wasp when he has killed a bluebottle, and is faced with the problem of carrying him home. He carefully cuts off the legs and wings, leaving the body of its victim quite compact.

Why does he do this? To save weight when flying home with the booty? Not at all. The wasp knows all about aviation, and he gets rid of the legs and wings of the bluebottle to reduce air resistance!

Wasps are strong as well as wise. They can carry a weight equaling 46 bluebottles. They are also more friendly than one imagines, rarely stinging without good cause. But they are vain, for yellow and black are their favorite colors. And, when all is said and done, they are a nuisance!

Students of Flight of Birds Give Gull Title of "Master of the Air"

A student of the flight of birds is inclined to give the title of "master of the air" to the gull, which often follows a ship at sea and lives on the scraps thrown from the galley. No other bird, he says, performs such seemingly impossible feats of flight or looks so completely at home in the air. Sometimes, by the perfect adjustment of their bodies, the gulls will poise on outstretched wings and appear to defy the laws of gravitation by remaining perfectly motionless; or, again, they may be seen moving without a single visible effort, straight against a gale of wind. Their flight is altogether different from that of the Caspian tern, which is as graceful as it is unusual. "Unlike that of any other birds, whether of sea or land," says some one who has watched the terns, "it reminds one a little of the high, apparently uncertain flight of a large-winged butterfly; and it is in perfect harmony with the idea of a being where life is spent amid wind and mist and fluctuating wave."

There Are 246 Bones and 527 Muscles From Tip to Toes of the Human Body

Do you know how many bones you have? Probably not; for we have such little curiosity about ourselves and our composition that we generally know very little beyond what we can see, remarks a writer in London Answers.

You possess 246 bones from tip to toe. They are distributed about you as follows:

Your ears have 6 (3) each. Your head has 8. Your face has 14 and your teeth comprise 32. Your backbone, with its base, has 26 bones and so has the area of your expansive chest.

Your legs and feet have 62, your arms and hands 64.

The grand total is reached by the addition of 8 small movable bones.

There are more muscles in your body than bones. They number 527.

If you are curious for further knowledge regarding your bones you will be interested to know their composition. They include phosphate of lime, carbonate of lime, phosphate of magnesium fluoride of lime, chloride of sodium, cartilage and blood vessels. The next time you say "feel it in your bones," you might remember this!

Scarcity of Coal and to Save Expense Should Be Kept in Mind This Winter

From all reports, coal will be as hard to get this winter as it was last. For this reason, as well as for the reason of cutting down expenses, it should be known in every household how coal may be saved. Following the old adage that "it's never too early to begin," this information may be acquired right now as a sort of stitch in time.

In the first place, keep your stove, flues, pots and pans free from soot. Anything soot covered requires a long time to heat.

If the fireplace in your kitchen is very large, fill it in with firebricks, clay balls or lumps of chalk.

Mix coal dust with clay and sawdust, form into balls, let dry a few days and use for banking up the kitchen fire. Burn coke and coal mixed.

Heat the oven once or twice a week only, not daily. Once it is heated it is just as easy to make three or four cakes or pies as one.

SAFETY FIRST— 5,000 LIVES SAVED

U·S·BUREAU·OF·MINES

PHOTOS BY U.S. BUREAU OF MINES

EQUIPPED FOR RESCUE

RESCUE PARTY WITH BUREAU APPARATUS

THE new laboratories of the interior department's bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, costing more than a million dollars, were dedicated recently with appropriate ceremonies in which the mining and metallurgical industries of the country took part. The program of three days was arranged by the bureau of mines in co-operation with the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce.

One of the biggest features of these ceremonies was the nation-wide first-aid and mine-rescue contest held during the last two days. About 100 teams from the coal and metal mining companies throughout the country entered the lists. The last day there was a holiday for the miners of the Pittsburgh district and thousands witnessed the awarding of the prizes to the winners.

In addition to the usual prizes for these contests, the Joseph A. Holmes Safety association, an organization created in 1916 in honor of the memory of the first director for the purpose of giving recognition to persons who had performed meritorious and heroic deeds in the saving of human life in the mining and metallurgical industry, or who had developed some safety appliance to further the saving of life in those industries, made its first awards. Dr. Van H. Manning, president of the association, announced the list of recipients of diplomas and medals and recited the deeds for which they were presented. The committee on awards had recommended that 12 gold medals be awarded, all for heroic deeds performed by miners in coal and metal mines in efforts to save the lives of fellow workmen.

Speaking of the accident conditions generally in the mining industries and of the outlook, Dr. Van H. Manning, director of the bureau of mines, says:

"I am often asked, 'What has the bureau of mines accomplished in saving of human life in the mines?' It is difficult to say, as there are so many varying factors involved. I may say, however, that if you consider the prevailing average death rate in the mines for a period of years before the federal government took up this work and compare it with the average fatality rate since the bureau was created, you will find that 5,000 less miners have been killed. In other words, had the old fatality rate been maintained through the last few years 5,000 more men would have lost their lives. It must also be remembered that the situation was gradually becoming worse, and who knows that there might not have been 7,000 or 8,000 lives lost? We also have to take into consideration that, thanks to the many improvements in life-saving methods and the greater understandings of the causes of accidents, this saving of 5,000 human beings will be increased as the years roll on until we can show several times 5,000 lives saved.

"It is indeed a glorious record of human progress. Five thousand lives saved! Perhaps 2,000 less widows! At least 3,000 children who still have fathers. Take away all the other manifold duties of the bureau of mines and this one accomplishment is worthy of all its costs to the government since its establishment and for years to come.

"I do not mean that the bureau of mines deserves all the credit. It was, however, the agency that picked up the isolated, sporadic efforts of a few well-meaning men and companies and welded them into a great national movement for greater safety in the mines. It at once gained the co-operation of the miners, the mine operators, the state mine inspectors and others, and without these the bureau of mines would have been almost helpless.

"It was in 1911 that the bureau held under its auspices a great national first-aid and mine-rescue meet at Pittsburgh, which was attended by 22,000 miners. The slogan of that meet was 'safety first,' and that was the time that the slogan, since internationally famous, first became a national battle cry for this humanitarian movement. Not only was 'safety first' immediately adopted by the mining companies, but it was also taken up by the railroads and by industrial plants of the country. Safety organizations appeared everywhere. Determined campaigns were fought to reduce the number of deaths and injuries. In quite a number of mills and factories and railroads there was a reduction in the fatalities of more than 50 per cent. Further improvement was slower, but the original gains were made and added to.

"Just how many thousands of lives were saved may never be known, for there are no statistics that adequately cover industrial accidents, but we do know that the bureau of mines and its associated agencies started a movement that not only spread throughout the entire United States, but it also reached the other countries of the world with an equally good effect. And it all started with the modest mine safety meet we held in Pittsburgh in 1911.

"Since that time the bureau has gone its way, improving its methods, interesting the miner in his own safety and that of his fellow man; doing what it could to point out to the owners of the mines the dangerous places that could be avoided and making recommendations as the result of its experiments looking toward still greater safety.

"Today the bureau of mines maintains in every mining field of the country a mine rescue car, fully equipped with modern life-saving apparatus, that responds to disasters and assists in the rescue work. In the meanwhile it visits the mines in its district and gives the miners training in both mine rescue and first aid to the injured. As a result there are several thousand miners throughout the country who are expert in the use of the oxygen mine rescue apparatus and who are familiar with the most modern methods of life saving. Besides, more than 50,000 miners understand first-aid-to-the-injured work as well as a regular hospital corps. All of these men have been trained by the bureau of mines.

"Happily, great mine disasters have been becoming fewer and fewer as the men come to a better understanding of the causes. Nevertheless they do happen, and one thing that the bureau has preached is that upon such a visitation there shall be a more orderly and systematic method of rescue work, for it has been demonstrated that life can be saved in devious ways. The bureau has endeavored to tell the miners that in a great catastrophe it is often better for entombed miners to barricade themselves in, keeping the poisonous gases out of their working place and waiting for relief. In this manner 42 men entombed in a mine for four days were recently rescued, the men even being able to walk out of the mine.

"We are not content to rest on the progress made. There are now more than a million miners in the United States, and each year more than 3,000 are killed in accidents and a quarter of a million injured. Taking the cold, business calculation of the state compensation commissions and eliminating the suffering and sorrow of 3,000 killed each year, the economic loss from these fatalities alone is $12,000,000 a year, for these commissions are paying an average of $4,000 for every life lost. This is a terrible toll for one industry to pay each year. It is hard for us to realize that out of every mining camp of 1,000 men, three of them are sure to lose their lives within 12 months.

"Mining will always be an extra hazardous business. But the question is, 'Have we reached the irreducible minimum?' No, I think not. It is my belief that we can cut down the present fatality rates full one-half; that we can save each 1,500 of the 3,000 killed.

"The causes of these fatal accidents are much better known. Operators and miners are giving much more thought to the dangers of the mines, and the wide-awake among them have installed more modern safety devices. Through the experimental mine of the bureau mining men and miners both have a keener understanding of the dangers of coal dust and have learned how to combat them.

"In the mining industry a human life is much more valuable than ever before, and I believe that can be said of all the industries. This is seen in the great advances in safety work, the millions of dollars spent in safety devices and the humanitarian work of the different state compensation commissions. The day of the ambulance chaser and those ghouls that preyed upon the widow beset with grief over the loss of her husband have happily passed away. The state now steps in and sees that the widow and the orphan are protected, and that alone is worth all the fight that we have endeavored to make. I do not say that the bureau of mines is responsible for these state compensations, but I do know that these commissions came after the mining industry started its great human-saving drive and that the disclosures of the conditions in mining furnished the states with facts that favored the establishment of these commissions.

"Cut the mine fatalities in half."

The dedication ceremonies brought to Pittsburgh for the three days the most prominent mining and metallurgical men of the nation, not alone those interested in the safety-first movement, but also those connected with the allied industries that use the products of the mines.

The bureau of mines, in co-operation with the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, arranged an elaborate program of events calling for the presence of high government and state government officials besides the leading men of mining throught the country. The first morning the new laboratories at 4800 Forbes street were dedicated, Dr. Van H. Manning, director of the bureau, presiding.

After invocation by Dr. S. B. McCormick, chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, there was an address of welcome by E. V. Babcock, mayor of Pittsburgh. Responses were made by Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior; Horace B. Winchell, president of the American Institute of Mining and Electrical Engineers; John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, and William C. Sproul, governor of Pennsylvania. The formal ceremony of handing over the keys of the building by Secretary Lane to Director Manning followed.

After luncheon at the bureau of mines buildings the guests boarded special trains to the experimental mine of the bureau of mines at Bruceton, Pa., 14 miles from Pittsburgh. Upon arrival there a prearranged explosion of coal dust took place in the experimental mine as a demonstration to the visitors, and after that there was an inspection of the mine and the explosives-testing plant, the guests returning to the city at 6 o'clock in the evening. At 8 o'clock there was a general meeting at Carnegie Music hall under the auspices of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, with an address by Secretary Lane and an organ recital by Dr. Charles Heinroth. A moving picture prepared by the National Coal association, "The Story of Coal," was given a first presentation.

The second day the new laboratories were open for inspection by the guests the entire day, and at 2 o'clock the elimination contests in the National Safety First-Aid and Mine-Rescue meet were held at Forbes field; also the awarding of the state championships. At 5 o'clock, at Forbes field, there was a demonstration of the explosibility of coal dust and at 8 o'clock the chamber of commerce presented a pageant typifying the spirit of the mining industry, with music by the band of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The third day at 9 a. m. there was a final mine-rescue contest by the ten successful teams of the previous day at Forbes field, with a presentation of the national cups and prizes. At 2 p. m. announcement of the J. A. Holmes Safety association was made by Dr. Van H. Manning. At 2:30 o'clock the final first-aid contest, participated in by the 20 best teams of the previous day, was held. At 5 o'clock there was a demonstration of a coal-dust explosion at Forbes field, the events closing with a smoker at the chamber of commerce in which prizes were awarded and speeches made.

The honorary committee in charge of the dedication of the Pittsburgh station included: George S. Oliver, president Pittsburgh chamber of commerce; John F. Herron, president city council of Pittsburgh; Harry N. Taylor, president National Coal Operators' association; John L. Lewis, acting president United Mine Workers of America; Horace B. Winchell, president American Institute of Mining and Electrical Engineers; Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior; Dr. Van H. Manning, director bureau of mines; Dr. S. B. McCormick, chancellor University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Arthur A. Hammerschlag, president Carnegie Institute of Technology; Dr. S. W. Stratton, director bureau of standards; Dr. R. F. Bacon, director Mellon institute; Seward E. Button, chief department of mines, state of Pennsylvania; Dr. D. Van Schaack, president of the National Safety council; T. A. O'Donnel, president American Petroleum institute; Mortimer E. Cooley, president American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Fayette S. Curtis, president American society of Civil Engineers; J. A. Capp, president American Society of Testing Materials; Dr. William H. Nichols, president American Chemical society; Calvert Townley, president American Society Electrical Engineers; G. H. Neilson, president Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania; Dr. W. D. Bancroft, president American Electro-Chemical society; R. T. Stull, president American Ceramics' society; E. N. Zern, president Coal Mining Institute of America; James A. Angell, chairman National Research council.

Advises Soft Pedal Put on Emigration to Mexico

WASHINGTON.—Count von Eckardt, whose activities as German minister to Mexico during the war were credited as responsible for the strong pro-German sentiment in the southern republic, warns his fellow countrymen against emigrating to Argentina and Mexico until they are certain that conditions there are favorable for them, according to one of his recent lectures, a copy of which has just been received in Washington from Germany, Minister von Eckardt asserts:

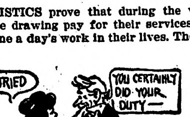
JA WOHL, MEXICO WAS PRO-GERMAN IN THE WAR— ABER IT IS BETTER NOT TO GO THERE —YET—

"The country is still pro-German today and the sympathies for Germany will not be killed. What advantages we may derive from this predilection depend wholly upon our ability to inculcate into the Mexican people German culture and upon our keeping up the reputation we have gained for capability and trustworthiness.

"We must send only capable men of character, knowledge and energy to Mexico, where they may do honor to the name of Germany and Hamburg. Then we will be able not only to get our old connections back, but also to see them grow and expand."

15,000,000 Women Drew Pay for Labor During War

STATISTICS prove that during the war nearly 15,000,000 women actually were drawing pay for their services. More than a million of them never had done a day's work in their lives. The volunteers would add another million.



WE TRIED
YOU CERTAINLY DID YOUR DUTY—
15,000,000 WOMEN WORKED TO WIN WAR

In the Liberty Loan campaigns alone 700,000 women acted as volunteers. There was a similar number in the United War drive. For the Red Cross the total must have been millions, for in this organization women who worked all day or who kept house all day, and who had an hour "to spare," would devote that hour to surgical dressings, classes, refugee work or ministering to the wants of those whose homes had been hit by the influenza epidemic. Then, too, stenographers, clerks and girls in office buildings would, at the close of the business day, offer their services, gratis, to the draft boards or any of the other countless bureaus organized for the speedy termination of the war.

In actual figures the women whose services brought monetary remuneration were listed as follows:

Mechanical and manufacturing	2,000,000	Professional	70,000
Agriculture	2,000,000	Clerical	700,000
Transportation	200,000	Domestic and personal service	2,500,000
Merchandise	600,000	Unclassified	6,750,000
Public service	50,000	Total	14,870,000

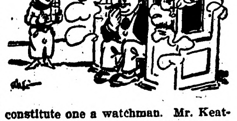
Those employed in the actual winning of the war or in positions listed as necessary for the winning of the war included:

Munitions	100,000	Making shoes	95,000
Canneries	80,000	General equipment	600,000
Food, spice, drug, tobacco and similar factories	125,000	Shipyard and foundry employees (the latter made bolts and rivets, ran drill presses and worked in machine shops)	100,000
Textiles	275,000	Total	1,717,000
Clothing factories	212,000
Hosiery and knit goods	130,000

This figure represents only the women who already were mill-trained and does not include those who left other occupations to assist in war work, nor does it include those who had had no previous experience in work of any kind.

Keating Not a Watchman—Just Wanted to Smoke

PERSONS who came along by Four and One-Half street and Missouri avenue one morning recently were mystified to see Edward Keating, secretary of the congressional commission on reclassification of salaries in the District, sitting in the watchman's guardhouse puffing at a cigar.



"Keating must have a new job," said one passer-by to another. "What a distinguished-looking watchman," said one woman who did not know that the "watchman" was Secretary Keating of the big commission that is hard at work on the job of making new salary schedules for 106,000 federal employees in the national capital.

But Keating neither had a new job nor was a watchman of any kind. To sit in the watchman's box does not constitute one a watchman. Mr. Keating has viewed life from the halls of congress, and from his office in the reclassification commission headquarters, so life from the watchman's little guardhouse offered no particular novelty.

But what was Secretary Keating doing in the guardhouse smoking a long, black cigar?

The whole truth of the matter was simply this: If Secretary Keating wanted to smoke at all, while at work at his office, he had to go outdoors to do it. There is a big sign on the stairway that reads: "Smoking strictly prohibited in this building." The order is signed by General Menoher, and it goes.

That is why, when Edward Keating, secretary of the reclassification commission, takes a notion to smoke one of his long, black cigars, he has to go outside the building to do it.

Baby's "Bye-Bye" Melted Heart of Cold Janitor

DICKENS would not recognize him, but his name is Samuel Weller. He is very tall, and very black, and holds down the job of janitor of one of Washington's apartment houses. Just which one it is not necessary at all to state.

BYE-BYE
BYE-BYE

But Samuel Weller was not always a good janitor. He is a "changed man." What has wrought the great change is not necessary to mention, but changed he is. It may have been the prohibition law. Certainly a baby of one of the tenants of the building has played a part in the metamorphosis of Samuel Weller.

When Sam came to that apartment, it is said, he didn't like his job worth a cent. He was sullen, and didn't wash off the front sidewalk, never cut the grass, didn't give a whoop if the hall was never cleaned or not, and just generally showed that janitoring wasn't his trade.

Many a night the tenants saw him come reeling home through the snow. They hoped he wouldn't set the house afire, and he didn't, but that was more through the help of neighbors than anything else. Several times they rushed in to rescue the janitor's dinner at it went up in smoke where he had left it on the stove.

Now there was a little baby in that apartment, a little girl who was just learning to say "bye-bye." She spent most of her time last summer on the porch of her apartment, and there, every day, she saw the janitor go up and down the fire escape with the trash.

"Bye-bye," she would call to Samuel.

For a long time Samuel Weller paid no attention, but went about his business. But the baby was no whit nonplused.

One morning Samuel Weller thawed out, and returned a sullen "bye-bye" in answer to the baby. Now the grass in the yard is cut. The front pavement is washed every morning, and the halls and steps are cleaned regularly. Samuel Weller is a real janitor. Dickens wouldn't know him, but he would be worthy of Dickens.

The Meanest.

Two small boys were discussing the various excellencies of their respective parents and their conversation had reached a highly critical and even personal stage.

"Well," remarked Tommy Stubbs, "you can say what you like, but I reckon your father's about the meanest man that ever lived. Fancy him lettin' you walk about in them old shoes, and him a shoemaker, too!"

"Is that so!" snorted Bobby Roberts. "My father ain't near so mean as yours, anyway. Why, just think of him being a dentist and your baby only got one tooth!"

WHEN THE DAY IS OVER

When the household cares and the worries of every-day life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago, called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

A Prominent Minnesota Woman

St. Paul, Minn.—"I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to help me during expectancy and can say that it is all that is claimed for it. I also took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets at the same time and think they are a splendid purgative. I have four children and we are all in perfect health. Dr. Pierce's book, 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,' has been a great help to me in bringing up my family. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's remedies to those who need them."—Mrs. A. J. Allen, 343 Walnut St.

Bag Many Wild Animals in West

Government Inspectors Kill Coyotes, Wolves, Lynxes and Mountain Lions.

HUNTERS ELIMINATE PESTS

Stockmen Are Delighted With Reductions Made in Wild Animal Plague in the Last Three Years—Cause of Heavy Losses.

Washington, D. C.—Wild, predatory animals in the West have had a hard time this summer. Government hunters reporting to the bureau of biological survey tell of great slaughter of the animals and some incidents where it almost was the other way round. Uncle Sam's bag of coyotes, wolves, mountain lions and lynxes cannot be counted yet, but enough data has come to hand to show that it will be a big one.

One of the most interesting narratives of this exciting business comes from E. F. Pope, an inspector of the service stationed in New Mexico. To give encouragement and assistance to the hunters located on ranches where their work is most needed, Mr. Pope has traveled two thousand miles in that state.

Stockmen Are Pleased.

"Almost everywhere," he writes, "I found stockmen delighted with reductions made in the wild animal plague in the last three years. They say that from an economic standpoint it is one of the most far reaching and sensible undertakings the government has yet attempted. Among the stockmen are the Fullerton brothers, who have extensive sheep ranges on the St. Augustine plains west of Magdalena. Ever since they started they have suffered heavy animal losses from depredations of coyotes and wildcats, especially during the lambing season.

"Last winter one of our hunters was assigned to these ranges. He was handicapped by heavy snows and bad weather, but he got so many of the brutes that he virtually eliminated the pests from this section. A new hunter was assigned to the infested ranch of Edward Otero not far away. While waiting for him I set a line of twelve traps and distributed two hundred poison baits. My catch was five old coyotes, one of which was killed with a rifle at long range. A few days after his arrival the new hunter got two more coyotes and a brace of wildcats in the vicinity. For some time before that from three to six lambs had been lost every night. In ten days the hunter could find no more of the animals and moved to a neighboring ranch.

Old Ones Are Wary.

"There are many instances where the younger and less shy coyotes and cats have been taken during the winter by fur hunters, leaving the older and more wary animals alive. These do the killing and keep the ranches paying toll to their kind. I have notes in my field diary describing the work of the old coyote which I have mentioned as having been killed with the rifle. This fellow bore evidence of having been previously caught in a trap from which he got away. Thinking to escape again he made the effort resulting in his death. It often requires more time and effort to destroy this sort of coyote than it takes to get the younger ones, but the value of the results obtained is very much greater."

Mr. Pope says settlers find it hard to build up large herds or flocks under the constant onslaughts of beasts of prey. The elimination of the pests is giving them encouragement and increasing their sheep and cattle. Game animals with the passing of their enemies also are getting more numerous. "We have records," says Mr. Pope, "of antelope being constantly seen in timbered sections from which wolves, lions and cats have been eradicated, the deer, no doubt, having become aware that their dread foes no longer are there to spring upon them from cover. It is my own observation that wild game in some sections of the state is increasing under protective measures now being taken."

Bulldog Bites Nose of Gallant Barber

San Francisco, Cal.—Samuel L. Jones, barber, had his nose bitten by a bulldog that was taken to the shop for a haircut by Miss Grace Stanley.

When Jones tried to unfasten a wrist watch from the dog's front leg, the animal, a prize winning canine of the Boston variety, objected.

Apparently the dog did not understand that Jones desired to remove the wrist watch in order to get better play for his clippers.

Jones declined to get treatment for his injury at a hospital. Instead, he went home and called a private physician.

Jones, who is an ex-veterinarian, wants it understood that he doesn't make a practice of cutting dog's hair. In the present instance he was going out of his way for the pretty owner of the dog.

Officer Explains Red Cross Sales

Only Perishable, Second Hand and Surplus Stock Being Disposed of.

WORKING IN 17 COUNTRIES

Shipment of Further Relief Material From the United States to Europe Continues in a Large Way—One-Third to France.

Paris.—Because many inaccurate reports of large sales of American Red Cross merchandise have appeared in the last few weeks, Red Cross headquarters in Paris has issued a statement explaining that the only materials which have been sold are certain perishables, second hand equipment, surplus stocks and articles which can no longer be used for direct relief work, either in France or in Eastern Europe.

The total sales of surplus and second hand material by the American Red Cross in Europe will aggregate not more than 30,000,000 francs, says the Red Cross, while the value of the relief material distributed in Europe during July and August alone amounted to more than 100,000,000 francs.

Work in 17 Countries.

The American Red Cross is now conducting operations in seventeen European countries. The relief material distributed in France, mainly in the devastated districts, since the armistice, is valued at more than 125,000,000 francs, while in the same period other European countries have received more than 20,000,000 francs of similar supplies, including not only medical and surgical material, but also clothing, food, barracks, etc.

Such sales as have been authorized in France have been conducted through the American Red Cross liquidation board. The official statement says regarding this material:

"Unexpectedly heavy expenses of work in Poland and the Balkan states, and the beginnings of new relief activities in western and southern Russia made it advisable to turn these stocks into cash to assist the relief programs, as well as to save certain of the accumulated stocks from total loss.

Supplies Still Come.

"Of all the relief material in the American Red Cross warehouses on May 1, one-third was set aside for distribution in the devastated districts of France. The distribution of this material is still continuing, and will continue for months to come, while the shipments of relief material to the commissions in eastern Europe are on a constantly increasing scale, and will continue for many months.

"In the meantime the shipment of further relief material from the United States continues in a large way, and we have recently received notice from America of the early shipment of supplies valued at 40,000,000 francs."

BLACK HAWK IS IN MUSEUM

Bones of Famous Indian Chief Are Placed in Glass Case in the Deseret Museum in Utah.

Salt Lake City.—The bones of Chief Black Hawk, who played havoc with settlers in Utah in the early 60's, now rest peacefully in the Deseret Museum in the Mormon temple grounds.

The skeleton was brought from an Indian burial ground near Spring Lake Villa, Utah county, this state, and with all accouterments of Indian burial, now reposes in a glass case.

From veterans of raids made by Black Hawk's bands, it is declared the Black Hawk wars of Utah began in 1864, when a small band of Indians suffered an epidemic of smallpox and blamed the white settlers for it.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel somewhat improved continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep the first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

PRIZED RELICS OF THE MAGI

Cologne Cathedral Said to Contain the Skulls of the Three "Wise Men of the East."

A British army chaplain celebrated mass recently in the great Cologne cathedral at the altar of the relics of the Magi, the skulls of the three wise men who came from the East to visit the newly born Savior at Bethlehem.

Tradition says that the Empress Helene procured the bones and took them to Constantinople, whence they were removed to Milan. In 1164 they were presented by Frederick Barbarossa to Archbishop Reinald von Dassel, who brought them to Cologne. At first they were kept in the chapel of the Magi, the central chapel of the seven flanking the choir, but since the war they have been put away in the cathedral treasury, near the organ.

The bones are kept in a golden reliquary, a costly specimen of Romanesque craftsmanship in the form of a basilica, said to have been made about 1200 A. D. In the Cologne coat-of-arms three crowns are represented, the ownership of the Magi relics having suggested the design.

Clemenceau's Explanation of Appointment of Colleague Shows "Tiger" Can Be Bitter.

During his first presidency of the council, as today, M. Clemenceau was frequently reproached for the inefficiency of certain of his collaborators and, as today, he got out of it by making jests at their expense, says Le Chi de Paris. In 1906 Charles Benoist happened to hear "the Tiger" expressing himself rather strongly to one of his ministers. Mr. Benoist was astonished at the premier's severity, and said as much.

"But," exclaimed Clemenceau, "he's a fool."

"So much the worse for you; it's your fault."

"What; my fault that he's a fool?"

"No; but your fault that he is a minister. By the way, how did you happen to choose him?"

Clemenceau hesitated a moment, looken Benoist straight in the eye and suddenly shot at him in a triumphant voice:

"Do you happen to know one that's more stupid?"

Wadena.—At the recent election, Wadena's schools became an independent system. This year opens with a new school board, and practically new faculty.

Aitkin.—Aitkin county has received a huge gravel grader or sifter which will be used at the Barker gravel pits, which were recently purchased in the interests of the good roads campaign.

St. Cloud.—John Gamades, defendant in a $15,000 damage suit brought against him by Allen Redman, has been proven innocent of the charge of assault brought against him by the plaintiff.

Bemidji.—County Auditor A. D. Johnson has advertised for a superintendent for the new county infirmary, now in the course of construction on the county farm, just east of Lake Bemidji.

Wahkon.—A channel has been blasted between Mulvey's island and the mainland of Mille Lacs lake to enable boats to pass from one side of the bay to the other without making a long detour.

Thief River Falls.—A $6,000 addition to the mechanical building to promote a general mechanics' course in the Thief River Falls high school was decided upon by the school board, and work has begun.

Fairmont.—W. H. Colton of Fairmont has lost twenty-two head of hogs by what he calls "hog flu." This is a new and strange disease that acts a good deal like hog cholera. He has only three head left, and these are sick.

Brainerd.—Virgel Gibford, 17, was killed at the roundhouse of the Northern Pacific Railway shops, as an engine entered the roundhouse. Gibford's head was caught and crushed between the edge of the cab of the locomotive and the roundhouse door, death being instantaneous.

Aitkin.—As Nina Voll, 10, was going home from school recently, a boy struck her across the face with some heavy grasses which cut the eyelid and left a scar on the eyeball. She was blinded for a time but given prompt medical attention and the doctors hope by giving the eye complete rest the sight may be completely restored.

St. Cloud.—Elmer Neslund, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Neslund, near Foley, Benton county, was shot and killed by a brother shooting with a .22-caliber rifle in target practice. Elmer was plowing twenty rods from the place of shooting and when luncheon was brought out to him his body was found with a bullet hole in the back of his head.

Bemidji.—St. Paul advices are that Bemidji is being given serious consideration as a location for a company of infantry in the Minnesota National Guard. It is stated that Eveleth had contemplated a company and armory of the National Guard but had neglected to take advantage of the fact and that Bemidji was next in line for the honor.

Crookston.—Between 700 and 800 teachers are expected to attend the convention to be held here the last three days of this month, when the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association will hold its annual meeting. The association comprises the northwestern counties of the state, and considerable importance is attached to the convention this year, as no session was held in 1918.

Virginia.—Between fizzes as it were, G. W. Little, late of Minneapolis, in charge of the soda fountain in a local establishment, cast loving eyes towards Miss Sophie Birksey, who hands out cigars and cigarettes in the same place. His glances were reciprocated. The romance gained daily and they were "quietly" married hoping to keep it a secret, but like all secrets, it just leaked out and now they are being congratulated.

East Grand Forks.—Much local interest is shown over the prospective sale of pure bred stock, which will include pure bred animals from the herds of prominent stockmen of East Grand Forks and the surrounding district. The Western Polk County Breeders' association, which consists of about 100 of the owners of farms tributary to East Grand Forks, will arrange for this sale of pure bred cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, the latter part of November.

St. Paul.—Colonies for tuberculosis victims are advocated as one of the most practical means of fighting that disease, by Ernest J. Henryson, special representative of the Permanent Inter-Allied Committee, who recently completed a rehabilitation survey in Europe and the United States. Mr. Henryson is a Minnesotan and the urges the establishment of such colonies in this state, where 2,430 persons died from tuberculosis last year. He is to tour the state for the Minnesota Public Health Association, to assist counties in organizing for the annual Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale. Minnesota is to raise a $250,000 fund with which to fight tuberculosis and other diseases.

Minneapolis.—In a warning to druggists to mark plainly on containers the serious effects of drinking denatured alcohol, the Department of Internal Revenue reveals the fact that many chronic drinkers have died from the effects of drinking the deadly poison.

St. Paul.—The charter application of the People's State bank of Staples was approved by the state Securities commission. Otto Bremer, St. Paul, banker, and Richard N. Gardner and others of Staples are among principal stockholders. The new bank will open in the near future.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS NOV. 11 HOLIDAY

Governor Burnquist's proclamation setting November 11 as Armistice Day, is as follows:

"In accordance with an announcement at the time of the reception to the One Hundred and Fifty-first field artillery, and pursuant to a telegram to the American Legion on September 1, I desire to proclaim November 11, 1919, as Armistice Day.

"On the anniversary of the armistice it is exceedingly befitting that the citizens of Minnesota should hold, in honor of all service men, the largest patriotic demonstration in his history.

"On that date the American Legion will meet in national convention within the borders of our commonwealth. This gathering should be made the occasion for the wide promulgation of the American principles for which this organization stands.

"The Sunday preceding Armistice Day is a fitting time for churches and religious organizations to hold appropriate services in memory of those who served during the world war and for the dedication of such suitable memorials as will perpetuate their patriotism for the inspiration of future generations.

"Therefore, I, Joseph A. A. Burnquist, governor of Minnesota, do hereby designate November 11, 1919, as Armistice Day, and urge that said day and the Sunday immediately preceding be observed as herein requested.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at the Capitol in the city of St. Paul, this eighteenth day of October, 1919.

"(Signed)

"J. A. A. BURNQUIST,

"Governor."

Secretary of State.

Motley.—The Motley postoffice has been advanced to third class with a salary of $1,100 per year for the postmaster, John Monahan, coupled with additional rent and clerk hire.

Red Lake Falls.—Approximately $3,000 more stock must be sold in the Red Lake Falls Hotel company to put the corporation securely upon its feet. This fact was made evident at a meeting of the stockholders of the corporation when the report of Treasurer George F. Hennings was read.

Minneapolis.—Carrying out an alleged threat made in Hennepin county district court two weeks ago, George East, a returned soldier, who was being sued for divorce, shot and killed Mrs. Lucille East, his wife, and then killed himself at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Jacob Brunner, here.

St. Paul.—The fifteenth champion prize banner awarded Minnesota in butter making contests by the National Creamery Butter Makers' Association has been received by James Sorenson of the state food and dairy department. The award was won with an average of 95.40 out of a possible 100 points.

Fergus Falls.—Andrew Burnett of Rock Lake, N. D., who came to Clitheral, near here, several days ago, with his family to visit relatives, died after eating, it is said, pancakes made from buckwheat flour. Mrs. Burnett and children also became ill, but are recovering. A sample of the flour has been sent to the state chemist to be analyzed.

St. Paul.—Ore shipments from state-owned mines this year will aggregate 4,000,000 tons, about 20 per cent less than was shipped last year. State and privately owned iron mines in northern Minnesota last year furnished 44,000,000 tons of ore. The decrease this year is attributed by Mr. Preus to cessation of war demands and uncertainty in industrial conditions.

Minneapolis.—Swindled out of $61,000, Emil Buchholz, a wealthy landowner, is returning to his home at Hitchcock, S. D. Minneapolis police are searching for a band of expert swindlers who, they say fleeced Buchholz by inveigling him into operations destined, according to the swindlers, to force down the exchange rate of the British pound and plunge the empire of Great Britain into bankruptcy and make Buchholz wealthy.

Moorhead.—The value of the potato crop produced this year in the Red River valley is over $10,000,000. While this is a startling total, growers have already received over $6,000,000 for shipments made before Oct. 15. Official reports of the United States bureau of markets show a total of 7,059 carloads of potatoes grown this year shipped out of the Red River valley up to Oct 15. Of these shipments 5,548 were from the Minnesota side of the river and 1,511 from the valley in North Dakota. Shipments from the valley, both sides of the river last year, including Oct. 15, were 2,880, showing an increase per acre for this year in even dates of 4,179 carloads.

A Matter of Address.

Considerably out of patience, he was endeavoring to play golf at the Muncie Country club and in his first attempt at a drive sliced the ball miserably. The words he used, although spoken in an undertone, were sufficient to make the caddy look up appreciatively, accustomed as the boy was to the use of eloquence by players under such circumstances.

A short distance away was the player's wife who inquired ever so gently: "Did you say anything to me, Fred?"

"No, I was just addressing the ball," he replied.

"I am afraid if the ball goes to that address it will melt," she remarked, still gently.

Constipation, Headache, Colds, Biliousness ended with "Cascarets"

Nothing takes the joy out of life quicker than a disordered liver or waste-clogged bowels. Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath bad and stomach sour. Why not spend a few cents for a box of Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced? Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience one like Salts, Oil, Calomel or harsh pills. They work while you sleep.—Adv.

One doesn't often look for humor in a church, but the other Sunday a considerable portion of a congregation nearly burst into laughter. The mirth was occasioned by a little boy, who was being brought to service for the first time. When the choir entered in its surplices, he whispered decidedly audibly:

"Daddy, are they all going to have their hair cut?"

Shorthorns in America 133 Years

The first purebred Shorthorn cattle were brought to the United States in 1786, a small shipment being imported from England to Virginia that year. The Shorthorn has had more to do with the improvement of cattle in this country than any other breed—probably than all other breeds. It is the combined beef and milking quality of the Shorthorn that has made the profits on the farms, plantations and ranches. It pays to use Shorthorn bulls. Middle Aged Women

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles.

Freemont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Godden, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Minnesota physicians who have studied these matters carefully state that a vast number of persons who contract tuberculosis are infected in childhood and that eight of every ten persons have the germs at some time in their lives.

Last year, 3,000 Minnesota infants died. The average number of children killed annually by tuberculosis in this state is 150. The germs begin to take a heavier toll in death between the ages of 20 and 35 years, about 1,000 Minnesotans of those ages being victims of the "great white plague" each year.

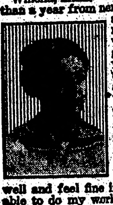
WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA

Torpid Liver, Pain in Side and Shoulder-blade

Lime Springs, Iowa.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with occasional doses of 'Pleasant Pellets' for indigestion, or dyspepsia, and torpid liver, with pain in side and under shoulder blade, which I thought was caused by rheumatism. I was so troubled with pain under the shoulder blade that in chopping or cutting wood, the work in which I have been engaged so much of the time by the day—I could not work steadily at it without being played out entirely. I am now 58 years old. Will say that since taking the 'Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' as mentioned, my stomach is in better condition than it has been before for 25 or 30 years. Not long since I chopped down and trimmed up about 47 loads of wood as quickly as I ever did that amount in my life, and I just enjoyed doing the work. I have taken the 'Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' a number of times in my life and never without very beneficial results. I also know that as a cough remedy or for any rash or skin disease the 'Discovery' is a great remedy. I could say more in recommendation if space would permit."—James L. Colby, Rt. 4, Box 26.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Dubuque, Iowa.—"Have used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for 36 years and can say nothing but what is to their credit. I could not sleep without them in the house. They have cured me of chronic constipation, and thus assisted in preventing serious results."—R. C. Campbell, 104 W. Locust St.

SICK-HEADACHES

Shenandoah, Iowa.—"I have given Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to my children at different times when they have needed a tonic and it worked all right. It is mighty good for sick headaches. One of my daughters took it for that and was relieved. It has always acted well for us. We have never taken any other medicine. I consider it one of the best medicines."—Mrs. B. J. EARLY VOTE ON PACT UNLIKELY Move for Vote by Nov. 12 Was Blocked by Administration Senators.

NO LIMIT ON DEBATE

Senate Renews Consideration of Amendments, Each Side Fearful to Accept Other's Plans to Hurry Final Vote on Pact.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Further indications that the peace treaty fight may lead to a continued deadlock developed yesterday while the senate leaders weer trying in vain to fix a definite date for a roll call on ratification.

Administration senators, suggesting that the final vote be taken this week, indicated a purpose to defeat ratification by combining with the treaty's irreconcilable opponents, should the reservations adopted by the foreign relations committee be written into the ratification resolution. Whether the administration forces then could present an alternate resolution under senate rules was brought into question by the Republican leaders who predicted that even if such a resolution got consideration it, too, would be voted down.

To Vote on Labor Clause.

An hour of debate on the subject got nowhere and the senate went back to its consideration of treaty amendments. It may reach a vote tomorrow on that by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, to strike out the labor provisions and then, unless some new plan is devised to hasten action, other amendments and a long list of proposed reservations will be taken up, under the tedious rule of unlimited debate.

The administration proposal for a vote this week was presented by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the Democratic leader, after he had blocked one by Republican Leader Lodge calling for a final vote on November 12.

Chance for Showdown.

A "final vote" on that date, Mr. Hitchcock declared, would mean that the only opportunity for a showdown on ratification must come on a resolution drawn up by the treaty's enemies and containing reservations unacceptable to the administration senators.

COAL PRODUCTION VERY LOW

Strike of Bituminous Miners Virtually Paralyzed Industry.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Monday, the first real test day in the nation-wide strike of bituminous coal miners, passed without a break of any consequence in the general cessation of production despite the inactivity of the leaders of the United Mine Workers of America because of the government's restraining order. During the day there was a further movement of troops into affected areas, although only one minor disturbance was reported.

Soft Coal Production Paralyzed.

Although there was a report that a break among union miners had occurred in the northern West Virginia fields, miners and operators alike asserted that the production of soft coal was paralyzed. It also was reported that some union miners resumed work in the Colorado mines when operators and union officials agreed upon a settlement, whereby operators would make such wage increases as were later made effective in eastern fields.

Nonunion mines in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were in operation today with almost the usual working forces. In Ohio five of six shipping companies were operating.

Thousands of cars of coal were being confiscated by the federal railroad administration; a few schools were closed in remote places, and in a number of communities water and electric companies were affected.

SOLDIERS ILL, LABOR LOAFED

Steamfitters Charged With Delay in Making Camp Improvements.

Camp Sherman, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Charges that wilful negligence on the part of steamfitters employed in the construction of the base hospital at Camp Sherman resulted in exposure for weeks to the zero weather prevalent in late October and all of November, 1917, of sick soldiers confined there, were among the startling disclosures made before the congressional subcommittee by Joseph Poole, Chillicothe contractor, late yesterday. The evidence given by Poole will be followed up to fix the responsibility for the suffering of the men, according to Chairman John C. McKenzie and Chief Examiner Roscoe C. McCullough of the committee.

To Test Minnesota Bonus Law.

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—The question of the validity of the soldiers' bonus bill was taken under advisement by Judge Jelley in Hennepin county district court yesterday, following the filing of a demurrer by the state to the suit of A. Gustafson, Minneapolis taxpayer, to test the constitutionality of the law. An early decision is expected and attorneys for both sides announced that regardless of the outcome of the matter, it would be taken to the state supreme court for a final ruling.

EUROPE AWAITS STRIKE RESULTS

Governments, People and the Press Overseas Anxiously Watch Coal Strike.

MAY IGNITE EUROPE

Many View Possible Results of Conflict With Misgivings—Greatest Upheaval Outside of Russia, Thought by Some.

London, Nov. 3.—Europe since Saturday has been tensely awaiting the reaction from the American coal miners' strike.

That both the direct and indirect efforts of the strike would be only secondary in importance on this continent to that in the United States is the general impression here, causing a feeling of depression that temporarily overshadowed Europe's own social and economic ills.

Even greater than the realization of the widespread commercial and industrial backfire is the gripping fear that the clash between capital and labor may provide the spark that will carry to the highly inflammable European social structure.

Governments, the press and the public are intensely interested in this test of the American government's strength. The majority foresee a violent struggle, with the result in doubt.

"The strike is likely to develop into the biggest industrial upheaval ever seen outside Russia," declares the Globe. "Whatever the merits of the dispute, it does not justify such action. Such a movement will undoubtedly have repercussions in other countries and revive everywhere the spirit of labor unrest. No happening on such a scale can be isolated."

435,000 MINERS ARE OUT

Some Fields Open But Unionists Claim Strike Highly Effective.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Although Saturday night found nearly all the nation's vast bituminous coal fields closed as a result of the miners' strike, effective Friday midnight, thousands of nonunion miners were at work, and in scattered districts where contracts still were in effect union miners reported as usual. Figures compiled tonight and based chiefly upon union leaders' claims, although in many cases conceded by the operators, showed that 435,712 men were on strike.

Coal operators claimed thousands of non-union miners were producing coal in usual quantities, although conceding that in union fields the strike was effective.

Union leaders reported in most instances that the strike was virtually 100 per cent effective throughout the country.

Saturday's figures on the number of men out were as follows: Alabama, 23,000; Arkansas, 4,000; Colorado, 5,000; Illinois, 90,000; Indiana, 28,000; Iowa, 14,000; Kansas, 13,000; Kentucky, 20,000; Maryland, 4,000; Michigan, 2,400; Missouri, 9,000; Montana, 4,000; New Mexico, 800; Ohio, 40,000; Oklahoma, 10,500; Pennsylvania, 87,000; Tennesseee, 10,000; Texas, 4,000; Utah, 1,000; Washington, 6,000; West Virginia, 42,000; Wyoming, 8,000.

It is expected that North Dakota lignite mines will continue open for the present.

GAVE NOTE FOR FREEDOM

Kidnapped American Consular Agent Bought His Own Way to Liberty.

Washington, Nov. 3.—William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, gave his personal note, endorsed by five responsible citizens of Puebla and Mexico City, to procure his release from bandits who kidnapped him October 19.

The full amount of the ransom included also an agreement that the bandits keep $25,000 worth of property stolen from Jenkins' hacienda.

The first payment of the ransom consisted of 34,000 pesos and two drafts for $5,000 each in American gold, the balance being covered by the note.

These facts are disclosed in a statement which the American embassy in Mexico City has been authorized to make public.

Cut Out Dead Timber, Says Pershing.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Promotion of army officers by selection instead of seniority was urged by General John J. Pershing. Such a plan would tend to eliminate "dead timber," he said. Pershing resumed his testimony on the military reorganization bills, before a joint meeting of the house and senate military affairs committees. He suggested allowing officers elected under the selection system 2½ per cent of their pay for each year of service.

Deputy Sheriff's Slayer Caught.

Crookston, Minn., Nov. 3.—One of the bandits who killed Deputy Sheriff Ed. Foley at Elk River September 27 is held here and has been identified by Sheriff Illip of Elk River. He was arrested with another man at East Grand Forks Friday in a raid when officers discovered a quantity of dynamite, nitroglycerine and other safe crackers' paraphernalia in a room. Sheriff Illip said the man believed to be one of the Elk River bandits trio is known as "Slim" David, "Joy" Bird, and by other aliases.

ANCIENT CITY KNOWN TO FEW

Musan, in Korea, Visited Only by Occasional Stragglers From Western Civilization.

Few white men have been fortunate enough to wander inland, in Korea, as far as the ancient city of Musan. This city, with its grim old walls bearing five centuries of history, lies on the very edge of Korea. To enter it is like stepping backward to another world, into a story of the Arabian Nights.

During the Russo-Japanese war several Russians took refuge there, and since then half a dozen foreigners have discovered it, but, except for these stragglers, Musan lies unknown to the western world. The great central palace, or reception hall of the city, remains intact, and close by, in partial ruins, is the temple guesthouse. The smaller public buildings, the gates, the watch towers and even the walls themselves have their own particular story to tell of Musan's interesting past, but few people know it.

People who have hunted tigers in the vicinity of Musan say the animals are more beautiful than their relatives of India or the Malay peninsula. These beauties range among the bitterly cold mountains of China, Korea and Manchuria, and far into Siberia.

Still Looking.

DIVIDING THE FAMILY AUTO

Arrangement Proposed by Hubby By No Means Satisfactory to His Better Half.

There is a distinct feeling in a Muncie family, due to a difference in mother's and father's politics, he being a Democrat and she a Republican. Also there is a family automobile.

On the morning of the last election in Muncie the head of the house made the announcement that he was off that day and was going to haul voters to the polls. Immediately mother rose in revolt. "Half of that machine is mine!" she stormed, "and you are not going to use it to haul Democrats to the polls!"

Father was rather warm under the collar then. "Indeed I am," he retorted. "Tomorrow is my day to use it and I intend to use it to haul Democrats to the polls. The next day is yours and you can use my half of it as well as your own to haul Republicans to Halifax for all I care!"—Indianapolis News.

Origin of Hawaiians Sought.

Largely financed by the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop estate and the Bernice Pauahi Bishop museum, a scientific expedition will leave Hawaii next spring to spend two years in the South seas in an effort to determine the origin of the Polynesian race and to trace its various migrators until Hawaii, the northeastern outpost of Polynesia, was reached. Bernice Pauahi was an Hawaiian princess who married Charles R. Bishop, pioneer Honolulu banker. She once declined an offer of the throne of Hawaii. Her estate, valued at many millions, provides revenue for a number of institutions designed to promote the interests of the native Hawaiians.

Wrong Job.

The city farmer boy who had spent three days on the ranch suddenly disappeared, leaving this note:

"Friend Si—I've gone, and I won't come back. You got me up at three with a lantern and I was still chasing the kine into the stable at ten. You don't want a farm hand; you want a night watchman!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Not Sure About It.

"You are giving your daughter a musical education, aren't you?"

"Well, I can't say that exactly, but I am paying for one."

STATE BREVITIES

Crookston.—The Polk county board of county commissioners has established a road between East Grand Forks and the Red Lake county line.

Warren.—An addition of ten rooms for patients is being built on the south side of the Warren hospital. The hospital's capacity will be still further increased next spring.

Hibbing.—That the 1920 Federal census will give Hibbing a population close to 20,000 is the opinion of village officials conversant with the growth of the village the past two years in particular.

Nashwauk.—The unprecedented cold spell has closed down the local ore washing plants. The one at the Nashwauk mine will resume as soon as weather permits, but it is stated that the Hawkins washer will continue closed until next spring.

Hibbing.—Waldo Ricciani, Domini Gambloi, Philip Bonelli and five others were arrested by Game Warden George Wood on a charge of hunting on a game preserve. Nine guns and three hounds, the dogs alleged to have been used in hunting, were seized.

Menahga.—L. F. Bradke, of Spruce Grove, brought in a load of winter wheat to the Farmers' Co-operative elevator that he raised on his farm this season. This wheat weighed 64 pounds to the bushel, yielded 32 bushels to the acre, and brought the farmer $73.16 per acre.

Winona.—It's apple blossom time in the vicinity of Winona. Jacob Jerreczek, farmer of Homer Valley, near here, brought to the city a half dozen apple blossoms from a tree in his orchard. The tree has been in full bloom for the past week. Later frost killed the autumnal bloom.

New Ulm.—August Nagel, 33, living on a farm near here, was found dead in the woods near the home of his father. A large hole was found beneath the chin, indicating where the barrel of the gun had been directed when the trigger was pulled. He leaves a wife and two children.

Crookston.—Leonard J. Houske, secretary of the Minnesota Red River Vallty Dairymen's association, spent a day here in making preparations for the sixteenth annual convention of the association, to be held in this city Dec. 10 and 11. The program for the two days' session is being arranged and several men of state and national fame will be brought to address the meeting.

Bemidji.—The contracts awarded by the Beltrami county board during the past few months will put the road between Bemidji and Baudette in such condition that it may be used as an automobile road, and with additional improvements next year it is believed it will not only be a good road, but that it will draw a large amount of business from the north country to Bemidji.

Red Lake Falls.—So far nearly 100 returned soldiers and sailors have filled out their bonus application blanks at the local office of the Red Lake County post of the American Legion, according to Secretary M. H. Latendresse. There are approximately 250 returned service men in the county who are entitled to bonuses under the provisions of the law passed by the special session of the Minnesota legislature.

St. Paul.—Sugar prices made a puzzle for the state department of agriculture, although the department's findings in a sugar investigation were made public only a day or two ago. Grocers complain that they are forced to pay $12 to $13 a hundred pounds, and retail sales at reported fair prices would mean losses to them. Country merchants argued that they cannot make up the loss on other items as is sometimes done by city dealers.

Virginia.—John Schulte, 28, Nett Lake reservation Indian guide, who was at first believed murdered, killed himself, according to Dr. A. W. Shaw, of Buhl, and Assistant County Attorney Edward L. Boyle, of Virginia, who investigated the case. Schulte was found dead in bed by Indians living in a cabin adjoining his. Schulte had placed his rifle under his chin and pulled the trigger. Schulte's squaw, with whom he had been quarreling since his return from service, did not spend the night with him, but was with neighbors. She was able to give a satisfactory account of her whereabouts, and was not held by the authorities. Schulte and his squaw have not lived together for several weeks.

Winona.—Auto thieves and other crooks operating in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin will shortly find themselves entangled in an inescapable net if the league of city and county authorities, garagemen and filling station employes, in the territory between St. Paul and Madison, Wis., which is being advocated by Chief of Police Norton of Winona becomes a reality. According to the scheme just made public, police authorities in a city of the league in which a theft takes place will at once notify the authorities in certain specified neighboring cities, each of whom will in turn pass the word on until every city of the league is on the lookout for the crooks.

Sandstone.—Antes Dupee killed himself by shooting in the temple with a revolver at his home here. The act is attributed to an uncontrollable temper that at times made him crazy. During a discussion of family affairs he told his wife and two children that he was going to end it all. He went to a trunk and got the gun and immediately carried out his threat. He returned from the North Dakota harvest fields and his wife had but lately returned home from a severe operation at a Minneapolis hospital. Mr. Dupee was well known hereabouts and his act was a surprise to all.

Cass Lake.—Annie Aldrich, 6, died at Boy River of diphtheria.

Chisholm.—The village council let the contract for excavating for the new recreational building to Winslow & Salvi for $68,000.

Brainerd.—Odd Fellows of Brainerd held a reunion and homecoming celebration for Odd Fellow soldiers. The local Odd Fellows lodge had 14 men in the service.

Owatonna.—M. J. Dowling of Oliva, delivered the memorial address which featured the United Church Roosevelt Memorial meeting held at the Baptist church here.

Marshall.—Arthur Dresser, 23 years old, fell from a scaffold at Russell and died at a Marshall hospital a few hours later. Dresser's home was at Red Wood Falls.

East Grand Forks.—Teachers from all departments of the East Grand Forks schools attended the institute meetings which were held in Crookston last week.

Winona.—John T. Blair, 92 years old, vice president of the Winona County Old Settlers' association and a resident of this county since 1854, died at the home of his son here.

Pipestone.—A large number of members of the Mystic Shrine in this vicinity are making plans to go to St. Paul for the meeting to be held at Osman temple, early in November.

Owatonna.—The Owatonna chapter of the American Red Cross at its annual meeting here, re-elected its officers. A committee of three was appointed to consider plans for a membership drive.

Gilbert.—Because nobody wanted the job as postmaster, the postoffice at Sparta, established 20 years ago, has been discontinued. The Sparta office was one of the oldest on the Mesaba range.

St. Paul.—State aid of $2,770,440 to schools for the year ending July 21, 1919, was certified by J. M. McConnell, commissioner of education to State Auditor J. A. O. Preus. Aid apportionments are granted 6,323 schools.

St. Paul.—A charter creating the Security State bank of Moose Lake was delivered by F. E. Pearson, superintendent of the state banking department, to August F. Rohleder of St. Paul, president of the new institution.

Hastings.—A. M. Northrop, 70 years old, died in a hospital here. He is survived by two daughters. Interment was at River Falls, Wis. B. C. Cadwell, 80 years old, also died. He is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Hutchinson.—The Hutchinson Co-operative creamery captured first prize for its cheese at the National Dairy show in Chicago. The creamery won a gold medal in national competition and a silver medal for the best Minnesota cheese.

Hibbing.—Hearing on the Hibbing injunction case to prevent moving of tracks, building and, in fact, the heart of the northern part of the town, to the "new" Hibbing at Alice that was to have come before Judge Edward Freeman, was continued until Nov. 24.

Virginia.—Negotiations involving the purchase of three lots from Alderman Elmer Matheson have been practically completed by the local Masonic order, which will build a lodge home next spring. The lots are located on First street south, between Fourth and Fifth avenues, and are held at $8,000.

Cass Lake.—Earl Childs, with his father, W. C. Childs of Federal Dam, missing since last Friday, when they went duck hunting on Leech Lake, are believed to have drowned in the lake during a heavy windstorm. The boat in which the men went hunting, which was fitted with an attachable motor, had not been found, but two oars and a gasoline can were found floating on the surface of the lake.

Eveleth.—Funeral services have been held for John Kolbuchar, leaving a wife and seven children, who was smothered to death by a cave-in in the Spruce mine under ground. Companions managed to rush to safety as the mass of earth and timbers started to fall, but the victim was unable to get away. His body when found was almost devoid of bruises, indicating that death had apparently resulted from suffocation.

Black Duck.—The reckless days when this place was a lumbering town were recalled when a dog, digging into the earth back of a building, unearthed the bones of a human body. It was recalled by old timers that the building had at one time been a saloon. Coroner H. N. McKee was called from Bemidji to investigate and found that the skull belonging to the body had been crushed by some instrument. There was nothing in the crude grave which could be used for identification.

Canby.—A Canby bull got bull-headed recently and in less than two minutes it caused the destruction of $2,000 worth of property and a train wreck; two men narrowly escaped death and railroad traffic was tied up for several hours. The bull ambled on to the Chicago and Northwestern right of way as a freight train approached. The whistle screamed, the bull bellowed. The train couldn't stop and the bull wouldn't get out of the way. A dead bull lay in the ditch; the train made five yards and went down into the ditch. The engineer and fireman went over with the engine but escaped serious injury.

Virginia.—Members of the American Legion post here will be asked to form the nucleus of the local National Guard company, if the plans of officers of Company I are realized. Col Woolnough, who inspected Company I, also favors the use of returned service men in the National Guard, according to the Virginia company officers who conferred with him here.

Pipestone.—Lieut. Robert Ryan, formerly of Pipestone, who served in the army in France, is seriously ill in a hospital at Sioux Falls as a consequence of injuries sustained in an airplane landing.

BIFF!

Stop jolting Liver and Bowels with violent drugs, but take "Cascarets."

"Dynamiting" bile out of your system with calomel and other sickening purgatives is all wrong. Salts, Oil, and Cathartic Waters act by flooding the bowels with the digestive juices which are vital to the stomach. Cascarets are different. They act as a tonic to the bowel muscles, which is the only sensible way to relieve a bilious attack, a sour, acid stomach, or constipated bowels. There is no griping or inconvenience. You naturally return to regularity and cheerfulness. Cascarets cost very little and they work while you sleep.—Adv.

Demonstration Essential.

"Why was it necessary for you to add anything to the voluminous and enlightening remarks already offered on this subject?"

"It wasn't positively necessary," answered Senator Sorghum, "except on my own account. I had to say something to keep the folks out home from thinking I was losing my influence."

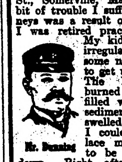
Refused Insurance

Mr. Dunning Left Service in Bad Shape, But Doan's Soon Corrected His Trouble.



Geo. Dunning, ex-Chief Boatswain Mate of the U. S. Navy, 470 Medford St., Somerville, Mass., says: "Every bit of trouble I suffered from my kidneys was a result of exposure at sea. I was retired practically an invalid. My kidneys became more irregular all the time and some nights I was forced to get up every half hour. The kidney secretions burned like fire and were filled with brick-dust-like sediment. My joints swelled and were inflamed. I couldn't bend over to lace my shoes and had to be helped up and down. Right after my retirement from service I tried to get insured, but was turned down because of kidney trouble. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and used sixteen boxes. By that time every sign of kidney trouble left me and my back was like iron; not an ache or pain left. I tried for insurance again and was declared a good risk. I give Doan's Kidney Pills credit for putting me in perfect health."

The Zion Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Fred Peterson at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Nov. 19th. Everybody welcome.

Elmer and Oscar Odie and Bernard Larson went to Middle River Monday where the former made final proof on his wife's homestead.

Several inches of snow fell here Monday and the storm reached almost the magnitude of a blizzard. The roads were blocked and freight trains did not run until Wednesday. This is said to be the worst storm coming so early in the season, that has been experienced in this part of the country for more than twenty years.

Nearly all of the farmers to the east of Holt and many others interested in a better ditch system, attended the hearing at T. R. Falls last Friday. A few witnesses were heard and arguments on both sides were made by the attorneys and then the meeting was postponed to Jan. 29th. In the meantime there is still lots for the farmers to think about and perhaps some work to do in their own interests.

Guy Anderson was unable to make the mail route the forepart of the week on account of the snow drifts which are caused by the brush along the roads. Government regulations provide that patrons must keep the roads open if they wish the mail delivered, also the roads opened to their boxes and the carrier is not required to break roads or shovel a road in the highway or to the boxes of the patrons.

If the brush was cut along the roads lots of this trouble would be eliminated.

STATE BREVITIES

International Falls.—On account of the near approach of the freeze-up period, the city council has decided to suspend street paving for this season.

Jenkins.—The school in Jenkins has been closed two weeks on account of scarlet fever, the malady being attended in two instances with serious results.

East Grand Forks.—Members of the Western Polk County Breeders' association will meet here soon to complete arrangements for the first annual stock sale which will be held here Nov. 28.

Moorhead.—Amendments to the Moorhead city charter, authorizing bond issues for public improvements aggregating $41,500, were recommended to the city council by the charter commission.

Thief River Falls.—A. J. Anderson and County Agent J. J. McCann are the sponsors for the sheep club contest to be held in this city on Nov. 15. The lambs will be exhibited in the lobby of the Citizens' State Bank.

Redwood Falls.—The Redwood Electric Telephone company has taken over the local business of the Tri-State Northwestern exchange. The Northwestern company will maintain a checking office and their long distance service here.

Worthington.—William Schwarts, 22 years old, is dead from a gunshot wound received while hunting with several friends. Schwartz, it is said, was crawling through the grass when he was shot by another member of the party. The charge struck him in the abdomen. An investigation will be made.

Mankato.—Arnold Schulz, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Schulz of Fairmont, was injured in the manual training department of the school. He was using a small circular saw, which is operated by electric power. His left hand was caught in some manner by the saw and lacerated in a painful and serious manner.

Moorhead.—St. Louis county was declared the winner here of the county contest in the Minnesota Potato Growers' association potato show, held in conjunction with the association's annual meeting. Itasca county won second; Clay county, third; Kittson county, fourth; Lake county, fifth; Norman county, sixth; Clearwater county, seventh, and Red Lake county, eighth.

Minneapolis.—Judge Jelley in district court upheld the validity of the state soldiers' bonus b'l. He sustained the demurrer interposed by the attorney general's office to the action brought by A. Gustafson, a taxpayer, attacking the validity of the law. An appeal will be taken immediately to the supreme court in order that an early ruling of that court may be had upon the law.

Duluth.—A convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association will open here Friday, Nov. 14. In connection with the convention the first annual sale of Guernsey cattle will be held under the auspices of the Minnesota Guernsey Breeders' association. Catalogues are out for the first consignment sale and auction of pure bred sires, cows and heifers. E. P. Gibson is chairman of the sales committee. Oliver S. Johnson auctioneer, and W. P. Hicken will act as clerk of sales.

St. Paul.—The $5,000 state soldiers' bonus applications filed to date represent about half of the estimated claims to be filed under the bonus law, according to Major W. A. Curtis, executive officer of the state bonus board. Following preliminary examination, many of the applications will be sent to Washington, where additional information will be obtained regarding the service records of applicants. When these applications are returned the bonus board will begin acting on the claims.

Duluth.—Rather than die by starvation and cold, James Francisco, caretaker for the summer place of C. L. Simmons of Bloomington, Ill., on Wabana Lake, seventeen miles from Coleraine, shot himself. A letter he left explained how he suffered from blood poisoning that rendered him helpless and unable to gather supplies of wood or reach provisions stored in the cellar. The body was found by Jack Hayes, a neighbor. Francisco's signals for help were mistaken for the shots of duck hunters on the lake, it is believed.

St. Paul.—Four Minnesota cities—Eveleth, Crookston, Thief River Falls and Cloquet—held elections last week. Mayors were elected in each of these cities. At Eveleth a returned soldier, Victor E. Essling, was elected mayor, receiving 394 votes to 346 cast for Edward H. Hatch, present mayor. At Cloquet, J. E. Biesen, an attorney, defeated M. K. Whittamore, a dentist, for mayor. Frank A. Grady was elected mayor of Crookston, defeating J. E. Morrissey. The closing of theaters on Sundays was the issue at Thief River Falls. John Bratrud, who opposed such closing, was elected mayor. He received 406 votes to 256 cast for his opponent, N. B. Stevenson.

Winona.—Several suits are threatened as the result of the shooting of four boys at Chatfield, near here, during a Halloween celebration. The shooting is alleged to have been done by Charles Cotton, a Civil war veteran. The affair has caused considerable feeling in that vicinity.

St. Cloud.—The school bond issue submitted to the St. Cloud school district, empowering the board of education to apply to the state of Minnesota for bonds in the amount of $130,000 for a new school building, was carried by a vote of 312 in favor of the issue and 85 opposed.

International Falls.—The city council has rented the Oveson storeroom adjoining the city hall which will be used as a hook and ladder station.

Tyler.—A municipal hospital will be erected in Tyler early in the spring. The committee in charge report that $30,000 has already been subscribed.

New Ulm.—John Schnobrich, son of Martin Schnobrich of New Ulm, lost his left hand in a corn shredder, while assisting in shredding operations at the farm of Henry Reinhart in Cottonwood township.

Hendricks.—Lewis Lende, 21, is in a serious condition after being accidentally shot and severely injured while hunting near Astoria, west of here. He was crawling through a fence with a loaded gun.

Winona.—Permission to close the station at Homer, five miles south of this city, has been granted the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company by the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission.

Virginia.—Growth of Virginia is reflected in the steady gain of enrollment in the local schools. In October the enrollment was 3,394, compared with 3,173 a year ago, an increase of 221. Night classes also are popular.

Stillwater.—On complaint of J. C. Thomas, special agent of the Omaha railroad, Clarence Carlson, 10, and Hartford Ellis, 12, both of Baytown, were arrested on charge of placing obstructions on the tracks of the company in that locality consisting of rocks and iron bolts. The case is in juvenile court.

Hibbing.—Last week's snow storm was a record breaker for these parts, old settlers say, an unprecedented fall of snow for this time of year being reported, interfering with steam and electric railroad traffic and making any sort of getting about a burden. Snow plows were used by the village of Stunts to make roads passable.

Hastings.—The Minnesota Christian Endeavor union, incorporated, was the recipient of an engraved mahogany gavel with a silver plate, suitably inscribed, from the Commercial club of Duluth. The gavel was received by Miss Kate M. Shubert of Hastings, state secretary of the society. It was in commemoration of the union's recent convention held in Duluth.

Crookston.—Although the average price per head for boars, gilts and rams at the first annual sale held at the livestock pavilion was not high, the attendance reached close to 250 and every animal put up was quickly purchased. Twenty-five hundred and thirty-five dollars was what the entire lot of animals, including approximately fifty hogs and ten sheep, totaled.

Winona.—The annual convention of the Southeastern Minnesota Congregational association, which was held here in a two days' session, was arranged in connection with the reopening of the First Congregational church after extensive repairs and remodeling which the church has undergone during the last four months. More than fifty delegates from outside cities were in attendance.

St. Paul.—The State Board of Control, having turned in $1,650,000 on collections for twine and machinery made at Stillwater, Henry Rines, state treasurer, reported a balance of $11,258,282 in Minnesota's cash box. The big remittance by the Board of Control was credited to the state prison revolving fund, after approximately $500,000 had been taken to cover advances to the funds under a new law. The balance will be held until January, when it will be used to buy raw materials for the prison plant.

St. Paul.—Official statistics presented to Governor Burnquist indicate that the high cost of living has caused a number of families in Minnesota to temporarily dispose of their children, so that husband and wife may both obtain employment and live in one or two rooms. High rents, coupled with the high cost of food, has compelled a number of women in distress to turn their children over to the charitable institutions, according to S. W. Dickinson, superintendent of the Children's Home Society of Minnesota, St. Paul. In addition to this method, parents have placed their children in cheap boarding houses, according to Dickinson, and it is alleged that investigations disclose a number of cases of delinquency.

St. Paul.—Specialists and farm bureau men of the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota have started a movement to bring about state-wide co-operation by the co-operative creamery associations. What many regard as certain tendencies of the times, emphasized now and then by charges and statements that certain allied interests are attempting to control the entire food industry of the United States, have prompted the belief that co-operative creamery associations of Minnesota should stand together. Under the plan proposed for more general co-operation by Minnesota co-operative creameries the county is to be the unit and ultimately a powerful state-wide federation is to follow in natural sequence. Owners and managers of private plants will be offered membership in the county organization. Co-operative creameries of Minnesota number more than 600, or an average of seven such plants for every county.

Hibbing.—Two Superior girls, 16 and 18, who started out to see the world by running away from home, were picked up by the police here, and Police Matron Miss Tyler of the Wisconsin city escorted them home yesterday. The girls had been employed as domestics.

Bemidji.—Clifford Gaines was held up about three miles from town on his way to W. G. Schroeder's farm, and was robbed of his watch and $1.11. The robber dragged the young man from his seat on the wagon down to the ground, kicking and otherwise abusing him.

ARMISTICE DAY DULY OBSERVED

Washington Sets Official Pace in Celebrating Anniversary of Eventful Day.

NATION IS GRATEFUL

President Wilson, General Pershing and Secretary Baker Transmit Appropriate Greetings for the Day.

Washington, Nov. 11.—As darkness fell over the national capital last night, three huge illuminated crosses shone out from the high walls of the war risk insurance bureau building, across Lafayette square from the White House, and the celebration of Armistice day, the first anniversary of the cessation of the hostilities in the world war began. The giant symbols were formed by light pouring from selected windows in the otherwise dark facades of the great structure and one of them looked directly down on the square where official Washington will join today in celebrating the new anniversary.

To the country at large, formal messages commemorating the day were sent out by President Wilson, members of his cabinet and General Pershing.

Day Filled With Pride.

The president said to Americans the reflections of Armistice day would be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's services and with gratitude for the victory both because of "the thing from which it had freed us, and because of the opportunity it has given America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the councils of the nations."

The exercise by the American people of practical patriotism during the war, General Pershing said, was an avowal of their firm adherence to the principles of free government that will continue to have great influence upon the progressive thought throughout the world.

Secretary Baker said that while mourning the dead, the nation was grateful for their achievement and for that of their living brothers and that "in the name of both we may hope for an early accomplishment of the terms of peace that shall complete their work upon the battlefields of France."

Today, in the presence of cabinet officers, Generals Pershing and March and many other officials, two redwood trees will be planted in Lafayette square to commemorate the day. An army firing platoon will take part in the ceremony and later engage in mimic warfare with all the tools that trench fighting in France developed.

NORTHWEST IN STORM'S GRIP

Heavy Snowfall Ties Up Traffic at Many Points.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 11.—A record snowfall of more than 18 inches in the past 36 hours, at times accompanied by a 36-mile gale, held the Northwest snowbound from early yesterday morning until midnight last night. In Fargo the precipitation started with a rain at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and it continued to rain until early Sunday morning, when snow started falling.

Street car traffic was blocked early in the morning in this city, the snow plows even being stuck in drifts later in the forenoon. Taxicabs attempted to do business, but in the afternoon they, too, had to give up. Enormous drifts in the streets made virtually every kind of traffic impossible long before the close of the day.

All freight trains running into and out of Fargo were cancelled yesterday afternoon, although the passenger trains attempted to run.

The storm is said to have been the worst on record for this section at so early a date.

FRAZIER ISSUES ULTIMATUM

Tells Coal Operators They Must Open Mines or State Will.

Bismarck, Nov. 11.—Coal mines of the state will be taken over by Governor Frazier for operation during the strike unless by this evening at 6 o'clock the operators will have come to an agreement with the mine workers.

This was announced in a proclamation issued yesterday afternoon from the office of the governor. Facing the calamity of a general fuel famine, due to the shutdown of the mines at a time when one of the worst blizzards for this time of the year in history was sweeping the state. The governor pointed out that the necessity for immediate action was forced upon him.

War Service Bonds Proposed.

Minneapolis, Nov. 11.—War service adustment bonds amoujnting to $1 for each day in the federal service were proposed last night to an American Legion committee at the first national convention opened here yesterday, by Henry D. Lindsley, chairman of the convention, as the solution of the much discussed problem of compensating service men and women for their physical and financial sacrifices. A favorable committee report on the recommendation was expected.

RESERVE RIGHT OF WITHDRAWAL

Senate Passes First Reservation on League Plan by Close Party Vote.

REPUBLICANS UNITED

United States to Be Sole Judge of Right to Withdraw—Sponsors of Reservation Say Will Carry 13 More.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A resolution purposing to safeguard the nation's right to withdraw from membership in the league of nations was adopted by the senate Saturday with every Republican senator and six Democrats voting for it or paired in its support.

Holding the whip hand by a safe majority, the Republican leaders swept aside every suggested modification and carried the reservation through exactly as approved by the foreign relations committee.

Two Republican senators of the mild reservation group led a stubborn fight to alter it, but after they had failed, voted for adoption.

Vote Is 50 to 35.

The final count was 50 to 35, and pairs announced for the absentees. Five Democrats, Senators Reed, Missouri; Gore, Oklahoma; Smith, Georgia; Walsh, Massachusetts, and Chamberlain, Oregon, voted in the affirmative while Senator Shield, Democrat, Tennessee, was paired in favor of the reservation.

The first of the fourteen proposed by the committee to carry out a program which its sponsors say has been pledged a safe majority throughout, the reservation provides:

Text of Reservation.

"The United States so understands and construes Article I that in case of notice of withdrawal from the league of nations, as provided in said article, the United States shall be the sole judge as to whether all its international obligations and all its obligations under said covenant have been fulfilled and notice of withdrawal by the United States may be given by a concurrent resolution of the Congress of the United States."

MUST CANCEL STRIKE ORDER

Anderson, Federal Judge, So Directs Union Miners' Leaders.

Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—The United Mine Workers of America were on Saturday ordered to withdraw the strike order under which 400,000 men quit work on November 1.

The mandate was issued by Judge A. B. Anderson, of the United States district court, after a hearing in which the union attorneys fought vainly for a chance to present arguments on the right to strike.

The union was given until November 11, at 6 p. m., to issue the cancellation. The date was selected because so many defendants were absent. The union attorneys explained the absentees must be summoned by telegraph from many parts of the country to issue the cancellation order.

The attorneys announced that President Lewis and Secretary Green of the union purposed obeying the court order, but that they could not speak for their fellow officials.

BLAME GARY AND FEDERATION

Senate Investigation Committee Fix Responsibility for Steel Strike.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Refusal of Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation to meet union representatives and the determination of the American Federation of Labor to organize the steel industry, rather than any complaint of the steel workers themselves, brought about the steel strike, is the opinion of the senate committee which investigated the controversy.

In its report, submitted to the senate, the committee characterized all strikes as "industrial barbarism," and recommended establishment of a permanent mediation board similar to the former war labor board as a means of settling industrial disputes. The board should have, the committee said, powers of compulsory investigation, admitting it to all facts, but compulsory arbitration was not recommended.

M. E. A. Will Not Affiliate.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—Opposition to affiliation with the American Federation of Labor was voiced by speakers at the concluding sessions of the annual convention of the Minnesota Educational association here today. A new constitution providing for several divisional or district organizations was adopted.

Federation May Spurn Farmers' Call.

Washington, Nov. 10.—American Federation of Labor officials express surprise at the action of officials of the Farmers' National union in calling a conference of farmers and wage earners in Chicago, November 21 to 22. Federation officials said they could see no reason for the proposed conference in view of the call issued for a conference here December 13 of chiefs of labor unions and leaders of farm organizations. The American Federation of Labor may refuse official compliance.

EASY NOW TO SAW LOGS AND CUT DOWN TREES

Only one man, or even a boy, with the improved Ottawa Engine Log Saw can easily cut twenty-five to forty cords a day, and at a cost of less than 2c per cord. This machine, which outdoes all others, has a heavy, cross cut saw driven by a powerful especially designed 4-cycle gasoline engine. It's a fast money-maker for those using it, and does more than ten men could do, either cutting down trees, sawing logs, or buzzing branches while you rest. When not sawing, the engine can be used for other work requiring power.

The entire machine is mounted on truck wheels to make it easy to move to the trees or logs, and from cut to cut on a log without stopping the engine. For moving on the road, the truck wheels are placed parallel with the skids and the rig hauled straight ahead. The wheels turn on a two-way spindle. You do not have to take them off, but can change direction of wheel travel by merely taking out a pin.

The Ottawa can be fitted for sawing down trees. It cuts level with surface of ground, thereby getting all the timber and leaving no stumps sticking up. An automatic friction clutch stops the saw in case of undue resistance. Two men can fall forty to fifty trees a day in ordinary timber.

The whole outfit is compact, simple, durable against a lifetime of hard wear. It sells for a low price and is fully guaranteed for reliable operation in the hands of every one who has trees to cut down and logs to work up.

Full information and low factory price to you can be had simply by addressing the Ottawa Mfg. Company, 2724 Wood St., Ottawa, Kansas.

Why Hurry?

One of the colored convicts at Leavenworth had knocked the ball over the prison wall in a baseball game and was tearing around the bases at terrific speed, making hard work out of an easy "homer," whereat one of the boarders shouted:

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

"Mister," an Italian of middle age addressed Lou Guernsey, "I want to be incorporated."

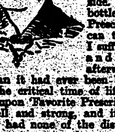
By questioning the Italian, Lou gained the information that his client was a man of odd jobs, mowing lawns, carrying coal, washing windows, etc.

"You see," explained the client, "I am going to have some advertising cards printed and I think it would give an influence if I say on them I am incorporated."

"But how," asked Guernsey, "do you expect to have yourself incorporated?"

"I have no knowledge," was the reply, "but if it costs, I will pay!"—Los Angeles Times.

Tell All The World "PAIN IN MY SIDE"



Davenport, Iowa.—"I wish I could tell all the world how much I owe to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was nearing middle life when my last child came and my health was miserable. I had continuous pain in my right side. I took nine bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and can truly say that I suffered the least, and my health afterwards was better than it had ever been before. Going thru the critical time of life, I depended solely upon 'Favorite Prescription' to keep me well and strong, and it did not fail me. I had none of the distressing symptoms most women have at this period, such as heat flashes and dizzy spells. I came thru in excellent health and am still just as strong and well as I was thirty years ago, thanks to this best of medicines, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Alice Van Arnam, 1705 W. 4th St.

FOR ALL AILING WOMEN

Foley, Minn.—"Some years ago Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured me of a case of woman's weakness, and since that time I have become the mother of seven healthy children. I have always taken the 'Prescription' and not one of my children was ever puny or sickly. They have grown up strong, and I have been in the best of health these many years, due I am sure to the constant use of this medicine. I hardly know what I would have done without it. I feel safe in recommending it to all ailing women. There is nothing better.

"We also keep Dr. Pierce's 'Pleasant Pellets' in the house for immediate use."—Mrs. George Walbridge, Lock Box 318.

Home-Made Christmas Presents

Pretty Gifts That You Can Make for Your Friends at Slight Expense

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Home-Made Toys

The perennial rag doll that appears this year is made of any ribbed goods—as a ribbed stocking—tinted pink. It is cut out by a pattern, sewed and stuffed with cotton. The face and hair are the result of red, black and white water color. The doll is then dressed up in blue cotton crepe and a blue stocking cap.

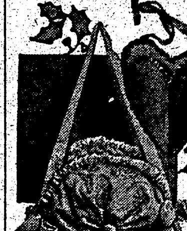
A ball made from scraps of velvet is a fine gift for a very little boy. It takes twelve pieces, measuring three inches across at their widest part to make it. They are sewed together, leaving an opening for stuffing with cotton, and the brighter the colors used the better.

Gifts Made of Paper

Among inexpensive gifts that are at the same time elegant and worth while there are many little convenient articles made of prettily colored, heavy paper. Telephone and laundry lists, small portfolios, envelopes in which to place memoranda, etc., are among them. Two articles made of bright blue mottled paper are shown in the picture. The envelope for recipes is made by folding a straight strip of the paper into a pocket and flap. The sides of the pocket are fastened down with little bows of blue ribbon and the flap is ornamented with a painted spray of flowers in pink. The lettering is done in black.

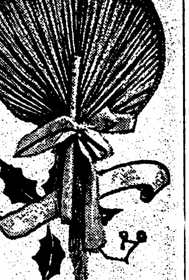
A long strip of the same paper folded over at each end carries one or more sheets of white paper on which a telephone list is to be written. Small white squares outlined with black ornament it and suggest that this is a man's list. It is tied with a bow of blue ribbon at the top.

Little Wall Pockets



Here are two pretty wall pockets to hang beside or on the dressing table, ready to hold whatever their owners choose to put in them. Disks of cardboard covered with gayly printed ribbon make the frivolous and dainty pocket at the left, and it is suspended by plain satin ribbon that ends in small bows at the sides. At the right two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard are covered smoothly with red satin and fastened together. The edges are finished with narrow puffing of ribbon, and the same ribbon serves to suspend the pocket. This smooth and matter-of-fact affair is evidently intended as a gift for a man. Two hearts with but a single pocket are quite meaningful. But one might use a diamond, a spade or even a club to make a similar pocket, and anyone of them will hold a deck of cards, score cards, pencils and such things, or pins, needles and thread for a bachelor.

A Novelty in Fans



Small palm-leaf fans, all decked out with pretty furbelows are among the novelties that have been brought out for Christmas gifts. These fans are first painted any desired color and then varnished. Then the edge is bound with ribbon having a picot edge or with gold or silver braid or other fancy binding. A spray of millinery flowers is tied against the handle, on one side of the fan, and the handle wound with ribbon that is tied in a bow below the flowers. Or flowers may be painted on the fan or made with sealing wax, as in the fan pictured here. This sample is bound with silver braid and has a long tassel of silver tinsel besides a ribbon bow on the handle. It is pretty in turquoise blue, rose color, red, etc., with ribbon and flowers in colors that harmonize, and is easy to make at home.

A Fad for Flowers

There is a fad for artificial flowers to be used instead of natural flowers for household decoration just now and every home-loving woman will be sure to enjoy a gift of this kind. Small garden roses, nasturtiums and chrysanthemums are great favorites and these particular flowers are cleverly made. They appear in baskets and vases as shown above and make a charming Christmas gift.

Pretty Gift Cushions

Cushions were never so numerous or so beautiful within the memory of the oldest gift seeker as they are now. They are made for chairs, window seats, lounges, couches and the floor, of all sorts of cheerful materials. Here is a handsome specimen in which brocaded and plain satin ribbon are used and embellished with satin-covered cord and a cluster of roses and leaves made of satin ribbon.

Christmas Slippers

At the top is a gay little pair of ribbon slippers for the young girl. In the center there are elderdown bedroom slippers for any member of the family, and just below a pair of satin bootees for baby, lined with plush or elderdown and bordered with fur. At the bottom is a pair of handsome bedroom slippers made of ribbon that will delight any woman.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv.

Influence.

The high school teacher was giving a review biography of John Milton. "His life influenced a great many of his poems," she told the class, "and Milton had a very unhappy life indeed. His first wife and he were very unhappy." She talked a few minutes and then asked: "Now what poem did this unhappy marriage cause him to write?"

"Paradise Lost," came back from one of the listeners.

Shave With Cuticura Soap
And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Adv.

Applied Knowledge.

Our little boy asks so many questions and so many of them we are unable to answer, so we give him this answer: "That's just nature, son." One day I asked him how he got his face so dirty, and he said: "That's just nature, mother."—Chicago Tribune.

PLACE NAMES THAT PUZZLE

Europeans Said to Find It Hard to Master the Designations of the Various States.

Down on the wharves they tell a story of how two British sailors were rowing a skiff under the stern of the battleship Ohio as she lay in an English port.

"A ho, a haitch, and a 10," said one of the limies; "wot a 'ell of a name for a ship!"

We made very merry over Russian and Polish names. When it came to the Balkans we were free to confess that we didn't know whether the Dobrudja was a river or a breakfast food. But it is now borne in upon us that our own place names may not mean much more to Europeans than some of theirs mean to us.

Half the names of our states are pure Choctaw to all but educated Europeans, and not much more to many of those. A celebrated violinist said he had long ago given up trying to comprehend American geography or Indian names, and simply bought his railroad ticket to any place his manager designated.

"You ought to translate them," he added plaintively.

His host confessed:

"We can't."—Boston Globe.

ASPIRIN FOR COLDS

Name "Bayer" is on Genuine Aspirin—say Bayer

Insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer package," containing proper directions for Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, and Rheumatism. Name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for nineteen years. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Origin of Names of States.

Connecticut is an Indian name meaning "Long River;" Maine is regarded as of French origin from the province of Maine; Massachusetts is an Indian word meaning "Place of Great Hills;" New Hampshire is English, coming from Hampshire county, England; Vermont is French, Vert Mont, meaning "Green Mountain." With reference to Rhode Island there is a difference of opinion, some claiming that it was named for the island of Rhodes and others for a prominent settler named Rhodes.

After all, is it sensitiveness—or just touchiness?

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending and an all day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney complaint. If you feel tired all the time and are annoyed by dizzy spells, headaches and irregular kidney action, you have additional proof and should act quickly to prevent more serious kidney trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is recommended everywhere by grateful users. Ask your neighbor!

A Minnesota Case

H. M. Elfert, 335 E. Winnifred St., St. Paul, Minn., says: "I had been a sufferer for years with kidney trouble and the awful pains through my back and kidneys put me past going for three years. Rheumatic pains were the worst trouble and had me doubled up like an old man. Most of the time I spent lying on my back as helpless as a child. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am a strong man today and can do a good day's work."

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloat after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big 50c box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

TELLS OF THRILLS WHEN SHELLS FLY

MAN WHO SAW WAR ON FOUR FRONTS ESCAPES DEATH MANY TIMES WHILE SERVING SOLDIERS.

Chicago.—More than 700 Y. M. C. A. workers saw service with the soldiers of the American expeditionary force in the front lines during the last months of the war.

Frank M. Van Epps, seriously wounded while serving as a Y. M. C. A. worker in the Argonne, told of some of his experiences in a talk at the Y. M. C. A. college here.

On the way to France last April on the Oronzo, Van Epps and 56 other "Y" men narrowly escaped drowning when the ship was torpedoed by a German U-boat.

Van Epps was divisional secretary of the Y. M. C. A. outfit. He worked with the Fifth division until the armistice was signed. He was dressed up in a doughboy's uniform when he arrived here. A limp and a kitbag slung over his shoulder containing what is left of his equipment complete his souvenirs of more than six months' service overseas.

Van Epps saw the war on four fronts in France and Alsace, serving in the first-line trenches on two of them. When the Oronzo was torpedoed on April 29 60 miles off the coast of Wales U-boats "got" two out of a convoy of seven steamships. The Oronzo went down in 12 minutes after she was struck, and Van Epps and other "Y" men lost all their baggage. They were picked up by a torpedo-boat destroyer and landed at Hollyhead, Wales.

In Front Line.

In southern and middle Alsace, Van Epps was in the first-line trenches and at St. Mihiel, when the drive opened, he became a stretcher bearer after his supplies ran out. Getting word to shift to the Argonne, he traveled all night by train, on trucks and afoot, and spent the next three weeks sleeping in shell holes and trenches when he was not at work.

At Madedeine farm, on October 18, Van Epps and Thomas F. Hadley of Iowa, another Y. M. C. A. man, set up shop in an old barn. All but three of the twenty-five "Y" workers went back to get supplies. The barn had been under shell fire for several days, but Van Epps and Hadley decided it was good enough to sleep in. They built a bed of boxes of jam, with a tub of chewing tobacco for a pillow and lay down.

Half a mile back, an American battery was hammering the Germans, and two German airplanes came over looking for the position. They let go two bombs which landed on each side of the barn. Soon came a third, which struck the roof, bringing down a mass of rafters and beams and scattering shrapnel. A splinter was driven through the calf of one of Hadley's legs and a piece of shell tore through both of Van Epps' thighs.

After dressing stations and field hospitals had finished with them they spent half a day in an ambulance and then were put aboard a French hospital train, where they remained another two days. One of these days was Sunday, so Van Epps, at the suggestion of some of the doughboys, "put on" a service, conducting it propped up in his stretcher.

Soldiers to Study.

Paris.—With the arrival of General Rees from Washington on detail from the war department to take charge of the army educational work, progress has been rapid along the lines laid down in the program submitted by the Y. M. C. A. army educational commission. Text books required to satisfy the demands of the men for instructions are coming overseas rapidly, according to Prof. John Erskine of Columbia university, chairman of the "Y" commission; post schools are starting up at the rate of 40 to a division and groups of officers and men are being absorbed by French and British universities to the limit of their capacity.

General Praises Y. M. C. A.

Paris.—There are some fools in the Y. M. C. A., according to Brig. Gen. J. F. O'Neil of the Ninetieth division. "Our Y. M. C. A. is everything to be desired," said the general. "Among the employees are some fools. One of them was such a fool that he would not stay away from the front line, and he got mussed up with Boche shells and other projectiles that we were forced to recommend him for a Distinguished Service Cross. That is a sample of the men you have sent to us. Please keep this work up, and whether I am commanding this division or not, the things that you have done will make a lasting impression upon it."

Honor "Y" Worker in Russia.

News that the general commanding the American and allied expedition in northern Russia had recommended Howard D. Merrill of New York, a Y. M. C. A. worker, for suitable recognition of his cool behavior during a surprise attack on the forces he was serving, is conveyed in a delayed cablegram received at the Y. M. C. A. national war work council offices.

Plan Educational Courses.

English universities are preparing to welcome the American officers and men designated to take collegiate, special or post-graduate courses there in accordance with the scheme of the army educational commission conducted by the United States army and the

Last year, tuberculosis, a preventable disease, caused the death of 2430 people in the state, the majoring being between 15 and 45 years of age, and many of them young fathers and mothers with children dependent upon them for economic support and moral guidance. There are 21,000 active cases of tuberculosis in Minnesota today.

Disease annually takes a greater toll in life and property than does war—even than did the World war.

ST. CHARLES WOMAN WAS FORTUNATE

It Was a Lucky Day for Mrs. Wiethoelter When She Read About Doan's

"I had such awful cutting pains in the small of my back and hips, I often had to cry out," says Mrs. Ernest Wiethoelter, 550 Madison St., St. Charles, Mo. "The pain was knife-like and I couldn't turn in bed, in fact I was almost helpless. My feet and ankles swelled badly, my hands were puffed up and there were swellings under my eyes. I often got so dizzy I had to sit down to keep from falling and my health was completely broken down. The kidney secretions pained terribly in passage and in spite of all the medicine I took, I kept getting worse until I was a wreck.

"By chance I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some. After I had used half a box there was a change and I continued to improve; the pains, aches and swellings left and my health returned."

Sworn to before me,
WM. F. WOLTER, Notary Public.

ALMOST TWO YEARS LATER, Mrs. Wiethoelter said: "I think as highly of Doan's as ever. Whenever I have used them, they have benefited me."

HEADACHE

Often Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloat and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour bloat, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

PRESIDENT TO POCKET TREATY

Such Is Threat if Lodge Reservations Are Attached When Pact Is Passed.

WAITS SENATE ACTION

With Treaty Virtually Ready for Final Vote, Both Sides Stiffen Resistance—Democrats Pin Hopes on Mild Reservationists.

Washington, Nov. 18.—On the eve of a final vote on the peace treaty, President Wilson gave the senate to understand yesterday that unless it modified the reservations already adopted he would take the treaty back to the White House and lock it up in his desk.

The first effect of the warning was to stiffen the lines on both sides of the senate fight. Then compromise proposals of many kinds were thrown out by the Democrats in a final effort to break into the majority program. They found the treaty's Republican friends, all of whom had voted for the reservations, disposed to listen but to promise nothing, and last night the life of the treaty seemed to hang upon a slender thread.

Decision Wednesday.

A decision one way or the other is planned for Wednesday. Today the senate will remain in session until it has cleared away all proposed reservations, leaving nothing to do but act upon the ratification resolution itself. Four reservations, two of them proposed by the foreign relations committee, were voted down today and none were adopted.

Will Unite for Final Test.

Yesterday's efforts at a compromise were conducted in a roundabout way, Senator Hitchcock declaring he would reserve his direct offer until after the mild reservationists had been released from their pledges to the majority by defeat of the majority resolution of ratification. He had intended to bring all the treaty's friends on both sides of the chamber into conference yesterday, but he found the Republicans unwilling to negotiate until they had completed the program to which they had agreed.

KANSAS TO OPERATE MINES

Eight-Hour Day Proposed for Miners as State Prepares to Mine Coal.

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 18.—The large coal mining properties of Crawford and Cherokee counties last evening passed into the control of the state of Kansas when the state supreme court issued orders and named receivers for the properties. The action followed the filing of quo warranto proceedings by Attorney General Richard A. Hoplins to bring about the receivership.

The average daily production of the mines affected is said to be 36,000 tons. Under the receivership Governor Allen hopes to have the mines in operation by the end if the week.

John Crawford, state commissioner of labor, has suggested to the governor that the miners be asked to work on an 8-hour day basis with Saturday erties. They can fix wages, get out ency.

Under the order issued by the supreme court, the receivers have full control of the mines and mining propday preparing a reply to the demands the coal, arrange for its sale and distribution.

League Opponent Locked in Car.

Ortonville, Minn., Nov. 18.—Ernest Lundeen, former congressman from the Fifth Minnesota district, who was scheduled to speak at a local theater last night against the league of nations, was taken from the stage by members of the local post of the American Legion, escorted to the railroad tracks and locked in a refrigerator car on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. He was later released at Appleton by trainmen, according to a report.

Progress in Coal Conference.

Washington, Nov. 18.—There were evidences of real progress yesterday in the wage scale negotiations between coal miners and operators of the central competitive field, although no meeting of the joint wage scale committee was held. The conference was postponed until today at the request of the operators, who spent the day preparing a reply ti the demands resubmitted Saturday by the workers.

Italian Ex-Premiers Elected.

Rome, Nov. 17.—Giovanni Giolitti, Paolo Boselli, Antonio Salandra, Vittorio Orlando, all former premiers, and Signor Raimondo, have been reelected to the chamber, according to latest election returns.

Fatal Accident at Williston.

Williston, N. D., Nov. 18.—One man was instantly killed, another barely escaped death, while a third was seriously injured in a series of mining accidents here yesterday. Amos Sarff, 44 years old, was killed when a solid lump of coal weighing about two tons fell on him in the Lovejoy mine east of Williston. It required the combined strength of six men with crowbars, according to witnesses, to move the block of coal from the body of the victim. He is survived by a large family.

Fabrics for Paper.

For a long time we have derived many of our most interesting fabrics from Japan, and it would be hard to find a woman's wardrobe that did not contain some fabric that was of Japanese design or that was actually made in that land of chrysanthemums and geisha girls. But it is only in the immediate present that the proposition of getting clothes already made from Japan has presented itself. No, they would not be kimonos or obis or anything of that sort; they would be made according to the latest occidental standards and would be especially designed and executed for the American taste. But why not? Wouldn't you be interested to see a blouse made of georgette in Japanese design, as dainty and well finished as your American taste would demand, but distinctive with that distinction that comes along in oriental workmanship?

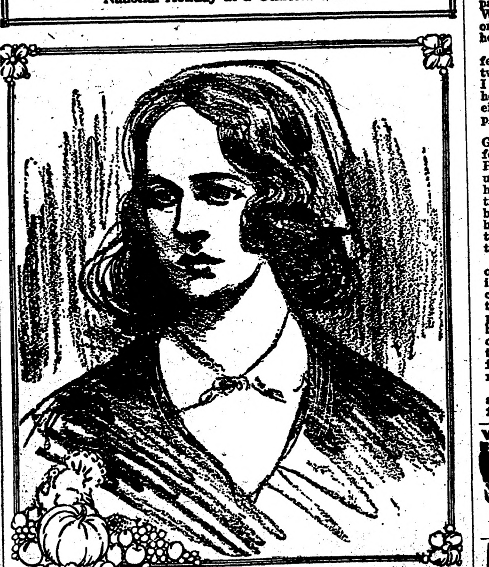
SAVED HER LIFE

Morrison, Iowa.—"Dr. Pierce's remedies and the professional advice received from the specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. (which I followed to the letter), saved my life when I was a girl and I have had cause to feel grateful for more than forty years. When I was about sixteen years of age I fell from my horse and was terribly injured internally. A short time after this an immense bunch formed on my right hip which doctors neglected to lance and consequently my entire system was poisoned. I not only became terribly emaciated but my body was a mass of running sores and my right limb drew up under me and became helpless. I was in bed for more than six months and all hope for my recovery had been given up when someone told my father about Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, where they not only manufactured some wonderful remedies but also gave advice free, so he wrote for advice, and in a very short time we were very thankful that he did, because the first half bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' helped me so much that I was able to raise my head from the pillow, my appetite returned and I was able to sleep. Then the sores commenced to heal and I knew that I had started on the right track.

"It took five years to bring me back to my original good health but I took no remedies but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets'—with the approval of my doctor all the time. This was forty years ago and I am still in the best of health. I have never had any sign of a blood disorder since or any ailment due to impurity left in my system, and I feel quite confident in recommending Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a blood purifier. The 'Favorite Prescription' I found equally as good in toning up the womanly organs, and I could not have kept house without the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Every member of my family has found them to be unequaled as a purgative and liver tonic, and we have often had to drive a good many miles from home to get them."—Mrs. N. P. Jensen, P. O. Box 100.

MOTHER OF THANKSGIVING DAY

How Sarah Josepha Hale Succeeded in Establishing the National Holiday at a Uniform Time



MRS. SARAH JOSEPHA HALE, "THE MOTHER OF THANKSGIVING"

IT WAS a patriotic and philanthropic widow who gave us our national Thanksgiving day and Philadelphia, Liberty's old cradle, was naturally the home of the enterprise. This heroine, who in the Hall of Fame deserves a place amongst the country's mothers, was Sarah Josepha Hale, an editor whose Ladies' Magazine and Godey's Lady's Book gave unto our grandmammas the latest styles in hoops and pantalettes.

When Mrs. Hale got down to work on the Thanksgiving problem that item on Uncle Sam's calendar was badly muddled, but finally, with the aid of President Lincoln, she brought order out of chaos. Let us first see how the complications came about:

Hot, Turkeyless Thanksgiving.

Turkeyless and hot was our first national Thanksgiving day, appointed by congress, although held in midsummer—July 20, 1775—it set the Thursday precedent, religiously followed during the past two generations, although not immediately respected, for the second national Thanksgiving day occurred Friday, May 17, 1776. Two years later Wednesday was the day, but after Washington took control of affairs Thursday was preferred.

The nation's first official thanks promoters were committees, usually of three, appointed by the continental congress in the days before we had a proclamation recommending to the governors of the states that a designated date be observed as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer. These committees appear to have been members of congress, except in 1778, when the two chaplains of congress were directed to prepare the draft.

Washington helped to promote the nation's thanks on two notable occasions before he became president—the first being during his desolate winter at Valley Forge, when he directed that his army on December 18, 1777, the date appointed by congress, "remain in its present quarters and that the chaplains perform divine service with their several corps and brigades."

Picturesque Maytime Feast.

A more festive program was arranged by the general the following spring, when he ordered his troops to observe May 7, 1878, as a day of thanksgiving for the aid given by France to the patriotic cause. Happily, his "orderly book" outlining in great detail the ceremony to be observed has been preserved.

"Upon a signal given the whole army will huzza 'Long live the king of France,'" he directs. This huzza was then to be followed by the booming of cannon, a general discharge of musketry, another huzza, "Long live the European powers!" then more cannon, more musketry fire and a final huzza, "The American States!"

Two years of our history saw two Thanksgiving days each, and both were wartime years. In 1776, May 17 and December 11 were both designated, while in 1863 Lincoln designated Thursday, August 6, as a special Thanksgiving day in advance of the autumnal feast of the last Thursday in November. The summer holiday was a special thanksgiving for victory, as had been, in fact, the only national Thanksgiving day in 1862.

From Madison's time to Lincoln's there were no national thanksgivings proclaimed by presidents, although the festival was observed annually in New England and in New York, as also in the scattered Episcopal congregations, whose Book of Common Prayer since 1789 has designated the first Thursday in each November for giving thanks in the churches unless civil authority should designate another date for this purpose.

Greatest of Festivals.

In New England, where it had been an institution since 1621, Thanksgiving day continued all the while to outrank even Christmas as a festival of joy, feasting and family reunion.

On becoming governor of New York John Jay endeavored to establish it in that state as an annual institution, but his political enemies branded his proclamation as an attempt to stir up religious prejudice in his favor and he made no further attempts.

Governor Clinton, however, renewed the effort and was successful, but New York's Thanksgiving did not coincide with New England's, which, until the middle of the last century, occurred a week later than the Empire state's. Searching old newspaper files we learn how Thanksgiving was celebrated in these times. I found the other day a statement that in 1858 10,000 people after eating one Thanksgiving dinner in New York city, had gone to their early homes in New England to enjoy another, a week later.

Thanksgiving soon became an annual, though local, institution in most of the western states, which had been settled largely by New Yorkers and New Englanders, but the South was tardy in adopting the idea.

Grace for Thanksgiving

FOR laughter and the love of friends,
We thank Thee,
For sorrows that Thy wisdom sends,
We thank Thee,
For Thy most kindly graciousness,
For peace, dear peace, for plenteousness,
For all these blessings we possess,
We thank Thee, Lord.

Although Governor Johnson of Virginia designated Thanksgiving day in 1853, his successor, Governor Wise, when requested to do so, publicly declined on the ground that he had no authority to interfere in the religious matters of the people.

Meanwhile, in Philadelphia, Mrs. Hale was wielding her facile pen in a zealous crusade to have Thanksgiving day established as a national festival and observed upon a uniform date throughout the country. For 20 years she persisted in this agitation, not only through the columns of the two magazines which she edited, but in letters which she wrote to all the presidents and governors.

By agreeing to establish the precedent of proclaiming the holiday on the last Thursday of each November, Lincoln at last crowned her tireless efforts with success, and no president has failed to emulate his example.

So Sarah Josepha Hale may be rightfully termed the mother of our annual nation-wide festival of Thanksgiving.—John Elfreth Watkins in Utica Saturday Globe.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY

THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Toupalik, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

Get a box of Cascarets at the drug store and rid your liver, stomach and bowels of the excess bile, poisons, and waste which are keeping you miserable. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never inconvenience. They cost so little and work while you sleep.—Adv.

Stock Raising in WESTERN CANADA

is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, oats, barley, and flax have been made in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grasses, good water, enormous fodder crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms

Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre

—land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets.

If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.

"No," said Mr. Chuggins, "I'm leaving it around in that apparently careless manner as a trap. LISTEN TO AMBITION'S VOICE

Desirable Companion May Fail to Call Again if She Is Not Accorded Recognition.

Most young people seem to think that ambition is a quality that is born in one and which cannot be materially changed, but the greatest ambition may be materially injured in many different ways. The habit of procrastination, of postponing, the habit of picking out the easier tasks and putting off the difficult ones, for example, will very seriously impair the ambition. Whatever affects the ideals affects the ambition.

Ambition often begins very early to knock for recognition. If we do not heed its voice, if it gets no encouragement after appealing to us for years, it gradually ceases to trouble us, because, like any other unused quality or function, it deteriorates or disappears when unused.

Be careful how you discourage or refuse to heed that inner voice which commands you to go forward, for if you do it will become less and less insistent until finally it will cease to prod you and when ambition is dead deterioration has set in.—From "Ambition and Success," by Orison Swett Marden.

On the Contrary.

Marion had been out several evenings in succession and looked tired, so mother suggested she retire early instead of going out again that evening. When little Dick came downstairs from her room mother said: "Well, is sister making up her mind to stay in?" He replied: "I should say not, she's making up her face to go out."

HIS SCHEME DIDN'T WORK

This Colonel Evidently Was Wise as to the Foxy Ways of His Junior Officers.

In the regular army it is one of the customs of the service, when at a regular army post, for the junior officers to call upon the senior officers. To comply with this custom without making the calls, the junior officer frequently waits until he knows the senior officer is away and then calls at his home and leaves a card. One night when I was stationed at a post in Texas, I saw the colonel down town and on my way home stopped at the colonel's quarters and put my card under the door. I was just leaving the porch when I noticed a car at the gate, and on closer inspection I noted that the colonel was in the car and was awaiting me at the gate. He laughingly said: "Kind of late to make a call, isn't it, Lieut.?" This became one of the colonel's best stories, and to say that I was more than once embarrassed would be putting it mild.—Exchange.

Taxing the Millionaires.

Under the new scale of income tax imposed by the recent United States revenue bill every citizen in receipt of $150,000 or more a year must pay at least half of it to the state.

Mr. Henry Ford, for example, is said to have an income of $25,000,000 a year, of which the revenue authorities will claim between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000—a sum sufficient to keep 1,000 families in modest comfort forever.

But even Mr. Ford gets off lighter than Mr. John D. Rockefeller, who is reputed to have an income of $100,000,000 a year. Mr. Rockefeller's contribution to the treasury, it is said, will not fall short of $80,000,000 for the current year—a sum which represents 2,000 times his weight in gold.

Formerly Was Oyster King.

Jacob Ockers, known as the "Oyster King," who died recently at his Long Island (N. Y.) home, was the first exporter of oysters to Europe, and his name came to be known in all markets where the blue point oyster was found in foreign countries. His foreign shipments the first year amounted to only 1,000 barrels. Later his export business became the largest of its kind in the United States, and amounted to 30,000 barrels annually.

NEWS OF STATE TERSELY TOLD

Recent Happenings in Minnesota Given in Brief Items for Busy Readers.

St. Cloud.—Fourteen cases of diphtheria have been reported and are now under quarantine in this city.

Moorhead.—The Clay county teachers' institute was held in the observation room of the Moorhead normal school this week.

Stillwater.—On the way for 22 years, a postal card addressed to August Ryden, deputy county auditor, has arrived. It was mailed at Harris, Minn., January 29, 1897.

St. Paul.—More arrests in the Ramsey county treasurer's office tangle will be made soon, according to R. D. O'Brien, county attorney. Additional forged checks have been unearthed.

Stillwater.—T. W. Toten, president of the Cosmopolitan bank of Stillwater, accidentally shot and killed himself in his home here. He was cleaning his rifle, when it was discharged.

Winona.—By a vote of 115 to 36 the Lewiston Consolidated School district at a special election, approved the issuance of bonds in the sum of $75,000 for the construction of a new high school building.

Minneapolis.—Trials of Ralph La Count and Oscar Lundgren accused jointly of the murder of La Count's wife, Mrs. Madelyn La Count, Sept. 12, were continued indefinitely at the request of their attorneys.

Fairmont.—With "America First" as their slogan, 200 citizens from 86 counties, members of the America First association, met here to plan a comprehensive program of Americanism to extend throughout the state.

International Falls.—A class of 150 was confirmed at St. Thomas Catholic church by Rt. Rev. Bishop McNicholas of Duluth. It was the first confirmation service held here for perhaps eight year, therefore the class was a large one.

Bemidji.—The coroner's jury at Black Duck decided that the death of Anthony Schweigel, who was shot by his father, Andrew Schweigel, while hunting last Tuesday, was accidental. The father testified that he shot at a deer and that the bullet glanced off a tree, hitting his son.

Mankato.—Mankato is to have a winter fete or carnival that will rival anything ever held in Southern Minnesota if the enthusiastic sentiment expressed by business and professional men and city officials at the meeting just held can be taken as an indication of the support to be given.

Moorhead.—Twenty per cent of the milk marketed by several dairies in the vicinity of Moorhead is not from herds that have been given the tuberculosis test. This point develops in a report of the Moorhead dairy inspector who advised the city council that he had condemned several sources of milk supply as unsanitary.

Morristown.—H. E. Hershey, proprietor of a motion picture theater here, and his helper, Leonard Witter, 18 years old, were burned to death when the theater was partly destroyed by fire. An explosion in the operator's booth is held responsible. Hershey was 38 years old and unmarried. Witter evidently was trapped in the operator's room. No patrons were in the building when the explosion took place.

St. Paul.—Little acts of kindness will be rewarded after many years in the case of Peter J. Lavalle, St. Paul pawnshop inspector, who is the only known heir to an estate of $35,000 left by Anthoni Genini at Marshall, Minn. Thirty-three years ago Mr. Lavalle read newspapers and talked French to Genini on cold winter nights, when he was a roomer in Lavalle's mother's rooming house. After all these years, Genini is repaying his kindness in hard cash.

Hills.—A. C. Finke whose case against several prominent citizens of Rock county was dismissed at Mankato where it had been called for trial in federal court, will again start action, according to a statement given out by him. Mr. Finke, at one time a member of the state legislature of this district, brought suit for $50,000 damages against numerous Hills citizens and others, charging that his residence at Hills had been painted yellow.

St. Paul.—Elmer Stuart Smith, arrested at Centralia, Wash., in connection with the massacre of four American Legion members during the parade on Armistice day, is remembered by former students of Macalester college and the St. Paul College of Law. He was graduated from Macalester in 1910 and the college of law in 1913. Professors at the St. Paul colleges describe Smith as "a high type of student," "a conscientious worker" and "scrupulously honest." He played tackle on the Macalester football team and was prominent in school activities. At that time he said his home was Lisbon, N. D.

Coleraine.—To acquire ideas of modern, up-to-date high schools to be adopted in the proposed new building here, Supt. J. A. Vandyke of the local schools, members of the board of education and Architect W. T. Bray of Duluth visited the Fargo schools and those of Minneapolis.

Coleraine.—Pursuant to the request of Mrs. Ina Edwards, a daughter living at Grand Rapids, Mich., the body of her father, James Francisco, who killed himself in his lonely home on Lake Wabena, seventeen miles from here, while suffering from blood poisoning, was shipped to that point.

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N.J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her

Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

WORSE THAN DEADLY POISON GAS

Kidney disease is no respector of persons. It attacks young and old alike. In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Headache, indigestion, insomnia, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, difficulty in urinating, all are indication of trouble brewing in your kidneys.

When such symptoms appear you will almost certainly find quick relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules.

Unionism in a slightly different phase is being used by students of Shanghai, who have in their organization some 20,000 of their number, one-fourth of whom are girls. These unionists desire—not shorter hours, not other teachers—but they have struck for freedom of speech and the preservation of the freedom of the press. The movement, it is reported, is spreading to other cities. Thus come the evidences of the great democratic movement in China.

U. S. FIGHTING MEN WANTED A CHURCH

REPORT OF Y. M. C. A. IN CENTRAL MILITARY DEPARTMENT CONTAINS INTERESTING INFORMATION.

Chicago.—Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors go to church. Figures showing attendance at religious services in Y. M. C. A. huts in military camps of the central department prove it.

Attendance at the religious meetings and Bible classes held in the huts between May 1, 1917, and December 31, 1918, was more than 5,290,000.

A. H. Lichty, executive secretary of the central department of the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A., has issued a report covering statistics of the Y. M. C. A. activities in the 131 huts in Central department camps. Mr. Lichty is in command of nearly 1,000 workers. Before coming to Chicago for war work he was secretary of the Ohio State Y. M. C. A. During his administration more than 2,500 men and women have been recruited in the 14 Central states for overseas service with the Y. M. C. A.

A. H. LICHTY.

The number of letters written in huts in the 33 military camps totaled 62,798,410. The total attendance was 60,663,806.

Movies were the most popular feature of the "Y" service in the camps. The attendance at the 12,496 motion picture shows was 5,979,[illegible], an average of more than 400.

The "Y" educational features were popular. In the 20 months 7,570 lectures were heard by 2,202,810 soldiers and sailors. The 68,272 classes of various kinds drew 1,394,418 and the 982 science and art clubs 62,530. For the American Library association the "Y" passed out 1,423,668 books.

Athletics Popular.

The number of participants in athletic contests under the direction of the "Y" was greater than the number of spectators. There were 5,398,259 in the contests and 4,437,017 "looking on."

The 902 workers in the 131 huts in the army and navy camps and the 184 S. A. T. C. units passed out to America's fighting men 510,432 Scriptures. There were 282,229 personal interviews on the subject of religion; 52,754 decisions to accept the Christian faith and 117,770 signed the "war roll" pledging themselves to a Christian life.

The 17,381 entertainments not including movies, drew 6,731,646 soldiers and sailors.

The fighting men were thrifty. In the period covered by the report the "Y" sent home for the enlisted men $3,996,025 in money orders.

"Y" to Open Clubs for Troops.

At the request of the French minister of marines the Y. M. C. A. is planning the establishment of clubs for American and French troops in Toulon and in the suburbs of that city.

Y. M. C. A. NO LONGER TO MAINTAIN ARMY POST EXCHANGES.

Paris.—The American Y. M. C. A., at its own request, has been relieved of its work of maintaining the post exchanges with the American army. Correspondence exchanged between General Pershing and E. C. Carter, in charge of Y. M. C. A. with the army, shows the reason for this arrangement was that the Y. M. C. A. now has "increased responsibilities in promoting educational, athletic and entertainment activities in the American expeditionary forces," thus placing a rapidly increasing burden on its personnel.

General Pershing in a letter to Mr. Carter approving the change, expressed his thanks "for the very valuable services and assistance which the Y. M. C. A. has rendered to the American expeditionary force in handling these exchanges. General Pershing added:

"Handicapped by the shortage of tonnage and land transportation, the Y. M. C. A. has by extra exertion served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army."

THE A B C OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

1. What is the League of Nations?

A. A union of the strongest civilized nations formed at the conclusion of the great war.

2. What is its object?

A. First, to promote the Peace of the World by agreeing not to resort to war. Second, to deal openly with each other, not by secret treaties. Third, to improve international law. Fourth, to co-operate in all matters of common concern.

3. Does it presume to end war?

A. No more than any government can end crime. It claims to reduce the liability of war.

4. What will be done to any nation that makes war?

A. It will be boycotted and otherwise penalized.

5. How else will the probability of war be lessened?

A. By voluntary, mutual and proportionate disarmament; by exchanging military information, by providing for arbitration, by protecting each nation's territorial integrity and by educating public opinion to see the folly of war.

6. What else does the League propose to do for Mankind?

A. (1) Secure fair treatment for labor,
(2) suppress the White Slave Traffic, the sale of dangerous Drugs, and the traffic in War Munitions,
(3) control and prevent Disease,
(4) promote the work of the Red Cross, and
(5) establish International Bureaus for other Causes that concern the human race.

7. Who are to be Charter Members of the League?

A. The United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Hedjaz, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Uruguay and the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentine Republic, Chili, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

8. What other nations may join?

A. Any self-governing State which will agree to the rules of the League, provided the League accepts it.

9. What Agencies will the League have?

A. (1) An Assembly, composed of representatives of all the member Nations,
(2) a Council of Nine,
(3) a Secretary-General,
(4) a Mandatary Commission, to look after colonies, etc.,
(5) a Permanent Commission, for military questions,
(6) various International Bureaus; such as the Postal Union, etc.,
(7) Mandataries.

10. What is a Mandatary?

A. Some one nation designated by the League to attend to the welfare of "backward peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empires, or in territories taken from them." This is to be a "sacred trust," and in selecting a mandatary the wishes of the people of the area in question shall be the principal consideration.

11. Does the League mean a Super-nation?

A. No. It interferes in no way with any Nation's Sovereignty, except to limit its power to attack other nations.

12. Can any Nation withdraw when it wishes?

A. Yes. The League is Advisory and Co-operative, not coercive.

13. Does the League put Peace above Justice and National Honor?

A. No. It puts Reason before Violence.

14. Does not the League take away the Constitutional right of Congress to declare war?

A. No. The League can advise war; Congress alone can Declare war.

15. Does it destroy the Monroe Doctrine?

A. Exactly the contrary. For the first time in history the other nations recognize the Monroe Doctrine; and extend it to all the world.

16. Does it not interfere with Treaty Making Powers of the United States?

A. No. It is a Treaty. We can make any Treaty we please.

17. Would we have had the Great War if we had had this League?

A. No. That War cost the world over 7,000,000 lives and 200,000,000,000 dollars.

18. Of what importance is the League?

A. It is the greatest deed of mankind in the history of the world.

19. Has not anyone a right to object to the League?

A. Yes. This is a free country. Anyone has a right to any opinion he chooses.

20. Why is the League so bitterly opposed by a few?

A. Because, unfortunately, any Treaty or League must be made by the President, and a President is chosen by a political party and many members of the opposite Party think they must decry whatever he does.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well. "My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds. Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills? Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience. Cascarets cost so little too.—Adv.

STRIKE QUESTION GOES TO CABINET

Should This Body Fail to Solve Coal Problem, Question Is Up to President.

DR. GARFIELD IS HEARD

Fuel Administrator in Talk to Conference Implies That Some of Operators' Wartime Profits May Be Encroached Upon.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Settlement of the controversy over a new wage agreement in the bituminous coal industry awaits action by President Wilson's cabinet.

At the meeting of the cabinet today a definite decision of policy regarding all phases of the strike situation is expected and if the cabinet is in disagreement the whole question may be put before the President.

Owing to the disagreement which has arisen as to the amount of the increase in the cost of living, and consequently the just cost of wage advance needed to meet higher living costs, great significance is attached to Fuel Administrator Garfield's declaration that "the average total increase in pay over the scale which was the base considered in 1917 should not exceed the present increase in the cost of living over the same base.

"It is also to be considered that the cost of living will fall rather than rise during the next few years," Dr. Garfield adds.

"There is no room for doubt that the request will be complied with," the newspaper says. Ratification of the treaty is confidently expected.

BACK-ACHE
Pain In Side, Kidneys

St. Paul, Minn.—"I was troubled with disordered kidneys for about two years—my back ached terribly, side pained and I had frequent excretions. I let it run on until I read of Dr. Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid). I took the Anuric but a short time when I was feeling fine. My side and back stopped paining and kidneys acted normally. I could sleep well at night which I couldn't do before. I certainly advise anyone suffering from kidney disorders to use the Anuric Tablets."—Mrs. Louise Gilfillan, 289 State St.

The kidneys and bladder suffer from the wear and tear and we get chronic inflammations sometimes indicated by backache, painful voiding of water—dull, heavy feelings. Perhaps the uric acid is stored up in the system in excessive amount, and consequently when the urate salts are deposited in muscles and joints one suffers from lumbago (pain in back), rheumatic pains, gout, etc.

Nothing will act so nicely as "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid), a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce's which can be had at all drug stores. "Anuric" washes away the poisons, cleanses the bladder and kidneys, rendering them antiseptic—consequently one is soon cured of lumbago, rheumatism, gout, and the body is put into a clean, healthy state.

"ONLY ONE THING BREAKS MY COLD!"

"That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker"

NOTHING but sustained quality and unfailing effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn old colds and onrushing new ones, grippe, throat-tearing coughs and croup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular and standard remedy it is today.

Fifty years old and always reliable. Good for the whole family. A bottle in the medicine cabinet means a short-lived cold or cough. 60c and $1.20. All druggists. Give it a trial.

Regular Bowels Is Health

Bowels that move spasmodically—free one day and stubborn the next—should be healthfully regulated by Dr. King's New Life Pills. In this way you keep the impurities of waste matter from circulating through the system by cleansing the bowels thoroughly and promoting the proper flow of bile.

Mild, comfortable, yet always reliable, Dr. King's New Life Pills work with precision without the constipation results of violent purgatives. 25c as usual at all druggists.

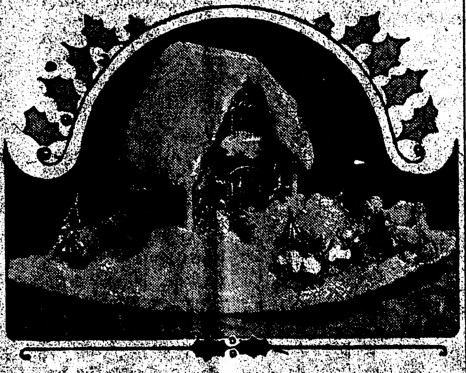
DECORATING THE TABLE

Pretty Center Piece Which Can Be Made Without Trouble and at Slight Expense.



The happiest dinner of all the year is that in which all the members of a family join on Christmas day. Preparations for this joyous feast are going on two or three weeks before Christmas day, or even for a longer time. There is a lot of fun in making them, especially when all the family is interested and every member of it takes some part in the work.

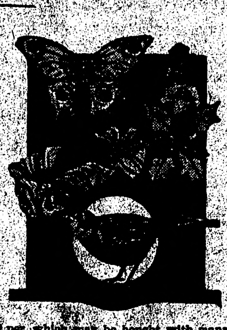
In addition to the usual Christmas greens—the pine and holly—so dearly loved and always used as a background for other things, some new and unexpected decorations add to the interest of Christmas celebrations. For the dinner table, the sideboard, the Christmas tree, serving tables and mantels some things are to be newly made each year, adding the spice of variety to the charm of old-time favorites. Among these are centerpieces for the Christmas table. To replace the miniature Christmas tree or the decorative Christmas cake—which have done long and valiant service as centerpieces, there are a number of new things that are easy to make and cost next to nothing, which have been brought out lately. Among them "Christmas pies" are featured. They are boxes of some sort that simulate a house, a chimney, a figure of Santa Claus, a sleigh or any receptacle that will hold small packages, and they are filled with little gifts, usually things that provoke a laugh, that are to be distributed before or after dinner to the people seated at the table.

A centerpiece made of cardboard, cotton, powdered mica and crepe paper is shown in the picture above. A very heavy cardboard is used for the foundation and this is about thirty inches square. A box twelve inches square will serve for the house, and it is either covered with red paper or painted red, with windows and doors sketched on. In the printed papers pictures of houses might help out in making the house. When the box has been glued or tacked to the foundation small pine trees may be made by cutting green crepe paper into narrow fringe. This is wound to moderately heavy wire, using thread or tie wire to fasten the fringe to the heavy wire. By trimming the fringe in different lengths the short and long branches of the trees are simulated.

The next step is the placing of cotton to simulate snow on the foundation board, on the roof of the house, on the trees and below the painted windows. It is fastened down with little dabs of mucilage. The roof of the house can be lifted off when the time comes and small packages that have been placed within distributed to those about the table. Little figures added to the scene help to make it attractive. Santa Claus and his reindeer, cut from printed paper and pasted against thin cardboard, are set in the snowy scene pictured. Finally powdered mica—"Santa Claus snow"—is sprinkled over the whole piece to give it a frosty sparkle, and this finishes a fine centerpiece for the Christmas dinner table.

Nearly all these center pieces are made of a low pasteboard box—either round or square—containing small gifts and having a flat lid. This is covered with cotton or crepe paper and a Santa Claus, chimney, or tiny Christmas tree is mounted on the lid.

ORNAMENTS FOR THE CHRISTMAS TREE



In order that the high cost of living may not fall like a blight upon the Christmas tree, we must begin to consider its decoration right now. Quite a number of things are more expensive than they used to be, and candy is among them, but there are plenty of ornaments that cost next to nothing, and homemade candies—which are better than others—will partially replace the confectioners' wares.

Some of the inexpensive ornaments that will adorn this year's Christmas trees appear in two groups above. At the left are a few of the new and inexpensive celluloid toys that have been produced in great variety and abundance and can be bought for ten or fifteen cents each. They include very pretty little jointed dolls, all kinds of domestic and wild animals, ducks, fishes and swans and very vividly colored horns. They are very light and will float, so that the waterfowl, the tiny battleships and fishes can be floated in a basin of water. In the group at the left there are three celluloid animals, besides a doll and a horn. They are all nicely colored and the doll is large enough to dress easily. The horn is a very vivid red, has a silk cord and tassel and will delight the small youngsters to whom noise is music.

In the group at the right, just a few home-made ornaments are shown. They include a butterfly and a robin, with a plain horn of tin, having red gauze ribbon wrapped about it and tied in bows at the ends. Also one of those long candy snappers, wrapped in bright red paper. A face is painted on it, with hair and whiskers indicated by cotton, to look like Santa Claus.

The butterfly is cut from crepe paper, which may be bought with many butterflies in various sizes and colors painted on it. It is then pasted against a thin piece of cardboard or a heavy writing paper that is cut out to conform to it, and mounted on a short wire. By brushing a very little mucilage on the wings (in lines or spots), powdered mica sprinkled over them will give the glitter that is expected on the Christmas tree. The birds are made in the same way.

Mosquito netting, in white and red, makes fine ornaments in the form of little mittens, stockings and bags, that hold mixtures of popcorn and candy. These are cut out and sewed with red yarn along the sides. A drawstring of yarn, run through the top, closes these candy bags and serves to hang them on the tree.

Tinsel, that is bought by the yard for the tree, will make sparkling silver stars. The stars are cut from thin cardboard and the tinsel sewed to them. They will take the place of glass balls at less cost. Gold and silver paper make the prettiest horns of plenty, cut in small triangles that are pasted together at the longer sides. The open end can be finished with tinsel and the horn is hung to the tree with narrow red ribbon, tinsel or plain red or green cord. Small balls of popcorn, suspended on threads, help fill in wherever decorations look thin and, being white, are sure to help set off all the gay trinkets that make up the glory of the Christmas tree.

GREAT SECRET OUT AT LAST

Observing Intellect Has Discovered How the Brain That Names Sleeping Cars Works.

I used to be awed, writes Inobetta, at the thought of the intellectuality of the man who names the Pullman cars. To what storehouse of classical or historical lore did this mentality have access, that he could exhume therefrom such names—names that seemed to mean something, but yet just eluded analysis? I used to think I'd like to meet that bird.

But I've pegged him at last! He's no giant intellect at all. He's just a pathological specimen—one of these wrong-font cases the medical journals have been discussing lately, whose cerebral or spinal connections seem to be crossed. Their handwriting goes from right to left—it's called "mirror writing." Their co-ordinating mechanism is constantly in reverse gear. And how do I know that the nomenclator of Pullman cars is one of these? Simply thus:

The sleeper in which I rode from Cincinnati to Atlanta the other day was named "Klimwoc!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Reds and Reds.

"Who are those fellows praising 'the reds?'"

"Bolsheviki, I guess."

Faith and ingenuity often take the place of the hired man.

Just Rats.

For want of a pied piper of Hamelin, the British board of agriculture is using the next best thing to get rid of rats and mice—a bill.

The house of parliament tittered when the bill was introduced, says "A Londoner." The titterers did not know that the rat has been described as the most expensive animal maintained by man. He costs in damages anything up to $200,000,000 a year—as much as the whole government subsidy to the farming industry. He spreads bubonic plague and other diseases among men and animals alike. He is of no earthly use except as a scavenger, and there the remedy is worse than the disease. The fiat has gone forth; he must be exterminated wherever he shows his head—in stacks, in granaries, in warehouses, in the holds of vessels. The mouse, too, if less harmful, is just as useless as his big relative—and the only living creature which will regret his disappearance is the cat.

Who Does?

"Here's a man who claims that a knowledge of Greek and Latin is necessary in order to write English correctly."

"But nowadays who considers it necessary to write English correctly?" —Merritt Dispatch.

Take strict heed to thy ways; set a watch over thy actions; and govern the thoughts of thy heart.—Dorothea Dix.

HEALTH RESTORED

Mr. Knight Was Down With Kidney Complaint; Found Doan's the Remedy Needed.

"Kidney trouble put me in a bad way," says Thomas A. Knight, Retired Insurance Agent, 624 N. Ninth St., East St. Louis, Ill. "It came on with pain across my back and the attacks kept getting worse until I had a spell that laid me up. Morphine was the only relief and I couldn't move without help. The kidney secretions were scanty, painful and filled with sediment.

"I was unable to leave the house, could not rest, and became utterly exhausted. The only way I could take ease was by bolstering myself up with pillows. For three months I was in that awful condition and the doctor said I had gravel. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me back to good health and I have gained wonderfully in strength and weight."

On top of the already delicate Mexican situation was the report of the murder of another American, W. M. Wallace, oil man, who was shot down by a Carranza soldier. This, combined with the Jenkins case, was expected to spur the state department to strong diplomatic action against the Carranza government, which has been warned repeatedly against mistreatment of American citizens.

BETHLEHEM

Cold was the earth and all the stars,
But Mary Mother smiled
Where in the manger of an inn
Lay warm the Holy Child.

The ox was host upon that night
Unto the King of all;
He gave for incense meadowy breath,
For shelter his rude stall.

Not all the cold of earth and man
Can pierce the heaven mind,
Where warm against her leaping heart
A Mother clasps Her Child.

O miracle of utmost love,
How God grew greater when
He stooped to be a helpless babe
Beside the hearts of man.

Long ages since—and still in joy,
In loneliness and tears,
We kneel unto a Little Boy
Who smiles down through the years.
—Wilbur Underwood in Reedy's Mirror.

MAKE SOME SAD HEART GLAD

Christmas the Time for Remembering Those Not as Fortunate as You Are.

Christmas is a sad time in some households, among the older members who miss familiar faces always associated with family gatherings—a list of missing ones which increases as the years go by. But if it is impossible to be happy one's self, it is always possible to make some one else rejoice—this is an easier task than some people imagine. So many are so foolish as to think that because they cannot give beautifully that it is not worth while to give at all. They forget that what seems very little to a person in comfortable circumstances may appear very large to those who have virtually nothing at all; while among friends a small gift, bearing some sign of thoughtfulness, is often more acceptable than a costly but ill-chosen present. This is an excellent time to go over the children's toys and select those which can be spared to go to some less fortunate little ones. Do not select only those which are too battered to be recognizable; such, of course, are not to be despised, but a little glue and a few stitches to freshen up a broken doll or torn book add much to the pleasure of a second-hand gift—for all children love fresh-looking things and it is, besides, scarcely generous to give away only such articles as would otherwise be thrown in the ashes.

WHERE SANTA WAS BORN

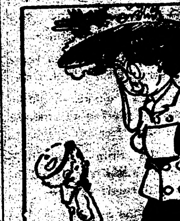
Russian Legend of Saint Klaus and How He Came to Be Known as the Children's Friend.

Very many years ago, there lived in Russia a nobleman and his wife, who had a little son named Klaus. He was such a good boy that everyone used to call him Saint Klaus. In course of time his parents died and left him a large fortune, not the least part of which was three large bars of gold.

Saint Klaus one day happened to be passing a house, and overheard a father telling his daughters that he had lost all his money, and that he didn't even know how he was going to buy food for them. This worried Saint Klaus very much, and he wondered how he could help them. So that night he took one of the bars of gold and threw it through the window. The next night he threw the second bar, and crept quietly away, but on the third night when he was about to throw the third bar, the man who had lost all his money came out and caught him. He tried to thank Saint Klaus for his goodness to him and his daughters, but Saint Klaus told him to pay his thanks to God, whose servant he was.

And there, boys and girls, you have the story of Saint Klaus (or Santa Claus as we call him).

PRECIOUS MOMENTS WASTED.



Mrs. Slumm—They're not going to have the Christmas tree at the church tonight. Not till next Friday night, Jimmie!

Jimmie—Gosh! Will I have to wash me hands agin nex' week, too?

Christmas is the poker that rakes the dull ashes of the past and brings smoldering memories and resolves to light for the warmth of man throughout the year that follows. It is modern civilization's greatest involuntary stimulant.

Real Christmas Joy.

For somehow, not only for Christmas, but all the long years through,
The joy that you give to others is the joy that comes back to you.

LID IS CLAMPED ON COAL SUPPLY

Fuel Administration at Last Renews Wartime Restrictions on Industrial Use.

RULES ARE STRINGENT

State, County and Municipal Authorities Asked to Help Administer Conservation Rules—Many Factories Must Close Down.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Wartime restrictions on the nation's use of coal, more stringent even than those applied during the war, have been ordered into effect to stave off a fuel famine.

Fuel Administrator Garfield, acting in conjunction with the railroad administration, gives notice that hereafter only the essential consumers included in the first five classes of the war priorities list will be supplied with coal and asks the help of all state and municipal authorities to make rationing effective.

The order, which made national those restrictions already put into local effect by regional coal committees where the pinch of fuel shortage has been felt, cuts off supplies from all but transportation agencies, federal and local government institutions, including concerns working on government contracts; public utilities, including newspapers and retail dealers.

Industrial establishments operating their own power plants will be forced to shut down when present supplies are exhausted while the operations of those whose power is supplied from public utility plants will be curtailed or continued in the discretion of local agencies and officials. Dr. Garfield noted further that the "government would be glad to leave supervision and control of distribution by retailers entirely to state, county or municipalities which may make provision therefor."

2 PLEAD GUILTY OF FRAUD

Unexpected Progress in Arraignment of Persons Indicted in Election Case.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 2.—Unexpected progress was made yesterday by federal officers in preparing the way for an early trial of the 125 men indicted on charges of corruption, fraud and conspiracy in connection with Senator Newberry's election campaign in 1918. Service was secured on a number of those indicted and first arraignments were held before Federal Judge G. W. Sessions.

Something of a sensation was caused when two of those cited in the true bills came before Judge Sessions and pleaded guilty to counts contained in the indictments. These were William Eric, a Grand Rapids printer, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy and was released under bond of $1,000, and Allie K. Moore, formerly a Grand Rapids newspaper man and later a publisher at Marquette, Mich., who pleaded guilty to four of six counts.

"ANTI-RADICAL" BILL IS IN Michigan House Member Introduces Measure to Curb Syndicalism.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Declaring the time had come when "the federal government must take steps to protect itself and the governments of the several states from persons and organizations advocating crime and violence as a means of bringing about a new social, industrial or political order," Representative Kelley, Republican, Michigan, introduced a bill Monday defining "criminal syndicalism" and making it a felony to advocate it.

Under his measure, "criminal syndicalism" is "the doctrine which advocates crime, sabotage, violence or any method of terrorism, for the overthrow of a republican form of government as a means of accomplishing industrial, economic, social or political reform." Aliens advocating it would be ordered deported and persons of foreign birth who had become naturalized would lose their American citizenship and also be deported.

N. D. RATIFIES SUFFRAGE

House Follows Senate in Approving National Amendment.

Bismarck, N. D., Dec. 2.—By a vote of 102 to 6 the house of representatives yesterday followed the lead of the senate in ratifying the proposed amendment to the national constitution providing for woman suffrage. This action had been taken by the senate early last week. North Dakota, it is understood, is the twentieth state to vote ratification of this amendment, which must be approved by the legislatures of two-thirds of the states.

Hair Tonics Must Be Undrinkable.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Prohibition Commissioner Kramer has served notice on manufacturers of proprietary medicines, barbers' supplies and other alcoholic preparations that they must doctor their products so that they may not be used as beverages after January 16, when the constitutional prohibition becomes effective. "Hair tonics that are hair tonics in name only must be made undrinkable," Mr. Kramer declared. Representatives of the manufacturers promised him their support.

MILLIONS Suffer from Acid-Stomach

Millions of people suffer year after year from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their ill health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor nourishment of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished—becomes weak, thin, sluggish. Ailments of many kinds spring from such conditions. Biliousness, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of power and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—even more serious ailments such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

Keep a sharp lookout for the first symptoms of acid-stomach—indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, that awful painful bloat after eating, and sour, gassy stomach. EATONIC, the wonderful modern remedy for acid-stomach, is guaranteed to bring quick relief from these stomach miseries. Thousands say they never dreamed that anything could bring such speedy relief—and make them feel so much better in every way. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Make your life worth living—no aches or pains—no blues or melancholy—no more of that tired, listless feeling. Be well and strong. Get back your physical and mental punch; your vim, vigor and vitality. You will always be weak and ailing as long as you have acid-stomach. So get rid of it now. Take EATONIC Tablets—they taste good—you eat them like a bit of candy. Your druggist has EATONIC—50 cents for a big box. Get a box from him today and if you are not satisfied he will refund your money.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering and throwing off the poisons that constantly accumulate in the system, everything goes wrong. I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

Almost Human.

I had occasion to visit a small jewelry store. While the jeweler was showing me his wares a voice from the rear of the shop called: "Papa, papa." Being the owner of a fine parrot and much interested in the birds, I turned to the jeweler and remarked that the parrot's voice sounded almost human. To my horror the jeweler said: "That is not a parrot—that is my daughter." With a few muttered words of apology I rushed from the shop and, although the jeweler had offered me some unusually attractive bargains, nothing could make me face that jeweler again.—Chicago Tribune.

Typical Hun Trick.

Among the post cards widely circulated in Germany and Belgium in 1914 to justify the killing of Belgian civilians there was one that purported to show Belgians not in uniform firing on approaching German soldiers from the windows of Louvain university. Aside from the improbability that anyone took a photograph of such an affair, it is interesting to know that there are no windows on the side of the university that appears in the picture, but the card did its lying work.—Youth's Companion.

Up in the Air.

She—I would not marry any man on earth.

He—But if you accepted me I would not be on earth, but in the seventh heaven of happiness.

She—You dear boy! I am yours!—Boston Evening Transcript.

OCEAN LIKE ANOTHER WORLD

But Different in That There Is No One to Explain or Explore Its Mysteries.

The ocean was calm and clear—so very calm that it reflected, as if from a solid surface, every vapor that floated along the heavens; it was like sailing into a new world—a creation whose laws and boundaries must remain forever unknown to us. How exciting to imagination! So many fantastic forms reveled beneath the transparent crystal, huge rocks looking like castles, exaggerated by the watery distance; bleak Alpine landscapes stretching far away; and then the monsters of the deep moving in the solemn majesty of silence!—living things, without one sympathy for the earth about them; without a single feeling that we can comprehend—it may be, if our eyes do not weary, that, in fancy we gaze deeper down, and strange, unearthly forms are succeeded by deeps on deeps,—the very eternity of waters!—where we can see nothing but the blue abyss!—down—down—down. It is a fearful thing to pass over their mysteries—a great lesson.—A. M. Hall.

Mother's Memory.

Three-year-old Marian accompanied grandfather home for dinner the other Sunday. Grandmother was delighted, but she wished to seem surprised, so she asked: "Now, whatever made you come today, baby?"

And baby made answer: "Oh, my mamma was as mad as everything this morning. She scolded John and daddy took his part, and then she turned on me and gave me the dickens for eating candy, and (mournfully) I ain't had any for a whole month."

Cheap Concrete Houses.

At Union, N. J., Charles H. Ingersoll is building concrete houses that cost $2,200 each, with a kitchen, a dining room and a living room on the first floor and two bedrooms and a bath on the second floor. The form into which the concrete is poured costs $7,000, but can be erected in one day and used 100 times. A house can be completed in a month.

CARBON!

Rid System of Clogged-up Waste and Poisons with "Cascarets."

Like carbon clogs and chokes a motor, so the excess bile in liver, and the constipated waste in the bowels, produce foggy brains, headache, sour, acid stomach, indigestion, sallow skin, sleepless nights, and bad colds.

Let gentle, harmless "Cascarets" rid the system of the toxins, acids, gases, and poisons which are keeping you upset.

Take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced. Cascarets never gripe, sicken, or cause inconvenience. They work while you sleep. A box of Cascarets costs so little too.—Adv.

An Iowa Woman Testifies

Muscatine, Iowa.—"When in Oklahoma and waiting to build I was exposed to cold weather. I was not well and felt the need of some medicine to give new strength. Having seen Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised I procured and used one bottle, then I used one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription also. These two combined caused me to get stronger and to throw off the unpleasant effects of the exposure. I shall always speak highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies."—Mrs. Sarah Barton, 123 W. Front St.

A PROMINENT WOMAN FROM MINNESOTA

Duluth, Minn.—"I am a great believer in Dr. Pierce's remedies. I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' for weakness peculiar to women and found it very beneficial. I had taken other medicines for this ailment but did not get any relief. This medicine gave me the relief I was seeking. I also use the 'Pleasant Pellets' for disordered stomach, biliousness and headaches—there is nothing better. I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines from the actual use of them. I am taking 'Favorite Prescription' at the present time and it is doing me a world of good."—Mrs. R. Thayer, 4027 W. 5th St.

The Stormy Sea of Matrimony.

The family thunderstorm in a Revere beach cottage was not quite over. Deep rumblings could still be heard.

SPECULATIVE CRAZE BRINGS STOCK CRASH

Reckless Investment Followed by Heavy Losses When Market Goes to Pieces.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES REMAIN SAFE AND SOUND

Uncle Sam's Bonds "Good as Gold" While General Slump Wipes Out Fortunes.

New York.—Semi-panicky declines in the stock market and subsequent relapses from the partial recovery, with heavy forced liquidation of lightly margined holdings of the popular market favorites on the New York stock exchange have demonstrated clearly the dangers of speculation. For six months the stock market advanced, slowly at first and with the usual "profit-taking reactions" and in recent weeks going up by leaps and bounds in some departments of the market, notably oil, motor and other "industrial" shares. Then in a few days there has been a decline wiping out much of the advance of months—in some stocks practically all of the advance.

There was reason behind the advance, but a speculative craze carried it beyond reason. Eastern market reports for months have carried mention of buying by "the public." High wages, war profits, the prosperity of industry and agriculture have given many the fever to speculate.

Investments Prove Disappointing.

Financing of new and old corporations by stock, bond and note issues called for hundreds of millions of dollars. Issues of preferred stock alone since January 1 have totaled more than $600,000,000 and common stock a billion more. Foreign loans with more in prospect to finance Europe's buying added to the burden. The immense buying power of the country shouldered the load, but speculation in listed shares was getting out of bounds. Money rates began to show the strain. Three weeks ago call money in New York rose to 15%, the next week to 20% and last week to 30%, the highest point since the panic of 1907. Renewals touched 14%, the highest in years, and time money hit 8%. The advance was a warning from the banks to go slow. "Pools" and "tipsters" began to draw in their horns.

The decline was orderly until insufficiently margined accounts were liquidated. Then came a smash. General Motors new common stock, which had soared to 408½ dropped to 330, Mexican Petroleum from 255¾ to 186, Texas company from 338 to 286, Studebaker from 143¾ to 103¾, American Tobacco from 307¼ to 240, Crucible Steel from 235 to 209 and so on down the list. Even U. S. Steel, the porverbial market barometer, declined from 112⅝ to 103.

The break extended throughout the list, less marked of course in lower priced stocks. The bond market also suffered.

Perils of Speculation Shown.

Since the culminating slump there has been recovery ranging from 2 or 3 points to around 20 to 45 points in stocks which suffered most on the decline but down swings followed the recoveries and the market atmosphere is not yet considered cleared.

In a nutshell a speculative craze set the banking interests and the Federal Reserve Board against overspeculation and the crash came.

No better illustration of the permanent and fixed value of government securities can be found than in the present unsettled market. War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds continue their interest bearing career unaffected by the storms of financial stress that overtake less favorable securities.

DO YOU KNOW MR. KELLER?

The hand is quicker than the eye and so is the typewriter.

Fifteen years ago, some of you may remember, there were two great magicians appearing before the American public, Hermann the Great and Keller the Magician. Although rivals they were great friends. They were sitting together at Brighton Beach one day when an admirer of Hermann's came up and started to tell the latter how good he was.

"You know," he said, "that I am something of an amateur sleight of hand expert myself. I am sure no one but yourself could have deceived me with the card trick you did last night."

"[illegible]," said Hermann modestly, "that is a very simple trick. Any one could do it. I venture to say this gentleman sitting right here could deceive you [illegible]."

"I bet a hundred dollars he could not," said the amateur and Hermann took the bet.

A deck of cards was brought and Keller performed the trick with ease and grace.

"I guess you don't know my friend Mr. Keller," said Hermann as he pocketed the hundred.

When any sleight of hand promoter wants to sell you wild cat stocks, or to exchange something he says is sure to make you thousands for every dollar you put up, for your Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, you had better find out whether you know Mr. Keller.

A prospectus and a promise is all the equipment these fakers require. With that simple apparatus they can make oils wells spout where there is not enough oil to lubricate a watch; they can find gold where there is not enough yellow metal to plate a profiteer's consciences; they can make rubber plantations flourish in countries where the natives are the only things that stretch.

If a man has $10,000 salary, he may be able to afford to take a chance. If he has less than that amount he cannot afford to lose.

You know there is no trick about government savings securities. You KNOW they are safe, that they are profitable, that you can exchange your War Savings Stamps and Savings Certificates [illegible] when you need it.

ABANDON FALL RESOLUTION

Leaders Acquiesce in President's Plea for Freedom in Mexican Affair.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The resolution asking President Wilson to break off diplomatic relations with the Carranza government was abandoned yesterday by Republican leaders in the senate after the president had informed Senator Fall of New Mexico, its author, that he would "be gravely concerned to see any such resolution pass the congress."

In announcing after a conference with Senators Fall and Brandegee, of Connecticut, that the foreign relations committee would take no action on the resolution, Senator Lodge said:

"We want to help, but now the entire Mexican situation goes to the president. The responsibility is on his shoulders. Let it rest there."

Passage of the resolution, the president wrote Senator Fall, would "constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice which might lead to very grave confusion in regard to the guidance of our foreign affairs." Declaring that the initiative in directing relations with foreign governments was assigned by the constitution to "the executive and to the executive only." Mr. Wilson said he was confident that "the only safe course" was to adhere to the prescribed method of the constitution.

"We might go very far afield if we departed from it," he said.

The following motion was presented by Commissioner John N. Hagan and seconded by Robert Muir and P. M. Casey:

"Because of the malicious assault upon Mr. C. E. Stangeland by the minority members of the sixteenth legislative assembly and because of the indiscreet judgment used by Mr. Stangeland I move that his resignation be asked for by the board of administration to be effective at once so that corrupt politicians may not be able to divert the public mind from the great industrial program which is being worked out."

These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. MERRY-GO-ROUND FOR CHINA

Celestial, Long Resident in Hawaii, Has Planned Triumphant Return to His Native Land.

Twelve years ago Chang Chau coiled his queue on top of his head, donned the garb of the Occident in order to facilitate speed, and hied himself out of China between two suns. Chang Chau had made a bad guess and had allied himself in 1907 to the forlorn hope of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, late president of China, but in that year overwhelmingly defeated by the troops of the Manchu dynasty. So it was that Chang Chau arrived in Honolulu. But the Manchus now are no more, and, take it from Chang, his is to be a triumphal return.

He has bought a merry-go-round, which for untold years has been adding to the hilarious enjoyment of Hawaiian natives, and intends to set it up in Peking, an exchange says. Before many moons the blatant wail of "Je-er-er-u-us-s-alem—Je-e-e-r-u-u-s-s-alem," will be floating out from the mechanical organ of the giant swing and mingling with the thousand other noises of the Orient, while staid Chinese mandarins rock dignifiedly on the gaudy wooden horses, their queues and robes flying out behind them as they make the dizzy circuit. Cynics might be tempted to say that Chang's return smacks something of revenge.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

Duluth.—Dismissal of various actions in the United States district court here wound up all but one of the socalled "hoarding cases," started two months ago as a result of agitation against alleged profiteering. All of these cases brought against Armour & Co., the Charles B. Robins Fish company of Chicago and Johns Fish company of Duluth, were dismissed.

St. Paul.—An ear of white dent corn grown near Ceylon in Martin county won Minnesota the first prize in the best single ear corn contest at the International Live Stock show in Chicago. First and second awards on short-horn heifers were won by animals shown by S. G. Eliason, Montevideo, and Minnesota competitors carried off other prizes at the big exposition.

St. Cloud.—Two cars a day are being produced at the factory of the Pan Motor company here, according to officials of the company. It was stated by them that there are now about 350 men on the payroll. They say the company plans during the next sixty or ninety days for a production of about twenty-five cars a day. Most of the parts used in the cars now turned out were made in the local plant, it is stated.

Blue Earth.—Early Herring, 15 years old, is expected to recover after being robbed, stripped of his clothing and left to die in the snow. Auto thieves were making away with his father's car when Herring tried to stop them. They took him along, took most of his clothing and threw him out unconscious near a farm house.

Madison.—Irene Peterson was severely bruised, her father, County Coroner Nels Peterson, his wife and Marian Driscol, all of Madison, were badly shaken up when the automobile in which they were riding ran into a ditch and turned over.

Hastings.—Robert Holmes, 62, farmer of Douglas, was found dead in his barn. Heart disease was given as the cause.

Fairmont.—Schools of Martin county, with a few contributions from private citizens, have raised $150 for the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial fund.

Sauk Center.—The plans for a $26,000 armory here has been accepted by the adjutant general in St. Paul. The contract for construction has been let.

Crosby.—Raids by Indian agents on alleged blind pigs in Crosby's wet end resulted in confiscation of 2,750 gallons of grape wine, all of which was destroyed.

Northfield.—By a verdict of a jury in district court at Faribault, the city of Northfield secures practically the entire $50,000 estate left by the late George W. Murphy.

Pipestone.—The Pipestone County Breeders association organized here with a capital stock of $25,000, and will build a stock sales pavilion at the county fair grounds.

Moorhead.—William Mendenhall, 60 years old, for many years a resident of Moorhead, was killed by the kick of a horse at Richville, Mont., according to word received here.

Aurora.—Andrew Germ, a deer hunter, is believed to have perished in the woods north of Aurora during the recent severe storm. Firemen have joined a hunting party searching for him.

Litchfield.—The school board has raised the salaries of teachers here $15 per month, it is announced. The amount will be paid in the nature of a bonus at the close of the school year.

Mankato.—In a recent order issued by Chief Martin all punchboards, slots machines, dice games or other gambling devices in the city are forbidden. Gambling games of this nature had run unheeded in Mankato.

Ruthton.—By the narrow margin of 11 votes the voters at a special election decided against the erection of a public school building here. The proposition called for the issuing of bonds to the amount of $50,000.

St. Paul.—It was so cold at the Mineral Springs sanitarium at Cannon Falls, Minn., that ink was frozen in the inkwells this week, according to one patient who left. The hospital is a county institution with 26 patients and has been practically without coal for two weeks.

Rochester.—Mrs. Cleo Langstron is dead and her husband near death as a result of asphyxiation by gas fumes from a kitchen stove. Despite blood transfusion and other efforts to resusciate the husband, physicians feared he would die. Langstron recently returned from overseas service.

Tyler.—Tyler, which has been without hospital facilities since the tornado of August, 1918, wiped out the local hospital, is soon to have a new institution. A stock company with a capital of $50,000, formed by Mayor S. M. Hansen and others, will erect a modern hospital building in the spring.

Mankato.—Ten carnival clubs with a membership of several hundred have been formed in this city recently to take part in the Mankato winter carnival. The dates were set for January 19-24. Fred Hoerr of this city has been elected carnival king and votes for the queen of the carnival are being sold.

Windom.—Teachers' contracts with school boards are more than mere scraps of paper. It looked as if the grade teachers here would receive a salary boost, but County Attorney Finstand rules that where school boards have engaged teachers by contract at a stipulated salary they have no authority to pay more than the contract calls for.

St. Paul.—A washing powder mine, the first discovered in Minesota, is located near Big Falls in Koochiching county, according to reports to the capitol offices of the state forest service. It is a large deposit of gray powder resembling pumice and eastern concerns marketing scouring and cleaning preparations are negotiating for its output, according to reports. Valentine Veller found the powder on his homestead.

St. Paul.—Indefinite postponement of the Minnesota high cost of living conference, scheduled at the capitol at which A. Mitchell Palmer United States attorney general, was to explain to mayors, other city officials, fair price committeemen and other delegates, how every community can co-operate in the government campaign to reduce prices of necessities was announced, upon receipt of a telegram in which Mr. Palmer cancelled his engagement.

St. Paul.—Minneapolis is to get the experimental wheat flour mill for which the special session of the legislature appropriated $35,000. A site near the junction of Thirty-fourth street and the Milwaukee railroad tracks has virtually been chosen. The mill will have a capacity of 100 barrels a day. It will be built by the state railway and warehouse commission and the state department of agriculture, with forces of the agricultural college working with them in an advisory capacity. Actual construction will be started in the spring.

Crookston.—Several sensational cases will come up before the grand jury when it begins its sesion Jan. 5. The case which will attract the most interest will be that of Jim Smith and Tom Thomas, Grand Forks negroes now being held at Stillwater penitentiary in connection with the murder of Miss Edna Werner of East Grand Forks several weeks ago.

Owatonna.—The funeral of Mrs. Anna Ringhofer, a resident of Steele county for more than 50 years, who died at the home of her son Frank, in Bixby, while on a visit there, took place here.

A Christmas "Burglary"

By SAIDEE ESTELLE BALCOM

(Copyright.)

THE night-watchman at Plympton, possessed of a due sense of his importance, was called "Sergeant" Moore. He had become aware that the distinctive title was one in general vogue with metropolitan police systems and he was proud of the designation.

The day preceding Christmas was always one looked forward to by the doughty sergeant, for it was upon that occasion that his conscience allowed him to accept little marks of approbation.

"Hey, there, sergeant!" generally prefaced the bestowal of something in the shape of a gift.

"It's duty I have to attend to all night long," he told his wife. "They say there's a regular band of burglars on the move."

Now two problems of fate were to work out a strange series of circumstances, in the Christmas eve events appertaining to the redoubtable sergeant. The first was that the little town jail had burned down the week previous. The second was that a new family had moved to town early in December, comprising the Waynes—father, mother, a charming daughter of seventeen and three young children. As Moore passed their place he noted that it was all dark, the family probably absent at some local entertainment, and he caught the echo of a sound resembling the tipping over of a piece of furniture. Then from an open window a form protruded.

"Burglars!" muttered the sergeant, and made a dash for the presumable despoiler.

"Hold on!" spoke the latter excitedly. "It's all right."

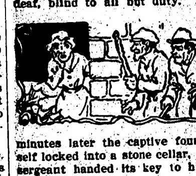
"Oh, is it?" purred Moore derisively.

"What's that?" and he made a grab at the protruding pocket of the young man.

"If you'll allow me to explain," began the latter. "I know the people who live here."

"Oh, yes, very particular friends! Cordially invited you to break into the house at any hour of the night! And this—a new muffler and a pair of gloves. Say, you come with me," and the sergeant marched his captive from the spot.

"If you'll only let me explain," pleaded the young man, but Moore was deaf, blind to all but duty. Fifteen minutes later the captive found himself locked into a stone cellar, and the sergeant handed its key to his wife saying:



"You might pass in a jug of water and a plate of bread to my catch through the window; it's got no sash to it. I'll drop around again soon."

The young man in retirement was pacing about in the dark and anathematizing his officious captor when Mrs. Moore timidly approached the window.

"Here's some water and a little food," she said, "so you won't suffer," and just as she passed the things in she uttered a shriek and crouched down trembling. Two men had suddenly appeared, real burglars this time.

"Oh, sir!" whispered the woman through the cellar window, "they may kill the children! And then there's all Tim's half yearly pay in the bureau! Please help me. Here's the key to the cellar door," and something tinkled on the floor. Something else then transpired. The released captive located and knocked down and tied hand and foot the prowler within the house. Then coming unawares upon the armed bandit outside he toppled him over, rendered him helpless, and seemed to enjoy the excitement of it all.

"I am Roscoe Walden and I am engaged to Ethel Wayne," he explained an hour later to the bewildered sergeant, after the latter had transferred the two criminals to limbo. "This is the first time I have visited their new home, and I got in surreptitiously to place a present on the Christmas tree as a surprise to my lady love. I don't want the Waynes to know I am in Plympton until after she finds it."

There was a rare spice of adventurous excitement for pretty Ethel in her devoted lover's unique experience when he recited the same the next morning. And meantime Sergeant Moore was gaining popularity and the community's good will by detailing his heroic act which had signalized Christmas eve in the apprehension of two desperate criminals who, but for him, might have had the entire town at their mercy.

DOUBLE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

"Danderine" creates mass of thick, gleamy waves

In a few moments you can transform your plain, dull, flat hair. You can have it abundant, soft, glossy and full of life. Just get at any drug or toilet counter a small bottle of "Danderine" for a few cents. Then moisten a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, so soft, lustrous and so easy to do up. All dust, dirt and excessive oil is removed.

Let Danderine put more life, color, vigor, and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, check dandruff and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick, strong and beautiful.—Adv.

He Thought It Did.

"Do you believe that the moonlight makes people silly, George?" asked the sweet young bride after the honeymoon.

"Well, dear," remarked the husband from behind his evening paper, "you know I proposed marriage to you in the moonlight."

TONIGHT!

Take "Cascarets" if sick, Bilious, Constipated.

Enjoy life! Straighten up! Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head dull and aching. Your meals are turning into poison and you cannot feel right. Don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.—Adv.

PAID FOR DECENT BURIAL

Ghostly Visitor Who Appeared to Lucky Campers Proved to Be Man of His Word.

A good ghost story comes from New Brunswick. Two men were out camping and shooting in wild country. One night one of them awoke and saw sitting over the glowing embers of the dying fire a figure dressed in an eighteenth century costume.

"Who are you?" asked the sportsman, startled. The ghost bade him search in the cliff above which the camp lay, and told him that he would find his (the speaker's) bones there. He ordered him to bury them decently, and take as his reward what he found in the cave.

The figure then vanished. At dawn the two comrades set to work. They found the entrance to a cave which had been almost blocked by a landslide. Inside was a skeleton with a massive gold ring on its bony finger, and around the skeleton lay various books of dates varying from 1659 to 1685. There was also a manuscript giving the locality and description of a treasure buried nearby, which the lucky finders duly dug up and appropriated.

Her Changes.

"Isn't your wife rather dogmatic?"

"She was when Pomeranian pups were the style, but now she's automatic."

Stage Comedy.

"Drunkenness as comedy will have to go."

"Well, we can still retain the seltzer siphon."

Mother and Daughters ALL TESTIFY TO RELIEF

Mankato, Minn.—"I have three daughters who are all strong and healthy today, due, I am sure, to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When they were in their teens they were all very delicate. I always gave them this medicine and it never failed to give relief.

"I have had, in years past, three operations for wens, my blood was in bad condition. I also would suffer with pains all through my flesh at different times. Could not seem to get anything to help this condition until I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and they gave me wonderful relief. I know of no better medicines than Dr. Pierce's."—Mrs. Mary Goodrich, 218 W. Rock St.

AFTER MOTHERHOOD

Des Moines, Iowa.—"I was ailing and dragged out. It was after motherhood and I did not get my strength back. My husband got Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at the drug store and I used two bottles. It brought back my strength and helped me overcome my troubles. I have been well ever since."—Mrs. Ambrose Stein, 922 W. 3rd St.

The SHORTHORN Is the Farmers' Breed

Shorthorn cattle are particularly adapted to the needs of the farmers, regardless of location. They are of quiet temperament. They take on flesh quickly, the cows are as a rule liberal milkers. They have an inherent quality and reach an excess of weight at maturity. They are hardy and thrive on the ordinary roughage produced on the farms and ranches. It pays to grow Shorthorns. For information write to the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association 13 Dexter Park Ave. Chicago, Ill.

SAD DAY FOR CAPITALISTS

Even the Bloated Monopolist at the Newspaper Desk Is Victim of Vicious System.

What are we coming to, and whither are we drifting? Alas, these be parlous times, and sadly out of joint. Whoever it was let loose the "got to have more money" bacillus started something there seems to be no stopping. It has spread like an epidemic; it is not confined to any particular class of people or limited to any particular age. Witness this over the telephone to us yesterday morning from our own daughter:

"Hello, that you, daddy?"

"Yes."

"This is Marjorie."

"Well?"

"You're going away tomorrow?"

"Yes."

"Well, I just called you up to let you know that before you go you'll have to increase my wages."

We promised to do so, and then said with a sigh: "These are certainly sad days for us capitalists."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA.

You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloat, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. The Christmas Gift

by Merrill Walrath Burton

THE day before Christmas. Why don't you make it one of rest, Joel, and begin the new one fresh and ready and bright for the work before you?"

The Rev. Joel Brierly regarded his estimable better half with smiling thoughtfulness. "It happens to be a day when both of us must live up to imperative duty, dear," he replied. "There are the Mason children. I have placed the two older ones with some very good people. The little girl of four and the boy of six, however, are still in need of a home. I have been thinking; suppose you see if you cannot find some one to adopt the girl and I will do the same for the boy."

"Who are we ever going to get to take them?" inquired Mrs. Brierly, growing fussy and excited.

"I shall trust your busy and sensible mind to enlist the interest of some of your charitably inclined lady friends," answered Mr. Brierly gallantly. "I will undertake trying to influence some benevolent husband or father."

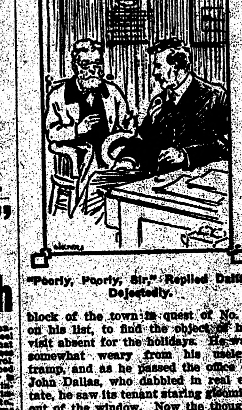
So, with holiday cheer warming his honest heart, the best liked minister Paxton ever had started forth on his misson. Before doing so, however, he sat down on the porch for a quarter of an hour compiling a list of possible "prospects." Thomas Dalrymple, the village magnate, was among them, and he listened with apparent interest to the minister's story of how four children had been left homeless and penniless through the death of their mother, a poor widow.

"Tell you," said Mr. Dalrymple, "my wife is an invalid and any variation in our regular life would greatly disturb her. I shall be only too glad to join in a fund to provide for the care of one of the children at some school or institution."

"We have none here adaptable locally," demurred Mr. Brierly, "and I promised Mrs. Mason that I would exert supervision and care over her little ones until they were able to take care of themselves."

Levi Brodie, a well-to-do merchant, turned out also a disappointment.

Two more calls, further excuses, and Mr. Brierly entered the office block of the town in quest of No. 5 on his list, to find the object of his visit absent for the holidays. He was somewhat weary from his useless tramp, and as he passed the office of John Dallas, who dabbled in real estate, he saw its tenant staring gloomily out of the window. Now the thought never occurred to Mr. Brierly that here might be a possible benefactor. John Dallas was gray and grizzled. He had changed a good deal of late years, and all his old-time cheeriness seemed to have vanished after his children had grown up and married and went away. The clergyman had heard that Dallas and his wife lived a lonely and, it was said, rather unhappy life. Dallas looked it as he greeted his chance visitor.



"Poorly, Poorly, Sir," Replied Dallas Dejectedly.

"Just dropped in to rest for a minute or so," announced the latter. "How are you getting along, Mr. Dallas?"

"Poorly, poorly, sir," replied Dallas dejectedly. He had left home that morning wretchedly dissatisfied. Insensibly since the youngest and last of the family brood had chosen a wife and had settled in another section of the country, like himself, Mrs. Dallas had changed greatly, and the holiday season as it came around seemed almost unbearable.

The two would sit evenings amid a loneliness that really placed them as far apart as if they were separated by illumitable space.

John Dallas opened his soul to the broad-minded, genial souled minister who had looked to the spiritual welfare of his family for over a quarter of century. He had not one word of blame, of censure, for Mary, but he pathetically described the forlornness of the dull, uneventful life they led.

"Maybe it's because we are growing old," he sighed. "We don't seem to have any mutual interests any more. The house is as grim and silent as a jail, with the children all gone. I find Mary sitting alone crying, and I'd like to myself when she forgets to kiss me good-by as she used to do mornings, when I would start out for the day."

"Why, you persistent pessimist!" railled Mr. Brierly, "you two people are in the very prime of life and ought to be happy as the day is long. You talk about there being no more Christmas or New Years for you!

"Rouse up, John Dallas! what you want is something to interest you, to break the dull monotony in your quiet life, and, happily, I am the very man who can suggest to you how you are going to do it."

John Dallas regarded his visitor hopefully, almost pleadingly. "If you will follow my advice," continued Mr. Brierly, "you will bring into your home tonight a gift for your dear wife that will wake up in her all the old-time interest in the world and you."

"I hope it—I long for it," declared Dallas eagerly.

"Very well," resumed Mr. Brierly, "I am looking for some one to adopt little Benny Mason, whose mother died last week. Come, old friend,

"There Is the Present I Have Brought You."

brighten up heart and home with a loving, grateful little guest, who will surely bring a blessing to your threshold. Go home then every night to find your wife happy, because she has had some one to cling to her and love her all the day long, and the happy little fellow will twine himself close about your longing hearts."

John Dallas arose from his chair and fervently grasped the hand of his friend and adviser. There was a new-born light in his rugged face.

"Bring along the lad as soon as you like," he said. "It won't be my fault that he doesn't have a pleasant home, and I hope Mary will say the same," and just after noon Mr. Brierly appeared with the little outcast.

"Mr. Brierly says you are to be my new father," prattled the bright faced little fellow, running up to Mr. Dallas, "and won't you please take me to my new mamma?"

Not within five years had the old-time cheering, winning smile deepened on the face of John Dallas as now. He took his little charge around the stores and fitted him out newly. Somehow he was thrilled, as, clasping his hand lovingly, Benny ran by his side as late in the afternoon he started for home. As he went up its steps he told Benny to go to the end of the porch and stay there till he came back. His wife met him in the hallway.

"Mary," he said, and his voice showed deep emotion, "I've got something to tell you. You know tomorrow is Christmas. Well, I'm going to turn over a new leaf."

"How strangely you talk!" spoke Mrs. Dallas. "Aren't you a pretty good man as it is?"

"Why, you think that!" floundered John, all taken aback by the sudden and inexplicable change in his wife, who seemed bubbling over with extraordinary animation. "Anyhow, Mary, I'm going to think more after this of your needs and wishes, and I have a present for you which I hope will give you very much pleasure."

"Oh, John!" interrupted Mary tumultuously, "it seems as if everything good and grand is happening all at once. Come in, I want to show you something," and she seized his arm, hurried him into the sitting room, and there, lying asleep on the couch, was a lovely little girl of four—Benny's sister.

"It was that kind hearted Mrs. Brierly, the minister's wife, who came to see me this morning," explained Mary. "She's given us the dear little child for all our own. Oh! think of it, John, and—what was that?"

It was the little lad left on the porch, who had discovered the family cat and was talking to and petting it.

"Mary," said John, as they went outside, "it seems a double gift day, all around. There is the present I have brought you—if two ain't too much. I say, the more the merrier."

"Are you my new mamma?" prattled Benny, running up to Mrs. Dallas, who gathered him up in her arms.

"Yes, you sweet dear!" she cried, and, the tears rolling down her face, she kissed her husband first on one cheek and then on the other. "Oh, John!" she sobbed, "I am a happy, happy woman, indeed, upon this glad Christmas eve!"

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS DRY ACT

Wartime Prohibition Not Unconstitutional, Says Highest Tribunal.

DRY CHRISTMAS LIKELY

Decision Covers Only Country's Legal Status as Regards Peace—Terms of Volstead Law and Per Cent Alcohol Content Untouched.

Washington, Dec. 16.—By a unanimous decision, the constitutionality of the wartime prohibition act was sustained yesterday by the supreme court. The opinion, given by Associate Justice Brandeis, held, however, that the war-invoked "dry" period may yet be terminated by presidential proclamation of demobilization. In rendering its opinion the court did not act upon the validity of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act or on appeals involving the alcoholic content of beer. Opinions on those cases may be handed down next Monday, just before the court recesses for the Christmas holidays. Yesterday's decision practically swept away all hopes of a "wet" Christmas, as the possibilities of repeal of the wartime act before constitutional prohibition becomes effective one month from today, were considered remote.

Congress did not intend the wartime act to terminate on the conclusion of the war but at the end of demobilization, in the view of the court, which held that "conclusion of the war clearly did not mean cessation of hostilities."

RAIL RECEIVERSHIP FEARED

Cummins Urges Rail Lines Should Not Be Left Without Protection.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Congress was warned yesterday that if the railroads were turned back to their owners before enactment of legislation for protection of the properties, two-thirds of the roads would be in hands of receivers within thirty days. Speaking with earnestness and frankness, Senator Cummins, chairman of the interstate commerce committee that drafted the pending railroad bill, argued the senate could not afford to set it aside in view of the apparent determination of President Wilson to end government control the first day of the new year.

Breaking into the debate while senators were pleading for postponement of action on all railroad legislation until after recess, Senator Cummins told the senate its duty was too plain.

"If the roads are returned without effective legislation they could exist for a month," the Iowa senator declared, "and then fall into hopeless confusion with two-thirds of them quickly ending in receivership."

In hope of expediting the measure the senate remained in session last night, but as new fields of argument were opened there developed little indication of final action this week.

WAR EXPENSE REPORT ASKED

House Has Exciting Two-Day Bout Over Consideration of Document.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Twelve roll calls, interspiced with charges and counter charges extending over two legislative days, brought adoption late yesterday in the house of a special rule permitting immediate consideration of the report of the committee which investigated war-time expenditures of the war department. The vote was 177 to 124.

Democratic members waged a hard fight to prevent consideration of the report, which they asserted made no specific charges and was only a series of veiled hints at fraud. In reply, Republican representatives charged the Democrats with blocking proceedings "to conceal the fraud and incompetency of the war department."

The report, which was filed several weeks ago by the committee of which Representative Graham of Illinois is chairman, attacked war department officials for alleged wasteful expenditures of money and suggested reopening of all claims for unexpired contracts settled by the war department and submission of these claims to an impartial board for final approval.

America to Get German Dyes.

New York, Dec. 16.—A six months supply of German vat dyes, to tide American consumers over until American manufacturers have available a full line of these imported colors, is assured, said a cablegram received today from the German dye syndicate by Dr. Charles H. Herty, chemical adviser to the American section of the reparations committee of the peace conference. Part of these dyes are to be supplied by the Germans on highly advantageous financial terms, it is said.

Christian Era.

The Christian era was not adopted as a means of reckoning time until several centuries after Christ's time. GARFIELD QUITS AS FUEL CHIEF Administrator Dislikes Terms of Peace In Coal Strike, Is Report.

FORESEES RISE IN PRICE

Had Been Firmly Against Proposal Submitted By President To Miners—Believes Combination Will Result.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Fuel Administrator Garfield's resignation is in the hands of President Wilson, given because he disagrees on the principle with the coal strike settlement proposal arranged by the government and the mine workers' union.

Dr. Garfield himself refused to confirm, deny or discuss the report, but at the White House it was said that a personal letter from him had been transmitted to the President.

Men close to the fuel administrator understand that he believes that the work of the commission, authorized under the settlement, to be made up of one coal mine operator, a coal miner, and a third person named to represent the public, will result in an increase in the price of coal to the consuming public.

Garfield Opposed Proposal.

Against this form of a settlement, Dr. Garfield has been unalterably opposed. It has been learned on good authority that he took no part in the negotiation with the mine workers union chiefs during the last week and that though informed and consulted after their initiation, the terms laid out as finally accepted contravene his conception of the main principle involved.

It was recalled in connection with the resignation, that in suggesting a 14 per cent wage increase as fair for the miners and possible to be paid from present profits of mine owners, Dr. Garfield suggested a commission representative of the industry to review findings, but expressed the conviction that such a body should not have powers to fix prices. His belief is said to be that with this power granted, a combination of the employer and employe in the industry to mulct to public by price raises, is certain to result.

RAILROAD BILL IS DELAYED

Hope of Quick Action On Cummins Measure Abandoned.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Hope of enacting railroad legislation by January 1, the date on which President Wilson has announced the roads would be turned back to private control, virtually has been abandoned by Senate leaders.

Strong and unexpected opposition developed during consideration of the Cummins bill, designed to meet conditions with the end of government control.

In view of the short time remaining before the Christmas recess and the fact that the Cummins bill, if passed, must be sent to conference with the Esch bill, recently passed by the House, Republican and Democratic senators predicted that it would not be possible to frame a law by the end of the month even if Congress kept steadily and continuously at work.

CLAIMS WALLACE TO BLAME

Carranza Tells U. S. American Responsible for Own Death.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Complete blame for the killing of James Wallace, an American citizen, by a Mexican soldier, two weeks ago, near Tampico, Mexico, is placed on Wallace himself by the Mexican government in its note replying to the urgent inquiry made by the United States.

The note which has been handed to the American embassy in Mexico City, was summarized in a dispatch received at the State department.

The notes amount to a charge that Wallace while intoxicated, passed a sentry stationed at a "dangerous spot" and the American, failing to halt, was shot and killed.

DOG LEADS TO GRUESOME FIND

Shows Extreme Fright When Owner Tries to Put Him in Cellar.

FIND WOMAN'S FOOT

Evidence of Attempt to Burn Portion of Female Body in Furnace Discovered—Murder Mystery Baffles Police of Denver.

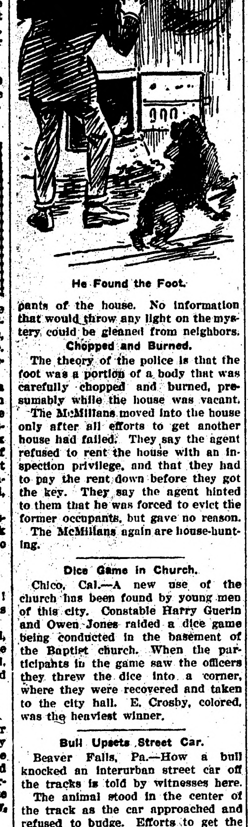
Denver.—The terrified refusal of an Airedale dog to enter the basement of a house in this city has brought to light evidence of what the police authorities believe may be the clew to one of the most mysterious crimes in the history of the city. The right foot of a young white woman was found in the furnace and there was abundant evidence that the rest of the body had been cremated. Ashes from the furnance were found buried in the soft earth under the back porch.

A bloody corset cover, a black army necktie with dark stains upon it and pieces of flannel underwear with apparent bloodstains on them, were sifted out of the ashes and debris by the police.

Dog Shows Fright.

The discovery was made by James McMillan who rented the house and moved into it a few days before. McMillan tried to put the dog in the basement, but the animal whined and refused to remain there alone, showing every evidence of extreme fright.

The peculiar conduct of the dog decided Mr. McMillan to investigate the cellar. He found the foot and immediately notified the police. A hasty investigation by the police quickly convinced them that a crime had been committed. The Airedale refused to accompany the police to the basement when they dug over a portion of the cellar in the expectation of finding other traces of a body. No bones were found but oiled paper and ashes were uncovered in generous quantities. The police are trying to trace former occupants of the house. No information that would throw any light on the mystery could be gleaned from neighbors.



He Found the Foot.

Chopped and Burned.

The theory of the police is that the foot was a portion of a body that was carefully chopped and burned, presumably while the house was vacant.

The McMillans moved into the house only after all efforts to get another house had failed. They say the agent refused to rent the house with an inspection privilege, and that they had to pay the rent down before they got the key. They say the agent hinted to them that he was forced to evict the former occupants, but gave no reason.

The McMillans again are house-hunting.

Dice Game in Church.

Chico, Cal.—A new use of the church has been found by young men of this city. Constable Harry Guerin and Owen Jones raided a dice game being conducted in the basement of the Baptist church. When the participants in the game saw the officers they threw the dice into a corner, where they were recovered and taken to the city hall. E. Crosby, colored, was the heaviest winner.

Bull Upsets Street Car.

Beaver Falls, Pa.—How a bull knocked an interurban street car off the tracks is told by witnesses here. The animal stood in the center of the track as the car approached and refused to budge. Efforts to get the animal to one side only enraged it until finally in a mad rush of fury it dived into the car and derailed it. There were six passengers aboard, one of whom was slightly hurt.

Powdered His Nose.

Chicago.—Edward Iwicki's habit of using powder on his nose inspired the quarrels which made life unbearable to Mrs. Margaret Iwicki. Judge George F. Barrett granted a divorce

The Price of Pork Chops and Bacon

Here are reasons why the fine, fresh pork tenderloins and pork chops, or savory ham, or crinkly bacon, which you enjoy for breakfast, cost much more per pound than the market quotation on live hogs which you read in the newspaper:

An average hog weighs 220 pounds.

Of this, only 70 per cent (154 pounds) is meat and lard.

So, when we pav 15¢ a pound for live hogs, we are really paying more than 21¢ a pound for the meat which we will get from these animals, even after taking into account the value of the by-products.

But people show a preference for only one-third of the whole—the pork chops, fancy bacon, and choice cuts from juicy hams.

This means that when we are selling Premium bacon at 43½¢ per pound wholesale and Premium hams at 30¢, there are other parts for which we get as low as 6¢ or 8¢ per pound. The net result is an average profit to us of less than 1¢ a pound.

The choice cuts are higher because of a demand for them.

Another thing: Only 35 pounds of the entire hog—or about 1/6th—is usually marketed at once. The rest must be pickled, cured, or smoked. This takes months, and adds to the costs which must be met.

Pretty Double Wedding

A pretty double wedding took place at the Norwegian Lutheran parsonage in Holt on Tuesday Dec. 23rd, when Mr. Elling Tollefsrud and Miss Ragna Larson, and Mr. George Johnson and Miss Matilda Sophie Wendt were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. M. B. Ordahl.

Both brides were dressed in white and carried boquets of pink carnations.

Mr. Tollefsrud was formerly employed as mail carrier from Golden Valley to Holt, before entering the army in which he served for about eighteen months, returning to this country late last summer.

Mr. Johnson has been employed by the Standard Oil Co. for about the last ten years. He also answered his country's call in April 1918 returning to this country the fore part of Aug. Both couples left immediately after the ceremony for Thief River Falls, leaving there the same evening on the flyer for an extended honeymoon.—Con.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

PREMIER STATES PLANS FOR IRISH

British Government's New Home Rule Policy Outlined in Address to Commons.

2 SEPARATE COUNTRIES

Northern and Southern Sections to Be Provided With Separate Lawmaking Bodies With Power to Coordinate.

London, Dec. 23.—Premier Lloyd George addressed the house of commons this evening on the Irish question, presenting the details of the government's Irish home rule bill. In opening his address Mr. George remarked upon the extreme difficulty of his task, "after such a discreditable outrage as has just been perpetrated in Dublin."

Ireland, said the premier, was the only country in Europe except Russia where the classes who elsewhere were on the side of law and order were out of sympathy with the machinery of the government. While Ireland was never so prosperous as today the fact remained, he declared, that Ireland was never so alienated from British rule.

Secession Would Be Resisted.

Any attempt at secession, the premier announced, would be fought with the same determination, force and resolution as had been shown by the northern states in America.

To Create Two Legislatures.

The premier said it was proposed to establish self-government over the whole of Ireland and to create two parliaments, one in the north and one in the south, every opportunity would be given Ireland to establish unity if she desired it and a council would be established at the outset, selected by the two legislatures and form a connecting link between the two parts of the country.

The two legislatures to be created in Ireland, the premier said, would be clothed with full constituent powers to create a single Irish legislature to discharge all powers not specifically reserved to the imperial parliament.

Joint Exchequer Board.

The premier said that the Irish contribution to the imperial services was estimated at £18,000,000 annually. A joint exchequer board would settle the rate of contribution for the future and the question of taxable capacity. It was proposed to place £1,000,000 at the disposal of each of the two parliaments to cover the initial expenditure.

SENATORS DISCUSS PEACE

Many Conferences Among Leaders Indicate Agreements May Be Reached.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Compromise efforts for ratification of the peace treaty moved forward with increasing impetus yesterday, when the leaders of both parties in the senate, released from executive duties by the holiday recess of congress, came actively into negotiations for an agreement on reservations.

The acting Democratic leader, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, canvassed sentiment on both sides of the controversy and arranged in the coming week to see every Republican senator who remains in Washington over the holidays.

As soon as congress reassembles he plans to have a general conference of those who favor ratification, with or without reservations.

Notable in the day's long series of conferences was a meeting between Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, a prominent Democratic advocate of a speedy compromise.

The day's activities seem to indicate a desire on all sides to get together and see if the controversy cannot be closed. In some quarters there is an optimistic belief that peace may be declared by January 16.

COAL MINE LEADER JAILED

Howatt of Kansas Held for Contempt of Judge Anderson's Court.

Indianapolis, Dec. 23.—Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas district (No. 14) of the United Mine Workers of America, is in jail here awaiting hearing on a charge of contempt of court for alleged violation of the federal court injunction against furtherance of the strike of coal miners. Hearing has been set for next Monday at 2 p. m.

Judge Anderson yesterday denounced Howat for his attitude in connection with the court's injunction against the strike and declared: "Either I have to vindicate the law or abdicate in favor of Mr. Howat."

Attorney General Optimistic.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Expectation of a decline in retail food prices between January 1 and March 1 was expressed by Attorney General Palmer in a statement summing up the efforts of the government to date in forcing down the cost of living. "The cost of living, already under control," said the attorney general, "can be reduced if everyone who produces will produce his utmost, if those who buy and consume will save, and if all honest people will help the department of justice's work."

New Year Thoughts

EVERY first of January that we arrive at is an imaginary milestone on the turnpike track of human life; at once a resting place for thought and meditation, and a starting point for fresh exertion in the performance of our journey. The man who does not at least propose to himself to be better this year than he was last, must be either very good or very bad, indeed! And only to propose to be better is something; if nothing else it is an acknowledgment of our need to be so, which is the first step towards amendment. But, in fact, to propose to oneself to do well, is in some sort to do well, positively, for there is no such thing as a stationary point in human endeavors; he who is not worse today than he was yesterday, is better; and he who is not better, is worse.—Charles Lamb.

* * *

WE ARE on the threshold of a new year. We do not know what the year holds for us, but we are not afraid of it. We have learned to look for kindness and goodness in all our paths, and so we go forward with glad hope and expectation.

It is always a serious thing to live. We can pass through any year but once. If we have lived negligently we cannot return to amend what we have slurred over. We cannot correct mistakes, fill up spaces, erase lines we may be ashamed of, cut out pages unworthily filled. The irrevocableness of life ought alone to be motive enough for incessant watchfulness and diligence. Not a word we write can be changed. Nothing we do can be canceled.—J. R. Miller.

* * *

THE every-day cares and duties, which men call drudgery, are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of Time, giving its pendulum a true vibration, and its hands a regular motion; and when they cease to hang upon the wheels, the pendulum no longer swings, the hands no longer move, the clock stands still.—Henry W. Longfellow.

* * *

DO NOT dare to live without some clear intention towards which your living shall be bent. Mean to be something with all your might.—Phillips Brooks.

* * *

THAT great mystery of Time, were there no other; the illimitable, silent, never-resting thing called Time, rolling, rushing on, swift, silent, like an all-embracing ocean-tide, on which we and all the universe swim like exhalations, like apparitions which are, and then are not: this is forever very literally a miracle; a thing to strike us dumb—for we have no word to speak about it.—Thomas Carlyle.

* * *

BEAUTIFUL is the year in its coming, and in its going—most beautiful and blessed, because it is always the "year of our Lord."—Lucy Larcom.

NEW YEAR'S GIFTS

English Monarchs Practically Extorted "Offerings" From Their Subjects.

HENRY VI is probably the first English-speaking ruler to make capital out of New Year's gifts. During the reign of Elizabeth the custom rose to its greatest extravagance. The Virgin Queen, who apparently never lost an opportunity for extracting money from her subjects, practically ordered an astonishing collection of gorgeous presents of all kinds. The donors ranged from the highest officers of state down to the very street cleaners. Sums of money, costly ornaments, caskets studded with jewels, necklaces, bracelets, gowns, looking-glasses, fans and curiosities from the newly discovered continents of North and South America were among the presents.

Jester's Greed Costly.

Another story of New Year's gifts concerns Archy Armstrong, a court jester of Charles I, which appears in "The Banquet of Jests," printed in 1634. Archy was given a few gold pieces by a certain nobleman from [illegible] he expected a larger gift. He [illegible] over discontentedly in his [illegible] that they were too [illegible] man, who would undoubtedly [illegible] a success in modern [illegible] marked: "Prithee, then, [illegible] see them again; and, by the way, [illegible] is one of them which I would be loath to part with." Archy, expecting a larger gift, returned them to the nobleman, who pocketed them, saying calmly: "I once gave money into the hands of a fool who had not the wit to keep it."

New Year's Eve Masques.

Masques in which the youngsters took part were often given on New Year's eve. An old writer says of the performance: "For this purpose they don old shirts belonging to their fathers and mount mitre-shaped casques of brown paper. Attached to this is a sheet of the same paper which, falling down in front, covers the whole face except where holes are made to let through the point of the nose and afford sight to the eyes and breath to the mouth. Each is, like a knight of old, attended by a sort of humble squire, who assumes the habiliments of a girl with an old woman's cap and a broom stick and is styled 'Bessie.'

"Bessie goes before her principal, opens all the doors at which he pleases to exert singing powers and busies herself during the time of the song with sweeping the floor with her broomstick or in playing any other antic that she thinks may amuse the indwellers. The common reward for this entertainment is a halfpenny, but many churlish persons fall upon the unfortunate guisers (masqueraders) and beat them out of the house. Let such persons, however, keep a good watch upon their cabbage gardens upon the coming Halloween's eve!"

There were also curious dramas which groups of masquers performed. They were generally given in the kitchens of the "great house," but often the family as well as the servants were present. Sir Walter Scott insisted on having a New Year's play in his home every year.

Seeing the Old Year Out.

In some cities of this country it used to be the custom to fire off cannon and muskets. The ringing of bells is a result of the religious side of New Year's. After the midnight services were started the ringing of the church bells followed as a natural sequence and was intended to remind absent members of the congregation that the year was passing.

Many superstitions are connected with New Year's day in all lands. In Hartfordshire, England, the peasants believed that if a woman was the first person to enter the house on the first day of the year the whole twelve months would be unlucky. It was supposed to be unlucky to meet a lame or blind man, a monkey, a weasel or a cat.

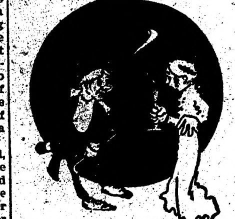
Odd Christening Custom.

In the north of England, if a child was christened on New Year's day, a little boy was engaged to meet the baby as it was taken from its home, so as to avoid the possibility of meeting a woman first. The boy received a cake and cheese wrapped in paper, for his services.

And so when you hear the bells ring out this year, whether you hear them from your bed, a pew in some church, an easy chair by a smoldering fire or a chair at a restaurant table, don't think that what you are doing is anything new. You are watching a year die and hoping or praying for the year which is just born.

And back through the ages, through a thousand generations men and women have done the same and left some trace of themselves in some half-forgotten custom as you may do, quite unconsciously, when 1920 makes its bow to the world.

HAD HER THERE.



"You made a New Year's resolution not to drink any more."

"I did."

"But here you are drinking as much as ever."

"Well, that isn't any more, is it?"

Christmas in the Barnyard

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

"CHRISTMAS is coming," crowed Mr. Rooster.

"Christmas is coming," gobbled Mr. Turkey.

"Don't be too happy about it, for you may be eaten, Mr. Turkey," said Miss Hen.

And then she clucked. "Christmas is coming."

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," said Mr. Turkey; "you needn't be so sure that you won't be eaten yourself."

"Well, it's the best time of the year to be eaten. It's an honor."

"That's what I've always said," gobbled Mr. Turkey. "Please, Miss Hen try to be original."

"I may try to be many things," clucked Miss Hen, "but it is impossible for me to try to be original."

"Why?" asked Mr. Turkey, who was much puzzled.

"Because I don't know what it is to be original. I don't know what the word means. How can I be something if I don't even know what that something is? I can't try to be a thing I don't know anything about."

"You could ask what it means, couldn't you?" inquired Mr. Turkey. "Are you too proud for that?"

"You May Be Eaten, Mr. Turkey."

"Not too proud," said Miss Hen, "but I don't ask favors. I like to have them handed to me without the asking. It makes me appear so superior."

"Absurd," said Mr. Turkey.

"Well, if you think so then," said Miss Hen, "I suppose I will have to swallow my pride or my superiority and be friendly at this time of the year. Yes, I will actually ask you. What does it mean to be original?"

"I will tell you," said Mr. Turkey, "but first of all let me say that you cannot swallow your pride nor your superiority. Those are not things to eat."

"You may rise above your pride, but it is impossible to swallow it."

"Now, Mr. Turkey, I may be only a poor hen, but I know a few things. It's a saying and a perfectly good saying when I speak of swallowing my pride. Everyone knows no one means to chew it and swallow it actually. Besides, as far as that is concerned, I might say to you that it was not correct to talk about rising above your pride as though pride were the ground and one took a trip in an airplane above it."

"Let us not quarrel," said Mr. Turkey, "for the joyous Christmas season is fast approaching."

"Yes," muttered Miss Hen, "and I was fast approaching victory in that argument."

Mr. Turkey pretended he hadn't heard.

"Oh, by the way," he said, after a moment's pause, "you wanted me to tell you what it meant to be original."

"Yes," clucked Miss Hen, while a smile passed over her hen face.

"Well," continued Mr. Turkey, "when a creature is original and says original things it means he is saying things he has thought up himself and hasn't copied from someone else. A person who has original ideas all his own. A creature who says original things, says things no other creature says."

"Everyone Should Give Me Presents."

"You copied me when you said it was an honor to be eaten at Christmas. That was what I have always said."

"Don't be so fussy, Mr. Gobbler," said Miss Hen; "we can't all be original, as you call it. Besides words are words and we all have to use the same ones to be understood, so what difference does it make how we put them together?"

Mr. Turkey walked proudly about, as though some creatures really hadn't enough brains to bother talking to, but soon a great noise was heard.

The pigs were all squealing and grunting.

"It is the time of the year when everyone should give me presents," squealed Pinky Pig.

"Everyone should give me presents. That is what Christmas means," said Porky Pig.

"They should all give them to me," said Brother Bacon, "or you pigs don't know the spirit of Christmas giving."

"You don't know it yourself," said Miss Ham. "Christmas is coming. I'm all ready for presents."

But the other animals sighed and shook their heads.

"Pigs don't even forget they are pigs during the Christmas season!"

Mrs. Coutts' Strange Belief.

In London they tell this animal ghost story. A member of the famous banking house of Coutts' was extremely fond of a tame robin that came and fed out of his hand. The bird died before the banker did, but Mrs. Coutts, who afterward married the duke of Devonshire, held that the bird appeared at the window of the room Mr. Coutts had occupied, and when she was dying she begged to be taken to the room in question so that she might again see the phantom robin. Mrs. Coutts, however, always believed that the apparition was her husband in bird form.

All It Lacked.

"Gloria, who lived in a large city, made a visit to the country for the first time. She often had seen pictures of cows with horns, but on seeing a mulley cow she did not know what it was.

"Well," said her uncle, whom she was visiting, "what do you think it is?"

"I don't know," replied Gloria, with a puzzled shake of her head; "but if it had horns it could be a cow."

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE
Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lumber Industry Leads.

The annual freight bill of the lumber industry is estimated at about $215,000,000. Lumber and forest products furnish about 11 per cent of the total tonnage of the American railroads, of about 215,000,000 tons yearly. This is greater than the movement of all agricultural products, and is exceeded only by the tonnage of general manufactures and mine products.

Bad Sickness Caused by Acid-Stomach

If people only realized the health-destroying power of an acid-stomach—of the many kinds of sickness and misery it causes—of the liver it literally wrecks—they would guard against it as carefully as they do against a deadly plague. You know in an instant the first symptoms of acid-stomach—pains of indigestion; distressing, painful bloat; sour, gassy stomach—belching; food repeating; heartburn, etc. Whenever your stomach feels this way you should lose no time in putting it to rights. If you don't, serious consequences are almost sure to follow, such as intestinal fermentation, autointoxication, impairment of the entire nervous system, headache, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver; sometimes even catarrh of the stomach and intestinal ulcers and cancer.

If you are not feeling right, see if it isn't acid-stomach that is the cause of your ill health. Take EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy. EATONIC Tablets quickly and surely relieve the pain, bloat, belching, and heartburn that indicate acid-stomach. Make the stomach strong, clean and sweet. By keeping the stomach in healthy condition so that you can get full strength from your food, your general health steadily improves. Results are marvelously quick. Just try EATONIC and you will be as enthusiastic as the thousands who have used it and who say they never dreamed anything could bring such marvelous relief. So get a big 50-cent box of EATONIC from your druggist today. If not satisfactory return it and he will refund your money.

Wonderful Cuba Caves

The wonderful caves of Bellamar, Cuba, to the east of Havana, attract the attention of the ambitious tourist. They are on a plateau as level as a table top, which presents no signs of the existence of such caves. After descending into the earth, however, a picture unfolds itself. Then come many passages, and at last the great "Gothic temple," 250 feet long and 80 feet wide.
